20. The tax is a condition imposed upon foreign corporations of the exercise of the privilege of doing business in the state.—Kaiser, etc., Co. v. Curry, 155 Cal. 638, 103 Pac. 341.

21. The charge is imposed not alone for the doing of business, but as a condition for the corporate privilege and authority to do business.—Kaiser, etc., Co. v. Curry, 155 Cal. 638, 103 Pac. 341; Lewis v. Curry, 156 Cal. 93-99, 103 Pac. 493.

22. Liability for tax.—The sole test is the existence or non-existence of the corporation.—Kaiser, etc., Co. v. Curry, 155 Cal. 638, 103 Pac. 341.

24. Act of 1905 superseded.—Section 14, of article XIII, of the constitution, in effect, superseded the license tax act of 1905.—Hartford, etc., Co. v. Jordan, 168 Cal. 270, 287, 142 Pac. 839.

25. Same—Exemption of telephone company.—The effect of section 14, article XIII, of the constitution, was to exempt a telephone company from liability for a license imposed for revenue only by an ordinance in effect at the time of the adoption of that section, and such exemption, beginning from the day of its adoption, covered the first two quarters of the year 1911.—City and County of San Francisco v. Pacific, etc., Co., 166 Cal. 244, 251, 135 Pac. 971.

25a. Corporations exempt from license tax.—See Transcontinental, etc., Co. v. Neylan, 34 Cal. App. 379, 167 Pac. 541.

See, also, act of April 1, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 530, amended February 3, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 3; June 12, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 615; January 28, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 3, which was again amended and revised by a substitute act adding certain sections to the Political Code, for which see Kerr's Cyc. Political Code, §§ 3664a, et seq.

III. FORFEITURE OF CORPORATE FRANCHISE.

26. Failure to pay tax operates ipso facto as forfeiture of charter.—Under the act, failure to pay the license tax operates ipso facto as a forfeiture of the charter on November 30, of each year, at 4 o'clock p. m.—Kaiser, etc., Co. v. Curry, 55 Cal. 638, 103 Pac. 341.

27. The forfeiture provided for by the act of 1905, for failure to pay the license tax therein prescribed is self-acting and operating and no judicial determination or decree is required.—Newhall v. Western Zinc Min. Co., 164 Cal. 380, 382, 128 Pac. 1040.

28. The provisions of the amendments of June 13, 1906 (Stats. 1906, p. 22), and March 20, 1907 (Stats. 1907, p. 746), referring to the amounts due and unpaid for the years 1905-6 and 1906-7 can be reasonably construed only as designed to relieve corporations that had failed to pay those charges from the effect of a forfeiture that had already occurred upon condition of their payment, and are not void as in violation of section 7, article XII, of the constitution.—Kaiser, etc., Co. v. Curry, 155 Cal. 638, 103 Pac. 341.

29. When penalty attaches.—Penalty for delinquency does not attach until the list is turned over to the governor and he has issued his proclamation thereon, although the corporation which fails to pay the tax by the first Monday of August in each year, becomes delinquent.—Ukiah Guaranty Co. v. Curry, 148 Cal. 256, 82 Pac. 1048.

30. Same—Governor's proclamation of delinquency need not designate specifically the class to which a named corporation belongs, whether domestic or foreign.—Lewis v. Curry, 156 Cal. 93, 103 Pac. 493.

31. Same—Report to the governor by the secretary of state is practically a notice of delinquency, and of the forfeiture that will occur upon failure to pay the charge imposed during the days of grace prescribed by the act.—Kaiser, etc., Co. v. Curry, 155 Cal. 638, 103 Pac. 341.

32. Enforcement of forfeiture—Defense.—Where it is sought to enforce the forfeiture against a corporation, such corporation has ample opportunity to defend on the ground that it is exempt, or that it has paid the tax, or that the act is objectionable as a whole, or as to itself, and if the objection is sustained, there will result, of course, that it has suffered no forfeiture.—Kaiser etc., Co. v. Curry, 155 Cal. 638, 103 Pac. 341.

33. Evidence of forfeiture.—While the certificate of the secretary of state will suffice to prove prima facie that a corporation has not paid its corporation license tax, such certificate can not be accepted as proof of the fact of forfeiture.—Kehrlein-Swinerton, etc., Co. v. Rapken, 30 Cal. App. 11, 156 Pac. 972.

*34. The governor's proclamation declaring such forfeiture, or a certified copy thereof, is the only competent proof of the forfeiture of a corporate charter for failure to pay the corporation license tax.—Kehrlein-Swinerton, etc., Co. v. Rapken, 30 Cal. App. 11, 156 Pac. 972.

IV. EFFECT OF FORFEITURE.

34a. Loss of legal entity.—The effect of the forfeiture of a corporate charter from failure to pay the license tax, or from whatever cause, is to terminate the existence of the corporation as a legal entity, except as it is otherwise provided by statute.—Slayden v. O'Dea, 29 Cal. App. Dec. 267.

35. Suit and judgment against corporation whose charter has been forfeited.—A California corporation whose franchise and charter has been forfeited under the act of 1905 for failure to pay the license tax prescribed therein, ceases to have a corporate existence, can not be sued, and a judgment obtained against it is void, and may be impeached by an intervening stockholder for the purpose of expunging it from the records.—Newhall v. Western Zinc Min. Co., 164 Cal. 380, 382, 128 Pac. 1040.

36. Right to defend action after forfeiture of charter.—Under section 10a, added by the amendment of 1906 (Stats. 1906, ex. sess., p. 22), a corporation defendant, whose charter had been forfeited after the commencement of the action, might have the action maintained either in its own name or in the names of its trustees.—Lowe v. Superior Court, 165 Cal. 709, 714, 134 Pac. 190. Cited with approval in Brandon v. Umpqua, etc., Co., 166 Cal. 322, 136 Pac. 62.

36a. Abatement of action—Effect of amendment.—Since the enactment of the amendment of 1907 (745) to section 10a of the corporation license act, an action pending against a corporation does not abate by forfeiture pendente lite of the corporate franchise by its failure to pay its license tax.—Brandon v. Umpqua, etc., Co., 166 Cal. 322, 323.

37. "Doing business" after forfeiture of charter.—The institution and maintenance of an action is embraced within the inhibition of the statute with respect to doing business in the state after forfeiture of the corporate charter.—Crossman v. Vivienda, etc., Co., 150 Cal. 575, 89 Pac. 335; Kaiser, etc., Co. v. Curry, 155 Cal. 638, 103 Pac. 341; Newhall v. Western, etc., Co., 164 Cal. 380, 128 Pac. 1040; Carpenter v. Bradford, 23 Cal. App. 560, 138 Pac. 946; Kehrlein-Swinerton, etc., Co. v. Rapken, 30 Cal. App. 11, 156 Pac. 972.

38. Substitution of directors as trustees in place of a corporation, was a proper exercise of the discretion of the court, upon a showing that the corporation had suffered forfeiture of its charter by reason of its failure to pay its corporation license tax.—Reed & Co. v. Harshall, 12 Cal. App. 697, 103 Pac. 719.

39. Title to property, after forfeiture, does not vest in the trustees provided by the act any title to the property of the corporation, but such trustees get no more than the act gives them, merely a power over it for the purpose of settling the corporate affairs.—Rossi v. Caire, 174 Cal. 74, 161 Pac. 1161.

40. Appeal by corporation after forfeiture of charter may be taken in its own name, notwithstanding such forfeiture.—166 Cal. 322, 136 Pac. 62.

41. Averment of incapacity to maintain an action by reason of forfeiture of charter by failure to pay corporation license tax, in the absence of special demurrer, sufficiently puts in issue such incapacity.—Kehrlein-Swinerton, etc., Co. v. Rapken, 30 Cal. App. 11, 156 Pac. 972.

42. Right to substitute trustees as parties plaintiff in place of the corporation which has forfeited its charter for non-payment of license tax should be ordered, at any time, upon suggestion of the fact on the part of plaintiffs, where it clearly appears that the cause of action is unchanged, that the real parties in interest are the same, that the meritorious defenses of defendant are unaffected, and that a mere formal change in the names of the parties plaintiff without change in substantial rights and relations of the real actors in the case, and it is an abuse of discretion to refuse to allow such change even though the forfeiture may have occurred prior to the bringing of the action.—Kehrlein-Swinerton, etc., Co. v. Rapken, 30 Cal. App. 11, 156 Pac. 972.

42a. After a corporation has forfeited its charter under the act of 1905 for non-payment of the license tax prescribed therein, the directors have no power to act for the corporation in suits by or against it, but are authorized to act merely as trustees.—Newhall v. Western Zinc Min. Co., 164 Cal. 380, 383, 128 Pac. 1040.

43. Sale of corporate property—Discretion of trustees.—The purpose of the law was to vest the trustees with a discretion as to the sale of the corporate property, which could not be controlled by a court of equity except in case of abuse.—Rossi v. Caire, 174 Cal. 74, 161 Pac. 1161.

44. Application by trustees of corporate funds to personal claims.—Where it appears that the directors of a corporation whose charter has been forfeited for failure to pay the license tax are using their power and authority for the purpose of benefiting themselves at the expense of the stockholders and creditors, and where relief has been sought unsuccessfully in the only tribunal that could defeat such a preference, and the corporation is insolvent, the creditors have such an interest as entitle them to the interposition of a court of equity.—Hanson v. Choynski, 180 Cal. 275, 180 Pac. 816.

45. Pending litigation prosecuted to final judgment.—Section 10a of the corporation license tax act (Crossman act), added June 13, 1906, pending litigation does not abate by forfeiture of corporate franchise for non-payment of the tax, and the section should be construed as providing that such litigation may be continued and prosecuted to final judgment in the corporate name, and while the directors as trustees may be substituted as parties defendant, such substitution is not required.—Lowe v. Superior Court, 165 Cal. 708, 714, 134 Pac. 190.

V. MISCELLANEOUS.

46. Intervention by stockholder.—In an intervention by a stockholder for the purpose of expunging from the records a void judgment obtained in an action against a corporation after the forfeiture of its charter and franchise because of non-payment of the annual license tax prescribed by the act of 1905, the intervenor need not show that he was a stockholder when the liability on which the judgment was obtained was incurred, nor that an execution had been returned unsatisfied, nor that the corporation had acquired any assets since the judgment was rendered.—Newhall v. Western Zinc Min. Co., 164 Cal. 380, 383, 128 Pac. 1040.

46a. Estoppel against stockholder.—While a judgment against a defunct corporation is void, and can be impeached, and its invalidity shown by any interested person, in a proper proceeding, estoppel may bar the way of a successful assault upon it.—Slayden v. O'Dea, 29 Cal. App. Dec. 267.

46b. Same.—The stockholder of a corporation is estopped from moving in the appellate court, on behalf of the corporation, for the modification of a judgment against it based upon the theory that the corporation was not an existing entity at the time the action was commenced, where the stockholder was a defendant in the action, and knowingly concealed from the plaintiff all knowledge that the corporation had suffered dissolution.—Slayden v. O'Dea, 29 Cal. App. Dec. 267, 189 Pac. 1062.

47. Same—Answer of directors does not estop.—The stockholder intervening for the purpose of annulling a judgment obtained against a corporation after the forfeiture of its charter for non-payment of the license tax, is not estopped by an answer filed by one of its directors admitting the corporate existence of the corporation.—Newhall v. Western Zinc Min. Co., 164 Cal. 380, 383, 128 Pac. 1040.

48. Jurisdiction of bankruptcy court not affected by forfeiture.—Forfeiture of franchise for non-payment of license tax does not deprive the bankruptcy court of jurisdiction to administer the estate of a bankrupt corporation.—In re Double Star Brick Co., 210 Fed. 980.

49. Foreign corporation.—Forfeiture of right to do business by failure to pay the corporation license tax, renders a foreign corporation an improper party to an action to compel it to reissue its stock, and if such an action can be maintained at all, it must be against the trustees.—Carpenter v. Bradford, 23 Cal. App. 560, 138 Pac. 946.

50. Section 400, Civil Code, as amended by act of 1905, p. 563, was intended to apply to corporations dissolved for non-payment of the license tax.—Hanson v. Choyinski, 180 Cal. 275, 180 Pac. 816.

51. Personal liability of secretary of state.—The secretary of state is not personally liable for moneys paid to him in his official capacity, under protest, as corporate license taxes under Stats. 1905, p. 493, after he has paid over the same to the state treasurer as required by law.—Hartford, etc., Co. v. Jordan, 168 Cal. 270, 272, 142 Pac. 839.

ISSUE OF SHARES WITHOUT NOMINAL OR PAR VALUE.

ACT 1033a—An act relating to corporations and to the issue of shares by them without a nominal or par value.

History: Approved May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1321.

Issuance of shares without nominal or par value.

§ 1. Any corporation having a capital stock may provide in its articles of incorporation for the issuance of the shares of stock of such corporation, other than preferred stock having a preference as to principal, without any nominal or par value by stating in such articles:

(2) The amount of capital with which the corporation will carry on business, which amount, if any portion of the shares shall be preferred stock having a preference as to principal, shall be a sum equal to the product obtained by multiplying the par value of such preferred shares by the whole number of shares that may be issued by the corporation, but which otherwise shall be equal to the product obtained by multiplying one dollar, or some multiple thereof not exceeding one hundred dollars, by the whole number of shares that may be issued by the corporation.

Equal to other shares.

Such statements in the articles shall be in lieu of any statements prescribed by section two hundred ninety of the Civil Code of the state of California as to the amount of its capital stock, the number of shares into which it is divided and the par value thereof. No distinction shall exist between any shares or classes of shares either as to voting power or as to the statutory or constitutional liability of the holders thereof to the creditors of the corporation, and each share of stock without nominal or par value shall be equal in every other respect to every other share authorized to be issued, subject only to the preferences granted to the preferred stock, if any, as stated in such articles. Certificates for shares without nominal or par value shall not have printed or otherwise expressed thereon any nominal or par value of such shares. Such corporation may issue and may sell its authorized shares from time to time for such consideration as may be prescribed in the articles of incorporation, and any shares sold or issued for such consideration shall be deemed, when such consideration shall have been paid or delivered to the corporation, to be fully paid.

Capital fully paid. Liability of directors.

§ 2. No corporation authorized to issue shares in accordance with section one hereof shall begin to carry on business or shall incur any debts until the amount of capital stated in its articles of incorporation shall have been fully paid in money or in property taken at its actual value. If the amount of capital stated in its articles of incorporation shall at any time be increased, such corporation shall not increase the amount of its indebtedness then existing until it shall have received in money or property taken at its actual value the amount of such increase of its stated capital. The directors of any corporation assenting to the creation of any debt in violation of this section shall be liable jointly and severally for such debt. Any director who, because of any such liability under this section, shall pay any debt of the corporation shall be subrogated to all rights of the creditor in respect thereof against the corporation and its property, and also shall be entitled to contribution from all other directors of the corporation similarly liable for the same debt and the personal representative of any such director who shall have died before making such contribution.

Capital reduced by dividends.

No such corporation shall declare any dividend which shall reduce the amount or actual value of its capital below the amount stated in the articles as the amount of capital with which the corporation will carry on business. If any such dividend shall be declared, the directors under whose administration the same may have happened (except those who may have caused their dissent therefrom to be entered at large on the minutes of the directors at the time, or were not present when the same did happen) are, in their individual or private capacity, jointly and severally liable to the corporation and to the creditors thereof to the full amount of any loss sustained by such corporation or by its creditors respectively by reason of such dividend.

Aggregate amount of capital stock. Par value.

§ 3. For the purpose of any rule of law or of any statutory provision relating to the amount of the capital stock of the corporation or to the amount or par value of its shares, the aggregate amount of the capital stock of any such corporation formed pursuant to this act shall be deemed to be the aggregate amount of capital specified in the articles of incorporation, or in any certificate of increase or decrease made pursuant to the provisions of section three hundred fifty-nine of the Civil Code, as the amount of capital with which the corporation will carry on business; the amount or the par value of each share of preferred stock having a preference as to principal shall be deemed to be the amount or par value thereof as stated in the articles of incorporation, and the amount or par value of each other share shall be deemed to be an aliquot part of the aggregate capital so stated in such articles or in such certificate of increase or decrease, in excess of the specified amount (if any) of the preferred stock therein authorized to be issued with a preference as to principal.

ISSUE OF SHARES OF STOCK WITHOUT NOMINAL OR PAR VALUE BY PUBLIC UTILITY CORPORATIONS.

ACT 1033b—An act to provide for and regulate the issuance of stock without nominal or par value by public utility corporations now existing or hereafter organized.

History: Approved May 31, 1917. In effect July 30, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1367.

Issuance of shares without nominal or par value by public utility corporation.

§ 1. Any public utility corporation as defined in the "public utilities act" hereafter organized may, if so provided in its articles of incorporation, issue shares of stock without nominal or par value. Such articles of incorporation shall set forth, in lieu of setting forth the amount of its capital stock and the par value thereof, the number of shares into which its capital stock is divided, and shall state that all such shares are without nominal or par value; or such articles of incorporation shall set forth, in addition to setting forth the amount of its capital stock and the par value thereof, a provision for the conversion or exchange of shares having a nominal or par value at any time outstanding for shares without nominal or par value. In all other respects such articles shall set forth the matters and things specified in section two hundred ninety of the Civil Code. Any such corporation may, in common with other corporations formed for profit, by its articles of incorporation provide for the classification of its shares of capital stock into preferred and common shares.

Resolution to issue shares. Ratification by stockholders. Amended articles of incorporation.

§ 2. Any public utility corporation now or hereafter organized which shall not be authorized by its articles of incorporation to issue shares of stock without nominal or par value, but which desires to issue shares without nominal or par value, may do so by a resolution of its board of directors, passed and adopted at any regular or special meeting, and ratified by the vote of stockholders representing at least two-thirds of its subscribed or issued capital stock at a meeting called for that purpose, or by the written assent of stockholders representing at least two-thirds of its subscribed or issued capital stock filed with the secretary. Such resolution shall specify that such corporation proposes to divide its capital stock into shares without nominal or par value and to issue such shares of stock then outstanding; such resolution shall also set forth the number of shares into which its capital stock shall be divided, how many of said shares, if any, shall be preferred shares, the terms of preference of any preferred shares, and the basis of exchange of such shares for the shares of stock then outstanding; provided, however, that no such resolution shall be valid which sets forth a basis of exchange which, if carried out, would give to the holders of any class of outstanding stock shares evidencing a less proportionate interest in the capital stock or earnings of the corporation than the outstanding shares of stock held by them, unless such resolution is ratified by the unanimous vote or written assent of the holders of all the outstanding stock of the class prejudicially affected, but with such ratification such resolution shall be valid. Upon the ratification of such resolution by the stockholders by vote or written assent as aforesaid, the board of directors of said corporation shall, without further assent or vote of the stockholders, cause to be prepared amended articles of incorporation setting forth the number of shares into which its capital stock is divided and the fact that such shares are without nominal or par value, the number of shares, if any, to which preference is granted, and the nature and extent of such preference. Such amended articles, certified to as correct by the president and secretary and a majority of the directors under the seal of said corporation shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the original articles of incorporation were filed, and a copy of such amended articles of incorporation certified by such county clerk, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state. A copy of such amended articles, certified by the secretary of state, shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of every county in which such corporation has or holds real property, except only the county in which the original articles were filed. From and after the filing of such certified copy of such amended articles of incorporation in the office of the secretary of state, all outstanding shares of capital stock shall be deemed shares without nominal or par value. Upon the surrender of all or any certificates representing such outstanding shares, the corporation shall issue to the holder or holders thereof a certificate or certificates representing the number and kind of shares without nominal or par value to which such holder or holders may be entitled, but whether or not such surrender is made, all outstanding shares shall, for all purposes, be regarded as representing the number and kind of shares without nominal or par value to which the holder or holders thereof may be entitled.

§ 3. No such corporation shall at any time have outstanding shares of stock having nominal or par value and at the same time have outstanding shares of stock without nominal or par value.

When shares deemed to be of par value.

§ 4. For the purpose of determining the amount of money payable to the secretary of state for filing articles of incorporation, and for the purpose of determining the vote of the stockholders upon the question of the increase of the stock or bonded indebtedness of such corporation, but for no other purpose, such shares shall be deemed to be of the par value of one hundred dollars each. The words "capital stock" and "amount of capital stock" as used in existing laws shall, for the purpose of making such laws applicable to corporations having stock without nominal or par value, be construed in the case of such corporations to mean the aggregate number of shares of stock without nominal or par value. Except as in this act otherwise provided, all provisions of law relating to stock having a par value, so far as the same may be legally, necessarily or practically applicable, shall apply to and govern stock without nominal or par value.

Consent of railroad commission.

§ 5. No public utility as defined in the public utilities act may issue any share of stock without nominal or par value, nor shall any share of stock or any stock certificate outstanding be converted into or deemed to be converted into stock without nominal or par value, without the consent of the railroad commission first having been secured in accordance with the provisions of the public utilities act, and the jurisdiction of the railroad commission with reference to such issue and such conversion of stock shall be in all respects the same as that defined in the public utilities act with reference to the issue by public utilities of stock or stock certificates, and nothing in this act shall be construed to in any way limit the jurisdiction of the railroad commission under the public utilities act over the issue of stock and stock certificates.

CORPORATIONS AS EXECUTOR AND TRUSTEE.

ACT 1034—An act authorizing certain corporations to act as executor and in other capacities, and to provide for and regulate the administration of trusts by such corporations.

History: Approved April 6, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 490. Amended April 1, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 424; March 20, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 244; March 18, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 232; March 18, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 562.

What corporation may act as executor.

§ 1. Any corporation which has or shall be incorporated under the general incorporation laws of this state, authorized by its articles of incorporation to act as executor, administrator, guardian, assignee, receiver, depository or trustee, and having a paid-up capital of not less than two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, of which one hundred thousand dollars shall have been actually paid in, in cash, may be appointed to act in such capacity in like manner as individuals. In all cases in which it is required that an executor, administrator, guardian, assignee, receiver, depository, or trustee, shall qualify by taking and subscribing an oath, or in which an affidavit is required, it shall be a sufficient qualification by such corporation if such oath shall be taken and subscribed or such affidavit made by the president or secretary or manager or trust officer thereof, and such officer shall be liable for the failure of such corporation to perform any of the duties required by law to be performed by individuals acting in like capacity and subject to like penalties; and such corporation shall be liable for such failures to the full amount of its capital stock; provided, any such appointment as guardian shall apply to the estate only, and not to the person. Such corporation shall be entitled to and shall be allowed proper compensation for all the services performed by them under the foregoing provisions of this act; but such compensation shall not exceed that allowed to natural persons for like services. [Amendment. Approved March 18, 1907. Stats. 1907, p. 562.]

Deposits made with corporation.

§ 2. Any court, having appointed and having jurisdiction of any executor, administrator, guardian, assignee, receiver, depository, or trustee, upon the application of such officer or trustee, or upon the application of any person having an interest in the state administered by such officer or trustee, after notice to the other parties in interest as the court may direct, and after a hearing upon such application, may order such officer or trustee to deposit any moneys then in his hands, or which may come into his hands thereafter, and until the further order of said court, with any such corporation, and upon deposit of such money, and its receipt and acceptance by such corporation, the said officer or trustee shall be discharged from further care or responsibility therefor. Such deposits shall be paid out only upon the orders of said court.

Public administrator may make deposits.

§ 3. And it shall be lawful for any public administrator to deposit with any such corporation doing business in the county, or city and county, in which he is acting as such administrator, any and all moneys of any estate upon which he is administering, not required for the current expenses of the administration. And such deposits shall relieve the public administrator from depositing with the county treasurer the moneys so deposited with such corporation. Moneys deposited by a public administrator may be drawn, upon the order of such administrator, countersigned by a judge of a superior court, when required for the purpose of administration, or otherwise.

Court may order deposit and reduce bonds.

§ 4. Whenever, in the judgment of any court having jurisdiction of any estate in process of administration by any executor, administrator, guardian, assignee, receiver, depository, or trustee, the bond required by law of such officer shall seem burdensome or excessive, upon application of such officer or trustee, and after such notice to the parties in interest as the court shall direct, and after a hearing on such application the said court may order the said officer or trustee to deposit with any such corporation, for safe-keeping, such portion or all of the personal assets of said estate as it shall deem proper; and thereupon said court shall, by an order of record, reduce the bond to be given or theretofore given by such officer or trustees, so as to cover only the estate remaining in the hands of said officer or trustee; and the property as deposited shall thereupon be held by said corporation, under the orders and directions of said court. Any court having jurisdiction of an estate being administered by a public administrator, may direct such public administrator to deposit all or any part of the moneys of the estate not required for the current expenses of the administration, with any such corporation doing business in the county, or city and county, where such public administrator is acting.

Responsible for investments.

§ 5. Such corporations shall not be required to give any bond or security in case of any appointment hereinbefore provided for, except as hereinafter provided, but shall be responsible for all investments which shall be made by it of the funds which may be intrusted to it for investment by such court, and shall be further liable as natural persons in like positions now are, and as hereinafter provided. The amount of money which any such corporation shall have on deposit at any time shall not exceed ten times the amount of its paid-up capital and surplus, and its outstanding loans shall not at any time exceed said amount.

Interest.

§ 6. Such corporations shall pay interest upon all moneys held by them by virtue of this act, at such rate as may be agreed upon at the time of its acceptance of any such appointment, or as shall be provided by the order of the court.

Deposit of bonds with state treasurer.

§ 7. Each corporation, before accepting any such appointment or deposit, shall deposit with the treasurer of state, for the benefit of the creditors of said corporation, the sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000.00), in bonds of the United States, or municipal bonds of this state, or of any county, or city, or school district thereof, or in mortgages on improved and productive real estate in this state, being first liens thereon, and the real estate being worth at least twice the amount loaned thereon. The bonds and securities so deposited may be exchanged from time to time for other securities, receivable as aforesaid. Said bonds of the United States, or municipal bonds of this state, or of any county, city, or school district thereof, to be registered in the name of said treasurer, officially, and all said securities to be subject to sale and transfer, and to the disposal of the proceeds by said treasurer, only on the order of a court of competent jurisdiction, and as hereinafter provided. [Amendment. Approved April 1, 1897. Stats. 1897, p. 424.]

May mortgage real estate.

§ 8. Any such corporation, having a paid-up capital in excess of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, may be permitted by the board of bank commissioners to mortgage any improved and productive real estate owned by it, in excess of said amount, to the treasurer of state, for such sum as the said board may determine; and such mortgage may be deposited with said treasurer, and, when so deposited, it shall be included in the amount of securities hereinabove required to be deposited with said treasurer for the benefit of the creditors of said corporation.

Deposit, increase and decrease of.

§ 9. So long as the corporation so depositing shall continue solvent, such corporation shall be permitted to receive from said treasurer the interest or dividends on said deposit; provided, however, that when it shall appear to the board of bank commissioners, from the semi-annual report of any such corporation, that the value of the personal property and cash held and possessed by such corporation, by virtue of the provisions of this act and any amendment thereof, exceeds ten times the amount of the deposit aforesaid, said board shall require said corporation to forthwith increase its said deposit to the sum of five hundred thousand dollars in such securities. And whenever it shall appear to said board that the amount of personal property and cash so held by any such corporation has been reduced below ten times the value of its original deposit above provided for, and said corporation is not in any default in its duties and obligations hereunder, they shall allow such corporation to reduce its said deposit to the sum of two hundred thousand dollars, by the withdrawal of such additional deposit, until such time as an increase in its holdings shall again require an additional deposit, as hereinbefore provided.

Abstracts of title.

§ 10. When any part of such deposit is made in bonds and mortgages, it shall be accompanied by full abstracts of titles and searches, and shall be examined and approved by or under the direction of the said board. The fees for an examination of title by counsel, to be paid by the corporation making the deposit, shall not exceed twenty dollars for each mortgage, and the fee for each appraiser, not exceeding two, besides expenses, shall be five dollars for each mortgage.

Certificate of authority.

§ 11. It shall not be lawful for any such corporation to accept any trust or deposit, as hereinbefore provided, after the passage of this act, without first procuring from the board of bank commissioners a certificate of authority, stating that such corporation has complied with the requirements of this act in respect to such deposit.

Semi-annual statement.

§ 12. Such corporation shall file with the said board of bank commissioners, during the months of January and July of each year, a statement, under oath, of the condition of such corporation at the close of business on the thirty-first day of December and the thirtieth day of June, respectively, next preceding, showing its financial condition. Also, a list and brief description of the trusts held by such corporation, the source of the appointment thereto, and the amount of real and personal estate held by such corporation by virtue thereof, except that mere mortgage trusts, wherein no action has been taken by such corporation, shall not be included in such statement. The said statement shall also be in such form, and contain such reports, returns, and information, as to the affairs, business, condition, and resources of the corporation, as the said board may from time to time prescribe and require.

Verification of statement.

Duty of bank commissioners.

§ 14. The said board of bank commissioners are hereby authorized and empowered to address any inquiries to any such corporation, or the officers thereof, in relation to its doings and conditions, or any other matter connected with its affairs; and it shall be the duty of any such corporation or person so addressed to promptly reply, in writing, to such inquiries; and they may also require reports from any such corporation at any time they may deem desirable. It shall be the duty of one or more of the bank commissioners, as designated by the commissioners, annually, or as often as in their judgment they may deem it necessary, without previous notice, to visit and to make personal examination of the solvency of any such corporation, its ability to fulfill all its obligations, and report its condition to the attorney-general as soon as may be after such examination.

Administering oaths and examining witnesses.

§ 16. Such commissioners shall have power to administer an oath to any person whose testimony may be required on any such examination, and to compel the appearance and attendance of any such person, for the purpose of examination, by summons, subpoena, or attachment, in the matter now authorized in respect to the attendance of persons as witnesses in courts of record in this state; and all books and papers which may be deemed necessary to examine by the commissioners shall be produced, and their production may be compelled in like manner.

Duty when corporation violates law.

§ 17. Whenever it shall appear to the board of bank commissioners, from any such examination or report, that any such corporation has committed any violation of law, or is conducting its business in an unsafe or unauthorized manner, they shall, by an order under their hands, direct the discontinuance of such illegal and unsafe or unauthorized practice, and strict conformity with the requirements of the law, and with safety and security in its transactions; and whenever any such corporations shall refuse or neglect to make any such report as hereinbefore required, or to comply with any such order as aforesaid, or whenever it shall appear to the said board that it is unsafe or inexpedient for any such corporation to continue to transact business, they shall communicate the facts to the attorney-general, who shall thereupon institute such proceedings against the corporation as the nature of the case may require.

False statement revokes authority.

§ 18. If the board of bank commissioners shall, at any time, have satisfactory evidence that any semi-annual statement or other report required or authorized by this act, made or to be made by any officer or officers of such corporation, is false, it shall be the duty of the said board to immediately revoke the certificate of authority granted on behalf of such corporation, and mail a copy of such revocation to said corporation and to the clerk of every court of record in this state. Such revocation shall not be set aside until satisfactory evidence shall be given to said board of bank commissioners that such corporation is in substance and in fact in the condition set forth in such statement or report, and that all the requirements of this act have been complied with. Such revocation shall be sufficient cause for the removal of such corporation from any appointment held by it under the provisions of this act.

Retirement from business.

§ 19. Any corporation which desires to retire from business under this act, shall furnish to the board of bank commissioners satisfactory evidence of its release and discharge from all the obligations and trusts hereinbefore provided for; whereupon, they shall revoke their certificate to such corporation, and thereupon the treasurer of state shall return to said corporation all its securities.

Conflicting acts repealed.

§ 20. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Time of taking effect.

§ 21. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Communications confidential.

§ 22. Any corporation exercising the powers and performing the duties provided for in said act, shall keep inviolate all communications confidentially made to it touching the existence, condition, management, and administration of any trusts confided to it; and no creditor or stockholder of any such corporation shall be entitled to disclosure of any such communication; provided, however, that the president, manager and secretary of such corporation shall be entitled to knowledge of such communication; and provided further, that in any suit or proceeding touching the existence, condition, management or administration of such trust, the court wherein the same is pending may require disclosure of any such communication. [New section. Added March 20, 1903. Stats. 1903, p. 244.]

Word "trust." Use prohibited when.

shall be subject to the provisions of the act last referred to and to the supervision of the bank commissioners as required by the said act. Any person, firm, association, company or corporation making use of the word "trust" in combination or in connection with the word "company," "corporation," "incorporation," "association," "society," "organization" or "syndicate" in the manner hereinabove mentioned in the transaction of business and not subject to the provisions of said act and the supervision of the bank commissioners as in said act provided shall forfeit for each day the offense is committed, the sum of one hundred dollars to be recovered by the bank commissioners of the state of California in the manner provided by law. [New section. Added March 18, 1905. Stats. 1905, p. 232.]

1. Constitutionality—Special legislation—Uniformity of operation.—The act is not special legislation, and is not objectionable on the ground of want of uniformity in its operation.—Estate of Kilborn, 5 Cal. App. 161, 164, 89 Pac. 985.

2. Special proceeding not provided.—"As hereinafter provided."—This phrase in section 7 seems to have no application, for the statute does not provide a special proceeding in court to determine as to the sale, transfer or disposal of the bonds or proceeds thereof.—Spalding Co. v. Roberts, 170 Cal. 175, 176, 149 Pac. 41.

3. Incorporation as trustee corporation—Return of bond deposit.—A trustee corporation under the act is not entitled to have the return of the bonds deposited with the state treasurer until it divests itself of its powers to act as trustee.—Spalding Co. v. Roberts, 170 Cal. 175, 178, 149 Pac. 41.

4. Insolvent trust corporation—Set-off.—An administratrix of an estate has a right of set-off against an insolvent trust corporation, growing out of a deposit of funds of her estate prior to insolvency, against an allowed claim against the estate founded upon a debt due the insolvent by the decedent.—People v. California, etc., Co., 168 Cal. 241, L. R. A. 1915A, 299, 141 Pac. 1181.

5. Intervention in insolvency proceedings—Jurisdiction of court.—Where a court has control of the insolvent estate of a trust company for the purpose of liquidating and settling such estate, it has jurisdiction of a claim for a set-off growing out of a deposit of the funds of the estate of a deceased person, against a claim of the insolvent based upon a debt due from the decedent in his lifetime, and intervention was a proper proceeding, and the administratrix is not required to maintain a separate action against the receiver, nor pay her debt in full and accept a pro rata distribution on her deposit claim.—People v. California, etc., Co., 168 Cal. 241, L. R. A. 1915A, 299, 141 Pac. 1181.

6. Letters testamentary to corporation were properly granted as a coexecutor, where it was qualified to act by the terms of its articles of incorporation, and the conditions required by the act had been complied with, in the absence of objections on the ground of want of solvency or financial responsibility.—Estate of Kilborn, 5 Cal. App. 161, 89 Pac. 985.

7. Trust—Deposit of funds of minor's estate, made under the terms of a will and of the decree of distribution, with a corporation authorized under the terms of the act to act as trustee, is a trust, and is protected by the deposit of bonds with the state treasurer.—People v. California, etc., Co., 22 Cal. App. 69, 133 Pac. 324; Wickersham v. California, etc., Co., 22 Cal. App. 69, 133 Pac. 324.

8. Section 1348, Code Civil Procedure.—In § 1348 of the Code of Civil Procedure, it is provided that corporations authorized by their articles of incorporation to act as executor, administrator, guardian of estates, assignee, receiver, depository, or trustee, and having a paid-up capital of not less than two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, of which one hundred thousand dollars shall have been actually paid in in cash, may be appointed to act in such capacity in like manner as individuals. In all cases in which it is required that an executor, administrator, guardian, assignee, receiver, depository, or trustee, shall qualify by taking and subscribing an oath, or in which an affidavit is required, it shall be a sufficient qualification by such corporation, if such oath shall be taken and subscribed, or such affidavit made, by the president or secretary or manager thereof; and such officer shall be liable for the failure of such corporation to perform any of the duties required by law to be performed by individuals acting in like capacity and subject to like penalties; and such corporation shall be liable for such failure to the full amount of its capital stock and upon the bond required upon its assuming the trusts provided for herein.

As to power of trust companies to act as administrator and executor, guardian, surety, etc., see monographic note by J. H. Hill, 43 L. R. A. 587-593; 52 L. R. A. 469.

FOR THE PROTECTION OF STOCKHOLDERS, ETC.

ACT 1035—An act to protect stockholders and persons dealing with corporations in this state.

History: Approved March 29, 1878, Stats. 1877-78, p. 695. Amended March 22, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 786.

Corporations, false reports of officers of.

§ 2. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

1. Constitutionality.—Original act constitutional.—Even though the amendatory act might be unconstitutional under the constitution of 1879, the original act was valid under the constitution of 1849, and the amendatory act recites the original act, and re-enacts it with amendments, and thus complies fully with constitutional requirements as to amendments.—People v. Merritt, 18 Cal. App. 58, 122 Pac. 839, 844.

See, also, People v. Parvin, 74 Cal. 549, 16 Pac. 490; Francais v. Somps, 92 Cal. 505, 23 Pac. 592; Beach v. Von Detten, 139 Cal. 462, 73 Pac. 187; People v. Oates, 142 Cal. 12, 75 Pac. 337.

2. Title of amendatory act.—The act is not invalid on the ground that the subject thereof is not sufficiently stated in the title, the body of the act being wholly penal and not being germane to the subject of protecting stockholders and persons dealing with corporations.—People v. Merritt, 18 Cal. App. 58, 122 Pac. 839, 844.

3. Code provision.—This act was approved the day after § 564 of the Penal Code was amended to include substantially the same provisions.—See Kerr's Cyc. Penal Code, § 564.

PAYMENT OF EMPLOYEES OF CORPORATIONS.

ACT 1036—An act requiring corporations to pay their employees at least once a month.

History: Approved March 29, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 231.

See, post, Act 1037.

This act provided for the payment of wages at least once a month, and gave the employee a lien for the same.

1. Constitutionality.—This act is discriminatory, creates an unreasonable classification, infringes the right of person to make and enforce their own contracts, denies the equal protection of the law, and is unconstitutional and void.—Johnson v. Goodyear Mining Company, 127 Cal. 4, 78 Am. St. Rep. 17, 47 L. R. A. 338, 59 Pac. 304.

2. Same.—The act is not unconstitutional as a violation of the due process of law clause of the constitution.—Skinner v. Garnett G. M. Co., 96 Fed. 735.

3. Same.—The act is not unconstitutional as a denial of the equal protection of the laws.—Skinner v. Garnett G. M. Co., 96 Fed. 735.

4. Same.—The act is not unconstitutional on the ground that it unjustly discriminates against corporations in the matter of liens for wages.—Skinner v. Garnett G. M. Co., 96 Fed. 735.

5. Same.—The act is not invalid on the ground that the provisions of sections 2 and 6 are not specifically referred to in the title.—Skinner v. Garnett G. M. Co., 96 Fed. 735.

PAYMENT OF WAGES OF EMPLOYEES OF CORPORATIONS.

ACT 1037—An act to provide for the payment of wages of mechanics and laborers employed by corporations.

History: Approved March 31, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 195.

See, ante, Act 1036, notes.

This act provided for the payment of wages, weekly or monthly, and gave a lien therefor.

1. Unconstitutional.—The act is held to be special legislation, to create an arbitrary and unreasonable classification and to be Gen. Laws—28 unconstitutional and void.—Slocum v. Bear Valley, etc., Co., 122 Cal. 555, 68 Am. St. Rep. 68, 55 Pac. 403.

See, also, Johnson v. Goodyear, etc., Co., 127 Cal. 4, 20, 78 Am. St. Rep. 17, 47 L. R. A. 338, 59 Pac. 304.

2. Lien for wages.—Under this act the wages must be shown to be payable weekly or monthly to entitle the employee to a lien therefor.—Spaulding v. Mammoth, etc., Co., 5 Cal. Unrep. 712, 49 Pac. 183; Kuschel v. Hunter, 5 Cal. Unrep. 793, 50 Pac. 397.

Preferred claim for wages.—See tit. "Labor Bureau," Act 2404.

3. Not within terms of statute.—Upon the case shown it was held that plaintiff had not brought himself within the terms of the statute creating a lien for wages payable weekly or monthly.—Spaulding v. Mammoth, etc., Min. Co., 5 Cal. Unrep. 712, 49 Pac. 183.

FOREIGN CORPORATIONS ACT.

ACT 1041—An act prescribing terms and conditions upon which corporations may transact business in this state and providing penalties and forfeitures for non-compliance.

History: Approved May 10, 1915. In effect, see § 19. Stats. 1915, p. 422. Entire act amended May 11, 1917. In effect immediately. Stats. 1917, p. 371.

Corporations must file articles of incorporation. Certified copy filed with county clerk. Affidavit. Fee.

§ 1. Every corporation organized under the laws of another state, territory, or of a foreign country, which is now doing interstate or intrastate business in this state or maintaining an office herein, and which has not filed with the secretary of state prior to the day on which this act takes effect the document or documents required by this section, or which shall hereafter do such business in this state or maintain an office herein, or which shall enter this state for the purpose of doing such business herein, must file in the office of the secretary of state of the state of California a certified copy of its articles of incorporation, or of its charter, or of the statute or statutes, or legislative, or executive, or governmental act or acts creating it, in cases where it has been created by charter, or statute, or legislative, or executive, or governmental act, duly certified by the secretary of state or other officer authorized by the law of the jurisdiction under which such corporation is formed to certify such copy, and must also file a certified copy thereof, duly certified by the secretary of state of this state in the office of the county clerk of the county where its principal place of business in this state is located, and also where such corporation owns any real property. With such certified copy of its articles of incorporation, charter or legislative, executive or governmental act creating it, such corporation shall also file with the secretary of state an affidavit sworn to by the president or secretary of such corporation, which shall state the amount of such corporation's authorized capital stock at or within fifteen days prior to such filing. Every such corporation shall pay to the secretary of state for filing in his office such certified copy of its articles of incorporation, or of its charter, or of the statute or statutes, or legislative, or executive, or governmental act or acts creating it, a fee of seventy-five dollars; provided, that foreign corporations organized for educational, religious, scientific or charitable purposes and having no capital stock, and foreign nonprofit corporations shall pay a fee of five dollars for filing the document or documents hereinabove required.

Foreign corporations must file amendment, etc. Affidavit showing capital stock.

Foreign corporations shall also file any amendment of or change in any of the provisions of its original articles of incorporation, or charter, or of the statute or legislative, executive or governmental act or acts creating it. Every foreign corporation subject to the tax hereinafter provided shall file with the secretary of state, at the time it tenders payment of said tax and any penalty which has accrued, an affidavit sworn to by its president or secretary, showing the amount of its authorized capital stock on the first day of January of the year in which said payment is made, and in the event that such authorized capital stock, as shown by such affidavit, differs from the amount of such capital stock as appears from the records of the secretary of state, then the tax hereinafter provided shall be measured by the amount of the capital stock shown in such affidavit. The license hereinafter required shall not be issued nor shall the amount so tendered be accepted until copies of any documents relating to such change in authorized capital stock, certified as required by this section, shall have been filed with the secretary of state.

Representative of foreign corporation.

Every foreign corporation shall file with the secretary of state a designation of some person residing within this state upon whom process issued by authority of law may be served as the representative, for such purpose, of such corporation. A copy of such designation certified by the secretary of state is sufficient evidence of the appointment of such representative. Such process may be served on the person so designated, or, in the event that no such representative is designated, then on the secretary of state, and such service shall be a valid and binding service on such corporation.

Benefit of law.

Every corporation which complies with the provisions of this section is thereafter entitled to the benefit of the laws of this state limiting the time for the commencement of civil actions, but any corporation created by or under the laws of any foreign state or country and that has not complied with this section is not entitled to the benefit thereof, nor can any such foreign corporation maintain or defend any action or proceeding concerning its property in this state or any intrastate business or transaction, in any court of this state or acquire or convey any legal title to any real property within this state. In any action or proceeding instituted against any body styled as a corporation, but not created by nor under the laws of this state, evidence that such body has acted as a corporation, or employed methods usually employed by corporations, must be received by the court for the purpose of proving the existence of such corporation, the sufficiency of such evidence to be determined by the court with like effect as in other cases. Every corporation which has complied with the law requiring it to make and file a designation of the person upon whom process against it may be served, need not make or file any further designation. Any designation made may be revoked by the filing by the corporation with the secretary of state of a writing stating such revocation. Within forty days after the death or removal from the state of any person designated by the corporation, or after the revocation of the designation, the corporation must make a new designation, or be subject to the provisions and penalties of this section; provided, however, that any foreign corporation which, prior to the eighth day of March, one thousand nine hundred one, shall have complied with the provisions of the act entitled, "An act to amend 'An act in relation to foreign corporations,' approved April first, one thousand eight hundred seventy-two," approved March seventeenth, one thousand eight hundred ninety-nine, shall, in lieu of the provisions of this section above set forth, file the affidavit and designation of representative herein required and the license tax due from such corporation shall be measured by the authorized capital stock, as shown thereby.

Fees.

§ 2. Upon filing in the office of the secretary of state the certified copy of articles of incorporation of corporations organized under the laws of this state, there shall be paid to the secretary of state the fees prescribed therefor by section four hundred nine of the Political Code.

Annual license. Tax.

§ 3. Except those corporations hereinafter specified, every corporation incorporated under the laws of this state, and every corporation incorporated under the laws of any other state, territory, or foreign country now doing intrastate business within this state, or which shall hereafter engage in intrastate business in this state, shall procure annually from the secretary of state a license authorizing the transaction of such business in this state, and pay therefor the license tax prescribed herein.

For the purpose of measuring said tax the secretary of state shall examine all articles of incorporation and all documents on file in his office relating to an increase or decrease in the authorized capital stock of corporations which are subject to said tax, and determine the amount due from each corporation by the following rule:

Determination of tax.

When the authorized capital stock of the corporation does not exceed ten thousand dollars, the tax shall be ten dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds ten thousand dollars, but does not exceed twenty thousand dollars, the tax shall be fifteen dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds twenty thousand dollars but does not exceed fifty thousand dollars, the tax shall be twenty dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds fifty thousand dollars but does not exceed one hundred thousand dollars, the tax shall be twenty-five dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds one hundred thousand dollars but does not exceed two hundred fifty thousand dollars, the tax shall be fifty dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds two hundred fifty thousand dollars but does not exceed five hundred thousand dollars, the tax shall be seventy-five dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds five hundred thousand dollars but does not exceed one million dollars, the tax shall be one hundred dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds one million dollars but does not exceed three million dollars, the tax shall be two hundred dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds three million dollars but does not exceed five million dollars, the tax shall be three hundred fifty dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds five million dollars but does not exceed seven million five hundred thousand dollars, the tax shall be five hundred fifty dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds seven million five hundred thousand dollars but does not exceed ten million dollars, the tax shall be eight hundred dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds ten million dollars, the tax shall be one thousand dollars; when the capital stock of any corporation has no par value the tax shall be one hundred dollars; when part of the capital stock of any corporation has a par value and a part of such stock has no par value, the tax shall be computed upon such par value stock in accordance with the admeasurement schedule herein established, to which sum shall be added the sum of fifty dollars. Building and loan companies and associations shall pay an annual license tax of ten dollars.

Tax on corporations having no capital stock.

All corporations having no capital stock, but organized for profit, shall pay an annual tax of ten dollars. Said license tax shall be due and payable to the secretary of state on the first day of January of each and every year. Such license tax shall be paid on or before the hour of six o'clock p. m. of the first Monday of February of each year and if not so paid shall at said hour become delinquent and there shall thereupon be added thereto as a penalty for such delinquency the sum of ten dollars.

Tax authorizes transaction of business.

§ 4. The license hereby provided authorizes the domestic corporations holding the same to transact business in this state, and authorizes foreign corporations to transact intrastate business in this state, during the year or any fractional part of such year for which such license is issued. "Year" within the meaning of this act, means from and including the first day of January to and including the thirty-first day of December next thereafter.

License tax for part of year.

§ 5. At the time any corporation subject to the license tax provided herein shall file certified copy of articles of incorporation, or charter, or statute or statutes, or legislative, or executive or governmental act or acts creating a corporation, when filed between the first day of January and the thirty-first day of December, inclusive, in any year, there shall be paid to the secretary of state, in addition to all other fees required by law, that proportion of the license tax specified in section three of this act which the unexpired number of months of such year bears to the entire year including the month in which such filing occurs, and thereupon the secretary of state shall issue a license for such fractional part of the then current year.

§ 6. Corporations organized and conducted solely and exclusively for educational, religious, scientific or charitable purposes, corporations which are not organized or conducted for profit, corporations organized under the laws of any other state, territory or foreign country doing solely and exclusively an interstate or foreign business, and those corporations taxed under subdivisions (a), (b) and (c) of section fourteen of article XIII of the constitution, are exempt from payment of the tax provided by section three of this act.

§ 7. The secretary of state, state controller and members of the state board of control shall be and are hereby constituted the “corporation license tax exemption board.” Except in cases where articles of incorporation are filed in the month of December, every corporation claiming exemption from the payment of the annual license tax prescribed by this statute must file with said board, at least thirty days before such license tax becomes due and payable, a written protest in which shall be set forth all facts and reasons upon which such exemption claim is made. Such protest shall contain a concise statement of the nature, character and manner of doing business by such corporation, together with any other data illustrating the method of doing such business and the places in which such business is transacted within this state. Such corporation shall furnish to said board such other or additional information as may be required by said board. Such application shall be sworn to by the president, secretary or general manager, or authorized agent of such corporation. Failure to protest in the manner and within the time herein prescribed shall constitute a waiver of all rights of exemption from said tax; provided, however, that the corporation license tax exemption board shall have the power, irrespective of such protests to grant such exemption in the case of corporations mentioned in section six of this act.

Corporations excepted.

The provisions of this section with respect to filing written claim of exemption, shall not apply to educational, religious, scientific or charitable corporations, specified in section six of this act nor to corporations taxed under subdivisions (a), (b) and (c) of section fourteen, article XIII of the constitution of this state.

Tax exemption determined before filing articles of incorporation.

§ 8. Before filing a certified copy of the articles of incorporation of any domestic corporation in the office of the secretary of state, and before any foreign corporation files with the secretary of state the document or documents required by section one of this act, said articles of incorporation or said documents shall be submitted to said corporation license tax exemption board, which board shall determine the question of whether such corporation is exempt, under any of the provisions of this act, from the license tax imposed hereby.

All claims or applications for exemption, under this and the preceding section together with all evidence and proofs submitted therewith, shall be considered by such license tax exemption board, which shall determine the question of such exemption.

The determination of such corporation license tax exemption board upon all questions of fact, with respect to such claims of exemption, shall be final and conclusive.

Notice of time when tax payable. Notice of delinquency. Notice of suspension or forfeiture.

§ 9. On or before the first day of December of each year the secretary of state shall mail a notice to every corporation subject to the tax imposed by this act, notifying such corporations of the time when such tax shall be due and payable, when delinquent, and of the penalties for delinquency and non-payment. Immediately after the first Monday in February of each year the secretary of state shall mail a notice to every corporation subject to the tax imposed by this act and which has failed to pay the same, notifying such corporation of its delinquency and the penalties therefor. Within ten days after the Saturday preceding the first Monday in March of each year the secretary of state shall, by registered mail, notify every corporation subject to the tax imposed by this act and which has failed to pay the same, that such corporation has been recorded by him as a "suspended" or "forfeited" corporation in accordance with the provisions of this act, and that such suspension or forfeiture may be removed by complying with the provisions of this act. Mailing by the secretary of state to any corporation of any of the notices required by this section shall not be a jurisdictional prerequisite to the accrual of any forfeiture provided by this act, or to the suspension of the corporate powers of any delinquent corporation and the officers thereof hereinafter provided, nor be held to be an essential prerequisite to the imposition of such or any other penalties for delinquency and nonpayment.

§ 10. The license tax due from any corporation subject to the provisions of this act is a lien upon the real property of such corporation from and after the first day of January of each year and until paid or until the property is sold for the payment thereof. On or before the first Monday in April of each year the secretary of state shall make a list of all corporations subject to the tax imposed by or that should have been paid under this act and which have failed to pay the same, and transmit a certified copy thereof to each county clerk and county recorder in this state. Said county clerks and county recorders shall file such certified copies in their respective offices in such manner that the same shall be preserved in the form of a permanent record of such office and easily identified by and available to the public. Said copies so certified by the secretary of state and filed as herein provided shall, in the case of each corporation, state whether such corporation is a domestic or foreign corporation and specify the tax and penalties which each corporation has incurred for failure to pay the tax imposed by this act. Such certified copies so filed with either of said county officers, or any copy thereof certified by the secretary of state, shall be received in evidence in any court in lieu of the original record on file with the secretary of state and shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of all statements contained therein.

Rights of domestic corporations suspended. Right of foreign corporations forfeited. Forfeiture relieved.

§ 11. After six o'clock p. m. of the Saturday preceding the first Monday in March in any year, the corporate rights, privileges and powers of every domestic corporation which has failed to pay the tax and money penalty for nonpayment thereof imposed by this act shall, from and after said hour of said day, be suspended, and incapable of being exercised for any purpose or in any manner, except to execute and deliver deeds to real property in pursuance of contracts therefor made prior to such time, and to defend in court any action brought against such corporation, until said tax with all accrued penalties, taxes and charges due to the state under this act and subdivision (d) of section fourteen, article XIII of the constitution are paid as hereinafter provided. The right and privilege of every foreign corporation, subject to the provisions of this act, to transact intrastate business in this state shall, for failure to pay the tax and money penalty for nonpayment thereof imposed by this act, be forfeited at said hour of said day, and the secretary of state shall make a record of such forfeiture. In the case of foreign corporations such forfeiture may be relieved and the corporation's privilege to transact intrastate business in this state restored in the manner hereinafter provided. After said hour of said day and until such taxes, penalties and charges are paid, every person who attempts or purports to exercise any of the rights, privileges or powers of any delinquent domestic corporation except as permitted by this act, or, who transacts or attempts to transact any intrastate business in this state in behalf of any forfeited foreign corporation, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than two hundred fifty dollars and not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than fifty days or more than five hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. The jurisdiction of such offense shall be held to be in any county in which any part of such attempted exercise of such powers, or any part of such transaction of business was had or occurred. Every contract made in violation of this section is hereby declared to be void.

Application by stockholder or creditor to restore rights. Payment of additional amount.

§ 12. All corporate powers, rights and privileges, suspended or forfeited under the provisions of this act may be revived and restored to full force and effect upon application therefor by any stockholder or creditor thereof and upon payment of all accrued taxes and penalties due to the state under this act and subdivision (d) of section fourteen, article XIII of the constitution. In case the application for such revivor and restoration is not made during the year in which such suspension or forfeiture occurred, such application shall not be granted nor a certificate of revivor issued to such corporation until there is paid to the secretary of state in addition to the tax and money penalty due or that should have been paid the state under this act and subdivision (d) of section fourteen, article XIII of the constitution for the year in which such suspension or forfeiture occurred, a sum of money, equal to the tax, without penalty, imposed or that should have been paid under this act during the year in which such suspension or forfeiture occurred, for each year succeeding said year in which such suspension or forfeiture occurred.

Controller's certificate.

Upon payment of all such taxes and penalties, and upon payment of all other taxes due the state under subdivision (d) of section fourteen, article XIII of the constitution, the state controller shall issue a certificate under his seal evidencing such payment and restoration, which certificate, when recorded in the office of any county recorder shall constitute a release of all existing liens for such taxes upon the property of such corporation. Each county recorder shall keep an index of all such controller's certificates recorded by him. Upon presentation of such controller's certificate of revivor to any county clerk said officer shall make a record thereof in his office in a book kept for such purpose. The record so made by said county clerk shall be prima facie evidence of the restoration to such corporation of all previously suspended or forfeited rights, powers and privileges unless it appears from the records in the office of such county clerk or of the controller or secretary of state that subsequent to the date of such certificate of revivor the powers of said corporation have been again suspended or its right to do intrastate business again forfeited.

No dissolution until tax paid.

§ 13. No court shall have jurisdiction to make or enter any decree of dissolution of any domestic corporation until all taxes and penalties due under this act shall have been paid.

Restoration of right under acts of 1905 and 1915.

§ 14. Any corporation which has heretofore failed to pay any license tax and penalty imposed under the provisions of chapter three hundred eighty-six, statutes 1905, and amendments thereof, or under chapter one hundred ninety, statutes 1915, and for such nonpayment suffered a forfeiture of the charter of such corporation or of the right to do business in this state, may be relieved of such forfeiture, or may be restored to its right to do business in this state, upon making application therefor in writing and paying the license tax and penalties prescribed by said act, for nonpayment of which such forfeiture occurred. Application for restoration under the provisions of this section shall be made in writing, shall be signed by four-fifths of the surviving trustees or directors of said corporation, duly verified by said trustees or directors and filed with the state controller. Upon payment of the moneys due this state under the provisions of said act for the one year in which such forfeiture occurred, together with any tax levied in such year under subdivision (d) of section fourteen, article XIII of the constitution by the state board of equalization, and the license tax due under the provisions of this act, the state controller shall issue a certificate of revivor to such corporation, and thereupon such corporation is revived and its powers restored to full force and effect.

The revivor of a corporation, under the provisions of this section, shall be without prejudice to any action or proceeding, defense or right, which has occurred by reason of the original forfeiture.

Use of new name.

In case the name of any corporation which has suffered the forfeiture prescribed by either of said acts first in this section above mentioned, has been adopted by any other corporation since the date of said forfeiture, or in case any corporation has adopted subsequent to such forfeiture any name so closely resembling the name of such reviving corporation as will tend to deceive, then such reviving corporation shall be entitled to a certificate of revivor pursuant to the terms of this section only upon the adoption by such corporation seeking revivor of a new name, and in such case nothing in this section contained shall be construed as permitting such reviving corporation to carry on any business under its former name. Such reviving corporation shall have the right to use its former name or take such new name only upon filing an application therefor with the secretary of state, and upon the issuing of a certificate to such corporation by the secretary of state, setting forth the right of such corporation to take such new name or use its former name as the case may be. The secretary of state shall not issue any certificate permitting any corporation to take or use the name of any corporation heretofore organized in this state and which has not suffered a forfeiture under either of the acts in this section first above mentioned, or to take or use a name so closely resembling the name of any corporation heretofore organized in this state as will tend to deceive.

The provisions of title nine, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure, in so far as they conflict with this section of this act are not applicable to corporations seeking revivor under this act.

Surrender of right to engage in intrastate business.

§ 15. Any foreign corporation may surrender its right to engage in intrastate business in this state by filing with the corporation license tax exemption board an affi davit, sworn to by the president of such corporation, which shall contain a concise statement of the nature, character and manner of doing any business of any kind that such corporation may thereafter intend to transact in this state. Said corporation shall furnish such other or additional information as may be required by said board. Said board shall consider such application and the order of such board approving the same shall terminate the right of such corporation to transact intrastate business in this state. Any person transacting any intrastate business in this state in behalf of such corporation after approval of such application to surrender such privilege shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable as provided in section eleven of this act.

False statement.

§ 16. Any false statement contained in any of the affidavits herein required shall constitute perjury, and shall be punishable as such.

Moneys paid.

§ 17. All moneys herein required to be paid shall, upon collection, be immediately paid into the state treasury.

Statutes unaffected.

§ 18. Nothing in this act shall be construed as affecting or repealing any statute of this state respecting the assessment of franchises and levying of taxes thereon, as required by section fourteen, article XIII of the constitution and chapter three hundred thirty-five of statutes of one thousand nine hundred eleven of this state and amendments thereof.

Title.

§ 19. This act shall be known as the "corporation license act."

The amending act contained the following:

In effect.

§ 2. This act, inasmuch as it provides for a tax levy, shall, under the provisions of section one of article IV of the constitution, take effect immediately.

The original act contained the following:

In effect when.

§ 19. The provisions of this act in so far as they relate to the payment of the license tax provided for in section four of this act shall take effect on the first day of January, 1916, and as to all other provisions this act shall take effect ninety days after final adjournment of the forty-first session of the legislature.

"INDUSTRIAL LOAN COMPANIES."

ACT 1042—An act defining industrial loan companies, providing for their incorporation, powers and supervision.

History: Approved May 18, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 658.

"Industrial loan company."

§ 1. The term "industrial loan company" as used in this act means any corporation which in the regular course of its business loans money and issues its own choses in action under the provisions of this act.

Incorporation.

§ 2. Corporations may be incorporated under and by virtue of this act in the same manner as corporations under and by virtue of chapter one of title one of part four, division first of the Civil Code, except as otherwise herein provided.

Capital stock. Shares. Capital stock paid.

§ 3. The capital stock of any corporation incorporated under the provisions of this act shall not be less than twenty-five thousand dollars in any city having a population of twenty-five thousand inhabitants or more and less than fifty thousand; and shall not be less than fifty thousand dollars in any city having fifty thousand or more inhabitants, and less than one hundred thousand; and shall not be less than one hundred thousand dollars in any city having one hundred thousand or more inhabitants, according to the last official census. The capital stock of any such corporation shall be divided into shares of the par value of one hundred dollars each. Before the articles of incorporation of any corporation, incorporated under the provisions of this act, are filed, there must be paid in cash for the benefit of the corporation to a treasurer, elected by the subscribers, not less than twenty-five per cent of the amount of the capital stock; the balance of the capital stock shall be paid in cash to the corporation at the rate of not less than ten per cent per month, following the initial payment. No corporation organized hereunder shall create more than one class of stock.

§ 4. Every corporation under the provisions of this act shall have power:

First—To loan money on personal security, or otherwise, and to deduct interest therefor in advance at the rate of six per cent per annum, or less, and, in addition, to receive and to require uniform weekly or monthly installments on its certificates of investment, purchased by the borrower simultaneously with the said loan transaction, or otherwise, and pledged with the corporation as security for the said loan, with or without an allowance of interest on such installments.

Second—To sell or negotiate choses in action for the payment of money at any time, either fixed or uncertain, and to receive payments therefor in installments or otherwise, with or without an allowance of interest upon such installments. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to authorize corporations hereunder to receive deposits or to issue certificates of deposit. The issuance of choses in action herein authorized shall be approved as to form by the commissioner of corporations and shall bear the endorsement on the face of the instrument "This is not a certificate of deposit."

Third—To charge for a loan, made pursuant to this section, one dollar for every fifty dollars, or fraction thereof loaned, for expenses, including any examination or investigation of the character and circumstances of the borrower, and the drawing and taking acknowledgment of any papers, or other expenses incurred in making the loan. No charge shall be collected unless a loan shall have been made, and in no case shall such charge exceed five dollars.

Fourth—To establish branch offices, or places of business, within the county, in which its principal place of business is located, but not elsewhere.

In addition to the powers herein enumerated, every corporation, under the provisions of this act, shall have the general powers conferred upon corporations by chapter three, title one, part four, division first, of the Civil Code, except as herein otherwise provided.

Limitations on corporations.

§ 5. No corporation under the provisions of this act shall:

(a) Hold at any one time the obligation or obligations of any person, firm or corporation, for more than two per cent of the amount of the capital and surplus of such industrial loan company.

(b) Make any loan, under the provisions of this act, for a longer period than one year from the date thereof.

(c) Deposit any of its funds with any other moneyed corporation, unless such corporation has been designated as such depository by a vote of the majority of the directors or of the executive committee, exclusive of any director who is an officer, director or trustee of the depository so designated.

(d) Invest any of its funds, otherwise than as herein authorized, except in such investments as are by law legal investments for savings banks, or in the choses in action issued by any other corporation organized under this act.

(e) Have outstanding at any time its investment certificates in an aggregate sum in excess of ten times the aggregate amount of its paid up capital, exclusive of those hypothecated with the company issuing them.

Holding real estate.

§ 6. Every corporation, under the provisions of this act, may purchase, hold and convey real estate for the following purposes, but for no other:

First—Such as shall be conveyed to it in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in the course of its business.

Second—Such as it shall purchase at sale under judgments, decrees or mortgage foreclosures under securities held by it, but no such corporation shall bid at any such sale a larger amount than shall be necessary to satisfy its debt and costs.

Real estate shall be conveyed under the corporate seal of such corporation and the hand of its president or vice-president and manager or treasurer. No real estate acquired in the cases contemplated above shall be held for a longer period than five years. Parcels of such real estate not sold within said time may be purchased by any person wanting the same, upon the conditions and proceedings provided in section fifty-four of "An act to define and regulate the business of banking," approved March 1, 1909.

Dividends.

§ 7. The directors of every corporation, under the provisions of this act, may at certain times and in such manner as its by-laws prescribe, declare and pay dividends to the stockholders of such corporation, of so much of the net profits of the corporation as may be appropriated for that purpose under its by-laws, but before any such dividend is declared, not less than ten per cent of the net profits of such corporation for the preceding half year, or for such period as is covered by the dividend, shall be carried to its surplus until such surplus shall amount to twenty-five per cent of the paid-up capital stock.

Certificates of investment issued not creation of debt.

§ 8. Issuing certificates of investment and the like in the transaction of the business of corporations under the provisions of this act shall not be construed to be the creation of debt within the meaning of the phrase "create debt" in section three hundred nine of the Civil Code nor of "indebtedness" within the meaning of the phrase "the capital stock can not be diminished to an amount less than the indebtedness of the corporation" in section three hundred fifty-nine of the Civil Code, except that no company organized hereunder shall reduce its capital stock to an amount less than is required by this act to be maintained by such company or less than any indebtedness of such company other than such investment certificates.

Taxed.

§ 9. Corporations, under the provisions of this act, shall be taxed the same as other general corporations.

Subject to investment companies act.

§ 10. Corporations under the provisions of this act shall be subject to the provisions and regulations of "An act to define investment companies, investment brokers and agents; to provide for the regulation, supervision and licensing thereof; to provide penalties for the violation thereof; to create the office of commissioner of corporations and making an appropriation therefor," approved May twenty-eighth, nineteen hundred thirteen, and any additions or amendments thereto.

Order to discontinue violation of law.

§ 11. If it shall appear to the commissioner of corporations that any company hereunder has violated or failed to comply with the provisions of its articles of incorporation, or any law of this state, or whenever it shall appear from the report of any company hereunder, or the commissioner shall have reason to conclude, that the capital, of any company hereunder is impaired or reduced below the amount required by law, he may, by an order under his hand and official seal, addressed to such company, direct such company to discontinue such violation and to comply with the law, or to make good the deficiency or impairment of capital alleged by him to exist within sixty days after the date of such requisition; or

Order to discontinue unsafe practices.

If it shall appear to the commissioner that such company is conducting business in an unsafe or injurious manner, he may, in like manner, direct the discontinuance of any such unsafe or injurious practices. Such orders shall require such company to show cause, before the commissioner, at a time and place to be fixed by him, why said order should not be observed. If upon such hearing it shall appear to the commissioner that such order should be made final he shall proceed to do so, and such company shall immediately comply with such order made by the commissioner of corporations.

Suit to restrain enforcement.

Such company shall have ten days after any such order is made final in which suit may be commenced to restrain enforcement of such order and unless such action be so commenced and enforcement of such order be enjoined within ten days by the court in which such suit is brought, then such company shall comply with such order.

Commissioner of corporations may take possession of property.

Upon failure of any company to comply with such order or if any such company shall refuse to submit its books, papers and concerns to the inspection or examination of the commissioner of corporations, or to any one authorized by him to make such examination, or if any officer of such company shall refuse to be examined upon oath touching the concerns of such company, or if any such company shall neglect or refuse to observe any order made by the commissioner of corporations pursuant to his supervision as authorized by this act, the commissioner of corporations may forthwith take possession of the property and business of such company and retain such possession until such company shall resume business or its affairs be finally liquidated. On taking possession of the property and business of any such company, the commissioner of corporations may proceed to liquidate the same in the manner provided by the bank act.

Powers of commissioner of corporations not affected.

§ 12. Nothing in this act contained shall be deemed or construed as a limitation or restriction of or as in any way affecting the power or discretion of the commissioner of corporations, under the investment companies act or any other statute now or hereafter in effect, to issue a permit authorizing any corporation under the provisions of this act to issue and dispose of choses in action in such amounts and upon such terms and conditions as he may in such permit provide and to impose such conditions as he may deem necessary to the issue of such securities and to establish such rules and regulations as may be reasonable or necessary to insure the disposition of the proceeds of such securities in the manner and for the purposes provided in such permit and from time to time for cause to amend, alter or revoke any permit issued by him or to refuse to issue such permit or otherwise authorize the issue of such securities.

ACT 1071—An act authorizing the allowance, settlement, and payment of claims of counties against the state.

History: Approved March 9, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 109.

§ 1. On the presentation of the claim of any county of this state, or treasurer thereof, to the state controller for commissions, charges, or fees fixed or directed to be allowed by law for the collection of state taxes, the said commissions, charges, or fees for which claim is made, not having been allowed by the state, and the same having been paid into the state treasury, thereupon the state controller shall, in the next settlement thereafter to be made with the treasurer of the county presenting such claim, allow to be retained out of any moneys then in the hands of such treasurer belonging to the state, the amount of such claim; provided, however, that the moneys thus retained shall be paid into the county treasury, and shall be the property of such county.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

Act does not fix fees or charges against the state, but provides for the allowance of fees and commissions, which, having been paid into the state treasury, might be allowed in the next settlement.—County of FORMATION, ORGANIZATION AND CLASSIFICATION OF NEW COUNTIES.

ACT 1075—An act to provide for the formation, organization, and classification of new counties, for locating the county seats, for the election and appointment of officers and for the adjustment and fulfillment of the rights and obligations arising between such new counties and other counties.

History: Approved March 15, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 275. Amended March 8, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 194.

Creation of new counties. Restrictions. Existing debts liability for.

§ 1. New counties may from time to time be formed and created in this state from portions of one or more counties already in existence in the manner set forth in this act; provided, however, that no new county shall be established which will reduce any county to a population of less than 20,000, nor shall any new county be formed containing a population less than 10,000, nor shall any line of such new county pass within five miles of a county seat of any county proposed to be divided. In every case where the county seat of a county sought to be divided is situated at or within the boundary of any incorporated town or city, such county seat shall for the purposes of this act, be held to include and to be coterminous with the territory included within the boundaries of the incorporated town or city whereat or wherein the county seat of the county sought to be divided is situated, as such boundaries are legally fixed and determined at a date of the filing of the petition or petitions referred to in section two of this act; nor shall any new county be formed which shall reduce to less than twelve hundred square miles the area of any existing county from which territory is taken to form such new county. Every county which shall be enlarged or created from territory taken from any other county or counties shall be liable for a just proportion of the existing debts and liabilities of the county or counties from which such territory shall be taken, to be determined as hereinafter provided. [Amendment of March 8, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 195.]

Petition for formation. Number of signers required.

§ 2. Whenever it is desired to divide any county or counties then existing and form a new county out of a portion of the territory of such then existing county or counties, a petition shall be presented to the board of supervisors of the county from which said new county is to be formed in case said county is to be formed from but one county, or to the board of supervisors of the county from which the largest area of territory is proposed to be taken for the formation of such new county in case said new county is to be formed from portions of two or more existing counties. Such petition shall be signed by at least sixty-five per cent of the qualified electors residing within the designated boundaries of the proposed new county as set forth in said petition, and not less than fifty per cent of the qualified electors residing within the county or counties out of which the proposed new county is to be carved. A qualified elector, within the meaning of this act, is one whose name appears on the great register or registers used at the general election held in the county or counties last preceding the presentation of said petition to the board of supervisors as herein provided. In cases where the proposed new county is to be formed from portions of two or more existing counties, separate petitions shall be presented from each county and each of said separate petitions shall be signed by at least sixty-five per cent of the qualified electors residing within each part or portion of each county out of which it is proposed to form the new county, and by not less than fifty per cent of the qualified electors residing in each of the counties out of which the proposed new county is to be carved. Such signatures need not be affixed to one paper, but may be signed to several petitions, but each must be identical in form, and when so signed the several petitions may be fastened together and shall be treated and presented as one petition. Such petition or petitions shall contain:

What petition shall contain.

“A particular description of the boundaries of the proposed new county to be formed; and a statement that no line thereof passes within five miles of the county seat of any county proposed to be divided;

“A statement of the population in such proposed county, as near as may be;

“A statement of the population remaining in the county or each of the counties from which such new county is to be established, as near as may be;

“A statement of the area in square miles which will remain in the county or counties from which territory is taken to form such new county, after such new county is formed;

“The name of the proposed new county;

“A prayer that such proposed new county be organized into a new county under the provisions of this act.

Affidavit to petition.

There shall be attached to and filed with said petition or petitions the affidavits of three qualified electors and tax payers within each county sought to be divided to the effect that they have read said petition or petitions and examined the signatures affixed thereto and that they believe that the statements therein are true and that it is signed by at least sixty-five per cent of the qualified electors of the proposed new county, or of the proposed portion thereof taken from each existing county, where the proposed new county is to be formed from portions of two or more existing counties, and by not less than fifty per cent of the qualified electors of the entire county out of which a new county is to be carved, and if the proposed new county is to be formed from two or more counties, than [sic] that it is signed by not less than fifty per cent of the qualified electors of each county out of which it is proposed to form said new county; that the signatures affixed thereto are genuine, and that each of such persons so signing was a qualified elector of such county therein sought to be divided, at the date of such signing.

Verification prima facie true.

Such petition or petitions so verified, and the verification thereof shall be accepted in all proceedings permitted or provided for in this act, as prima facie evidence of the truth of the matters and facts therein set forth.

Hearing, fixing date for.

Upon the filing of such petition or petitions and affidavit with the clerk of the said board of supervisors said board shall forthwith fix a date to hear the proof of the said petitioners and of any opponents thereto, which date must not be less than thirty nor more than forty days, subsequent to the filing of such petition with the clerk of said board.

Publication of notice.

Said board of supervisors shall also at the same time designate a newspaper of general circulation published in the old county or each of the old counties, but not within the proposed new county, and also a newspaper of general circulation published within the boundaries of the proposed new county, if there be such, in which the said board shall order and cause to be published at least once a week for two weeks next preceding the date fixed for such hearing, a notice in substantially the following form:

Form of notice.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that a petition has been presented to the board of supervisors of county, (naming county represented by the board of supervisors with which said petition was filed) praying for the formation of a new county out of a portion of the said county and county (naming the county or counties out of which it is proposed to form the new county), and that said petition will be heard by the said board of supervisors at its place of meeting (designating the city or town and the day and hour of the meeting so to be held) when and where all persons interested therein may appear and oppose the granting of said petition and make any objection thereto.

Dated

By order of the board of supervisors, of.....county.

Bychairman.

Attest:

.....county clerk.

Bond of petitioners.

Said petitioners shall on or before the date fixed for said hearing, or on or before the date to which said hearing may have been adjourned, file with the said board of supervisors a bond to be approved by said board, in such amount as the said board shall designate, but not exceeding ten thousand dollars, payable to the county in which said petition is filed, conditioned that the obligors named in said bond will pay to said county all expenses incurred in the proceedings and elections provided for in this act, not exceeding the amount specified in said bond, in the event that at the election herein provided for the percentages of votes required by the provisions of this act to form a new county are not cast in favor of the formation of such new county.

Hearing, and what supervisors shall determine.

At the time so fixed for said hearing the board of supervisors shall proceed to hear the petitioners and any opponents, and may adjourn such hearing from time to time, not exceeding fourteen days in all, and shall receive the proofs offered to establish or controvert the facts set forth in said petition or petitions, and on the final hearing of such petition or petitions said board shall by resolution entered on its minutes determine:

1st. The boundaries of the proposed new county, and the boundaries so determined by said board of supervisors shall be the boundaries of such proposed new county if it be created as herein provided.

2nd. Whether the said petition contains the genuine signatures of at least sixty-five per cent of the qualified electors of the proposed new county, and of fifty per cent of the qualified electors residing within the county out of which the new county is to be carved as herein required, and in cases where said separate petitions are presented from portions of two or more counties, as herein required, whether each petition is signed by not less than sixty-five per cent of the qualified electors residing within that part or portion of each county out of which it is proposed to carve a new county and not less than fifty per cent of the qualified electors of each of the existing counties out of which it is proposed to form a new county, as herein provided.

3rd. Whether the establishing of the proposed new county will reduce the population of any county proposed to be divided to less than twenty thousand.

4th. Whether the proposed new county will contain a population of at least ten thousand.

5th. Whether any line of the proposed new county passes within five miles of the county seat of any county proposed to be divided.

6th. Whether the area of any existing county from which territory is taken to form such new county will be reduced to less than twelve hundred square miles by taking the territory proposed to be taken therefrom to form such new county.

7th. The class to which said proposed new county after its creation, shall belong, and the name of said proposed new county as herein provided.

Determining population.

In determining the population of the proposed new county and the population remaining in any county proposed to be divided after such division, the board of supervisors shall assume that such population is five times the number of names of qualified electors recorded on the great register at the date when said petition is filed in each of the counties proposed to be divided, as residents in the territory of which the population is required to be determined.

Board may exclude territory. Petitions for exclusion.

On the final hearing said board of supervisors must, upon petition of not less than fifty per cent of the qualified electors of any territory lying within said proposed new county and contiguous to the boundary line thereof, and lying entirely within a single old county, and described in said petition, asking that said territory be not included within the proposed new county, make such changes in the proposed boundaries as will exclude such territory from such new county, and shall establish and define such boundaries; provided that any changes made by said board shall not reduce the population of the proposed new county to less than ten thousand; petitions for exclusion shall be disposed of in the order in point of time in which they are filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors and on final determination of boundaries no changes in the boundaries originally proposed shall be made except as prayed for in said petition or petitions or to correct clerical errors or uncertainties.

Copy of petition to be filed in each county.

When the proposed new county is to be formed from two or more existing counties, the board of supervisors with which said petition shall have been filed, shall upon the adoption of a resolution provided for in this section, cause a certified copy of such resolution to be filed with the board of supervisors of each county out of which it is proposed to carve territory to constitute the new county. [Amendment of March 8, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 195.]

Determination of supervisors. Division into townships, etc. Notice of election on proposition.

§ 3. If the said board of supervisors determine that the formation of the said proposed new county will not reduce the population of any county proposed to be divided to less than 20,000, nor the area thereof to less than twelve hundred square miles, and that the proposed new county contains a population of at least 10,000, and that no line of said proposed new county passes within five miles of the county seat of any county proposed to be divided, and that the said petition contains the genuine signatures of at least sixty-five per cent of the qualified electors residing in the territory defined by the boundaries of the proposed new county, and fifty per cent of the qualified electors residing within the existing county, when the proposed new county is to be formed from territory of only one county; but when said proposed new county is to be formed from territory of two or more counties and separate petitions are presented, then that said petitions contain the genuine signatures of at least sixty-five per cent of the qualified electors residing within that part or portion of each of the existing counties out of which it is proposed to create a new county, and not less than fifty per cent of the qualified electors of each of the existing counties from which the new county is to be carved, then said board of supervisors shall divide the proposed new county into a convenient number of judicial townships, road and school districts, and define their boundaries and designate the names of said districts and each of them; they shall also divide the proposed new county into five supervisorial districts to contain as nearly as practicable an equal population, and number said districts; they shall also, if necessary for the purposes of the election hereinafter provided for, change the boundaries of the election precincts in said old county or counties to make the same conform to the boundaries of the proposed new county; provided that the boundary lines of no such precinct shall extend beyond the boundary lines of the existing county in which it is located and from which the territory is proposed to be taken; and said board shall appoint the election officers to act at said election and to be paid by said board. Within two weeks after its determination of the truth of the allegations of said petition as aforesaid, the said board of supervisors shall order and give proclamation and notice of an election to be held in the county in which said petition is filed on a specified day not less than sixty days nor more than ninety days thereafter, for the purpose of determining whether such territory described in the petition shall be established and organized into a new county.

When the petition calls for the organization of a new county out of territory of two or more existing counties, a certified copy of such election proclamation and notice shall be immediately mailed to the board of supervisors of each county from the territory of which a part of the proposed new county is taken. Within two weeks after the receipt of said certified copy each board of supervisors receiving same shall issue a like proclamation and notice of an election to be held on the same specified day for the purpose of determining whether said territory shall be established and organized into a new county.

Notice of election of officers.

At the same time that the board of supervisors before which the petition for the organization of a new county is pending issues a proclamation and notice of election for the purpose of determining whether such county shall be established and organized into a new county, it shall issue a proclamation and notice of an election to be held on the same day in the territory which is proposed to be taken for the new county for the election of officers and the location of the county seat therefor in the event that the vote at the election called in the county or counties out of which the new county is to be carved shall be in favor of establishing and organizing the said new county.

Who entitled to vote.

All qualified electors of the county or counties from which territory is taken to form such proposed new county and who shall have been such qualified electors ninety days prior to date of such election, shall be entitled to vote at such election to determine whether or not such territory shall be established and organized into a new county, and all qualified electors resident within the territory included within the boundary lines of the proposed new county as established by the board of supervisors and who are qualified electors of the county or counties from which territory is taken to form such proposed new county and who shall have been such resident qualified electors ninety days prior to date of said election, shall be entitled to a vote at said election for the election of officers and the location of a county seat therefor. Registration and transfers of registration shall be made and shall close in the manner and at a time provided by law for registration and transfers of registration for a general election in the state of California.

Publication of proclamation. Ballots.

Such proclamation and notice of election to determine whether such county shall be established and organized into a new county shall be published in each county territorially affected by the proposed organization at least once a week for three weeks before the holding of such election, in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county or counties out of which it is proposed to take territory for the organization of such new county. Such proclamation and notice shall require the voters to cast ballots which shall contain the words "For the new county of (giving name of the proposed new county) Yes," and "For the new county of (giving name of the proposed new county) No," and each voter desiring to vote for the establishment and organization of said new county shall stamp a cross (X) opposite the words "For the new county of ————— Yes," and each voter desiring to vote against the establishment and organization of said new county shall stamp a cross (X) opposite the words "For the new county of ————— No," in the manner now required by law in other elections.

Publication of proclamation for election of officers. Ballots.

The board of supervisors before whom the petition for the organization of the new county is pending, shall also issue an election proclamation and notice for the election of officers and the locating of a county seat, which election shall be held only in the territory included within the boundaries of the proposed new county as set forth in the petition. Said election proclamation and notice shall provide for holding the election of officers and the location of the county seat on the same day and at the same polling places within the territory described in the petition, and at which the election is held to determine whether such territory shall be established and organized into a new county and the same election officers shall serve at both elections. A copy of the election proclamation and notice for the election of officers and the locating of a county seat shall be immediately mailed by the county clerk of the county in which petition is filed to the county clerk of each county from which territory is taken for the proposed new county, such proclamation and notice shall require the voters to cast ballots which shall contain the words, "For county seat" with a blank space left below said words and the voter shall write his choice in said space, and the name so written shall be counted as the voter's choice for county seat whether a cross (X) shall be marked after said name or not, or whether said name shall be written in ink or pencil. And said proclamation shall also contain the names of persons to be voted for to fill the various offices designated in said proclamation for counties of the class to which said proposed new county will belong as determined by the board of supervisors as herein directed and in the manner provided by law, except as herein otherwise provided.

Election supplies.

The proclamation calling for the election of officers and the locating of the county seat shall be made and given exclusively by the board of supervisors with which is filed the petition for the formation and establishment of such new county and such board shall cause the clerk of said county to furnish to the officers of each precinct in said proposed new county, all ballots, poll lists, tally lists, registers for voters' signatures, ballot boxes and other election supplies and equipment necessary to conduct election, and which are not hereinafter specifically directed to be furnished by the clerk of another county or counties.

Conduct of election.

Such election shall be governed and controlled by the general election laws of the state so far as the same shall be applicable, except as herein otherwise provided.

Registers for election officers.

The county clerk of each county from which territory is taken for the proposed new county shall five days before the date of such election furnish to each board of election within said proposed new county the book of affidavits of registration for the precincts of such proposed new county as are within their respective counties, and the copies of indexes thereof required by law, containing the names of all persons who were qualified electors therein up to ninety days before the date of such election. All returns of elections held within the territorial limits of the proposed new county for the election of officers and locating county seat shall be made to the board of supervisors calling such election and all returns of the election held for the purpose of determining whether such territory shall be established into a new county shall be made to the board of supervisors of the then existing county in which said election is held.

Certificates of nomination.

All certificates of nomination of candidates for the offices required to be filled at said election shall be filed with the county clerk of the county represented by the board of supervisors calling said election. not less than ten days next before the date of such election.

Sample ballots not required.

The provisions of the election laws relating to preparation, printing and distribution of sample ballots and the provisions of said laws relating to primary elections in this state shall have no application to any election provided for in this act. [Amendment of March 8, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 199.]

Canvass of returns. Declaration of board of supervisors. Resolution to be filed with secretary of state. Certificate of election.

§ 4. When the petition is for the organization of a new county out of the territory of two or more counties, each board of supervisors shall upon the completion of a canvass of the vote to determine whether such territory shall be established and organized into a new county, forward to the board of supervisors before whom the said petition is pending, a certified copy of the result of said canvass, giving the total number of votes cast in such county for the organization of said proposed new county, and the total number of votes cast against the establishment and organization of the new county. If upon canvass of all votes cast at such election, it appears that fifty per cent of the total number of all the votes cast in each and every county which will be territorially affected by the organization of such new county is "For the new county of _____ Yes," and sixty-five per cent of the votes cast within the territorial limits of the proposed new county as established by the board of supervisors is "For the new county of _____ Yes," the board of supervisors shall by a resolution entered upon its minutes declare such territory formed as a county of this state of the class to which the same shall belong under the name of _____ county (naming it), and that the place (naming it) receiving the highest number of votes cast at said election for county seat shall be the county seat of said county until removed in the manner provided by law, and designating and declaring the persons receiving respectively the highest number of votes for the several offices to be filled at said election, to be duly elected to such offices, and prescribing the amount in which such officers must execute official bonds, where official bonds are required by law. Said board shall forthwith cause a copy of its said resolution duly certified, to be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and from and after the date of such filing said new county shall be deemed to be fully created, and the organization thereof shall be deemed completed and such officers shall be entitled to enter immediately upon the duties of their respective offices upon qualifying in accordance with law and giving bonds for the faithful performance of their duties, as herein required. The clerk of the board of supervisors with which said petition was filed, as herein provided, must immediately make out and deliver to each of said persons so declared and designated to be elected, a certificate of election authenticated by his signature and the seal of said board of supervisors. All the officers elected at said election or appointed under this act shall hold their offices until the time provided by general law for the election and qualification of such officers in this state and until their successors are elected and qualified and for the purpose of determining the term of office of such officers, the years said officers are to hold office, are to be computed respectively from and including the first Monday after the first day of January following the last preceding general election.

Proceedings if proposition be lost.

If, however, upon such canvass, it appears that more than thirty-five per cent of the votes cast at the election held for the purpose of determining whether such proposed new county shall be established and organized, within the territorial limits of the proposed new county as established by the board of supervisors is "For the new county of _____ (naming it) No," or if more than fifty per cent of the total vote of any county which will be territorially affected by the organization of said proposed new county is "For the new county of _____ (naming it) No," the said board of supervisors shall pass a resolution in accordance therewith, and thereupon no further proceedings relative to the organization of said proposed new county nor any other proceeding for the division of any county any portion of which was included within said proposed new county, shall be instituted within one year after such determination. [Amendment of March 8, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 202.]

The title of the amendatory act of 1909 stated that it amended sections 1, 2, and 3 of the act; but in the body of the act section 4 was also amended.

Officers of new county. Supervisors.

§ 5. At the election provided for in section three of this act there shall be chosen one judge of the superior court of said new county whose salary shall be $3,000 per annum, payable at the same time and in the same manner as salaries of the judges of the superior court of the several counties of the state are paid; also such other county, township, and district officers as are now or may hereafter by general law be provided for in counties of the class to which said new county is determined to belong as herein provided; provided, however, that all duly elected, qualified and acting supervisors residing within the proposed new county at the time of the division of such county into supervisorial districts as hereinbefore in section 3 hereof provided, shall hold office of supervisors in said new county for the remainder of the term for which they were elected on qualifying as supervisors for the respective districts in which they reside, as said districts are organized as provided in this act.

Justices and constables. School trustees.

Provided also, that all duly elected, qualified, and acting justices of the peace and constables residing within the proposed new county at the time of the division of such county into judicial townships as hereinbefore in section 3 hereof provided, shall hold office as such justices of the peace or constables in said county for the remainder of the term for which they were elected on qualifying as justices of the peace or constables for the respective townships in which they reside, when said townships are organized as provided in this act; also provided that all duly elected, qualified and acting school trustees residing within the proposed new county at the time of the division of such county into school districts as hereinbefore in section 3 hereof provided shall hold office as school trustees in said new county for the remainder of the term for which they were elected on qualifying as school trustees for the respective districts in which they reside as said districts are organized as provided by this act.

Bond on oath of office. Duties of new officers.

Each person elected or appointed to fill an office of such new county under the provisions of this act shall qualify in the manner provided by law for such officers, except as herein otherwise provided and shall enter upon the discharge of the duties of his office within twenty days after the receipt of the certificate of his election. Each of such officers may take the oath of office before any officer authorized by the law of the state of California to administer oaths and the bond of any officer from which a bond is required shall be approved by any judge of the superior court of any county from which territory was taken to form such new county. The officers elected or appointed under the provisions of this act shall each perform the duties and receive the compensation now provided by general law for the office to which he has been appointed or elected in counties of the class to which such new county shall have been determined to belong as herein provided under the general classification of counties in this state.

Vacancies in office, old county.

§ 6. If by reason of the provisions of section 5 of this act, any vacancies in the offices of supervisors, justices of the peace, constables or school trustees are created in the old county or counties, the vacancies shall be filled, as is now provided by general laws, for the unexpired terms of such officers respectively; and the board of supervisors of such old county shall redistrict the territory remaining therein into supervisorial districts and in any of such districts in which none of the remaining supervisors reside the office of supervisor shall be deemed to be vacant and supervisors for such district shall be appointed as by general law provided.

Supervisors to notify governor. Governor to appoint commissioners. Powers of commission. Sheriff to execute orders.

§ 7. It shall be the duty of the persons elected to or continuing to hold the office of supervisors of said new county to meet at the county seat thereof within five days after all of them shall have qualified, and upon organization of said board of supervisors, it shall notify the governor of the state of the organization of said county, and thereupon it shall be the duty of the governor to appoint three persons one of whom shall be a resident and taxpayer within the new county, and no two of whom shall be from any one county; the three persons so appointed shall form and be a board of commissioners. Such commissioners shall within ten days after the notice of their appointment, meet at the county seat of the new county and organize by electing from their number a chairman, and also elect a secretary who must not be a member of said commission. Thereafter such commission may meet at such place or places as it may select. A majority of said commissioners shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Said commission shall have power to compel by citation or subpoena signed by their president and secretary the attendance of such persons and the production of such books and papers before said commission as may be required in the performance of the duties imposed by this act except that the official records of any county or counties from which said new county was formed shall in no case be taken from the county seat of said county. It shall be the duty of the sheriff of any county to execute in his county all lawful orders and citations of the said commission; and for any services so performed the sheriff shall be allowed the same fees as are allowed to him for services in civil actions and all witnesses attending before said commission shall be entitled to the same compensation and mileage as is allowed to witnesses in civil actions; provided, that no witness shall be excused from attendance at the time and place mentioned in said order or citation by reason of the failure of the officer making such service to tender to such witness his fees and mileage in advance.

General duties of board of commissioners. Indebtedness of old county, how apportioned. Indebtedness of new to old county.

§ 8. Said board of commissioners shall immediately after its organization ascertain the costs of the election held hereunder and apportion the same equally between each of the counties from which territory was taken to form such new county, and said new county, and shall also ascertain the indebtedness of each county from which territory was taken to form the new county, as the same existed at the time when the result of the election thereon was declared by the board of supervisors as hereinbefore provided, and also the total value of all property at that time belonging to each of said counties from which territory was taken, and situate within the limits of said old counties respectively. It shall also ascertain the assessed value of all property in each of the original old counties from which territory was so taken, according to the last completed assessment made for said county, and also the assessed value, under the same assessment, of all property within the territory of the new county which shall have been taken from the old county or counties from which said new county was formed. They shall then find the difference between the amount of the indebtedness of the old county and the value of the property belonging to the old county at the date of the declaration of the result of said election as hereinbefore provided, and if such indebtedness exceeds the value of such property belonging to the old county, the new county shall pay to the old county a due proportion thereof, to be determined as follows: As said assessed value of the property in the old county is to the said assessed value of the property in the territory provided by this act to be incorporated within the new county from said old county, so is the amount of said excess to the amount to be paid by said new county to said old county. Said board of commissioners shall certify forthwith to the boards of supervisors of the new county and the old counties thereby affected, the amount constituting the due proportion of said excess payable by such new county to each of them; also the value of any property belonging to each old county at the time when said division took effect as hereinbefore provided, which is situated in the new county. The sum of said ascertained value of said last mentioned property added to the ascertained proportion of said excess which the new county is to pay to the old county, and its proportion of the expense of said election as aforesaid, shall be an indebtedness from the new county to the old county, and the said property situated as aforesaid in the new county, shall upon settlement therefor, as provided in this act, become the property of the new county, and the old county shall pay the entire indebtedness against it, and the expense of said election shall be paid by the county calling such election, and any other county affected thereby shall pay its proportion thereof as hereinbefore provided.

How debt may be paid.

The proceedings in this section required to be taken in the ascertainment and adjustment of property rights and debts shall be had and taken as between said new county and each of the counties from which territory is taken to form said new county in the manner and at the ratio in said section provided. If upon the settlement between the old and the new county as herein provided for, the new county shall be found to be indebted to the old county or either of the old counties, the money necessary to pay said indebtedness shall be raised by a tax levied upon the property contained in said new county and said new county shall pay the same; provided, however, that such payment by said new county may be made in not more than three equal annual payments, or by funds to be derived from the sale of bonds of said new county, as may be determined by a resolution of the board of supervisors of said new county adopted within one year after the receipt of the statement from the board of commissioners as aforesaid of the amount or amounts due from it.

Compensation of commissioners. Expenses, how payable.

§ 9. Members of the board of commissioners provided for under this act shall receive a compensation of not to exceed $8 per day for every day they are actually employed under the provisions of this act, together with their actual expenses incurred in the performance of their duties, and the clerk of said board shall receive as compensation for his services not to exceed $5 per day for every day that he is actually employed under the provisions of this act, all of which expenses, together with the reasonable expenses of stationery, postage, and incidental expenses shall be borne in equal proportions by the counties affected by such division including said new county, and the amounts payable by each county shall be paid by the treasurers of the respective counties after the same shall have been presented to and allowed by the board of supervisors as is provided by law for claims against any county.

General duties of officers of new county. Copies of assessments.

the benefit of the new county; and upon the creation of the new county it shall be the duty of the officers of the old county or counties to immediately execute and deliver to the board of supervisors of such new county copies of all assessments or other proceedings relative to the assessment and collection of the current state and county taxes of property in such new county. Such copies shall be filed with the respective officers of the new county who would have the custody of the same if the proceeding had been originally had in the new county and such certified copies shall be taken and deemed as originals, and original proceedings in the new county, and all proceedings therein recited shall be taken and deemed as original proceedings in the new county, and shall have the same effect as if the proceedings therein stated had been had at the proper time and in the proper manner by the respective officials of the new county, and the officials of the new county are hereby authorized and directed to proceed thenceforth with the assessment and collection of said taxes as if the proceedings originally had in the old county or counties had been originally had in the new county.

Duty of superintendent of schools. Duty of auditor. Transfer of moneys.

§ 11. The superintendent of public schools of the old county or each of the old counties respectively shall furnish the superintendent of public schools of the new county with a certified copy of the last school census of the different school districts in the territory set apart to form the new county, and draw his warrant on the treasurer of his county in favor of the treasurer in the new county, for all the money that is or may be due by any apportionment or otherwise to the different school districts embraced in the new county, from his county and the auditor of each old county shall in like manner respectively draw his warrant on the treasurer of his county in favor of the treasurer of the new county for all money that is or may be due by apportionment or otherwise to the different road and supervisorial or district funds, in the territory set apart to form the new county, from his county, which said amounts shall be properly credited in both counties. And whenever in the formation of a new county, a road, supervisorial or school district has been divided the board of supervisors shall by resolution direct the treasurer to transfer the proper proportionate amount of the money remaining in the fund of such district to the treasurer of the new county.

Books and records. Certificate of recorder.

§ 12. The board of supervisors of any new county formed as aforesaid must provide suitable books and have transcribed from the records of the old county or counties all such parts thereof as relate to or affect property or the title thereof situate in the new county, and said records when so transcribed and certified as herein provided shall have the same force and effect as such original records; and the compensation for said services shall be fixed and allowed by the board of supervisors of such new county at not to exceed eight cents per folio for transcribing. The recorder of the old county or counties shall compare the books of such transcripts and attach to each volume a certificate under his seal of office of the correctness of the records therein copied, for which service of comparing he shall be entitled to charge not to exceed two cents per folio, and for each certificate a sum not to exceed twenty-five cents.

Transfer of actions.

§ 13. All actions pending in the superior court of the old county or counties for the recovery of the possession of, quieting the title to or for the enforcement of liens upon, real estate lying in the new county shall on motion of any party thereto be transferred to the superior court of the new county; and thereafter shall be subject to the same laws as if said action had been originally brought in the superior court of the new county. All other actions or special proceedings pending in the superior court or courts of said old county or counties, which might have been commenced in said new county if said new county had been in existence at the date of the commencing thereof, may in the discretion of the court in which it is pending and on motion of any party interested therein, be transferred to the superior court of such new county.

§ 14. Whenever in this act publication of any notice is provided for and no newspaper of general circulation is published within the territory in which said notice is required to be published, notice shall be given by posting copies of such notice in at least ten public places in such territory for the same length of time said notice was required to be published.

Assembly and senatorial districts.

§ 15. The territory within the limits of any new county until otherwise provided by law shall constitute and continue a part of the assembly and senatorial districts to which the same belonged prior to such county division.

Notaries public.

§ 16. The notaries public of the old county who are residents of the territory embraced in the new county at the date of its creation shall hold their offices until the expiration of their terms and shall be re-commissioned as notaries public in and for the new county until the expiration of their terms and the governor shall from time to time appoint such additional notaries public for the new county as he may deem requisite.

Penalty for violation of act.

§ 17. Any member of any board of supervisors or any other officer who violates any of the provisions of this act, or fails to perform any duty imposed upon him hereunder, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and of malfeasance in office and be deprived of his office by the decree of a court of competent jurisdiction after trial and conviction.

§ 18. All acts or parts of acts which are in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

MISAPPROPRIATED SCHOOL MONEY.

ACT 1076—An act granting relief to counties by extending the time within which county treasurers are required to make semi-annual settlements with the state controller and state treasurer in cases in which school money of such counties have been misappropriated.

History: Approved May 1, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1465.

Misappropriated school money may be deducted at semi-annual settlement.

§ 1. Whenever it shall chance that the state school money of any semi-annual settlement retained by any county treasurer, under the provisions of section 3866 of the Political Code, shall have been misappropriated, and as a result thereof, the primary schools of such county are embarrassed for lack of funds, a sum equal to the amount of school money so retained and misappropriated may be deducted from such moneys as the treasurer of such county shall be required to pay over to the state treasurer at the next semi-annual settlement.

Used for support of primary schools.

§ 2. The sum deducted from the moneys due the state at any semi-annual settlement, as provided in section 1 of this act, together with the sum authorized to be retained by the county treasurer, under the provisions of section 3866 of the Political Code, shall be used for the support of the primary schools of such county.

Supervisors to levy additional tax to pay state.

§ 3. The board of supervisors of any county availing itself of the provisions of this act, shall on the third Monday in September, immediately following the semi-annual settlement at which the deduction authorized in section 1 of this act is made, shall provide in the tax rate fixed for county purposes, for an additional tax sufficient to raise a sum equal to the amount deducted, as herein provided for, and said board of supervisors shall thereupon levy such additional tax, as will enable the county to repay the state of California such sum deducted from the semi-annual settlement, and such payment shall be made at the time of the semi-annual May settlement following the date of such levy.

REPORTS OF FINANCIAL TRANSACTIONS.

ACT 1077—An act requiring the compilation and publication of reports of the financial transactions of the several counties and municipalities of the state, and making an appropriation therefor.

History: Approved April 21, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1071. Amended May 20, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 659.

Controller to compile annual financial reports of counties and cities.

§ 1. The state controller is hereby directed to compile and publish annually reports of the financial transactions of each county and municipal corporation within the state, together with such other matter as said controller may deem to be of public interest. Such reports shall be made in the time, form and manner prescribed by the said controller.

County and city officers to furnish reports.

§ 2. It shall be the duty of the officers of each county and municipal corporation having charge of the financial records thereof to furnish to the controller in the time, form and manner required by him, full and true reports of all the financial transactions of such county or municipal corporation during the fiscal year next preceding the time of the making of such reports.

False financial reports misdemeanor. Penalty for failure to file report.

§ 3. Any officer of a county or of a municipality who wilfully and knowingly renders a false report shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Any officer of a county or of a municipality when designated by the controller to make the report required by this act, who fails, neglects or refuses to make and file such report within twenty days after receipt of such designation and request, shall forfeit to the state one thousand dollars to be recovered in an action at law, which, upon the request of the controller, it shall be the duty of the attorney general to prosecute in the name of the people of the state of California. [Amendment of May 20, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 659.]

Controller to appoint accountant to investigate false reports.

§ 4. In case reports are not made in the time, form and manner required or there is reason to believe that any report is false or incorrect, the controller shall appoint some qualified accountant to make an investigation thereof, and to obtain the information required. The accountant appointed shall report to the controller the results of investigation and a copy thereof shall be filed with the legislative body of the county or municipal corporation, the accounts of which were so investigated. In case a similar investigation has to be made of the accounts of any county or municipal corporation for two successive years, a certified copy of the results of the investigation last made shall be transmitted to the grand jury of the county so investigated or in which the municipal corporation so investigated is situated.

Appropriation.

§ 5. The sum of two thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any moneys not otherwise appropriated, to be expended by the controller for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act.

The expense of running the line between Mendocino and Humboldt must be paid by the respective counties, each paying one half thereof; and the expense of running the line between Trinity and Humboldt must be paid by the respective counties, each paying one half thereof; and the expense of running the line between Humboldt and Klamath must be paid by the respective counties, each paying one half thereof.

Compensation.

§ 6. The commission are to receive, in going from the county seat of their respective counties to the town of Arcata and returning, the same mileage that the sheriff of their respective counties receive for serving a summons, and five dollars for each day, not exceeding five, he remains at the town of Arcata on the business of the commission, to be paid by the county on behalf of which he is a commissioner.

Advertising for bids.

§ 7. The commission must, by advertisement and personal notices, request bids for the contracts from practical surveyors. Any contract made by any three (3) of the commissioners binds all the counties for their respective portions of the contract, whether represented in the commission or not. Three (3) of the commission meeting and acting on the first day of August, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, or on any day thereafter agreed on by them, are authorized to make the contract for the survey.

Filing of contract.

§ 8. The contract must be placed in writing; four (4) copies to be made and signed, and each commissioner must file one in the office of the county clerk of his respective county.

Bond.

§ 9. At the time of letting the contract the commissioners must require bonds of the surveyor contracted with to faithfully perform the service, and fix the time when the same must be completed, and fix a maximum which the expense of the survey must not exceed, and specify the character of the monuments to be fixed and of the report to be made.

Boundary lines.

§ 10. The lines run out, marked, and defined as required by this act are hereby declared to be the true boundary lines of the counties named herein.

§ 11. This act takes effect on its passage.

Editor's note: The act provided for the creation of a commission to define and mark the boundary lines between the counties, and declared that the boundaries so defined and marked should be the official boundaries. By the act of March 28, 1874, Stats. 1873-74, and the act of March 31, 1876, Stats. 1875-76, p. 603, amendatory and supplementary thereto, a portion of Klamath county was annexed to Humboldt county, and the remainder to Siskiyou county. The effect was to render all boundary lines defined and marked by the commission created under the act ineffective, with the exception of a portion of the line between Humboldt and Trinity counties, and the line between Mendocino and Trinity and Humboldt counties.

1. "Accurately run."—The requirement that the line should be "accurately run" was directory only, and the fact that it was inaccurately run did not render the survey void, in the absence of fraud.—Trinity County v. Mendocino County, 151 Cal. 279, 90 Pac. 685.

1a. Act not repealed by sections 3969, 3972, Political Code.—The act is not necessarily inconsistent with nor repugnant to §§ 3969, 3972, of the Political Code, and was not repealed thereby.—Trinity County v. Mendocino County, 151 Cal. 279, 90 Pac. 685.

2. Boundary defined and marked by the commission became and has since remained the true boundary line between Mendocino and Trinity counties, although a subsequent survey made under the authority of § 3969, Political Code, disclosed the fact that the boundary line did not follow the boundary along the fortieth parallel established by §§ 3918 and 3919, Political Code.—Trinity County v. Mendocino County, 151 Cal. 279, 90 Pac. 685.

2a. Boundary line fixed by the act was the true boundary, whether it was along the fortieth parallel or not.—Trinity County v. Mendocino County, 151 Cal. 279, 90 Pac. 685.

3. Delegation of legislative power.—The survey of a boundary line is not a legislative act, and the act is not obnoxious as a delegation of legislative power, because it declares the line to be surveyed the true and official boundary line.—Trinity County v. Mendocino County, 151 Cal. 279, 90 Pac. 685.

4. Even if act were inconsistent with sections 3969, 3972, Political Code, it would prevail over those sections, since the Political Code was adopted as if passed December 4, 1872, and the special act making these sections effective May 1, 1872, was enacted March 22, 1872, and this act was therefore the latest enactment.—Trinity County v. Mendocino County, 151 Cal. 279, 90 Pac. 685.

See, also, County of Mariposa v. County of Madera, 142 Cal. 50, 75 Pac. 572.

5. Legislative power.—It was competent for the legislature to declare, in advance of the work, that the line which might be surveyed and marked, under the authority of the act passed by it, should be the true line.—Trinity County v. Mendocino County, 151 Cal. 279, 90 Pac. 685.

6. Location of county lines is a political question to be determined by the legislature, and if the location is inaccurately run it is for the legislature to correct, and not the courts.—Trinity County v. Mendocino County 151 Cal. 279, 90 Pac. 685.

7. The act is a special law relating to one of a particular class of subjects, and is not repealed by a general law, such as the act adopting the Political Code or the act making §§ 3969 and 3972 of that code effective May 1, 1872, even if those acts had been subsequently enacted.—Trinity County v. Mendocino County, 151 Cal. 279, 90 Pac. 685.

8. The survey of a boundary line between two counties by authority of an act of the legislature is a purely ministerial act.—Trinity County v. Mendocino County, 151 Cal. 279, 90 Pac. 685.

SHASTA AND PLUMAS.

ACT 1092—An act to permanently locate the boundary line between the counties of Shasta and Plumas.

History: Approved March 23, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 560.

Boundary line between Shasta and Plumas counties.

§ 1. The boundary line between the counties of Shasta and Plumas is hereby established and permanently located as follows: Beginning at the quarter section corner on the west boundary of section nineteen, township thirty north, range five east, Mount Diablo base and meridian, and running thence east eight miles—more or less—to the south corner of Shasta and Lassen counties.

§ 2. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

§ 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

MARIPOSA AND FRESNO.

ACT 1093—An act to better define the boundary line of Mariposa and Fresno counties.

History: Approved April 1, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 891. Amended February 11, 1874, Stats. 1873-74, p. 100.

Description of boundary line.

§ 1. The line at present known as the boundary line between Mariposa and Fresno counties, from the westerly point of junction of said counties, running easterly to the southwest corner of section eleven, and the northwest corner of section fourteen, in township six south, range twenty east, of Mount Diablo meridian; thence east to the northwest corner of section fourteen, in township six south, range twenty-one east; thence north to the northwest corner of section thirty-five, in township five south, range twenty-one east; thence east to the southwest corner of section thirty, in township five south, range twenty-two east; thence north to the southwest corner of the Mariposa Big Tree Grant; thence east along the line of said grant to the southeast corner of said grant; thence north along the line of said grant to the northeast corner of the same; thence north to the original boundary line between the counties of Mariposa and Fresno; thence along said line to the present boundary line of Tuolumne county; is hereby declared and constituted the boundary line between said counties.

Survey must be made. Umpire.

§ 2. The respective county surveyors of Mariposa and Fresno counties, shall proceed to survey and complete said defining line, with the necessary monuments, prior to the first day of September, eighteen hundred and seventy-two. Reasonable compensation (not to exceed one hundred and fifty dollars each,) may be allowed by the supervisors of Mariposa and Fresno counties, to be paid out of the county general funds of said counties; and in case of a disagreement they shall be empowered to call in a third surveyor as umpire, whose decision shall be final, but whose services shall in no case be an additional charge.

Repealed.

§ 3. The act entitled "An act to better define the boundary line between Fresno and Mariposa counties," approved March twenty-ninth, eighteen hundred and seventy, is hereby repealed.

§ 4. This act shall take effect immediately.

Not repealed by implication by sections 3938 and 3939, Political Code.—The act prevails over §§ 3938 and 3939, Political Code, not only because it is a subsequent enactment, but because under the rule of construction prescribed by §§ 4478 and 4479, Political Code, it would have the same effect if it had been passed and approved on the first day of that session of the legislature.—County of Mariposa v. County of Madera, 142 Cal. 50, 75 Pac. 572.

SISKIYOU AND LASSEN.

ACT 1094—An act providing for the survey of the line forming a portion of the southern boundary of Siskiyou county and the northern boundary of Lassen county.

History: Approved April 1, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 886.

Surveyor general directed to establish boundaries.

§ 1. The surveyor general is hereby directed to survey and locate that portion of the southern boundary line of the county of Siskiyou, commencing at a point known as the Devil's Castle, near and on the opposite side from Soda Springs, on the upper Sacramento river, and running from said point due east, to the eastern boundary of the state of California, and shall plainly designate said line by suitable monuments, and describe the same upon the maps of state, in accordance with the several acts of the legislature of the state of California, defining the northern boundary of the county of Lassen and that portion of the southern boundary of the county of Siskiyou above described.

Limitation and payment of expenses. Appropriation.

§ 2. The necessary expenses of such survey and location of said line shall be paid by the state of California, out of the general fund thereof, to the surveyor general, upon his filing in the office of the state controller his certificate that such survey is completed according to law, together with his claim, setting forth the items of expense of such survey; provided, that the total expense of such survey shall not exceed the sum of twenty-five hundred dollars, and the sum of twenty-five hundred dollars is hereby appropriated for the payment of the expenses of such survey.

§ 3. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

NORTHERN BOUNDARY OF NAPA.

ACT 1095—An act to define the northern boundary line of Napa county, adjoining Lake and Yolo counties.

History: Approved March 8, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 305.

Boundary lines.

§ 1. The northern boundary line of Napa and the southeasterly boundary line of Lake counties shall commence at the highest point of the Mount St. Helena; thence running in an easterly direction along the present boundary line between said counties to the Buttes Cañon road; thence northeasterly in a direct line to the junction of Jericho and Putah creeks; thence up Jericho creek to the junction of Hunting creek, in Jericho valley; thence up Hunting creek to a large pile of rocks on the southeasterly side of the county road, at the lower and most easterly end of Hunting valley; thence in a straight line in the direction of the intersection of Bear and Cache creeks to the county line of Yolo county; thence along the line of Yolo county in a southeasterly direction to the present county line dividing Yolo and Napa counties.

Claim to be paid.

§ 2. The board of supervisors of Napa county shall order paid the claim of Lake county for the sum of thirty-five hundred dollars, and the auditor of said county of Napa shall draw a warrant for the same on the treasurer of the said county, payable from the general fund, and the treasurer of Napa county shall pay the same.

Repealing.

§ 3. All acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

§ 4. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

SAN LUIS OBISPO AND KERN.

§ 1. The boundary line between the counties of Fresno and Tulare shall be as follows: Commencing at a point on the eastern boundary line of Monterey county, as described in section three thousand nine hundred and forty-eight of Political Code, being on the summit of coast range, which point is south forty-five degrees west from the point on Kings river where the northern line of township sixteen south crosses the same; thence north forty-five degrees east to said point on Kings river; thence east along northern line of township sixteen south and continuing on said line to the northwest corner of township sixteen south, range twenty-five (25) east; thence north to the northwest corner of township fifteen (15) south, range twenty-five (25) east; thence east to the northeast corner of township fifteen south, range twenty-seven (27) east; thence north to the northeast corner of township fourteen south of range twenty-seven east; thence east on the line between township thirteen and fourteen south to the summit of Sierra Nevada, being the western line of Inyo county.

§ 2. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

§ 3. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

The superseded act defines the boundary lines and natural and geographical points by section, township and range lines; while and lines.
this act defines it by township and range

LAKE AND YOLO.

ACT 1098—An act to more clearly define the boundary line between the counties of Lake and Yolo, in the state of California.

History: Approved April 1, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 903.

Boundary line described and declared.

§ 1. The line established by H. H. Sanford, as deputy surveyor general, under special instruction of J. W. Bost, surveyor general of California, at the request of the boards of supervisors of the counties of Lake and Yolo, and designated on a certain map on file in the office of the surveyor general of the state of California, indorsed "Map of the boundary line between Lake and Yolo counties, surveyed April, eighteen hundred and seventy-one, by H. H. Sanford, deputy surveyor general of California," is hereby declared the boundary line between the said counties of Lake and Yolo, provided the same is in accordance with the provisions of an act to more clearly define and establish the boundary line of Yolo county approved March third, eighteen hundred and sixty-six.

§ 2. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

SHASTA AND LASSEN.

ACT 1099—An act to change and permanently locate the boundary line between the counties of Shasta and Lassen.

History: Became a law under constitutional provision, without governor's approval, March 14, 1899, Stats. 1899, p. 98.

Boundary line between Shasta and Lassen counties.

§ 1. The boundary line between the counties of Shasta and Lassen is hereby established and permanently located, as follows: Beginning at the quarter section corner to sections eight and nine, in township thirty north, range six east, Mount Diablo base and meridian, and running thence north one and one-half miles, to line dividing townships thirty and thirty-one at corner common to sections four and five, in township thirty north, range six east; thence east on township line to corner common to sections thirty-two and thirty-three, in township thirty-one north, range six east; thence north twenty-eight miles, to seventh standard parallel north, Mount Diablo base, at corner common to sections eight and nine, in township thirty-five north, range six east; thence west along said standard line to southwest corner of township thirty-six north, range six east; thence north to intersection with south boundary line of Modoc county, at a point seven and one-half chains north of the corner common to sections twenty-five and thirty-six, on east line of township thirty-nine north, range five east; Mount Diablo base and meridian.

§ 2. All other acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

§ 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

HUMBOLDT AND DEL NORTE AND SISKIYOU.

ACT 1100—An act to establish the boundary line between the county of Humboldt and the counties of Del Norte and Siskiyou.

History: Approved March 23, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 600.

Boundary line between Humboldt, Del Norte, and Siskiyou counties.

§ 1. The boundary line between the counties of Humboldt and Del Norte is hereby established as follows: Commencing at the point where the north line of township twelve north, range one east, Humboldt meridian, intersects with the Pacific ocean; thence east on said township line to the northeast corner of township twelve north, range three east, Humboldt meridian; thence south to the southeast corner of said township twelve north, range three east, Humboldt meridian; thence east on the north boundary line of township eleven north, range four east, eleven north five east, and eleven north six east, Humboldt meridian, to the Klamath river; thence following said Klamath river in a southerly direction to the mouth of Salmon river, the point which now is the northeast corner of Humboldt county; thence following the line already established.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately from and after its passage.

ELECTION TO CHANGE BOUNDARY BETWEEN FRESNO AND KINGS.

ACT 1101—An act to change, establish and permanently locate the boundary lines of the county of Kings, and a portion of the south boundary line of the county of Fresno, and to provide for the submission of such change, establishment and location of such boundary lines, to the qualified electors of the territory to be affected by the change.

History: Approved March 14, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 260.

Proposed boundary lines of Kings county.

§ 1. The boundary lines of the county of Kings are hereby changed, established and permanently located as follows, viz.:

Beginning at the northeast corner of section one (1) in township seventeen (17) south, range twenty-two (22) east, Mount Diablo base and meridian; thence south six (6) miles; thence east three (3) miles; thence south nine (9) miles to the southeast corner of section sixteen (16) in township nineteen (19) south, range twenty-three (23) east, Mount Diablo base and meridian; thence west three (3) miles to the southeast corner of section thirteen (13) in township nineteen (19) south, range twenty-two (22) east, Mount Diablo base and meridian; thence south nine (9) miles to the southeast corner of township twenty (20) south, range twenty-two (22), Mount Diablo base and meridian; thence west to the northeast corner of township twenty-one (21) south, range twenty-two (22) east; thence south twenty-four (24) miles to the north boundary line of Kern county, as now established by law; thence west along said north boundary line of Kern county to the corner common to the counties of Monterey, San Luis Obispo and Kern, as now established by law; thence northerly along the summit of the Coast Range mountains, being also the eastern boundary of the counties of Monterey and San Benito, as now established by law, to the southwest corner of township eighteen (18) south, range thirteen (13) east, Mount Diablo base and meridian; thence north twelve (12) miles along the range line between ranges twelve (12) and thirteen (13) to the northwest corner of township seventeen (17) south, range thirteen (13) east, Mount Diablo base and meridian; thence due east along the fourth standard line parallel south to the place of beginning.

South line of Fresno county.

§ 2. The south boundary line of Fresno county between Kings and Fresno counties is hereby declared to be the fourth standard parallel line south.

Board of commissioners to conduct election to ratify annexation.

§ 3. The governor shall within ten days after this act takes effect and as hereinafter provided, appoint five persons, residents and electors of that certain territory within the following described boundaries, viz. Beginning at the northwest corner of township seventeen (17) south, range thirteen (13) east, Mt. Diablo base and meridian; thence due south along the range line between ranges twelve (12) and thirteen (13), to the summit of the Coast Range mountains; thence southerly along the summit of the Coast Range mountains, the same being also the boundary line between the counties of San Benito and Monterey and the county of Fresno as now established by law, to the corner common to the counties of Fresno, Monterey and Kings; thence northeasterly along and following the boundary line between Kings and Fresno counties, as now established by law, to a point where said boundary line intersects the fourth standard parallel line south; thence due west on said fourth standard parallel line south to the place of beginning, who shall be and constitute a board of commissioners to carry out the provisions of this act.

Expenses.

All costs and expenses that may be incurred by said commissioners, as such, in holding any election hereinafter provided for and any compensation due said commissioners, for services rendered as such, or any clerk employed by them, shall be legal charges against the county of Kings.

Compensation.

The said commissioners shall each receive five dollars per day for each and every day's services actually rendered as such commissioners, not exceeding twenty days' services by each commissioner, and their actual traveling expenses, the same to be audited and paid as other expenses are audited and paid by the board of supervisors of Kings county.

Organization. Quorum.

Said commissioners shall meet within said territory above described within ten days after their appointment, and after being duly sworn to faithfully discharge their duties as such commissioners, shall organize by electing one of their number president, and shall elect a clerk, who shall also be duly sworn to faithfully discharge the duties of clerk of said board of commissioners, and shall receive the sum of fifty dollars per month during his term of office. Three of the members of said board shall be necessary to transact any business and a majority of the members present at any meeting shall control in all matters coming before said board.

Election precincts. Powers of commissioners. Election returns.

It shall be the duty of said board of commissioners, after they shall have duly organized, to divide the territory last above described into not less than five nor more than nine election precincts, and to designate the place in each precinct where the election herein provided for must be held. Said commissioners and the clerk elected by them are hereby authorized, empowered and required to discharge the same duties as are now required by law of boards of supervisors and county clerks in the counties of this state so far as the same apply to holding elections, canvassing the returns and certifying the results thereof; they shall keep a full record of their proceedings, transmitting to the secretary of state a certified copy thereof, and filing the original, with the original election returns, in the office of the county clerk of the county of Fresno; and in case the qualified electors of said territory last above described shall vote in favor of such change as herein provided the said commissioners shall file a certified copy of all their proceedings and of said election returns with the county clerk of the county of Kings; and thereupon the powers and duties of said commissioners shall cease and terminate. Within sixty days from the time of the first meeting of the commissioners herein provided for, said commissioners shall order and hold an election in the said territory last hereinbefore described and in each precinct thereof created by said commissioners.

Question to be submitted to electors. Ballots.

At said election there shall be submitted to the qualified electors of said territory the question whether said territory herein described shall be annexed or added to Kings county; and for the purpose of ascertaining the choice of said electors the ballots used at said election shall have printed thereon the words: "For annexation to Kings County, Yes," "For annexation to Kings County, No," and all ballots on which a cross is marked with a stamp after the words "For annexation to Kings County, Yes," shall be counted in favor of such annexation of said territory hereinbefore described to Kings county, and all ballots on which a cross is marked with a stamp after the words "For annexation to Kings County, No," shall be counted against such annexation.

Conduct of election. Great register.

Said election shall be conducted in every respect, except as otherwise herein provided, in accordance with the general election law for the election of county and township officers. All qualified electors of this state who have been residents and electors of the said territory last herein described for ninety days preceding the election herein provided for shall be qualified to vote at said election. The great register of Fresno county used at the general election held in the year nineteen hundred and six in the territory last above described shall be prima facie evidence of the qualification of electors; the county clerk of the county of Fresno is hereby directed to furnish the said commissioners a certificate under seal, showing the additional names of the voters on the great register of the county of Fresno, registered as residing in the said territory hereinbefore described, since the last great register of Fresno county was printed, and the certificate of the county clerk of Fresno county under seal, showing the registration of any qualified voter residing in the said territory prior to three months before such election shall entitle the holder thereof, if otherwise qualified by law, to vote at said election.

Secretary of state to furnish ballot paper. Election returns.

It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to furnish to the clerk of said board of commissioners the quantity of ballot paper ordered by the said clerk for use at said election upon the payment of the cost of said paper. If at said election sixty per cent of the votes cast on the question of annexation of the said territory hereinbefore described to Kings county shall be in favor of such annexation, then the said territory shall be and become a part of the said county of Kings from and after the day upon which the returns of said election shall be ascertained and declared by said board of commissioners. But if at such election less than sixty per cent of the qualified electors voting for and against such annexation of said territory to the county of Kings shall be in favor thereof, then said territory hereinbefore described shall continue to be and remain a portion of the said county of Fresno. Sealed returns from the officers of election of the several precincts established by said board of commissioners shall be made to such board of commissioners at such office as they may select within the said territory within six days after the day of election.

Status of officers in proposed new territory.

All justices of the peace, and all constables, duly elected and qualified and residents of the said territory herein described at the taking effect of this act shall hold their offices for the terms provided by law for the respective townships in which they reside. All school trustees acting as such at the time of the taking effect of this act, and residents of the said territory herein described, shall hold their offices for the time provided by law, for the respective school districts in which they severally reside, as such districts are now organized. All notaries public residents of the said territory herein described shall hold their offices until the expiration of their terms.

§ 4. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

1. Constitutionality.—The act is constitutional.—Wheeler v. Herbert, 152 Cal. 224, 92 Pac. 353.

2. Same—Change of county boundaries by special act.—Section 3 of article XI of the constitution, as amended in 1894, does not prohibit the legislature from changing the boundary by special act.—Wheeler v. Herbert, 152 Cal. 224, 92 Pac. 353.

3. Same—Legislative power to change county boundaries by special act includes the power to do so directly or indirectly through the result of an election, and to provide for an election for that purpose, and neither the provision for an election, nor the matter of the creation of offices and of fixing their powers and duties, are within the prohibition of subdivisions 11 and 28 of section 25 of article IV of the constitution.—Wheeler v. Herbert, 152 Cal. 224, 92 Pac. 353.

4. Same—Special legislation.—The act is not obnoxious to subdivision 33 of section 25 of article IV of the constitution prohibiting special acts where a general law would be applicable.—Wheeler v. Herbert, 152 Cal. 224, 92 Pac. 353.

5. Same—Special privileges to electors.—The act is not violative of section 21 of article I of the constitution, in fixing ninety days residence, as the test of the privilege of voting, to electors in the territory to be transferred to Kings county, and not granting to other electors of that territory or of other parts of Fresno county the same privilege.—Wheeler v. Herbert, 152 Cal. 224, 92 Pac. 353.

6. Same—Delegation of power.—The act is not obnoxious to section 13, article XI, of the constitution forbidding the delegation of power to a special commission for any municipal purpose.—Wheeler v. Herbert, 152 Cal. 224, 92 Pac. 353.

7. Same—Title of act embraces but one subject, and the subject is sufficiently expressed in the title.—Wheeler v. Herbert, 152 Cal. 224, 92 Pac. 353.

8. Legislative districts in the territory taken from Fresno and added to Kings county remain unchanged until fixed by the next apportionment act.—Wheeler v. Herbert, 152 Cal. 224, 92 Pac. 353.

9. Time of election.—The provision of the act as to the time of holding the election is directory merely.—Wheeler v. Herbert, 152 Cal. 224, 92 Pac. 353.

10. Notice of election.—The functions of the commissioners appointed to give notice of an election and canvass the returns, under the act are purely ministerial, and not judicial, and they have no power to go behind the returns for any purpose.—Cerini v. De Long, 7 Cal. App. 398, 94 Pac. 582.

11. Qualifications of electors.—The act is not violative of section 1 of article II of the constitution in prescribing qualifications of electors different from those prescribed in that section.—Wheeler v. Herbert, 152 Cal. 224, 92 Pac. 353.

12. Judicial power—Canvass of returns.—The refusal of the commissioners appointed under the act to canvass the election returns on the ground the county clerk of Fresno county had failed to certify additional registrations up to the date of the election, after having certified registrations within forty days thereof, was an exercise of a judicial function which they did not possess.—Cerini v. De Long, 7 Cal. App. 398, 94 Pac. 582.

13. Registration of voters not being provided for in the act is controlled by the general law, and the certificate of registration made by the clerk within forty days prior to the election was proper.—Cerini v. De Long, 7 Cal. App. 398, 94 Pac. 582.

History: Approved June 2, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 363.

Additional help for county clerks.

§ 1. In any county where it was necessary for the county clerk to employ help in addition to that prescribed by law, in order to provide for the necessary work in registering voters, entailed by the adoption of the constitutional amendment extending the right of suffrage to women, the board of supervisors shall be and they are hereby authorized and empowered to allow the demand of any person for services so rendered at the request of the county clerk of the said county upon a certificate of the county clerk that the services were necessary to conduct the work of his office by reason of the increased work occurring, as above set forth, at the rate of three dollars for each day of eight hours that any such person was so employed in rendering such services; provided, however, that no demand for such services shall be allowed or paid unless the same was filed with the board of supervisors prior to the first day of May, 1913.

CHAPTER 78.

COUNTY ENGINEER.

CONTENTS OF CHAPTER.

ACT 1115. "THE COUNTY ENGINEER ACT."

"THE COUNTY ENGINEER ACT."

ACT 1115—An act providing for a county engineer for each county in this state, providing for his appointment, manner of removal, qualifications, compensation and duties; transferring to such engineer certain powers, functions and duties heretofore vested in and performed by county surveyors and members of the board of supervisors; also authorizing the board of supervisors for each county to purchase and obtain all necessary equipment, materials and instrumentalities to carry out the objects of this act; to provide said county engineer with an office and necessary assistants; to provide for abolishing the office of county surveyor and for the fixing and levying of taxes for road purposes.

History: Approved May 27, 1919. In effect July 27, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1290.

Appointment of county engineer.

§ 1. The board of supervisors of any county at their option may appoint, and upon petition therefor signed by qualified electors of the county equaling in number not less than twenty-five per cent of the total vote cast in the county for governor at the last preceding election at which a governor was elected, they must appoint a competent civil engineer who has had within five years last past, not less than one year's actual experience in practical road building as county engineer, who shall be deemed an employee and not a county officer. The county engineer shall, under the general direction and supervision of the board of supervisors and except as otherwise provided in this act, have complete direction and control over all of the construction, improvement, maintenance and repair of county roads, highways and bridges.

Term.

§ 2. The county engineer shall hold his employment for the term of four years from the date of his appointment; provided, that he may be removed at any time by the board of supervisors for inefficiency, neglect of duty, malfeasance or misconduct in office, or other good cause shown, upon written charges to be filed with and heard by the board of supervisors and sustained by a three-fifths vote of said board after a hearing as herein provided. Said board is hereby vested with the power to administer oaths, compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers and testimony. A copy of such charges shall be personally served upon said county engineer and he shall be given not less than ten days' time in which to file a written answer to the charges, and if it appears to the satisfaction of such board that the charges have been substantiated, the said board shall so notify said county engineer by mail, and such notice shall specifically state the findings and judgment of said board, and the board of supervisors of such county must thereupon forthwith remove such county engineer from office and shall immediately appoint his successor in the manner provided in section two of this act. Prior to entering upon the duties of his employment the county engineer shall file with the county clerk the oath of office as prescribed for the county officers and a bond conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties, with sufficient sureties approved by a judge of the superior court, in the sum of five thousand dollars.

Salary.

§ 3. The salary of the county engineer shall be fixed by the board of supervisors, and said salary, together with the compensation of said engineer's assistants, shall be paid monthly out of the county treasury of the county in which he is appointed and in the same manner as county officers. The county engineer shall also be allowed from the county treasury his actual traveling and other necessary expenses incurred in the performance of the duties of his employment, and shall be a charge against the general fund. The salary of the county engineer in the several counties shall be fixed by the board of supervisors of said county; provided, however, that the compensation of county engineer in any county shall be not less than the compensation received by the county surveyor of that county at the time said county engineer is first appointed.

Ex officio road commissioner.

§ 4. The county engineer shall be ex officio road commissioner of and for each and every road district of his county, and, subject to the control and supervision of the board of supervisors as herein provided, shall have and exercise the powers and duties hereinafter set forth and specified, and such duties as may hereafter be provided by law.

Duties.

§ 5. The county engineer shall:

(b) Examine and inspect, or cause to be examined and inspected, the work performed on such roads, highways and bridges, and report to the board of supervisors whether or not the work has been done in accordance with the plans and specifications and contracts therefor.

(c) Approve and certify to the progress estimates and allowances for work performed under all contracts for the construction, improvement, maintenance, or repair of county roads, highways and bridges.

(e) Have control and management under the general supervision of the board of supervisors of all county rock quarries, oil pits and depots, gravel pits and all materials, property, implements, instruments, tools, machinery and other appurtenances necessary for the construction, improvement, maintenance and repair of county roads, highways and bridges, and shall be the custodian of the plans therefor.

(f) He may also hold and perform the duties of the office of county surveyor, but in all such cases no salary or other compensation shall be paid to him as county surveyor. He shall not be interested either directly or indirectly in any contracts within his jurisdiction, nor shall he be interested in the purchase of materials, supplies or equipment of any kind used in connection with the performance of his duties under the provisions of this act.

(g) Prepare annually a budget showing in detail the needs of the county for construction, improvement, maintenance or repair of county roads, highways and bridges for the ensuing year, and submit the same to the county auditor and board of supervisors at least sixty days prior to the date of the meeting at which the board of supervisors is required to fix the county tax rate and levy the county taxes.

(h) Make a written report to the board of supervisors at their first regular meeting of each month, and in it he shall state the amount and character of work done, during the preceding month, the progress of any contracts under way, approximate cost of the work and matters pertaining to the public roads, highways, streets and bridges or other public works, which, in his judgment, should be brought to their attention. This report shall contain the recommendation of acceptance or rejection of any public work completed, and all official announcements or statements which the engineer is required to make to the board. The size and form of these reports shall be uniform and upon blanks supplied by the state engineer and a copy shall be filed, one in the office of the board of supervisors and another in the office of the county engineer.

(i) On or before the first day of July of each year, file with the board of supervisors a complete report of the work of the preceding year, which report shall be in the form required and contain the information desired and requested by the state engineer and upon blank forms supplied by him. A copy of said report shall also be filed in the office of the board of supervisors.

(j) Perform such other duties pertaining to the construction, improvement, maintenance or repair of county roads, highways and bridges as the board of supervisors may prescribe.

Employment of additional help.

§ 6. The board of supervisors shall provide by ordinance or resolution for the employment, when necessary, of additional field and office help by said county engineer, and shall prescribe the compensation to be paid to all persons so employed, for the time during which they may be actually engaged in the service of the county and for their actual necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duty.

Office accommodations.

§ 7. The board of supervisors shall provide and assign to the county engineer and his assistants a suitable office or offices in the court house, or in some place conveniently located with reference thereto with all necessary instruments, tools, implements, stationery and supplies.

Requisition for supplies.

§ 8. The county engineer shall make requisition upon the board of supervisors for the purchase of all tools, implements, machinery, materials and supplies required to carry out the intent of this act, and said requisition shall state plainly the estimated cost of the article or articles to be purchased. He shall approve all claims for the same before such claims are audited and passed by the board of supervisors. He shall be the custodian and be responsible for all equipment under his control. All such property shall be stored and protected from the weather when not in use. An inventory of all property in his custody shall be made annually and kept on file in the office of the county engineer.

Certificate of approval of contract work.

§ 9. Upon the completion of work done for the county on its roads, highways, streets, bridges and aqueducts, or in connection with the same, the county engineer must examine the same and if completed in accordance with the specifications thereof, he must submit to the board of supervisors a certificate over his signature and official seal to the effect that such work by the contractors thereof has been completed in accordance with the specifications thereof and recommending its acceptance. The board shall thereupon audit the same and direct its payment out of the proper fund or funds.

Purchase of material from state.

§ 10. Whenever the state department of engineering has authority to sell equipment, materials or supplies for road building, repairs or maintenance and a saving may be made to a county by purchasing from said department, the board of supervisors upon the recommendation of the county engineer may purchase such equipment, materials or supplies from the state.

County surveyor replaced by county engineer.

§ 11. The office of county surveyor of any county shall be and is hereby abolished upon the occurrence of any of the following conditions:

(a) Upon the appointment as county engineer of the person who holds the office of county surveyor at the time such appointment is made and the acceptance of such appointment by the county surveyor; or

(b) In other cases, upon the expiration of the term of the person who holds the office of county surveyor at the time the appointment of county engineer is made; provided, that if such appointment is made within six months of the expiration of the then current term of county surveyor, the office of surveyor in such county shall be and is hereby abolished upon the expiration of the next succeeding term.

Does not limit powers of supervisors.

§ 12. Nothing herein contained shall be held, deemed or construed to prevent members of boards of supervisors from visiting and inspecting work in progress within the county or from receiving for such services the mileage now allowed by law.

Title.

§ 13. This act shall be known as and when cited or amended may be designated as "the county engineer act."

ACT 1155—An act creating a state bureau of criminal identification and investigation, providing for its organization and defining its powers and duties and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions hereof, and repealing an act entitled "An act to create a state bureau of criminal identification, and providing for the appointment of a director of said bureau, defining his duties and qualifications and powers; providing for the appointment of a clerk of said bureau and fixing his qualifications; fixing compensation of said director and clerk, providing for the manner of paying the same and providing for the expense of conducting the office," approved March 20, 1905.

History: Approved May 31, 1917. In effect July 30, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1391. Prior act approved March 20, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 520, repealed by present act. A supplementary act, approved May 27, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 1213, appropriated $37,700 to carry out the purposes of the act.

Bureau of criminal investigation and identification.

§ 1. There is hereby created a state bureau of criminal identification and investigation.

Term of members.

§ 2. Within ten days after this act goes into effect, it will be the duty of the governor to appoint a board of managers of said bureau, consisting of three members; one of whom shall be a chief of police of an incorporated city within the state of California, and one to be a duly elected, qualified and acting sheriff of a county within said state, and one to be a duly elected, qualified and acting district attorney of a county within said state; one member of said board shall be appointed to hold office for the term of two years, one member shall be appointed to hold office for the term of three years, and one member to be appointed to hold office for the term of four years, and thereafter, all appointments shall be for the full term of four years; provided, however, that should the term of any such member of the said board expire as such chief of police, or such sheriff, or such district attorney, he shall cease to be a member of the said board; and provided, further, that the governor shall fill all vacancies created in said board by the appointment of the same kind of an officer as was his predecessor.

Duties of board of managers. Superintendent.

§ 3. It shall be the duty of said board of managers within ten days after its appointment to take absolute control and management of said bureau, to meet and organize by choosing one of their number to be president, to make and adopt such rules as are necessary for proper conduct of their business as such board of managers, to provide for the appointment of a superintendent and such other employees as may be required; said appointments to be made by the said board of managers from an eligible list provided for such purpose by the civil service commission; also to provide equipment for said bureau, with necessary furniture, fixtures, apparatus, appurtenances, appliances and materials as are necessary for the collection, filing and preservation of all criminal records both as to identification and investigation of criminals, and stolen, lost, found, pledged or pawned property.

Photos, etc., of criminals.

§ 4. It shall be the duty of said board of managers to procure and file for record and report in their office, as far as such can be procured, all plates, photos, outline pictures, descriptions, information and measurements of all persons who have been or shall hereafter be convicted of felony, or imprisoned for violating any of the military, naval, or criminal laws of the United States of America, and of all well-known and habitual criminals from wherever procurable.

Information furnished.

§ 5. It shall be the duty of said board of managers to file or cause to be filed all plates, photographs, outline pictures, measurements, information and description which shall be received by it by virtue of its office and it shall make a complete and systematic record and index of the same, providing thereby a method of convenience, consultation and comparison. It shall be the duty of said board of managers to furnish, upon application, all information pertaining to the identification of any person, or persons, a plate, photograph, outline picture, description, measurement, or any data of which person there is a record in its office. Such information shall be furnished to the United States officers or officers of other states or territories, or possession of the United States or peace officers of other countries duly authorized to receive the same, and all peace officers of the state of California, which application shall be in writing and accompanied by a certificate signed by the officer making such application, stating that the information applied for is necessary in the interest of the due administration of the laws, and not for the purpose of assisting a private citizen in carrying on his personal interests or in maliciously, or uselessly, harassing, degrading or humiliating any person or persons.

Systems of identification.

§ 6. In this bureau may be used the following systems of identification: the Bertillon, the finger print system and any system of measurement that may be adopted by law in the various penal institutions of the state. It shall be the duty of said board of managers to keep on file in its office a record consisting of duplicates of all measurements, processes, operations, signaletic cards, plates, photographs, outline pictures, measurements and descriptions of all persons confined in penal institutions of this state as far as possible, in accordance with whatever system or systems may be in vogue in this state.

Offices.

§ 7. Suitable offices for the proper conduct of the bureau shall be provided for by the superintendent of capitol buildings and grounds.

Daily copies of finger prints. Daily reports of property stolen, etc.

§ 8. It is hereby made the duty of the sheriffs of the several counties of the state of California, the chiefs of police of incorporated cities therein and marshals of incorporated cities and towns therein to furnish to the said bureau daily copies of finger prints on standardized eight by eight inch cards, and descriptions of all such persons arrested who in the best judgment of such sheriffs, chiefs of police, or city marshals are persons wanted for serious crimes, or are fugitives from justice, or of all such persons in whose possession at the time of arrest are found goods or property reasonably believed by such sheriffs, chiefs of police or city marshals to have been stolen by them; or of all such persons in whose possession are found burglar outfits or burglar tools or burglar keys or who have in their possession high power explosives reasonably believed to be used for unlawful purposes or who are in possession of infernal machines, bombs or other contrivances in whole or in part and reasonably believed by said sheriffs, chiefs of police and city marshals to be used for unlawful purposes, or of all persons who carry concealed firearms or other deadly weapons and reasonably believed to be carried for unlawful purposes, or who have in their possession inks, dye, paper or other articles necessary in the making of counterfeit bank notes, or in the alteration of bank notes; or dies, molds or other articles necessary in the making of counterfeit money, and reasonably believed to be used by them for such unlawful purposes. This section is by no means intended to include violators of city or county ordinances or of persons arrested for other trifling offenses. It is further made the duty of the aforesaid sheriffs, chiefs of police or city marshals to furnish said bureau daily reports of lost, stolen, found, pledged or pawned property received into their respective offices.

§ 9. In order to assist in the recovery of said property and in the arrest and prosecution of criminals, it is hereby made the duty of the said board of managers of said bureau to keep a complete record of all reports filed with the said bureau, of all personal property stolen, lost, found, pledged, or pawned in any city or county of this state.

File cards.

§ 10. To provide for the installation of a proper system, and file, and cause to be filed therein cards containing an outline of the method of operation employed by criminals in the commission of crime.

Salaries.

§ 11. The board of managers of this bureau shall serve without compensation; provided, however, that they shall receive their necessary traveling expenses while attending meetings of said board. The superintendent shall receive a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; the salaries of the other employees shall be fixed by the board of managers, subject to the approval of the board of control. The superintendent and the other employees shall be paid in the same manner and out of the same fund as the state officers are paid.

Appropriation.

§ 12. There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of thirty-six thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be used by said board of managers in furnishing, equipping and maintaining the said bureau in accordance with the provisions of this act, and for the payment of the salaries herein provided for, for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred eighteen, and the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred nineteen.

§ 13. The state controller is hereby directed to draw warrants in favor of the said board of managers at such times and such amounts as shall be approved by the state board of control, and the state treasurer is hereby directed to pay the same.

§ 14. All furniture, equipment and records now on file and in use in the office of the "bureau of criminal identification of the state of California," shall become a part of the furniture, equipment and records of the "state bureau of criminal identification and investigation," immediately upon the organization of the board of managers as provided for in this act.

Stats. 1905, p. 520, repealed.

§ 15. An act entitled, "An act to create a state bureau of criminal identification, and providing for the appointment of a director of said bureau, defining his duties and qualifications and powers; providing for the appointment of a clerk of said bureau and fixing his qualifications; fixing compensation of said director and clerk, providing for the manner of paying the same and providing for the expense of conducting the office"; approved March 20, 1905, is hereby repealed and all other acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Codified.—Code commissioners say the repealed act was codified by §§ 1572, et seq., Penal Code, as adopted in 1907.

DAIRY SANITATION AND INSPECTION ACT OF 1905.

ACT 1166—An act to prevent the sale of dairy products from unhealthy animals and produced under unsanitary conditions; to provide for the inspection of dairy stock, dairies, factories for the production of dairy products and places where dairy products are handled and sold; to improve the quality of dairy products of the state; to prevent deception in the sale of dairy products and to appropriate money for enforcing its provisions.

History: Approved March 20, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 462. Former act of March 22, 1899, Stats. 1899, p. 171, repealed by present act. Largely superseded by later act, see, post, Act 1167.

Dairy products, sale of. Sanitary condition of creamery, store or depot. Cows affected by disease.

§ 1. No person or persons, firms or corporations, by themselves or their agents or employees, shall sell, expose for sale or offer for sale, or exchange, present or deliver to any creamery, cheese factory, milk condensing factory, or any other buyer or consumer, any unclean, unwholesome, stale, impure milk, cream, butter, condensed or evaporated milk or other article produced from such milk or cream. Neither shall any person or persons, firms or corporations, by themselves or their agents or employees, sell, expose for sale, or offer for sale, or exchange, present or deliver to any consumer, creamery, cheese factory, milk condensing factory, or any other buyer or consumer, any milk, cream, butter, cheese, condensed milk or other products manufactured therefrom, which has been produced in or by a dairy, or factory of dairy products, or that is, or has been, handled in any store or depot that is in an unsanitary condition, or that is produced from cows affected by any disease or from cows within five days after or fifteen days preceding parturition.

Dairy deemed unsanitary, when.

§ 2. A dairy shall be deemed unsanitary under the meaning of this act when, among other causes that render milk, or products made therefrom, unclean, unwholesome, impure and unhealthy,

(b) If the drinking water is stagnant, polluted with manure, urine, drainage, decaying vegetable or animal matter.

(c) If the yards or inclosures are filthy or unsanitary, or if any part of such yards or inclosures, other than pastures, are made the depositories of manure in heaps or otherwise where it is allowed to ferment and decay.

If the walls become soiled with manure, urine or other filth.

(g) If to the interior of cattle stables, barns or milking sheds an application of lime whitewash is not made at least once in two years, or if the mangers, or other receptacles from which cows are fed, decaying food or other material is allowed to accumulate.

(i) If the pails, cans, bottles or other containers of milk, or its products, strainers, coolers or other utensils coming in contact with milk or its products are not sterilized by boiling water or superheated steam each and every time the same are used.

(j) If the person wearing apparel of the dairyman, his employees, or other persons, who come in contact with milk and its products are soiled or not washed from time to time.

Creamery deemed unsanitary, when.

§ 3. A creamery or any factory of dairy products or any store, depot or other place where milk is handled or kept for sale shall be deemed unsanitary under the meaning of this act when, among other causes that render milk, or products made therefrom, unclean, unwholesome, impure, stale or of low grade or inferior quality.

(a) If milk or cream is received that has reached an advanced stage of fermentation, or that shows a state of putrefactive fermentation, or if it is received in cans or other containers that have not been sterilized by means of boiling water or superheated steam after each delivery.

(b) If the utensils and apparatus that comes in contact with milk or its products in process of manufacture are not thoroughly washed and sterilized by means of boiling water or superheated steam.

(c) If the floor is so constructed that permits the flowing or soaking of water, milk or other liquids underneath or among the interstices of such floor where fermentation and decay may take place, or if such floor may not be readily kept free from dirt.

(d) If drains are not provided that will convey refuse milk, water and sewage at least fifty yards from such creamery or factory of dairy products, or if any cesspool, privy vault, hog-yard, slaughter-house, manure or any decaying vegetables or animal matter shall be within a distance that will permit foul odors from reaching any creamery or other factory of dairy products or store or depot where milk or its products is sold or handled.

(e) If such creamery or factory of dairy products does not permit access of light and air sufficient to secure good ventilation.

(f) If any building or buildings used in connection with any creamery, or factory of dairy products, any insects or other species of animal life are permitted, or if upon the floor, the sides and walls any milk or its products, or if any other filth is allowed to accumulate and ferment and decay, or if the bodies or wearing apparel of persons employed, or coming in contact with any milk or its products in any creamery, or factory of any dairy products, shall be unclean and not washed from time to time.

Preparations, what may and what may not be used. Harmless coloring.

§ 4. No person or persons, firms or corporations, by themselves or their agents or employees, shall sell, expose for sale, or exchange, present or deliver to any creamery, cheese factory, milk condensing factory, ice-cream producer, or any other buyer, or consumer, any milk, or any product manufactured or prepared therefrom, to which any compound containing salicylic acid, formaldehyde, coloring matter or any other chemical or preparation other than common salt, or sodium chloride, shall have been added with intent to prevent fermentation, or to change the color (in case of milk and cream); provided, that such person or persons, firms or corporations or their agents or employees may use preparations of boron to prevent fermentation in milk or its products, but whenever any preparation of boron is used for such purpose, each and every package or container of milk or its products shall have plainly marked thereon, the fact that it contains such preparation of boron.

Neither shall any gelatine, or other substance, be added to milk or cream with intent to increase its viscosity or otherwise cause it to appear better in quality than it is, except each and every package and container of such milk or cream shall have marked thereon in a manner, or be accompanied by a statement, to be prescribed by the state dairy bureau, showing the nature of the substance added; provided, that this section shall not be construed to prevent the use of harmless coloring matter in butter, ice-cream or confectionery into which milk or its products enter.

§ 5. No person or persons, firms or corporations, by themselves or their agents or employees, shall manufacture for sale, offer for sale, expose for sale, or have in his or their possession for sale, any package of butter upon which, or upon the wrapper or container of which, there shall be printed, or otherwise marked, the word pasteurize or any of its derivatives unless in the process of the manufacture of the butter contained therein either the milk or cream from which the same was made shall have been exposed to a temperature exceeding one hundred and fifty degrees Fahrenheit.

Designs of producer of butter to appear on wrapper.

§ 6. In case any butter is sold or offered for sale in a package or wrapper purporting to designate the producer of such butter, such producer must be correctly designated; and if under a label purporting or calculated to designate the place of production, specifying county and state, must be correctly designated. No person, firm or corporation shall put up in package or wrapper or otherwise prepare for shipment or sale any butter under label purporting to designate the producer or place of production, except in accordance with the provisions herein; nor shall any person sell or offer for sale any butter in a package or wrapper purporting to designate the name of the producer or the place of production except in accordance with the provisions herein.

Dairy bureau, duty of. Officers, qualification, duties, compensation. Unsanitary conditions, duties and powers.

§ 7. It shall be the duty of the state dairy bureau, now existing under the laws of this state, to carry out and enforce the provisions of this act, and it is authorized and directed under this act out of the money appropriated as provided herein, to employ such assistant agents as inspectors as it may deem necessary and to fix therein compensation not to exceed $4 per day, exclusive of their necessary and actual expenses, such expenses to be itemized and rendered under oath, or $100 per month exclusive of their necessary and actual expenses. Such agents shall have had experience in the manufacture of dairy products and the handling of dairy cattle. In carrying out the provisions of this act the secretary and agent of the state dairy bureau shall receive, in addition to the salary now received under the provisions of the act creating said state dairy bureau, such additional compensation as the dairy bureau may see fit, but not to exceed $100 per month to be drawn from the amount appropriated herein. The state dairy bureau through its agent and secretary, and assistant agents shall inspect the dairies, dairy cattle, creameries and other factories of dairy products, markets, and other places where dairy products are prepared or handled, and keep a careful record of such inspection and report the same to the state dairy bureau, and upon evidence obtained that any of the provisions of this act are being violated, the state dairy bureau, through its agent and secretary, or its assistant agents, shall duly enter complaint against the party or parties, responsible for such violations and cause the same to be prosecuted, except in cases where any dairy, creamery or other factory of milk products or store or depot where milk and its products are handled and sold, is found to be in an unsanitary condition, in which case the agent and secretary, or the assistant agent, for the district in which the violation occurred, shall serve upon the owner, or owners, or person in charge of the dairy, creamery or other factory of milk products so found to be in an unsanitary condition, a written notice specifying in detail such changes that are to be made that will place such dairy, creamery, or other factory of milk products or store or depot in a sanitary condition as defined in this act. Should such changes not have been made at the expiration of thirty days after the date when the notice was served, the state dairy bureau, through its agent and secretary, or its assistant agents, shall enter complaint against the person or persons responsible for such unsanitary conditions and cause them to be prosecuted for violating this act.

Dairy bureau to compile statistics.

§ 8. The state dairy bureau is authorized under this act to gather and compile statistics relative to the dairy industry and to disseminate the same and other information useful to, and to the general good and development of the dairy industry of the state.

Agent or inspector to report cases of infectious diseases to state veterinarian.

§ 9. Whenever any agent or inspector of the state dairy bureau shall discover the existence of any contagious or infectious disease among dairy cattle, or have good reason to believe that such disease may exist the same shall be immediately reported to the state veterinarian.

Violation of this act, penalty. Interference with agent or inspector, punishment. Disposition of fines.

§ 10. Whoever shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than two hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than ten days nor more than one hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any person or persons who shall hinder or prevent an agent or inspector of the state dairy bureau, in the performance of his duty under this act, shall likewise be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction, shall be fined as already provided in this act. One-half of all fines imposed for the violation of this act shall be paid to the state dairy bureau which shall pay the same to the state treasurer and the same shall become a part of the appropriation under this act. The remaining one-half of such fines shall be paid to the county in which the fine is imposed.

Duty of district attorney.

§ 11. It shall be the duty of the district attorney, upon application of the state dairy bureau, through its agent and secretary, or assistant agents to attend to the prosecution, in the name of the people, of any suit brought for the violation of any of the provisions of this act within his district.

Appropriation.

§ 12. There is hereby appropriated for the use of the state dairy bureau in enforcing and carrying out the provisions of this act, out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) for the remainder of the fifty-sixth fiscal year; five thousand dollars, ($5,000) for the fifty-seventh fiscal year and five thousand dollars ($5,000) for the fifty-eighth fiscal year. All salaries, fees, costs and expenses shall be drawn from the money so appropriated, and the state controller shall draw his warrant on the state treasury in favor of the person or persons entitled to the same.

Repeal of former and inconsistent acts.

§ 13. An act approved March 22, 1899, entitled "An act to provide for the inspection of dairies, factories of dairy products, and of dairy products as to their sanitary condition, and as to the health of stock; to prevent the sale of milk and products of milk drawn from diseased animals; to prevent the spread of infectious and contagious diseases common to stock, and to appropriate money therefor," and all other acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

Time of taking effect.

DAIRY SANITATION AND INSPECTION ACT OF 1911.

ACT 1167—An act to prevent the manufacture or sale of dairy products from unhealthy animals, or that are produced under unsanitary conditions; to prevent deception or fraud in the production and sale of dairy products, and in the manufacture and sale of renovated butter and oleomargarine; to license the manufacture and sale of renovated butter, and oleomargarine; to regulate the business of producing, buying and selling dairy products, oleomargarine, renovated or imitation butter and cheese; to provide for the enforcement of its provisions and for the punishment of violations thereof, and appropriating money therefor and to repeal section 17 of an act approved March 4, 1897, entitled "An act to prevent deception in the manufacture and sale of butter and cheese, to secure its enforcement, and to appropriate money therefor," and to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act.

History: Approved April 21, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 959. Amended May 4, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 332; May 4, 1915. In effect January 1, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 352; June 11, 1915. This act supersedes all provisions of the act of 1905 (Act 1166) except possibly certain administrative features relating to the state dairy bureau.

Sale of unclean milk, etc., prohibited.

§ 1. No person, firm or corporation, by themselves or their agents or employees, shall sell, expose for sale, or offer for sale, or shall exchange, present, or deliver to any creamery, cheese factory, milk condensing factory, or other buyer or consumer of milk or milk products, any unclean, unwholesome, stale, or impure milk, cream, butter or condensed or evaporated milk, or other article produced from such milk or cream, neither shall any person or persons, firm or corporation, by themselves or their agents or employees, sell, expose for sale, or offer for sale, or exchange, present or deliver to any consumer, creamery, cheese factory, milk condensing factory, or any other buyer or consumer, any milk, cream, butter, cheese, condensed milk or other products manufactured therefrom, which has been produced in or by a dairy, or factory of dairy products, or that is or has been handled in any store or depot, that is in an unsanitary condition, or that is produced from cows affected by any disease, or from cows within five days after or fifteen days preceding parturition.

Milk containers to be cleansed.

§ 1a. Every person, firm or corporation, not a common carrier, who receives from a common carrier in cans, bottles, vessels, or other containers, any milk, cream and ice cream intended for human consumption, which has been transported over any railroad, or boat or freight line, or by other common carrier, or auto truck, which said cans, bottles, vessels, or other containers, are to be returned to the consignor or shipper, shall cause the said empty cans, bottles, vessels, or other containers, to be thoroughly cleansed and sterilized by boiling water or superheated steam before return shipment of the same; provided, further, that all empty cans, bottles, vessels, or other containers, delivered to the consumer by the retailer shall be thoroughly and immediately cleansed before returning the same to the dealer or distributor. [New section added June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1657.]

Unsanitary dairies.

§ 2. A dairy shall be deemed unsanitary within the meaning of this act, among other causes that render milk, or products made therefrom, unclean, impure, and unhealthy, in the following cases:

(a) If the drinking water is stagnant, polluted with manure, urine, drainage, decaying vegetable or animal matter.

(b) If the yards or enclosures are filthy or unsanitary or if any part of such yards or enclosures, other than pastures, are made the depositories of manure in heaps or otherwise where it is allowed to ferment and decay.

(c) If a suitable milk house or room is not provided and maintained, properly screened to exclude flies and insects, for the purpose of cooling, mixing, canning, and keeping the milk. Said milk house or room, shall not be located in or be a part of any residence, or dwelling house, or any barn or poultry house, and shall not be used for any other purpose whatsoever.

(d) If any milk or cream shall be cooled, stored, mixed, canned, or kept in any room or place which is occupied by any person or persons as a sleeping or living apartment, or occupied by horses, cows, hogs or other animals, or fowls of any kind, and if the milk or cream shall not be cooled to as low a temperature as practicable within one hour after it is drawn from the cows.

(e) If any urinal, privy vault, open cesspool, horse stable, pig pen, stagnant water, accumulation of manure or other filth shall be permitted within one hundred feet of any such milk house or room, or within fifty feet of any cow stalls or stanchions or other place where milking is done.

(f) If the walls become soiled with manure, urine or other filth.

(g) If to the interior of cattle stables, barns, milking sheds, milk house or room, an application of lime whitewash is not made at least once in two years, or oftener if in the judgment of the agent of the state dairy bureau it is needed, or if in the managers, or other receptacles from which cows are fed, decaying food or other material is allowed to accumulate.

(h) If the pails, cans, bottles or other containers of milk, or its products, or the strainers, coolers or other utensils coming in contact with the milk or its products, are not sterilized by boiling water or superheated steam each and every time the same are used.

(i) If the person or wearing apparel of the dairyman, his employees, or other persons, who come in contact with milk and its products, are soiled or not washed from time to time with reasonable frequency. (Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect August 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1655.)

Unsanitary creameries.

§ 3. A creamery or any factory of dairy products, or any store, depot, or other place where milk is handled or kept for sale, shall be deemed unsanitary under the meaning of this act, among other causes that render milk, or products made therefrom, unclean, unwholesome, impure, stale or of low grade or inferior quality, in the following cases:

(a) If milk or cream is received that has reached an advanced stage of fermentation, or that shows a state of putrefactive fermentation, or if it is received in cans, or other containers that have not been sterilized by means of boiling water or superheated steam after each delivery.

(b) If the utensils and apparatus that come in contact with milk or its products in the process of manufacture are not thoroughly washed and sterilized by means of boiling water or superheated steam, after each using.

(c) If the floor is so constructed as to permit the flowing or soaking of water, milk or other liquids underneath or among the interstices of such floor, where fermentation and decay may take place, or if such floor may not be readily kept free from dirt.

(d) If drains are not provided that will convey refuse milk, water and sewage away to a point at least fifty yards distant from such creamery or factory of dairy products, or if any cesspool, privy vault, hog-yard, slaughter-house, manure or any decaying vegetables or animal matter, shall be within a distance that will permit foul odors to reach any such creamery or other factory of dairy products or store or depot where milk or its products are sold or handled.

(e) If such creamery or factory of dairy products, does not permit access of light and air sufficient to secure good ventilation.

(f) If in any building or buildings used in connection with any creamery, or factory of dairy products, any insects or other species of animal life are permitted, or if upon the floor, the sides or the walls, any milk or its products, or any other filth is allowed to accumulate, or ferment, or decay, or if the bodies or wearing apparel of persons employed, or coming in contact with any milk or its products, in any creamery, or factory of any dairy products, shall be unclean and not washed from time to time with reasonable frequency.

Liquid gallon measure.

§ 4. No person, firm or corporation shall hereafter sell, offer for sale, or receive for the purpose of sale, any milk, skim milk or cream, except such sale, offer, or receipt, shall, as to quantity, be based upon the liquid gallon, containing two hundred and thirty-one cubic inches, or the liquid quart containing fifty-seven and seventy-five one-hundredths cubic inches or the proper and complete liquid subdivision thereof. Provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed as prohibiting the buying or selling of milk or cream either by weight or on the basis of its butter fat contents. And provided, further, that in any hotel, restaurant, or other eating place, where milk is sold with meals, or where it is sold to be drunk immediately, it may be sold by the glass.

Milk, etc., sold as pasteurized must conform to regulations of this act. Butter must be sold in terms of pounds.

§ 5. No person, firm or corporation shall sell, exchange, or offer or expose, or have in its possession for sale or exchange, any milk, cream, skim milk, ice cream, butter, buttermilk, cheese or other milk products, as and for pasteurized milk, cream, skim milk, ice cream, butter, buttermilk, cheese or other milk product, as the case may be, nor use the word "pasteurize" or any of its derivatives in connection with the sale, designation, advertising, labeling or billing of any milk, cream, skim milk, ice cream, butter, buttermilk, cheese or other milk products, unless the same and all products of milk contained therein or used in the manufacture thereof consist exclusively of milk, skim milk or cream which has been treated by the process of pasteurization, as defined and regulated in subdivision fifteen, section twenty-nine, of this act. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell, offer for sale, or to cause or permit to be sold or offered for sale, any butter in prints or packages or otherwise other than by or in terms of pounds and ounces, avoirdupois, or for a greater weight than the true net weight thereof. [Amendment of May 4, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 333.]

Registration of dairies.

§ 6. Every person, firm or corporation operating any dairy, where more than four cows are milked, and every creamery, cheese factory, receiving station, skimming station, ice cream or ice milk manufacturer, or milk condensary, shall on or before the first day of November of each year, cause to be registered with the secretary of the state dairy bureau a statement showing the full name and address of such person, firm or corporation so operating the same, and also the full name and address of the owner or owners of the business so being operated, in case the person operating the same is not the owner, together with a statement of the class of such business carried on by such person or corporation, and the number of cows then being milked, in case of a dairy.

Annual report.

§ 7. The secretary of the state dairy bureau shall provide blanks for reporting dairy statistics, and he shall annually, on or before the first day of October each year, cause to be mailed to each person, firm or corporation engaged in operating any dairy making butter or cheese from more than four cows, and to all dairies where more than four cows are milked, and to all creameries, cheese factories, ice cream or ice milk manufacturers, and milk condensaries, one or more of such blanks, and each such person, firm or corporation shall, on or before the first day of November following, make out and transmit to said secretary of the state dairy bureau a full and accurate report of the amount of butter, cheese or other dairy products, manufactured or produced during the year ending September 30th, and the dairies shall report the number of cows milked during said year.

Producer of butter must be designated. Place of production.

§ 8. In case any butter is sold or offered for sale, in a package or wrapper purporting to designate the producer of such butter, such producer must be correctly designated. In case any butter is sold, or offered for sale, in a package or wrapper, or under a label purporting or calculated to designate the place of production, such package, wrapper, or label must correctly name the place where made; or if such package, wrapper or label bears the name of any county, city and county, city or town in this state or any other geographical designation, such package, wrapper, or label must also correctly name the place where made. No person, firm or corporation shall put up in package or wrapper, or otherwise prepare for shipment or sale, any butter under a label purporting to designate the producer, place of production, or bearing the name of any county, city and county, city, or town of this state, or any other geographical designation, except in accordance with the provisions hereof; nor shall any person, firm or corporation sell or offer for sale any butter in a package, wrapper, or under a label purporting to designate the name of the producer or the place of production or bearing the name of any county, city and county, city or town of this state or geographical designation, except in accordance with the provisions hereof. [Amendment of May 4, 1915. In effect January 1, 1916. Stats. 1915, p. 353.]

Oleomargarine defined.

§ 9. For the purposes of this act certain manufactured substances, certain extracts, and certain mixtures and compounds, including such mixtures and compounds with butter, milk or cream, shall be known and designated as "oleomargarine," namely: All substances heretofore known as oleomargarine, oleo, oleomargarine-oil, butterine, lardine, suine, and neutral; all mixtures and compounds of oleomargarine, oleo, oleomargarine-oil, butterine, lardine, suine, and neutral; all lard extracts and tallow extracts; and all mixtures and compounds of tallow, beef-fat, suet, lard, lard-oil, cocoanut-oil, peanut-oil, intestinal fat, and offal-fat made in imitation or semblance of butter, or when so made, calculated or intended to be sold as butter or for butter; or butter substitute; and for the purposes of this act, every article, substance, or compound, other than that produced from pure milk, or cream from the same, made in semblance of cheese, and designed to be used as a substitute for cheese made from pure milk or cream, is hereby declared to be imitation cheese; provided, that the use of salt, rennet, and harmless coloring matter for coloring the product of pure milk or cream, shall not be construed to render such product an imitation; and provided, that nothing in this section shall prevent the use of pure skimmed milk in the manufacture of cheese. [Amendment of May 5, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 298.]

Sale of imitation butter prohibited.

§ 10. No person, by himself or his agents or servants, shall render, manufacture, sell, offer for sale, expose for sale, or have in his possession with intent to sell or to use or to serve to patrons, guests, boarders, or inmates in any hotel, eating-house, restaurant, public conveyance or boarding-house, or public or private hospital, asylum or eleemosynary or penal institution, any article, product or compound made wholly or partly out of any fat, oil or oleaginous substance or compound thereof, not produced directly and at the time of manufacture from unadulterated milk or cream from the same, which article, product, or compound shall be colored in imitation of butter or cheese produced from unadulterated milk or cream, or be made to resemble yellow butter in color, by whatever means the coloring is accomplished; provided, that nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the manufacture or sale, under the regulations hereinafter provided, of substances or compounds, designed to be used as an imitation, or as a substitute for butter or cheese made from pure milk or cream from the same, in a separate and distinct form not resembling butter or cheese, and in such a manner as will advise the purchaser and consumer of its real character, free from coloration or ingredients that cause it to look like butter or cheese made from pure milk or cream, the product of the dairy.

Branding oleomargarine. Absence of markings.

§ 11. Each person, who, by himself or another, lawfully manufactures any oleomargarine, or any substance designed to be used as a substitute for butter or cheese, shall mark the same by branding, stamping, or stenciling upon the top and sides of each tub, firkin, box, or other package in which such article or substance shall be kept, and in which it shall be removed from the place where it is produced or put up, in a clear and durable manner, in the English language, the words "oleomargarine," or "substitute for butter," or "substitute for cheese," as the case may be, in printed letters in plain roman type, each of which shall not be less than one inch in height by one-half inch in width, and in addition to the above shall prepare a statement, printed in plain roman type, of a size not smaller than pica, stating in the English language its name, and the name and address of the manufacturer, the name of the place where manufactured or put up, and also the names and actual percentages of the various ingredients used in the manufacture of such oleomargarine, imitation butter or imitation cheese; and shall place a copy of said statement within and upon the contents of each tub, firkin, box, or other package, and next to that portion of each tub, firkin, box, or other package, as is commonly and most conveniently opened, and shall label the top and sides of each tub, firkin, box, or other package by affixing thereto a copy of said statement, in such manner, however, as not to cover the whole or any part of said mark of "oleomargarine," "substitute for butter," or "substitute for cheese." The absence of the markings and labelings specified in section 11 hereof shall always be construed as a representation that the contents or substance in question is butter, or cheese, as the case may be.

§ 12. No person, by himself or another, shall knowingly ship, consign, or forward by any common carrier, whether public or private, any oleomargarine, or any substance designed to be used as a substitute for butter or cheese, unless the same be marked and contain a copy of the statement, and be labeled as provided by section 11 of this act; and no carrier shall knowingly receive the same for the purpose of forwarding or transporting, unless it shall be manufactured, marked, and labeled as hereinbefore provided, and unless it is consigned and by the carrier receipted for by its true name; provided, that this act shall not apply to any goods in transit between foreign states across the state of California.

All oleomargarine packages to be marked.

Conditions covering sale of oleomargarine.

§ 14. No person, by himself or another, shall sell, or offer for sale, or take orders for the future delivery of any oleomargarine, or any substance designed to be used as a substitute for butter or cheese, under the name of butter, or under the pretense that the same is butter or cheese; and no person, by himself or another, shall sell any substance designed to be used as a substitute for butter or cheese, unless he shall inform the purchaser distinctly, at the time of the sale, of its true name and character, and that the same is a substitute for butter or cheese, as the case may be, and shall deliver to the purchaser, at the time of the sale, a separate and distinct copy of the statement described in section 11 of this act; and no person shall use in any way in connection or association with the sale, or exposure for sale, or advertisement of any oleomargarine or any substance designed to be used as a substitute for butter or cheese, the words "butterine," "creamery," or "dairy," or the representation of a cow or any breed of dairy cattle, or any combination of such words and representations, or any other words or symbols, or combinations thereof, commonly used by the dairy industry in the sale of butter or cheese.

Hotel-keepers to notify patrons when serving oleomargarine.

§ 15. No keeper or proprietor of any bakery, hotel, boarding-house, restaurant, saloon, lunch-counter, or other place of public entertainment, and no person having charge thereof or employed thereat, and no person furnishing board, for others than members of his own family, and no employee where such board is furnished as the compensation or as a part of the compensation of any employee, shall place before any patron or employee, for use as food, any oleomargarine, or any substance designed to be used as a substitute for butter or cheese, unless the same be accompanied by a copy of the statement described in section 11 of this act, and by a verbal notification to said patron that such substance is a substitute for butter or cheese.

Maintaining actions on contract.

§ 16. No action can be maintained on account of any sale or other contract made in violation of, or with intent to violate, this act, by or through any person, who was knowingly a party to such wrongful sale or other contract.

Every person having possession or control of any oleomargarine, or any substance designed to be used as a substitute for butter or cheese, which is not marked as required by the provisions of this act shall be presumed to have known, during the time of such possession or control, that the same was imitation butter, or imitation cheese, as the case may be.

Erasing labels.

§ 17. No person shall efface, erase, cancel, or remove any mark, statement, or label required by this act, with intent to mislead, deceive, or with intent to violate any of the provisions of this act.

Butter used in charitable institutions.

§ 18. No butter or cheese not made wholly from pure milk or cream, salt, and harmless coloring matter, shall be used in any of the charitable or penal institutions that receive assistance from the state.

Having possession of oleomargarine. Officer serving bench warrant to take samples.

§ 19. Whoever shall have possession or control of any imitation butter or imitation cheese or any oleomargarine, or any substance designed to be used as a substitute for butter or cheese, or any renovated butter, contrary to the provisions of this act, shall be construed to have possession of property with intent to use it as a means of committing a public offense, within the meaning of chapter three, of title twelve, of part two, of an act to establish a penal code; provided, that it shall be the duty of the officer who serves a bench warrant issued for imitation butter or imitation cheese, or oleomargarine, or any substance designed to be used as a substitute for butter or cheese, or any renovated butter, to deliver to the agent or inspector of the state dairy bureau, or to any person by such dairy bureau authorized in writing to receive the same, a perfect sample of each article seized by virtue of such warrant, for the purpose of having the same analyzed, and forthwith to return to the person from whom it was taken the remainder of each article seized as aforesaid. If any sample be found to be imitation butter or imitation cheese, or oleomargarine, or a substance designed to be used as a substitute for butter or cheese, or renovated butter, it shall be returned to and retained by the magistrate as and for the purpose contemplated by section 1536 of an act to establish a penal code; but if any sample be found not to be imitation butter or imitation cheese, or oleomargarine, and not a substance designed to be used as a substitute for butter or cheese, or renovating butter, it shall be returned forthwith to the person from whom it was taken.

Each package of oleomargarine to be marked.

§ 20. No person, firm or corporation, by themselves or their agents or employees, shall sell, offer for sale, or expose for sale, or have in his, its, or their possession for sale, any oleomargarine or any renovated butter, unless the same shall have printed upon each and every package, roll, print, square, and upon any container of such renovated butter or oleomargarine, the words "renovated butter," or the word "oleomargarine," as the case may be in letters not less than one-half inch in height, and who shall not have secured from the state dairy bureau, now existing under the laws of this state, a license as provided hereinafter.

Renovated butter defined.

§ 21. The term renovated butter as used in this act is hereby defined to mean and include butter that has been reduced to a liquid state by melting and drawing off such liquid or butter oil and churning or otherwise manipulating it in connection with milk or any product thereof.

License required of manufacturer, etc. Application to dairy bureau. Fees. Definitions.

Licenses on display. Unlawful to handle, etc., without license.

§ 22. No person, firm or corporation, shall engage in the business or occupation of manufacturing, selling, dealing in, or furnishing renovated butter, oleomargarine, or any substance designed to be used as a substitute for butter, without first having applied for and obtained a license so to do, as hereinafter provided. Any person, firm, or corporation, desiring to engage in the business or occupation of manufacturing, selling, dealing in or furnishing to his, its or their patrons, oleomargarine, or any substance designed to be used as a substitute for butter, or imitation butter, or adulterated butter, or renovated butter, as in this act defined, shall first make application each year to the state dairy bureau for a license, and upon payment of a license fee of the amount mentioned herein, to the state dairy bureau, said bureau shall issue to the applicant a license. All such licenses shall contain the following proviso: Provided that this license does not authorize the holder hereof to manufacture, sell, deal in or furnish any oleomargarine, or similar substances designed to be used as a substitute for butter, which contain any coloring matter or which resemble yellow butter in appearance. All said licenses shall expire on June 30th of each year, and may be issued in periods of one year, or less than one year, upon payment of a proportionate part of the license fee. The fees for issuing said licenses are hereby fixed at the amounts below named, annually. The fee for issuing said license to manufacturers of any of said substances within this state shall be one hundred dollars, and if issued to wholesale dealers in, or importers or agents for importers of any of said substances the fee shall be fifty dollars, and if issued to retail dealers in any of said substances the fee shall be five dollars, and if issued to the keeper of any hotel, restaurant, boarding-house or other place where meals are served and payment is received therefor, either immediately or by the day, week or month, the fee shall be two dollars. The term "wholesale dealer," as used in this section 22 hereof includes all persons, firms or corporations, who sell any of said substances in quantities of ten pounds or more at a time or in the same transaction. The term retail dealer includes all persons who sell only in quantities of less than ten pounds. All licenses, while in force, shall be kept conspicuously displayed in the place of business of the party or parties to whom they have been issued.

Disposition of fees.

§ 23. All license fees paid to the state dairy bureau under this act shall be paid by said bureau into the state treasury, and shall be added to the appropriation made for the same fiscal year for the state dairy bureau, and its expenditure shall be at the disposal of said bureau for its use.

Records of sales, etc., of oleomargarine. Records open to inspection. Failure to keep records a misdemeanor.

§ 24. Every person, firm, or corporation who is required by the provisions of section 22 hereof to obtain and hold a manufacturer's or a wholesaler's or importer's license shall keep a correct record in a form separate from all other business in which every sale and purchase of renovated butter, imitation butter, oleomargarine, or any substitute for butter or substance designed to be used as a substitute for butter, or resembling butter, which substance is not made wholly from pure milk or cream, or any imitation cheese or imitation dairy products of any kind, shall be recorded at the time of the transaction, giving in detail the quantity sold or purchased, the name and location of the buyer or seller, the date, and the place to which it was shipped or delivered, and by whom the order or sale was put up and delivered. Every warehouse, cold storage company, boat, railroad or other transportation company shall keep a correct record of all oleomargarine, imitation butter, renovated butter, substitute for butter, imitation cheese, or other imitation dairy products, which at any time may be in their possession, or which may be transported or stored by them, showing the owner, the quantity and kind of goods, the date when stored, and when removed, in case of warehouses and cold storage companies, and showing the character of goods billed, the quantity, the name and address of consignor and consignee, and the date of transportation, in case of boats and railroad companies. All said records, herein required to be kept, shall at all times during business hours, be open to the inspection of the agents and inspectors of the state dairy bureau, and of any officer of any city or county board of health, and of any peace officer of any city or any county of the state. A failure to keep any of the records herein required to be kept or to permit the inspection of such records, by any inspector or agent of the state dairy bureau, or of any city or county board of health, or by any peace officer of any city or county, as herein required, is hereby declared to be a misdemeanor, and punishable as provided herein.

Weighing and sampling milk.

§ 25. It shall be unlawful for any hauler of milk, or cream, or any person, firm or corporation receiving or purchasing milk or cream by weight or test or both, or by measure or test or both, to fraudulently manipulate the weight, measure or test of milk or cream of any person or to take unfair samples thereof, or to fraudulently manipulate such samples. The hauler or other agent shall weigh or measure the milk or cream of each patron accurately and correctly and shall report such weight or measurements accurately and correctly to the creamery or factory. He shall thoroughly mix the milk or cream of each patron by pouring or stirring until such milk or cream is uniform and homogeneous in richness, before the sample is taken from such milk or cream. When the weighing or sampling is done at the creamery, shipping station or factory, the same rule shall apply.

Testing milk. Tester licensed by state dairy bureau.

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, by himself or as the agent, servant, employee or officer of any person, firm or corporation receiving or purchasing milk or cream on the basis of the amount of butter fat contained therein, to under-read, over-read or otherwise fraudulently manipulate the Babcock test used for determining the per cent of butter fat in milk or cream, or to falsify the records thereof or to read the test at any other temperature than the correct one, which is one hundred thirty degrees to one hundred forty degrees Fahrenheit, or to pay on the basis of any measurement or weight except the true measurement or weight, which is seventeen and six-tenths cubic centimeters for milk and nine grams or eighteen grams for cream; provided, that in all tests for cream the cream shall be weighed into the test bottle. All testing of milk or cream purchased on the basis of the amount of butter fat contained therein, shall be done by a licensed tester which shall supervise and be responsible for the operation of the Babcock test of milk or cream. The license shall be issued to such person by the state dairy bureau whose duty it shall be to examine into the qualifications of all applicants for such license, and every such applicant shall satisfy said bureau of his qualifications and comply with the provisions herein before any license shall be issued to him.

License to receive milk on basis of butter fat contained.

Every creamery, shipping station, milk factory, cheese factory, ice cream factory, condensory, or any person, firm or corporation receiving or purchasing milk or cream on the basis of butter fat contained therein, shall be required to hold a license so to do. The license shall be issued to such creamery, shipping station, milk factory, condensory, ice cream factory, cheese factory, or person, firm or corporation by the state dairy bureau upon complying with all sanitary laws, rules and regulations of the state of California and upon complying with the provisions of this act and upon payment of a license fee as provided for in this section.

License valid one year.

All licenses required herein shall expire on the thirty-first day of December of each year and the fee for issuing same shall be one dollar for a full year or twenty-five cents for each remaining quarter or fraction thereof. The licenses may be revoked by the state dairy bureau if, after due notice, the licensee fails or has failed to comply with the laws, rules, and regulations under which the license was granted; provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to individuals, hotels, restaurants, or boarding houses buying milk or cream for private use.

License fees to be paid into state treasury.

The money for license fees as provided for in this section shall be paid by the state dairy bureau into the state treasury and shall become a part of the funds for the use of the state dairy bureau. [Amendment of May 5, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 298.]

The original section 25 was repealed June 1, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1657; and a new section 25 was added by the same act.

Inspection of Babcock test bottles. Fee for testing.

§ 26. Every person, firm or corporation receiving or purchasing milk or cream on the basis of the amount of butter fat contained therein as determined by the Babcock test, shall use the standard Babcock test bottles, pipettes and accurate weights and scales as defined in this act, and all Babcock test bottles and pipettes shall have been inspected for accuracy by the state dairy bureau or its agent and shall be legibly and indelibly marked by the state dairy bureau or its agent with the letters "D. B."

It shall be unlawful for any firm or corporation or any of their agents to use any other than standard test bottles and pipettes which have been examined and marked as provided by this section, to determine the amount of fat in milk or cream received or purchased on the butter fat basis.

For all testing of glassware by the said state dairy bureau or its agent, a fee of five cents shall be paid by the owner of said glassware to the state dairy bureau for every piece of glassware so examined, and said fee shall be used by the state dairy bureau to to defray the cost of testing such glassware. [New section added June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1659.]

The original section 26 was repealed June 1, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1657, and a new section added by the same act.

Specifications for standard Babcock testing glassware.

§ 27. The term "standard Babcock testing glassware" shall apply to glassware and weights complying to the following specifications: (a) Graduation for milk test bottles. The total per cent graduation shall be eight. The graduated portion of the neck shall have a length of not less than sixty-three and five-tenths millimeters (two and one-half inches) and the graduation shall represent whole per cent, five-tenths per cent, and tenths per cent. The tenths per cent graduation shall not be less than three millimeters in length; the five-tenths per cent graduation shall be one millimeter longer than the tenths per cent graduations, projecting one millimeter to the left; the whole per cent graduations shall extend at least one-half way around the neck to the right and projecting two millimeters to the left of the tenths per cent graduations. Each per cent graduation shall be numbered, the number being placed on the left of the scale. The error at any point of the scale shall not exceed one-tenth per cent.

The neck shall be cylindrical and the cylindrical shape shall extend for at least nine millimeters below the lowest and above the highest graduation mark. The top of the neck shall be flared to a diameter of not less than ten millimeters.

The capacity of the bulb up to the junction of the neck shall not be less than forty-five cubic centimeters. The shape of the bulb may be either cylindrical or conical with the smallest diameter at the bottom. If cylindrical, the outside diameter shall be between thirty-four and thirty-six millimeters; if conical, the outside diameter of the base shall be between thirty-one and thirty-three millimeters, and the maximum diameter between thirty-five and thirty-seven millimeters. The charge of the bottle shall be eighteen grams. The total height of the bottom shall be between one hundred fifty and one hundred sixty-five millimeters (five and seven-eighths and six and one-half inches).

(b) Two types of bottles shall be accepted as standard cream test bottles, a fifty per cent nine gram long-neck bottle, and a fifty per cent eighteen gram long-neck bottle.

Fifty per cent, nine gram, long-neck bottle: Graduation—The total per cent graduation shall be fifty. The graduated portion of the neck shall have a length of not less than one hundred twenty millimeters (four and three-quarters inches). The graduation shall represent five per cent, one per cent and five-tenths per cent. The five per cent graduations shall extend at least half way around the neck (to the right). The five-tenths per cent graduations shall be at least three millimeters in length and the one per cent graduations shall have a length intermediate between the five per cent and the five-tenths per cent graduations. Each five per cent graduation shall be numbered, the number being placed on the left of the scale.

Neck—The neck shall be cylindrical and of uniform internal diameter throughout. The cylindrical part of the neck shall extend at least five millimeters below the lowest and above the highest graduation mark. The top of the neck shall be flared to a diameter of not less than ten millimeters.

Bulb—The capacity of the bulb up to the junction of the neck shall not be less than forty-five cubic centimeters. The shape of the bulb may be either cylindrical or conical with the smallest diameter at the bottom. If cylindrical the outside diameter shall be between thirty-four and thirty-six millimeters; if conical, the outside diameter of the base shall be between thirty-one and thirty-three millimeters and the maximum diameter between thirty-five and thirty-seven millimeters.

The charge of the bottle shall be nine grams. All bottles shall bear on top of the neck above the graduations, in plain legible characters, a mark defining the weight of the charge to be used (9 grams).

The total height of the bottle shall be two hundred ten to two hundred thirty-five millimeters (eight and one-fourth to nine and one-quarter inches) and the maximum error in the total graduation or in any part thereof shall not exceed fifty per cent of the volume of the smallest unit of the graduation.

The fifty per cent, eighteen gram, long-neck bottle. The same specifications in every detail as specified for the fifty per cent, nine gram, long-neck bottle, shall apply, with the exception that the charge of the bottle shall be eighteen grams, and the mark defining the weight of the charge placed at the top of the neck shall be eighteen.

The total length of the standard Babcock pipette shall be not more than three hundred thirty millimeters (thirteen and one-fourth inches). Outside diameter of suction tube, six to eight millimeters. Length of suction tube, one hundred thirty millimeters. Outside diameter of delivery tube four and five-tenths to five and five-tenths millimeters. The length of delivery tube one hundred to one hundred twenty millimeters. Distance of graduation mark above bulb, thirty to sixty millimeters. Nozzle straight. Delivery seventeen and six-tenths cubic centimeters of water at twenty degrees centigrade in five to eight seconds.

The sensibility of all scales used for weighing cream samples into the test bottles shall be not more than thirty milligrams and the standard weights shall be nine grams and eighteen grams.

Speed of tester.

In all testing of milk or cream where the same is received or purchased upon the basis of the amount of butter fat contained therein the Babcock tester shall be operated at the proper speed, which is as follows:

For tester with diameter of fourteen inches the speed shall be between eight hundred twenty-five and nine hundred seventy-five revolutions per minute.

For tester with diameter of sixteen inches, the speed shall be between eight hundred twenty-five and eight hundred seventy-five revolutions per minute.

For tester with diameter of eighteen inches, the speed shall be between seven hundred seventy-five and eight hundred twenty-five revolutions per minute.

For tester with diameter of twenty inches, the speed shall be between seven hundred twenty-five and seven hundred seventy-five revolutions per minute.

For tester with a diameter of twenty-four inches, the speed shall be between five hundred seventy-five and six hundred twenty-five revolutions per minute. (Amendment of May 5, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 300.)

The original section 27 was repealed June 1, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1657, and a new section 27 added by the same act, Stats. 1917, p. 1659.

Unlawful to sell adulterated milk. "Product of milk." Labels to conform. Unlawful to use "milk," etc., when articles do not conform.

adulterated within the meaning of this act. It shall be unlawful for any person under this act, when selling, or offering for sale, or having on hand for sale, milk or any product of milk to use the words "milk," "condensed milk," "sweetened condensed milk," "skim milk," "condensed skimmed milk," "evaporated cream," "cream," "butter," "cheese," "buttermilk," "ice-cream," or "ice milk," either verbally, or printed or written on any label or printed matter, in connection with the sale, or offering for sale, or having on hand for sale, of milk or any product of milk, or upon any bill of fare used in any hotel, restaurant or other places where meals are served, when the article shall not conform to the standards and provisions of section 29 of this act.

Definitions and standards.

§ 29. Milk and the products of milk enumerated in this section shall be deemed adulterated within the meaning of this act if it or they shall not conform to the following definitions and standards:

Milk.

(1) Milk is the fresh, clean, lacteal secretion all parts of which within forty-eight hours, if raw, and within sixty hours, if pasteurized, last prior to its delivery to the consumer or purchaser shall have been obtained from the udder by the complete milking of one or more healthy cows, properly fed and kept, excluding that obtained within fifteen days before and five days after calving, and contains not less than three per cent of milk fat, and not less than eight and five-tenths per cent of solids—not fat.

Skim milk.

(2) Skim milk is milk from which a part or all of the cream has been removed and contains not less than eight and eight-tenths per cent of milk solids.

Condensed milk.

(3) Condensed milk or evaporated milk, is milk from which a considerable portion of water has been evaporated. The standard of purity of condensed milk and evaporated milk shall be than proclaimed and established by the secretary of the United States department of agriculture.

Condensed skim milk.

(4) Condensed skim milk is skim milk from which a considerable portion of water has been evaporated, and contains not less than eighteen per cent of milk solids.

Cream.

(5) Cream is that portion of milk, rich in milk fat which rises to the surface of milk on standing, or is separated from it by centrifugal force, is fresh and clean and contains not less than eighteen per cent of milk fat.

Evaporated cream.

(6) Evaporated cream, or clotted cream, is cream from which a considerable portion of water has been evaporated.

Milk fat.

(7) Milk fat, or butter fat, is the fat of milk and has a Reichert-Meissel number not less than twenty-four and a specific gravity not less than .905 (40 degrees C.).

Butter.

(8) Butter is the clean, non-rancid product made by gathering in any manner the fat of fresh or ripened milk or cream into a mass, which also contains a small portion of the other milk constituents, with or without salt, and a harmless coloring, and contains not less than eighty per cent of milk fat.

Cheese.

(9) Cheese is the sound, solid, and ripened product made from milk or cream, by coagulating the casein thereof with rennet or lactic acid, with or without the addition of ripening ferments and seasoning, and with or without salt and harmless coloring matter. All cheese marked "Full cream cheese," or "Full milk cheese," must contain in the water-free substance, not less than fifty per cent of milk fat. All cheese marked "Half skim cheese," must contain in the water-free substance not less than twenty-five per cent of milk fat. All cheese not plainly marked or branded as to its quality must contain in the water-free substance not less than fifty per cent of milk fat.

Buttermilk.

(10) Buttermilk is that portion of the cream which remains after the separation and removal therefrom of the butter fat in the process of churning, without the addition of water.

Ice cream.

(11) Ice cream is the frozen product, made from pure sweet milk or condensed milk or cream and sugar with or without a harmless flavoring or coloring, and contains not less than ten per cent of milk fat, and not more than six-tenths of one per cent of pure and harmless vegetable gum or gelatin.

Fruit ice cream.

(12) Fruit ice cream is the frozen product made from pure sweet cream, sugar, and sound, clean, mature fruits, and contains not less than eight per cent of milk fat, and not more than six-tenths of one per cent of pure and harmless vegetable gum or gelatin.

Nut ice cream.

(13) Nut ice cream is the frozen product made from pure, sweet cream, sugar, and sound, non-rancid nuts, and contains not less than eight per cent of milk fat, and not more than six-tenths of one per cent of pure and harmless vegetable gum or gelatin.

Ice milk.

(14) Ice milk is the frozen product, containing less fat than ice cream, and made from pure, sweet milk and sugar, with or without a harmless flavoring or coloring, and contains not less than two and four-tenths per cent of milk fat, and not more than six-tenths of one per cent of pure and harmless vegetable gum or gelatin.

Pasteurization. Repasteurization forbidden.

(15) The process of pasteurization, as applied to milk, skim milk, cream and milk products, is hereby defined to be a process for the elimination therefrom of organisms harmful to human beings, which process shall consist of uniformly heating such milk, skim milk or cream, as the case may be, to a temperature of not less than one hundred forty degrees Fahrenheit and of holding the same at the said temperature for a period of not less than twenty-five minutes, and immediately thereafter of cooling the same to a temperature of not above fifty degrees Fahrenheit; provided, that when cream is pasteurized to be used and is used in the manufacture of butter, or when milk is pasteurized to be used and is used in the manufacture of cheese, and where the process of ripening or starting in each case is to be commenced immediately, then it shall not be required that such cream or milk be cooled to a lower degree than is necessary for such ripening or starting. All pasteurized cream or milk used in the manufacture of pasteurized butter and cheese, respectively, shall be pasteurized at and in the plant where such butter or cheese, as the case may be, is manufactured therefrom. Repasteurization of any milk is hereby expressly forbidden.

Pasteurization apparatus to be kept clean.

Also all apparatus used for the pasteurization of milk, skim milk or cream shall be kept in strictly clean and sanitary condition and shall be equipped with a recording thermometer device which will accurately record the temperature to which, and the length of time for which the pasteurized product has been heated. All recording thermometer devices used in the pasteurization of any such milk, skim milk or cream must be approved by and at all times subject to the approval of the state dairy bureau, the state board of health, and of all other state, county and municipal officers charged with the enforcement of laws and ordinances respecting dairy products or the public health; and all persons, firms or corporations using pasteurizing apparatus within the state of California shall preserve and keep on file, for a period of not less than two months after the same are made, all records made by such thermometer, or in lieu of such preservation may deliver such records to any public officer authorized by law or ordinance to receive the same, and said records shall, at all times, be open to the inspection of the state dairy bureau, the state board of health, and of all other state, county and municipal officers charged with the enforcement of laws and ordinances respecting dairy products or the public health. [Amendment of May 4, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 333.]

Unlawful to sell skimmed milk not properly labeled.

§ 30. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell, exchange or deliver, or to offer for sale, exchange or delivery, or to cause or permit to be sold, exchanged or delivered, or to be offered for sale, exchange or delivery, or to have in possession for sale, exchange or delivery, any milk from which any part of the cream shall have been removed, or any skimmed milk, unless the same be offered for sale and sold as skimmed milk, or unless there shall be attached to the outside of every vessel, can or package from or in which such skimmed milk is sold or held for exchange or delivery, a tag upon which shall be printed in black letters at least one inch in height the word "skim" or the words "skimmed milk."

Rules and standards for marketing.

§ 30a. The following rules and standards must be observed by all persons, firms or corporations engaged in the preparation of dairy products for market or delivery thereto:

(1) The owner's name, or other identification mark, the nature of which shall be made known to the dairy inspectors shall appear permanently and in a conspicuous place on or be attached to every milk or cream bottle, can or container.

(2) All milk, cream and ice cream cans, bottles and containers shall be kept clean and shall be thoroughly washed and sterilized after each using. [New section added May 5, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 284.]

Standards for carriers.

§ 30b. All carriers of dairy products, whether producer, gratuitous private carrier other than the producer, private carrier for hire, or common carrier, in transporting milk and cream shipping containers shall observe and maintain the following standard:

(2) All milk or cream cans or other shipping containers, while containing milk, cream, or other dairy products, shall be handled carefully, and kept right end up.

(3) Every vehicle, railway car or boat in which milk or cream is transported shall be kept in a sanitary condition. Every vehicle and every boat transporting milk or cream either shall be enclosed or shall provide canvas covering to protect the milk and cream at all times from the sun or from the outside warm air, except only while taking on or discharging freight. No fowls, fresh meat or other contaminating things shall be kept or carried on top or in close proximity to milk, cream, or other dairy products.

(4) No milk or cream and no empty cans, bottles, or other containers shall be hauled in any vehicle for hauling manure or garbage or in any other unclean vehicle, car or boat.

(5) Nothing herein shall be construed to derogate from any powers or authority of the railroad commission of the state of California. [New section added May 5, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 284.]

Rules for assembled dairy products.

§ 30c. Persons producing or marketing assembled dairy products must conform to the following rules: All the ingredients used in the process of assembling must conform to all the standards of purity set for such ingredients and must have been produced under the same sanitary conditions and regulations required for the production of milk and cream where such products are sold, and such products must be labeled as herein provided for assembled products in imitation of milk, cream and ice cream.

All assembled dairy products to which has been added any condensed or evaporated milk, or any condensed or evaporated skimmed milk, or any dry milk or milk powder or any skimmed milk or skimmed powder or any butter or sweet butter or dairy products that have been produced by the mechanical assembling of any of the natural ingredients of milk or cream, shall be so labeled on each container thereof with the words "Assembled from milk, butter, milk powder, skim milk or other milk products," as the case may be, correctly naming on the label, bill of sale, invoice and bill of fare, all the ingredients used in such assembled goods, in plain letters of the English language at least one-eighth of an inch in height; and no other names or prefixes shall be used than those by which such ingredients are separately known to the commercial trade. [New section added May 5, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 284.]

Penalties.

§ 30d. Any person who violates any provision of section thirty c of this act or who directs or knowingly permits in employee to violate any of said provisions, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten days nor more than sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Any firm, corporation, society or association which violates any of said provisions shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined as above provided.

In the event an officer, director, manager or managing agent of any firm, corporation, society, or association violates any of the provisions of section thirty c of this act, or directs or knowingly permits any employee to violate any of said provisions, such officer, director, manager or managing agent shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by fine or imprisonment or both as above provided; and, in such a case, the firm, corporation, society or association shall also be guilty and upon conviction shall be fined as above provided. One-half of all such fines shall be paid into the state treasury and placed to the credit of the general fund. [New section added May 5, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 285.]

Milk wagons, etc., to bear name of owner.

§ 31. All wagons, vehicles, or carts from which market milk, cream, butter, ice cream, buttermilk, or ice milk are sold, marketed, delivered, or peddled, shall have the name and address of the owner plainly painted thereon, in letters at least three inches high, and one and a half inches wide, on both sides of such vehicle.

"Ice milk" to be properly labeled.

§ 32. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to manufacture for sale, sell, or furnish with meals or drinks which are sold, any frozen edibles, made principally of skimmed milk, or principally of milk, unless the same shall conform to the definitions and standards herein fixed in section 29 for "ice milk" or "ice cream."

Unlawful to use borax, etc., to prevent souring. Adding coloring, etc.

§ 33. It shall be unlawful for any person to produce, manufacture or prepare for sale, or to sell, or to offer for sale, or to have on hand for sale, any milk, or product of milk, to which has been added, or that may contain, any compound of boron, salicylic acid, formaldehyde, or other chemical or substance for the purpose of preventing or delaying fermentation or souring. It shall be unlawful for any person to produce, manufacture or prepare for sale, or to sell, or to offer for sale, or to have on hand for sale, any milk, cream or condensed milk to which any coloring matter has been added by any person, or to which any gelatin or other substance has been added by any person to increase the consistency of such milk, cream or condensed milk, so as to make such milk, cream or condensed milk appear richer or of better quality; provided, that this section shall not be construed to prohibit the use of harmless coloring matter and common salt (chloride of sodium) in butter and cheese.

§ 34. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, manufacturing any frozen goods, which do not conform to the standards and provisions of this act for ice cream, to sell, or offer to sell, or represent the same as ice cream, or under the name of ice cream; and all frozen goods which do not conform to the standards and requirements of this act for "ice cream," but which do conform to the standards and requirements for "ice milk" herein, for the purpose of this act, shall be known as "ice milk," and shall be sold and designated as "ice milk," and not otherwise, and shall be billed as "ice milk," and every person, firm or corporation selling, furnishing or delivering to any person any such "ice milk" shall distinctly inform the purchaser at the time in each and every instance that the said goods are "ice milk." The absence of such declaration shall always be construed as a representation on the part of the vendor that the goods are ice cream.

Every tub, receptacle or packer in which there shall be kept, sold, or delivered, at any time, any "ice milk," as herein defined, shall have conspicuously and securely attached thereto a durable tag, giving the name and address of the manufacturer or vendor of the same, and containing the words "ice milk" in letters at least one inch high and one-half inch wide, and containing no other reference to the name or character of the goods therein contained. The absence of such tag or label shall always be construed as a representation on the part of the maker or vendor that said goods are ice cream.

Every wagon, vehicle or cart, in or from which any "ice milk" shall be sold, furnished, delivered or peddled, shall have plainly and durably painted on both sides thereof, the name and address of the owner, in letters at least three inches high, and one and a half inches wide, and also the words "ice milk" on each side thereof, in letters at least four inches high, and two inches wide, and there shall be no other reference to the name or character of the goods being sold or delivered. The absence of such words and letters shall always be construed as a representation on the part of the owner or vendor that said goods are ice cream.

Every person, firm or corporation, who sells, keeps for sale, delivers, or furnishes in connection with meals, or in connection with drinks, or otherwise, any ice milk, within the meaning of this act, to be used or eaten on the premises where sold, shall keep at all times posted or hung in at least two conspicuous places within the premises, and in plain view of the public, durable signs having printed or painted thereon the words "we sell ice milk," or "we serve ice milk," in letters at least four inches high and two inches wide. The absence of such signs, words and letters, as herein required shall always be construed as a representation on the part of the owner, or person selling or serving the goods, that they are ice cream. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to manufacture, sell, deliver, furnish, serve, or keep on hand any ice milk, within the meaning of this act, unless the same is done in compliance with all the requirements hereof.

Branding cheese.

§ 35. Every person, firm or corporation, who shall manufacture cheese in the state of California, shall at the place of manufacture, brand distinctly and durably on each and every cheese manufactured, and upon the package or box, when shipped, the grade of cheese manufactured, as follows: "full-cream cheese," or "half-skim cheese," or "skim cheese."

Dairy bureau to issue brands.

All brands for branding the different grades of cheese shall be procured from the state dairy bureau, and said bureau is hereby directed and authorized to issue to all persons, firms or corporations, upon application therefor, uniform brands, consecutively numbered, of the different grades specified in this section. The state dairy bureau shall keep a record of each and every brand issued, and the name and location of the manufacturer receiving the same. No manufacturer of cheese in the state of California other than the one to whom such brand is issued, shall use the same, and in case of a change of location, the party shall notify the bureau of such change.

Grades of cheese defined. Unlawful to sell without brand.

The different grades of cheese are hereby defined as follows: First: Such cheese only as shall have been manufactured from pure milk, and from which no portion of the butter fat has been removed by skimming or otherwise, and having not less than fifty per cent of butter fat in its water-free substance, which shall be conspicuously branded as "full-cream cheese." Second: Such cheese only as shall have been made from pure milk, and having not less than twenty-five per cent of butter fat in its water-free substance, which shall be conspicuously branded as "half-skim cheese." Third: Such cheese only as shall have been made from pure skim milk, which shall be conspicuously branded as "skim cheese."

No person or persons, firm, association or corporation shall sell or offer for sale in this state any cheese which is not branded either "full-cream cheese," "half-skim cheese," or "skim cheese," in accordance with its butter fat content. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1656.]

"Persons" defined. Act of agent deemed act of corporation.

§ 36. The word "persons," as used in this act, shall be construed to import both the singular and plural, as the case demands, and shall include individuals, corporations, companies, societies and associations. When construing and enforcing the provisions of this act, the act, omission or failure of any employee, officer, agent or other person, acting for or employed by any individual, corporation, company, society or association, within the scope of his employment or office, shall in every case also be deemed to be the act, omission or failure of such individual, corporation, company, society or association, as well as that of the person. The provisions of this act shall be construed to apply to hotel-keepers, restaurant-keepers and boarding-house keepers or any person who shall serve meals and accept money therefor.

Agent of dairy bureau may enter premises. Unlawful to interfere with inspectors.

§ 37. Every agent and inspector of the state dairy bureau, and every inspector of any city, county or state board of health is hereby authorized to enter upon and inspect any dairy, dairy premises, creamery, cheese factory, ice cream factory, or other place where dairy products of any kind are being produced, sold, delivered or used, or where they suspect that oleomargarine, or other substances designed to be used as a substitute for butter, or renovated butter, or imitation butter, or imitation cheese are being manufactured, sold, kept, delivered, transported or stored in violation of any of the provisions of this act.

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to prevent or interfere with the duly authorized inspectors or agents of the state dairy bureau, or any city, county or state board of health, or the inspectors thereof, from entering or inspecting any place or premises where milk or products of milk or where oleomargarine, or imitation butter or cheese, or renovated butter, or any substance designed to be used as a substitute for butter, are produced, manufactured, prepared, sold, kept for sale, furnished or served, or to prevent or interfere with such inspectors or agents in the event they deem it advisable to secure samples of milk or milk products, or oleomargarine, or imitation butter or cheese, or renovated butter, or any substance designed to be used as a substitute for butter, at or from any such place or person, for the purpose of ascertaining whether this act is being violated, or to interfere with or prevent any such inspector or agent from examining any record or books required by the provisions of this act to be open to the inspection of the state dairy bureau, or its agents.

Failure to conform to act a misdemeanor.

Penalty for violating sections 9 to 24.

§ 39. Whoever shall violate any of the provisions of sections 9 to 24 both inclusive of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished for the first offense, by a fine of not less than fifty dollars, nor more than one hundred and fifty dollars; or by imprisonment in the county jail for not exceeding thirty days; and for each subsequent offense, by a fine of not less than one hundred and fifty dollars nor more than three hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days, nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court.

Penalty for violating sections 25 to 35, and 37.

§ 40. Whoever shall violate any of the provisions of sections 25 to 35, both inclusive, or of section 37 of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than two hundred dollars; or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten days and not exceeding sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court.

Other sections.

§ 41. Whoever shall violate any of the provisions of this act other than sections 9 to 35, both inclusive, and section 37 (the punishment for which is provided in sections 39 and 40 hereof) shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than ten days nor more than one hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Disposition of fines.

§ 42. One-half of all the fines imposed for the violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be paid to the county in which the fine is imposed. The other one-half shall be paid to the state treasurer and shall become part of the general fund. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1657.]

Dairy bureau to enforce act. Statistics of dairy industry. Report of contagious diseases among cattle. Officers of dairy bureau. Inspections.

§ 43. It shall be the duty of the state dairy bureau, now existing under the laws of this state, to enforce the provisions of this act; provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent any city or county board of health or other city or county official from enforcing the provisions of this act; and provided, further, that no conviction shall be had where a conviction is sought upon any alleged sample of milk, or product of milk, unless such sample has been taken in duplicate, sealed and marked for identification and one of such samples left with the person accused. The state dairy bureau is authorized under this act to gather and compile statistics relative to the dairy industry, and to disseminate the same and other information useful to, and to the general good and development of the dairy industry of the state, and to do such other things as will tend to promote the dairy industry of the state. Whenever any agent or inspector of the state dairy bureau shall discover the existence of any contagious or infectious disease among dairy cattle, or have reason to believe that such disease may exist, the same shall be immediately reported to the state veterinarian. The state dairy bureau shall have power to employ an agent or secretary at a salary of twenty-four hundred dollars a year, and such inspectors, assistants and chemists as from time to time it may deem necessary for the proper enforcement of the provisions of this act, and to fix the compensation of such inspectors at not to exceed five dollars per day, exclusive of their necessary and actual expenses, such expenses to be itemized and rendered under oath, or one hundred and twenty-five dollars per month exclusive of their necessary and actual expenses. Such agents shall have had experience in the manufacture of dairy products and the handling of dairy cattle. The state dairy bureau, through its agent and secretary, and assistant agents, shall inspect the dairies, dairy cattle, creameries and other factories of dairy products, markets and other places where dairy products are prepared or handled, and keep a careful record of such inspection and report the same to the state dairy bureau and upon evidence obtained that any of the provisions of this act are being violated, the state dairy bureau, through its agent and secretary, or its inspectors, shall duly enter complaint against the party or parties, responsible for such violations and cause the same to be prosecuted, except in cases where any dairy, creamery or other factory of milk products, or store or depot where milk and its products are handled and sold, is found to be in an unsanitary condition, in which case the agent and secretary, or the inspector, for the district in which the violation occurred, shall serve upon the owner, or owners, or person in charge of the dairy, creamery or other factory of milk products so found to be in an unsanitary condition, a written notice specifying in detail the changes required to be made to place such dairy, creamery, or other factory of milk products or store or depot in a sanitary condition as defined in this act. Should such changes not have been made at the expiration of thirty days after the date when the notice was served, the state dairy bureau, through its agent and secretary, or its inspectors, shall enter complaint against the person or persons responsible for such unsanitary conditions and cause them to be prosecuted for violating this act.

Duty of district attorney to bring actions.

Act of 1897 continued. Repealed.

§ 45. The provisions of section 15 of the act approved March 4, 1897, entitled "An act to prevent deception in the manufacture and sale of butter and cheese, to secure its enforcement, and to appropriate money therefor," are hereby expressly continued in force; and the present state dairy bureau shall continue in existence in all respects as now constituted under existing laws; and the members thereof shall continue to be chosen and appointed in all respects as now provided under existing laws; the intention being that the existing laws, under which said bureau is constituted and now exists and by which its powers are conferred and its duties are prescribed, shall in no way be impaired or affected by this act.

Repeal.

§ 46. Section 17 of an act entitled "An act to prevent deception in the manufacture and sale of butter and cheese, to secure its enforcement, and to appropriate money therefor," approved March 4, 1897, is hereby repealed.

§ 47. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

1. Certiorari will not lie to review a judgment of conviction for the sale of adulterated milk as defined by section 29 of the act, where no attack was made upon the validity of the act, and where the lower court clearly had jurisdiction.—Revis v. Superior Court, 22 Cal. App. 479, 134 Pac. 1159.

2. Unregistered dairy.—Action for sale of milk.—The act does not prohibit the sale of milk that is pure and wholesome from an unregistered dairy, but merely makes the failure to register a misdemeanor, and it is no defense to an action for the price of milk sold under contract that the plaintiff sold the milk from an unregistered dairy required by the act to be registered.—Luchini v. Roux, 29 Cal. App. 755, 157 Pac. 554.

STANDARD FOR CONDENSED AND EVAPORATED MILK.

ACT 1168—An act to establish a standard for evaporated milk and condensed milk.

History: Approved April 24, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1101.

Standard of condensed milk.

§ 1. The standard of purity of condensed milk and evaporated milk shall be that proclaimed and established by the secretary of the United States department of agriculture.

Repeal of inconsistent acts.

§ 2. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Standard of condensed milk.—See § 29, subdv. (3) of Act 1167, which became a law by amendment of original act August 8, 1915.

USE OF CHEMICALS TO PREVENT FERMENTATION.

ACT 1168a—An act to prohibit the use of chemicals and other materials in milk and milk products to prevent fermentation therein.

History: Approved March 23, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 971.

Milk, use of substances to prevent fermentation prohibited.

which has been added, or that may contain, any compound of boron, salicylic acid, formaldehyde or other chemical or substance for the purpose of preventing or delaying fermentation. It shall be unlawful for any person to produce, manufacture or prepare for sale, or to sell, or to offer for sale, or have on hand for sale, any milk, cream or condensed milk to which any coloring matter has been added by any person or to which any gelatine or other substance has been added by any person to increase the consistency of such milk, cream or condensed milk, so as [to] make such milk, cream or condensed milk appear richer or to [sic] better quality; provided, that this section shall not be construed to prohibit the use of harmless coloring matter and common salt (chloride of sodium) in butter and cheese. The word "person" as used in this act shall be construed to import both the singular and plural, as the case demands, and shall include individuals, corporations, companies, societies and associations. When construing and enforcing the provisions of this act, the act, omission or failure of any employee, officer, agent or other person, acting for or employed by any individual, corporation, company, society or association, within the scope of his employment or office, shall in every case also be deemed to be the act, omission or failure of such individual, corporation, company, society or association, as well as that of the person. The provisions of this act shall be construed to apply to hotel-keepers, restaurant-keepers and boarding-house keepers, or to any other person who shall serve meals and accept money therefor.

Duty of state dairy bureau.

§ 2. It shall be the duty of the state dairy bureau, now existing under the laws of this state, to enforce the provisions of this act; provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent any city or county board of health or other city or county official from enforcing the provisions of this act.

Penalty for violation. Samples of milk. Disposition of fines.

§ 3. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars ($25.00) nor more than two hundred dollars ($200.00) or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten days nor more than sixty days; provided that no conviction shall be had when a conviction is sought upon any alleged sample of milk, or product of milk, unless such sample has been taken in duplicate, sealed, and marked for identification, and one of such samples left with the person accused. All fines collected under this act shall be paid to the state dairy bureau when the complaint is made through the state dairy bureau and the state dairy bureau shall pay the same to the state treasurer and the amount paid by the state dairy bureau to the state treasurer is hereby appropriated to the use of the state dairy bureau for the fiscal year in which the amount is paid to the state treasurer.

Interference with inspectors.

§ 4. It shall be unlawful for any person to prevent or interfere with the duly authorized inspectors or agents of the state dairy bureau, or any city or county board of health, from entering any place or premises where milk or products of milk are produced or manufactured, or prepared, or to prevent or interfere with such inspectors or agents, in the event they deem it advisable to secure samples of milk or milk products from any person producing or selling milk or products of milk for the purpose of analyzing the same to ascertain whether this act is being violated.

Duty of district attorney.

§ 5. It shall be the duty of the district attorney, upon application by the state dairy bureau or by any city or county board of health to attend to the prosecution, in the name of the people, of any complaint entered for the violation of any of the provisions of this act within his district.

Inconsistent acts repealed.

§ 6. All acts, or parts of acts, inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

Act takes effect when.

§ 7. This act shall take effect and be in force sixty days after its passage.

ACT 1169—An act to regulate the production of certified milk, cream, ice cream, butter and cheese; and repealing an act entitled "An act to regulate the production of certified milk," approved March 18, 1909, and all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act.

History: Approved April 25, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 83. Former act of March 18, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 402, repealed by present act; also, act of March 17, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 382, superseded by present act.

Certified milk regulations.

§ 1. No person, firm or corporation shall sell or exchange, or offer or expose for sale or exchange, as and for certified milk, any milk which does not conform to the rules and regulations and to the methods and standards for the production and distribution of "certified milk" adopted by the American association of medical milk commissions on May 1st, 1912, and which does not bear the certification of a milk commission appointed by a county medical society organized under and chartered by the medical society of the state of California, and which has not been pronounced by such authority to be free from antiseptics, added preservatives, and pathogenic bacteria, or bacteria in excessive numbers. All milk sold as certified milk shall be conspicuously marked with the name of the commission certifying it. Such milk commission shall make all requirements for the production and handling of certified milk uniform and fair, and shall not refuse to certify milk for any applicant for certification who shall comply with the provisions of this act.

Certified cream, butter, milk, etc.

§ 2. No person, firm or corporation shall sell or exchange or offer or expose for sale or exchange, any cream, skimmed milk, buttermilk, ice cream, butter or cheese as and for certified cream, certified skimmed milk, certified buttermilk, certified ice cream, certified butter or certified cheese, as the case may be, or use the word "certified" in connection with the sale, designation, advertising, labeling or billing of any cream, skimmed milk, buttermilk, ice cream, butter or cheese unless the same and all products of milk contained therein or used in the manufacture thereof are obtained exclusively from milk which conforms to the requirements of this act for certified milk and which bears the certification of a milk commission in accordance with the provisions of section 1 of this act, and unless in addition thereto the methods and conditions under which such cream, skimmed milk, buttermilk, ice cream, butter and cheese, as the case may be, have been prepared or manufactured, as regards cleanliness and sanitation, shall conform to the requirements of the milk commission whose certification is sought. All cream, skimmed milk, buttermilk, ice cream, butter and cheese sold, designated, advertised or offered for sale, as certified cream, certified skimmed milk, certified buttermilk, certified ice cream, certified butter or certified cheese shall be conspicuously marked with the name of the commission certifying it and certifying the milk from which such cream, ice cream, butter and cheese is obtained.

Penalty.

§ 3. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five (25) dollars nor more than two hundred ($200) dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten (10) nor more than sixty (60) days.

Act repealed.

§ 4. An act entitled "An act to regulate the production of certified milk," approved March 18, 1909, and all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act, are hereby repealed.

DAIRY INSPECTION ACT OF 1917.

ACT 1171—An act to prevent the sale of impure and unwholesome milk, butter, ice cream and other milk products; to declare ice cream a milk product; to grade milk; to provide rules and regulations therefor, and to empower cities, groups of cities, counties and groups of counties, or cities and counties, to establish inspection service; to provide for the enforcement of this act; to prescribe penalties for violation of the provisions hereof; and to repeal an act entitled, "An act to prevent the sale of impure and unwholesome milk, to grade milk, to provide rules and regulations therefor, and to empower cities, groups of cities, counties and groups of counties, or cities and counties, to establish inspection service; to provide for the enforcement of this act; to prescribe penalties for violation of the provisions hereof; and to make an appropriation therefor," approved June 15, 1915.

History: Approved May 22, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 803. Amended May 6, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 326. Former act of June 11, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1478, repealed by the present act.

Milk must be pasteurized. Cream for butter. Butter used in manufacture of foodstuffs. Marking of butter. Ice cream a milk product.

§ 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, except in bulk to the wholesale trade, to sell or exchange or offer or expose for sale or exchange for human consumption any milk from cows that have not passed the tuberculin test, until it has been pasteurized by the holding process at a temperature not less than one hundred forty degrees Fahrenheit for twenty-five minutes; provided, that milk for drinking purposes shall not be heated for more than one hour nor above one hundred forty-five degrees Fahrenheit; provided, further, that cream that is to be manufactured into butter may be pasteurized by heating it to a higher degree than milk and, when the same is uniformly heated to and held at a higher degree of temperature than one hundred fifty-one degrees Fahrenheit, the time for holding may be decreased from twenty-five minutes by one minute for each degree of temperature over one hundred fifty-one degrees Fahrenheit. It shall further be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell or exchange or offer or expose for sale or exchange for human consumption any butter, ice cream or other milk products except cheese and butter as hereinafter provided, into the composition of which any milk enters other than that permitted in this section of this act, to be sold at retail for human consumption; provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit the use or sale of butter that is not pasteurized or butter that is not the product of nonreacting tuberculin-tested cows; provided, that said butter be used by manufacturers of foodstuffs only and in the manufacture of such foodstuffs said butter shall be subjected to a minimum temperature of two hundred twenty-five degrees Fahrenheit; and provided, further, that it shall be unlawful to use any such butter except in the manufacture of food subjected to said temperature. Butter offered for sale for human consumption shall be marked: "From nonreacting tuberculin-tested cows," or "Pasteurized," as the case may be. Butter, which, by the provisions of this act, is permitted to be used for cooking and baking purposes only shall be marked "For cooking and baking only." Ice cream is hereby declared to be a milk product. For the purpose of this act milk shall be construed to include cream.

Sale of milk where milk inspection service established.

§ 2. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell or exchange, or offer or expose for sale or exchange, in any city, county, or city and county, in which a milk inspection service, approved by the state dairy bureau, has been established, any milk otherwise than as hereinafter provided in this act, and for the purpose of this act, the term "inspecting department" shall be construed to mean the health department of a county or group of counties, city or group of cities, or city and county maintaining a milk inspection service approved by the state dairy bureau, and such inspecting department shall include at least one regularly licensed physician. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell or exchange, or offer or expose for sale or exchange any milk as and for, or under the designation, label or other representation of "guaranteed," "grade A," or "grade B" milk, except within a county or group of counties, city or group of cities, or city and county maintaining a milk inspection service approved by the state dairy bureau; provided, that a person, firm or corporation, which is authorized to sell milk within the jurisdiction of an inspecting department may sell milk from the same supply, of the same quality, in similar containers, and under the same label in territory outside the jurisdiction of any inspecting department, if local ordinances are not thereby violated, and also in territory within the jurisdiction of any other inspecting department; provided, the consent of said other inspecting department has been previously obtained.

Milk not to be sold for human consumption.

§ 3. All milk sold or exchanged or offered or exposed for sale or exchange except in bulk to the wholesale trade in any county or group of counties, city or group of cities, or city and county, in which a milk inspection service, approved by the state dairy bureau has been established, except certified milk, guaranteed milk, grade A milk and grade B milk, is hereby declared to be impure and unwholesome and must not be sold for human consumption.

Grades of milk. Grade marked.

§ 4. Where an inspection service is maintained as provided in section two of this act, milk shall be graded as follows: certified milk, guaranteed milk, grade A milk, grade B milk and milk not suitable for human consumption; provided, that milk sold or exchanged or offered or exposed for sale or exchange as and for, or under the designation, label or other representation of "guaranteed," "grade A," or "grade B," milk shall have the grade and whether raw or pasteurized marked on the container or cap of the container in capital letters not less than one-eighth inch long and one-sixteenth inch wide; and provided, further, that milk not suitable for human consumption shall be plainly so marked.

Approval of inspecting department.

§ 5. No person, firm or corporation shall sell or exchange, or offer or expose for sale or exchange, as or for guaranteed milk, any milk, raw or pasteurized the quality of which is guaranteed by the dealer, without approval in writing of the inspecting department, which milk must be of a higher standard than that required for grade A raw milk.

Requirements for grade A milk. Dairies having not more than two cows.

§ 6. No person, firm or corporation shall sell or exchange, or offer or expose for sale or exchange, as and for grade A milk, any milk that does not conform to the rules and regulations and the methods and standards for production and distribution of grade A milk adopted by the inspecting department.

Grade A milk shall conform to the following requirements as a minimum: if raw, it shall consist of the clean raw milk from healthy cows as determined by physical examination at least once in six months by a qualified veterinarian under the supervision of the inspecting department, and by the tuberculin test by a qualified veterinarian under the supervision of the state veterinarian, and from dairies that score not less than seventy per cent on the score card hereinafter set forth; provided, however, that dairies having not more than two milking cows, and, which are found by any such inspecting department to comply fully with the remaining provisions of this act are hereby exempted from such scoring requirements and from the use of the labels prescribed in section four hereof. The tuberculin test must be repeated annually if no reacting animals are found in the herd. If reacting animals are found they must be removed from the herd, and the tuberculin test repeated in six months. All cows are to be fed, watered, housed and milked under conditions approved by the inspecting department. All persons who come in contact with the milk must exercise scrupulous cleanliness and must not harbor the germs of typhoid fever, tuberculosis, diphtheria or other infectious diseases liable to be conveyed by milk. Absence of such infections shall be determined by cultures and physical examination, to the satisfaction of the inspecting department.

Sterile containers. Bacteria content.

This milk is to be delivered in sterile containers and is to be kept at a temperature established by the inspecting department until it reaches the ultimate consumer, when it must contain less than one hundred thousand bacteria per cubic centimeter. If pasteurized it shall come from cows free from diseases as determined by physical examination at least once in six months, by a qualified veterinarian under the supervision of the inspecting department. It shall contain less than two hundred thousand bacteria per cubic centimeter before pasteurization and less than fifteen thousand bacteria per cubic centimeter at the time of delivery to the ultimate consumer. Dairies from which this milk is derived must score at least sixty on the score card hereinafter set forth.

Requirements for grade B milk.

§ 7. No person, firm or corporation shall sell or exchange, or offer or expose for sale or exchange, as and for grade B milk, any milk that does not conform to the following requirements as a minimum; it must be obtained from cows in no way unfit for the production of milk for use by man, as determined by physical examination at least once in six months by a qualified veterinarian under the supervision of the inspecting department. Before pasteurization such milk shall contain less than one million bacteria per cubic centimeter. After pasteurization it shall contain less than fifty thousand bacteria per cubic centimeter.

Pasteurization.

Milk for pasteurization must be kept at a temperature established by the inspecting department up to the time of delivery to the pasteurization plant and rapidly cooled after pasteurization to a temperature of fifty degrees Fahrenheit or below and so maintained to the time of delivery of the same. Pasteurization shall be by the holding method at a temperature not less than one hundred forty degrees Fahrenheit; provided, that milk for drinking purposes shall not be heated above one hundred forty-five degrees Fahrenheit.

Records.

Such pasteurization plant shall be equipped with a self-registering device for record of the time and temperature of pasteurization. Such records shall be kept for two months and be available for inspection by any health department, the state veterinarian or any of his agents, or the state dairy bureau. Pasteurized milk shall be marked with the day of the week of pasteurization and must be delivered to the consumer within forty-eight hours thereafter. If milk is repasteurized, it must not be sold except as not suitable for human consumption; provided, however, if graded, cream of any grade shall conform to all the standards set for milk of the same grade, except that the maximum bacteria count for cream shall be not more than three times as great as that of the corresponding grade of milk. [Amendment of May 6, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 327.]

Milk not suitable for human consumption.

§ 8. Milk not suitable for human consumption may be sold for industrial purposes, provided it be heated to a higher temperature than necessary for pasteurization, and delivered in a distinctive container, plainly marked with the words "Not suitable for human consumption," in letters not less than one-quarter inch in length and one-twelfth inch stroke.

Counties, etc., may maintain inspection service.

§ 9. Counties, or groups of counties, cities or groups of cities, or cities and counties, are hereby authorized to maintain a milk inspection service and laboratory conformable to requirements as set forth by the state dairy bureau, and to establish pasteurizing plants.

Penalties for violation.

§ 10. Any person who violates any provision of this act or the rules made in accordance with section eleven of this act or who directs or knowingly permits an employee to violate any of said provisions or said rules, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten days nor more than sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Duty of state dairy bureau.

§ 11. It shall be the duty of the state dairy bureau, with the assistance of the pure food and drugs laboratory, to enforce all the provisions of this act except the tuberculin testing of cows and the marketing of reactors; and said bureau, with the approval and assistance of the pure food and drugs laboratory, is hereby empowered to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary and advisable for such enforcement.

Duty of state veterinarian.

§ 12. It shall be the duty of the state veterinarian, as soon as practicable, either directly or through local inspecting departments, to enforce the provisions of this act as to the tuberculin testing of cows and the exclusion of reacting animals from the herds, and to mark indelibly by tattooing the ear with the capital letter "T" one inch long any cattle which have been tested with tuberculin under the provisions of this act and found to react to the test. For such purpose he may appoint such veterinarians as may be necessary.

Dairyman not operating under inspecting department.

§ 13. If any dairyman not operating under an inspecting department desires to sell milk, he may file with the state veterinarian a written request that his cows be tuberculin tested. After the filing of such request, said dairyman shall not be liable under the provisions of this act until such time as the state veterinarian shall be able to make the required test. The provision of this section shall apply also to any dairyman, operating under an inspecting department, if such inspecting department approves.

§ 14. The following score card shall be used in scoring dairies under the provisions of this act:

IMITATION MILK.

ACT 1172—An act to define imitation milk and to regulate the business of producing, buying or selling imitation milk or imitation milk products, providing for the licensing of said business by the state dairy bureau, and prescribing penalties for a violation or the provisions hereof, and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith.

History: Approved April 15, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 89.

Imitation milk defined.

§ 1. For the purposes of this act certain manufactured substances, certain mixtures and compounds shall be known and designated as "imitation milk," namely: (a) any mixture or compound composed of skim milk or condensed, evaporated or powdered skim milk and any edible oil or fat other than natural milk fat, whether with or without any other ingredient or ingredients; (b) any mixture or compound made in imitation or semblance, or having the appearance or semblance, of milk or condensed or evaporated milk, or when so made or having such appearance or semblance calculated or intended, whether by intent of the compounder or other person, or by reason of the appearance or other characteristic of the mixture or compound, for use or disposition as or for milk, or as or for condensed or evaporated milk, or to induce its purchase, or use as or for milk or condensed or evaporated milk.

Manufacture and sale of imitation milk.

§ 2. No person by himself, his agents or servants shall render, manufacture, sell, offer for sale, expose for sale, or have in his possession with intent to sell or to use, or to serve to patrons, customers, boarders or inmates of any hotel, dwelling-house, restaurant, public conveyance or boarding house, any article, product or compound made wholly or in part, out of any imitation milk; provided, that nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the manufacture or sale, under regulations hereinafter provided, of imitation milk, of substances or compounds that may be used as imitation milk, of a separate and distinct character not resembling milk or condensed or evaporated milk, and in such a manner as will advise the purchaser and consumer of its real character, colored or containing ingredients that cause to look unlike pure whole cow's milk or the condensed or evaporated product made therefrom; and provided, further, it is not adulterated within the meaning of this act; and provided, further, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent or prohibit the manufacture, sale, or use, for cooking purposes, of imitation milk as defined by section one of this act.

Imitation milk to be labeled.

§ 3. Each person, who by himself, or another, lawfully manufactures any imitation milk, or any substitute that may be used as and substituted for milk or condensed or evaporated milk, shall mark the same by printing, stamping or stenciling upon the top, if the top be of sufficient size and upon the sides of each case, box, carton, or other package, in which that article or substance shall be kept, and in which it shall be removed from the place where it is produced or put up in a clear manner, in the English language, the words, "imitation milk," in printed letters in plain roman type, each of which shall not be less than one inch in height and one-half inch in width, and in addition to the above shall prepare a statement, printed in plain roman type, of a size not smaller than pica, stating in the English language its name, and the name and address of the manufacturer, the name of the place where manufactured or put up, and also the name and actual percentages of the various ingredients used in the manufacture of such imitation milk; and shall place a copy of said statement within and upon the contents of each case, box, carton, or other package, and next to that portion of each case, box, carton, or other package as is commonly and most conveniently opened, and in addition thereto shall label each bottle, can, container, or other package containing imitation milk with the words "imitation milk" printed in black-face plain roman capital letters of a size not less than twelve point, and said words shall appear upon the main or principal label of said bottles, cans, containers, or other packages containing any imitation milk, and in addition thereto said main or principal label shall contain or bear the words: "Not suitable for infant food," in plain legible type.

Adulteration.

§ 4. Imitation milk, not condensed or evaporated, shall be deemed adulterated within the meaning of this act if it contains less than three per cent of edible fats, or oils, and imitation milk, if evaporated or condensed, shall be deemed adulterated within the meaning of this act if it contains less than seven and eight-tenths per cent of edible fats or oils.

Display of sign by restaurants, etc.

License for manufacture and sale of imitation milk. Licenses issued annually. Fee.

§ 6. No person, firm or corporation shall engage in the business or occupation of manufacturing, selling, dealing, or in furnishing imitation milk, without first having applied for and obtained a license so to do as hereinafter provided. Any person, firm or corporation dealing in or engaged in the business or occupation of manufacturing, selling, dealing in or furnishing to his, its or their patrons, imitation milk, as in this act defined shall first make application each year to the state dairy bureau for a license, and upon payment of license fee of the amount mentioned herein to the state dairy bureau, said bureau shall issue to the applicant a license. All such licenses shall contain the following proviso; provided, that this license does not authorize the holder thereof to manufacture, sell, deal in or furnish any imitation milk and similar substances that may be used as a substitute for milk or condensed or evaporated milk which resembles in appearance pure whole cow's milk, or the condensed or evaporated product made therefrom. All such licenses shall expire on June thirtieth of each year, and may be issued in periods of one year or less than one year, on payment of a proportionate part of the license fee, provided that no license shall be issued for a period of less than three months. The fee for issuing said license to said manufacturers, of any of the said substances within this state shall be one hundred dollars; for issuing to wholesale dealers in, or importers or agents for importers, of any of said substances the fee shall be fifty dollars; for issuing to retail dealers in any of said substances the fee shall be five dollars; and for issuing to the keeper of any hotel, restaurant, boarding house, and any other place where meals are served and payment is received therefor, either immediately or by the day, week or month, the fee shall be two dollars. The term "wholesale dealer" as used in this section includes all persons, firms or corporations who sell any of said substances in quantities of one full case or more at a time or in the same transaction. The term "retail dealer" includes all persons who sell only in quantities less than one case. All licenses while in force shall be kept conspicuously displayed in the places of business of the party or parties to whom they have been issued.

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to manufacture, buy, sell, deal in or furnish to his, its or their patrons, or to have in their possession, for any purpose whatsoever other than for consumption in his own family, or for transportation in case of a boat or railroad company, or for the purpose of storage in case of a warehouse or cold storage company, any imitation milk or similar substance designed to be used as a substitute for milk or for condensed or evaporated milk without having first applied for and obtained from the state dairy bureau of the state of California a license herein required.

Penalty.

§ 7. Any person, firm or corporation found guilty of violating any of the provisions of this act shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Enforcement.

§ 8. It shall be the duty of the state dairy bureau, now existing under the laws of this state, to enforce the provisions of this act; provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent any city or county or state board of health or other city or county official from enforcing the provisions of this act.

Repealed.

§ 9. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

CONTENTS OF CHAPTER.

ACT 1181. REGISTRATION OF PURCHASERS OF PISTOLS.

1182. CONCEALED WEAPONS ACT.

REGISTRATION OF PURCHASERS.

ACT 1181—An act providing for the registration of the purchasers of pistols; and providing for the punishment of dealers neglecting to register such purchasers.

History: Approved March 6, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 163.

Registration required.

§ 1. Every person engaged in the business of selling at retail pistols shall keep a register in which shall be entered the name, age, occupation and residence (if residing in a city then the street number of such residence) of each and every purchaser of such pistols, together with the number or other mark of identification if any on such pistol, which said register shall be open to the inspection of all peace officers at all times.

Penalty.

§ 2. Every person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall on conviction be fined a sum not to exceed fifty dollars or in default of the payment of said fine shall be imprisoned in the county jail not to exceed one day for each two dollars of said fine.

Superseded.—This act was probably superseded by the act of 1917.—See, post, Act 1182.

CONCEALED WEAPONS.

ACT 1182—An act relating to and regulating the carrying, possession, sale or other disposition of firearms capable of being concealed upon the person; prohibiting the possession, carrying, manufacturing and sale of certain other dangerous weapons and the giving, transferring and disposition thereof to other persons within this state; providing for the registering of the sales of firearms; prohibiting the carrying or possession of concealed weapons in municipal corporations; providing for the destruction of certain dangerous weapons as nuisances and making it a felony to use or attempt to use certain dangerous weapons against another.

History: Approved May 4, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 221.

Manufacture, etc., of certain dangerous weapons misdemeanor.

§ 1. Every person who manufactures or causes to be manufactured, or leases, or keeps for sale, or offers, or gives, or otherwise disposes of any instrument or weapon of the kind commonly known as a blackjack, slungshot, billy, sandclub, sandbag, bludgeon, or metal knuckles, a dirk or dagger, to any person within this state is guilty of a misdemeanor, and if he has been previously convicted of a crime made punishable by this section, he is guilty of a felony.

Possession of certain dangerous weapons misdemeanor.

§ 2. Every person who possesses any instrument or weapon of the kind commonly known as a blackjack, slungshot, billy, sandclub, sandbag, bludgeon, metal knuckles, bomb or bombshells, or who carries a dirk or dagger, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and if he has been convicted previously of any felony or of a crime made punishable by this act, he is guilty of a felony.

Carrying firearms without license misdemeanor.

§ 3. Every person who carries in any city, city and county, town or municipal corporation of this state any pistol, revolver, or other firearm concealed upon his person, without having a license to carry such firearm as hereinafter provided in section six of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and if he has been convicted previously of any felony, or of any crime made punishable by this act, he is guilty of a felony.

Unlawful possession of weapon, etc., nuisance. Surrender of weapons, etc. Destruction of weapons, etc.

§ 4. The unlawful possession or carrying of any of the instruments, weapons or firearms enumerated in section one to section three inclusive of this act, by any person other than those authorized and empowered to carry or possess the same as hereinafter provided, is a nuisance, and such instruments, weapons or firearms are hereby declared to be nuisances, and when any of said articles shall be taken from the possession of any person the same shall be surrendered to the magistrate before whom said person shall be taken, except that in any city, city and county, town or other municipal corporation the same shall be surrendered to the head of the police force, or police department thereof. The officers to whom the same may be so surrendered, except upon certificate of a judge of a court of record, or of the district attorney of any county that the preservation thereof is necessary or proper to the ends of justice, shall proceed at such time or times as he deems proper, and at least once in each year to destroy or cause to be destroyed such instruments, weapons or other firearms in such manner and to such extent that the same shall be and become wholly and entirely ineffective and useless for the purpose for which it was manufactured.

Attempted use of weapons felony.

§ 5. Any person who attempts to use, or who with intent to use the same unlawfully against another, carries or possesses a dagger, dirk, dangerous knife, razor, stiletto, or any loaded pistol, revolver or other firearm, or any instrument or weapon commonly known as a blackjack, slungshot, billy, sandclub, sandbag, metal knuckles, bomb, or bombshell or any other dangerous or deadly instrument or weapon, is guilty of a felony. The carrying or possession of any of the weapons specified in this section, by any person while committing, or attempting or threatening to commit a felony, or breach of the peace, or any act of violence against the person or property of another, shall be presumptive evidence of carrying or possessing such weapon with intent to use the same in violation of this section.

License to carry concealed firearm.

§ 6. It shall be lawful for the board of police commissioners, chief of police, city marshal, town marshal, or other head of the police department of any city, city and county, town, or other municipal corporation of this state, upon proof before said board, chief, marshal or head, that the person applying therefor is of good moral character, and that good cause exists for the issuance thereof, to issue to such person a license to carry a concealed pistol, revolver or other firearm; provided, however, that the application to carry concealed such firearm shall be filed in writing and shall state the name and residence of the applicant, the nature of the applicant's occupation, the business address of applicant, the nature of the weapon sought to be carried and the reason for the filing of the application to carry the same.

Register of sales of firearms. Duplicate sheet mailed to police. Violation misdemeanor.

§ 7. Every person in the business of selling, leasing or otherwise transferring a pistol, revolver or other firearm, of a size capable of being concealed upon the person, whether such seller, lessor or transferrer is a retail dealer, pawnbroker or otherwise, except as hereinafter provided, shall keep a register in which shall be entered the time of sale, the date of sale, the name of the salesman making the sale, the place where sold, the make, model, manufacturer's number, caliber or other marks of identification on such pistol, revolver or other firearm. Such register shall be prepared by and obtained from the state printer and shall be furnished by the state printer to said dealers on application at a cost of three dollars per one hundred leaves in duplicate and shall be in the form hereinafter provided. The purchaser of any firearm, capable of being con-sealed upon the person shall sign, and the dealer shall require him to sign his name and affix his address to said register in duplicate and the salesman shall affix his signature in duplicate as a witness to the signatures of the purchaser. Any person signing a fictitious name or address is guilty of a misdemeanor. The duplicate sheet of such register shall on the evening of the day of sale, be placed in the mail, postage prepaid and properly addressed to the board of police commissioners, chief of police, city marshal, town marshal or other head of the police department of the city, city and county, town or other municipal corporation wherein the sale was made; provided, that where the sale is made in a district where there is no municipal police department, said duplicate sheet shall be mailed to the county clerk of the county wherein the sale is made. A violation of any of the provisions of this section by any person engaged in the business of selling, leasing or otherwise transferring such firearms is a misdemeanor. This section shall not apply to wholesale dealers in their business intercourse with retail dealers, nor to wholesale or retail dealers in the regular or ordinary transportation of unloaded firearms as merchandise by mail, express or other mode of shipment, to points outside of the city, city and county, town or municipal corporation wherein they are situated. The register provided for in this act shall be substantially in the following form:

Exceptions.

§ 8. Nothing in this act shall be construed to apply to sheriffs, constables, marshals, policemen or other duly appointed peace officers, nor to any person summoned by any such officers to assist in making arrest or preserving the peace while said person so summoned is actually engaged in assisting such officer; nor to duly authorized military or civil organizations while parading nor to the members thereof when going to and from the places of meeting of their respective organizations; nor to the possession or transportation by any merchant of unloaded firearms as merchandise; nor to bona fide members of any club or organization now existing or hereinafter organized, for the purpose of practicing shooting at targets upon established target ranges, whether public or private, while such members are using any of the firearms referred to in this act upon or in such target ranges, or while going to and from such ranges.

Constitutionality.

§ 9. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

1. Constitutionality — Reasonable police regulation.—Section 3 of the act relating to carrying of concealed weapons in a municipality is a reasonable police regulation, and is not unconstitutional.—People v. Smith, 36 Cal. App. 88, 171 Pac. 696.
2. Same—Class legislation.—The act operates uniformly upon all persons in the same category, and there is a reasonable basis for the classification, whereby persons previously convicted of a felony are punished more heavily than one who has sustained no prior conviction.—People v. Smith, 36 Cal. App. 88, 171 Pac. 696.
3. Same—Ex post facto law.—The law is not ex post facto because it authorizes the offender's past conduct to be taken into account in the graduation of the punish-

- ment.—People v. Smith, 36 Cal. App. 88, 171 Pac. 696.
4. Same—Invalidity not considered.—The question of the invalidity of the second sentence of section 5 of the act of 1917, relating the effect of certain facts as presumptive evidence, is not considered, but even if invalid, its invalidity would not render the provision void.—In re Dare, 176 Cal. 83, 168 Pac. 19.
5. The first sentence of section 5 of the act of 1917 (1917-221) is a valid exercise of the legislative power.—In re Dare, 176 Cal. 83, 168 Pac. 19.
6. Carrying concealed weapons.—Not a municipal affair, and prevention is always a proper subject for state legislation.—People v. Smith (Cal. App.), 171 Pac. 696.

Separation of deaf and blind departments.

§ 1. The board of directors of the California School for the Deaf and the Blind are hereby authorized and empowered, with a view to the separation of the departments of the deaf and the blind in said school, to select and purchase as soon as the necessary funds for said purpose shall have been appropriated, and subject to the approval of the state board of control, a suitable tract of land for the purpose of effecting said separation.

READERS FOR BLIND STUDENTS. ATTENDANCE OF STUDENTS AT NATIONAL COLLEGE FOR DEAF.

ACT 1190—An act to provide readers for blind students in the University of California, and to assist deaf students attending the National College for the Deaf at Washington, D. C., and making an appropriation therefor.

History: Approved June 9, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1329.

Appropriation: readers for blind students. Expenses of deaf students.

§ 1. The sum of three thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be expended under the supervision of the board of directors of the California School for the Deaf and the Blind, during the biennial period ending June 30, 1917, in providing readers for blind persons who shall be residents of the State of California and graduates of the California School for the Deaf and the Blind, and who shall regularly matriculate in, and work for a degree in the University of California; and in defraying the expenses of deaf persons who shall be citizens of the State of California, and graduates of the California School for the Deaf and the Blind, taking a collegiate course of instruction in the National College for the Deaf at Washington, D. C.; provided, however, that no more than three hundred dollars shall be expended for any one student during any one school year.

REMOVAL OF FENCE, ETC.

ACT 1191—An act to authorize certain improvements upon the grounds of the California School for the Deaf and Blind at Berkeley, California.

History: Approved May 17, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 578.

Fences on grounds of California School for Deaf and Blind.

§ 1. The directors of the California School for the Deaf and Blind are hereby authorized to remove the present fence on the grounds of said school, which extends thirty feet across the eastern terminus of Derby street, and also the fence which extends a distance of one hundred twenty-four and sixty-five one-hundredths feet from said terminus along Tanglewood road, as said street and road are delineated upon a map entitled, "plat of Tanglewood road opening, Berkeley, California," filed in the office of the county recorder of Alameda county on the third day of April, one thousand nine hundred sixteen, and recorded in liber fourteen of maps, page twenty-five, and to replace said fence along a line described as follows:

Commencing at the point of intersection of the northerly line of Derby street and the easterly line of Belrose avenue extended northerly, as said street and avenue are delineated on said plat of Tanglewood road opening, Berkeley, California; thence easterly parallel to the southerly line of plot seventy-eight, as said plot is shown and designated upon Kellersberger's map of rancho of Vicente and Domingo Peralta, and filed in the office of the county recorder of Alameda county, a distance of eighteen and five-tenths feet; thence along a circular arc of two hundred two and ninety-four one-hundredths feet radius easterly and southerly to its intersection with the said southerly line of plot seventy-eight at a point distant therein easterly one hundred twenty-four and sixty-five one-hundredths feet from the intersection of the easterly line of Belrose avenue and the said southerly line of plot seventy-eight, in order that the following described triangular piece of land may be used as a public highway:

Beginning at the intersection of the eastern line of Belrose avenue with the dividing line between plot seventy-seven and plot seventy-eight as shown upon said Kellersberger's map of rancho of Vicente and Domingo Peralta, and running thence northerly along the said eastern line of Belrose avenue thirty feet; thence easterly parallel to the southern line of said plot seventy-eight, a distance of eighteen and five-tenths feet; thence along a circular arc of two hundred two and ninety-four one-hundredths feet radius easterly and southerly to its intersection with the said southern line of plot seventy-eight at a point distant therein easterly one hundred twenty-four and sixty-five one-hundredths feet from the point of beginning; thence westerly in a straight line to the point of beginning; being a portion of said plot seventy-eight and containing six-hundredths acre, more or less.

ACT 1206. CONVEYANCES BY PERSONS WITH CHANGED NAMES.

ACT 1206—An act relating to conveyances of real estate.

History: Approved March 11, 1874, Stats. 1873-74, p. 345.

Set forth name.

§ 1. Any person in whom the title of real estate is vested, who shall afterwards, from any cause, have his or her name changed, shall, in any conveyance of said real estate so held, set forth the name in which he or she derived title to said real estate.

Index of grantors.

§ 2. All conveyances of real estate, except patents issued by the state as a party made by any public officer pursuant to any law of this state, shall, when recorded by the county recorder, be by him alphabetically indexed in the "Index of Grantors," both in the name of the officer making such sale, and in the name of the person owning the property so sold.

Title name.

§ 3. It is hereby made the duty of all county recorders to alphabetically index, in the "Index of Grantors," both in the name by which title was acquired, and also by which the same was conveyed, all conveyances referred to in section one of this act.

§ 4. This act shall be in force from and after its passage.

1. Code commissioner's note: "Section 1 of the statute of 1873-74, p. 345, relating to conveyances of real estate, is codified in the above section. The rest of the statute should be added to the Political Code."

This advice does not seem to have been followed, and §§ 2 and 3 are apparently still in force. As to § 1, see Kerr's Cyc. Civil Code, § 1096.

2. Construction of act.—The act was intended for such cases as that of a married woman conveying land to which she acquired title before her marriage, or of a man whose name has been changed by law, conveying property the title to which was invested in him prior to such change of name; but it does not apply to a case where, by an erroneous statement of the grantee's name, he acquired title in other than his real name; and such error can not be corrected by reciting the fact in a subsequent deed.—Peckham v. Stewart, 97 Cal. 147, 31 Pac. 928.

3. Title acquired in other than real name of grantee.—If a person chooses to take the title to real estate in a name other than his true name, so far as that property is concerned, he has assumed the name in which he takes title, as his true name, and he may be sued so far as that title is concerned by the name he thus assumes.—Emery v. Kepp, 154 Cal. 83, 129 Am. St. Rep. 141, 16 Ann. Cas. 792, 19 L. R. A. (N. S.) 983, 97 Pac. 17.

DENTAL PRACTICE ACT OF 1915.

ACT 1226—An act to insure the better education of dental surgeons and to regulate the practice of dentistry in the state of California providing penalties for the violation hereof.

History: Approved May 21, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 698. Former acts: Act of March 12, 1885, Stats. 1885, p. 110; amended March 3, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 70; repealed by the act of March 23, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 564, which was amended March 20, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 322; March 20, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 430; March 6, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 111; April 6, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 800; June 11, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 573; and superseded though not in terms repealed by the present act.

The title of the act of 1901 referred expressly to the repeal of the act of 1885, but in the body of the act was no express repeal. The act of 1901 took effect September 1, 1901.

License required to practice dentistry.

§ 1. It shall be unlawful for any person to engage in the practice of dentistry in the State of California unless such person shall have obtained a license from the board of dental examiners of the state of California, as hereinafter provided, except that the license of any dentist, existing at the time of the passage of this act shall continue in force until forfeited in the manner hereinafter provided and the annual tax paid by any such dentist under the terms of the laws of the state of California existing at the time of the passage of this act shall keep such license in force until the expiration of the time for which the same was paid, and thereafter the holder of such license shall be subject to the annual tax in this act provided. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to exempt from the payment of the annual tax any person authorized to practice dentistry in the state of California, and every person practicing dentistry in this state shall irrespective of the time when he was licensed or first had the right to lawfully practice dentistry in this state or elsewhere, pay an annual tax of two dollars as hereinafter provided.

Board of dental examiners created. Term of office. Vacancies.

§ 2. A board of dental examiners to consist of seven practicing dentists is hereby created, to be known as the board of dental examiners of California, whose duty it shall be to carry out the purposes and enforce the provisions of this act. The members of this board shall be appointed by the governor of California, all of whom shall have been actively and legally engaged in the practice of dentistry in the state of California, for at least five years next preceeding the date of their appointment, and none of whom shall be members of the faculty of any dental college or dental department of any medical college in the state of California, or shall have any financial interest in any such college. The term for which the members of said board shall hold office shall be four years and until their successors are duly appointed and qualified. Their terms of office shall be so classified that the terms of not more than two members shall expire in any one year. The present members of the board of dental examiners of California appointed under the provisions of the laws of this state in force at the time that this law takes effect shall continue to serve and act as members of the said board, but under the provisions of this act, during their respective terms or until their successors are appointed and qualified. Vacancies occurring in the board of dental examiners shall be filled by appointment by the governor, within thirty days after such vacancy occurs. The governor shall have the power to remove from office at any time any member of the board for continued neglect of duty required by this act, or for incompetency, unprofessional or dishonorable conduct.

President. Secretary. Meetings. Examination of applicants.

§ 3. It shall be the power and duty of said board to elect from its membership a president, vice-president and a secretary. The secretary shall receive such compensation as may be fixed by the board, which shall be in addition to his per diem as a member of the board, and all necessary traveling expenses incurred in connection with the performance of the duties of his office. The board shall meet regularly at least twice a year, at such time and place as the board may designate, for the purpose of transacting its business, and special meetings may be held at such other times as the board may elect, or on the call of the president of the board, or of not less than four members thereof. A written notice of the time, place and object of such special meeting shall be mailed by said secretary to all the members not parties to the call, at least fifteen days before the day of meeting. Meetings may be held at any time and place and without notice by unanimous consent evidenced either by writing or by the presence of any member whose consent is necessary. The said board shall examine all applicants for license to practice dentistry according to the provisions of this act and issue licenses to practice dentistry in this state to such applicants as successfully pass the examination of the board and otherwise comply with the provisions of this act; collect and apply all fees as directed by this act; keep a book showing the names of all persons to whom licenses have been granted by said board to practice dentistry, and such other books as may be necessary to plainly show all the acts and proceedings of said board; to have and use a seal bearing the name "Board of Dental Examiners of California."

Annual report. Quorum.

The board shall make an annual report of its proceedings to the governor of California by the fifteenth day of December of each year, together with an account of all moneys received and disbursed by it, pursuant to this act. The board shall have power to adopt rules concerning its meetings and the holding of examinations and the manner of issuance and reissuance of licenses not inconsistent with the provisions of this act. Four members of said board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting of the board. Each member of the board shall, upon his qualification, file with the secretary his post office address, and thereafter any notice of any change thereof. Any notice mailed to the address so on file, shall be deemed to comply with the requirements of this act as to notice to such member of the board.

Books, public records. Examination papers kept one year.

§ 4. All books of said board shall be of public record and at all times during business hours open to public inspection, and a copy of any part or all thereof duly certified by the secretary of said board shall be primary evidence in any court of this state. The original books, records and papers of the board shall be kept at the office of the secretary of said board which office shall be at such place as may be designated by the board. Said secretary shall furnish to any person making application therefor a copy of any part thereof, certified by him as such secretary, upon payment of a fee of twenty-five cents per hundred words so copied, the said fee to be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the board. The examination papers of any applicant shall be kept for the period of one year and may then be destroyed, but such examination papers shall be open to inspection only by members of the board and by such applicant or by some one appointed by the latter to inspect the same, or by a court of competent jurisdiction in a proceeding where the question of the contents of such paper is properly involved.

Compensation.

§ 5. Each member of the board shall receive a per diem of ten dollars as compensation for each day spent in actual attendance at meetings of the board and at committee meetings of the members of the board, when such meetings shall be specially authorized by the board, and for each day actually spent performing necessary work in connection with the enforcement of this act, together with his necessary traveling expenses.

Eligibility to take examination. Apprentices.

§ 6. Any person over twenty-one years of age shall be eligible to take an examination before the board of dental examiners of California, upon making application therefor and upon (1) paying a fee of twenty-five dollars; (2) furnishing satisfactory testimonials of good moral character; and (3) furnishing satisfactory evidence of having graduated from a reputable dental college, which must have been approved by the board of dental examiners of California; provided, that after August 1, 1918, he shall also file his diploma or certificate of graduation with recommendations from a high school accredited to the University of California or any other university of equal standing; or a certificate signed by a state superintendent of public instruction, or similar officer, to the effect that such applicant has had scholastic preparation equivalent in all respects to that demanded for graduation with recommendations from a high school giving a four year course of instruction in the state from which such certificate is issued; (4) in lieu of such diploma or certificate from an accredited high school, such applicant, after said date, may and with like effect furnish to said board of dental examiners a certificate from the board of dental examiners, or similar official body, of some other state in the United States, showing that such applicant has been a duly licensed practitioner of dentistry in such other state for a period of at least five years; provided, however, that every person actually engaged as an apprentice to a regularly licensed dentist who has practiced in the state of California for ten years or more shall be eligible for examination, if, within thirty (30) days after the passage of this act, he shall file with the secretary of the board an affidavit stating his name, age, the length of time for which he has been actually apprenticed and with whom; and who, at the time of his application for examination, shall show to the satisfaction of the board that he has served an apprenticeship of at least five (5) years and is a graduate from a high school or similar institution of learning in this or some other state of the United States requiring a three (3) years' course of study; and provided, that no examination shall be given to an applicant claiming the right to take the same as an apprentice later than December 30, 1915.

Examinations.

§ 7. The examination by the board of applicants for license to practice dentistry in this state shall be sufficiently thorough to test the fitness of the applicant to practice dentistry. It shall include, written in the English language, questions on the following subjects: Anatomy, histology, physiology, anaesthesia, materia medica, pathology, bacteriology, therapeutics, oral surgery, chemistry, metallurgy, operative dentistry, prosthetic dentistry and orthodontia; the answers to which shall be written in the English language. Said written examination may be supplemented by an oral examination. Demonstrations of the applicant's skill in operative and prosthetic dentistry must also be given. All persons successfully passing such examination shall be registered as licensed dentists on the board register, as provided in section three, and shall be granted by the board a license to practice dentistry in the state of California. When a candidate for a license shall have received a grading of eighty-five per cent or above in any given subject, he shall be exempt from re-examination on that subject in subsequent examinations before the said board held at the first or second meeting thereafter. Any member of the board may inquire of any applicant for examination concerning his character, qualifications or experience and may take testimony of any one in regard thereto, under oath, which he is hereby empowered to administer.

Dentists already licensed to register. Certificate of registration. Registration fee. Notation of change of name. Failure to register forfeits license.

§ 8. Every person licensed to practice dentistry in this state within six months prior to the passage of this act whose license is not at the time of such passage registered under the provisions of the law under which the same was issued shall register the same as herein provided within six (6) months after this act becomes effective. Every person who shall hereafter be licensed to practice dentistry in this state, shall within six months thereafter register in the office of the county clerk of the county where his place of business is located (if he has no place of business in this state, then in the office of the county clerk of that county in this state wherein at the time shall be situated the office of the secretary of the board of dental examiners of California), in a book kept by the clerk for such purpose, and called a register of dentists, his name, age, office address, the date and number of his license to practice dentistry, and the date of such registration, which registration he shall be entitled to make only upon showing the county clerk his license or a copy thereof certified by the secretary of the board over its seal, and upon making and filing an affidavit stating his name, age, birthplace, the number of his license and the date of its issue, that he is the identical person named in the license; that before receiving the same he complied with all the preliminary requirements of this statute (and the rules of the board of dental examiners as to the terms and the amount of study and examination); that no money other than the fees prescribed by this statute (and said rules), was paid directly or indirectly for such license, and that no fraud, misrepresentation or mistake in a material regard was practiced, employed or occurred by any person in order that such license should be conferred. Said person need not personally register before the county clerk but may make the said affidavit before any officer authorized by law to administer oaths, and which affidavit together with the other information and license, or the certified copy therefor as afore provided, shall be forwarded to the said county clerk, who shall act in the same manner as if the party was personally present. The county clerk shall preserve such affidavits in a bound volume and shall issue to every licentiate duly registering and making such affidavit, a certificate of registration in his county, which shall include a transcript of the registration. Such transcript and license may be offered as primary evidence in all courts of the facts therein stated. A copy of such certificate of registration shall be sent by the county clerk to the secretary of the board within five days after it is made. The county clerk's fees for taking such registration and affidavit and issuing such certificate of registration shall be one dollar. A practicing dentist having registered a lawful authority to practice dentistry in one county of the state and removing such practice or part thereof to another county shall show or send by registered mail to the clerk of such other county his certificate of registration, if such certificate clearly shows that the original registration was on an authority issued by the board of dental examiners, or if the certificate of registration itself is indorsed by the secretary of the board of dental examiners as entitled to registration, the clerk shall thereupon register the applicant in the register of dentists of the latter county on receipt of a fee of fifty cents, and shall stamp or indorse on such certificate of registration the date and his name preceded by the words "registered also in county," and return the certificate of registration to the applicant. Any lawfully registered person who shall thereafter change his or her name according to law shall register the new name with a marginal note of the former name with the clerk of the county or counties where he or she is practicing. The clerk shall forthwith notify the secretary of the board of such change. Any county clerk who knowingly shall make or suffer to be made upon the register of dentists kept in his office any entry other than that provided for in this act, shall be liable to a penalty of fifty dollars, to be recovered by and paid to the said board of dental examiners in a suit in any court having jurisdiction. Any failure, neglect or refusal on the part of any person holding such license to register the same with the clerk of said county as above directed for a period of six months after the issuance thereof shall ipso facto work a forfeiture of his or her license, and it shall not be restored except upon the written application and payment to said board of twenty-five dollars. Any suspension, revocation or reinstatement of a license shall with the date thereof be forthwith noted by the county clerk on the margin of the registration thereof upon receipt of notice from the secretary of the board.

License to practice. Fee. Annual license tax.

§ 9. Before any person can practice dentistry in this state, he shall obtain a license to do so from the board of dental examiners. Each application for license shall be accompanied by a fee of twenty-five dollars, which shall in no case be refunded, except that in the case of applicants requiring examination the said fee shall be refunded if the applicant shall be found ineligible to take such examination. Such license shall remain in force until the following first day of May and thereafter so long as the holder thereof shall comply with the provisions of this section relating to an annual tax but not otherwise, and notwithstanding the payment of such tax such license may at any time be forfeited or revoked for a violation of the further requirements of this act. To provide a fund for the enforcement of the provisions of this act every person holding a license to practice dentistry in this state without exception shall pay an annual license tax for the year commencing with the first day of May next following the issuance of such license and annually thereafter. Such payment to be effective shall be made prior to the commencement of the year for which the same accrues and the receipt of the secretary of the board shall be indispensable evidence that the same has been made. The failure, neglect or refusal of any person who was a regularly licensed dentist to pay in advance said annual tax of two dollars during the time his or her license remained in force shall ipso facto work a forfeiture of his or her license, and it shall not be restored except upon a written application therefor and the payment to said board of twenty-five dollars, except that such person shall not be required to submit to any examination.

Disposition of fines. Disbursements. Revolving fund.

§ 10. All fines, penalties and forfeitures including the examination fee, imposed or collected by the board under any of the foregoing provisions of this act shall be paid to the secretary of the board. All fines and penalties imposed or collected in any court for violations of any of the provisions of this act shall be paid by such court to such secretary. The secretary shall on or before the tenth day of each month pay to the state treasury and report to the state controller all fines, penalties and forfeitures received for violations of this act, together with all examination fees, renewal and license fees received by him prior to the date of such report and payment. All funds received by the state treasurer from the secretary of said board shall be placed in a fund to be known as the state dentistry fund, which is hereby created. All disbursements by the board made in the transaction of its business and in the enforcement of this act shall be paid out of said fund upon claims to be presented and audited in the manner usual with other claims against the state; provided, that as to the amount of seven hundred dollars of said fund the same shall constitute a revolving fund and may be drawn upon the warrant of the president and secretary of the said board without being audited in the usual manner, in cases of emergency or where cash advances are necessary, but after the sum of seven hundred dollars has been so expended no further warrant shall be drawn on said revolving fund until expenditures previously made from said revolving fund shall be substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements and audited; and provided, further, that all expenditures from said revolving fund shall at the end of each fiscal year, or at any other time when demand therefor is made by the board of control or by the state controller, be so substantiated and audited unless previously done.

Practicing dentistry defined.

§ 11. Any person shall be understood to be practicing dentistry within the meaning of this act who shall (1) by card, circular, pamphlet, newspaper, or in any other way advertise himself as a dentist, or (2) who shall, for a fee, salary or reward, paid directly or indirectly either to himself or to some other person, perform an operation of any kind upon, or treat diseases or lesions of the human teeth or jaws, or correct malimposed positions thereof, or (3) in any way indicate that he will perform by himself or his agents or servants any operations upon the human teeth or jaws, or (4) make an examination of, with intent to perform or cause to be performed any operation on the human teeth or jaws, or (5) who manages or conducts as manager, proprietor, conductor, or otherwise a place where dental operations are performed; but nothing in this act contained shall prohibit bona fide students of dentistry from operating in the clinical departments or the laboratory of a reputable dental college, or an unlicensed person from performing merely mechanical work upon inert matter in a dental laboratory or a licensed physician from practicing oral surgery.

Penalty for selling certificates, etc. False use of "D. D. S."

§ 12. Any person, company or association shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished, by imprisonment in the county jail not less than ten (10) days nor more than one (1) year, or by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand five hundred dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment, who (1) shall sell or barter or offer to sell or barter any dental degree or any certificate or transcript, made or purporting to be made, pursuant to the laws regulating the license and registration of dentists; or (2) shall purchase or procure by barter any such diploma, certificate or transcript, with intent that the same shall be used as evidence of the holder's qualification to practice dentistry, or in fraud of the laws regulating such practice; or (3) shall with fraudulent intent, alter in a material regard any such diploma, certificate or transcript; or (4) shall use, attempt or cause to be used any such diploma, certificate or transcript, which has been purchased, fraudulently issued, counterfeited or materially altered, either as a license to practice dentistry, or in order to procure registration as a dentist; or (5) shall within ten days after demand made by the secretary of the board, fail to furnish to said board the name and address of all persons practicing or assisting in the practice of dentistry in the office of said person, company or association, at any time within sixty days prior to said notice, together with a sworn statement showing under and by what license or authority said person, company or association, and said employees are or have been practicing dentistry, but such affidavit shall not be used in any prosecution under this section, and any person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable as in this section above provided who (1) shall assume the degree of "doctor of dental surgery" or "doctor of dental medicine," or shall append the letters "D.D.S." or "D.M.D." to his or her name not having duly conferred upon him or her, by diploma from a recognized dental college or school legally empowered to confer the same, the right to assume said title; or shall assume any title, or append any letters to his or her name, with the intent to represent falsely that he or she has received a dental degree or license; or (2) shall in an affidavit, required of an applicant for examination, license or registration, under this act, willfully make a false statement in a material regard; or (3) shall engage in the practice of dentistry without causing to be displayed in a conspicuous manner and in a conspicuous place in his or her office the name of each and every person employed in the practice of dentistry therein, together with the word mechanic after the name of each unlicensed person employed; or (4) is practicing dentistry in the state without a license, or whose license has been revoked or suspended, or (5) shall under any false, assumed or fictitious name, either as an individual, firm, corporation or otherwise or any name other than the name under which he is licensed, practice, advertise or in any other manner indicate that he is practicing or will practice dentistry. Nothing in this section contained shall be held to prohibit the conferring of degrees and the bestowing of diplomas, by reputable dental colleges of this state, which have been indorsed by the board of dental examiners of California.

Revocation of license.

§ 13. Any dentist may have his license revoked or suspended by the board of dental examiners for any of the following causes:

(1) His conviction of a felony or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, in which case the record of conviction or a certified copy thereof, certified by the clerk of the court, or by the judge in whose court the conviction is had, shall be conclusive evidence.

(2) The rendition of a final judgment against any such dentist in a court of competent jurisdiction upon a cause of action alleging grossly unskillful or negligent dental practice.

(3) For unprofessional conduct or for gross ignorance or inefficiency in his profession. Unprofessional conduct is hereby defined to be: The employment of persons known as cappers or steerers, to obtain business; the obtaining of any fee by fraud or misrepresentation; willfully betraying professional secrets, employing directly or indirectly any student or any suspended or unlicensed dentist to perform operations of any kind, or to treat lesions of the human teeth or jaws, or correct malimposed formations thereof; aiding or abetting any unlicensed person to practice dentistry unlawfully; habitual intemperance; gross immorality; the use of any false, assumed or fictitious name, either as an individual, firm, corporation or otherwise or any name other than the name under which he is licensed, practice, advertise or in any other manner indicate that he is practicing or will practice dentistry.

Proceedings to revoke license.

§ 14. The proceedings to revoke or suspend any license under the first subdivision hereof, must be taken by the board on the receipt of a certified copy of the record of conviction. The proceedings under the second subdivision hereof may be taken upon the information of another. All accusations must be in writing, verified by some party familiar with the facts therein charged, and three copies thereof must be filed with the secretary of the board. Upon receiving the accusation the board shall, if it deem the complaint sufficient, make an order setting the same for hearing, at a specified time and place, and the secretary shall cause a copy of the order and of the accusation to be served upon the accused at least ten days before the day appointed in the order for said hearing. The accused must appear at the time appointed in the order and answer the charges and make his defense to the same, unless for sufficient cause the board assign another day for that purpose. If he does not appear the board may proceed and determine the accusation in his absence. If the accused plead guilty or refuse to answer the charges, or upon the hearing thereof the board shall find them or any of them true, it may proceed to a judgment revoking his license or suspending it. The board and the accused may have the benefit of counsel, and the board shall have power to administer oaths, take the deposition of witnesses in the manner provided by law in civil cases, and to compel them to attend before it in person the same as in civil cases, by subpoena issued over the signature of the secretary and the seal of the board and in the name of the people of the state of California. The board shall have power in proper cases to authorize the payment of fees and traveling expenses of necessary witnesses required to appear before the board and actually examined in any proceeding properly before it. Upon the revocation of any license, the fact shall be noted upon the records of the board of dental examiners and the license shall be marked as canceled, upon the date of its revocation. Written notice of such suspension or revocation shall be mailed by the secretary of the board to the county clerk of each county in which such license is then registered.

Complaint for violation of act.

§ 15. The board of dental examiners, or any member or officer thereof, may prefer a complaint for violation of this act, or any part thereof, before any court of competent jurisdiction, and may by its officers, counsel and agents, assist in presenting the law or facts at the trial. It shall be the duty of the district attorney of each county in this state to prosecute all violations of the aforesaid provisions of this act in their respective counties in which such violations occur.

§ 16. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

1. Constitutionality—Special legislation.—The act is not local or special legislation within the meaning of section 25, article IV of the constitution.—People v. Keseling, 35 Cal. App. 501, 170 Pac. 627.

2. Same—Question of fact.—Whether one is guilty of aiding and abetting an unlicensed person to practice dentistry is a question of fact, and the act is not invalid because it leaves the determination of that fact to the board of dental examiners.—Lassen v. Board of Dental Examiners, 24 Cal. App. 767, 142 Pac. 505.

3. Same—Power of legislature.—The legislature had power to define what it meant by the phrase "practicing dentistry" in declaring what acts it intended to make unlawful.—People v. Fortch, 13 Cal. App. 770, 110 Pac. 823.

4. Same—Impairment of the obligation of contracts.—Section 14 of the act of 1901, as amended in 1909, is not violative of section 16, article I of the constitution.—In re Victor, 27 Cal. App. 73, 148 Pac. 975.

5. Same—Levy of tax on nontaxable property.—Section 14 of the act of 1901, as amended in 1909, is not violative of section 1, article XIII of the constitution.—In re Victor, 27 Cal. App. 73, 148 Pac. 975.

6. Same—Local and special taxation.—Section 14 of the act of 1901, as amended in 1909, is not violative of subdivision 10, section 25, article IV, of the constitution.—In re Victor, 27 Cal. App. 73, 148 Pac. 975.

7. Same—Special law for the punishment of a misdemeanor.—Section 14 of the act is not violative of subdivision 2, section 25, article IV of the constitution.—In re Victor, 27 Cal. App. 73, 148 Pac. 975.

8. Same—Title of act is broad enough to cover the subject of the payment of annual license fee.—In re Victor, 27 Cal. App. 73, 148 Pac. 975.

9. Same—Special privileges.—The act is not unconstitutional on the ground that by exempting previous practitioners of dentistry it confers special privileges and immunities upon them.—Ex parte Whitley, 144 Cal. 167, 1 Ann. Cas. 13, 77 Pac. 879.

10. Same—Legislative power to determine qualifications of dentists for admission to practice.—The legislature is empowered to determine the qualifications to be required of those admitted to practice dentistry in the state, and to fix any reasonable standard for determining such qualifications, and to vest in a state board of dental examiners the power to determine whether particular dental colleges are reputable.—Ex parte Whitley, 144 Cal. 167, 1 Ann. Cas. 13, 77 Pac. 879.

11. Same—Police power.—The acts of 1885 and 1901 are held to be a constitutional and valid exercise of the police power.—Ex parte Whitley, 144 Cal. 167, 1 Ann. Cas. 13, 77 Pac. 879.

12. The act of 1901 is held to be constitutional on all the points raised in the case of Ex parte Whitley, 144 Cal. 167, 1 Ann. Cas. 13, 77 Pac. 879; Ex parte Hornef, 154 Cal. 355, 97 Pac. 891.

13. Same—Special legislation.—The act is not unconstitutional as obnoxious to subdivision 3, section 25, article IV of the constitution.—People v. Keseling, 35 Cal. App. 501, 170 Pac. 627.

14. Same—Unreasonable classification—Constitutionality.—The act is not unconstitutional on the ground that it is discriminatory.—People v. Keseling, 35 Cal. App. 501, 170 Pac. 627.

15. Jurisdiction of police court.—The police court of San Francisco is vested by the charter with jurisdiction of violations of the city and county ordinances, and has no jurisdiction of a violation of the dentistry act.—People v. Fortch, 13 Cal. App. 770, 110 Pac. 823.

16. Superior court—Original jurisdiction.—The superior court has original jurisdiction of prosecutions for violation of the dentistry act.—People v. Fortch, 13 Cal. App. 770, 110 Pac. 823.

17. Same.—Under section 5 of article VI of the constitution the superior court has jurisdiction of an information charging a violation of the dentistry act as amended in 1909.—People v. Fortch, 13 Cal. App. 770, 110 Pac. 823.

18. Construction of act.—The words "any person" in section 14 of the act of 1901, as amended in 1909, is to be construed as limited by the proviso of section 1 of the act exempting persons who were lawfully practicing dentistry when the original act went into effect.—In re Victor, 27 Cal. App. 73, 148 Pac. 975.

19. Same.—Section 1 of the act of 1901 does not have effect of limiting the application of subdivision 10 of section 19 to persons who first commenced to practice dentistry in the state after the act became a law.—Ex parte Hornef, 154 Cal. 355, 97 Pac. 891.

20. Same—Employment of unlicensed practitioner.—Upon the hearing before the board of dental examiners of an accusation of unprofessional conduct in knowingly employing an unlicensed practitioner in his office for the purpose of practicing dentistry therein, the burden is upon the accused to prove that the employee had been licensed as a dentist at the time of the employment if such was a fact.—Anderson v. Board of Dental Examiners, 27 Cal. App. 336, 149 Pac. 1006.

21. Repeal of prior act.—Section 25 as to the time of taking effect of the entire act, including the repeal of the prior act, and there was no interregnum in the law between such repeal and the taking effect of the new act, so as to permit an unlicensed person to practice dentistry.—People v. Keseling, 35 Cal. App. 501, 170 Pac. 627.

22. Annual license tax.—Under the provision of section 1, as amended in 1909, all dentists are required to pay the license tax, without regard to when or how they became entitled to practice.—In re Victor, 27 Cal. App. 73, 148 Pac. 975.

23. Revocation of license.—The provisions of section 21½ of the act of 1901, are not in conflict with the provisions of section 14, as amended in 1909.—In re Victor, 27 Cal. App. 73, 148 Pac. 975.

24. Judicial functions of board of examiners.—The board of dental examiners does not exercise judicial functions in the sense prohibited by the constitution.—Ex parte Whitley, 144 Cal. 167, 1 Ann. Cas. 13, 77 Pac. 879.

The case of Van Vleck v. Dental Examiners, 5 Cal. Unrep. 636, 48 Pac. 223, held not to be authority, because a rehearing had been granted and the case thereafter dismissed.—Ex parte Whitley, 144 Cal. 167, 1 Ann. Cas. 13, 77 Pac. 879.

25. Same — Examination.—The duties of the board of dental examiners under the act of 1885 is judicial, and their finding that the result of an examination is unsatisfactory is final.—Van Vleck v. Dental Examiners, 5 Cal. Unrep. 636, 48 Pac. 223.

26. Same — Endorsement of diploma.—The duties of the board of dental examiners under section 5 of the act of 1885, as to endorsement of diplomas are judicial, and their action in finding a diploma unsatisfactory is final.—Van Vleck v. Dental Examiners, 5 Cal. Unrep. 636, 48 Pac. 223.

27. Judicial notice.—The board of dental examiners may take judicial notice of its records for the purpose of ascertaining whether a license was ever issued to a person alleged to have been employed wrongfully as a practitioner in a dental office.—Anderson v. Board of Dental Examiners, 27 Cal. App. 336, 149 Pac. 1006.

28. Information — Exceptions must be negated only when the exception or proviso is so incorporated with the definition of the offense as to constitute a part of it.—Ex parte Hornef, 154 Cal. 355, 97 Pac. 891.

29. Same—Right to practice at time of passage of act need not be negated.—Ex parte Hornef, 154 Cal. 355, 97 Pac. 891.

30. Same.—Information under act of 1901 is sufficient where it alleges, in effect, that the defendant was guilty of "practicing dentistry in the state without a license."—Ex parte Hornef, 154 Cal. 355, 97 Pac. 891.

31. Same.—It is not necessary for an information charging the practice of dentistry without a license to traverse the exceptions provided in the act.—People v. Keseling, 35 Cal. App. 501, 170 Pac. 627.

32. Same—Payment of fee.—An information charging the practice of dentistry without a license need not charge that the fee was paid by the person upon whom the work was performed.—People v. Keseling, 35 Cal. App. 501, 170 Pac. 627.

33. Accomplices.—Persons employed to get evidence for the state and who seek and submit to the services of a person charged with a violation of practice of dentistry act are not accomplices within the meaning of § 1111, Penal Code, and corroboration of their testimony is not required.—People v. Keseling, 35 Cal. App. 501, 170 Pac. 627.

34. Testimony of feigned accomplices, employed by officers of the state to obtain evidence against one charged with criminal acts is sufficient to sustain a conviction though uncorroborated.—People v. Keseling, 35 Cal. App. 501, 170 Pac. 627.

35. Verification of accusation of dentist.—The phrase, "except as to such matters therein stated on information and belief," in such verification is held to be surplusage in a verification held sufficient, by reason of the fact that no allegations were made on information and belief therein.—Lassen v. Board of Dental Examiners, 24 Cal. App. 767, 142 Pac. 505.

36. Amendment of judgment to correct clerical error.—A judgment of conviction for practicing dentistry without a license which by a clerical mistake recites a conviction for practicing "medicine" without a license may be amended by the trial court to correct such mistake, and the amended judgment is not a new judgment.—Ex parte Hornef, 154 Cal. 355, 97 Pac. 891.

37. Instruction — Practicing dentistry.—It was not error to give as an instruction to the jury the language of the statute defining what is meant by the phrase "practicing dentistry" in the act.—People v. Forth, 13 Cal. App. 770, 110 Pac. 823.

STATE DENTAL SURGEON.

ACT 1227—An act to create the office of state dental surgeon, prescribing his duties, fix his manner of appointment, salary and term of office, and to make an appropriation for the expenses of his office.

History: Approved April 16, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 947. Amended June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1430.

Office of state dental surgeon created.

§ 1. The office of state dental surgeon is hereby created. It shall be the duty of the governor, on or before the tenth day July, 1909, to appoint a skilled dental surgeon for the state of California to fill said office of state dental surgeon, who at the date of such appointment shall be a graduate in good standing of a recognized college of dental surgery, legally qualified to practice as such in this state, and shall hold said office for the period of four years from and after the date of qualification; provided, however, when a vacancy occurs in the office of state dental surgeon from whatever cause the governor shall fill by appointment said term for the unexpired part thereof only. The salary of said state dental surgeon shall be thirty-six hundred dollars per annum, and shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as are the salaries of other state officers. [Amendment of June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1430.]

Duties.

§ 2. The duties of the state dental surgeon shall be to perform the dental services for the inmates of the various state hospitals. Said dental services shall be performed in an efficient and durable manner as possible, and shall consist of cement and amalgam fillings, treatment and extracting teeth, inserting artificial teeth on vulcanite plates, and perform such oral surgery operations as may be referred to him by the superintendents of the various state hospitals. No services shall be performed by the state dental surgeon for any officer or employee of any state institution, except in the case of extreme emergency.

Must visit state hospitals.

§ 3. The state dental surgeon must visit every state hospital at least twice in each year, and shall at all times be under the supervision of the California state commission in lunacy.

Appropriation.

§ 4. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act the sum of three thousand five hundred ($3,500) dollars is hereby appropriated to pay the traveling expenses of the state dental surgeon to the various state hospitals and for the purchase of operating and extracting instruments and such apparatus as may be needed for the making of plates, and such other expenses as may be required in the discharge of his duties.

Time of taking effect.

§ 5. This act shall be in force and effect from and after July 1, 1909.

CONTENTS OF CHAPTER.ACT 1235. PRIVATE DETECTIVES AND DETECTIVE AGENCIES.*PRIVATE DETECTIVES AND DETECTIVE AGENCIES.

ACT 1235—An act to license and regulate the business of private detectives and detective agencies.

History: Approved June 7, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1253.

License for private detective agencies.

§ 1. No person, firm, association, co-partnership, or corporation shall engage in the business of private detective for hire or reward or advertise such business to be that of detective or of conducting a detective agency without having first obtained a license so to do from the state board of prison directors of the state of California in the manner hereinafter provided. Nor shall any person, firm, association, co-partnership or corporation engage for hire and reward, or hire or reward, in the business of furnishing or supplying information as to the personal character of any person or firm, or as to the character or kind of the business and occupation of any person, firm, or corporation, or own or conduct a bureau or agency for the above-mentioned purpose without having first obtained a license so to do from the state board of prison directors of the state of California in the manner hereinafter provided. Nothing contained in this act, however, shall apply to the business of obtaining and furnishing information as to the financial rating of persons, firms, or corporations.

Application to prison directors.

§ 2. Every person who desires to conduct, either as an individual or as manager for a firm, association, co-partnership, or corporation, the business of detective or detective agency or of furnishing or supplying information as to the personal character of any person or firm or as to the character or kind of the business and occupation of any person, firm, or corporation, shall present to the state board of prison directors and file in their office a written application which shall state the age, residence, present and previous, occupation of such applicant and the name of the city, town or village where the principal place of business is to be located and such further facts as will tend to show the good character, competency and integrity of such applicant. Such application shall be duly signed and verified by the applicant and shall be approved by not less than five reputable freeholders of the county where such applicant resides or where it is proposed to conduct such business, which approval shall be signed by such freeholders and acknowledged by them before an officer authorized to take acknowledgments of deeds. The state board of prison directors when satisfied, from examination of such application and such further inquiry and investigation as they shall deem proper, that the applicant is a person of good character, competency and integrity, shall issue and deliver to such applicant a license entitling the applicant to conduct such business for a period of five years next ensuing upon the applicant's paying to the state board of prison directors for the use of the state a license fee of ten dollars per annum and shall be payable in advance on September 1, 1915, and annually thereafter, and upon his executing, delivering, and filing in the office of the state board of prison directors a surety bond to be executed by such applicant with one or more sureties in the sum of two thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful and honest conduct of such business by such applicant, which bond as to its form, execution and sufficiency of the surety must be approved by the said state board of prison directors. Such bond shall be taken in the name of the people of the state of California, and every person injured by the wilful or malicious or wrongful act of the principal may bring an action on said bond in his own name to recover damages suffered by reason of said wilful or malicious or wrongful act. The license granted pursuant to this act shall be revocable at any time by the state board of prison directors for cause shown.

§ 3. Nothing in this act shall apply to employees of such duly licensed private detective or detective agencies for whose good conduct in the business, however, the employers shall be responsible, or to any detective or officer belonging to the police force of the state, or any county, city and county, city, town or village thereof appointed or elected by due authority of law.

Penalty.

§ 4. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and for the enforcement of this act the state board of prison directors of the state of California are hereby authorized to expend annually any necessary moneys received as license fees in the employment of an agent or agents, and of other proper measures to aid in the detection or prosecution of all violations of this act.

Authority of license.

§ 5. A license obtained from the said board of prison directors by any person or persons, firm, association, co-partnership or corporation mentioned in section one of this act, shall be sufficient to give the said person or persons, firm, association, co-partnership or corporation obtaining said license, their employees or operatives, the authority to act under said license as a detective or uniformed patrolman or watchman in any county, city and county, city or town in this state.

Acts superseded.

§ 6. This act shall supersede and take the place of any rule, regulation or ordinance of any county, city and county, city or town in the state of California conflicting herewith.

1. Municipal affair—Municipal ordinance supersedes state law.—The establishment of a private patrol service or system over a designated area within the corporate limits of the city of Oakland is strictly a municipal affair and the private detective act of 1915, must yield to a city ordinance so far as their conflicting provisions are concerned.—In re Hitchcock, 34 Cal. ACT 1280—An act to promote drainage.

History: Approved April 23, 1880, Stats. 1880, p. 123.

1. Constitutionality.—Title of act is violative of section 24, article IV, of the constitution providing that every act shall embrace but one subject, which shall be expressed in the title.—People v. Parks, 58 Cal. 624; Doane v. Weil, 58 Cal. 334.

2. Where a subject embraced in the title of the act is so conjoined inseparably with other subjects not embraced in the title that it is impossible to disjoin them, the court can not adjudge one void and the other valid, as it might do otherwise under section 24, article IV, of the constitution.—People v. Parks, 58 Cal. 624; Doane v. Weil, 58 Cal. 334.

3. Same—"Other operations."—The phrase "other operations" has no clear meaning in the act, and so many subjects not expressed in the title may be concealed under it that its presence renders it obnoxious to section 24, article IV of the constitution.—People v. Parks, 58 Cal. 624; Doane v. Weil, 58 Cal. 334.

4. Same—"Storage of debris" and "Promotion of drainage" of a district are subjects so essentially different as to render the act obnoxious to the provisions of section 24, article IV of the constitution.—People v. Parks, 58 Cal. 624; Doane v. Weil, 58 Cal. 334.

5. The storage of debris is a private enterprise and the legislation has no power to impose taxes for such a purpose, as it has for the promotion of drainage which is a public purpose.—People v. Parks, 58 Cal. 624; Doane v. Weil, 58 Cal. 334.

6. Same — Two heterogeneous subjects which can not be segregated are embraced in the title, and the title does not express all the subjects of legislation embodied in the act, and the act is therefore obnoxious to the provisions of section 24, article IV of the constitution and is invalid.—People v. Parks, 58 Cal. 624; Doane v. Weil, 58 Cal. 334.

7. Same—Delegation of legislative power.—The act is a delegation of legislative power to the drainage commissioners, and is therefore obnoxious to the provisions of section 1, article III of the constitution.—People v. Parks, 58 Cal. 624; Doane v. Weil, 58 Cal. 334.

7a. Delegation of legislative power to an executive officer.—The power of the county surveyor under the act are ministerial and not legislative, and the act is not violative of section 1, article III of the constitution.—Holley v. Orange County, 106 Cal. 420, 39 Pac. 790.

8. Same—Power of taxation.—The act is void because it authorizes duplicate and triplicate taxation for the same purpose upon the same property in territory which has not been made a special taxing district, and is void as violative of that equality and uniformity of taxation required by the constitution.—People v. Parks, 58 Cal. 624; Doane v. Weil, 58 Cal. 334.

9. Same—Local taxation.—The act authorizes a quasi municipal corporation to levy taxes for the general public benefit, without constitutional power to do so (§ 12, article XI, constitution), and is for that reason, void.—People v. Parks, 58 Cal. 624; Doane v. Weil, 58 Cal. 334.

10. Some—Act of March 10, 1885, Stats. 1885, p. 78, appropriating money to pay warrants for claims incurred under the act of April 23, 1880, is constitutional and valid, notwithstanding the latter act has been declared unconstitutional by the court.—Miller v. Dunn, 72 Cal. 462, 1 Am. St. Rep. 67, 14 Pac. 27. See Miller v. Dunn, 2 Cal. Unrep. 673, 11 Pac. 604, department decision, overruled.

11. Repeal of act by county government act.—The act is not repealed by the county government act of 1893.—Holley v. Orange County, 106 Cal. 420, 39 Pac. 790.

DRAINAGE OF AGRICULTURAL, SWAMP AND OVERFLOWED LANDS.

ACT 1281—An act to provide a system of drainage for agricultural, swamp, and overflowed lands.

History: Approved March 3, 1881, Stats. 1881, p. 15. Amended March 27, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 220.

See later act, Act 1283.

1. Constitutionality—Private use.—The act is unconstitutional on the ground that it authorizes the taking of private property for private use, in contravention of section 1, article XIV, of the constitution.—Nickey v. Stearns Ranchos Co., 126 Cal. 150, 58 Pac. 459.

2. Same — Prior decision.—The case of Holley v. County of Orange, 106 Cal. 420, 39 Pac. 790, did not involve the question of constitutionality here involved, and was between different parties, and has no binding force in this case.—Nickey v. Stearns Ranchos Co., 126 Cal. 150, 58 Pac. 459.

3. Superseded.—The act was not inconsistent with the act of 1885, and was not superseded by that act.—Nickey v. Stearns Ranchos Co., 126 Cal. 150, 58 Pac. 459.

DRAINAGE DISTRICT ACT OF 1885.ACT 1282—An act to promote drainage.

History: Approved March 18, 1885, Stats. 1885, p. 204. Amended March 31, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 262; February 19, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 25; May 21, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 782.

Petition for drainage procedure. Publication.

§ 1. Whenever the owners of two-thirds of any body of land susceptible of one mode of drainage desire to drain the same, they may present to the board of supervisors of the county in which the land, or the greater portion thereof, is situated, at a regular meeting of the board, a petition setting forth that they desire to adopt measures to drain the same, a description of the land, the number of acres in the proposed district, and the number of acres in each tract, and the names of the owners thereof, and names of three persons whom they desire to serve as trustees for the first three months; the petition must be verified by the affidavit of one of the petitioners, and must be published for four weeks next preceding the hearing thereof, in some newspaper published in the county in which the lands are situated, or if there is no newspaper published in the county, then it must be published in some newspaper having a general circulation in the county, together with a notice stating the date of the meeting of said board on which the petition will be heard, and directing all parties interested to appear on said date and show cause, if any they have, why said petition should not be granted, and an affidavit of such publication must be filed with the clerk of said board at or before the date of said hearing. [Amendment approved February 19, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 25. In effect immediately.]

District lying in different counties.

§ 2. When a district is situated partly in different counties, the trustees must, after the petition has been granted, forward a copy thereof to the clerk of the board of supervisors of any county in which any portion of the district may lie, and the board to which the same is forwarded must not allow another district to be formed within such district, unless with the consent of the trustees thereof.

Lands improperly included. Boundaries to be defined.

§ 3. If the board of supervisors find upon the hearing of such petition that lands have been improperly included in such district, they may, before fixing the final boundaries, exclude from such district any land which may have been so included, or include any lands adjacent thereto, on petition of any owner of such lands presented at such time of hearing, as they may deem for the best interests of such district. If from the petition and evidence produced at such hearing the board finds that said petition should be granted, it must thereupon, by order, define the boundaries of said district and declare said district duly formed, and the persons named in said petition for the formation of such district, as such, to be the trustees thereof for the first three months, or, until their successors are appointed. [Amendment approved February 19, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 26. In effect immediately.]

This section was also amended in 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 262.

Recording petition.

§ 4. The petition for the formation of the district, together with the order of the board, defining its boundaries and forming the same, must be recorded in the office of the recorder of the county in which any of the lands of the district are situated. [Amendment approved February 19, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 26. In effect immediately.]

By-laws, adoption of.

§ 5. After the approval of the petition the owners of lands embraced within the boundaries of the district, or those owning a majority in acreage thereof must adopt by-laws, not inconsistent with the laws of this state for the government and control of the affairs of the district, and for the future appointment of trustees. The by-laws thus adopted must be signed by the owners of lands in the district representing a majority in acreage thereof. By-laws thus adopted may be amended at any time in the same manner in which the original by-laws were adopted. [Amendment approved February 19, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 26. In effect immediately.]

Recording by-laws.

§ 6. The by-laws and all amendments thereto must be filed for record in the office of the recorder in which the district was organized, and recorded in a book kept for the purpose of recording instruments in writing relating to reclamation or drainage districts. [Amendment approved February 19, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 27. In effect immediately.]

Powers of trustees. Compensation of trustees.

§ 7. The board of trustees shall have power to elect one of its members president thereof and also a clerk; to employ engineers and others to survey, plan, locate and estimate the cost of the works necessary for the drainage of the lands of the district, and the land needed for a right of way, including drains, canals, sloughs, water-gates, embankments, watercourses and material for construction; to thereafter, at any time, in its discretion, modify or change such original plan or plans, or adopt new, supplemental or additional plan or plans, when, in its judgment, the same shall become necessary; to construct, maintain and keep in repair all works necessary to carry into effect the objects sought to be attained; and to do all other acts and things necessary or required for the drainage of the lands embraced in the district. And the several members of the board shall each be entitled to receive for actual and necessary services performed, and for expenses incurred by them, respectively, for and in the interest of the district, such compensation as the board may determine to be just and reasonable, and shall allow, and the same shall constitute an indebtedness of the district for which warrants of the district must be drawn and paid in the same manner and out of the same fund as other warrants of the district; provided, that no warrant thus drawn shall be valid until approved by the board of supervisors of the county which formed the district. [Amendment approved February 19, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 27. In effect immediately.]

Plans and estimates.

§ 8. The board of trustees must report to the board of supervisors of the county, or if the district is situated in more than one county then to the board of supervisors of each county in which the district is situated, the plans of the work and estimates of the costs, together with the estimates of the incidental expenses of superintendence, repairs, etc.

Assessment commissioners.

§ 9. The board of supervisors of the county in which the district was formed must appoint three commissioners disinterested persons residing in the county in which the district or some part thereof is situated, and such commissioners must view and assess upon the lands situated in the district a charge proportionate to the whole expense, and to the benefit which will result from such work, which charges must be collected and paid into the county treasury either in cash or in regularly issued warrants of the district as hereinafter provided, and must be placed by the treasurer to the credit of the district, and paid out for the work of drainage upon the warrants of the trustee approved by the board of supervisors of the county. [Amendment approved February 19, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 27. In effect immediately.]

Warrants, how paid.

§ 10. The warrants drawn by the trustees must, after they are approved by the board of supervisors, be presented to the treasurer of the county, and if they are not paid on presentation, like indorsements must be made thereon, and they must be registered in like manner as county warrants and paid in the order of their registration. All warrants from the date of their registration shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum; provided, however, that warrants may be used in the payment of assessments made hereunder without regard to the order of registration. [Amendment approved February 19, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 28. In effect immediately.]

Payments when district in different counties.

§ 11. If a district is situated partly in different counties the charges must be paid into the treasury of the county in which the particular tract may be situated.

Further assessment.

§ 12. If the original assessment is insufficient to provide for the complete drainage of the lands of the district, or if further assessments are from time to time required to provide for the protection, maintenance, and repairs of the works, the trustees must present to the board of supervisors by which the district was formed a statement of the work to be done and its estimated cost, and the board must make an order directing that the commissioners who made the original assessment, or other commissioners to be named in such order, to assess the amount of such estimated cost as a charge upon the land in the district, which assessment must be made and collected in the same manner as the original assessment.

List of charges assessed. Equalization of assessments.

§ 13. The commissioners appointed by the board of supervisors must make a list of the charges assessed against each tract of land, and the list must contain:

1. A description of each tract assessed.
2. The number of acres in each tract.
3. The names of the owners of each tract, if known, and if unknown, that fact; but no mistake in the name of the owner, or supposed owners of the property assessed shall render the assessment thereof invalid.
4. The amount of the charge assessed against each tract.

The board of commissioners must, on the completion of such list, cause a notice to be published in some paper published in the county where such district is situated, and also have such notice posted in three places in such district, to the effect that the board of commissioners will, in ten days from the publication of such notice, meet (and they shall also name the time and place of such meeting) as a board of equalization for the purpose of equalizing assessments, and will continue in session as long as may be necessary, not to exceed ten days, at the end of which time, having equalized and adjusted such assessments, the list must then be filed as hereinafter provided. [Amendment approved February 19, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 28. In effect immediately.]

This section was also amended in 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 263.

Assessment list, where filed. Payments of charges. Unpaid assessments. Actions Procedure.

§ 14. The list so made must be filed with the county treasurer of the county, or if the district is partly situated in different counties, then the original list must be filed in the county first in order in alphabetical arrangement, and copies thereof, certified by the commissioners, must be filed with the treasurers of each of the other counties. From and after the filing of the list, or certified copies thereof, the charges assessed upon any tract of land in the district constitute a lien thereon, and the list thus prepared must remain in the office of the treasurer for thirty days, or longer if ordered by the board of trustees, and during the time it so remains in the office of said treasurer any person may pay the amount of the charges assessed against any tract to the treasurer without costs, either in cash or in regularly issued warrants of the district; or, if so ordered by the board of trustees, said payments may be by installments which installments may be paid either in cash or in regularly issued warrants of the district; and if, at the end of thirty days, or of the longer period fixed by the trustees, all the charges, or all of any installments ordered by them, have not been paid, the treasurer must return the list to the board of trustees of the district, and all unpaid assessments shall bear legal interest from the date of the return of the lists to said board, and shall thereafter be collected and paid in separate installments, of such amounts, and at such times, respectively, as the board, from time to time, in its discretion, may, by order entered in its minutes, direct; and a cause of action for the collection of any such installments shall accrue at the expiration of twenty days from the date of the order directing its payment; provided, that if any such installments shall remain unpaid at the expiration of said twenty days, then the whole of the assessment against the land owned by the person failing to pay such installment shall become due and payable at once, and may, in the discretion of the board, be collected immediately, in one and the same action. The board of trustees of the district must commence actions for the collection of such delinquent installments, and delinquent assessments, with interest thereon, and costs, and for the enforcement of the lien thereof on the land assessed, in the superior court of the county in which the land, or some portion of it, is situated, in which action all persons claiming any interest in said land upon which said assessment is levied, and any person necessary to a complete determination of the action, may be joined as defendants in said action. No person holding a conveyance from or under the person to whom the land was assessed or having a lien thereon, which conveyance or lien does not appear, of record in the proper office at the time of the commencement of the action, need be made a party to such action, and the judgment therein rendered, and the proceedings therein had, are as conclusive against the party holding such unrecorded conveyance or lien as if he had been a party to the action. Notice of the pendency of such action may be filed in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the land affected by said action is situated in the same manner and with like effect as in other actions affecting real property. When the name of any person, properly a defendant in any such action, as herein provided, is unknown to the said trustees such person may be joined in said action and be sued by a fictitious name, and if his true name is thereafter, and before final judgment discovered or ascertained the same may be, thereafter, substituted for such fictitious name. Service of the summons in such action shall be made in the same manner as is provided by law for the service or publication of summons in other actions. Assessments on several tracts may be included in the same action, if listed to the same persons, and causes of action on separate assessments on the same land may be included in the same action. In all actions for the collection of delinquent assessments, the court may decree and adjudge a lien against each tract for the amount assessed against the same, and may order it to be sold, on execution or decree, as in other cases of sale of real estate on execution. In any action to enforce said lien or to determine the validity of the same, said list, duly executed by said commissioners, or a certified copy thereof shall be prima facie evidence of the matters therein contained, and that said commissioners were duly appointed and qualified, as required by law, and that they did view and assess upon the lands set forth in said list the charges therein contained, and that said charges are in proportion to the whole expense and the benefits which will result from the work of drainage for which said assessment was so levied. The judgment or decree must direct that the sale be made for lawful money of the United States. The board of trustees must pay the moneys collected to the county treasurer, who must place the same to the credit of the district. [Amendment approved February 19, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 28. In effect immediately.]

Executing work.

§ 15. The work must be executed under the direction and in the manner prescribed by the board of trustees.

Account of expenditures.

§ 16. The board must keep accurate accounts of all expenditures, which accounts, and all contracts that may be made by them, are open to the inspection of the board of supervisors, and every person interested.

Purchases by trustees.

§ 17. The trustees may acquire, by purchase, all property necessary to carry out and maintain the system of drainage provided for.

Eminent domain.

§ 18. The trustees may acquire, by condemnation, the right of way for canals, drains, embankments, and other works necessary, and may take materials for the construction, maintenance, and repair thereof from lands outside of as well as in the limits of said district.

Same.

§ 19. The provisions of Title VII, Part III, of the Code of Civil Procedure are applicable to, and condemnation herein provided for must be made thereinunder.

Drainage entirely by owners, procedure.

§ 20. Whenever any district of lands susceptible of one mode of drainage is entirely owned by parties who desire to drain the same, and to manage such drainage without the intervention of trustees or the establishment and adoption of by-laws, such parties may file the petition provided for in sections 1 and 2, and they must state therein that they intend to undertake such drainage on their own responsibility. If the petition is granted, the owners of the land shall have all the rights, immunities and privileges possessed by boards of trustees, and in all proceedings the names of owners may be used instead of the names of trustees. [Amendment approved February 19, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 30. In effect immediately.]

Disincorporation of drainage district. Taxes for payment of indebtedness.

§ 20½. Any drainage district organized under the provisions of this act may be disincorporated at any time by proceedings had in the following manner:

Whenever a petition praying for such disincorporation shall be presented to the trustees of said district, signed by a majority of the electors therein, they shall call an election in the same manner as elections for members of the board of trustees are called, and submit to the electors of said district the question of disincorporation. Said election shall be held in all respects in the same manner as regular elections of trustees of the district. If it appears that two-thirds of the electors voting at said election have voted in favor of disincorporation, the trustees shall cause such fact to be entered upon their minutes, and shall forward a copy of such entry to the board of supervisors of the county in which the district was formed, who shall file the same with their clerk, and from the date of such filing, said district shall be deemed disincorporated; provided, that if at the time of the dissolution, or disincorporation of said district, there be any outstanding bonded or other indebtedness of such district, then taxes for the payment of such bonded or other indebtedness shall be levied and collected the same as if such district has not been dissolved and disincorporated, but for all other purposes such district shall be deemed dissolved and disincorporated from the time of the forwarding of said copy of such entry to said board of supervisors. [New section added May 21, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 782.]

§ 21. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

1. Constitutionality—Raising question as to.—A person whose land is not embraced within a proposed drainage district is not entitled to a notice of hearing of the petition to form the district, nor to a notice of any assessment that may be levied and is not entitled to raise the question of the constitutionality of the act for its failure to provide for such notices in a condemnation proceeding for land for a drainage ditch.—Laguna, etc., Dist. v. Chas. Martin Co., 144 Cal. 209, 77 Pac. 933.

2. Same — Police power.—Constitutionality of act is upheld as an exercise of the police power.—Laguna, etc., Dist. v. Chas. Martin Co., 144 Cal. 209, 77 Pac. 933. See, also, Hagar v. Supervisors of Yolo county, 47 Cal. 222.

3. Same—Public use.—The land taken under this act is taken for a public use, is for the public benefit, and is taken by a public corporation acting as a state agency and the act is, therefore, valid.—Laguna, etc., Dist. v. Chas. Martin Co., 144 Cal. 209, 77 Pac. 933.

4. Same—Public use.—The fact that the taking of land for a drainage district will benefit only those within the district, and that the area of the overflowed land to be drained is less than 160 acres, do not affect the question of the public use.—Laguna, etc., Dist. v. Chas. Martin Co., 144 Cal. 209, 77 Pac. 933.

5. Adjustment of assessment.—The action of the board of equalization in adjusting an assessment under the act is subject to review by the courts.—Payne v. Ward, 23 Cal. App. 492, 138 Pac. 967.

6. Assessments, validity of.—The land-owners may bring suit to nullify the action of the board of equalization in adjusting the assessments and to restrain the trustees from foreclosing the assessment liens.—Payne v. Ward, 23 Cal. App. 492, 138 Pac. 967.

7. Discretion of commissioners as to benefits.—While no arbitrary assessment can be levied, the judgment of the commissioners upon the assessment, after a view of the land as contemplated by the statute, must be presumed to have been the result of a consideration of all the elements necessary to a just apportionment of the assessment.—Payne v. Ward, 23 Cal. App. 553, 153 Pac. 462. See, also, Reclamation Dist. No. 70 v. Sherman, 11 Cal. App. 399, 105 Pac. 277.

8. Findings as to benefits sufficiently supported, by presumptions of fairness and justice and correctness that attends the action of the commissioners in apportioning the cost and making the levy.—Payne v. Ward, 23 Cal. App. 553, 153 Pac. 462.

9. The act makes the findings of the commissioners as to benefits prima facie evidence of their correctness.—Payne v. Ward, 23 Cal. App. 553, 153 Pac. 462.

10. Fixing benefits is a matter of judgment, and all that is required of the commissioners and all that could be expected of them, is that they should honestly and intelligently investigate the situation, examine the lands, and fix the tax that each piece of land should, in their opinion, properly pay, upon an apportionment of the whole amount to be raised, according to benefits.—Payne v. Ward, 23 Cal. App. 553, 153 Pac. 462.

11. Superseded.—This act was not inconsistent with the act of 1881 (Act 1281) and did not supersede that act.—Nickey v. Stearns Ranchos Co., 126 Cal. 150, 58 Pac. 459.

DRAINAGE DISTRICT IMPROVEMENT ACT OF 1919.

ACT 1283—An act to promote the drainage of wet, swamp and overflowed lands, and to promote the public health in the communities in which they lie; providing for the issuance of bonds and levying of assessments on lands benefited, to pay the costs and expenses thereof.

History: Approved May 18, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 731. Former act of March 21, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 354, amended May 7, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 359, repealed by present act, but the latter makes no mention in its title of such repeal.

Petition for establishment of drainage system. Hearing.

§ 1. Whenever twenty or more property owners or the owners of a majority of the land within a district proposed to be organized under this act, which district contains a body of wet, swamp or overflowed lands, susceptible of drainage by a ditch or drain or a system of ditches or drains, and which said district is to be benefited by the construction of any improvements contemplated by this act, shall file with the board of supervisors of the county in which said lands are situated, a petition for the establishment of such ditch or drain, or system of ditches or drains, for the draining of said body of lands, defining the boundary of the district proposed to be benefited and defining the boundaries of such body of lands to be drained and giving a general description and approximate location of such ditch or drain, or system of ditches or drains, and shall give said board of supervisors a good and sufficient bond, in an amount to be determined by said board, for the payment of all costs that may accrue; provided, said petition shall not be granted, said board shall, within thirty days after the filing of said petition, appoint a day for the hearing of the same, which shall be not less than fifteen nor more than forty days after such appointment; and shall, also, cause to be published in some newspaper published and having a general circulation in the county, a copy of said petition, together with a notice by the clerk of said board of the time and place set for hearing said petition; said publication shall be at least once each week in a daily or weekly newspaper and for at least two weeks next preceding the time set for said hearing.

When lands lie within more than one county.

§ 2. Whenever a portion of the lands in the district proposed to be formed hereunder, and to be benefited thereby, lie within the boundaries of more than one county, the petition shall be presented to the board of supervisors of the county within which lie the greatest portion of lands of the proposed district, signed by at least ten property owners or the owners of a majority of the land of the district within each of the counties to be affected, which petition shall set forth and particularly describe the proposed boundaries of such district, and all other matters required by section one hereof.

Jurisdiction.

Said board of supervisors of the county within which lie the greatest portion of the lands of the proposed district shall have jurisdiction to proceed as in the manner herein provided, and the officers of said county having jurisdiction, shall, as provided in this act, be the officers of said district and shall have the powers and duties herein provided. The several notices in this act provided to be given or published shall, whenever possible, be respectively given or published in the manner prescribed, within the boundaries of the several counties respectively.

Payment of assessments by counties.

Upon filing with the recorder and tax collector of said counties of the certified copy of the plat and report of the engineer of construction and the order of said board levying the special assessments as hereinafter provided, said county or counties other than the county having jurisdiction shall each year collect and pay over to the county having jurisdiction, the total amount of the assessments levied for said year upon the lands within their respective boundaries as levied in said report of the engineer of construction and adopted by the order of the board of supervisors of the county having jurisdiction. Thereafter all costs of every nature which may be incurred or made necessary in the keeping up or preservation of any work or improvement done under the provisions of this section, shall be borne by the county or counties affected by such work or improvement.

When part of municipality included.

Whenever a portion of any ditch or drain or system of ditches or drains for the drainage of any such body of wet, swamp, or overflowed lands will cross or run along the boundary line of any municipal corporation, or when said board of supervisors find that adjacent territory within a municipality will be benefited by such work or improvement, such adjacent territory may be included within the boundaries of such proposed district. Any such territory included within a district formed under this act shall be subject to its provisions. Any work of any improvement herein contemplated to be done may be done either within or without the boundaries of the district organized therefor as may be necessary properly to drain by a ditch or drain or a system of ditches or drains any body of wet, swamp or overflowed lands within said district.

Action on petition.

§ 3. The board of supervisors shall, in its discretion, in conclusion of the aforementioned hearing and as a sufficient determination of all questions arising at said hearing, by resolution to be entered upon its minutes, grant or deny said petition. Said petition shall not be granted unless the public health, safety, convenience or welfare will be promoted by the organization of such district. If said petition is granted the resolution granting the same shall so state. If the petition includes any portion of an incorporated municipality, as provided in section two of this act, the board of supervisors shall by resolution find that said portion of said incorporated municipality will be benefited thereby.

Duty of county surveyor. Consulting engineer. Attorney.

§ 4. The county surveyor shall be the engineer of construction of said district and his deputies shall be deputy engineers of construction. He shall cause the surveying and other necessary engineering work under this act to be done, and shall survey and measure the work to be done, and shall estimate the costs and expenses thereof, and furnish all plans and specifications, and do all acts appertaining to the duties of the engineer of construction. Every certificate signed by him or by any of his deputies shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of its contents. He shall as in other cases keep a record of all surveys made under the provisions of this act. The board of supervisors may appoint a consulting engineer to assist the engineer of construction, or an attorney for the district, or both, should said board deem it for the best interests of the district. The compensation of said consulting engineer and of said attorney, if appointed, or the rate, or basis for computing the same shall be fixed and stated in the resolution of appointment, which said resolution shall be entered in the minutes of the board of supervisors.

Specifications. Approval by state reclamation board.

§ 5. Before the passing of any resolution of intention under this act, plans and specifications for work substantially the same as that described in the petition for the establishment of said district, and for a district substantially the same as that described in said petition, shall be prepared by the engineer of construction. If the work to be constructed is of such a nature and in such location as to be within the jurisdiction of the state reclamation board, the approval of that said board shall be obtained before the plans are adopted.

Said specifications shall include an estimate of the aggregate amount of the cost and incidental expenses of the work and the cost of the proceedings and shall be signed by the engineer of construction and be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors.

Resolution of intention.

§ 6. Before ordering any work to be done under this act, the board of supervisors shall pass a resolution of intention so to do. Such resolution may in form, and shall in substance, be as following (filling all blanks):

In the matter of drainage district improvement No. —

Resolution of Intention No. (both numbers being that of the district).

Resolved, That it is the intention of the board of supervisors of the county of, state of California, proceeding under and by virtue of the drainage district improvement act of 1919, and in the matter of drainage district improvement district No. (the number being that of the district), on the day of, 19...., at the hour ofm. of that day, or as soon thereafter as the matter can be heard, at the chambers of said board, to order work to be done, as follows: (here insert a description of the work, stating the territorial extent thereof with all reasonable exactness, and other particulars generally, yet so as to indicate fairly and approximately its probable cost), the said work to be done in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor filed with the clerk of said board on the day of, 19...., except as the boundaries of the district and the plans and specifications may be changed at the hearing hereinafter provided, which plans and specifications are made a part hereof, and to which all persons are referred for further particulars. For the cost and incidental expenses of the work and the cost of the proceeding, bonds will be issued in the total amount thereof, due and payable in annual installments bearing interest at the rate of per cent per annum, payable semiannually, all in gold coin of the United States.

A special fund for the payment of said bonds and interest thereon, to be designated drainage district improvement No. (the number being that of the district) interest and sinking fund, is to be constituted by the levy and collection of special assessment taxes upon all land within a district to be known as "drainage improvement district No. of the county of"

Such district (as proposed) being all that territory in the county or counties of, state of California, within exterior boundaries as follows, to wit: (the blank to be filled with a careful statement of the exterior boundaries of the district).

Notice is hereby given that at the time herein specified for ordering the work, the matter of said drainage district improvement No. will come up for hearing, and all objections which under the provisions of said drainage district improvement act of 1919, are entitled to be heard or determined, will then be heard and determined, and the boundaries of said district and the plans and specifications will be then finally determined and established.

The (here insert name and character of newspaper. If the district include lands within more than one county, as provided in section two, a newspaper, if any, published in each county, shall be designated) is (or are) hereby designated as the newspaper (or newspapers) for making publication of this resolution and for making all other publications in the proceeding.

The county surveyor is hereby appointed to superintend the work of said improvement. The foregoing resolution was, on the day of, 19...., passed by the board of supervisors of the county of, state of California.

Attest:

.....,
Clerk of the board of supervisors of said county of
.....,
By, deputy clerk.

Publication and posting of resolution. Affidavit of publication.

§ 7. Such resolution of intention shall be filed, and be published by at least two insertions in the newspaper or newspapers therein designated, which shall be a newspaper or newspapers published and circulated in the county or counties, or, if there be no such newspaper, then in any newspaper designated by said board of supervisors in such resolution. Printed copies of such resolution, headed, "notice of drainage district improvement," such heading to be in letters not less than one inch in height, shall, by the engineer of construction, be posted along the line of work described in said resolution, at a distance of not more than three hundred feet apart, but not less than three notices in all. Affidavits by the person so publishing or posting, in proof of such publication and posting, shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors. When, before the day of the hearing specified in the resolution of intention, twenty days, including Sundays and holidays, have elapsed since the posting and the first publication (they need not be simultaneous) of the resolution of intention, the board of supervisors shall have acquired power to proceed with such hearing and to act in the proceeding as herein authorized. The determination of the board of supervisors to proceed with such hearing, whether evidenced by an express declaration or by its proceedings with the hearing, shall be prima facie evidence of the existence of all the facts upon which the power of the board to proceed depends, except such as are required to appear of record in the proceeding, and except, also, in so far as rebutted by the record in the proceeding.

Objections.

§ 8. At any time before the day in the resolution of intention specified for ordering the work and the hearing of the matter, any property owner may, alone or with other property owners, file with the clerk of the board of supervisors written objection to the ordering of the work, as an entirely [sic] but not merely to some part thereof, as described in the resolution of intention; provided, that the objection of any person who ceases to be such property owner before the day of said hearing shall not then be heard. Property owners within the meaning of this act are those and those only, who own property which will be liable to assessment hereunder, and an executor or administrator shall be deemed representative of his decedent, and a trustee of an express trust in land other than as security for the payment of money, of the land so held in trust, and a trustee in bankruptcy, of the bankrupt.

Next after in order of hearing, the board shall proceed to hear such objections as may be made to the plans and specifications, and then such objections as shall be made to the boundaries of the district as set forth in the resolution of intention. Objection to the plans and specifications or to the boundaries of the district may be made by any property owner upon the hearing without filing any written statement thereof. The hearing may be continued from time to time by the board of supervisors by an order to be entered in the minutes of the board.

Finding of board. Boundaries. Notice inviting sealed proposals.

§ 9. The board of supervisors shall in conclusion of the aforementioned hearing, and as a sufficient determination of all questions arising thereat, by resolution or resolutions to be entered upon its minutes, declare its finding determining, in its discretion, either that the work shall be ordered or that all proceedings shall be abandoned. If said board determines that said work shall be ordered it shall further determine the boundaries of the district and finally approve the plans and specifications. If no changes be made in the boundaries of the district as set forth in the resolution of intention, it shall be sufficient to state that the boundaries of the district are those set forth in the resolution of intention; if any change of such boundaries is made, the boundaries of the district, as finally determined, shall be fully set forth. If no change be made in the plans and specifications, it shall be sufficient to state that such plans and specifications are approved. In either case, the boundaries of the district so determined shall be the boundaries of the district for all purposes of the proceeding and until any bonds to be issued for the cost of the work shall have been fully paid and discharged; the plans and specifications so approved shall be the plans and specifications of the district for all the purposes of proceeding. The boundaries of the district, as set forth in the resolution of intention, shall not be so changed as to include within the district any territory not within the boundaries as set forth in said resolution, nor so that the place or locality of any work as finally approved and originally planned to be within the district shall be excluded from the boundaries of the district as finally determined. In like manner the board of supervisors may order the work to be done, and if it so do, shall fix a time for receiving proposals or bids for doing the work, and direct the clerk to give notice, inviting sealed proposals or bids. Such notice shall include a statement that the work is to be done under the provisions of the drainage district improvement act of 1919, and according to the plans and specifications on file, except in so far as such plans and specifications were changed by the board of supervisors in conclusion of the hearing in said act provided; to which said act, to the resolution of intention and all proceedings had thereunder the attention of bidders is hereby directed, and which are by this reference made part of this notice.

Publication of notice.

§ 10. The notice inviting sealed proposals or bids shall be published by at least two insertions in the newspaper or newspapers designated in the resolution of intention, and (though it need not be simultaneously) a copy or copies of the same shall be posted and kept posted for five days, at or near the chamber door of the board of supervisors. All proposals or bids shall be accompanied by a check, payable to the county, certified by a responsible bank in an amount not less than ten per cent of the aggregate of the proposal or bid, or by a bond in such amount running to the county, signed by the bidder, with two sureties qualifying before an officer competent to administer oaths, each in said amount over and above all statutory exemptions, or executed by some bonding company acceptable to said board of supervisors. Said proposals or bids shall be delivered to the clerk of said board.

Award to lowest bidder. Notice of award. Bidder to pay expenses of publishing resolutions.

§ 11. Said board shall, in open session, open and examine and declare the same. No proposal or bid shall be considered unless accompanied by such check or such bond in terms satisfactory to the board. The board may reject any and all proposals or bids should it deem it for the public good, and shall reject all proposals or bids other than the lowest regular proposal or bid of any responsible bidder, and may award the contract for said work to the lowest responsible bidder at the price named in his bid.

A notice of such award, attested by the clerk of the board of supervisors shall be transmitted to the successful bidder by mail by the clerk of the board of supervisors, and shall also be published and posted in the manner herein provided as to the notice inviting proposals or bids.

The check or bond accompanying such accepted proposal or bid shall be kept by the clerk of said board until the contract for doing said work, as hereinafter provided, has been entered into. Checks or bonds of unsuccessful bidders shall be returned by the clerk of said board. If said successful bidder fails, neglects or refuses for fifteen days after being awarded the contract to execute the same, the certified check accompanying his bid, and the amount thereof shall be declared forfeited to the county, and may be collected by it and paid into the interest and sinking fund of the district, and any bond forfeited may be prosecuted, and the amount thereof collected and paid into said fund.

Before being entitled to a contract the bidder to whom the award thereof has been made must advance and pay to the clerk of the board of supervisors, the costs and expenses of publishing and posting the resolutions, notices and orders required under this act to be made, which have been made, given, posted or published in the proceeding.

If for fifteen days after being awarded the contract, the awardee fails, neglects or refuses to execute the same, the board of supervisors may direct the clerk of the board to give notice as in the first instance, inviting sealed proposals or bids, and thereupon, after receiving bids shall award as in the first instance; and as in the case of the default of a first awardee, so also in the case of a second or any subsequent awardees.

Estimate of cost of work. Assessment of benefits. Report to board. Notice of hearing on report. Objections. Hearing. Action of board. Levy of special assessment. Special fund to retire bonds. Delinquent installments. Ad valorem tax for maintenance fund.

§ 12. After adopting said plans and specifications as hereinabove provided, and before executing a contract for the construction of the improvement, the board of supervisors shall direct the engineer of construction to estimate the total cost of making the proposed improvements and performing such proposed work (which estimate shall include all expenses of every kind incurred or to be incurred, either directly or indirectly, in carrying out said work and improvements), and to assess the same in proportion to the benefits thereof to the lands in said district, and to do all things proper and necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

Said engineer of construction shall proceed to view the lands within the district and may examine witnesses under oath. He shall proceed to assess against the land within said district the estimated amounts of the cost of the proposed work or improvement and the expenses incident thereto, in proportion to the benefits to be derived from said work or improvement so far as he reasonably can estimate the same, including in such estimate of benefits the real property of any railroad company within said district, if such there be. He shall state the amounts to be assessed on each parcel of land separately, and shall divide the total assessment on each parcel of land into yearly installments of amounts clearly sufficient to retire the bonds and to pay the interest thereon for each year that said assessment shall continue.

In estimating the total cost and expenses of doing said work, the engineer of construction shall be governed by the amount he deems necessary to pay the principal and interest on bonds to be issued therefor as herein set forth and all incidental expenses to be incurred as herein authorized. Such estimate shall be based upon the amount bid by the successful bidder for doing the work as set forth in the plans and specifications together with an estimate of the incidental expenses to be incurred.

The engineer of construction having made his assessment of the benefits, shall with all diligence, and before the board of supervisors declares the work to have been completed, make a written report thereof to, and file the same with, said board, and shall accompany said report with a plat of the district showing the relative location of each block, lot or portion of lot, or other piece of land and its dimensions so far as he can reasonably ascertain the same. Each block and lot, or portion of lot, or other parcel or parcels of land affected or assessed shall be designated and described in said plat by an appropriate number and a reference to it by such descriptive number shall be sufficient description of it in all respects. Said report of said engineer of construction shall also state the names of the persons owning lands over which a right of way for said improvement has been obtained, as well as the name of any lessee, encumbrancer, or other person having an interest in said land over which a right of way has been obtained, together with the particulars of their interest therein, and together with a waiver of any interest they may have had in said land so obtained for said right of way. Errors in the designation of the owner or owners of any land or improvement or any interest therein, or of the particulars of their interest, shall not affect the validity of the assessment.

The report of such engineer of construction and the affidavit accompanying it shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors, and said board shall thereupon fix a time for the hearing thereon, and thereupon the clerk of said board shall give notice of said hearing by publication once each week for at least three weeks prior to the time fixed for said hearing, in the newspaper or newspapers designated in the resolution of intention. Such notice shall be substantially in the following form:

Notice of the filing of the report of the engineer of construction of drainage improvement district No. (the number being that of the district) of the county of

Notice is hereby given that the engineer of construction of drainage improvement district No. (the number being that of the district), did on the day of, 19...., file his report of the assessment of benefits in said district with the clerk of the board of supervisors of said county, which said report is now on file in the office of the said board of supervisors in the city of, of said county, and that said report will be heard by said board at its chamber on the day of, 19...., at the hour ofm. Said report and the map, plans and specifications of the improvements mentioned therein are hereby referred to for further particulars. All persons interested are hereby required to show cause, if any they have, at the time and place fixed for said hearing, why such report should not be adopted and confirmed by said board, and why the several parcels of land referred to in said report should not be assessed for said improvement as therein set forth. All objections shall be in writing, signed by the person objecting, and filed with the clerk of said board at least one day prior to the time fixed for the hearing of said report.

Signed,
Clerk of the board of supervisors, county.

Any property owner may file with the clerk of said board at least one day before the time fixed for the hearing, a written objection to said report, or to any part thereof, to the assessment as a whole or to the assessments on the several parcels of land, as set forth in said report. At the time fixed for such hearing or at any time to which the hearing may be adjourned, the board of supervisors shall hear and pass upon all objections so filed, and shall proceed to pass upon said report and the assessments therein contained, and may confirm, correct or modify the same, or may direct the engineer of construction to make a new assessment, report and plat which shall be filed, heard and acted upon in the same manner, and on like notice as an original report. The action of the board upon the report and objections thereto shall be final and conclusive as to all matters therein, and no assessment shall be set aside except upon such hearing for any error, defect, or informality therein, or in the proceedings prior thereto, where notice of the hearing of the report has been given as herein prescribed. The board of supervisors shall, upon the adoption of said report, by order entered upon its minutes, levy against and upon all lands within said drainage improvement district No. (being the district as described and bounded in the order for the work to be done) a special assessment upon the lands found to be benefited by such improvement in the amount set forth in the said report of the engineer of construction as adopted by the board of supervisors, and which said amount shall be available for the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon. Said assessment shall be payable as herein provided at the times and in the amounts indicated in said report of said engineer of construction. When the said board has levied the special assessment as hereinabove set forth, the clerk of said board shall cause to be filed with the recorder, and with the tax collector of the county or counties in which the district is situated, certified copies of the plat and report as adopted and confirmed by said board, together with certified copies of the order of said board levying said special assessment, and also give to the county auditor notice of the total amount of the installments for each year. If the district lies within more than one county as provided in section two, said certified copies shall be filed with the recorder and tax collector of each county affected. Upon the filing of such certified copies the charges assessed upon each piece of land for the first year shall immediately become due and payable, and shall constitute a lien thereon; thereafter the installments for the succeeding year shall become due and payable on the third Monday of October of each year, and shall thereupon constitute a lien upon the land against which it is assessed.

All moneys paid upon such assessment, either by property owners or by the county or municipality affected, shall be placed in the county treasury of the county in which such district was organized in a special fund to be known as drainage district improvement No. interest and sinking fund (the number being that of the district), and shall be used only to retire the bonds issued to pay the cost of constructing the improvement and the incidental expenses thereof, and to pay the interest on said bonds. Any surplus remaining shall be paid into the maintenance fund of said district. Upon the filing of the certified copy of the report, assessment plat, and order with the tax collector of the county or counties as above provided, the tax collector shall give notice by ten days publication in the newspaper designated in the resolution of intention, that the assessment list of drainage improvement district No. has been filed in his office, with the date of such filing; that the first installments entered thereon are due and payable, and that if not paid on or before the last Monday of April next ensuing the same will become delinquent and will be collected as are delinquent taxes. He shall note on said assessment list all assessments paid, and give receipts as upon the payment of taxes, and shall pay all money collected into the county treasury at the same time and in the same manner as money collected for taxes.

Subsequent collections of installments shall be made in the manner above set forth, and the tax collector shall annually publish a like notice, and the same proceedings shall be had as upon the collection of the first installment.

When said installments have become delinquent the tax collector of the county shall proceed to collect the same, together with an additional ten per cent added thereon, and pay the same over to the county treasurer as state and county taxes are collected and paid over; for the purpose of collecting such assessments and delinquent installments and penalties, all of the provisions of chapter seven, title nine, part three of the Political Code not in conflict with any of the provisions of this act are hereby made applicable. The entire assessment against a parcel of land within the district, subsequent installments as well as the installment for the current year, may at any time be paid in full.

The board of supervisors shall each year, at the time of making the levy of taxes for county purposes, levy an ad valorem tax upon the real estate in each drainage improvement district in their county organized under this act in an amount sufficient to raise the revenue which will be needed for the current year for maintaining and repairing the works and improvements for said district. Said tax, when levied, shall be entered upon the assessment roll and collected in the same manner as state and county taxes. When collected it shall be placed in the treasury of the county in a fund to be designated "drainage district improvement No. maintenance fund," (the number being that of the district), and shall be used only for the purpose for which it was raised. If said district includes land within more than one county as above provided in section two, the ad valorem tax herein provided to be levied, shall, by each of said counties be collected as to the lands lying within its boundaries; and said counties shall pay said tax so collected over to the county having jurisdiction of said district.

Execution of contract.

§ 13. The chairman of the board of supervisors is hereby authorized, in the name of the county to execute the contract with the awardee thereof, and to receive and approve all bonds required by this act on the part of the awardee, and shall, by the terms of said contract, fix the time for the beginning of the work, which shall not be more than twenty days from the date thereof. The contract shall provide that the work shall be prosecuted with diligence until completed, and shall fix a time for such completion. Such time of completion may be extended from time to time by the board of supervisors, in its discretion, and by resolution, entered by the clerk in the minutes of said board, a copy of which shall by said clerk be endorsed upon or annexed to the contract.

Bond of contractor.

Before the execution of such contract, a bond shall be executed and filed, running to the county, in an amount not less than one-half of the contract price of the work, signed by the contractor and two or more sureties, who, unless surety companies, shall qualify before an officer entitled to administer the oath, in a sum aggregately equal to the amount of the bond, each surety in the amount for which he becomes surety.

Such bond shall be conditioned for the faithful execution of the contract by the contractor, and for the payment by him for all labor and materials furnished for or in the doing of the work. The form and sufficiency of said bond shall be passed upon by some member of the board of supervisors, and such bond shall inure as well to the benefit of any and all persons furnishing labor or materials for the work as to that of the county.

County to issue bonds.

By said contract the county shall undertake that the board of supervisors will, upon the fulfillment and performance of the contract on the part of the contractor, and under the provisions of the drainage district improvement act of 1919 take all steps, in or by said act authorized to be taken, to effect the issuing by the county treasurer of the bonds in said act authorized to be issued, and provide a fund for their payment, as in or by said act prescribed. The contract shall state that in no case shall the county be liable thereunder, nor any officer thereof be holden thereunder except for the discharge of official duty under the law.

Taking over or reletting contract.

If the contractor shall fail to begin in good faith the work provided for in said contract within the time in said contract set forth, or shall fail thereafter to prosecute said work in a workmanlike and diligent manner, or shall fail in any other respect to carry out the terms of said contract, then the board of supervisors shall cause written notice to be served upon said contractor, specifying the particular in which he is not fulfilling the requirements of said contract, and if for a period of three days thereafter said contractor shall fail to remedy the defects set forth in said notice, and to prosecute said work thereafter with diligence and in a workmanlike manner, then the board of supervisors shall either take over said contract and complete said work, or shall relet said contract, without the necessity of advertising for bids, and cause the work to be completed, and shall declare the bond given by said contractor forfeited and order suit brought thereon, and all moneys collected therefrom shall be paid into the interest and sinking fund of the district.

Action on bond for material or labor furnished.

If the contractor shall fail to pay for any labor or material furnished for or in the doing of said work by any person, such person may within ninety days after the making of the final order hereinafter referred to, file with the county treasurer a verified statement of such facts, and such person may thereafter, within six months after the filing of such statement, bring an action on said bond in his own name, or if he has assigned his claim, the action may be brought in the name of the assignee; provided, however, that the right of the county to recover on said bond shall be superior to the rights of any such person to recover thereon; provided, moreover, that if such statement shall be filed before the expiration of twenty days from the making of such final order, then the county treasurer shall be authorized to withhold from the contractor sufficient of the bonds, issued as herein provided, to satisfy said claim, and costs, which can reasonably be anticipated.

Declaration that work has been completed. Hearing to determine whether work will be accepted.

§ 14. As soon as in good faith may be done, there shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors a declaration that the work has been completed according to the contract, together with an itemized statement of all the incidental costs and expenses of the work and the cost of the proceedings inclusive of the estimated cost of publishing the notice of final hearing hereinafter provided. The aggregate amount of such items shall be stated, and also the amount due under the contract; and also the gross sum for a bond issue representing the entire amount thereof, as claimed by the contractor. The said declaration and statements shall be signed and verified by the engineer of construction and by the contractor or by some person cognizant of the facts signing on his behalf and stating why he, instead of the contractor, so signs and verifies. Either signer may except from his signature and verification any amount or item to which he does not assent. The chairman of the board of supervisors shall fix a time for a hearing, to be known as the final hearing, for the purpose of determining whether the work shall be accepted as completed according to the contract, and for determining the aggregate amount for which bonds shall be issued representing the total costs of the work and the incidental costs and expenses of the work and the proceedings, all of which have been charged to and are payable by the contractor. Notice of such hearing shall be given and may, in form, and shall, in substance be as follows (filling the blanks):

Notice of final hearing.

NOTICE OF FINAL HEARING.

In the matter of drainage district improvement No.

Notice is hereby given that a final hearing in the above named matter will be had at the hour ofm. on the day of, 19...., at the chamber of the board of supervisors of the county of, state of California, for the purpose of determining whether the work done under the contract with under resolution of intention No. in drainage improvement district No. of the county of shall be accepted as being performed according to the contract, and for determining the aggregate amount for which bonds shall issue representing the cost of such work, including the incidental costs and expenses of the work and the proceedings, of which a statement has been filed with the clerk of said board of supervisors of the county of to which statement the attention of all persons interested is hereby directed.

..... of the board of supervisors of the county of

Attest:

Clerk of said board of supervisors.

Publication and posting. Objections. Continuance of hearing.

Such notice shall be signed by the chairman of the board of supervisors and attested by the clerk of the board of supervisors and published by at least two insertions in the newspaper or newspapers designated in the resolution of intention, and a copy or copies thereof posted and kept posted for two days at or near the chamber door of the board of supervisors, the first day of such publication and that of such posting (they need not be simultaneous) to be not less than five days before the day in said notice specified for the hearing. Proof of such publication shall be made by affidavit or affidavits, and the same shall be filed. If a quorum be not present at the time specified in the notice of the hearing, the members of the board then present may continue the hearing; and at all stages the hearing may, by resolution entered in the minutes, be continued from time to time. At any time before the day in said notice specified for the hearing any property owner may file written objection to the acceptance of the work on the ground that the work has not been completed or done according to the contract, specifying in ordinary language the particulars in which the work has not been so completed or done. Any person interested in the proceeding, as of the interest of the contractor, shall be presumed to take issue with such objection and shall be heard accordingly. Questions as to the incidental costs or expenses of the work or the proceedings may be raised orally by any property owner within the district. Evidence may be adduced as to any of the matters to be determined, and in such order as the board may direct. If, when the matter has been fully heard, whether under, or in the absence of, objections, the board of supervisors is of the opinion that the work has not been completed or done according to the contract, it shall in writing specify what must be done in order to complete the work, and shall, by an order or resolution to be entered in its minutes, continue the further hearing of the whole matter to a specified day, expressly stating that such continuance is for the purpose of enabling the contractor to complete his contract. On said continued hearing, the objections to the work filed before the day of the first hearing shall continue in force, and evidence shall be received, if offered, as to what has been done by way of completing the contract in the particulars specified in the order of the board on the said continuance of the hearing. If, upon such continued hearing, the board is of the opinion that the work is still uncompleted in the particulars as to which it was ordered to be completed, it shall be discretionary with said board to order or refuse a second continuance of the hearing. If the board does order such second continuance, it shall be ordered in the same manner, with like effect as upon the first continuance; and likewise as to a second and any other or further continuance. Objections to any item of incidental costs and expenses shall pend and be heard on said day, or at any continued hearing had as above in this section provided. Every continuance of said hearing for the purpose of enabling the contractor to complete his contract or the work shall continue or revive such powers in the proceeding as the board of supervisors had under the provisions of this act, at the time of the filing of the contractor's declaration that the work was completed, as above provided, and also operate to extend the time for the completion of said contract in such manner that its completion within the time to which the hearing is continued, shall be as valid performance of such contract as if completed at the time of filing such declaration.

Acceptance of work.

§ 15. Whenever upon the hearing in section fourteen provided, whether original or continued, the board shall be of the opinion that the work has been completed and done according to the contract, said board shall by resolution to be entered upon its minutes so declare, and shall in said resolution declare that the work is accepted and the amount of the contract price for doing the work and the amount of the incidental costs and expenses of the work and proceedings and the aggregate amount for which bonds are to be issued and shall make final order that bonds be issued therefor as hereinafter provided. The decision and determination of said board at the hearing provided for in section fourteen shall, as to all matters determined at said hearing and as to all errors, informalities, irregularities, or omissions which said board might have avoided or remedied during the progress of the proceedings, or which it can at that time remedy, be final and conclusive upon all persons entitled to be heard before said board on said matters, and no assessment or tax levied for the payment of the bonds, and the interest thereon, to be issued for said work and expenses, shall be held invalid by any court for any error, informality, omission or other defect in the proceedings where the resolution of intention has been actually published as in this act provided, before the said board shall have ordered the work to be done.

Bonds to be issued by treasurer.

§ 16. Upon the expiration of twenty days after the making of the final order provided in section fifteen of this act, the clerk of the board of supervisors shall transmit to the county treasurer of the county an attested copy of said final order, and upon receipt of the same, the treasurer shall proceed to issue bonds amounting in the aggregate to the principal sum for which bonds are to be issued as the same is stated in said final order. A bond may be issued in any amount, provided that the aggregate of the bond or bonds made payable in any one year is the proper part of the whole principal of the bond issue as specified in said final order, and that the interest thereon shall be payable as hereinafter provided. The said bonds may in form, and shall in substance, be as follows:

Drainage district improvement bond.

DRAINAGE DISTRICT IMPROVEMENT BOND.

County of, State of California.
Drainage Improvement District No.

$..... Bond No.....

Under and by virtue of an act of the legislature of the state of California, known as the "drainage district improvement act of 1919" (here may be inserted a further designation of the act if desired) the county of, state of California, will pay to the bearer, out of the fund hereinafter designated, at the office of the treasurer of the said county, on the day of, 19...., the sum of dollars in gold coin of the United States of America, with interest thereon, in like gold coin at the rate of per cent per annum, payable semiannually on the day of and the day of of each year from the date hereof (the last installment thereof shall be payable at maturity of this bond) upon presentation and surrender, as they respectively become due, of the proper interest coupons hereto attached, the first of which is for interest from date hereof to the next date of interest payment, and the last for interest to maturity hereof from the last preceding date of interest payment.

This bond is issued under and in conformity with the provisions of said drainage district improvement act of 1919 and the amendments thereof, and is one of a series of bonds of like date and effect numbered from one to consecutively, amounting in the aggregate to dollars, issued in behalf of drainage improvement district No. of said county, which constitute the only indebtedness of said district. It is hereby certified, recited and declared that all proceedings, acts and things required by law precedent to or in the issuance of this bond have been regularly had, done and performed, and this bond is by law made conclusive evidence thereof.

This bond is payable out of drainage district improvement No. interest and sinking fund exclusively, as the same appears on the books of the treasurer of said county, and neither said county nor any officer thereof shall be holden for its payment otherwise.

In witness whereof said county has caused this bond to be signed by the chairman of its board of supervisors and countersigned by its treasurer and the seal of said board to be hereto affixed and said interest coupons to be signed by the said treasurer this day of, 19....

Chairman of the board of supervisors of the county of.....
Countersigned:
Treasurer of the county of.....

[Seal of board of supervisors]

Term and interest.

Said bonds shall be signed by the chairman of the board of supervisors and countersigned by the treasurer of the county, and shall have the seal of said board of supervisors thereto affixed, and when so signed shall be binding according to the terms thereof as prescribed in said form. The interest coupons attached to said bonds shall be in such form as said treasurer may determine, subject to the provisions of this act and the approval of the board of supervisors. Said coupons need be signed only by the treasurer either in writing or by lithographed or printed facsimile. Said bonds shall be delivered by the said treasurer to said contractor or to his order, assignee, or lawful representative.

The board of supervisors is hereby vested with power to determine the number of years, not to exceed twenty, within which the aggregate principal of bonds to be issued under this act shall be paid and discharged, and to fix the rate of interest, not to exceed seven per cent per annum, to be paid thereon, and it shall be a sufficient determination and fixing of the same to set forth in the resolution of intention that bonds will issue for the work in any terms that will fairly indicate such time and such rate and the fractional part of the principal to be paid each year, which fractional part, for each year except the last, shall be that multiple of one hundred dollars nearest the amount obtained by dividing the amount of the total bond issue by the number of years through which said bond issue is to continue, and for the last year shall be for the balance of the total bond issue not provided to be paid in the previous years.

Manner of making payments.

The interest payments on said bonds shall become due and payable semiannually on such dates as will cause the final installment thereof to become due and payable on the date of the maturity of the bond in the manner indicated in said form of bond. Interest and principal shall be payable at the office of the county treasurer in gold coin of the United States of America; but it shall not be necessary, either in the resolution of intention or otherwise, to set forth or determine the days of the month on which payments of interest are to be made, nor that payments shall be made in such gold coin, nor that payments shall be made at such treasurer's office, but all persons are charged with notice of the contents of this section, especially in the aforesaid particulars.

Bonds evidence of prior proceedings.

§ 17. Said bonds by their issuance shall be conclusive evidence of the regularity of all proceedings prior thereto under this act, and after the same are issued, no tax levied or collected for the purpose of paying the principal or interest on said bonds shall be held to be illegal or set aside or refunded by reason of any informality, irregularity, omission or defect in any of the proceedings prior to the issuance of said bonds, nor shall any action be maintained to cancel or set aside said bonds, or to prevent the payment thereof or the levy or collection of a tax for such payment.

Costs paid by contractor.

§ 18. All costs, charges and expenses of the proceeding, including the salaries of the engineer of construction and of any assistants or employees necessarily employed by or under him in his work as herein provided, and in making the report and spreading the assessment as by this act required, and the costs of all publications provided to be made, and any and all other expenses, whether for material or labor, necessary in the performance of the duties of said engineer of construction, as in this act provided, shall be paid by the county. But the amount thereof shall thereupon become a charge upon the contractor and shall have been repaid by him to the county before delivery of the bonds shall be made by the county treasurer; provided, however, that if said costs and expenses are not paid within ten days after notice given that said bonds, excepting such number thereof as may be withheld to satisfy claims filed as hereinabove provided are ready for delivery, a sufficient number of said bonds may be sold at not less than ninety-five per cent of their face value to fully satisfy said costs and expenses, any surplus over said costs and expenses obtained by such sale to be paid to said contractor; provided, further, that the county treasurer may make delivery of such bonds, if there be deposited with him, subject to the order of the board of supervisors, money to the amount of the costs and expenses chargeable to the contractor as the same is stated in the final order of the board of supervisors, provided for in section fifteen of this act; provided, further, that for furnishing plans and specifications and posting and publishing the resolution of intention and other notices which have been posted or published, the county shall be liable in case the proceedings cease or are abandoned, before the award of the contract. The contractor and all persons claiming under him any interest in said bonds, whether of ownership, lien or otherwise, shall be deemed to have notice of the contents of this section.

Publication in newspaper.

§ 19. If publication in the newspaper or newspapers designated in the resolution of intention become impossible for any reason, the board of supervisors may by a resolution to be entered in its minutes, stating the facts, designate another newspaper for each required publication as occasion therefor arises.

Papers filed with clerk of board.

§ 20. All papers in a proceeding under this act (save such as thereunder may be returnable to owners) shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors, and by him kept together in a package appropriately labeled. Whenever in this act the term "clerk of the board of supervisors" is employed, it shall be deemed to include one who is, ex officio, such, and it shall be immaterial that he designate himself as county clerk where the county clerk is ex officio clerk of the board of supervisors, nor shall it be material that his act be by deputy.

Augmenting other streams or drains.

§ 21. The provisions of this act shall not be so construed as to permit waters to be carried out of their natural course to augment other streams or drains, to the damage of the residents along the banks of the streams or drains so augmented.

Securing rights of way.

§ 22. It shall be the duty of the engineer of construction where possible, to obtain options on rights of way necessary to the carrying out of the plans and specifications and to submit the same to the board of supervisors for ratification. Whenever the board of supervisors of any county in which a district is formed under this act can not purchase at a reasonable price or procure the right of way, or any lands found by them to be necessary in order to carry out the plans and specifications for the proposed drainage of any such district, or procure the consent of all parties interested to join or connect with any existing ditches or outlets, the board may proceed to condemn the same under the provisions of title seven, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Costs charge on contractor.

The costs of such rights of way or such condemnation proceedings shall be paid by the county, but the amount thereof shall thereupon become a charge upon the contractor as provided in section eighteen of this act.

Incidental expenses.

§ 23. In all cases, when, after the bonds have been issued, it is found that the contractor has failed, through error or oversight, to pay any item of incidental expenses, the county shall pay the same and reimburse itself from the interest and sinking fund. Likewise, when the contractor has paid to the county an amount more than sufficient to cover the incidental expenses, for which bonds have been issued, the county shall pay such surplus to said interest and sinking fund.

Advance by county to pay interest or retire bonds.

If, for any reason whatsoever, there be insufficient money in the interest and sinking fund to pay the interest or retire said bonds when such interest or bonds become due and payable, the county shall advance the balance necessary to pay such interest or retire such bonds becoming due at that time, and shall reimburse itself from moneys paid into said interest and sinking fund.

Maintenance of improvement.

§ 24. The engineer of construction shall, subject to the approval of the board of supervisors, do all things necessary for the proper maintenance of the improvement. The compensation of any assistants or employees or the cost of any material necessary shall be payable out of the maintenance fund.

In a like manner the engineer of construction shall maintain all existing drainage district improvements constructed under the act of 1903, being the act referred to in section twenty-seven of this act.

Construction.

§ 25. This act shall be liberally construed with a view to promoting the objects and purposes thereof.

Title.

§ 26. This act shall be known as the drainage district improvement act of 1919, and by such designation shall be sufficiently identified in any proceeding thereunder, and whenever in the resolution of intention it shall be set forth or recited that the proceeding is under the "drainage district improvement act of 1919," this act shall be construed as the paramount statute for such proceeding.

Act Stats. 1903, p. 354, repealed. Alternative act.

§ 27. This act shall supersede and repeal an act of the legislature of the state of California approved March 21, 1903, and amendments thereto entitled "An act to promote the drainage of wet, swamp and overflowed lands, and to promote the public health in the communities in which they lie"; provided, however, that nothing contained herein shall operate to invalidate any proceedings heretofore taken under the provisions of said act approved March 21, 1903, as amended; provided, further, that any district formed under the provisions of the said act of 1903, but not completed at the time this act takes effect, shall be completed, accepted by the board of supervisors and bonds shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of the said act of 1903, but may be issued for all the purposes specified in this act including expenditures made to procure rights of way whether inside of such drainage district or outside thereof, where the board finds it necessary for such district, but such district shall thereafter be maintained under the provisions of section twenty-four of this act. Otherwise this act is not intended to supersede or repeal any other act for the construction of work for drainage purposes, but is intended as an independent and alternative act of the legislature of the state of California.

See Act 1281.

1. Construction of act of 1903—Repugnancy.—Upon a consideration of the whole act, and the clear intention of the legislature it is held that the act should be construed to provide for the issuance of bonds to the contractor equal to his bid, plus such sum as he, under the requirements of the act, should advance to cover incidental and preliminary work, and that the repugnancy between the provisions of sections 8d and 8e should not be treated as fatal to the validity of the act.—Van de Water v. Pridham, 33 Cal. App. 252, 164 Pac. 1136.

2. Construction of a drainage system to include an incorporated municipality, or a portion of its territory, for the purpose of draining a swamp adjacent to such city, is not a municipal affair although the drainage ditches extend through the city streets.—Van de Water v. Pridham, 33 Cal. App. 252, 164 Pac. 1136.

3. Drainage canal.—The consent of the legislative body of a municipality, whatever may be the character of its charter, is a prerequisite to the extending of a drainage canal through its streets.—Van de Water v. Pridham, 33 Cal. App. 252, 164 Pac. 1136.

4. Drainage canal through city streets.—An ordinance of the city of Long Beach, operating under a freeholder charter giving it plenary control of all uses of its streets, together with all matters of internal sanitation, authorizing a drainage district to lay and maintain drainage canals through the streets of the city, was valid, notwithstanding certain conditions attached to the grant which were protective of the public interest and germane to the subject of the grant.—Van de Water v. Pridham, 33 Cal. App. 252, 164 Pac. 1136.

5. Public benefit.—The act of 1903 is not void for failure to provide that the doing of the work shall depend upon its being a public benefit; besides, section 4 of the act makes the determination of the board to proceed with the hearing referred to presumptive evidence of the existence of all facts upon which the power of the board to proceed depends, including the fact that the work is for the public benefit, although a finding to that effect is not expressly required.—Van de Water v. Pridham, 33 Cal. App. 252, 164 Pac. 1136.

6. Superseded.—The act of 1903 was not superseded by the Los Angeles county flood control district act of 1915 (Stats. 1915, p. 1502).—Van de Water v. Pridham, 33 Cal. App. 252, 164 Pac. 1136.

DRAINAGE DISTRICT ACT OF 1903.

ACT 1284—An act to provide for the organization and government of drainage districts, for the drainage of agricultural lands other than swamp and overflowed lands, and to provide for the acquisition or construction thereby of works for the drainage of the lands embraced within such districts.

History: Approved March 20, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 291. Amended April 22, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 1061; June 8, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1321. Former act of March 31, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 334; amended March 23, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 554; repealed by present act.

Organization of drainage districts. Who can sign petition.

§ 1. Whenever fifty or a majority of the holders of title, or evidence of title as herein provided, to agricultural lands other than swamp and overflowed lands, which are susceptible of one general mode of drainage by the same system of works, desire to provide for the drainage of such lands, they may propose the organization of a drainage district under the provisions of this act, and when so organized, such district shall have the powers, rights and duties conferred, or which may be conferred by law, upon such drainage districts. The equalized county assessment roll next preceding the presentation of a petition for the organization of a drainage district under the provisions of this act, shall be sufficient evidence of title for the purposes of this act; provided, that no person who has received or acquired title to land within such proposed district for the purpose of enabling him or her to join in such petition or to become an elector of said district, shall be allowed to sign such petition or to vote at any election to be held in such district, under the provisions of this act. Such illegal signing, however, shall not invalidate such petition when there shall be found a sufficient number of other legal petitioners.

Petition to board of supervisors. Bond. Publication.

§ 2. In order to propose the organization of a drainage district, a petition shall be presented to the board of supervisors of the county in which the lands within the proposed district or the greater portion thereof, are situated, signed by the required number of holders of title, or evidence of title, to lands within such proposed district, which petition shall set forth and particularly describe the proposed boundaries of such district, and shall pray that the same be organized under the provisions of this act. The petitioners must accompany the petition with a good and sufficient bond, to be approved by the said board of supervisors, in double the amount of the probable cost of organizing such district, conditioned that the obligors will pay all the costs in case such an organization will not be effected. The petition shall be presented at a regular meeting of said board of supervisors, and shall have been published for at least two weeks before such presentation, in some newspaper printed and published in the county where the petition is presented, together with a notice stating the date of the meeting of said board at which the petition will be presented; and if any portion of the proposed district lies within another county, or counties, then said petition and notice shall be likewise published in a newspaper printed and published in each of such counties.

Hearing of petition.

§ 3. When such petition is presented, the board of supervisors shall hear the same, and may adjourn such hearing from time to time not exceeding four weeks in all, and on the final hearing said board shall make such changes in the proposed boundaries as may be deemed advisable and shall define and establish such boundaries. But said board shall not modify said boundaries so as to exclude from such proposed district any territory which is susceptible of drainage by the same system of works applicable to the other lands in such proposed district; nor shall any lands which will not, in the judgment of said board, be benefited by drainage, by means of said system of works, be included within such proposed district. Any person whose lands are susceptible of drainage by the same system of works, may, upon his application, in the discretion of said board, have such lands included within said proposed district. Upon such hearing of said petition, the board of supervisors, shall determine whether or not said petition complies with the requirements of sections one and two of this act, and for that purpose must hear all competent and relevant testimony offered in support or in opposition thereto. Such determination shall be entered upon the minutes of said board of supervisors.

Right to appeal from order of board. Remittitur.

§ 4. The right of appeal from said order to the superior court of the county where said petition is heard, is hereby given to any person interested, who is a party to the record; provided, that if more than one appeal be taken they shall be consolidated and tried together. Such appeal shall be taken within ten days after the entry of such order upon the minutes of the board of supervisors. The appeal shall be taken and heard in the same manner as appeals from justices' courts to the superior court, except as herein otherwise provided. Upon the appeal, the superior court may make and enter its judgment affirming, modifying, or reversing the order appealed from. Within ten days thereafter, the superior court must cause its remittitur to issue to said board of supervisors, and if said order of the board of supervisors is modified or reversed, the judgment of the superior court and its remittitur shall direct the board of supervisors what order it shall enter. Such remittitur shall be filed by the clerk of the board of supervisors, and at the first regular meeting of the board thereafter, it shall cause to be entered in its minutes the order as directed by said superior court. The appeal herein provided for shall be heard and determined within thirty days from the time of filing the notice of appeal.

District directors.

§ 5. When, under the provisions of the preceding sections, the boundaries of the proposed district are defined and established, said board shall make an order dividing said district into three or five divisions, as nearly equal in size as practicable, which divisions shall be numbered consecutively, and one director who shall be an elector and a resident freeholder of the division, shall be elected, as hereinafter provided, by each division; provided, that when requested in the petition three directors who shall be residents, electors and freeholders of the district, shall be elected at large by the qualified electors of the district.

Election to determine proposed organization. Ballots.

§ 6. Said board of supervisors shall then give notice of an election to be held in such proposed district for the purpose of determining whether or not the same shall be organized under the provisions of this act. Such notice shall designate a name for such proposed district, and describe the boundaries thereof and the boundaries of the precincts established therein, when more than one, together with a designation of the polling place and board of election for each precinct; and said notice shall be published for at least three weeks previous to such election, in a newspaper published within the county in which the petition for the organization of the proposed district was presented; and if any portion of such proposed district is within another county or counties, then such notice shall be published for the same length of time in a newspaper published in each of said counties. Such notice shall require the electors to cast ballots, which shall contain the words "drainage district—yes" or "drainage district—no" or words equivalent thereto, and also the names of one or more persons (according to the divisions of the proposed district as prayed for in the petition and ordered by the board) to be voted for to fill the office of director. Such election shall be conducted as nearly as practicable in accordance with the general election laws of the state but no particular form of ballot shall be required.

Qualification of electors.

§ 7. No person shall be entitled to vote at any election held under the provisions of this act unless he possesses all the qualifications required of electors under the general election laws of the state.

Declaration of organization.

§ 8. The said board of supervisors shall, on the first Monday succeeding such election if then in session, or at its next succeeding general or special session, proceed to canvass the votes cast thereat, and if upon such canvass it appears that a majority of all the votes cast are "drainage district—yes" the board shall by an order entered in its minutes, declare such territory duly organized as a drainage district, under the name theretofore designated, and shall declare the persons receiving, respectively the highest number of votes for directors to be duly elected to such offices. [Amendment approved April 22, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 1061.]

Copy of order to be recorded.

Election may be contested.

§ 10. Such election on organization may be contested by any person owning property within the proposed district liable to assessment. The directors elected at such election shall be made parties defendant. Such contest shall be brought in the superior court of the county where the petition for organization is filed; provided, that if more than one contest be pending they shall be consolidated and tried together. The court having jurisdiction shall speedily try such contest, and determine, upon the hearing, whether the election was fairly conducted and in substantial compliance with the requirements of this act, and enter its judgment accordingly. Such contest must be brought within twenty days after the canvass of the vote and declaration of the result by the board of supervisors. The right of appeal is hereby given to either party to the record within thirty days from entry of judgment. The appeal must be heard and determined by the supreme court within sixty days from the time of filing the notice of appeal.

When directors shall enter upon duties.

§ 11. The directors elected at the election hereinbefore provided for shall immediately enter upon their duties as such upon qualifying in the manner herein provided. Said directors shall hold office respectively until their successors are elected and qualified.

Term of office. President and secretary.

§ 12. The directors of any district created after the passage of this act, on the first Tuesday after their election, after they shall have qualified, shall meet and classify themselves by lot into two classes, as nearly equal in number as possible, and the term of office of the class having the greater number shall expire at the next general February election in this act provided for; and the term of office of the class having the lesser number shall terminate at the next general February election thereafter. After such classification, said directors shall organize as a board, shall elect a president from their number, and appoint a secretary, who shall each hold office during the pleasure of the board. The salary of the secretary and the amount of the bonds to be given by him for the faithful performance of his duties shall be fixed by the board of directors.

Meetings. Publication of financial statement.

§ 13. The board of directors shall hold regular meetings in their office on the first Tuesday in March, June, September and December, and such special meetings as may be required for the proper transaction of business; provided, that all special meetings must be ordered by a majority of the board by an order entered in the minutes specifying the business to be transacted. Three days' notice to any member not joining in the order must be given by the secretary, and only the business specified in the order must be transacted at such special meeting. All meetings of the board must be public, and a majority of members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. A minute of all proceedings of the board shall be kept by the secretary, and all records of the board shall be open to public inspection during business hours. The board of directors shall, on the first Tuesday in March of each and every year, render, and immediately thereafter cause to be published, a verified statement of the financial condition of the district, showing particularly the receipts and disbursements of the last preceding year, together with the source of such receipts and purpose of such disbursements. Said publication shall be made at least once a week for two weeks, in some paper published in the county where the office of the board of directors of such district is situated.

Powers and duties of board of directors.

§ 14. The board shall have the power and it shall be their duty, to manage and conduct the business and affairs of the district; make and execute all necessary contracts; to adopt a seal for the district to be used in the attestation of proper documents; provide for the payment, from the proper fund, of all the debts and just claims against the district; employ and appoint when necessary, engineers to survey, plan, locate, and estimate the cost of the works necessary for drainage and the land needed for right of way, including drains, canals, sluices, water-gates, embankments and material for construction, and to construct, maintain, and keep in repair all works necessary for the purpose of drainage. The board and its agents and employees shall have the right to enter upon any land to make surveys, and may locate the necessary drainage works and the line for any canals, sluices, water-gates and embankments, and the necessary branches for the same, on any lands which may be deemed best for such location. Said board shall also have the right to acquire, hold and possess either by donation, purchase or condemnation, any land or other property, necessary for the construction, use, maintenance, repair, and improvement of any works required for the purpose of drainage as provided herein. The board may establish equitable by-laws, rules and regulations necessary or proper for carrying on the business herein contemplated, and generally may perform all such acts as shall be necessary to fully carry out the purposes of this act.

Change of boundaries.

§ 15. The board of directors, when they deem it advisable for the best interests of the district and the convenience of the electors thereof, may at any time, but not less than sixty days before an election to be held in the district, change the boundaries of the divisions and election precincts of the district; provided, such changes shall be made to keep each division as nearly equal in area and population as may be practicable. Such change of boundaries of the division must be shown on the minutes of the board.

Condemnation proceedings.

§ 16. In case of condemnation proceedings, the board shall proceed, in the name of the district, under the provisions of Title VII, Part III, of the Code of Civil Procedure, which said provisions are hereby made applicable for that purpose, and it is hereby declared that the use of the property which may be condemned, taken, or appropriated under the provisions of this act, is a public use, subject to regulation and control of the state in the manner prescribed by law.

Biennial election of directors. Official bond. Vacancies, how filled.

§ 17. In each district organized as herein provided, an election shall be held on the first Wednesday in February, nineteen hundred and five, and on the first Wednesday of February of each second year thereafter, at which a board of directors for the district, as provided in section 5 of this act, shall be elected. The person receiving the highest number of votes for the office to be filled at such election is elected thereto. Within ten days after receiving their respective certificates of election, each of said persons shall qualify as such by taking and subscribing the official oath and filing a bond as herein provided. Each director shall execute an official bond in the sum of one thousand dollars, which shall be approved by the judge of the superior court of the county where the organization of the district was effected and shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of such county, and then, together with his official oath, filed with the secretary of the board of directors. All official bonds herein provided for shall be in the form prescribed by law for the official bonds of county officers. If a vacancy shall occur in the office of director the same shall be filled by appointment by the supervisors of the county where such district is organized. A director so appointed shall qualify within ten days after receiving notice of his appointment as in said act provided, if he were elected to such office and he shall hold such office only until the next regular election for said district and until his successor is elected and qualified.

Organization after election. Term of office.

§ 18. On the first Tuesday in March next following the election, the directors who shall have been elected at the general February election, shall meet and organize as a board, elect a president and appoint a secretary, who shall each hold office during the pleasure of the board. And the directors of districts now organized who shall have been elected at the general February election of nineteen hundred and five, shall, on the first Tuesday in March next thereafter, when they meet to organize, first classify themselves by lot into two classes as nearly equal in number as possible. And the terms of office of the class having the greater number shall be two years; and the term of office of the lesser number shall be four years. The full term of office of directors is hereby fixed at four years. The office of the board of directors of any such district may be established by said board of directors at the county seat, or at some proper and convenient place within the district, but after the office is once established it shall not be changed without giving notice thereof by posting in three public places in the district and by publishing a similar notice for thirty days in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county where such district is organized.

Notice of election.

§ 19. Fifteen days before any election held under this act, subsequent to the organization of any district, the secretary of the board of directors shall cause notices to be posted in three public places in each election precinct, of the time and place of holding the election, and shall also post a similar notice of the same in a conspicuous place in the office of the said board, specifying the polling-places of each precinct, and the names of the members of the boards of election, for each precinct. Prior to the time for posting such notices, the board must appoint for each precinct, from the electors thereof, one inspector and one judge and one clerk, who shall constitute a board of election for such precinct. If the board fail to appoint a board of election, or the members appointed, or any of them, do not attend at the opening of the polls on the morning of election, the electors of the precinct present at that hour, may appoint the board, or supply the place of an absent member thereof. The board of directors must in its order appointing the board of election, designate the place within each precinct where the election must be held.

Duty of election board. Polls open. Form of ballot.

§ 20. The inspector is chairman of the election board, and may administer all oaths required in the progress of an election; and appoint judges and clerks, if, during the progress of the election, any judge or clerk cease to act. Any member of the board of election, or any clerk thereof, may administer and certify oaths required to be administered during the progress of an election. The board of election for each precinct must, before opening the polls, appoint two persons to act as clerks of the election. Before opening the polls, each member of the board and each clerk must take and subscribe an oath to faithfully perform the duties imposed upon them by law. Any elector of the precinct may administer and certify such oath. The polls must be open at 9 o'clock a. m., and be kept open until 4:00 p. m., when the same must be closed. The provisions of the general election laws concerning the form of ballots to be used shall not apply to elections held under this act.

General election laws to govern.

§ 21. Voting may commence as soon as the polls are opened, and may be continued during all the time the polls remain opened, and shall be conducted, as nearly as practicable, in accordance with the provisions of the general election laws in this state.

Election returns.

§ 22. As soon as all the votes are read off and counted, a certificate shall be drawn up on each of the papers containing the poll list and tallies, or attached thereto, stating the number of votes each one voted for has received, and designating the office to fill which he was voted for, which number shall be written in figures and in words at full length. Each certificate shall be signed by the clerk, judge and the inspector. One of said certificates with the poll list and the tally paper to which it is attached, shall be retained by the inspector, and preserved by him at least six months. The ballots shall be strung upon a cord or thread by the inspector, during the counting thereof, in the order in which they are entered upon the tally list by the clerks; and said ballots together with the other of said certificates, with the poll list and tally paper to which it is attached, shall be sealed by the inspector in the presence of the judges and clerks, and indorsed "Election returns of (naming the precinct) precinct" and be directed to the secretary of the board of directors and shall be immediately delivered by the inspector, or by some other safe and responsible carrier designated by said inspector, to said secretary, and the ballots shall be kept unopened for at least six months, and if any person be of the opinion that the vote of any precinct has not been correctly counted, he may appear on the day appointed for the board of directors to open and canvass the returns and demand a recount of the vote of the precinct that is so claimed to have been incorrectly counted.

Canvass of returns.

§ 23. No list, tally paper, or certificate from any election, shall be set aside or rejected for want of form if it can be satisfactorily understood. The board of directors must meet at its usual place of meeting on the first Monday after each election to canvass the returns. If, at the time of meeting, the returns from each precinct in the district in which the polls were opened have been received, the board of directors must then and there proceed to canvass the returns; but if all the returns have not been received, the canvass must be postponed from day to day until the returns have been received, or until six postponements have been had. The canvass must be made in public and by opening the returns and estimating the vote of the district for each person voted for and declaring the result thereof.

Statement of result.

§ 24. The secretary of the board of directors, must, as soon as the result is declared, enter in the records of such board, a statement of such result, which statement must show; (a) the whole number of votes cast in the district and in each precinct thereof if there be more than one precinct; (b) the names of the persons voted for; (c) the office to fill which each person was voted for; (d) the number of votes given in each precinct to each of such persons; (e) the number of votes given in each division for the office of director. The board of directors must declare elected the persons having the highest number of votes given for each office. The secretary must immediately make out and deliver to such person a certificate of election, signed by him, and authenticated with the seal of the board.

Number of directors may be changed.

§ 25. In any district the board of directors thereof may, upon the presentation of a petition therefor, by a majority of the holders of title, or evidence of title, of said district, evidenced as above provided, order that on and after the next ensuing general election for the district, there shall be either three or five directors, as said board may order, and they shall be elected, by the district at large, or by divisions, as so petitioned and ordered; and after such order such directors shall be so elected.

Title to property shall vest in district.

§ 26. The legal title to all property acquired under the provisions of this act shall immediately and by operation of law vest in such drainage district, and shall be held by such district in trust for and is hereby dedicated and set apart to the uses and purposes set forth in this act. And said board is hereby authorized and empowered to hold, use, acquire, manage, occupy, and possess said property as herein provided. The said board is hereby authorized and empowered to take conveyances or other assurances for all property acquired by it under the provisions of this act, in the name of such drainage district, to and for the uses and purposes herein expressed, and to institute and maintain any and all actions and proceedings, suits at law or in equity, necessary or proper in order to fully carry out the provisions of this act, or to enforce, maintain, protect, or preserve any and all rights, privileges and immunities created by this act, or acquired in pursuance thereof. And in all courts, actions, suits, or proceedings, the said board may sue, appear, and defend in person or by attorneys, and in the name of such drainage district.

Provisions for bond election. Ballots.

§ 27. For the purpose of constructing necessary conduits, drains, sluices, water-gates, embankments and all works necessary for the purpose of drainage, and acquiring the necessary property and rights therefor, and otherwise carrying out the provisions of this act, the board of directors of any such district must, as soon after such district has been organized as may be practicable, and also whenever thereafter the construction fund has been exhausted by expenditures as herein authorized therefrom, and it is necessary to raise additional money for said purposes, estimate and determine the amount of money necessary to be raised. And thereafter said board shall immediately call a special election, at which shall be submitted to the electors of such district the question whether or not the bonds of said district shall be issued in the amount so determined. Notice of such election must be given by posting notices in three public places in each election precinct in said district for at least twenty days, and also by publication of such notice in some newspaper published in the county where the office of the board of directors of such district is required to be kept, once a week for at least three successive weeks. Such notices must specify the time of holding the election, the amount of bonds proposed to be issued; and said election must be held and the result thereof determined and declared in all respects as nearly as practicable in conformity with the provisions of this act governing the election of officers; provided, that no informalities in conducting such an election shall invalidate the same, if the election shall have been otherwise fairly conducted. At such election the ballots shall contain the words "Bonds—Yes" or "Bonds—No," or words equivalent thereto. If a majority of the votes cast are "Bonds—Yes," the board of directors shall cause bonds in said amount to be issued; if a majority of the votes cast at any bond election are "Bonds—No," the result of such election shall be so declared and entered of record. Whenever thereafter, a petition of the character hereinbefore provided for in this section, is presented to the board, it shall so declare of record in its minutes, and shall thereupon submit such questions to said electors in the same manner and with like effect as at such previous election.

Drainage district bonds payable in ten series. Interest. Denomination. Coupons.

§ 28. All bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be payable in gold coin of the United States, in ten series as follows, to wit: On the first day of January, after the expiration of eleven years, five per cent of the whole number of said bonds; on the first day of January after the expiration of twelve years, six per cent; on the first day of January after the expiration of thirteen years, seven per cent; on the first day of January after the expiration of fourteen years, eight per cent; on the first day of January after the expiration of fifteen years, nine per cent; on the first day of January after the expiration of sixteen years, ten per cent; on the first day of January after the expiration of seventeen years, eleven per cent; on the first day of January after the expiration of eighteen years, thirteen per cent; on the first day of January after the expiration of nineteen years, fifteen per cent; and on the first day of January after the expiration of twenty years, sixteen per cent; that the several enumerated percentages being of the entire amount of the bond issue, but each bond must be made payable at a given time for its entire amount and not for a percentage. Said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable semiannually, on the first day of January and July of each year. The principal and interest shall be payable at the place designated therein. Said bonds shall be each of the denomination of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars; shall be negotiable in form, signed by the president and secretary, and the seal of the board of directors shall be affixed and the bonds of each issue shall be numbered consecutively, and bear date at the time of their issue. Coupons for the interest shall be attached to each bond, signed by the secretary. Said bonds shall express on their face that they were signed by authority of this act, stating its title and date of approval, and shall also so state the number of the issue of which such bonds are a part. The secretary shall keep a record of the bonds sold, their number, the date of sale, the price received, and the name of the purchaser. [Amendment of June 8, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1321.]

Sale of bonds.

§ 29. The board may sell bonds from time to time in such quantities as may be necessary and most advantageous, to raise money for the construction of said drains and works, the acquisition of said property and rights, and otherwise to fully carry out the objects and purposes of this act. Before making any sale the board shall, at a meeting, by resolution, declare its intention to sell a specified amount of the bonds, and the day and hour and place of such sale, and shall cause such resolution to be entered in the minutes, and notice of the sale to be given, by publication thereof at least three weeks in some newspaper published in the county where the office of the board of directors is located, and in any other newspaper, at its discretion. The notice shall state that sealed proposals will be received by the board at their office, for the purchase of bonds, till the day and hour named in the resolution. At the time appointed the board shall open the proposals, and award the purchase of the bonds to the highest responsible bidder; provided, however, that they may reject all bids. Said board shall in no event sell any of the said bonds for less than the par value thereof.

Bonds shall be lien upon property of district.

§ 30. Any bonds issued under the provisions of this act, shall be a lien upon the property of the district and the lien for the bonds of any issue shall be a preferred lien to that of any subsequent issue. Said bonds, and the interest thereon, shall be paid by revenue derived from an annual assessment upon the real property of the district; and all the real property in the district shall be and remain liable to be assessed for such payments as hereinafter provided.

Assessment shall be submitted to people. Election. Ballots.

§ 31. In case the money raised by the sale of bonds be insufficient or in case the bonds be unavailable for the completion of the plan of drainage and works adopted, and additional bonds be not voted, it shall be the duty of the board of directors to provide for the completion of said plan by levy of assessments therefor; provided, however, that such levy of assessments shall not be made except first an estimate of the amount required for such purposes has been made by said board, and the question as to the making of said levy submitted to a vote of the electors of the district. Before such question is submitted, the order of submission shall be entered in the minutes of the board, stating the amount to be levied and the purpose therefor, and if submitted at a special election said order shall, in addition, fix the day of election. Notice of such election must be given by posting notices in three public places in each election precinct in said district for at least twenty days, and also by publication of such notice in some newspaper published in the county where the office of the board of directors of such district is required to be kept, once a week for at least three successive weeks. Such notices must specify the time of holding the election, and the amount of assessment proposed to be levied. Said election must be held and the result thereof determined and declared in all respects as nearly as practicable in conformity with the provisions of this act governing the election of officers; provided, that no informalities in conducting such an election shall invalidate the same, if the election shall have been otherwise fairly conducted. At such election the ballots shall contain the words "Assessment—Yes," or "Assessment—No," or words equivalent thereto. If a majority of the votes cast are "Assessment—Yes," the board of directors shall proceed in the manner prescribed in sections 40-43 herein provided for raising funds for the annual requirements; if a majority of the votes cast are "Assessment—No," the result of such election shall be so declared and entered of record.

Refunding indebtedness.

§ 32. Whenever a district organized under the provisions of this act, has outstanding bonds, coupons, or other evidences of indebtedness, the payments thereof may be provided for by the issuance of new bonds, in the manner hereinafter prescribed.

Petition to fund indebtedness.

§ 33. In order to propose the funding of such bonds, coupons, or other evidences of indebtedness a petition shall be presented to the board of directors of such drainage district, signed by a majority in number of holders of title or evidence of title to real property in such district, which petition shall set forth the amount of bonds, coupons, or other evidences of indebtedness proposed to be funded, together with a general description of same, also the total amount of the bonds sought to be issued (provided, that said amount shall in no case be greater than the total amount of bonds, coupons, and other evidences of indebtedness then outstanding and sought to have funded), together with a full and complete statement of the purposes for which such bonds are to be used. On presentation of such petition, the same shall be entered in full on the minutes of the board.

Special election. Ballots.

§ 34. Immediately after the recording of said petition, the board shall call a special election, at which shall be submitted to the electors of such district the question whether or not the bonds of such district in the amount set forth in said petition shall be issued. Notice of such election must be given by posting notices in three public places in each election precinct in said district for at least twenty days, and also by publication of such notice in some newspaper published in the county where the office of the board of directors of such district is required to be kept, once a week for at least three successive weeks before such election. Such notice must specify the time of holding the election, the amount of bonds proposed to be issued, the amount of bonds, coupons or other evidences of indebtedness proposed to be funded, together with a general description of the same. Said election shall be held and the result thereof determined and declared in all respects as nearly as practicable in conformity with the provisions governing the election of officers; provided, that no informalities in conducting such an election shall invalidate the same, if the election shall have been otherwise fairly conducted. At such election, the ballots shall contain the words "Bonds—Yes" or "Bonds—No" or words equivalent thereto. If two-thirds of the votes cast are "Bonds—Yes" the board of directors shall cause bonds in said amount to be issued. If more than one-third of the votes cast at such election are "Bonds—No," the result of such election shall be so declared. The result in either case shall be duly entered of record.

When payable.

§ 35. If said bonds are directed to be issued as herein provided for the board of directors shall cause the same to be issued. Said bonds shall be made payable in gold coin of the United States, in twenty series, as follows, to wit: On the first day of January after the expiration of twenty years, five per cent of the whole amount of said bonds, and on the first day of January of each year thereafter, an equal amount of such bonds until all shall have been finally paid; that is, five per cent of the whole issue of bonds—not five per cent of each bond, each being wholly payable when due. Said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the first day of January and July of each year. They shall be negotiable in form, and shall be of denominations of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars. Said bonds shall in all respects conform to the form of bonds prescribed hereinbefore. [Amendment of June 8, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1322.]

Value of bonds.

§ 36. It shall be unlawful to sell or exchange any of the bonds as herein provided for less than their par value.

Duty of county treasurer.

§ 37. When bonds issued under section 35 of this act shall be duly executed, they shall be deposited with the treasurer of the county wherein the district was organized, who is hereby authorized and charged with the duty of receiving the same, and his receipt shall be taken therefor, and he shall be charged with the same on his official bond, and shall have no power to deliver the same in exchange for any bonds or indebtedness proposed to be funded until the bonds or evidence of indebtedness proposed to be funded shall have been surrendered to him, and he shall have been ordered by the board of directors of the district, by an order duly entered on their records to make such delivery. When such bonds have been exchanged for other bonds, coupons, or other evidences of indebtedness, the said treasurer shall at once cancel such other bonds, coupons, or other evidences of indebtedness by writing across the face thereof "Canceled" and the date of cancellation, and report the same with his next regular report hereinafter provided for to the board of directors of the district designating the bond, coupon, or other evidence of indebtedness, so that it can be identified, the date of cancellation, and the person from whom it was received, together with the amount paid therefor, or the terms of exchange, in case there is an exchange.

Bonds may be sold from time to time.

§ 38. When said bonds are issued for the purpose of sale to the highest bidder, the board may sell said bonds from time to time, in such quantities as may be necessary and most advantageous, to raise money to pay bonds, coupons, or other evidences of indebtedness of the district which were outstanding at the time of the filing of said petition, and generally described therein. Resolution of intention must be declared, and notice given, and the sale conducted in the manner prescribed in section 29 of this act for the sale of original bonds. Said bonds shall in no event be sold for less than their par value including accrued interest. All moneys realized from the sale of bonds, issued under the provisions of this section, shall be paid into the hands of the said treasurer, and by him kept in a separate fund, known as the funding fund, and shall be applied exclusively to the payment of bonds, coupons, or other evidences of indebtedness of the district outstanding at the time of filing of the said petition, and described therein.

Bonds may be exchanged. Conditions.

§ 39. The bonds issued as herein provided for may be exchanged, at not less than their par value, including accrued interest, for any of the indebtedness set out and described in the notice of the election authorizing the issuance of said refunding bond. A contract for such exchange may be made by the board of directors upon such terms as said board may deem advisable; provided, that they must receive not less than par value for the bonds so exchanged.

Directors shall furnish estimate of moneys needed.

§ 40. The board of directors must, on or before the first meeting of the board of supervisors in September of each year, furnish the supervisors and the auditor of the county wherein the district is situated, or if such district is not entirely within one county, then as hereinafter provided, to the supervisors and auditors of each county in which any portion of the district is situated, an estimate in writing of the amount of money needed for the purposes of the district for the ensuing fiscal year. This amount must be sufficient to raise the annual interest on the outstanding bonds, to pay the estimated cost of repairs, the incidental expenses of the district, and in any year in which any bonds shall fall due, an amount sufficient to pay the principal of the outstanding bonds as they mature.

When district is in more than one county.

§ 41. If such district is in more than one county the total estimate as provided for in the preceding section shall be divided by the board of directors in proportion to value of the real property of the district in each county. The value must be determined from the equalized values of the last assessment-rolls of such counties. When such division of the estimate has been made, the board shall furnish the supervisors and auditors of the respective counties a written statement of that part of the estimate apportioned to that county.

Drainage district tax levy.

§ 42. The board of supervisors of each county wherein is situated a district or any part thereof organized under the provisions of this act, must, annually, at the time of levying county taxes, levy a tax to be known as the “—— (name of district) drainage district tax,” sufficient to raise an amount reported to them as herein provided, by the board of directors. The supervisors must determine the rate of such tax by deducting fifteen per cent for anticipated delinquencies from the total assessed value of the real property of the district within the county as it appears on the assessment-roll of the county, and then dividing the sum reported by the board of directors as required to be raised by the remainder of such total assessed value.

Duty of auditor.

§ 43. The tax so levied shall be computed and entered on the assessment-roll by the county auditor, and if the supervisors fail to levy the tax as provided in the preceding section, then the auditor must do so. Such tax shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as state and county taxes, and when collected shall be paid into the county treasury for the use of said district.

General revenue laws govern.

§ 44. The provisions of the Political Code of this state prescribing the manner of levying and collecting taxes and the duties of the several county officers with respect thereto, are, so far as they are applicable and not in conflict with the specific provisions of this act, hereby adopted and made a part hereof. Such officers shall be liable upon their several official bonds for the faithful discharge of the duties imposed upon them by this act.

What treasury shall be repository.

§ 45. If the district is in more than one county, the treasury of the county wherein the district was organized shall be the repository of all the funds of the district. For this purpose the treasurers of any other counties wherein is situated a portion of said district, must, at any time, not oftener than twice each year, upon the order of the board of directors, settle with said board and pay over to the treasurer of the county where the district was organized, all moneys in their possession belonging to the district. Said last-named treasurer is authorized and required to receive and receipt for the same, and to place the same to the credit of the district. He shall be responsible upon his official bond for the safekeeping and disbursement, in the manner herein provided, of these and all other moneys of the district held by him.

Names of funds.

§ 46. The following funds are hereby created and established, to which the moneys properly belonging shall be apportioned by the treasurer, to wit: Bond fund, construction fund, general fund, funding fund.

Treasurer's reports.

§ 47. The treasurer shall pay out of the same only upon warrants of the board of directors, signed by the president and attested by the secretary. The treasurer shall report in writing at each regular meeting of the board of directors and as often thereafter as requested by the board, the amount of money in the fund, the amount of receipts since his last report, and the amounts paid out; such reports shall be verified and filed with the secretary of the board.

Redemption of bonds.

§ 48. Upon the presentation of the coupons due, to the treasurer, he shall pay the same from the bond fund. Whenever said fund shall amount to the sum of ten thousand dollars in excess of an amount sufficient to meet the interest coupons due, the board of directors may direct the treasurer to pay such an amount of said bonds not due as the money in said fund will redeem, at the lowest value at which they may be offered for liquidation, after advertising in the manner hereinbefore provided for the sale of bonds, for sealed proposals for the redemption of said bonds. Said proposals shall be opened by the board in open meeting, at a time to be named in the notice, and the lowest bid for said bonds must be accepted; provided, that no bond shall be redeemed at a rate above par. In case the bids are equal, the lowest numbered bond shall have the preference. In case none of the holders of said bonds shall desire to have the same redeemed, as herein provided for, said money shall be invested by the treasurer, under the direction of the board, in United States bonds, or the bonds of the state, which shall be kept in said "bond fund" and may be used to redeem said district bonds whenever the holders thereof may desire.

Bids for construction of work.

§ 49. After adopting a plan for such conduits, drains, pumping plants, water-gates and other works as in this act provided for, the board of directors shall give notice by publication thereof not less than twenty days in one newspaper published in each of the counties composing the district (provided, a newspaper is published therein) and in such other newspapers as they may deem advisable, calling for bids for the construction of such work, or of any portion thereof; if less than the whole work is advertised, then the portion so advertised must be particularly described in such notice. Said notice shall set forth that plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the board, and that the board will receive sealed proposals therefor, and that the contract will be let to the lowest responsible bidder, stating the time and place for opening said proposals, which, at the time and place appointed shall be opened in public; and as soon as convenient thereafter the board shall let said work, whether in portions or as a whole, to the lowest responsible bidder; or they may reject any or all bids and readvertise for proposals, or may proceed to construct the work under their own superintendence. Contracts for the purchase of material shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder. Any person or persons to whom a contract may be awarded shall enter into a bond, with good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the board, payable to said district for its use for fifty per cent of the amount of the contract price, conditioned for the faithful performance of said contract. The work shall be done under the direction and to the satisfaction of the engineer, and be approved by the board.

When claims shall be allowed.

§ 50. No claim shall be paid by the treasurer until allowed by the board, and only upon a warrant signed by the president, and countersigned by the secretary.

Expenses.

§ 51. The cost and expense of purchasing and acquiring property and constructing the works and improvements herein provided for, shall be wholly paid out of the construction fund.

Construction of works across streams, etc. Right of way.

§ 52. The board of directors shall have power to construct the works necessary for drainage purposes across any stream of water, watercourse, street, avenue, highway, railway, canal, ditch, or flume which the route of said conduits or drains may intersect or cross, in such manner as to afford security for life and property; but said board shall restore the same, when so crossed or intersected, to its former state as near as may be, or in such manner as not to have impaired unnecessarily its usefulness; and every company whose railroad, and the board of supervisors, where any public highway shall be intersected or crossed by said works, shall unite with said board in forming said intersections and crossings, and grant the privileges aforesaid; and if such railroad company, or said board of supervisors, or the owners and controllers of the said property, thing, or franchise so to be crossed, and the said board can not agree upon the amount to be paid therefor, or the points or the manner of said crossings or intersections, the same shall be ascertained and determined in all respects as is herein provided in respect to the taking of property by condemnation. The right of way is hereby given, dedicated, and set apart, to locate, construct and maintain said works over and through any of the lands which are now or may be the property of this state.

Per diem of directors.

§ 53. Each member of the board of directors shall receive three dollars per day for each day's attendance at the meetings of the board, and actual and necessary expenses while engaged in official business under the order of the board.

Must not be interested in contracts.

§ 54. No director or any other officer named in this act shall in any manner be interested, directly or indirectly in any contract awarded or to be awarded by the board, or in the profits to be derived therefrom; and for any violation of this provision, such officer shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and such conviction shall work a forfeiture of his office, and he shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

May call special elections.

§ 55. The board of directors may at any time, when in their judgment it may be deemed advisable call a special election and submit to the qualified electors of the district the question, whether or not a special assessment shall be levied for the purpose of raising money to be applied to any of the purposes provided in this act. Said election must be called upon the notice prescribed and the same shall be held and the result thereof determined and declared in all respects in conformity with the provisions of section 27 of this act. The notice must specify the amount of money proposed to be raised and the purpose for which it is intended to be used. At such elections the ballots shall contain the words "Assessment—Yes" or "Assessment—No." If two-thirds or more of the votes cast are "Assessment—Yes," the board shall proceed in the manner hereinbefore prescribed for raising the annual funds by taxation. When collected, the money shall be paid into the district treasury for the purpose specified in the notice of such special election.

Restrictions of powers.

§ 56. The board of directors shall have no power to incur any debt or liability whatever, either by issuing bonds or otherwise, in excess of the express provisions of this act; and any debt or liability incurred in excess of such express provisions shall be and remain absolutely void; except for the purposes of organization, or for any of the purposes of this act, the board of directors may, before the collection of the first assessment, incur an indebtedness not exceeding in the aggregate the sum of two thousand dollars, and may cause warrants of the district to issue therefor, bearing interest at seven per cent per annum.

District property exempt from taxation.

§ 57. The rights of way, ditches, drains, conduits, flumes, pipe-lines, dams, reservoirs, pumping plants, and other property of like character belonging to any drainage district shall not be taxed for state and county or municipal purposes.

Action in re to determine validity of bonds.

§ 58. The board of directors shall within thirty days after the issue of any bonds herein provided for bring an action in the superior court of the county wherein is located the office of such board, to determine the validity of any such bonds. Such action shall be in the nature of a proceeding in rem, and jurisdiction of all parties interested may be had by publication of summons for at least once a week for three weeks in some paper of general circulation published in the county where the action is pending, such paper to be designated by the court having jurisdiction of the proceedings. Jurisdiction shall be complete within thirty days after the full publication of such summons in the manner herein provided. Any one interested may, at any time before the expiration of said thirty days, appear and by proper proceedings contest the validity of such bonds, and may in the same action of proceeding contest the validity of any bonds, coupons, or other evidences of indebtedness referred to in the petition for funding and proposed to be funded, and if any such bonds, coupons, or evidences of indebtedness be shown to be invalid, then the same shall only be funded for the amount of such proportion thereof as equals the fair and reasonable value of whatever the district may have received in consideration therefor, together with unpaid interest thereon, and the amount of such proportion shall be determined and adjudicated by the court in said action or proceeding. Such action shall be speedily tried and judgment rendered declaring such bonds so contested either valid or invalid. Either party shall have the right to appeal at any time within thirty days after the entry of such judgment, which appeal must be heard and determined within three months from the time of taking such appeal.

Assessment payer may bring action.

§ 59. If no such proceeding shall have been taken by the board of directors, then at any time after thirty days and within ninety days after the issue of any bonds under the provisions of this act, any district assessment payer may bring an action in the superior court of the county wherein the office of the board of directors is located, to determine the validity of any such bonds. The board of directors shall be made parties defendant and service of summons shall be made on the members of the board personally, if they can be found within the state; if not, then by publication for three weeks in some newspaper, of general circulation within the county where the office of the board of directors is located, such newspaper to be designated by the court having jurisdiction. Before such publication can be had, an affidavit, in the usual form shall be made, showing such facts. Said board shall have the right to appear and contest such action. Notice of said action shall be given by publication of summons therein in the same manner and for the same time as required in the preceding section hereof in actions brought by the publication of such summons in the manner herein provided. Any district assessment payer or any one interested may appear and defend said action, and thereafter the same proceedings shall be had in such action as are hereinbefore provided for in the preceding section hereof in actions brought by the board of directors, and the same matters determined and adjudicated by the court therein. Such action shall be speedily tried, with the right of appeal to either party, within the time and manner herein provided for the bringing of actions by the board to determine such matters. Such appeal shall be heard and determined within three months from the time of taking such appeal.

Sufficiency of proceedings, determination of.

§ 60. At the hearing of such proceedings the court shall hear and determine the sufficiency of all proceedings.

Consolidation of actions.

§ 61. If more than one action shall be pending at the same time concerning similar contests in this act provided for, they shall be consolidated and tried together.

Rules of pleading.

§ 62. The court hearing any of the contests herein provided for, in inquiring into the regularity, legality, or correctness of such proceedings, must disregard any error, irregularity or omission which does not affect the substantial rights of the parties to said action or proceeding. The rules of pleading and practice provided by the Code of Civil Procedure, which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are applicable to all actions or proceedings herein provided for. The costs of any hearing or contest herein provided for may be allowed and apportioned between the parties or attached to the losing party, in the discretion of the court.

Contests to be made as provided herein.

§ 63. No contest of any matter or thing herein provided for shall be made other than within the time and manner herein specified.

Boundaries may be changed.

§ 64. The boundaries of any drainage district now organized or hereafter organized under the provisions of this act, may be changed, and tracts of land which were included within the boundaries of such district at or after its organization under the provisions of this act, may be excluded therefrom, in the manner herein prescribed: but neither such change of the boundaries of the districts nor such exclusion of lands from the district shall impair or affect its organization, or its right in or to property, or any of its rights or privileges of whatever kind or nature; nor shall it affect, impair, or discharge any contract, obligation, lien, or charge for or upon which said district was or may become liable or chargeable, had said change of its boundaries not been made, or had not such land been excluded from the district.

Petition to exclude tracts from district.

§ 65. The owner or owners in fee of one or more tracts of land which constitute a portion of a drainage district, may, jointly or severally, file with the board of directors of the district a petition, praying that such tract or tracts, and any other tracts contiguous thereto, may be excluded and taken from said district. The petition shall state the grounds and reasons upon which it is claimed that such lands should be excluded, and shall describe the boundaries thereof, and also the lands of such petitioner, or petitioners which are included within such boundaries; but the description of such lands need not be more particular or certain than is required when the lands are entered in the assessment book by the county assessor. Such petition must be acknowledged in the same manner and form as is required in the case of a conveyance of land, and the acknowledgment shall have the same force and effect as evidence as the acknowledgment of such a conveyance.

Publication of notice of petition.

§ 66. The secretary of the board of directors shall cause a notice of the filing of such petition to be published for at least two weeks in some newspaper published in the county where the office of the board of directors is situated, and if any portion of such territory to be excluded lie within another county or counties, then said notice shall be so published in a newspaper published within each of said counties; or, if no newspaper be published therein, then by posting such notice for the same time in at least three public places in said district, and in case of the posting of said notices, one of said notices must be so posted on the lands proposed to be excluded. The notice shall state the filing of such petition, the names of the petitioners, a description of the lands mentioned in said petition, and the prayer of said petition; and it shall notify all persons interested in, or who may be affected by such change of the boundaries of the district, to appear at the office of said board at a time named in said notice, and show cause, in writing, if any they have, why the change of the boundaries of said district, as proposed in said petition, should not be made. The time to be specified in the notice at which they shall be required to show cause shall be the regular meeting of the board next after the expiration of the time for the publication of the notice.

Hearing of petition.

§ 67. The board of directors, at the time and place mentioned in the notice, or at the time or times to which the hearing of said petition may be adjourned, shall proceed to hear the petition, and all evidence of proofs that may or shall be introduced by or on behalf of the petitioner or petitioners, and all objections to such petition that may or shall be presented in writing by any person showing cause as aforesaid, and all evidence and proofs that may be introduced in support of such objections. Such evidence shall be taken down, in shorthand, and a record made thereof and filed with the board. The failure of any person interested in said district, other than the holders of bonds thereof outstanding at the time of the filing of said petition with said board, to show cause, in writing, why the tract or tracts of land mentioned in said petition should not be excluded from said district, shall be deemed and taken as an assent by him to the exclusion of such tract or tracts of land, or any part thereof, from said district; and the filing of such petition with said board, as aforesaid, shall be deemed and taken as an assent by each and all of such petitioners to the exclusion from such district of the lands mentioned in the petition, or any part thereof. The expenses of giving said notice and of the aforesaid proceedings shall be paid by the person or persons filing such petition.

Board may deny petition or may grant it.

§ 68. If, upon the hearing of any such petition, no evidence or proofs in support thereof be introduced, or if the evidence fail to sustain said petition, or if the board deem it not for the best interests of the district that the lands, or some portion thereof, mentioned in the petition should be excluded from the district, the board shall order that said petition be denied as to such lands; but if the said board deem it for the best interests of the district that the lands mentioned in the petition, or some portion thereof, be excluded from the district, and if no person interested in the district show cause in writing, why the said lands, or some portion thereof, should not be excluded from the district, or if, having shown cause, withdraws the same, or upon the hearing fails to establish such objections as he may have made, then it shall be the duty of the board to, and it shall forthwith, make an order that the lands mentioned and described in the petition, or some defined portion thereof, be excluded from said district.

Bondholders may assent to exclusion.

excluded from the district, the lands so excluded shall be released from the lien of such outstanding bonds. The assent must be acknowledged by the several holders of such bonds in the same manner and form as is required in the case of a conveyance of land, and the acknowledgment shall have the same force and effect as evidence as the acknowledgment of such conveyance. The assent shall be filed with the board, and must be recorded in the minutes of the board; and said minutes, or a copy thereof, certified by the secretary of said board, shall be admissible in evidence, with the same effect as the said assent, and such certified copy thereof may be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county wherein said lands are situated.

Change of boundaries shall be recorded.

§ 70. In the event the said board of directors shall exclude any lands from said district upon petition thereof, it shall be the duty of the board of directors to make an entry in the minutes of the board, describing the boundaries of the district, should the exclusion of said lands from said district change the boundaries of said district, and for that purpose the board may cause a survey to be made of such portions of the district as the board may deem necessary; and a certified copy of the entry in the minutes of the board excluding any land, certified by the president and secretary of the board, shall be filed for record in the recorder's office of each county within which are situated any of the land of the district; but said district, notwithstanding such exclusion, shall be and remain a drainage district as fully to every intent and purpose as it would be had no change been made in the boundaries of the district, or had the lands excluded therefrom never constituted a portion of the district.

When office of director may become vacant.

§ 71. If the lands excluded from any district under this act shall embrace the greater portion of any division or divisions of such district, then the office of director for such division or divisions shall become and be vacant at the expiration of ten days from the final order of the board excluding said lands; and such vacancy or vacancies shall be filled by appointment by the board of supervisors of the county where the office of such board is situated, from the district at large. A director appointed as above provided shall hold his office until the next regular election for said district, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

Order dividing district into divisions.

§ 72. At least thirty days before the next general election of such district, the board of directors thereof shall make an order dividing such district into three or five divisions, as the case may require, as nearly equal in size as may be practicable, which shall be numbered first, second, third and so on, and one director shall be elected by each division. For the purposes of elections in such district, the said board of directors must establish a convenient number of election precincts, and define the boundaries thereof, which said precincts may be changed from time to time, as the board of directors may deem necessary.

Guardians, executors, or administrators may sign.

§ 73. A guardian, an executor, or an administrator of an estate, who is appointed as such under the laws of this state, and who as such guardian, executor, or administrator, is entitled to the possession of the lands belonging to the estate which he represents, may on behalf of his ward, or the estate which he represents, upon being thereto properly authorized by the proper court, sign and acknowledge the petition in section 65 of this act mentioned, and may show cause, as herein provided, why the boundaries of the district should not be changed.

Exclusion shall not operate to release from valid debts of district.

§ 74. Nothing herein provided shall, in any manner, operate to release any of the lands so excluded from the district from any obligation to pay, or any lien thereon, of any valid outstanding bonds or other indebtedness of said district at the time of the filing of said petition for the exclusion of said lands, but upon the contrary, said lands shall be held subject to said lien, and answerable and chargeable for and with the payment and discharge of all of said outstanding obligations at the time of the filing of the petition for the exclusion of said land, as fully as though said petition for such exclusion were never filed and said order of exclusion never made; and for the purpose of discharging such outstanding indebtedness, said lands so excluded shall be deemed and considered as part of said drainage district the same as though said petition for its exclusion had never been filed or said order of exclusion never made; and all provisions which may have been resorted to to compel the payment by said lands of its quota or portion of said outstanding obligations, had said exclusion never been accomplished, may, notwithstanding said exclusion, be resorted to to compel and enforce the payment on the part of said lands of its quota and portion of said outstanding obligations of said drainage district for which it is liable, as herein provided. But said land so excluded shall not be held answerable or chargeable for any obligation of any nature or kind whatever, incurred after the filing with the board of directors of said district of the petition for the exclusion of said lands from the said district; provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to any outstanding bonds, the holders of which have assented to the exclusion of such lands from said district, as hereinbefore provided.

Change of boundaries shall not impair organization.

§ 75. The boundaries of any drainage district now organized or hereafter organized under the provisions of this act may be changed in the manner herein prescribed, but such change of the boundaries of the district shall not impair or affect its organization, or its rights in or to property, or any of its rights or privileges of whatsoever kind or nature; nor shall it affect, impair, or discharge any contract, obligation, lien or charge for or upon which it was or might become liable or chargeable, had such change of its boundaries not been made.

Petition to include tracts of land.

§ 76. The holder or holders of title, or evidence of title, representing one-half or more of any body of lands adjacent to the boundary of a drainage district, which are contiguous and which taken together, constitute one tract of land, may file with the board of directors of said district a petition, in writing, praying that the boundaries of said district may be so changed as to include therein said lands. The petition shall describe the boundaries of said parcel or tract of land, and shall also describe the boundaries of the several parcels owned by the petitioners, if the petitioners be the owners, respectively, of distinct parcels, but such descriptions need not be more particular than they are required to be when such lands are entered by the county assessor in the assessment-book. Such petition must contain the assent of the petitioners to the inclusion within said district of the parcels or tracts of land described in the petition, and of which said petition alleges they are, respectively, the owners; and it must be acknowledged in the same manner that conveyances of land are required to be acknowledged.

Publication of notice of filing petition.

§ 77. The secretary of the board of directors shall cause a notice of the filing of such petition to be given and published in the same manner and for the same time that notices of special elections for the issue of bonds are required by this act to be published. The notice shall state the filing of such petition and the names of the petitioners, a description of the lands mentioned in said petition, and the prayer of said petition; and it shall notify all persons interested in, or that may be affected by such change of the boundaries of the district, to appear, at the office of said board, at a time named in said notice, and show cause in writing, if any they have, why the change in the boundaries of said district, as proposed in said petition, should not be made. The time to be specified in the notice at which they shall be required to show cause shall be the regular meeting of the board next after the expiration of the time for the publication of the notice. The petitioners shall advance to the secretary sufficient money to pay the estimated costs of all proceedings arising from such petition.

Hearing.

§ 78. The board of directors, at the time and place mentioned in the said notice, or at such other time or times to which the hearing of said petition may be adjourned, shall proceed to hear the petition and all the objections thereto, presented in writing by any person showing cause as aforesaid why said proposed change of the boundaries of the district should not be made. The failure of any person interested in said district, or in the matter of the proposed change of its boundaries, to show cause, in writing, as aforesaid, shall be deemed and taken as an assent on his part to a change of the boundaries of the district as prayed for in said petition, or to such a change thereof as will include a part of said lands. And the filing of such petition with said board, as aforesaid, shall be deemed and taken as an assent on the part of each and all of such petitioners to such a change of said boundaries that they may include the whole or any portion of the lands described in said petition.

Requirements precedent.

§ 79. The board of directors to whom such petition is presented, may require, as a condition precedent to the granting of the same, that the petitioners shall severally pay to such district such respective sums, as nearly as the same can be estimated (the several amounts to be determined by the board), as said petitioners or their grantors would have been required to pay to such district as assessments, had such lands been included in such district at the time the same was originally formed.

Directors may grant or deny petition.

§ 80. The board of directors, if they deem it not for the best interests of the district that a change of its boundaries be so made as to include therein the lands mentioned in the petition, shall order that the petition be rejected. But if they deem it for the best interests of the district that the boundaries of said district be changed and if no person interested in said district or the proposed change of its boundaries shows cause, in writing, why the proposed change should not be made, or if, having shown cause, withdraws the same, the board may order that the boundaries of the district be so changed as to include therein the lands mentioned in said petition or some part thereof. The order shall describe the boundaries as changed, and shall also describe the entire boundaries of the district as they will be after the change thereof as aforesaid is made; and for that purpose the board may cause a survey to be made of such portions of such boundary as is deemed necessary.

Resolution to include land.

§ 81. If any person interested in said district of the proposed change of its boundaries, shall show cause as aforesaid why such boundaries should not be changed, and shall not withdraw the same, and if the board of directors deem it for the best interests of the district that the boundaries thereof be so changed as to include therein the lands mentioned in the petition, or some part thereof, the board shall adopt a resolution to that effect. The resolution shall describe the exterior boundaries of the lands which the board are of the opinion should be included within the boundaries of the district when changed.

Election to determine if boundaries shall be changed.

§ 82. Upon the adoption of the resolution mentioned in the last preceding section, the board shall order that an election be held within said district, to determine whether the boundaries of the district shall be changed as mentioned in said resolution; and shall fix the time at which such election shall be held, and cause notice thereof to be given and published. Such notice shall be given and published, and such election shall be held and conducted, the returns thereof shall be made and canvassed, and the result of the election ascertained and declared, and all things pertaining thereto conducted in the manner prescribed by this act in case of a special election to determine whether bonds of a drainage district shall be issued. The ballots cast at said election shall contain the words "For change of boundary" or "Against change of boundary" or words equivalent thereto. The notice of election shall describe the proposed change of the boundaries in such manner and terms that it can readily be traced.

Majority vote to prevail.

§ 83. If at such election a majority of all the votes cast at said election shall be against such change of the boundaries of the district, the board shall order that said petition be denied, and shall proceed no further in that matter. But if a majority of such votes be in favor of such change of the boundaries of the district, the board shall thereupon order that the boundaries be changed in accordance with said resolution adopted by the board. The said order shall describe the entire boundaries of said district, and for that purpose the board may cause a survey of such portions thereof to be made as the board may deem necessary.

Change to be recorded.

§ 84. Upon a change of the boundaries of a district being made, a copy of the order of the board of directors ordering such change, certified by the president and secretary of the board, shall be filed for record in the recorder's office of each county within which are situated any of the lands of the district, and thereupon the district shall be and remain a drainage district, as fully, and to every intent and purpose, as if the lands which are included in the district by the change of the boundaries, as aforesaid, had been included therein at the original organization of the district.

Evidence.

§ 85. Upon the filing of the copies of the order, as in the last preceding section mentioned, the secretary shall record in the minutes of the board the petition aforesaid; and the said minutes, or a certified copy thereof, shall be admissible in evidence with the same effect as the petition.

Guardian, executor, or administrator may sign.

§ 86. A guardian, an executor or an administrator of an estate, who is appointed as such under the laws of this state, and who, as such guardian, executor or administrator, is entitled to the possession of the lands belonging to the estate which he represents, may, on behalf of his ward, or the estate which he represents, upon being thereunto authorized by the proper court, sign and acknowledge the petition in section 76 of this act mentioned and may show cause why the boundaries of the district should not be changed.

Order redividing district.

§ 87. In case of the inclusion of any land within any district by proceedings under this act, the board of directors, must, at least thirty days prior to the next succeeding general election, make an order redividing such district, into three or five divisions, as the case may require, as nearly equal in size as may be practicable, which shall be numbered first, second, third and so on, and one elector shall thereafter be elected by each division. For the purpose of elections, the board of directors must establish a convenient number of election precincts in said districts, and define the boundaries thereof, which said precincts may be changed from time to time as the board may deem necessary.

Election to reduce bonded indebtedness.

§ 88. Whenever the board of directors of a drainage district heretofore organized, or hereafter organized under the provisions of this act, shall determine that the authorized bonded indebtedness of such drainage district is greater than such district is liable to need to complete its system as planned, and there be no outstanding bonds, the board of directors may call a special election for the purpose of voting upon a proposition to reduce such bonded indebtedness to such sum as the board may determine to be sufficient for such purpose.

Notice of election. Ballots.

§ 89. Notice of the said election shall be given in the same manner as provided in section 27 of this act, in relation to calling special elections for issuance of bonds. The notice of election must state the amount of the authorized bonded indebtedness of such district, and the amount to which it is proposed to reduce the same; also, the date on which said election will be held and the polling-places, as established by said board of directors. The ballots cast at said election shall contain the words "For reducing bonds—Yes," or "For reducing bonds—No." When the vote is canvassed by the board of directors and entered of record, if a majority of the votes cast shall be "For reducing bonds—Yes," then in that event the board of directors shall only be empowered to issue or sell the amount of bonds as was stipulated in the said notice of such special election; but if a majority of said votes are not "For reducing bonds—Yes," then the authority to issue bonds shall remain the same as before said special election was held.

Bondholders may assent to reduction.

§ 90. In case there be outstanding bonds of any district desiring to take advantage of the provisions of sections 88 and 89 of this act concerning reduction of bonded indebtedness, the assent of such bondholders may be obtained to such reduction of the bonded indebtedness, in the same manner as provided in section 69 of this act. If such assent is obtained in the manner therein provided, then, and in that event, such district shall be empowered to take advantage of all the provisions of said sections of this act, but not otherwise. No reduction of the bonded indebtedness, as in this act provided shall in any manner affect any order of court that may have been made, adjudicating and confirming the validity of said bonds.

Election*to determine destruction of bonds.

§ 91. Whenever there remains in the hands of the board of directors of any drainage district organized under the provisions of this act, after the completion of its drainage system, and the payment of all demands against such district, any bonds voted to be issued by said district, but not sold, and not necessary to be sold for the raising of funds, for the use of such district, said board of directors may call a special election for the purpose of voting upon a proposition to destroy said unsold bonds, or so many of them as may be deemed best, or may submit such proposition at a general election.

Notice of election. Ballots.

§ 92. Such election shall be held in the same manner as other elections held under the provisions of this act. A notice of such election shall be given in the same manner as provided in section 27 of this act in relation to calling special elections for the issuance of bonds. The notice of election must state the amount of the bonded indebtedness of such district authorized by the vote of the district, the amount of the bonds remaining unsold, and the amount proposed to be destroyed, and the date on which such election is proposed to be held, and the polling-places as fixed by the board of directors. The ballots to be cast at such election shall contain the words "For destroying bonds—Yes" and "For destroying bonds—No," and the voter must erase the word "No" in case he favors the destruction of the bonds, otherwise the word "Yes."

Two-thirds vote to prevail.

§ 93. When the vote is canvassed by the board of directors and entered of record, if a two-thirds majority of the votes cast should be found to be in favor of the destruction of said bonds, then the president of the board, in the presence of a majority of the members of the board, must destroy the bonds so voted to be destroyed, and the total amount of bonds so destroyed and canceled shall be deducted from the sum authorized to be issued by the electors of said district, and no part thereof shall thereafter be reprinted or reissued.

Validity of prior districts not affected.

§ 94. Nothing in this act shall be so construed as to affect the validity of any district heretofore organized under the laws of this state, or its rights in or to property, or any of its rights or privileges of whatsoever kind or nature; but said districts are hereby made subject to the provisions of this act so far as applicable; nor shall it affect, impair, or discharge any contract, obligation, lien, or charge, for or upon which it was or might become liable or chargeable had not this act been passed.

Acts repealed.

§ 95. Nothing in this act shall be construed as repealing or in anywise modifying the provisions of any other act relating to the subject of drainage except such as may be contained in the act entitled "An act to provide for the organization and government of drainage districts, for the drainage of agricultural lands other than swamp and overflowed lands," approved March thirty-first, eighteen hundred and ninety-seven, and any subsequent acts supplementary thereto, or amendatory thereof, all of which acts, so far as they may be inconsistent herewith, are hereby repealed.

Time of taking effect.

§ 96. This act shall take effect from and after its passage and approval.

1. Drainage act of 1897, repealed by the present act did not provide for the payment of drainage district taxes under protest, and did not adopt the provisions of § 3819, Political Code (of 1893), as to entry of judgments against counties for the recovery of such taxes.—Justice v. Robinson, 142 Cal. 199, 201, 75 Pac. 776.

BELLEVUE-WILFRED DRAINAGE DISTRICT.

ACT 1285—An act to validate bonds of the Bellevue-Wilfred drainage district, and all proceedings relating thereto, and making final and conclusive, except as herein provided, the finding as to the result of the election at which said bonds were authorized.

History: Approved May 16, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 713.

Bellevue-Wilfred drainage district bonds validated.

§ 1. Bonds in the amount of twenty thousand dollars of the Bellevue-Wilfred drainage district, and all the acts and proceedings of said district leading up to and including the authorizing and issuance of said bonds, are hereby legalized, ratified, confirmed, and declared valid to all intents and purposes, which district was organized under an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization and government of drainage districts for the drainage of agricultural lands other than swamp and overflowed lands, and to provide for the acquisition or construction thereby of works for the drainage of lands embraced within such districts," approved March 20, 1913, as amended. Said bonds were authorized by virtue of an election held in said district on September 27, 1916, at which a majority of the votes cast were in favor of incurring such bonded indebtedness, as found and determined by the board of directors of said district upon canvassing such election returns. Said finding and determination of the result of said election shall be and is hereby determined to be final and conclusive against all persons, except the state of California, upon suit commenced by the attorney general. Any such suit must be commenced within thirty days after this act takes effect and not otherwise.

All said bonds, when issued and sold as in said act provided, shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and valid obligations of said district, and the faith and credit of said Bellevue-Wilfred drainage district is pledged for the prompt payment and redemption of the principal and interest of said bonds, and said bonds by their issuance shall be conclusive evidence of the regularity of all proceedings leading up thereto, and that they were duly authorized at said election.

BUTTE COUNTY DRAINAGE DISTRICT NO. 1.

ACT 1286—An act declaring certain drainage work already done within drainage district number one, Butte county, to have been legally done, validating the same, and making such work a proper subject for the levy of an assessment to pay therefor; authorizing the levy and collection of such assessment in said district to provide for such payment, and interest; the original assessment levied and collected being insufficient to provide for such payment.

History: Approved May 21, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 789.

Work in drainage district No. 1, Butte county, validated.

§ 1. All the work, labor, and services rendered drainage district number one in the county of Butte, state of California, in the construction, maintenance and repair of main and lateral drainage ditches, and drainage works, already done upon lands lying within said district, for the payment for which the original assessment levied and collected under the provisions of the act entitled, "An act to promote drainage," approved March 18, 1885, as amended, was insufficient, is hereby declared to have been legally done, is hereby validated and is hereby made a proper subject for the levy of an assessment for the payment therefor.

Statement to board of supervisors. Order to make assessment.

§ 2. The board of trustees of said drainage district is hereby authorized and empowered to present to the board of supervisors of said county, a statement of all the work, labor and services rendered said district in the construction, maintenance and repair of main and lateral drainage ditches, and drainage works, already done upon lands lying within said district, for the payment for which the original assessment levied and collected under the provisions of said act approved March 18, 1885, as amended, was insufficient. Such statement shall contain a memorandum of the unpaid claims existing by reason of the performance of said work, and the names of the respective claimants; and shall specify those claims included in said memorandum for which warrants have been issued, if there are any such claims, and the date of their registration, and shall also specify those claims included in said memorandum for which no warrants have been issued, if there are any such claims. Said board of supervisors is hereby authorized and empowered to make an order directing that the commissioners who made such original assessment, or other commissioners to be named in such order, assess upon the lands situated within said district a charge proportionate to the whole expense incurred for such work, the total of which shall not exceed the sum of six thousand dollars, and to the benefit which has resulted from such work; which charges must be collected and paid into the county treasury of said county either in cash or in regularly issued warrants of said district as hereinafter provided, and must be placed by the treasurer of said county to the credit of said district, and applied to the payment of said claims, and to the payment of interest on any of said claims for which warrants were issued and registered, at the rate of six per cent per annum, from the respective dates of registration, upon the warrants of said trustees, approved by said board of supervisors.

Warrants.

§ 3. All such warrants drawn by said trustees must, after they have been approved by said board of supervisors, be presented to said treasurer; and if they are not paid on presentation like endorsement must be made thereon, and they must be registered in like manner as county warrants, and paid in the order of their registration. All of such warrants shall, from the date of their registration, bear interest at the rate of six per cent, per annum; provided, however, that any of such warrants may be used in the payment of the assessment herein provided for without regard to the order of their registration.

ACT 1302. "STATE DWELLING HOUSE ACT."

STATE DWELLING HOUSE ACT.

ACT 1302—An act to regulate the construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration, maintenance, use and occupancy of dwellings, and the maintenance, use and occupancy of the premises and land on which dwellings are erected or located, in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof.

History: Approved May 31, 1917. In effect September 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1461.

Title.

§ 1. This act shall be known as the "state dwelling-house act," and its provisions shall apply to incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties of this state.

Duty of building department.

§ 2. It shall be the duty of the "building department" of every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, to enforce all the provisions of this act pertaining to the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, conversion, alteration and arrangement of dwellings.

Duty of housing departments.

It shall be the duty of the "housing department" of every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county to enforce all the provisions of this act pertaining to the maintenance, sanitation, ventilation, use and occupancy of dwellings after said dwellings have been erected, constructed or altered, as the case may be.

In case no such departments.

In the event that there is no building department or no housing department in an incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county, it shall be the duty of the officer or officers who are charged with the enforcement of ordinances and laws regulating the erection, construction or alteration of buildings, or the maintenance, sanitation, ventilation or occupancy of buildings, or of the police, fire or health regulations in said incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county to enforce all the provisions of this act.

Every incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county in the state of California shall have, and it is hereby empowered and given authority to designate and charge by ordinance any other department or officer than the department or officers mentioned herein, with the enforcement of this act, or any portion thereof.

Powers of commission of immigration and housing.

The commission of immigration and housing of California shall have, and it is hereby empowered and given authority to enforce the provisions of this act, which do not pertain to the actual erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration or arrangement of dwellings in all incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties, in the state of California, whenever said commission finds or discovers a violation or violations of the provisions of this act and notifies the local department or officer, or departments or officers who are charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, in writing, of such violation or violations, and the said local department or officer, or departments or officers, fail, neglect or refuse to enforce the provisions of the said act within thirty days thereafter; provided, however, that the said commission of immigration and housing of California shall enforce the provisions of this act only in the instances specified in said written notice.

Unlawful to construct dwelling contrary to act.

§ 3. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, whether as owner, agent, contractor, builder, architect, engineer, superintendent, foreman, plumber, tenant, lessee, lessor, occupant, or in any other capacity whatsoever to erect, construct, reconstruct, alter, build upon, move, convert, use, occupy or maintain, or to cause, permit or suffer to be erected, constructed, reconstructed, altered, built upon, moved, converted, used, occupied or maintained any dwelling or any portion thereof contrary to the provisions of this act, or to commit or maintain or cause or permit to be committed or maintained any nuisance in or upon any dwelling or any portion thereof, or any of the premises, which are a part thereof, or which are required by the provisions of this act; or to do or to cause to be done, or to use or cause to be used, any privy, sewer, cesspool, plumbing or house drainage affecting the sanitary condition of any dwelling or any portion thereof, or of the premises thereof, contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

Alterations.

§ 4. It shall be unlawful for any person to make any alterations or changes of any kind whatsoever, to any dwelling erected prior to the passage of this act, or to any dwelling hereafter erected, in any manner which would be inconsistent with any of the provisions of this act, or in violation of the said provisions of this act; or in any manner to diminish the size of the windows, or to remove any window or windows from the rooms contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

Building converted to use as dwelling. Building moved.

§ 5. A building not erected for, or which is not used as a dwelling at the time of the passage of this act, if hereafter converted to or altered for such use, shall thereupon become subject to all the provisions of this act affecting a dwelling hereafter erected.

A building used as a dwelling at the time of the passage of this act, if moved, shall be made to conform to all of the provisions of this act affecting dwellings hereafter erected, in so far as they pertain to unoccupied area.

Penalty for violation.

§ 6. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Procedure.

Except as herein otherwise specified, the procedure for the prevention of violations of this act, for the vacation of dwellings or premises unlawfully occupied, or for the abatement of a nuisance in connection with a dwelling or the premises thereof, shall be as set forth in the charter and ordinances of the municipality in which the procedure is instituted.

Power to enter building.

§ 7. The department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act in any incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county, and the authorized officers, agents or employees of such department or departments may, whenever necessary, enter dwellings or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, within the corporate limits of such towns, cities, or cities and counties, for the purpose of inspecting such buildings, in order to secure compliance with the provisions of this act and to prevent violations thereof.

The members of the commission of immigration and housing of California and the agents, officers or employees of said commission may, whenever necessary, enter dwellings or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, for the purpose of inspecting such buildings in order to secure compliance with the provisions of this act and to prevent violations thereof.

The owner or his authorized agent may, whenever necessary, enter dwellings, or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, owned by him, to carry out any instructions or to perform any work required to be done by the provisions of this act; provided, however, that the authority to enter buildings, as in this section given to the persons hereinbefore enumerated, shall not be construed or deemed to apply to the entering of any such building between the hours of six o'clock p. m. of any day and six o'clock

a. m. of the succeeding day, without the consent of the owner or of the occupants of such buildings; but in no event shall the authority in this section given be construed as permitting any of the persons hereinbefore enumerated to enter any such buildings in the absence of the occupants thereof without a proper written order, duly executed by a competent court authorized to issue such orders.

Definitions.

§ 8. For the purpose of this act, certain words and phrases are defined as follows, unless it shall be apparent from their context that they have a different meaning:

Words used in the singular include the plural, and the plural, the singular.

Words used in the present tense include the future.

Words used in the masculine gender include the feminine, and the feminine, the masculine.

Words "building department," "housing department," "department charged with the enforcement of this act," shall be construed as if followed by the words, "of the incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county," as the case may be, in which the dwelling is situated.

"Apartment."

"Apartment" is a room or suite of rooms which is occupied, or is intended or designed to be occupied by one family for living and sleeping purposes.

"Basement."

"Basement" is any story or portion thereof partly below the level of the curb or the actual adjoining ground level, the ceiling of which in no part is less than seven feet above the curb level or actual adjoining ground levels. If the adjoining ground is excavated to or below the curb level, such excavated space shall have not less than the minimum width and length required in this act for outer courts.

"Building."

"Building" is a dwelling.

"Building department."

"Building department" means the commissioner of buildings, superintendent of buildings, chief inspector of buildings, or any officer or department charged with the enforcement of ordinances and laws regulating the construction and alteration of buildings or structures.

"Cellar."

"Cellar" is any story or portion thereof, the ceiling of which is less than seven feet above the curb level and actual adjoining ground levels.

"Curb level."

"Curb level" is the curb level opposite the center of the front of lot, and in the event that a curb has not been established shall be deemed to be the average ground level at the front of lot.

"Department."

"Department." Wherever the word "department" is used it means the building department, the housing department or such other department or officer, or departments or officers, who are charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act.

"Dwelling."

"Dwelling" is as follows:

(a) Any house or building, or any portion thereof, which contains not more than two apartments, or not more than five guest rooms, or,

(b) Any house or building or any portion thereof, not more than one story in height, which contains more than two apartments, or,

(c) Any house or building, or any portion thereof, of more than one story and not more than two stories in height, which is designed, built, rented, leased, let or hired out to be occupied, or is occupied, as the home or residence of not more than four families, (four apartments) and which is so arranged that each of the said families live independently of each other, and which building is constructed and arranged so that a separate section is or may be kept as a home or a residence of a separate family. Each such section having an entirely independent and separate entrance, and if a stairway is required, one separate stairway leading to each section from the street or from an outside vestibule on the level of the first floor of said building, and with no room, hallway, bathroom, water-closet or kitchen used in common by two or more families occupying the said building.

“Family.”

“Family” is one person living alone or a group of two or more persons living together in an apartment, whether related to each other by birth or not.

“Guest.”

“Guest” is any person hiring and occupying a room for sleeping purposes, and shall include both boarders and lodgers.

“Guest room.”

“Guest room” is a room which is occupied, or is intended, arranged or designed to be occupied, for sleeping purposes by one or more guests.

“Housing department.”

“Housing department” is any department or commission charged with the enforcement of ordinances or laws regulating the occupancy and maintenance of dwelling house buildings; and where no such department is maintained, shall be deemed to be the health commissioner, the department of health, health officer, or similar department charged with the enforcement of laws and ordinances regulating the maintenance and occupancy of buildings or structures and of the health and sanitary requirements.

“Lot.”

“Lot” is a parcel or area of land on which is situated a dwelling, together with the land, and unoccupied spaces for such a dwelling, as required by this act; all of which land shall be owned by or be under the absolute lawful control and in the lawful possession of the dwelling.

“Nuisance.”

“Nuisance” embraces public nuisance as known at common law or in equity jurisprudence, and whatever is dangerous to human life or detrimental to health, and shall also embrace the overcrowding with occupants of any room, insufficient ventilation, or inadequate or insanitary sewerage or plumbing facilities, or uncleanness, and whatever renders air, food or drink unwholesome or detrimental to the health of human beings.

“Person.”

“Person” is a natural person, his heirs, executors, administrators or assigns; also includes a firm, partnership or a corporation, its or their successors or assigns.

“Shall.”

“Shall.” Wherever this word is used it shall be mandatory.

"Street."

"Street" is any public street, alley, thoroughfare or park having a minimum width of sixteen feet, measured from the front of lot to the opposite front of lot, and shall have been dedicated or deeded to the public for public use.

Constructed in substantial manner.

§ 9. Every dwelling hereafter erected shall be constructed in a substantial manner; and the building shall be so constructed as to provide shelter to the occupants against the elements, and so as to exclude dampness in inclement weather.

Sleeping in cellar.

§ 10. In no dwelling shall any room in the cellar be constructed, altered, converted or occupied for living or sleeping purposes.

Rooms in basement.

§ 11. In no dwelling shall any room in the basement be constructed, altered, converted or occupied for living purposes unless it conforms to all of the requirements of this act for rooms in other parts of the building, and that the ceiling of each such room be in all parts not less than seven feet above the adjoining ground levels.

All the walls below the ground level and the floors of such a basement shall be dampproofed and waterproofed. Such dampproofing and waterproofing shall run through the walls and up as high as the ground level and continue throughout the floor.

Every basement in such buildings shall be illuminated and ventilated.

Ventilation beneath floor.

§ 12. In every dwelling hereafter erected there shall be provided a clear air space under the lowest floor thereof of at last six inches, except where there is a ventilated basement or cellar underneath such floor, which clear air space shall be enclosed and provided with a sufficient number of openings with removable screens, or similar provisions, of a size to insure ample ventilation. The surface underneath the floor shall be kept dry, drained, clean and free from any accumulation of rubbish, debris or filth.

Floor area.

The provisions of this section shall not be deemed to apply to masonry floors laid directly on the soil, nor to any self-supporting masonry floor.

Width and height.

§ 13. In every dwelling hereafter erected, every room used for living or sleeping purposes shall contain at least ninety-square feet of superficial floor area.

Every such room shall at every point be not less than seven feet in width, nor less than eight feet in height measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling; except that attic rooms and rooms where sloping ceilings occur need be eight feet in height in but one-half the area of the room.

Every water-closet compartment shall be not less than thirty-six inches in width and every such compartment and bath or shower compartment shall have a height of not less than seven feet six inches measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling.

Windows.

§ 14. In every dwelling hereafter erected, every room used for living or sleeping purposes and every kitchen, water-closet compartment, shower or bathroom, shall have at least one window, of the area fixed by this act, opening directly upon a street, or upon unoccupied area not less than four in its least dimension and containing an area of not less than thirty-six square feet, and located on the same lot.

Cornice.

A cornice may extend into the unoccupied area two inches for each one foot in width of such unoccupied area.

Opening into vent shaft. Opening through porch.

Windows herein required shall be located so as properly to light all portions of the room, and shall be made so as to open in all parts and so arranged that at least one-half of the window may be opened unobstructed; provided, however, that the windows required by this section in a water-closet compartment or bath or shower room may be opened directly into a vent shaft, such vent shaft to be in no dimension less than eighteen inches; provided, further, that windows required to open onto a street or onto unoccupied area may open through porches, provided that the said porches do not exceed seven feet in depth, measured at right angles to the windows and that at least seventy-five per cent of the entire side of the porch, bounded by the street or unoccupied area is left open, except that the open space may be enclosed with mosquito screens.

Window area.

§ 15. In every dwelling hereafter erected the total window area in each room used for living or sleeping purposes shall be at least one-eighth of the superficial floor area of the room.

All measurements for window area shall be taken to outside of sash.

§ 16. In every dwelling hereafter erected, the window area in a water-closet compartment or bathroom shall be not less than three square feet.

Water-closets.

§ 17. Every dwelling hereafter erected shall be provided with one water-closet for each family living therein.

Plumbing fixtures.

§ 18. In every dwelling hereafter erected every plumbing fixture shall be provided with running water.

Every plumbing fixture affecting the sanitary drainage system in dwellings hereafter erected shall be properly connected with the street sewer, if a street sewer exists in the street abutting the lot on which the building is located and is ready to receive connections. When it is impracticable to connect such plumbing fixtures with a street sewer, then the plumbing fixtures shall be connected and drained into a cesspool constructed satisfactorily to the department charged with the enforcement of this act; or some other means of sewage disposal satisfactory to the department charged with the enforcement of this act may be made until such time as it may become practicable and possible to connect with the street sewer.

Where no running water. Privy.

§ 19. Water-closets, baths, showers, sinks, slop-sinks, faucets and other plumbing fixtures required by this act need not be installed in the event that the dwelling hereafter erected, or an existing dwelling as the case may be, is situated where there is no running water and where there is no practical means of sewage disposal, until such time as it becomes practicable and possible to obtain running water and means of sewage disposal; provided, in every such case the department charged with the enforcement of this act shall decide whether or not it is practicable and possible to provide running water, or proper means of sewage disposal; provided, further, that proper toilet facilities shall be provided for the use of the occupants of such building. Such facilities shall be made sanitary. A privy, or toilet other than a water-closet, erected under the authority of this section shall consist of a pit at least three feet deep, with suitable shelter over the same to afford privacy and protection from the elements. The openings of the shelter and pit shall be enclosed by fly screening, and the door to the shelter shall be made to close automatically, by means of a spring or other device. No privy pit shall be allowed to become filled with excreta to nearer than one foot from the surface of the ground, and the excreta in the pit shall be covered with earth, ashes, lime or similar substances at regular intervals.

Earthenware bowls and seats.

§ 20. In every dwelling hereafter erected, and in every dwelling now existing, all plumbing fixtures shall be properly trapped and vented and all such plumbing made sanitary in every particular. Water-closets hereafter installed shall have earthenware bowls and shall have earthenware seats, or seats made of some nonabsorbent material integral with the bowls, or wooden seats, enameled or varnished or otherwise made nonabsorbent, attached directly to the bowls. All connections shall be of standard lead, iron, steel or brass.

No plumbing fixtures shall be enclosed with woodwork, but the space under and around the same must be left entirely open.

Cooking in bath compartment.

§ 21. It shall be unlawful for any person to cook or to prepare food, or to permit or suffer any person to cook or to prepare food in any bath, shower, slop-sink or water-closet compartment, or in any other place in the building which, in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, is detrimental to the proper sanitation of such building.

Sleeping in cellar, etc.

It shall be unlawful for any person to live or sleep, or to permit or suffer any person to live or sleep, in any cellar, bath, shower or slop-sink room, water-closet compartment, hallway, closet or kitchen, or in any other place which, in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, would be dangerous or prejudicial to life or health by reason of want of light, windows, ventilation, drainage, or on account of dampness, offensive, obnoxious or poisonous odors or in any room that shall be so overcrowded as to afford less than the following floor space for each occupant in accordance with the age of the said occupant:

Floor space for each occupant.

Number of persons over 12 years of age.	Number of persons under 12 years of age.	Superficial floor area required.
1.....	2	60 square feet
2.....	4	120 square feet
3.....	6	180 square feet
4.....	8	240 square feet
5.....	10	300 square feet
6.....	12	360 square feet

Additional floor area in the same ratio shall be provided for additional persons.

Repapering.

§ 22. No wall, partition or ceiling of any room in any dwelling shall be repapered, calcimined, or have any other covering placed thereupon unless the old wall paper or other covering shall have first been removed therefrom, and the said wall, partition or ceiling cleaned, disinfected and freed from bugs, insects or vermin.

Repairs.

§ 23. Every dwelling shall be maintained in good repair. The roofs shall be kept waterproof and all storm or casual water properly drained and conveyed therefrom to the street sewer, storm drain or street gutter.

Every water-closet, bathtub, sink, slop-hopper or other similar plumbing fixture shall at all times be kept clean, sanitary and in good working order.

Metal mosquito screening.

§ 24. There shall be provided, whenever it is deemed necessary for the health of the occupants of any dwelling or for the proper sanitation or cleanliness of any such building, metal mosquito screening of at least sixteen mesh, set in tight-fitting removable sash, for each exterior door, window or other opening in the exterior walls of the building.

Garbage cans.

§ 25. There shall be provided by the occupant or tenant for each dwelling a tight metal receptacle, with close-fitting metal cover, for garbage, refuse, ashes and rubbish as may be deemed necessary by the department charged with the enforcement of this act. The receptacles shall be kept in a clean condition by the occupants or tenants.

Room, etc., kept clean.

§ 26. Every room, hallway, passageway, stairway, wall, partition, ceiling, floor, skylight, glass window, door, carpet, rug, matting, window curtain, water-closet, compartment or room, toilet room, bathroom, slop-sink or wash-room, plumbing fixture, drain, roof, closet, cellar, or basement in any dwelling, and the lot, and the premises thereof, shall be kept in every part clean and sanitary and free from all accumulation of debris, filth, rubbish, garbage or other offensive matter.

Swill, etc., not to be deposited in plumbing fixtures.

No person shall deposit, or cause or permit any person to deposit, any swill, garbage, bottles, ashes, cans or other improper substance in any water-closet, sink, slop-hopper, bathtub, shower, catch-basin, or in any plumbing fixture connection or drain therefrom, or otherwise to obstruct the same; or to place or cause or permit to be placed any filth, urine or other foul matter in any place other than the place provided for same; or to keep or cause or permit to be kept any urine or filth or foul matter in any room or apartment in any dwelling or in or about the said building or premises thereof for such length of time as to create a nuisance.

No animals in dwelling.

§ 27. No horse, cow, calf, swine, sheep, goat, rabbit, mule or other animal, chicken, pigeon, goose, duck or other poultry shall be kept in any dwelling house or any part thereof; nor shall any such animal or poultry, nor shall any stable, be kept or maintained within twenty feet of any window or door of such building.

Action to abate nuisance. Authority to execute order.

§ 28. In case any dwelling, or any part thereof, is constructed, altered, converted or maintained in violation of any provisions of this act or of any order or notice of the department charged with its enforcement, or in case a nuisance exists in any such dwelling or building or structure or upon the lot on which it is situated, said department may institute any appropriate action or proceeding to prevent such unlawful construction, alteration, conversion or maintenance, to restrain, correct or abate such violation or nuisance, to prevent the occupation of said dwelling, building or structure, to prevent any illegal act, conduct of business in or about such dwelling or lot. In any such action or proceeding said department may, by affidavit setting forth the facts, apply to the superior court, or to any judge thereof, for an order granting the relief for which said action or proceeding is brought, or for an order enjoining all persons from doing or permitting to be done any work in or about such dwelling, building, structure or lot, or from occupying or using the same for any purpose, until the entry of final judgment or order. In case any notice or order issued by said department is not complied with, said department may apply to the superior court, or to any judge thereof, for an order authorizing said department to execute and carry out the provisions of said notice or order, to remove any violation specified in said order or notice, or to abate any nuisance in or about such dwelling, building or structure, or the lot upon which it is situated. The court, or any judge thereof, is hereby authorized to make any order specified in this section. In no case shall the said department or any officer thereof or the municipal corporation be liable for costs in any action or proceeding that may be commenced in pursuance of this act.

Fine a lien.

§ 29. Every fine imposed by judgment under section six of this act upon a dwelling owner shall be a lien upon the house in relation to which the fine is imposed, from the time of the filing of a certified copy of said judgment in the office of the recorder of the county in which said dwelling is situated, subject only to taxes and assessments and water rates, and to such mortgage and mechanics' liens as may exist thereon prior to such filing; and it shall be the duty of the department charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, upon the entry of such judgment, to file forthwith the copy as aforesaid, and such copy upon filing shall be forthwith indexed by the recorder in the index of mechanics' liens.

Notice of pendency of action.

§ 30. In any action or proceeding instituted by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the plaintiff or petitioner may file, in the county recorder's office of the county where the property affected by such action or proceeding is situated, a notice of the pendency of such action or proceeding. Said notice may be filed at the time of the commencement of the action or proceeding, or at any time afterwards before final judgment or order, or at any time after the service of any notice or order issued by said department. Such notice shall have the same force and effect as the notice of pendency of action provided for in the Code of Civil Procedure. Each county recorder with whom such notice is filed shall record it and shall index it in the name of each person specified in a direction subscribed by an officer of the department instituting such action or proceeding. Any such notice may be vacated upon the order of a judge of the court in which such action or proceeding was instituted or is pending. The recorder of the county where such notice is filed is hereby directed to mark such notice and any record or docket thereof as canceled of record, upon the presentation and filing of a certified copy of such order.

Time of service.

§ 31. Every notice or order in relation to a dwelling shall be served five days before the time for doing the thing in relation to which it shall have been issued.

Manner of service.

§ 32. In any action brought by any department charged with the enforcement of this act in relation to a dwelling for injunction, vacation of the premises or other abatement of nuisance, or to establish a lien thereon, it shall be sufficient service of summons to serve the same as notices and orders are served under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Minimum requirements. Supplementary laws.

§ 33. The provisions of this act shall be held to be the minimum requirements adopted for the protection, the health and the safety of the community, and for the protection, the health and the safety of the occupants of dwellings. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as prohibiting the local legislative body of any incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county, from enacting from time to time, supplementary ordinances or laws imposing further restrictions, or providing for fees to be charged for permits, certificates or other papers required by this act; but no ordinance, law, regulation or ruling of any municipal department, authority, officer or officers, shall repeal, amend, modify or dispense with any of the provisions of this act.

Repealed.

All statutes of the state and all ordinances of incorporated towns, incorporated cities and incorporated cities and counties, as far as inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall be construed as repealing or abrogating any present ordinance or law of any incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county, in the state which further restricts the percentage of the lot to be covered by a dwelling, the occupation thereof, the materials to be used in its construction, or increasing the floor space to each person occupying a room, the requirements as to sanitation, ventilation, light and protection against fire.

Power of cities not abrogated.

Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as abrogating, diminishing, minimizing or denying the power of any incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county, by ordinance or law, to further restrict the percentage of the lot to be covered by a dwelling within said municipality, the occupation thereof, the materials to be used in its construction, or increasing the floor space to each person occupying a room, the requirements as to sanitation, ventilation, light and protection against fire.

Constitutionality.

§ 34. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

In effect when.

§ 35. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after September 1, 1917.

CONTENTS OF CHAPTER.

- ACT 1303. SALE OF IMPORTED EGGS.
- 1304. SALE OF FOOD AND DRINK CONTAINING EGGS.
- 1305. REGULATIONS AS TO PACKING OF IMPORTED EGGS.
- 1306. SALE OF EGGS IN TRANSIT MORE THAN THIRTY-ONE DAYS.

SALE OF IMPORTED EGGS.

ACT 1303—An act to regulate the sale of eggs that have been shipped or imported into the state of California from any point or place outside of the United States, requiring the marking thereof by all persons selling, or offering the same for sale, and fixing penalties for the violation of the same or of any of the provisions thereof.

History: Approved June 4, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1163.

Wholesalers, etc., importing eggs.

§ 1. For the purposes of this act the words "person, firm, company or corporation" shall include wholesalers, retailers, jobbers, and every place where eggs that have been shipped or imported into the state of California, from any point or place outside of the United States, are sold or offered for sale.

Imported eggs to be branded.

§ 2. Every person, firm, company or corporation who sells, offers for sale, or has in his, or their, possession for sale, or consigns, ships or presents to any dealer, commission merchant, consumer, or other person, any egg or eggs that have been shipped or imported into the state of California, from any point or place outside of the United States, shall before so doing, cause to be stamped, marked or branded upon one end thereof in black-faced letters not less than one-eighth of an inch in height, the word "Imported."

Sign displayed in salesroom.

§ 3. Every person, firm, company, or corporation, selling or offering for sale any eggs that have been shipped or imported into the state of California, from any point or place outside of the United States, shall display in a conspicuous place in his or their public salesroom, a sign, which shall be not less than one foot in height and six feet in length, bearing the words "Imported Eggs Sold Here" in blackfaced letters not less than six inches in height and one inch in width upon a white ground.

Report to state board of health.

§ 4. Every person, firm, company or corporation who receives eggs that have been produced in any foreign country and shipped or imported into this state shall immediately thereafter make a report to the state board of health, giving the number of eggs received, the date when received and the place where such eggs were produced.

Penalty.

§ 5. Every person, firm, company or corporation who shall fail to comply with any of the provisions of this act is guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months; or by a fine of not more than two hundred dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. It shall be the duty of the state board of health to enforce the provisions of this act.

1. The act June 4, 1915 regulating the sale of imported eggs is unconstitutional because of unreasonable restrictions.—In re Foley, 172 Cal. 744, Ann. Cas. 1918a, 180, 158 Pac. 1034.

2. Constitutionality—Purpose of act.—If the purpose of the act was to protect the public from the sale of stale and unwholesome eggs, the statute was faultily drawn. Since it contains no provisions adopted to that purpose, and the provisions it contains, imposing upon the dealer an onerous and expensive duty of advertising elaborately the fact that the eggs were imported, would not protect the public against stale eggs, but would aid the domestic producer by appealing to the public prejudice against eggs produced in foreign lands.—In re Foley, 172 Cal. 744, Ann. Cas. 1918a, 180, 158 Pac. 1034.

SALE OF FOOD AND DRINK CONTAINING EGGS.

ACT 1304—An act to regulate the sale of food and drink, the ingredients of which are in part composed of eggs shipped or imported into the state of California, from any point or place outside of the United States, requiring the marking of all bills of fare or menu cards placed on tables or counters in establishments preparing, serving or offering for sale any such food or drink, and fixing penalties for the violation of the same or of any of the provisions thereof.

History: Approved June 4, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1164.

“Person,” etc., means hotel, restaurant, etc.

§ 1. For the purposes of this act the words “person, firm, company or corporation” shall include hotels, restaurants, cafeterias, lunch counters, lunch wagons, saloons, soda fountains, bakeries, delicatessens and boarding houses, and every place where food or drink is prepared and offered for sale.

Menu cards to bear “imported eggs used here.”

§ 2. Every person, firm, company or corporation who prepares or serves, sells or offers for sale, any food or drink, the ingredients of which are in part composed of eggs shipped or imported into the state of California, from any point or place outside of the United States, before so doing shall cause to be printed on all bills of fare or menu cards placed on his or their tables or counters, in black-faced letters not less than one-eighth of an inch in height, the words “Imported eggs used here.”

Sign displayed in salesroom.

§ 3. Every person, firm, company or corporation preparing, serving, selling or offering for sale any food or drink, the ingredients of which are in part composed of eggs shipped or imported into the state of California, from any point or place outside of the United States, shall display in a conspicuous place in his or their public salesroom, a sign, which shall be not less than six inches in height and three feet in length, bearing the words “Imported eggs used here” in black-faced letters not less than three inches in height and one-quarter of an inch in width, upon a white ground.

Penalty.

§ 4. Every person, firm, company or corporation who shall fail to comply with any of the provisions of this act is guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months; or by a fine of not more than two hundred and fifty dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. It shall be the duty of the state board of health to enforce the provisions of this act.

Constitutionality.—See Act 1303, notes.

PACKING IMPORTED EGGS.

ACT 1305—An act to regulate the placing of cards in all packages or wrappers enclosing manufacturers’ food products, before being sold or offered for sale, which are composed in part of eggs shipped or imported into the state of California, from any point or place outside of the United States, and fixing penalties for the violation of the same or of any of the provisions thereof.

History: Approved June 4, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1165.

“Person,” etc., includes bakeries, etc.

§ 1. For the purposes of this act the words “person, firm, company or corporation,” shall include biscuit companies, cracker companies, bakeries, manufacturers of food products, and every person manufacturing and selling food products in packages.

Package food product containing imported eggs to carry card.

§ 2. Every person, firm, company or corporation who sells, or offers for sale, any manufactured food product, the ingredients of which are in part composed of eggs shipped or imported into the state of California, from any point or place outside of the United States, shall, before so doing, cause to be placed in each package or wrapper enclosing such manufactured food product, a white card one and one-half inches in height and three inches in length, on one side of which shall be printed or stamped in legible black-faced letters, the words "Imported eggs used in the manufacture of this article," and no other words, letters or figures shall be printed or stamped on the same side of the card.

Penalty.

§ 3. Every person, firm, company or corporation who shall fail to comply with any of the provisions of this act is guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months; or a fine of not more than two hundred and fifty dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. It shall be the duty of the state board of health to enforce the provisions of this act.

Constitutionality.—See Act 1303, notes.

SALE OF EGGS IN TRANSIT MORE THAN THIRTY-ONE DAYS.

ACT 1306—An act to regulate the sale of eggs which have been in transit more than thirty-one days, and prescribing penalties for violations thereof.

History: Approved May 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 258.

Words defined.

§ 1. For the purpose of this act the words, "person, firm, company or corporation" shall include wholesalers, retailers, jobbers, and every person, firm, company or corporation owning, operating or conducting any place of business where eggs are sold or offered for sale.

Eggs in transit more than thirty-one days to be marked "storage."

Display of sign in salesroom.

§ 3. Every person, firm, company or corporation selling or offering for sale any eggs which were produced at any place requiring thirty-one days or more to transport the eggs to the selling point, prior to the date of sale or offering for sale, shall display in a conspicuous place in his or their public salesroom a sign which shall not be less than one foot in height and six feet in length, bearing the words "storage eggs sold here" in black-faced letters not less than six inches in height and one inch in width upon a white ground.

Report to state board of health.

§ 4. Every person, firm, company or corporation who receives eggs that have been produced at any place requiring thirty-one days or more to transport the eggs to the selling point, prior to their sale or offering for sale, shall, immediately thereafter report to the state board of health the number of eggs received, the date when received and the place where such eggs were produced, and the name of the person, firm, company or corporation to whom sold.

Enforcement.

§ 5. It shall be the duty of the state board of health to enforce the provisions of this act, and to that end the said board may make necessary rules and regulations.

Penalty.

§ 6. Every person, firm, company or corporation who shall fail to comply with any of the provisions of this act is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months; or by a fine of not more than two hundred dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

PURITY OF ELECTIONS ACT OF 1907.

ACT 1327—An act to regulate the conduct of election campaigns, and repealing an act entitled "An act to promote the purity of elections by regulating the conduct thereof, and to support the privilege of free suffrage by prohibiting certain acts and practices in relation thereto, and providing for the punishment thereof," approved February 23, 1893.

History: Approved March 19, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 671. Amended June 6, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 396. Former act of February 23, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 12. Amended March 27, 1895, Stats. 1895, p. 227; March 3, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 37; March 10, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 93, was repealed by the present act, after partial codification, §§ 19, 20, 21, 22, 24, 25, 26, 28, 41, and 42 became §§ 54b, 54a, 42, 42a, 46, 57, 57a, 47, 59, and 49, respectively, of the Penal Code. The first sentence of § 27 became § 50, and the second sentence, § 51, of the same code.

Statement of campaign expenses. Names of contributors. Disclaimer of responsibility. Filed with secretary of state. With county clerk. Vouchers.

§ 1. Every candidate who is voted for at any public election held within the state shall, within fifteen days after the day of holding such election, file, as hereinafter provided, an itemized statement, showing in detail all moneys paid, loaned, contributed, or otherwise furnished to him, or for his use, directly or indirectly, in aid of his election, and all money contributed, loaned, or expended by him, directly or indirectly by himself or through any other person, in aid of his election. Such statement shall give the names of the various persons who paid, loaned, contributed, or otherwise furnished such moneys in aid of his election, and the names of the various persons to whom such moneys were contributed, loaned or paid, the specific nature of each item, the service performed, and by whom performed, and the purpose for which the money was expended, contributed or loaned. If the candidate seeks to avoid the responsibility of any illegal payment made by any other person in his behalf, he shall set out such illegal payment and disclaim responsibility therefor. Candidates for office to be filled by the electors of the state or of any political division thereof greater than a county, and for members of the senate and assembly, representative in Congress, or members of the state board of equalization, or state board of railroad commissioners, shall file their statements in the office of the secretary of state. Candidates for all other offices shall file their statements in the office of the clerk of the county wherein the election is held, and within which the duties of the office for which the candidate is voted for are to be exercised. The statement of a committee or candidate shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder, and shall, after being filed, become a public record, and open at all times to public inspection and no fee or charge whatsoever shall be collected or made by any officer herein specified for filing or recording any statement required to be filed or recorded under the provisions of this act. Vouchers must be filed for all expenditures, except in the case of sums under five dollars. [Amendment approved June 6, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 396.]

Duty of committee.

§ 2. Every committee organized for the purpose, or charged with the duty of conducting the election campaign of any political party, or of any candidate or candidates, shall appoint a treasurer, who shall receive and disburse all moneys contributed for such campaign purposes, and keep a true account thereof, and shall, in the same manner as herein required of candidates, file an itemized statement of all money received or disbursed by him as such treasurer.

What are legitimate expenses. Amount that can be expended by candidate or in his behalf.

§ 3. No sum of money shall be paid and no expense incurred by or on behalf of any candidate or campaign committee as defined in section two of this act, or any body of superior authority, to which such committee is subject, if any, whether before, during, or after an election, on account of or in respect of the conduct or management of such election, except for the expenses of holding and conducting public meetings for the discussion of public questions, and of printing and circulating specimen ballots, handbills, cards, and other papers previous to such election, and of advertising and of postage, expressage, telegraphing, and telephoning, and of supervising the registration of voters, and watching the polling or counting of votes cast at such election, and of salaries of persons employed in transacting business at office or headquarters and necessary expenses of maintaining the same, and for rent of rooms necessary for the transaction of the business of candidate or committee, or superior authority to which such committee is subject, if any, and for necessary incidental expenses, which shall not exceed the sum of one hundred dollars, if expended by a candidate, or one thousand dollars, if expended by a committee; and no sum shall be paid and no expense shall be incurred, directly or indirectly, by or on behalf of a candidate, whether before, during, or after an election, on account of or in respect of the conduct and management of an election at which he is a candidate, in excess of the maximum amount following, that is to say: if the term of the office for which the person is a candidate be for one year or less, five per centum of the amount of one year's salary of the office; if the term be for more than one year, and not more than two years, ten per centum of the amount of one year's salary of the office; if the term be for more than two years, and not more than three years, fifteen per centum of the amount of one year's salary of the office; if the term be for more than three years, and not more than four years, twenty per centum of the amount of one year's salary of the office; if the term be for more than four years, ten per centum of the amount of one year's salary of the office; if the office be one for which, in lieu of a salary, there is allowed per diem, for a statutory period, or for the number of days actually engaged in the performance of public duties, twenty-five per centum of the amount to accrue for the statutory period; if the office be one for which in lieu of a salary, a yearly sum is allowed the officer for all the expenses of his office, the expenditures of the candidate for such office shall not exceed the amount of ten per centum of the allowance for such office for one year; if the office be one for which no salary or compensation is allowed, except fees, or a salary not exceeding nine hundred dollars per annum and fees, the expenditures of the candidate for such office shall not exceed the amount of one hundred and fifty dollars; if the office be one for which no salary or compensation is allowed, or for which a per diem is allowed for the days actually employed in the performance of a public duty, the expenditures of the candidate for such office shall not exceed one hundred dollars; if the candidate is also at the same time a candidate for an unexpired term, he shall not pay or expend any sum on account of such unexpired term, but the maximum amount to be expended by such candidate shall be as hereinabove provided.

When claims must be presented.

§ 4. Every claim payable by a committee as defined in section two of this act on account of or in respect of any expense incurred in the conduct and management of an election held within this state, or on behalf of the candidates of the political party, organized assemblage, or body which such committee represents, must be presented to the committee within ten days after the return day of the election, and if not so presented, the same shall not be paid, and no action shall be commenced or maintained thereon, and all expenses incurred as aforesaid shall be paid within fifteen days after the completion of such official canvass, and not otherwise. Every claim in respect of any expenses incurred by or on behalf of a candidate at an election held within this state on account of or in respect of the conduct or management of such election shall be presented to such candidate within ten days after the day of election, and if not so presented, the same shall not be paid, and no action shall be instituted or maintained thereon; and all such expenses incurred as aforesaid must be paid within twelve days after the day of election, and not otherwise. Any person who makes a payment in contravention of this section, except where such payment is allowed, as provided by this act, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Claims presented after time limit, how may be paid.

§ 5. The superior court of the county in which such statement is filed or is required to be filed, may, on the application of either the committee or candidate, or a creditor of either allow any claim, not in excess of the maximum amount allowed by this act, to be presented and paid after the time limited by this act; and a statement of any sum so paid, with a certificate of its allowance, shall forthwith, after payment, be filed by the committee or candidate in the same office as the original statement of the committee or candidate. If the candidate or committee, upon such application, shall show to the satisfaction of said court that any error or false recital in such statement, or that the failure to make such statement or to present, within the designated time, a claim otherwise just and proper, has been occasioned by the absence or illness of such candidate, or by the absence, illness or death of one or more members of such committee, or by the misconduct of any person other than such applicant, or by inadvertence or excusable neglect, or of any reasonable cause of a like manner, and not by reason of any want of good faith on the part of the applicant, the court may, after such notice of the application as the court shall require, and on the production of such evidence of the facts stated in the application as shall be satisfactory to such court, by order, allow such statement to be filed, or such error or false recital therein to be corrected, or such claims to be paid, as to the court seems just; and such order shall relieve the applicant from any liability or consequences under this act in respect of the matters excused by the order. If the application is made by a creditor, the court may, under like conditions and upon a like showing, order the claim to be paid, and the creditor shall also be entitled to his costs. The claims of one or more creditors may be united in such application, but the amount and specific nature of each claim must be fully stated.

Rooms must not be rented where intoxicating liquors are sold.

§ 6. No payment of any money shall be made by a committee or candidate for the rent of any premises to be used as a committee-room or headquarters, or for holding a meeting, or for the purpose of promoting the election of a candidate, or on account of, or in respect to the conduct or management of, an election, where intoxicating liquors are sold for consumption on the premises, or where intoxicating liquor is supplied to members of any club, society, or association; provided, that nothing in this section shall apply to any part of such premises which is ordinarily let for the purposes of offices, or for holding public meetings, if such part has a separate entrance and no direct communication with any part of the premises on which any intoxicating liquor or refreshment is sold or supplied as aforesaid.

Name of printer.

§ 7. Every bill, placard, poster, pamphlet or other printed matter having reference to an election, or to any candidate, shall bear upon the face thereof the name and address of the printer and publisher thereof, and no payment therefor shall be made or allowed unless such address is so printed.

Act of 1893 repealed.

§ 8. An act entitled "An act to promote the purity of elections by regulating the conduct thereof, and to support the privilege of free suffrage by prohibiting certain acts and practices in relation thereto, and providing for the punishment thereof," approved February twenty-third, eighteen hundred and ninety-three, and all other acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed; provided that no provision of this act shall be construed so as to repeal any provision of title four of part one of the Penal Code, entitled "Of Crimes against the Elective Franchise."

Penalty.

§ 9. Any person offending against any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and be dealt with as provided in the Penal Code.

Who is competent witness. This section to be read to witness.

Act takes effect when.

§ 11. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

1. Constitutionality.—The legislature had the power to require, as it did in the act of 1893, an officer elect to file the statement prescribed by section 3, and to provide for a forfeiture of the office to which he was elected upon his failure to do so.—Bradley v. Clark, 133 Cal. 196, 65 Pac. 395.

2. Same—Oath of Office.—The provision of section 4 of the act of 193, requiring the giving of the oath therein prescribed, by candidates for office, as a condition to hold the office he is seeking, is unconstitutional as in violation of section 3, Article XX of the constitution, prescribing an oath of office in lieu of all others.—Bradley v. Clark, 133 Cal. 196, 65 Pac. 395.

3. Construction of 32 of the act of 1893.—The section is to be construed as intended to secure evidence against offenders against the penal provisions of the act, where two or more persons are required to co-operate, and it is only a witness who testifies at the trial, hearing, prosecution or legal investigation or judicial proceeding, against a person charged with an offense against some provision of the act, against which he has also offended, can claim the immunity given therein.—Ex parte Cohen, 104 Cal. 524, 43 Am. St. Rep. 127, 26 L. R. A. 423, 38 Pac. 364.

4. Information — Procuring false registration.—The statute is not directed against official misconduct, and in an information charging a deputy registrar of procuring and allowing the false registration of a voter, the phrase "as such deputy registrar," is held to be surplusage, since the act embraces "every person" without regard to his official character.—People v. Sternberg, 111 Cal. 3, 43 Pac. 198.

5. Indictment.—An indictment charging that "while the votes were being counted and canvassed . . . one George Lee wilfully, unlawfully and feloniously interfered with the regular election officers of said precinct" etc., sufficiently charges a violation of section 23 of the purity of elections act of 1893.—People v. Lee, 107 Cal. 477, 40 Pac. 754.

6. Same — One completed felony.—The indictment charges one completed felony—a violation of section 29 of the act of 1893—and does not also charge a conspiracy, and is not objectionable on the ground of duplicity.—People v. Eagan, 116 Cal. 287, 48 Pac. 120.

7. Evidence of accomplice — Sufficiently corroborated—False registration.—The evidence of the voter, falsely registered and shown to be the accomplice of the defendant under prosecution for procuring such false registration, held to be sufficiently corroborated by other testimony.—People v. Sternberg, 111 Cal. 3, 43 Pac. 198.

8. Evidence not sufficient.—It is held that the evidence was not sufficient to justify a conviction of the offense of falsifying the returns.—People v. Eagan, 116 Cal. 287, 48 Pac. 120.

9. Instructions — Procuring false registration—Accomplice.—In a prosecution for procuring false registration, the defendant can not complain of an instruction that the voter alleged to have been falsely registered, was defendant's accomplice, for the reason that such instruction was more favorable to the defendant than otherwise, since if such witness was not an accomplice the jury could not have convicted without corroborating evidence.—People v. Sternberg, 111 Cal. 3, 43 Pac. 198.

10. Witness — Claim of constitutional privilege.—A witness called to testify as to the illegal giving of money to him by the defendant in an election contest can not, in view of the provisions of section 32 of the act of 1893, claim his constitutional privilege and refuse to testify on the ground that his answer would incriminate him, even if it should be conceded that he had violated any law, in receiving such money.—Ex parte Cohen, 104 Cal. 524, 43 Am. St. Rep. 127, 26 L. R. A. 423, 38 Pac. 364; Bradley v. Clark, 133 Cal. 196, 65 Pac. 395. See, also, Rebstock v. Superior Court, 146 Cal. 308, 314, 80 Pac. 65.

11. Only offending witnesses can claim immunity under the act of 1893 for testimony given as to offenses thereunder.—Bradley v. Clark, 133 Cal. 196, 65 Pac. 395.

12. No duty is imposed upon one who receives money from a candidate for office to inquire whether the money so received is in excess of the amount he is allowed under the purity of elections act to spend.—Bradley v. Clark, 133 Cal. 196, 65 Pac. 395.

13. The promisee of the promise of a candidate, illegally made, to give him the patronage of the office, is not guilty of any offense against the purity of elections act, even though he act upon the promise and promote the promisor's election.—Bradley v. Clark, 133 Cal. 196, 65 Pac. 395.

14. Illegal promise of candidate not to qualify.—A promise by a candidate for office not to qualify, or enter, or discharge the duties of the office which he seeks, for the purpose of creating a vacancy, and thereby saving the expense of maintaining the office by the taxpayers, is a ground for contest under section 19 of the act of 1893. Bush v. Head, 154 Cal. 277, 97 Pac. 512.

15. Declaration of candidate — Negative statements.—The purity of elections act does not contemplate the making of negative statements as moneys received by a candidate, and a declaration by a candidate that he received no money goes beyond the demands of the act.—Land v. Clark, 132 Cal. 673, 64 Pac. 1071.

15a.—Same—Technical violation of law.—The statement of expenditures required of defendant contestee by the purity of elections act show a substantial compliance with the act, and his failure to give an itemized statement of expenditures under the head of sundries and incidentals, if such an itemized statement is required under that head, was at most a technical violation of the law, not warranting forfeiture of the office to which he had been elected.—Land v. Clark, 132 Cal. 673, 64 Pac. 1071.

16. Discretion of trial court in election contests.—The trial court is vested with a large discretion in matters relating to election contests under the purity of elections act of 1893, and successful candidates are not to forfeit their offices for merely technical violations of the law.—Land v. Clark, 132 Cal. 673, 64 Pac. 1071.

17. Personal interest of contestant.—The fact that the contestant has a personal interest in an election contest under the purity of elections act of 1893, as one claiming the office himself, can not affect the validity of the act itself, in view of the fact that the legislature was empowered to authorize any elector to take proper steps to determine whether a candidate was legally elected or not.—Maddux v. Walthall, 141 Cal. 412, 74 Pac. 1026.

18. Materiality of violations of law by the contestant.—If a contestant has himself violated any of the penal provisions of the purity of elections act that is properly a matter for determination in a separate proceeding, and the trial court did not err in refusing to allow the contestee to allege as a part of his defense a violation of that act on the part of the contestant.—Maddux v. Walthall, 141 Cal. 412, 74 Pac. 1026.

19.—Primary elections.—The purity of elections act of 1893 has no application to primary elections.—People v. Cavanaugh, 112 Cal. 674, 44 Pac. 1057.

COMMISSION ON VOTING OR BALLOTING MACHINES.

ACT 1328—An act creating a state commission on voting or balloting machines, defining their powers, and providing for the use at the option of indicated local authorities of voting or ballot machines for receiving and registering the vote in one or more precincts of any county, or city and county, city or town, at any or all elections held therein, and for ascertaining the result at such elections; and providing for the punishment of all violations of the provisions of this act.

History: Approved March 20, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 262. Amended March 15, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 288; March 19, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 644; January 22, 1912, Stats. 1912 (ex. sess.), p. 244; April 21, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 980; June 11, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 691. Supplemented March 19, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 647. (See Act 1329.)

Creation of commission. What machines may be used. Duty of secretary of state. Approval. Expenses of commission.

§ 1. 1. The governor, secretary of state and attorney-general, and their successors in office are hereby created and constituted the state commission on voting or ballot machines. It shall be the duty of said commissioners to examine all voting or ballot machines which may be offered for their inspection in order to determine whether such machines comply with the requirements of this act, and can safely be used by voters at elections under the provisions of this act; and no machine or machines shall be provided by the board of supervisors, or other board having charge and control of elections in each of the counties, and cities and counties, cities or towns of the state, unless the said machine or machines shall have received the approval of a majority of said commission as herein provided.

2. Any machine or machines which shall have the approval of a majority of said commission may be provided for use at elections by the boards authorized so to do under the provisions of this act. The report of said commission on each and every kind of voting or ballot machine shall be filed with the secretary of state within thirty days after their examination of said machines, and the secretary of state must within five days after the filing of any report approving any machine or machines, transmit to the boards of supervisors or other boards having charge and control of elections in each of the counties and cities and counties, cities or towns of the state, a list of the machines so approved.

3. No machine or machines shall be used unless such machine or machines shall have received the approval of the state commission at least ninety days prior to any election at which such machine or machines are to be used.

4. For carrying out the provisions of this act the members of the state commission under this act shall be allowed their actual necessary expenses.

Supervisors may provide for use of voting machines. Machine not permitting straight party ticket.

§ 2. The board of supervisors, or other board having charge and control of elections in each of the counties, and cities and counties, cities or towns of the state, may, at any regular meeting, or at any special meeting called for the purpose, provide for and require the use of a voting or ballot machine, or machines, for receiving and registering the vote at any or all elections held in such county, city and county, city or town, respectively, or in any one or more precincts thereof, and every such board of supervisors, or other board having charge and control of elections in each of the counties, and cities and counties, cities or towns of the state, may determine upon and require the use of voting or ballot machines at any and all elections to be held within such county, city and county, city or town of the state, or in any one or more precincts thereof, and thereupon the voting or ballot machine or machines so determined upon and required shall be used in voting for all public officers, or candidates for nomination to public office, to be voted for by the voters of such counties, cities and counties, cities or towns of the state, or in the precinct or precincts thereof for which the same shall have been so determined upon and required, and also in voting upon all amendments to the constitution, and upon all laws or propositions or questions which may be lawfully submitted to such voters, and for receiving and registering the votes cast at any and every such election. Any such board so authorized to provide for and require the use of a voting or ballot machine as hereinbefore specified, may, if the machine has been approved as in this act required, at its option resolve to provide and use only such a voting or ballot machine so constructed and arranged that the voting or ballot machine will not permit of voting a straight party ticket, or for any candidate, by any other method than by turning or pushing the keys separately of each voting space for each separate candidate voted for. Party nominations may be designated by usual or reasonable abbreviation of party names. [Amendment approved April 21, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 980.]

Joint ownership.

§ 3. In purchasing the necessary voting or ballot machines to be used at elections, as herein provided, the boards of supervisors of the several counties, and the legislative bodies of the incorporated cities and towns therein, may, by agreement, entered into by said board of supervisors and the legislative body of any incorporated city or town in such county, provide for the joint purchase and subsequent ownership thereof, and for the care, maintenance and use of the same.

Facilities for voting required in construction before approval. Separate voting device for each candidate. Use of machines having straight ticket mechanism. Arrangement of ballot.

§ 4. No voting or ballot machines shall be approved by the said board unless the same be so constructed as to provide facilities for voting for the candidates of as many different parties or organizations as may make nominations for office, and for and against as many different propositions or amendments as may be submitted, nor shall any such machine be approved unless the same will permit a voter to vote for any person for any office; it must enable the voter to vote and select a ticket all from the nominees of one party, or a ticket selected in part from the nominees of one party, and in part from the nominees of any or all other parties, and in part from independent nominations, or in part or in whole of the names of persons not nominated by any party or upon any independent ticket; such machines must also secure to the voter, privacy and secrecy in the act of voting; such machines must also be so constructed that a voter can not vote for a candidate or a proposition or amendment for whom or on which he is not lawfully entitled to vote, also to prevent voting for more than one person for the same office, except in cases where the voter is lawfully entitled to vote for more than one person for the same office, in which event they must enable the voter to vote for as many persons for that office as he is by law entitled to vote, and no more; they must also prevent his voting more than once for the same person for the same office; and allow of his reversing his vote in case of mistake or desire to change; and such machines must be so constructed that all votes cast for any person voted for, or for or against any proposition or amendment submitted to the voters, shall be accurately registered or recorded, and any machine to be approved by said board must be of such kind, style or pattern as will permit the exercise by each voter of the full right and privilege of his elective franchise under the constitution and laws of this state. All voting machines approved by the state commission shall have a separate voting device for each candidate appearing on the ballot. Such machines may also have thereon a straight ticket device for each of the parties for voting a straight ticket vote for candidates of such party; but if so equipped with separate straight ticket voting devices, such separate straight ticket voting device must be locked out of operation. Machines which have been approved with such straight ticket mechanism thereon may be used in elections with such mechanism rendered inoperative, and machines with such straight ticket mechanism entirely removed therefrom, or machines which omit a party designation of candidates by column or line which have been approved, may be used in such elections, and the omission, removal, or locking out of operation of such straight voting mechanism from the machine that has otherwise been approved by the commission, need not require a further examination and approval of a machine of that type. The ballot at any election, whether general, primary, municipal, or otherwise, shall be arranged upon the voting machine as to the order of offices, order of candidates' names, and in other respects for such election, as required by the law prescribing the form and order of the ballot for such election; provided, however, that blank spaces for the writing in of the names of candidates or delegates or persons to be voted for, whose names are permitted to be written upon a ballot or pasted thereon by adhesive substance, under the law prescribing the form of the ballot, for the election, need not follow in the same order or place or places, upon a voting machine, as is prescribed in the law prescribing the form of ballot for the election, if the said voting machine be so constructed and capable of operation that all persons who by the law prescribing the form of ballot for the election are entitled to be voted for by writing in the name of such person, or pasting thereon the name of such person by adhesive substance, may be voted for by and upon said voting machines, and such votes counted and returned as fully, correctly and effectually as might have been done by the use of the form of ballot prescribed by law for the election, in case no voting machine had been used. The ballot may be placed upon the machine so the columns will extend either vertically or horizontally, if all in other respects save as to the said blank spaces the ticket is in the form and order which would exist if the election were held by ballot and without a voting machine. Supervisors to furnish machines, etc.

§ 5. The board of supervisors or other board having charge and control of elections adopting a voting or ballot machine shall, as soon as practicable thereafter, provide for such polling place or places, as they may determine, one or more voting machines in complete working order and also such other accessories as may be required for the practical working of the machine, and shall thereafter preserve and keep the machines in repair, and shall have custody of the furniture and equipment. If it shall be impracticable to supply each and every election precinct with voting or ballot machine or machines at any election following such adoption, as many may be supplied as it is practicable to procure, and the same may be used in such election precincts within the county, or city and county, city or town, as the board having control may direct. Where the board having charge and control of elections, is not the board having control of appropriations of money generally for the territory, but receives its appropriation from the board of supervisors, or board having control of appropriations of money generally for the territory; then and in such event the board of supervisors or board having control of appropriations of money generally, for the territory represented by such board so having charge and control of elections, shall have exclusive power to purchase or otherwise provide voting or ballot machines for use in such territory. The board of supervisors or board having control of the finances of any county, city and county, or political subdivision, shall have power to sell, lease, alter, exchange, or otherwise at its discretion dispose of any voting machine or voting machine appliances owned by such county, or city and county. [Amendment adopted April 21, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 982.]

Election supplies to be furnished not later than twenty-four hours preceding election.

§ 6. The county clerk, registrar of voters, or city or town clerk, as the case may be, shall not later than twenty-four hours next preceding the election, cause to be delivered to one of the inspectors of election, duly appointed, at his residence, all necessary supplies, stationery, blank forms, poll and tally lists, and instructions to voters, necessary and proper to the conduct of the election and to the counting and canvassing of the votes, and the return thereof, which forms, blanks, lists, and other stationery shall have been previously prepared by the said county clerk, registrar of voters, or city or town clerk, as the case may be, in such manner as to be adapted to the conducting and returning of such election by such voting or ballot machines as are used at the election. The supplies previously mentioned to be delivered to such inspector, shall, in addition to all other necessary forms, lists, or blanks, include one card stating the penalty for tampering with or injuring a voting machine; two seals for sealing voting machines; one envelope in which the keys to the voting machine are sealed, said envelope to have printed or written thereon the number and location of the election precinct in which the machine is to be used, the number of the machine, the number shown on the protective counter thereof, after the machine has been prepared for the election, and any designation that may be on such seal as the machine is sealed with. Said envelope to have attached to it a detachable receipt for the delivery of the keys of the voting machine to the inspector of the election at his residence; one envelope in which the keys to the voting machine can be returned by the inspectors after the election; one card stating the name and telephone address of the superintendent for the day of election; two diagrams of the voting face of the machine as appears after the ballot label showing the titles of the offices and the names of the candidates, and statement of propositions, together with the voting indicators for each, shall have been inserted in the voting machine, and also suitable printed instructions for the guidance of the board of election. [Amendment approved April 21, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 983.]

Designation of voting machine instructors and instruction of election officers. Certificates of competency. Preference to persons holding.

petent for the purpose, as voting machine instructors, and shall cause one or more voting machines of the type to be used at the election, to be set up in his office, for the purpose of having such voting machine instructors give instructions to persons applying to serve as election officers at the ensuing election, and shall also publish notice in one or more daily or weekly newspapers, in such political subdivision, if any is there published, stating that instructions will be given at such office (stating the location thereof) as to the use of voting machines, to all persons otherwise qualified, who shall apply to serve as election officers, at the ensuing election, and requesting qualified persons to attend at such office and apply to serve, and take such instructions. Such notice may also be sent by mail to all such persons as the said county clerk, registrar of voters or city or town clerk, may deem likely to take the same. Such voting machine instructors shall give such instructions to those who apply (subject to the control of the clerk or registrar of voters, that too great a number from a given precinct need not be instructed) and shall report the result to such clerk or registrar of voters, and such clerk or registrar of voters, if satisfied with the report, may issue a certificate of competency to such person, and shall enter the name of such person in the proper book, by precincts, with the residence of such person and the date of certificate of competency, and mail such certificate to such person at the address shown by his application or registration. In making up a recommendation of names of persons suitable for election officers, the clerk or registrar of voters, shall, where the person is otherwise qualified and able to serve, prefer the persons in each precinct, who have received such a certificate, and the persons thus shown in such recommendation shall be appointed as election officers in the proper precincts, and unless they fail to appear and be sworn or are excused for cause, by the clerk or registrar of voters, shall serve as an election officer at the election. [Amendment approved June 11, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 691.]

Duties of precinct boards.

§ 8. The precinct board of election of each precinct shall meet at the polling place therein, at least one hour before the time set for the opening of the polls at each election, and shall proceed to arrange within the guard rail the furniture, stationery, and voting or ballot machine for the conduct of the election. The inspectors of election shall then and there have the voting or ballot machine, instructions to voters, and stationery required to be delivered to them for such election. The inspector shall thereupon cause at least two instruction cards to be posted conspicuously within the polling place. They shall see that the model, if such model is furnished, is placed where each voter can conveniently operate it and receive instructions thereon as to the manner of voting before entering the machine. They shall post one diagram inside the polling-room and one outside, in places where the voters can conveniently examine them. They shall see that the lantern or other means provided for giving light is in such a condition that the voting machine is sufficiently lighted to enable voters to readily read the names on the ballot labels. They shall see that the ballot labels are in their proper places on the machine. They shall open the counting compartment of the voting machine in the presence of the public and the members of the board of election, before the opening of the polls, and inspect the recording dials of such machine, and see that each counter number on each dial for a candidate is set at zero (000) and make a certificate substantially in the form hereinafter provided. If any counter number upon such dial for any candidate is found not to register zero (000), a statement of the actual register of such counter number, together with the designating number of said dial and letter, shall be made and signed by the election board as to every such dial number, so found registered above zero (000). In such event, in each separate case, the number so found above zero (000) upon the dial of any particular candidate must be deducted from the total vote of such candidate as shown upon that counter number at the close of the polls. The tally sheet shall have plainly printed thereon, so as to occupy an entire page thereof, a statement and certificate substantially in the following form:

Notice to election officers.

The board of election shall before opening the polls, open the counting compartment of the voting machine in the presence of the public and the numbers of the board of election, and inspect the recording dials of such machine, and see that each counter number on each dial for a candidate is set at zero (000) and make a certificate substantially in the form below provided. If any counter number upon such dial for any candidate is found not to register zero (000), a statement of the actual register of such counter number, together with the designating number of such dial and letter, shall be made and signed by the election board as to every such dial number so found registered above zero (000). In such event, in each separate case, the number so found above zero (000) upon the dial of any particular candidate must be deducted from the total vote of such candidate, as shown upon that counter number at the close of the polls.

Certificate.

We, the undersigned members of the election board of election precinct No. —, hereby certify that the following statement is a correct statement of all counter number dials upon the voting machine or machines used at said precinct, which were found to have the counter number upon any dial thereon registered above zero (000), as found by an examination and inspection made by said election board at said precinct before the opening of the polls and in the manner provided by law, and that the name of each candidate affected thereby is hereinbelow respectively and separately stated, together with each such separate dial number and each such separate letter of such respective dial, and the number so registered above zero (000), upon any such respective counter dial, and also the number of votes shown upon any such respective counter dial at the close of the polls, together with the total vote received by any such candidate so affected, after deducting from such total vote the number so found registered above zero (000) upon the counter number dial of such respective candidate or candidates:

Machines to be in plain view.

§ 9. The exterior of the voting or ballot machine and every part of the polling-place shall be in plain view of the election officers and public. The voting or ballot machines shall be placed at least three feet from every wall and partition of the polling-place, and at least three feet from the guard-rail. A guard-rail shall be constructed at least three feet from the machine, with openings to admit electors or officers of election to and from the machine.

Instructing voter in operation of machine. Voting secret. Time voter may remain within machine booth.

§ 10. After the opening of the polls, the inspectors shall not allow any voter to pass within the guard-rail until they ascertain that he is duly entitled to vote. Before each voter enters the voting machine, the inspectors of election shall, so far as possible, inform him how to operate the machine, and illustrate same upon the model of the machine, if any be furnished, and call his attention to the diagram. If any voter shall, after entering the voting machine, ask for information regarding its operation, the inspectors of election shall give him such necessary information. The operation of voting by an elector, while voting, shall be secret and obscured from all other persons except as provided in cases of voting by assisted electors. At any election at which the number of officers to be elected plus the number of propositions or amendments to be voted on shall together make a total of fifteen or less, no voter shall remain within the voting or ballot machine booth longer than two minutes, and if he shall refuse to leave it after the lapse of two minutes, he may be removed by the inspectors. At any election at which the number of officers to be elected plus the number of propositions or amendments to be voted on shall together make a total of more than fifteen, no voter shall remain within the voting or ballot machine booth longer than three minutes, and if he shall refuse to leave it after the lapse of three minutes he may be removed by the inspectors. The inspectors of election shall occasionally examine the face of the machine and the ballot labels to determine if same have been injured or tampered with. No vote cast in the irregular or blank column shall be counted for a person whose name is printed upon the ballot or face of the machine as a candidate for the same office for which he is voted in the irregular or blank column. All voters in the polling place or standing in line entitled to vote, at the hour for closing the polls, must be permitted to vote. [Amendment approved April 21, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 986.]

This section was also amended in 1907. Stats. 1907, p. 288.

Canvass of votes.

§ 11. As soon as the polls of the election are closed the inspectors of election thereat shall immediately lock the voting or ballot machine against voting, and in the presence and full view of the public who may be lawfully within the polling place, proceed to demonstrate and declare the result of such election as registered or recorded or received by the machine, (subject to any legal deductions made under the provisions of section 8 of this act) in the following manner: One of the inspectors shall, under the scrutiny of the other inspector, of a different political party, in the order of the offices as their titles are arranged on the machine, commencing with the first party or top column, or commencement of the ticket as arranged, announce in distinct tones to the clerks of election, the designating number and letter of each counter, and the vote registered thereon, and the clerks of election shall correctly record each announcement so made upon separate respective tally sheets provided for that purpose, before another announcement is made by the inspector. The said inspector shall then in like manner announce the vote recorded for each office on the irregular ballot, and the election clerks shall in like manner record the same. The inspector shall then also in like manner announce the vote on each question or proposition submitted at the election, and the clerk shall in like manner record the same. The canvass of each office shall be completed before proceeding to the next, and the vote as announced shall be written by the clerks in ink on the two tally lists provided therefor in the same order. After completing and writing down the canvass, in the manner aforesaid, the inspectors of election shall verify the same by comparing the figures on the tally lists with the figures on the counters in the machine, and the names recorded on or in the device for voting for persons not nominated, and also with the result registered on the machine as to the vote upon questions or propositions, and in making such comparison and verification, one of the inspectors shall again distinctly announce and recall aloud the vote registered upon each counter. The board of election shall then certify in the appropriate place on the tally list, as to the number of voters that voted at the election, as shown by the poll lists, and by the number registered on the public counter, and the number registered on the protective counter, and the number or other designating mark on the seal with which the machine has been sealed, together with other information regarding the machine as provided on the tally list. The counter compartment of the voting machine shall remain open until the tally list and all other reports have been fully completed and signed, after which they shall lock the counter compartment and deliver the keys thereof in a sealed envelope to the county clerk, registrar of voters, or city or town clerk, as the case may be. [Amendment approved April 21, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 987.]

Duties of inspectors. Opening machine. Records. Contest.

§ 12. The inspectors of election shall, as soon as the result is fully ascertained and declared, as in the preceding section required, lock the machine so that the record of each election shall be preserved for the period of six months following such election, except in cases where the machine is required for use in a subsequent election during such period, in which case the board of supervisors or other board having charge and control of elections shall inspect the registering or recording and receiving device of the machines and file a report of said inspection with the county clerk or registrar of voters. Said report of said board when so certified and filed shall be prima facie evidence of the vote at such election. Any supplementary or duplicate record of an election, which may be furnished by a machine, shall be preserved by the county clerk or registrar of voters for one year following such election. Whenever either house of the legislature shall by resolution, adopted and entered upon its journal, direct that any standing or special committee of such house, shall be empowered to open and examine any voting machine or voting machines which were used at any election held within six months before the passage of such resolution, the committee of such house so empowered and authorized shall have the power and authority by its resolution in writing to order any such machine or machines to be opened, inspected or examined in any manner which such committee shall prescribe. If the opening of such a machine or machines be for the purpose only of counting or recounting the votes cast or registered at said election in a contest pending before such house, then and in such event the opening thereof and such count or recount must be made in the presence of said committee, or its sub-committee duly designated by its resolution in writing for such purpose. If the opening of such machine or machines be for any other purpose or for the investigating of the mechanism and manner of operation of a machine or machines, or for determining or reporting upon the mode of its operation, or its nature as a safe mechanical appliance for the receiving and registration of the votes of electors, then the committee must by its resolution in writing specify the person or persons who are to make such mechanical or expert inspection, and the place where and the time when such inspection is to commence, and may, if it deem proper, limit the duration of such inspection, and fix the place where the same is to be made, and state whether the same is to be made in the presence of the said committee, or of its duly appointed sub-committee, or of any other person or persons to be named by said committee. Every person employed or permitted to take part in any such inspection of such a machine or machines, or in whose presence said inspection occurred, may be required to attend and testify as a witness before such committee if required, and be subject to the subpoena of such committee. If such machine or machines be opened under the provisions of this section by order of such committee, the said committee, or its sub-committee duly appointed, shall immediately upon opening the doors, or the opening to the dial or place where the votes thereon are registered, which were cast at the last election, take off in writing the complete record of votes for all candidates which are recorded or registered upon or by said machine, and certify the same to be true and correct, with the date of such certificate, and place the same in an envelope, and seal the same in the manner required for sealing election returns, and make an indorsement upon the outside of such envelope stating the number of the machine whose record is inclosed, and forthwith file the same with the county clerk, or registrar of voters, of the county, or city and county, where such election was held, who shall receive and keep the same with the other returns of the said election in his office for a period of twelve months from the date of said election, and such record shall in any court having jurisdiction of an election contest be prima facie evidence of its contents in any case where the vote upon such a machine or machines might have been recounted by the court if such machine or machines had not been previously opened or the result thereof in any manner affected. Immediately upon the conclusion of such investigation, examination and inspection of such machine or machines, the same shall be again securely locked by the clerk, or registrar of voters, or the said committee or its sub-committee, and the keys thereof returned to the officer entitled to possession of the same under the provisions of this act, and shall not be again opened except in accordance with the provisions of this act. One voting machine of each kind or pattern may be taken by such committee or upon its order, and upon its receipt therefor, to the city of Sacramento, or the state capital, and there kept under the directions of such committee, but no such machine shall be so taken or transported without the consent of the owner thereof, unless the same be the property of a city, county, or city and county, or other political subdivision of the state. If such committee shall permit such a machine or machines to be taken apart, then and in such event the said committee shall cause the same to be restored and properly put together again, before or at the termination of its investigation, and to be returned by order of such committee, and at the expense of the state, to the place from which it was taken. If any such machine or machines be taken to Sacramento, or the state capital, under the provisions of this section, and the legislature shall adjourn sine die, without such machine or machines having been so restored and returned by such committee, then and in such event the secretary of state shall forthwith, upon such adjournment, take charge of such machine or machines, and cause the same to be properly restored and returned to the place or places respectively from which the same were taken, and the expense thereof shall be a charge against the state, and a written demand therefor, verified by the secretary of state, must be allowed by the controller by his indorsement of allowance thereon, and thereupon, upon presentation, the same shall be paid to the secretary of state by the state treasurer out of any funds of the state not otherwise appropriated. Any voting machine used at an election may, within six months from the date of such election, in any election contest, or action in the nature of quo warranto in any court of this state having jurisdiction thereof, be opened by order of such court and in its presence, for the purpose of recounting the vote involved in such election contest, under the same rules and conditions that apply to the opening of packages of sealed ballots and the recounting of the same, and must be forthwith locked again as soon as the result upon each machine is tallied, and in the presence of the said court. [Amendment approved March 19, 1907. Stats. 1907, p. 644.]

Misconduct at elections.

§ 13. The provisions of the law relating to misconduct at elections shall apply to elections with voting or ballot machines.

Precincts where voting machines are used.

§ 14. Where voting machines are used the precincts shall be established or created in the manner provided by sections 1127, 1128, 1129, and 1130 of the Political Code of the state of California. [Amendment approved June 11, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 692.]

This section was also amended April 21, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 983.

Official ballot.

§ 15. The list of candidates used or to be used on the voting or ballot machine shall be deemed an official ballot under this act for an election precinct in which a voting or ballot machine is used, pursuant to law. The word "ballot" as used in this act (except when reference is made to independent ballots) means that portion of the cardboard, or paper, or other material within the ballot-frames, containing the name of the candidate for office, or a statement of a proposed constitutional amendment, or other question or proposition with the word "For" or the word "Against," or "Yes" or "No."

Election officers. Superintendent of machines. Salary. Oath. Bond. Duties.

§ 16. The provisions of section 1142 of the Political Code shall apply where voting or ballot machines are used pursuant to this act, provided, however, that at any precinct or polling place where two voting machines are used, two additional clerks of election shall be appointed for service at such polling place, for the election. In any city, or city and county, or county, where voting machines are to be used at any election, or where voting machines are owned, the board having charge and control of elections may, by a majority of such board adopt a resolution to be entered in its minutes, provide for a superintendent as herein provided, and may thereupon select and appoint a superintendent for the care, repair, adjustment, arrangement, testing, and preparation of voting or ballot machines. Such person must be a skilled machinist familiar with the arrangement, adjustment, and mechanism of voting machines, and shall, before his appointment, be examined by the board having control of elections as to his competency in these respects. His appointment must also, where made for a territory wholly included within any city, or city and county, be approved by the mayor of any such city, or city and county, who shall also have the right to examine such person as to his competency. Said superintendent shall be considered a public officer, and shall hold office under such appointment until removed by the board having charge and control of elections, for cause, and by an order in writing entered in its minutes, after giving such superintendent an opportunity to be heard, which order of removal shall be final and conclusive, and not subject to review. In any city, county, or city and county, which at the last general election therein had a registration of voters exceeding seventy thousand, the said board having control of elections may fix the compensation of such superintendent at a sum not to exceed the rate of fifteen hundred dollars per year, payable monthly, and may, by the resolution of appointment, provided such appointment is made by the year, provide that the services of such superintendent shall be given exclusively to said board while he remains in its employ, or under such appointment. Unless such appointment is made by the year and in the manner last mentioned in such a city, county, or city and county, and in any event in all other cases, and places, such superintendent so appointed pursuant to this act shall receive a compensation at the rate of ten dollars per day, for every day he shall be actually employed; provided, however, that in any such place where his compensation is fixed by the day under this act, the board having control of elections may fix his compensation at a lesser sum when he is employed merely as caretaker of such voting machines. Such superintendent must file his acceptance of the appointment with the board having charge and control of elections within five days after notice of his appointment, and before entering upon his duties shall take the oath of office prescribed by the constitution of this state for public officers, which oath may be taken by and filed with the county clerk, or registrar of voters, and file a bond in a sum to be fixed by the board having charge and control of elections, and not less than ten thousand (10,000) dollars, in a city and county, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of his office, with surety and to be approved and recorded as may be required for other officers of such city, county, or city and county; and it shall be his duty to care for, keep in repair, arrange, adjust, test, and prepare all voting machines for complete and correct operation at any election in the political subdivision for which he is appointed. All such voting or ballot machines shall be by him or under his direction, arranged, adjusted, and prepared for correct operation at any election in accordance with the provisions of the law of this state, and in accordance with the mechanism and rules for the adjustment and correct operation of such voting machines. The county clerk, registrar of voters, or city or town clerk, as the case may be, shall deliver to such superintendent for his guidance, a copy of any written or printed instructions which may be furnished by the person or corporation which manufacture the voting machines in use in such political subdivisions. The board having charge and control of elections may also select and employ any additional persons, as assistants, to such superintendent, in the performance of his duties, and may fix and allow the compensation to be paid to said assistants. The said superintendent of voting machines shall, not later than the day previous to the day of election, file with the clerk, or registrar of voters, his affidavit specifying the voting machines by number, that have been adjusted for use at such election, and stating that every one of such machines that have been so adjusted, that each and every of its counters, which register the votes cast for candidates, are adjusted at zero (000), and that, in every other respect, each and every voting machine is adjusted in accordance with the requirements of the law of the state, and according to the mechanism and rules for the adjustment and correct operation of such voting machines. Where any court, or justice, or judge, of any court, shall make an order or judgment, or otherwise direct any change, alteration or modification, to be made in the ballot labels to be used upon any voting or ballot machine, after the sample ballots have been printed, it shall not be necessary to print or distribute new sample ballots. [Amendment approved April 21, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 988.]

Machines to be examined, tested, and sealed before elections.

§ 16a. Within not more than thirty-five, nor less than twenty-five days, before the holding of any election in any county, city and county, city or town, at which is to be used voting or ballot machines, under the provisions of this act, the county clerk, registrar of voters, or city or town clerk, as the case may be, shall fix a day, which shall not be more than twenty days, nor less than five days, before the date of such election, upon which the voting or ballot machines to be used at such election shall be examined, tested and sealed as hereinafter provided. At least twenty days before an election in any political subdivision where voting machines are to be used in one or more precincts of such subdivision, under and pursuant to the law of this state, it shall be the duty of the county clerk, registrar of voters, or city or town clerk, as the case may be, to notify in writing, by mail, with postage prepaid, the chairman or secretary of the executive or central committee of any political party or organization for the territory, the membership of which may have made nominations of candidates to be voted for at such election, or of any political party whose party name is lawfully used as a designation by a candidate, that it may appoint representative of such political party who shall be authorized to attend and observe the final adjustment, testing and sealing of such ballot machines, and thereupon it shall be the right of such committee to appoint as many representatives, not to exceed three for each political party or organization, as it may see fit to select for such purpose, and to issue certificates of such appointment to such representatives, by the secretaries of such committees or organizations, respectively. Such notice shall also name and specify the date and place where such examination, testing and sealing of such machines will commence, and that the same will continue, if necessary, at said place from day to day until completed. The committee or organization empowered to appoint such representatives, shall immediately, upon making such appointment, notify the said representative or representatives so appointed, respectively, of such appointment and of the time and place where such examination, testing and sealing of such voting or ballot machines will commence, and shall also forthwith, send to the said county clerk, registrar of voters, or city or town clerk, as the case may be, the name and full address of each such representative appointed. Thereafter, at the time specified in such notice, and until the completion thereof, the said representative or representatives shall be entitled to attend and observe the final adjustment, testing and sealing of such voting machines, under the directions of the board of election commissioners, or of the superintendent provided for by this act, and such adjustment, testing and sealing shall proceed in the presence of as many of said representatives as shall assemble to observe and view the same, and a full and complete opportunity shall then and there be given by such superintendent and his assistants, to such representatives to observe the processes by which such adjustment, testing and sealing is performed, and to see that the said voting machines are so adjusted that each counter is set at zero (000), and without any vote registered thereon for the advantage of any party or candidate or otherwise. When the said machines are so sealed they shall not be unsealed again except by the precinct election boards on the day of election, to the extent necessary for the proper and lawful conduct of the election. Any candidate may attend in person or appoint in writing signed by such person, a representative to attend, with all the rights and privileges provided by this section. [New section approved April 21, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 990.]

General election laws to govern.

§ 17. All laws and parts of laws of this state relating to elections and prescribing the powers and duties of election officers, shall, so far as applicable to the use of voting or ballot machines, remain in full force and effect; and all laws and parts of laws inconsistent herewith, shall not be applicable in each county, city and county, city or town election precinct wherein such voting or ballot machines are used, pursuant to this act, so long as such voting or ballot machine or machines shall be used therein, and nothing in this act contained shall be construed as repealing any existing law or authorizing any deviation or omission therefrom, except as provided for or set forth herein.

Violation of act, a felony.

§ 18. Any wilful violation of any provision of this act or any wilful injury to any voting or ballot machine tending to injure its effectiveness or to change the true expression given by the voters at any election shall be a felony and punishable as such, in accordance with the provisions of the Penal Code of the state.

Act takes effect when.

§ 19. This act shall take effect immediately.

As to constitutionality of voting by voting machine, see Opinions of the Justices (In Matter McTammany Voting Machine), 19 R. I. 729, 36 L. R. A. 547, 36 Atl. 716; Opinion to the Governor (In re Voting Machines), 23 R. I. 630, 50 Atl. 265.

SUPPLEMENTARY TO PREVIOUS ACT.

ACT 1329—An act supplementary to an act entitled "An act creating a state commission on voting or balloting machines, defining their powers and providing for the use at the option of indicated local authorities of voting or ballot machines for receiving and registering the vote in one or more precincts in any county or city and county, city or town, at any or all elections held therein, and for ascertaining the result of such election; providing for the punishment of all violations of the provisions of this act," approved March 20, 1903, and providing for the testing and inspection of such machines.

History: Approved March 19, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 647.

Voting machine to be tested before election: duty of county clerk.

§ 1. Within not more than thirty nor less than twenty days before the holding of any election in any county, city and county, city or town, at which is to be used voting or ballot machines adopted under the provisions of the act referred to in the title of this act, the county clerk or other officer having control of such election in such county, city and county, city or town, shall fix a day, which shall not be more than fifteen days nor less than five days before the date of such election, upon which the voting or ballot machines to be used at such election shall be examined, tested and sealed as hereinafter provided.

Committee of political party to be notified of test. Right of independent candidates.

§ 2. At least twenty days before an election in any political subdivision where voting machines are to be used in one or more precincts, of such subdivision, under and pursuant to the law of this state, it shall be the duty of the board of election commissioners or other body having charge and control of such election, to notify in writing by mail with postage prepaid the chairman or secretary of the executive or central committee of any political party or organizations for the territory, which may have made nominations of candidates to be voted for at such election, that it may appoint representatives of such political party who shall be authorized to attend and observe the final adjustment, testing and sealing of such ballot machines, and thereupon it shall be the right of such committee to appoint as many representatives as it may see fit to select for such purpose, and to issue certificates of such appointment to such representatives by the secretary of such committees, respectively, which shall forthwith send a list of such representatives with the name of the political party or organization for which they are selected, and the name of each representative with his full address, adding street and number, to the said board of election commissioners or other body having charge and control of such election. If any political party or organization which has made nominations shall not have any chairman or secretary of such committee, or the name and address of such chairman or secretary shall not appear in its nomination papers, then the said election commissioners may send the notice above required to any person named in its nomination papers as the person to whom the certificate of nomination may be returned. Such board of election commissioners shall thereafter, and at least five days before the time therefor, send written notice with postage prepaid to each such representative of a political party or organization which has so been filed in its office, with the address of such representative; which notice shall state the time and place before such election where such representatives are invited to attend, to observe the final adjustment, testing and sealing of such voting machines, and thereafter at such time and place the final adjustment, testing and sealing of such voting machines under the directions of such board of election commissioners, shall proceed in the presence of as many of said representatives as shall assemble to observe and view the same, a full and complete opportunity shall then and there be given to such representatives to observe the processes by which such adjustment, testing and sealing is performed, and to see that the said machines are set at zero, and without any vote registered thereon for the advantage of any party or candidate or otherwise. When the said machines are so sealed they shall not be unsealed again, except by the precinct election board on the day of election and except for trial as to their correctness after transportation to the various booths or polling-places, at which places such trial may be made as the board of election commissioners or body having control of the elections shall direct, to see if any machine has become in any way disarranged during transportation to the polling-place, and a seal necessary to such investigation may be broken or any work performed that may be necessary to put any machine in any such polling-place in complete working order for such election, and the representatives aforesaid shall have the right to attend at any and all polling-places for the purpose of viewing and observing any such unsealing arrangement and resealing, which final work shall take place not later than the day before the election, nor earlier than the third day before the election. If independent candidates are nominated, and no chairman or secretary is named in the certificate of nomination, then such candidate, or candidates, shall be notified as herein specified, and may attend, or appoint representatives to attend, with all the rights and privileges provided for by this act.

It shall be the duty of the board of election commissioners, or other body having charge and control of such election, to notify in writing by mail with postage prepaid, the chairman or secretary of any of the executive or central committee of any political party or organization hereinbefore referred to, and any independent candidate or candidates hereinbefore referred to, of the time when the final inspection, adjustment, testing and sealing of such voting or ballot machines will commence at the polling-places, and of the place or places from which the inspectors will start in the performance of such duty, and that the representatives appointed pursuant to this act or such independent candidate or candidates, may attend as provided by this act. Such notices shall be so mailed not less than three days before the time named for commencing such final inspection.

Penalty.

§ 3. Any person violating any provision of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars or imprisonment of not more than six months, or both.

Act takes effect when.

§ 4. This act shall take effect immediately.

SPECIAL ELECTIONS.

ACT 1332—An act concerning special elections.

History: Approved February 9, 1878, Stats. 1877-78, p. 73.

Code Commissioners' Note: "Not repealed, but not applicable to existing laws, because there is now no great register. As to cities, see 1899, 63."

"Special Elections," as defined by section 1043, Kerr's Cyc. Pol. Code, are such as are held to supply vacancies in any office, and are held at such times as may be designated by the proper board or officer.

Sections 1113-1116, Kerr's Cyc. Pol. Code, designate certain books of affidavits as the "register" to be used at elections. See, also, § 1204, Kerr's Cyc. Pol. Code, and note, §§ 1094-1097, Kerr's Cyc. Pol. Code, may be consulted, also.

"DIRECT PRIMARY LAW OF 1913."

ACT 1337—An act to provide for and regulate primary elections, and providing a method for choosing the delegates for political parties to state conventions and for nominating electors of president and vice president of the United States, and providing for the election of party county central committees, and to repeal the act approved April 7, 1911, known as the direct primary law, and also to repeal the act approved December 24, 1911, amending sections 1, 3, 5, 7, 10, 12, 13, 22, 23, and 24 of the said direct primary law, and also to repeal all other acts or parts of acts inconsistent with or in conflict with the provisions of this act.

History: Approved June 16, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 1379. Amended May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1341; April 8, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 39; May 7, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 381. Former acts: Act approved March 27, 1895, Stats. 1895, p. 207. Act approved March 13, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 115. Act approved March 24, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 691; repealed by the Act of April 7, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 769, which was amended December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (ex. sess.) p. 66, and repealed by the present act. The act of 1895 applied to counties of the first and second classes only. The acts of 1895 and 1897 were declared unconstitutional. See annotations. The legislature repealed the present act by the "direct primary law," approved April 28, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 239; but the repealing act was submitted to the people by referendum petition at the special election held October 26, 1915, and not approved. It was thereafter amended January 11, 1916, Stats. 1916 (ex. sess.), p. 5; but the amending act, also submitted to the people by referendum petition, was not approved at the general election held November 7, 1916. The original act, with the amendments of 1917 and 1919, constitutes the law in force.

Definitions.

§ 1. Words and phrases where used in this act shall, unless such construction be inconsistent with the context, be construed as follows:

1. The words "primary election," any and every primary nominating election provided for by this act.

2. The words "August primary election," the primary election held in August to nominate candidates to be voted for at the ensuing November election or to elect members of a party central committee or delegates to a party convention.

3. The words "May presidential primary election," any such primary election, held in May of each year of the general November election at which electors of president and vice president of the United States are to be chosen, as shall provide for the indication of preference in the several political parties for party candidates for president of the United States through the election of delegates to national party conventions.

4. The word "election," a general state, county, city or city and county election as distinguished from the primary election, recall election, or special election.

5. The words "November election," either the presidential election, or the general state, county, or city and county election held in November of each even numbered year.

6. The words "judicial officer," any justice of the supreme court, justice of a district court of appeal, judge of the superior court, justice of the peace, or justice of such inferior court as the legislature may establish in any county, township, incorporated city or town, or city and county; and the words "judicial office," the office filled by any of the above judicial officers.

7. The words "school officer," the superintendent of public instruction and the superintendent of schools of a county or city and county; and the words "school office," the office filled by any of the above school officers.

8. The words "county officer," any officer elected within the boundaries of any county or city and county except a member of the state board of equalization, judge of the superior court, justice of the peace, member of the state senate or assembly or a member of the house of representatives of the congress of the United States or a member of any party county central committee or delegate to a state convention from a hold-over senatorial district; and the words "county office," the office filled by any county officer. The words "township officer," any such county officer as is elected within the boundaries of any judicial township that is now or may be hereafter provided by law; and the words "township office," the office filled by any township officer.

9. The word or words "political party," "party," "political organization," or "organization," a political party or organization of electors which has qualified, as hereinafter provided, for participation in any primary election; and such party or organization shall be deemed to have so qualified when one or both of the following conditions have been complied with:

Qualification as political party.

(a) If at the last preceding November election there was polled for any one of its candidates who was the candidate of such party only for any office voted on throughout the state, at least three per cent of the entire vote of the state, or for any one of its candidates who was the joint candidate of such party and any other party for any office voted on throughout the state, at least six per cent of the entire vote of the state; or

(b) If on or before a date which shall be the seventy-fifth day before any primary election, there shall be filed with the secretary of state a petition signed by registered qualified electors of the state, equal in number to at least three per cent of the entire vote of the state at the last preceding November election, declaring that they represent a political party or organization the name of which shall be stated therein, which party said electors desire to have participate in such primary election; such petition to be circulated, signed, and the signatures thereon of the registered electors certified to and transmitted to the secretary of state by the county clerks substantially as provided in section five of this act, for the circulation, signing, certification, and transmission of nomination papers for state officers; providing, however, that no electors or organization of electors shall assume a party name or designation which shall be so similar to the name of an existing party or organization as to mislead voters.

Construction.

This statute shall be liberally construed, so that the real will of the electors shall not be defeated by any informality or failure to comply with all the provisions of this law.

In counties having registrar.

In each county and city and county in this state, having a registrar of voters or registrar of voters and a board of election commissioners, the powers conferred and the duties imposed in this statute upon a county clerk and his deputies, and other officers, in relation to matters of election and polling places, shall be exercised and performed by such registrar of voters or his deputies, or registrar of voters or his deputies and board of election commissioners; and all nominating papers, list of candidates, expenses, and oaths of office, required by this statute to be made to or filed with county clerks, shall be made to or filed with the registrar of voters. [Amendment of May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1342.]

Nomination of candidates.

§ 2. All candidates nominated at a primary election for elective public offices shall be nominated by direct vote at such election held in accordance with the provisions of this act; provided, that electors of president and vice president of the United States shall be nominated as provided in subdivision two of section twenty-four of this act. This act shall not apply to recall elections or to special elections to fill vacancies, nor to the nomination of officers of municipalities, counties, or cities and counties whose charters provide a system for nominating candidates for such officers; nor the nomination of officers for any district not formed for municipal purposes; nor to the nomination of freeholders to be elected for the purpose of framing a charter; nor to the nomination of officers for cities of the fifth and sixth classes, nor to the nomination of school district officers. [Amendment of May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1343.]

August primary. Legal holidays.

§ 3. The August primary election shall be held at the legally designated polling places in each precinct on the last Tuesday in August, for the nomination of all candidates to be voted for at the ensuing November election. The day of the August primary election and the day of the May presidential primary election are hereby declared to be holidays within the meaning of section 10 of the Political Code. Any person entitled to vote at such August or May primary elections shall, on the day of such election, be entitled to absent himself from any service or employment in which he is then engaged or employed, for the period of two consecutive hours, between the time of opening and the time of closing the polls; and such voter shall not, because of so absenting himself, be liable to any penalty, nor shall any deduction be made, on account of such absence, from his usual salary or wages. Any primary election other than the August primary election, or May presidential primary election shall be held on Tuesday, three weeks next preceding the election for which such primary election is held.

Statement of electors registered. Notice of offices for which candidates are to be nominated.

§ 4. On the twenty-fifth day before the first Tuesday in May, on the twenty-fifth day before the last Tuesday in August, and on the twenty-fifth day before the date of the November election, in each even numbered year, the county clerk or registrar of voters of each county or city and county shall transmit a statement to the secretary of state of the total number of electors registered in his county between the first day of January next preceding and a date in each instance five days preceding the date of transmission of such statement as herein provided for, together with the number so registered under each of the several political affiliations, and also the number declining or failing to declare such affiliation. At least seventy days before the time of holding the August primary election in 1918 and biennially thereafter the secretary of state shall prepare and transmit to each county clerk and to the registrar of voters in any city and county a notice in writing designating all the offices, except township offices, for which candidates are to be nominated at such primary election, together with the names of the political parties qualified to participate in such election.

Publication of notice.

2. Within ten days after receipt of such notice such county clerk or registrar of voters in any city and county shall publish once in each week for two successive weeks in not more than two newspapers published in such county or city and county so much thereof as may be applicable to his county, including a statement of the township offices in the county for which candidates are to be nominated, and a statement of the number of members of the county central committee to be elected by each political party in each supervisorial or assembly district, as the case may be, according to the provisions of subdivision four of section twenty-four of this act.

Publication of notice of other primaries.

3. In the case of primary elections other than the August primary elections the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of the political subdivision for which such primary election shall be held shall cause one publication of such notice to be given, such publication to be not more than forty and not less than fourteen days before such primary election. [Amendment of May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1344.]

Method of getting name on ballot.

§ 5. 1. The name of no candidate shall be printed on an official ballot to be used at any primary election unless at least forty days prior to the primary election, if the candidate is to be voted for at the August primary election or the May presidential primary election, and at least twenty-five days prior to the primary election, if the candidate is to be voted for at a primary election other than the August or May primary election, a nomination paper nominating such candidate shall have been prepared, circulated, signed, verified and left with the county clerk for examination, or for examination and filing, in the manner provided by this act.

Verification deputies.

of the candidate is left with the county clerk for filing or for examination as provided in subdivision four of this section. Said document shall be in substantially the following form:

Form of document.

I, the undersigned, a candidate for the party nomination for the office of, which nomination is to be made by direct vote at a primary election to be held on the day of August, 19.., do hereby appoint the following registered qualified electors of the county of, as verification deputies to obtain signatures in said county to a nomination paper placing me in nomination as a candidate of said party for said office of Additional deputies.

In case it is desired to appoint additional verification deputies to secure signatures to the nomination paper of such candidate, one or more similar documents may be filed to supplement the first document. When the office for which the candidate is proposed is a judicial, school, county, township or municipal office, the words "..... party," and the words "of said party," shall be omitted from said document. Or, as an alternative to the foregoing portion of this section and subdivision, verification deputies may be appointed in behalf of a candidate as follows:

Five electors may propose candidate. Consent of candidate.

2. (b) Any five qualified electors of any county or city and county who are registered as intending to affiliate with the same political party may join in proposing a candidate for nomination to any office to be voted on in such county or city and county at the next ensuing primary election, and in appointing verification deputies to serve within such county or city and county in securing signatures to the nomination paper of such candidate for such office. If the office is an office the candidate for which is to be voted on in more than one county, he may be proposed for nomination as herein provided by five of the registered qualified electors in each of the counties in which such electors may desire to circulate a nomination paper in his behalf. The signatures of the said five qualified electors shall be verified free of charge before any officer authorized to administer an oath, and the document containing such signatures shall be filed with the county clerk of the county or city and county in which said five qualified electors reside, at or before the time the nomination paper of the candidate is left with the county clerk or registrar of voters for filing or for examination as provided in subdivision four of this section. In said document the five signers shall make affidavit that the candidate therein named for the office therein specified has given his consent to be thus proposed for nomination to such office; and shall also state that the verification deputies therein appointed are duly registered qualified electors of said county or city and county; and the verification deputies therein appointed shall be recognized as the duly authorized verification deputies to secure signatures to the nomination paper of such candidate in such county or city and county. Said document shall be substantially in the following form:

Additional deputies.

provisions of this subdivision shall apply, except that the five qualified electors shall make no statement of their party affiliation and may be affiliated with different parties or with no party; and the candidate proposed for nomination shall not be so proposed as the candidate of any party.

Obtaining signatures to nomination papers. Presentation in sections. Affidavit of deputies. Sections returned to five electors.

3. Verification deputies appointed as provided in subdivision two of this section to obtain signatures to the nomination paper of any candidate for any office to be voted for at any primary election, may, at any time not more than sixty-five days nor less than forty days prior to such election, obtain signatures to such nomination paper of such candidate for such office; each signer of a nomination paper shall sign but one such paper for the same office, except that in case two or more persons are to be elected to the same office at the same election, an elector may sign the nomination papers of as many persons as there are persons to be elected to such office, and such act on the part of such elector shall not be deemed in conflict with the signer's statement hereinafter provided. In the case of primary elections other than August primary elections or May presidential primary elections, signatures may be obtained not more than forty days nor less than twenty-five days prior to such election.

He shall also declare his intention to support such candidate for nomination, and shall add his place of residence, giving his street and number if any. His election precinct shall also appear on the paper just preceding his name, and he shall write the date of his signature at the end of the line just after his residence. Any nomination paper may be presented in sections, but each section shall contain the name of the candidate and the name of the office for which he is proposed for nomination. Each section shall bear the name of the city or town, if any, and also the name of the county or city and county, in which it is circulated, and only qualified electors of such county or city and county, registered as intending to affiliate with the political party by which the nomination is to be made shall be competent to sign such section. Any section circulated within any incorporated city or town shall be signed only by registered qualified electors of such city or town. Each section shall be prepared with the lines for signatures numbered, and shall have attached thereto the affidavit of the verification deputy who has obtained signatures to the same, stating that all the signatures to the attached section were made in his presence, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief, each signature to the section is the genuine signature of the person whose name it purports to be; and no other affidavit thereto shall be required. The affidavit of any verification deputy obtaining signatures hereunder shall be verified free of charge by any officer authorized to administer an oath. Such nomination paper so verified shall be prima facie evidence that the signatures thereto appended are genuine and that the persons signing the same are registered qualified electors, unless and until it is otherwise proven by comparison of such signatures with the affidavits of registration in the office of the county clerk or registrar of voters. Each section of the nomination paper, after being verified, shall be returned by the verification deputy who circulated it to one of the five electors by whom the said verification deputy was appointed; and in this manner all the sections circulated in any county shall be collected by said five electors of that county and shall be by them arranged for filing or for examination, as provided in subdivision four of this section, and shall then be by some one of them filed or left for examination and filing. In case said verification deputy was appointed directly by the candidate according to the provisions of subdivision two (a) of this section, the collecting, arranging, and filing, or leaving for examination and filing, of the sections of the nomination paper shall be done by the candidate, or on his behalf, instead of by the “five electors” as hereinbefore provided. Each section of the nomination paper shall be in substance as follows:

Candidates voted for in more than one county. Examination by clerk. Time for filing.
Persons who may not verify signatures. Statement of candidate.

And provided, further, that for all nominations of candidates to be voted for in more than one county, or throughout the entire state, the nomination papers, properly assembled, may be consolidated and fastened or bound together by counties; but in no case shall nomination papers signed by electors of different counties be fastened or bound together. The county clerk or registrar of voters of any county or city and county shall examine all nomination papers herein provided for which purport to have been signed by electors of his county or city and county, and shall disregard and mark "not sufficient" any name appearing on such paper or papers which does not appear in the same handwriting on an affidavit of registration in his office made on or before the date when such name was signed, or which, except in the case of nomination papers of candidates for judicial, school, county, township or municipal offices, the signers of which may be registered as of any or of no party, does not appear on said affidavit as intending to affiliate with the party named in such nomination papers. Such officer shall, within five days after any nomination papers are filed with him or left for examination, examine the same as herein provided, and affix thereto a certificate reciting that he has examined the same and stating the number of names signed thereto which have not been marked "not sufficient" as hereinabove provided. All nomination papers which by this act are required to be filed in the office of the secretary of the state, shall be left with the county clerk or registrar of voters for examination, as above provided, at least forty days prior to the August primary election or the May presidential primary election, and shall, with such certificate of examination attached, within five days after being so left, be forwarded by such county clerk or registrar of voters to the secretary of state, who shall receive and file the same. All nomination papers which by this act are required to be filed in the office of the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of any city or municipality shall be left with the county clerk or registrar of voters for examination, as above provided, at least twenty-five days prior to the primary election at which such nominations are to be made, and shall, with such certificate of examination attached, within five days after being so left be forwarded by such county clerk or registrar of voters to the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of such city or municipality who shall receive and file the same. The verification of signatures to nomination papers shall not be made by the candidate, nor by any county clerk, registrar of voters, nor by any of the deputies in the office of such county clerk or registrar of voters, nor within one hundred feet of any election booth, polling place, or any place where registration of electors is being conducted. Each candidate on or before the thirty-fifth day prior to the August primary election or the May presidential primary election, or on or before the twenty-fifth day prior to any other primary election, shall file in the place where his nomination paper is required to be filed, as provided in section six of this act, his affidavit, stating his residence, with street and number, if any; his election precinct; that he is a qualified elector in the election precinct in which he resides; the name of the office for which he is a candidate; that he will not before said primary election withdraw as a candidate for nomination and that if nominated he will accept such nomination and not withdraw, and that he will qualify as such officer if nominated and elected; and he shall also make the statement required in subdivision five of section six of this act. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to limit the rights of any person to become the candidate of more than one political party for the same office upon complying with the requirements of this act, but no person shall be entitled to become a candidate for more than one office at the same election. No more than one affidavit need be filed by any candidate, even though he is the candidate for nomination by more than one political party. In no case shall the secretary of state, county clerk, or city clerk, place the name of any candidate on this ballot or certify any such name to be placed thereon unless the requisite affidavit has first been filed as herein provided.

Number of signatures required.

5. Except in the case of a candidate for nomination to a judicial office, school office, county office, or township office, nomination papers shall be signed as follows: If the candidate is the candidate for an office to be voted on throughout the state, by not less than one-half of one per centum and not more than two per centum of the vote constituting the basis of percentage as defined in subdivision six of this section, of the party of the candidate seeking nomination, within the state; if the candidate is the candidate for an office to be voted on in some political subdivision of the state, but not throughout the state, by not less than one per centum nor more than two per centum of the vote constituting the basis of percentage, as defined in subdivision six of this section, of the party of the candidate seeking nomination within said political subdivision in which such candidate seeks nomination.

Basis of percentage.

6. Except in case of a candidate for nomination to a judicial, school, county, township or municipal office, the basis of percentage in each political party shall be the vote polled for such party's candidate for governor, at the last preceding November election at which a governor was elected, in the state or in that political subdivision for which the candidate is proposed for nomination; provided, that such candidate for governor was the candidate of such political party alone. If such party's candidate for governor was not the candidate of such party alone, the basis of percentage shall be the vote polled at said election by that one of such party's candidates voted on throughout the state who received the greatest number of votes of all of such party's candidates who were the candidates of such party alone. But if no candidate voted on throughout the state was the candidate of such party alone, then the basis of percentage shall be the vote polled at said election by that one of such party's candidates voted on throughout the state who received the greatest number of votes of all of such party's candidates who were the candidates of such party in conjunction with one or more other parties.

In case of change of political subdivision.

7. Whenever by rearrangement of political subdivisions of the state by any legislature, board of supervisors or other legislative body, the boundaries of such political subdivisions are changed, the vote polled for governor at the last preceding gubernatorial election by each party in each of the new political subdivisions shall be determined as follows: If the change occurs wholly within any county or city and county, the county clerk or registrar of voters of such county or city and county shall determine as nearly as possible such vote of each party in the new political subdivision by adding together for each party the vote for such party's candidate for governor in each of the former precincts which now are combined to make up such new political subdivision. If the change occurs outside the limits of any county or city and county, the secretary of state shall determine such vote of each party in such new political subdivision by adding together for each party the vote for such party's candidate for governor in the counties which now are combined to make up such new political subdivision. In the same way that the highest vote for each party in each new political subdivision is ascertained, shall also be ascertained the total vote at such election as is required to be determined by the provisions of subdivision eight of this section. Every political party qualified to participate in the primary election by the provisions of subdivision nine of section one of this act, for nomination by which party there shall have been filed nomination papers for one or more candidates containing a sufficient number of signatures, shall be entitled to a separate party ticket at the primary election; but all such party tickets must be alike in the designation of candidates for judicial, school, county, and township offices.

In case of judicial office, etc.

8. In the case of a candidate for nomination to a judicial, school, county, township or municipal office, nomination papers shall be signed by not less than one-half of one per centum, nor more than two per centum of the total vote cast at the last general election in the state or political subdivision thereof in which such candidate for judicial or school, county, or township office seeks nomination.

Independent candidates.

9. Nothing herein shall be construed as prohibiting the independent nomination of candidates as provided by section one thousand one hundred eighty-eight of the Political Code, as said section reads at the time of said nomination; except that a candidate for whom a nomination paper has been filed as one of the candidates for nomination to any office on the ballots of any political party at a primary election held under the provisions of this act, and who is defeated for such party nomination at such primary election, shall be ineligible for nomination as an independent candidate, or as a candidate named by a party central committee to fill a vacancy as provided in section twenty-five of this act, for the same office at the ensuing general election; and no person shall be permitted to file nomination papers for a party nomination and an independent nomination for the same office, or for more than one office at the same election. Nor shall any person whose name has been written in upon any ballot or ballots for any office at any primary election, have his name placed upon the ballot as a candidate for such office at the ensuing general election, except under the provisions of said section one thousand one hundred eighty-eight of the Political Code or of section twenty-five of this act providing for the filing of vacancies by party central committees, unless at such primary election he shall have received for such office votes equal in number to the minimum number of signatures to the nomination paper which would have been required to be filed to have placed his name on the primary ballot as a candidate for nomination to such office.

Record of papers filed.

10. The officer with whom nomination papers are filed shall keep a record in which he shall enter the names of every person presenting the same for filing, the name of the candidate, the title of the office, the party, if any, and the time of filing. [Amendment of April 8, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 39.]

This section was also amended May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1345.

Office in which papers must be filed.

§ 6. All nomination papers provided for by this act shall be filed as follows:

1. For state officers, United States senators, representatives in congress, members of the state senate and assembly, delegates to state conventions from "hold-over senatorial districts" and all officers voted for in districts comprising more than one county, in the office of the secretary of state.

2. For officers to be voted for wholly within one county or city and county, except representatives in congress, delegates to state conventions from "hold-over senatorial districts" and members of the state senate and assembly, in the office of the county clerk of such county or in the office of the registrar of voters in such city and county.

3. For city officers, in the office of the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of such city or municipality.

4. When a nomination paper or sections thereof shall have been received which contain a number of signatures equal to two per centum of the vote constituting the basis of percentage as provided in subdivisions five, six and eight of section five of this act, the officer with whom such papers are required to be filed shall not receive or file further sections of the nomination paper for the candidate named therein.

5. No more signatures shall be secured for any candidate than a number equal to three per centum of the vote constituting the basis of percentage as provided in subdivisions five, six and eight of section five of this act; provided, that if through miscalculation or otherwise, more signatures are secured than the said three per centum, all sections of the nomination paper containing signatures in excess of said three per centum must be sent to the candidate; and before any nomination paper is filed as provided in this section, the candidate must notify each signer of such excess sections that his name has not been used; and in the affidavit required to be filed in subdivision four of section five of this act, affiant must state whether he has complied with the provisions contained in subdivision five of section six of this act. [Amendment of April 8, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 49.]

Filing fees.

§ 7. 1. A filing fee of fifty dollars shall be paid to the secretary of state by each candidate for state office or for the United States senate, except as otherwise provided in this section.

2. A filing fee of twenty-five dollars shall be paid to the secretary of state by each candidate for representative in congress or for any office, except member of state senate and assembly, to be voted for in any district comprising more than one county.

3. A filing fee of ten dollars shall be paid to the secretary of state by each candidate for the state senate or assembly.

4. A filing fee of ten dollars shall be paid to the county clerk or registrar of voters in any city and county when the nomination paper or papers and affidavit of any candidate to be voted for wholly within one county or city and county are filed with such county clerk or registrar of voters.

5. A filing fee of ten dollars shall be paid to the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of any municipality when the nomination paper or papers and affidavit of any candidate for a city office are filed with such clerk or secretary of such legislative body.

6. No filing fee shall be required from any person to be voted for at the May presidential primary election, or from any candidate for an office to the holder of which no fixed compensation is required to be paid, or for township or municipal offices the compensation to the holder of which does not exceed the sum of six hundred dollars per annum.

7. In no case shall the secretary of state, county clerk, registrar of voters, or city clerk, receive any nomination papers for filing until the requisite fee for such filing, as prescribed in this section, has first been paid to him.

8. When a person for whom a nomination paper has not been filed is nominated for an office by having his name written on a primary election ballot, he must pay the same filing fee that would have been required if his nomination paper had been filed; otherwise his name must not be printed on the ballot at the ensuing general election.

9. When a candidate for nomination to office is proposed for nomination by more than one political party, he must pay a separate filing fee for each party in which he is proposed for nomination; or if, having filed a nomination paper for one party, he is nominated by another party by having his name written on a primary election ballot, he must pay the same filing fee for such other party nomination that would have been required if his nomination paper for such other party had been filed; otherwise his name shall not be printed on the general election ballot as the nominee of such other party. [Amendment of May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1354.]

Clerk to pay fees to treasurer.

§ 8. The county clerk shall immediately pay to the county treasurer and the registrar of voters in any city and county shall immediately pay to the city and county treasurer all fees received from candidates. The city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of any municipality shall immediately pay to the city treasurer all fees received from candidates. Within ten days after the primary election the secretary of state shall pay to the state treasurer all fees received from candidates and shall apportion the fees paid to him by each candidate equally among the counties within which such candidate is to be voted for, and certify such apportionment to the state controller, who shall issue warrants on the state treasurer for the amount due each county and the state treasurer shall pay the same.

Expense of primary.

§ 9. The expense of providing all ballots, blanks and other supplies to be used at any primary election provided for by this act and all expenses necessarily incurred in the preparation for or the conduct of such primary election shall be paid out of the treasury of the city, city and county, county or state, as the case may be, in the same manner, with like effect and by the same officers as in the case of general elections.

Secretary of state to transmit list of nominees. Publication by clerk.

§ 10. At least thirty days before any August primary election preceding a November election or before any May presidential primary election the secretary of state shall transmit to each county clerk or registrar of voters in any city and county a certified list containing the name and post office address of each person for whom nomination papers have been filed in the office of such secretary of state, including the candidate for delegate to a state convention, if any, from a "hold-over senatorial district" and who is entitled to be voted for in such county at such primary election, together with a designation of the office for which such person is a candidate and except in the case of a judicial office, or a school office of the party or principle he represents. Such county clerk or registrar of votes shall forthwith, upon receipt thereof, publish under the proper party designation the title of each office (except a judicial office or a school office), which appears upon the certified list transmitted by the secretary of state as hereinbefore provided, together with the names and addresses of all persons for whom nomination papers have been filed for each of said offices in the office of the secretary of state, and also the names of all candidates for the county central committee, filed in the office of the county clerk or registrar of voters. He shall also publish the title of each judicial office, school office, county office, and township office, together with the names and addresses of all persons for whom nomination papers have been filed for each of said offices, either in the office of the secretary of state or in the office of the county clerk or registrar of voters, and shall state that candidates for said judicial, school, county, and township offices may be voted for at the primary election, by any registered, qualified elector of the county, whether registered as intending to affiliate with any political party or not. He shall also publish the date of the primary election, the hours during which the polls will be open, and that the primary election will be held at the legally designated polling places in each precinct, which shall be particularly designated. It shall be the duty of the county clerk or registrar of voters in any city and county to cause such publication to be made once each week for two successive weeks prior to said primary election.

Newspapers in which publication shall be made.

§ 11. Every publication required by this act shall be made in not more than two newspapers of general circulation published in such county or city and county, and one of such newspapers shall represent the political party that cast at the last preceding general election the highest number of votes in such county or city and county, and one of such newspapers, if any, shall represent the party which cast the next highest number of votes at such election. In any case where the publication of the notices provided for by this act can not be made as hereinbefore provided it shall be made in any newspaper having a general circulation in the city or county in which the notice is required to be published.

Ballots. Non-partisan ballot. Clerk to provide ballot. Ballot paper.

§ 12. 1. All voting at primary elections within the meaning of this act shall be by ballot. A separate official ballot for each political party shall be printed and provided for use at each voting precinct; but all such party ballots must be alike in the designation of candidates for judicial, school, county, and township offices. The ballots must have a different tint or color for each of the political parties participating in the primary election. There shall also be printed and provided a non-partisan ballot of a different tint and color from all the others (or white, if all the others are colored), which shall contain only, but in like manner, all the candidates for judicial, school, county, and township offices to be voted for at the primary election; and one of the nonpartisan ballots shall, at the primary election, be furnished to each registered qualified elector who is not registered as intending to affiliate with any one of the political parties participating in said primary election; but to any elector registered as intending to affiliate with any political party participating in the primary there shall be furnished, not a nonpartisan ballot, but a ballot of the political party with which said elector is registered as intending to affiliate.

It shall be the duty of the county clerk of each county or of the registrar of voters in any city and county to provide such printed official ballots to be used at any August primary election for the nomination of candidates to be voted for in such county or city and county at the ensuing November election and at any May presidential primary election. It shall be the duty of the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of any municipality to provide such printed official ballots for any primary election other than the August primary election or the May presidential primary election. Such official ballots to be used at any primary election shall be printed on official paper, furnished by the secretary of state, in the manner provided by section one thousand one hundred ninety-six of the Political Code, and in the form hereinafter provided. The names of all candidates for the respective offices for whom the prescribed nomination papers have been duly filed shall be printed thereon.

Size.

2. Official primary election ballots used at any primary election for the nomination of candidates to be voted for at any presidential or general state election, except as provided in subdivision five of this section, shall be as long as the herein prescribed captions, headings, party designations, directions to voters and lists of names of candidates, properly subdivided according to the several offices to be nominated for, may require; and no official primary election ballot shall be less than six and one-half inches wide.

How printed.

3. Across the top of the ballot shall be printed in heavy-faced gothic capital type, not smaller than forty-eight point, the words: "Official Primary Election Ballot"; providing, that on a nonpartisan ballot said words may be printed in gothic capital type not smaller than twenty-four point. Beneath this heading shall be printed in heavy-faced gothic capital type, not smaller than twenty-four point, the party designation if it be a party ballot; or, in the case of a ballot containing the names of no candidates except candidates for a judicial school, county, or township office, the words "Nonpartisan Ballot." Beneath the party designation or the words "Nonpartisan ballot," as the case may be, insert the respective number of the congressional, senatorial, or assembly district in which the ballot is to be voted, in black-face type, as large as the width of the ballot shall make possible. In the case of official primary election ballots to be used at any primary election held for the nomination of candidates other than those to be voted for at a presidential or a general state election, and on which, in accordance with the provisions of this act, the names of candidates may be printed in a single column or in two parallel columns, as the case may be, the words "Official Primary Election Ballot" shall be printed thereon in heavy-faced gothic capital type, not smaller than twenty-four point. The party or nonpartisan designation shall be printed in heavy-faced gothic capital type, not smaller than eighteen point. The instructions to voters shall be printed in ten point gothic type.

Instructions to voters.

4. At least three-eighths of an inch below the district designation shall be printed in ten point gothic type, double leaded, the following instructions to voters: "To vote for a person whose name appears on the ballot, stamp a cross (X) in the square at the right of the name of the person for whom you desire to vote. To vote for a person whose name is not printed on the ballot, write his name in the blank space provided for that purpose."

Candidates' names in parallel columns. Order of precedence. Manner of printing names. Tally sheets.

5. The instructions to voters shall be separated from the lists of candidates and the designations of the several offices to be nominated for by one light and one heavy line or rule. The names of the candidates and the respective offices shall, except as may be hereinafter otherwise provided, be printed on the ballot in four or more parallel columns, each two and one-half inches wide. The number of such parallel columns shall be exactly divisible by two, and such parallel columns shall be equally divided on the ballot for party and nonpartisan tickets by a solid black line, extending down from the printed lines separating the instructions to voters from the list of names of candidates to the bottom margin of the ballot. In the case of a primary election for the nomination of candidates to be voted for at a presidential or general state election, the order of precedence shall be as follows, that is to say: In the column to the left, under the heading "state" shall be printed the groups of names of candidates for state offices, except judicial and school offices, and for members of the state board of equalization. In the second column, under the heading "congressional" shall be printed the groups of names for United States senator in congress, if any, and for representative in congress. Next, under the heading "legislative" shall be printed the groups of names for state senator, if any, for member of assembly, and for election as delegate to the state convention from a "hold-over senatorial district," if any. Finally under the heading "county committee" shall be printed the names of the candidates for election to membership in the county central committee of the party. In the case of primary elections where state officers are not to be nominated, at the left of the solid black dividing line there may be only one column. In the parallel columns to the right of the solid black dividing line shall be printed the groups of names of candidates for nomination to judicial, school, county, and township offices in the following order: Under the heading "judicial" shall be printed all the names of candidates for judicial offices, in the order of chief justice supreme court, associate justices supreme court, judge of district court of appeals, judge of superior court and justice of the peace. Next, under the heading "school" shall be printed all the names of candidates for school offices in the order of state superintendent of instruction, superintendent of schools, and school district officers, if any. Next, under the heading "county and township" shall be printed the groups of candidates for all county and township offices except judicial or school offices. In the case of primary elections where county officers are not to be nominated, at the right of the solid black dividing line there may be only one column. The nonpartisan ballot provided for in subdivision one of this section shall be identical as to offices and names of candidates with that portion of the party ballot which is printed to the right of the solid black dividing line hereinabove described. The tally sheets furnished to election officers shall have the names of offices and candidates arranged in the order in which said names of officers and candidates are printed on the ballots according to the provisions of this section and subdivision. In the case of primary elections for the nomination of candidates for city, city and county or municipal offices only, the groups of names of candidates may be printed in two parallel columns and the order of precedence shall be determined by the legislative body of such city or municipality or by the board of election commissioners of any such city and county.

Candidates for judicial offices, etc.

6. The group of names of candidates for nomination to any judicial office, school office, county office, or township office shall include all the names receiving the requisite number of signatures on a nomination paper for such office, and shall be identical for each such office on the primary election ballots of each political party participating at the primary election; but the groups of names of candidates for all other offices on the ballots of each political party shall comprise only the names of the candidates for nomination by such party.

Order of list of candidates.

7. The order in which the list of candidates for any office shall appear upon the primary election ballot shall be determined as follows:

(a) If the office is an office the candidates for which are to be voted on throughout the entire state, including United States senator in congress, the secretary of state shall arrange the names of all candidates for such office in alphabetical order for the first assembly district; and thereafter for each succeeding assembly district, the name appearing first for each office in the last preceding district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged. If the office is that of representative in congress, or is an office the candidates for nomination to which are to be voted on in more than one county or city and county, but not throughout the entire state, except the office of state senator or assemblyman, the secretary of state shall arrange the names of all candidates for such office in alphabetical order for that assembly district which is lowest in numerical order of any assembly district in which such candidates are to be voted on; and thereafter for such succeeding assembly district in which such candidates are to be voted on, the name appearing first for such office in the last preceding district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged. In transmitting to each county clerk or registrar of voters the certified list of names as required in section ten of this act, the secretary of state shall certify and transmit the list of candidates for nomination to each office according to assembly districts, in the order of arrangement as determined by the above provisions; and in the case of each county or city and county containing more than one assembly district he shall transmit separate lists for each assembly district. Except for the office of state senator or assemblyman, the order in which the names filed with the secretary of state shall appear upon the ballot, shall be for each assembly district the order as determined by the secretary of state in accordance with the above provisions, and as certified and transmitted by him to each county clerk or registrar of voters.

(b) If the office is an office to be voted on throughout, but wholly within, one county or city and county, except the office of representative in congress or state senator or assemblyman, the county clerk of such county or the registrar of voters of such city and county, shall arrange the names of all candidates for such office in alphabetical order for the first supervisorial district; and thereafter for each supervisorial district, the name appearing first for each such office in the last preceding supervisorial district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged; provided, there are no more than five assembly districts in such county, or city and county. If there are more than five assembly districts in such county, or city and county, the county clerk or registrar of voters shall so arrange on the ballot the order of names of all candidates for such office that they shall appear in alphabetical order for that assembly district in such county, or city and county, which is lowest in numerical order, and thereafter for each succeeding assembly district in such county, or city and county, the name appearing first for each office in the last preceding assembly district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged.

(c) If the office is that of state senator or assemblyman, or delegate to the state convention from a "hold-over senatorial district," or member of a county central committee, or any office except the office of representative in congress to be voted on wholly within any county or city and county but not throughout such county or city or county, the names of all candidates for such office shall be placed upon the ballot in alphabetical order.

(d) If the office is a municipal office in any city or town whose charter does not provide for the order in which names shall appear on the ballot, the names of candidates for such office shall be placed upon the ballot in alphabetical order.

Order of publication of names and addresses.

8. In publishing the names and addresses of all candidates for whom nomination papers have been filed, as required in section ten of this act, the county clerk or registrar of voters shall publish the names in the order in which they will appear upon the ballot; provided, that in counties or cities and counties containing more than one assembly district the order of names of candidates shall be that of the assembly district in such county or city and county which is lowest in numerical order.

Designation of office.

9. Each group of candidates to be voted on shall be preceded by the designation of the office for which the candidates seek nomination, and the words "Vote for One" or "Vote for Two" or more according to the number to be elected to such office at the ensuing election. Such designation of the office to be nominated for and of the number of candidates to be nominated shall be printed in heavy-faced gothic type, not smaller than ten point. The word or words designating the office shall be printed flush with the left-hand margin and the words "Vote for One" or "Vote for Two" or more, as the case may be, shall extend to the extreme right of the column and over the voting square. The designation of the office and the direction for voting shall be separated from the names of the candidates by a light line.

Printing names of candidates. Headings. Borders and perforations. Number of ballots. Form of ballot.

10. The names of the candidates shall be printed on the ballot without indentation, in roman capital type not smaller than eight point, between light lines or rules, three-eighths of an inch apart. Under each group of names of candidates shall be printed as many blank spaces, defined by light lines or rules, three-eighths of an inch apart, as there are to be candidates nominated for such office. To the right of the names of the candidates shall be printed a light line or rule so as to form a voting square three-eighths of an inch square. Each group of names of candidates shall be separated from the succeeding group by one light and one heavy line or rule. Each series of groups shall be headed by the word "State," "Congressional," "Legislative," "County and Township" or "Municipal" or other proper general classification, as the case may be, printed in heavy-faced gothic capital type, not smaller than twelve point. The left-hand side of the first column of names on the ballot, and also the right-hand side of the last column of voting squares on the ballot shall be bordered by a broad printed line one-twelfth of an inch wide. The binding or stitching of each package of ballots shall be on the left side thereof. The ballots shall be printed on the same leaf with a stub not over one and one-half inches in width, and separated therefrom by a perforated line from top to bottom, one-half inch to the left of the broad printed line along the left border of the ballot. Upon this stub shall be printed the number of the ballot only. On each ballot a perforated line shall extend across the top of the ballot one inch from the top thereof. The same number as appears on the stub shall be printed above such perforated line within two inches of the perforated line on the left side of the ballot, and above this number shall be printed in parenthesis in small type as follows: "(This number to be torn off by inspector)"; and one-half inch to the right of this ballot number there shall be a short perforated line extending from the perforated line along the top of the ballot to the top edge of the ballot. Immediately above said perforated line shall be printed in black-face lower case type, at least twelve point in size, and enclosed in a parenthesis, the following: "(Fold Ballot to this Perforated Line, Leaving Top Margin Exposed)." Above this printed direction, and midway between it and the top edge of the ballot, shall be printed in black-face capital type, at least twelve point in size, if possible, and with the four middle words underlined or otherwise made prominent, the following: "Mark crosses (X) on ballot ONLY WITH RUBBER STAMP; never with pen or pencil." The number on each ballot shall be the same as that on the corresponding stub, and the ballots and stubs shall be numbered consecutively in each county; provided, that the sequence of numbers on such official ballots and stubs for each party shall begin with the number one. The official ballots of each political party shall be made up in stub books, each book to contain ten, or some multiple of ten, ballots, in the manner provided by law for official election ballots, and except as to the order of the names of candidates shall be printed in substantially the following form: [Form of ballot on inserts.] [Amendment of May 7, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 381.]

Sample ballots. Mailed to voters. Printing of official ballot. In cities.

§ 13. At least twenty days before the August primary election or before the May presidential primary election each county clerk or registrar of voters in any city and county shall prepare separate sample ballots for each political party, and a separate sample non-partisan ballot, placing thereon in each case in the order provided in subdivision 7 of section 12 of this act, and under the appropriate title of each office, the names of all candidates for whom nomination papers have been duly filed with him, or have been certified to him by the secretary of state, to be voted for at the primary election in his county or city and county. Such sample ballots shall be printed on paper of a different texture from the paper to be used on the official ballot, and one sample ballot of the party to which the voter belongs as evidenced by his registration shall be mailed to each such voter entitled to vote at such August primary election or May presidential primary election, as the case may be, not more than ten nor less than five days before the election. Not more than ten nor less than five days before the August primary election a non-partisan sample ballot printed on paper of a different texture from the paper to be used on the official ballot shall be mailed to each registered qualified elector, who is not registered as intending to affiliate with any of the parties participating in said primary election. Such clerk or registrar of voters shall forthwith submit the ticket of each political party to the chairman of the county committee of such party and shall mail a copy to each candidate for whom nomination papers have been filed with him or whose name has been certified to him by the secretary of state, to the postoffice address as given in such nomination paper or certification, and he shall post a copy of each sample ballot in a conspicuous place in his office. Before such primary election the county clerk or registrar of voters in any city and county shall cause the official ballot to be printed as provided by section 12 of this act, and distributed in the same manner and in the same quantities as provided in sections 1198, 1199 and 1201 of the Political Code for the distribution of ballots for elections; provided, that the number of party ballots to be furnished to any precinct shall be computed from the number of voters registered in such precinct as intending to affiliate with such party, and the number of non-partisan ballots to be furnished to any precinct shall be computed from the number of voters registered in such precinct without statement of intention to affiliate with any of the parties participating in the primary election. In the case of primary elections for the nomination of candidates for city offices it shall be the duty of the city clerk, secretary of the legislative body of such city or municipality, or such other officer charged by law with the duty of preparing and distributing the official ballots used at elections in such city or municipality, to prepare and mail the sample ballot and to prepare and distribute the official primary election ballots, and so far as applicable and not otherwise provided herein the provisions of this act shall apply to the nomination of all candidates for city offices.

Polls open 6 a. m. to 7 p. m.

§ 14. The polls must be open at six o'clock of the morning of the day of primary election and must be kept open until seven o'clock in the afternoon of the same day when the polls shall be closed; provided, however, that if at the hour of closing there are any voters in the polling place, or in line at the door, who are qualified to vote and have not been able to do so since appearing, the polls shall be kept open a sufficient time to enable them to vote. But no one who shall arrive at the polling place after seven o'clock in the afternoon shall be entitled to vote, although the polls may be open when he arrives. No adjournment of intermission shall be taken except as provided in the case of general elections.

Election officers.

§ 15. The officers for primary elections shall be the same and shall be appointed in the same manner, as provided by law for general elections, and such officers shall receive the same compensation for their services at primary elections as provided by law for general elections.

It shall be the duty of the proper officers to furnish the original affidavits of registration and indexes for use at primary elections, which shall show the names of all voters entitled to vote at such primary elections, and shall be numbered, for purposes of the primary election, in like manner as provided in section 1113 of the Political Code. And all the provisions of section 1096 of the Political Code, so far as they are consistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby made applicable to primary elections within the meaning of this act.

Challenge of voter.

§ 16. Any elector offering to vote at a primary election may be challenged by any elector of the city, city and county, or county upon either or all of the grounds specified in section 1230 of the Political Code, but his right to vote the primary election ticket of the political party designated in his affidavit of registration, as provided in section 1096 of the Political Code, or his right to vote the non-partisan primary ticket providing no such party is so designated, shall not be challenged on any ground or subjected to any tests other than those provided by the constitution and section 1230 of the Political Code of this state.

Qualified electors may vote.

§ 17. Any elector qualified to take part in any primary election, who has, at least thirty days before the day of such primary election, qualified by registration, as provided by section 1096 of the Political Code, shall be entitled to vote at such primary election, such right to vote being subject to challenge only as hereinbefore provided; and shall, on writing his name or having it written for him on the roster, as provided by law for general elections in this state, receive the official primary election ballot of the political party designated in his affidavit of registration; (or the non-partisan ballot, providing no such party was so designated), and no other; provided, however, that no one shall be entitled to vote at any primary election who has not been a resident of the state one year, and of the county ninety days, preceding the day upon which such primary election is held. He shall be instructed by a member of the board as to the proper method of marking and folding his ballot, and he shall then retire to an unoccupied booth and without undue delay stamp the same with the rubber stamp there found. If he shall spoil or deface the ballot he shall at once return the same to the ballot clerk and receive another.

Designating choice.

§ 18. The voter shall designate his choice on the ballot by stamping a cross (X) in the small square opposite the name of each candidate for whom he wishes to vote. If he shall stamp more names than there are candidates to be nominated for any office, or if for any reason it be impossible to determine his choice for any office, his ballot shall not be counted for such office, but the rest of his ballot, if properly stamped, shall be counted. No ballot shall be rejected for any technical error which does not render it impossible to determine the voter's choice, nor even though such ballot be somewhat soiled or defaced.

Folding ballot.

§ 19. When a voter has stamped his ballot he shall fold it so that its face shall be concealed and only the printed designation on the back thereof shall be visible, and hand the same to the member of the board in charge of the ballot box. Such folded ballot shall be voted as ballots are voted at general elections, and the name of the voter checked upon the affidavit of registration as having voted as is required at such general elections. [Amendment of May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1355.]

No intermission between closing of polls and counting of votes.

§ 20. No adjournment or intermission whatever shall take place until the polls shall be closed and until all the votes cast at such polls shall be counted and the result publicly announced, but this shall not be deemed to prevent any temporary recess while taking meals or for the purpose of other necessary delay; provided, that no more than one member of the board shall at any time be absent from the polling place.

Canvass of votes.

§ 21. As soon as the polls are finally closed the judges must immediately proceed to canvass the votes cast at such primary election. The canvass must be public, in the presence of bystanders, and must be continued without adjournment until completed and the result thereof declared. Except as hereinafter provided, the canvass shall be conducted, completed and returned as provided by sections one thousand two hundred fifty-three, one thousand two hundred fifty-four, one thousand two hundred fifty-five, one thousand two hundred fifty-six, one thousand two hundred fifty-seven, one thousand two hundred fifty-eight, one thousand two hundred fifty-nine, one thousand two hundred sixty, one thousand two hundred sixty-one, one thousand two hundred sixty-two, one thousand two hundred sixty-three, one thousand two hundred sixty-four, one thousand two hundred sixty-four a, one thousand two hundred sixty-five, one thousand two hundred sixty-six, one thousand two hundred sixty-seven, and one thousand two hundred sixty-eight of the Political Code of this state; provided, however, that the ballots of each party must be sealed and returned in separate envelopes, and the non-partisan ballots must be sealed and returned in another separate envelope. The number of ballots agreeing or being made to agree with the number of names on the lists, as provided by section one thousand two hundred fifty-five of the Political Code, the board must take the ballots from the box, count those cast by each party, and string them separately; count all the votes cast for each party candidate for the several offices and record the same on the tally lists; and count all the votes on all the ballots, both party and non-partisan, for the candidates for judicial, school, county, township, and municipal offices, and record the same on the tally lists. [Amendment of May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1355.]

Canvass of returns. Declaration of result. Returns to secretary of state. Secretary of state to compile returns.

§ 22. The board of supervisors of each county, the board of election commissioners in any city and county, or, in the case of a city or municipal primary election, the officers charged by law with the duty of canvassing the vote at any city or municipal election in such political subdivision, shall meet at the usual place of such meeting, or at any other place permitted by law, at one o'clock in the afternoon of the first Thursday after each primary election to canvass the returns, or as soon thereafter as all the returns are in. When begun the canvass shall be continued until completed, which shall not be later than six o'clock in the afternoon of the sixteenth day following such primary election. The clerk of the board must, as soon as the result is declared, enter upon the records of such board a statement of such result, which statement shall contain the whole number of votes cast for each candidate of each political party, for each candidate for each judicial, school, county, township, or municipal office, for each candidate for delegate, if any, to a state convention from a hold-over senatorial district, and for each candidate for membership in the county central committee; provided, however, that in entering the statement of such result, the provisions of subdivision six of section one thousand two hundred eighty-two of the Political Code shall apply, and a duplicate as to each political party shall be delivered to the county, city and county or city chairman of such political party, as the case may be. The clerk shall also make an additional duplicate statement in the same form showing the votes cast for each candidate not voted for wholly within the limits of such county or city and county. The county clerk or registrar of voters in any city and county shall forthwith send to the secretary of state by registered mail or by express one complete copy of all returns as to such candidates, and as to all candidates voted for wholly within one county for the following offices: State assembly, state senate, representatives in congress, members of the state board of equalization, judicial officers, except justices of the peace, and delegate, if any, to a state convention from a hold-over senatorial district; and as to all persons voted for at the May presidential primary election. The secretary of state shall, not later than the twenty-fifth day after any primary election, compile the returns for all candidates voted for in more than one county, and for all candidates for the assembly, state senate, representatives in congress, member of the state board of equalization, and judicial offices (except justices of the peace), delegate, if any, to a state convention from a hold-over senatorial district, and for all persons voted for at the May presidential primary election, and shall make out and file in his office a statement thereof. He shall compile the returns for the May presidential primary election not later than the twenty-first day after such election, and shall compile said returns in such a manner as to show, for each candidate, both the total of the votes received and the votes received in each congressional district of the state. [Amendment of May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1355.]

Names which go on ballot for final election.

§ 23. Except in the case of a candidate for nomination to a judicial, school, county, township, or municipal office, the person receiving the highest number of votes, at a primary election as the candidate for the nomination of a political party for an office shall be the candidate of that party for such office, and his name as such candidate shall be placed on the official ballot voted at the ensuing election; provided, he has paid the filing fee as required by section seven of this act; and provided, further, that no candidate for a nomination for other than a judicial, school, county, township or municipal office who fails to receive the highest number of votes for the nomination of the political party with which he was affiliated thirty-five days before the date of the primary election, as ascertained by the secretary of state from the affidavit of registration of such candidate in the office of the county clerk of the county in which such candidate resides, shall be entitled to be the candidate of any other political party.

In case of judicial office, etc. Certificates of nomination.

In the case of a judicial, school, county, township, or municipal office, the candidates equal in number to twice the number to be elected to such office, or less, if the total number of candidates is less than twice the number of offices to be filled, who receive the highest number of the votes cast on all the ballots of all the voters participating in the primary election for nomination to such office, shall be the candidates for such office at the ensuing election, and their names as such candidates shall be placed on the official ballot voted at the ensuing election; provided, however, that in case there is but one person to be elected at the November election to any judicial, school, county, or township office, and candidate who receives at the August primary election a majority of the total number of votes cast for all the candidates for such office shall be the only candidate for such office whose name shall be printed on the ballot at the ensuing election; and provided, further, that in case there are two or more persons to be elected at the November election to any judicial, school, county, or township office, and in case any candidate for such office receive at the August primary election the votes of a majority of all the voters participating in the primary election in the state or political subdivision in which said office is voted upon, such candidates being herein designated as "majority candidates," said "majority candidates" shall, if their number is not less than the number of persons to be elected to such office, be the only candidates for such office whose names shall be printed on the ballot at the ensuing November election; and if the number of such "majority candidates" fall short of the number of persons to be elected to such office, the names of said "majority candidates" shall be printed on the ballot at the ensuing November election, together with such number of additional names only of such other candidates receiving the next highest number of votes for nomination to such office as may make the number of such additional names equal to twice the difference between the number of such "majority candidates" and the number to be elected, or a smaller number, if the list of said other candidates is exhausted. Of the candidates for election to membership in the county central committee, the candidates equal in number to the number to be elected receiving the highest number of votes in their supervisorial district or assembly district, as the case may be in accordance with the provisions of subdivision four of section twenty-four of this act, shall be declared elected as the representatives of their district to membership in such committee. It shall be the duty of the officers charged with the canvass of the returns of any primary election in any county, city and county or municipality to cause to be issued official certificates of nomination to such party candidates (other than congressional and legislative candidates, candidates for the state board of equalization, and delegates to the state convention from a hold-over senatorial district), as have received the highest number of votes as the candidates for the nomination of such party for any offices to be voted for wholly within such county, city and county, or municipality, and cause to be issued to each member of a county central committee a certificate of his election; and to cause to be issued official certificates of nomination to such candidates for judicial, school, county, township or municipal offices voted for wholly within one county as may be entitled to nomination under the provisions of this section. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to issue official certificates of nomination to candidates nominated under the provisions of this act for representatives in congress, members of the state senate and assembly, members of the state board of equalization, and officers voted for in more than one county; and to issue a certificate of election to each delegate elected to the state convention from a hold-over senatorial district; and to issue certificates of election to all persons elected at the May presidential primary election as delegates to their respective national party conventions.

List of persons entitled to receive votes.

Not less than thirty days before the November election the secretary of state shall certify to the county clerks or registrars of voters of each county and city and county within the state, the name of every person entitled to receive votes within such county or city and county at said November election who has received the nomination as a candidate for public office under and pursuant to the provisions of this act, and whose nomination is evidenced by the compilation and statement required to be made by said secretary of state and filed in his office, as provided in section twenty-two of this act. Such certificates shall in addition to the names of such nominees respectively, also show separately and respectively for each nominee the name of the political party or organization which has nominated such person if any and the designation of the public office for which he is so nominated. [Amendment of May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1356.]

Party conventions.

§ 24. 1. Party conventions of delegates chosen as hereinafter provided may be held in this state, for the purpose of promulgating platforms and transacting such other business of the party as is not inconsistent with the provisions of the act.

State conventions. Platforms. State central committee. Presidential electors.

2. The candidates of each political party for congressional offices and for state offices, if any, except judicial and school offices, and such candidates for senate and assembly as have been nominated by such political party at the primary election, and in whose behalf nomination papers have been filed, together with the hold-over senators affiliated with and nominated by such political party at the election at which said hold-over senators were elected and one delegate chosen by such political party from each senatorial district not represented by a hold-over senator affiliated with and nominated by such political party at the election at which the hold-over senator was elected, shall meet in a state convention at the state capitol at two o'clock in the afternoon of the third Tuesday in September after the date on which any primary election is held preliminary to the general November election. They shall forthwith formulate the state platforms of their party, which said state platform of each political party shall be framed at such time that it shall be made public not later than six o'clock in the afternoon of the following day. They shall also proceed to elect a state central committee to consist of at least three members from each congressional district, who shall hold office until a new state central committee shall have been selected. In each year of the general November election at which electors of president and vice president of the United States are to be chosen, they shall also nominate as the candidates of their party as many electors of president and vice president of the United States as the state is then entitled to, and it shall be the duty of the secretary of state to issue certificates of nomination to the electors so nominated, and to cause the names of such candidates for elector to be placed upon the ballots at the ensuing November election.

Membership qualifications. Certificate stating affiliation.

Membership in the state convention shall not be granted to a party nominee for a congressional office, state office, or office of senator or assemblyman who has become such by reason of his name having been written on a ballot, and who has not had his name printed on the primary ballot by having had a nomination paper filed in his behalf, as provided in section five of this act; nor shall membership in such convention be granted to the nominee of any party if such nominee has not stated his affiliation with such party in his affidavit of registration used at such primary election; and, in every such case, a vacancy in the membership of such convention shall be deemed to exist; and any such vacancy thereby existing, or existing because no nomination for such office has been made, or for any other cause, shall be filled as hereinafter provided. Each candidate who has received the nomination of more than one party for a congressional, state, or legislative office shall procure from the county clerk of the county in which he resides, a certificate stating the party with which such candidate was affiliated thirty-five days before the date of the primary election, as shown by the affidavit of registration of such candidate in the office of such county clerk; and this certificate shall be the credentials of such candidate to membership in the convention of his party.

In district represented by hold-over senator.

In any senatorial district represented by a hold-over senator there shall be chosen at such primary election by the electors of each political party, other than the party which the hold-over senator was affiliated with and nominated by, one delegate to the state convention, who shall have nomination papers circulated in his behalf, shall have his name placed upon the ballot, and shall be chosen in the same manner as a state senator is nominated from any senatorial district; but no such delegate shall be disqualified by reason of holding any office, nor shall any filing fee be required in order to have his name placed upon the ballot. The term "hold-over senator" as herein used shall apply to a state senator whose term of office extends beyond the first Monday in January of the year next ensuing after the primary election, and the term "hold-over senatorial district" shall apply to the district represented by such hold-over senator.

Filling vacancies.

In the event that there shall not have been filed any nomination paper for a candidate for any congressional or state office or office of senator or assemblyman or delegate from a hold-over senatorial district by the electors of any political party, or in the event that the nominee of any party for such office has not declared his affiliation with such party, as herein provided, or in the event of the death of the candidate prior to the convention, the vacancy thus created in the state convention of such party shall be filled as follows:

(a) If the vacancy occurs in a senatorial or assembly district situated wholly within the limits of a single county or city and county, by appointment by the newly elected county central committee of such party in such county or city and county.

(b) If the vacancy occurs in a senatorial or assembly district comprising two or more counties, by appointment by the newly selected chairman of the several newly elected county central committees of such party in such counties.

(c) If the vacancy occurs in a congressional or state office, by appointment by the state central committee of such party.

Such delegate so appointed shall present to the convention credentials signed by the chairman and the secretary of the appointing committee, or by the appointing chairman of the several committees, as the case may be.

Executive committee.

3. Each state central committee may select an executive committee, to which executive committee it may grant all or any portion of its powers and duties. It shall choose its officers by ballot and each committee and its officers shall have the power usually exercised by such committees and the officers thereof in so far as may be consistent with this act. The various officers and committees now in existence shall exercise the powers and perform the duties herein prescribed until their successors are chosen in accordance with the provisions of this act.

District congressional committee.

4. The executive committee of the state central committee of each political party shall, in conjunction with each nominee for congress affiliated with such party, select a congressional committee for the district in which such nominee is a candidate. Such committee shall consist of not less than fifteen nor more than thirty-five members, and shall have charge and conduct of the campaign of such nominee, subject to the supervision of the state central committee of such party.

County central committee.

5. At each August primary election there shall be elected in each county or city and county a county central committee for each political party, which shall have charge of the party campaign under general direction of the state central committee or of the executive committee selected by such state central committee. In any city and county containing more than ten assembly districts the county central committee of such party shall be elected by each assembly district and shall consist of five members from each assembly district in such city and county. In all counties containing five or more assembly districts the county central committee of such party shall be elected by assembly districts and shall consist of one member for each seven hundred votes or fraction thereof in each such assembly district cast for such party's candidate for governor at the last general election at which a governor was elected. In all counties containing less than five assembly districts the county central committee shall be elected by supervisor districts, and the number to be elected from any supervisor district shall be determined as follows: The number of votes cast in such supervisor district for such party's candidate for governor at the last general election at which such governor was elected shall be divided by one-twentieth of the number of votes cast for such governor in such county; and the integer next larger than the quotient obtained by such division shall constitute the number of members of the county central committee to be elected by such party in said supervisor district. The county clerk or registrar of voters in each county or city and county shall, between the first Monday and the second Monday of June next preceding the primary election, compute the number of members of the county central committee allotted to each assembly district or supervisor district, as the case may be, by the provisions of this subdivision. Each candidate for member of a county central committee shall appear upon the ballot upon the filing of a nomination paper according to the provisions of section five of this act, signed in his behalf by the electors of the political subdivision in which he is a candidate, as above provided; and the number of candidates to which each party is entitled, as hereinbefore provided, in each political subdivision, receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared elected; but no candidate for county committeeman shall be declared elected unless he shall have received votes equal in number to the minimum of signatures to the nomination paper which would have been required to place his name on the primary ballot as a candidate for member of the county committee. Each county central committee shall meet in the courthouse at its county seat on the second Tuesday in September following the August primary election, and shall organize by selecting a chairman, a secretary and such other officers and committees as it shall deem necessary for carrying on the campaign of the party.

Persons ineligible. Filling vacancies.

6. No person shall be eligible for appointment or election to the state, county or district committee of any party who is not registered as affiliated with such party at the time of such appointment or election. In the event of the appointment or election to any party committee of an ineligible person, or whenever any member of any such committee dies, resigns or becomes incapacitated to act, or removes from the jurisdiction of the committee, or ceases to be a member of such committee's party, a vacancy shall exist, which shall be filled by appointment by the chairman of the committee in which such ineligibility or vacancy occurs. [Amendment of April 8, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 49.]

This section was also amended May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1358.

Withdrawing as candidate. Filling vacancies.

§ 25. No candidate whose nomination papers have been filed for any primary election can withdraw as a candidate at such primary election. No candidate nominated at any primary election can withdraw as a candidate at the ensuing general election except such as are permitted to withdraw by this section. In case as a result of any primary election a person has received a nomination to any office without first having nomination papers filed, and having his name printed on the primary election ballot, he may at least thirty-one days before the day of election cause his name to be withdrawn from nomination by filing in the office where he would have filed his nomination papers had he been a candidate for nomination, his request therefor in writing, signed by him and acknowledged before the county clerk of the county in which he resides; and no name so withdrawn shall be printed on the election ballot for the ensuing general election. The vacancy created by the withdrawal of such person as aforesaid, or on account of the ineligibility of such person to qualify as a candidate because of the inhibitions of subdivision nine of section five of this act, or by reason of the failure of a party to nominate any candidate for the office at the primary election, or for any other cause shall not be filled except in the following cases:

1. By reason of the death of a candidate occurring at least twenty-five days before the date of the next ensuing November election.
2. By reason of the disqualification of a candidate occurring on account of the failure of such candidate to secure the nomination in his own party as required by section twenty-three of this act.

Power of committees.

Vacancies occurring by reason of such death of any candidate, or because of such disqualification imposed by section twenty-three of this act, may in the case of legislative offices, be filled by the newly elected county central committee or committees of the party in which such vacancy occurs in the county or counties comprising the legislative district of such deceased or disqualified candidate; and in the case of all other district or state offices requiring party nomination, by the newly selected state central committee of such party.

If such vacancy occurs among candidates chosen at the primary election to go on the ballot for the succeeding general election for a judicial, school, county, township, or municipal office according to the provisions of section twenty-three of this act, in which case that candidate receiving at said primary election the highest vote among all the candidates for said office who have failed to receive a sufficient number of votes to get upon said ballot according to the provisions of said section twenty-three, shall go upon said ballot to fill said vacancy; provided, however, that if the vacancy occurs in a case where, by reason of having received a majority vote at the primary election, only one person is entitled to have his name printed upon the ballot at the ensuing November election, the names of the two candidates receiving the next highest vote at the primary election, if there were such number, shall be placed upon the ballot for the November election; and provided, further, that a vacancy authorized to be filled by the provisions of this section shall be filled and certified to the officer charged with the duty of printing the ballots twenty-five days before the day of election.

Name printed on ballot.

Whenever a nomination paper containing a sufficient number of signatures has been filed for any person as a candidate to be voted for at a primary election, the name of such person must be printed upon the ballot or ballots of such primary election as hereinbefore provided in section twelve of this act, unless such person has died and such fact has been ascertained, by the officer charged with the duty of printing the ballot, at least twenty-five days before the day of election.

Whenever a candidate has been nominated at any primary election after having nomination papers filed, the name of such candidate must be printed upon the ballot at the ensuing general election unless such candidate has died and such fact has been ascertained, by the officer charged with the duty of printing the ballots, at least twenty-five days before the day of election.

Whenever, upon the death or disqualification of any candidate, the vacancy thereby created is filled by a party committee, a certificate to that effect shall be filed with the officer with whom a nomination paper for such office may be filed, and shall be accepted and acted upon by him as in the case of such nomination paper. [Amendment of April 8, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 53.]

This section was also amended May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1361.

Tie vote.

§ 26. In case of a tie vote, if for an office to be voted for wholly within one county or city and county, the county, city and county or city board, as the case may be, shall forthwith summon the candidates who have received such tie votes to appear before such board, at a time and place to be designated by said board, and such board shall at said time and place determine the tie by lot. In the case of a tie vote for an office to be voted on in more than one county, the secretary of state shall forthwith summon the candidates who have received such tie votes to appear before him at his office at the state capitol at a time to be designated by him and said secretary of state shall at said time and place determine the tie by lot. Such summons must in every case be mailed to the address of the candidate as it appears upon his affidavit of registration, at least five days before the date fixed for the determination of such tie vote. [Amendment of April 8, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 55.]

Correction of errors or omission.

§ 27. Whenever it shall be made to appear by affidavit to the supreme court or district courts of appeal or superior court of the proper county that an error or omission has occurred or is about to occur in the placing of any name on an official primary election ballot, that any error has been or is about to be committed in printing such ballot, or that any wrongful act has been or is about to be done by any judge or clerk of a primary election, county clerk, registrar of voters in any city and county, canvassing board or any member thereof, or other person charged with any duty concerning the primary election, or that any neglect of duty has occurred or is about to occur, such court shall order the officer or person charged with such error, wrong or neglect to forthwith correct the error, desist from the wrongful act or perform the duty, or forthwith show cause why he should not do so. Any person who shall fail to obey the order of such court shall be cited forthwith to show cause why he shall not be adjudged in contempt of court.

Contest of nomination. Copy of affidavit mailed to contestee. Precincts considered in recount. Time and place for hearing. No demurrer.

§ 28. Any candidate at a primary election, desiring to contest a nomination of another candidate for the same office, may, within five days after the completion of the official canvass, file an affidavit in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county in which he desires to contest the vote returned from any precinct or precincts in such county, and thereupon have a recount of the ballots cast in any such precinct or precincts, in accordance with the provisions of this section. Such affidavit must specify separately each precinct in which a recount is demanded, and the nature of the mistake, error, misconduct, or other cause why it is claimed that the returns from such precinct do not correctly state the vote as cast in such precinct, for the contestant and the contestee. The contestee must be made a party respondent, and so named in the affidavit. No personal service or other service than as herein provided need be made upon the contestee. Upon the filing of such affidavit the county clerk shall forthwith post in a conspicuous place in his office a copy of the affidavit. Upon the filing of such affidavit and the posting of the same, the superior court of the county shall have jurisdiction of the subject matter and of the parties to such contest, and all candidates at any such primary election are permitted to be candidates under this act, only upon the condition that such jurisdiction for the purposes of the proceeding authorized by this section shall exist in the manner and under the conditions provided for by this section. The contestant on the date of filing such affidavit, must send by registered mail a copy thereof to the contestee in a sealed envelope, with postage prepaid, addressed to the contestee at the place of residence named in the affidavit of registration of such contestee, and shall make an affidavit of such mailing and file the same with the county clerk to become a part of the records of the contest. At any time within three days after the filing of the affidavit of the contestant to the effect that he has sent by registered mail a copy of the affidavit to the contestee, such contestee may file with the county clerk an affidavit in his own behalf, setting up his desire to have the votes counted in any precincts, designating them, in addition to the precincts designated in the affidavit of the contestant, and setting up his grounds therefor. On the trial of the contest all of the precincts named in the affidavits of the contestant and the contestee shall be considered, and a recount had with reference to all of said precincts; and the contestant shall have the same right to answer the affidavit of the contestee as is given to the contestee herein with reference to the affidavit of the contestant except that such answer must be filed not later than the first day of the trial of said contest. On the eighth day after the completion of the official canvass the county clerk shall present the affidavits of the contestant and the contestee and proof of posting, as aforesaid, to the judge of the superior court of the county, or any judge acting in his place, or the presiding judge of the superior court of a county or city and county, or anyone acting in his stead, which judge shall, upon such presentation, forthwith designate the time and place where such contest shall proceed, and in counties or cities and counties where there are more than one superior judge, assign all the cases to one department by the order of such court. Such order must so assign such case or cases, and fix such time and place for hearing, which time must not be less than one nor more than three days from the presentation of the matter to the court by the county clerk as herein provided. It shall be the duty of the contestee to appear either in person or by attorney, at the time and place so fixed, and to take notice of the order fixing such time and place from the records of the court, without service. No special appearance of the contestee for any purpose except as herein provided shall be permitted, and any appearance whatever of the contestee or any request of the court by the contestee or his attorney, shall be entered as a general appearance in the contest. No demurrer or objection can be taken by the parties in any other manner than by answer, and all the objections must be contained in the answer. The court if the contestee shall appear, must require the answer to be made within three days from the time and place as above provided, and if the contestee shall not appear shall note his default, and shall proceed to hear and determine the contest with all convenient speed. If the number of votes which are sought to be recounted, or the number of contests are such that the judge shall be of opinion that it will require additional judges to enable the contest or contests to be determined in time to print the ballots for the election, if there be only one judge for such county, he may obtain the service of any other superior judge, and the proceedings shall be the same as herein provided in counties where there is more than one superior court judge. If the proceeding is in a county or city and county where there is more than one superior court judge, the judge to whom the case or cases shall be assigned, shall notify the presiding judge forthwith, of the number of judges which he deems necessary to participate, in order to finish the contest or contests in time to print the ballots for the final election, and the said presiding judge shall forthwith designate as many judges as are necessary to such completion of such contest, by order in writing, and thereupon all of the judges so designated shall participate in the recount of such ballots and the giving of judgment in such contest or contests in the manner herein specified. The said judges so designated by said last mentioned order, including the judge to whom said contests were originally assigned, shall convene upon notice from the judge to whom such contest or contests were originally assigned, and agree upon the precincts which each one of such judges will recount, sitting separately, and thereupon such recount shall proceed before each such judge sitting separately, as to the precincts so arranged, in such manner that the recount shall be made in such precincts before each such judge as to all the contests pending, so that the ballots opened before one judge need not be opened before another judge or department, and the proceedings before such judge in making such recount as to the appointment of the clerk and persons necessary to be assistants of the court in making the same, shall be the same as in contested elections, and the judge shall fix the pay or compensation for such persons, and require the payment each day in advance of the amount thereof, by the person who is proceeding with and requiring the recount of the precinct being recounted. When the recount shall have been completed in the manner herein required, if more than one judge has taken part therein, all the judges who took part shall assemble and make the decision of court, and if there be any differences of opinion, a majority of such judges shall finally determine all such questions, and give the decision or judgment of the court in such contest or contests, separately. Such decision or judgment of the court shall be final in every respect, and no appeal can be had therefrom. The judgment shall be served upon the county clerk or registrar of voters by delivery of a certified copy thereof, and may be enforced summarily in the manner provided in section twenty-seven of this act, and if the contest proceeds in more than one county, and the nominee is to be certified by the secretary of state from the compilation of election returns in his office, then the judgment in each county in which a contest may be had shall show what, if any changes in the returns in the office of the secretary of state relating to such county or city and county, ought to be made, and all such judgments shall be served upon the secretary of state, by the delivery of a certified copy, and he shall make such changes in the record in his office as such judgment or judgments require, and conform his compilation and his certificate of nomination in accordance therewith. If the office contested is one to be voted upon in more than one county, the time within which such contest may be brought in any county involved shall begin to run at the time of the declaration of the official canvass by the board of supervisors of the county last making such declaration. [Amendment of May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1363.]

Campaign expenses.

§ 29. No candidate for nomination to any elective office, including that of United States senator in congress, shall directly or indirectly pay, expend or contribute any money or other valuable thing, or promise so to do, except for lawful expenses. Lawful expenses as used in this section are limited to expenses for the following purposes only:

1. For the candidate's official filing fee.
2. For the preparing, printing, circulating, and verifying of nomination papers.
3. For the candidate's personal traveling expenses.
4. For rent and necessary furnishing of halls or rooms, during such candidacy, for public meetings or for committee headquarters.
5. For payment of speakers and musicians at public meetings and their necessary traveling expenses.
6. For printing and distribution of pamphlets, circulars, newspapers, cards, handbills, posters and announcements relative to candidates or political issues or principles.
7. For his share of the reasonable compensation of challengers at the polls.
8. For making canvassers of voters.
9. For clerk hire.
10. For conveying infirm or disabled voters to and from the polls.
11. For postage, expressage, telegraphing, and telephoning, relative to candidacy.

Verified statement of campaign expenses.

§ 30. Every person who shall be a candidate for nomination to any elective office shall make in duplicate, within fifteen days after the primary election, a verified statement, setting forth each and every sum of money contributed, disbursed, expended or promised by him, and, to the best of his knowledge and belief, by any and every other person or association of persons in his behalf wholly or partly in endeavoring to secure his nomination. This statement must show in detail all moneys paid, loaned, contributed, or otherwise furnished to him directly or indirectly in aid of his nomination, together with the name of the person or persons from whom such moneys were received; and must also show in detail, under each of the subdivisions of section twenty-nine of this act, all moneys contributed, loaned, or expended by him directly or indirectly by himself or through any other person, in aid of his nomination, together with the name of the person or persons to whom such moneys were paid, or disbursed. Such statement must set forth that the affiant has used all reasonable diligence in its preparation, and that the same is true and is as full and explicit as he is able to make it. Within the time aforesaid the candidate shall file one copy of said statement with the officer with whom his nomination papers were filed, and the other with the recorder of the county or city and county in which he resides, who shall record the same in a book to be kept for that purpose, and to be open to public inspection. No officer shall issue any certificate of nomination to any person until such statement as herein provided has been filed and no other statement of expenses shall be required except that provided herein, and no fee or charge whatsoever shall be made or collected by any officer for the verifying, filing, or recording of such statements or a copy thereof. [Amendment of May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats."1917, p. 1365.]

Penalty.

§ 31. Any person violating any of the provisions of section 29 or section 30 of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon trial and conviction thereof, in addition to the sentence imposed by the court, he shall forfeit all right to the office for which he was a candidate at the time of violating the provisions aforesaid.

Bribes. Penalty.

§ 32. 1. Any person who shall offer, or with knowledge of the same permit any person to offer for his benefit, any bribe to a voter to induce such voter to sign any nomination paper, and any person who shall accept such bribe or any promise of gain of any kind in the nature of a bribe as consideration for signing any nomination paper, whether such bribe or promise of gain in the nature of a bribe be offered or accepted before or after signing, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon trial and conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than three hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten days nor more than one hundred and twenty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Failure to file nomination papers.

2. Any person who, being in possession of any nomination paper or papers and affidavits entitled to be filed under the provisions of this act, shall wrongfully either suppress, neglect or fail to cause the same to be filed at the proper time and in the proper place shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon trial and conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Other offenses.

3. Any act or omission declared to be an offense by the general laws of this state concerning primaries and elections shall also in like case be an offense concerning primary elections as provided for by this act, and shall be punished in the same manner and form as therein provided, and all the penalties and provisions of the law governing elections, except as herein otherwise provided, shall apply in equal force to primary elections as provided for by this act.

Preparation of forms.

§ 33. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state and the attorney general to prepare on or before September 1, 1917, all forms necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, which forms shall be substantially followed in all primary elections held in pursuance hereof. [Amendment of May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1366.]

Title of act.

§ 34. This act shall be known as the direct primary law.

Constitutionality of act.

§ 35. If any section, subdivision, sentence, clause, or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portion of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subdivision, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subdivisions, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Repealed.

§ 36. The act approved April 7, 1911, known as the direct primary law, and also the act approved December 24, 1911, amending sections 1, 3, 5, 7, 10, 12, 13, 22, 23, and 24 of the said direct primary law, are hereby repealed; and all other acts or parts of acts, inconsistent with or in conflict with the provisions of this act, are also hereby repealed.

The code commissioners say of the act of 1895: "Unconstitutional. (Marsh v. Hanly, 111 Cal. 368, [43 Pac. 975]; Gett v. Supervisors, 111 Cal. 366, [43 Pac. 1122]. Superseceded by Political Code, §§ 1357-1375, added 1901, p. 606."

1. Constitutionality.—A compulsory primary law, such as is embodied in the additions to the Political Code made by the act of March 3, 1899 (§§ 1366, et seq.), forms a part of the general election laws of the state, and that act is void as an invasion of the bill of rights (Article I of the Constitution), and of the fundamental reserved rights of citizens of a free government.—Britton v. Board of Election Commissioners, 129 Cal. 337, 51 L. R. A. 115, 61 Pac. 1115.

2. Same.—Special legislation.—The act of 1897 is held to be special legislation and void, even if the primary elections therein provided for were not elections "authorized by law" within the meaning of section 1, Article II of the Constitution.—Spier v. Baker, 120 Cal. 370, 41 L. R. A. 196, 52 Pac. 659.

3. Same.—Right of Suffrage.—Section 11, Article XX, of the constitution gives the legislature power to pass laws properly and reasonable regulating the exercise of the right of suffrage, but not to determine who are entitled to the right itself, a subject which section 1, Article II, itself determines.—Spier v. Baker, 120 Cal. 370, 41 L. R. A. 196, 52 Pac. 659.

4. Same.—The primary election provided for by the act of 1897 is an election "authorized by law," within the meaning of section 1, Article II of the constitution, and in so far as it attempts to prescribe the qualifications of those entitled to vote at such election is unconstitutional as obnoxious to the provisions of that section.—Spier v. Baker, 120 Cal. 370, 41 L. R. A. 196, 52 Pac. 659.

5. Same.—Title.—Not germane to subject of act.—Certain provisions of the act of 1897 held not to be germane to the subject expressed in the title, and therefore obnoxious to the requirements of section 24, Article IV of the constitution.—Spier v. Baker, 120 Cal. 370, 41 L. R. A. 196, 52 Pac. 659.

6. Same.—The insertion of the words "for other purposes" in the title of the act of 1897 does not validate the act as to those provisions not germane to the subject expressed in the title.—Spier v. Baker, 120 Cal. 370, 41 L. R. A. 196, 52 Pac. 659.

7. Same.—Test oath.—The provision of the act of 1909 requiring an oath amounting to a party test is reasonable and valid, not in contravention of section 3, Article XX, of the constitution, declaring that no other oath, declaration or test shall be required as a qualification for any office or public trust, than the one there provided.—Socialist Party v. Uhl, 155 Cal. 776, 103 Pac. 181.

8. Same.—Fees of candidate.—The provisions of the act of 1909 for the payment of fees by candidates to filing officers are not provisions for property qualifications prohibited by section 24, Article I of the constitution, and even if they were they would not invalidate the act.—Socialist Party v. Uhl, 155 Cal. 776, 103 Pac. 181.

9. Same.—Special and local legislation.—The fact that the act of 1909 does not apply to municipal officers of municipalities whose charters provided a system of their own, does not render special or local.—Socialist Party v. Uhl, 155 Cal. 776, 103 Pac. 181.

10. Same—Reasonable tests for “electors,” “political parties” and “organizations of electors.”—The legislature was empowered under section 2½, Article II of the constitution, to fix reasonable tests for “electors,” “political parties,” and “organizations of electors,” and the provisions of the act of 1909, are reasonable, and therefore valid.—Socialist Party v. Uhl, 155 Cal. 776, 103 Pac. 181.

11.—Same—Choice for United States Senator.—The act of 1909 is not invalid because of the provision for expressing a choice for United States senator.—Socialist Party v. Uhl, 155 Cal. 776, 103 Pac. 181.

12. Same—Same—Germane to subject of act.—The subject of an advisory vote for United States Senators is germane to the subject of primary elections.—Socialist Party v. Uhl, 155 Cal. 776, 103 Pac. 181.

13. Same—Supersedes prior act.—The act of 1909 held valid, and to operate to supersede the act of 1905 as amended in 1907.—Socialist Party v. Uhl, 155 Cal. 776, 103 Pac. 181.

14. Same—Void in part.—The court can not hold section 26 void, and declare the act otherwise valid, for to do so would be imposing upon the whole state a law which, it is clear, the legislature intended to apply in only two counties, and which would not have passed otherwise, and that would be nothing short of judicial legislation.—Marsh v. Supervisors, 111 Cal. 366, 372, 43 Pac. 1122.

15. Same—Unauthorized classification of counties—Local and special legislation.—The act of 1895 is unconstitutional, as, not being a regulation of the compensation of county officials, for which purpose alone counties may be classified, local and special, since it applies only to counties of the first and second classes.—Marsh v. Supervisors, 111 Cal. 366, 43 Pac. 1122.

16. Same—Question can not be raised by uninterested party.—The question of the constitutionality of the primary law of 1895 can not be decided in an application for a writ of mandate by a taxpayer of Sacramento county, a person not interested in the operation of said law, by reason of the fact that it is made applicable only to San Francisco and Los Angeles counties.—Gett v. Board of Supervisors, 111 Cal. 366, 43 Pac. 1122.

17.—Same—Declaration of party affiliation.—Under the provisions of section 2½, Article II of the constitution the legislature was authorized to prescribe the test and condition for affiliation in the primary election, of the declaration of party affiliation prescribed by the act of 1913.—Don v. Pfister, 172 Cal. 25, 155 Pac. 60.

18. Construction—Object of act of 1909.—The whole object of the primary law of 1909 was to confine the control of a party to the electors of that party, and to prevent the electors of another party from interfering with such control.—Fickert v. Zemansky, 157 Cal. 398, 108 Pac. 269.

19. Same—Proviso of act of 1909.—The proviso of the act of 1909 allowing the voters on the registration list of the previous year to vote, where the new registration list had not been completed, was intended to apply to municipal elections early in the year.—Grieb v. Zemansky, 157 Cal. 316, 107 Pac. 605.

20. Same—Act of 1897.—Municipal elections.—The act of 1897 did not apply to the municipal elections of that year, since the machinery for such elections was not set in motion under the act until January, 1898.—McKinnon v. Leonard, 118 Cal. 302, 50 Pac. 536.

21. Same—Act of 1913 superseded act of 1909.—Primary election law of 1909 (691) superseded by act of 1913 (1379); and, as to San Francisco, by charter amendments of February 23, 1911 (1661).—Sullivan v. Gildea, 166 Cal. 198, 200, 135 Pac. 952.

21a. Same—Not a general election.—The fact that the act of 1911 fixed regular times for holding January elections does not make the elections held at such times and such said law general elections.—Bigelow v. Supervisors, 18 Cal. App. 715, 124 Pac. 554.

21b. Same.—The primary election of May 14, 1912, pursuant to the act of 1911, was not a general election within the meaning of the “local option” law of that year.—Bigelow v. Supervisors, 18 Cal. App. 715, 124 Pac. 554.

22. Same—Registration—Statement of party affiliation.—An elector is entitled to state in his affidavit of registration the name of the political party with which he intends to affiliate at the ensuing primary election, notwithstanding the amendment of section 1096, Political Code (1915, p. 289), striking from said section the provision that an elector may state this, in view of the present state of the law and without regard to acts adopted at the 1916 extra session of the legislature, said acts not having become effective because subjected to referendum.—Don v. Pfister, 172 Cal. 25, 26, 155 Pac. 60.

23. Same—Same—Effect of incorporation of requirement of 1096, Political Code.—The legal effect of the incorporation of the partisan registration requirement of section 1096, Political Code in the primary act of 1913, by reference, was the same as though that portion of the section, at least, had been inserted in the act in extenso, and the act could be subsequently affected by amending the section.—Don v. Pfister, 172 Cal. 25, 28, 155 Pac. 60.

24. Same—Same—It was the intention of the legislature to make section 1096, Political Code, as it then stood, a part of the primary act of 1913 (1379), by reference, in so far at least as partisan registration, provided for in that section, and so vital to the maintenance of the act, was concerned, so long as partisan registration was required by the primary law.—Don v. Pfister, 172 Cal. 25, 27, 155 Pac. 60.

25. Same — Same — Effect of amending § 1096, Political Code.—The amendment of section 1096, Political Code, by the act of 1915, by striking out the provision therein that the elector may state in his affidavit of registration the name of the political party with which he intends to affiliate at the ensuing primary election, did not work a change in the provisions of the act of 1913, which entitled him to make such a statement.—Don v. Pfister, 172 Cal. 25, 155 Pac. 60.

26. Same—Same.—The legislature could not affect the act of 1913, as to statements of party affiliation by merely amending section 1096 of the Political Code, which had been incorporated as a part of such act by reference.—Don v. Pfister, 172 Cal. 25, 155 Pac. 60.

27. Same — Registration of 1910.—The new registration of 1910 shall alone determine the right to vote at the August primary of that year, and incidentally the right to sign nominating petitions.—Grieb v. Zemansky, 157 Cal. 316, 107 Pac. 605.

28. Same—Refusal to allow non-registered elector to vote.—The refusal of the election officers at a primary election to receive the votes of electors whose names are not on the register, upon the presentation of their affidavits that they registered according to law, is not a proper ground of contest, and the superior court is without right or jurisdiction to receive such offered evidence, and since the decision of the court is final in every respect, and no appeal can be taken therefrom, the admission of such evidence is not an appealable error, and prohibition will issue to restrain the same.—Miller v. Superior Court, 25 Cal. App. 607, 612, 144 Pac. 978.

28a. Convention — Participation.—No qualified member of a convention composed as prescribed by the act of 1911 (extra session, p. 83) lost his right to participate thereby by any attitude he might assume as to party platform or candidates, whatever might be his motive with reference thereto.—Sbarboro v. Jordan, 164 Cal. 51, 55.

28b. Same — Official character not changed by withdrawals of one-third of the membership.—A republican convention assembled for the purpose of nominating candidates of that party for electors of president and vice president, composed of members selected according to the act of 1911 (extra session, p. 83), does not lose its regular official character by the withdrawal of one-third its membership, and the repudiation by the remaining members of the national party platform and candidates, and their indorsement of the candidates and platform of another party.—Sbarboro v. Jordan, 164 Cal. 51, 53.

28c. Same — Nominees for presidential electors.—A convention composed as provided by the act of 1911 (extra session, p. 83), of the so-called hold-over republican state senators, and the republican nominees for state senator and assemblyman throughout the state, selected at the regular primary election of the year, is the regular republican convention authorized by law to nominate candidates of that party for presidential electors, and its nominees have the right to have their names printed on the regular ballot as such nominees, notwithstanding such convention had repudiated the national republican party platform and candidates, and had indorsed the party platform and candidates of another party, and such nominees for electors had declared their intention to vote for the presidential candidates of such other party.—Sbarboro v. Jordan, 164 Cal. 51, 55.

29. Nomination of candidates.—Wide authority is conferred by the constitution (Act II, § 2½) upon the legislature in providing regulations for nominations at primary elections and fixing the eligibility of candidates for such nomination.—Miller v. Childs, 28 Cal. App. 478, 483, 152 Pac. 972.

30. Same—Party affiliation.—The selection of candidates for nomination by a party is, under the primary election law of 1913, committed to the members of that party, and it is the privilege of such members to select as their candidate a member of another party, or of no party at all.—Hart v. Jordan, 168 Cal. 321, 322, 143 Pac. 537.

31. Same—Offices included in election notice.—Candidates may be nominated under the direct primary law for such offices only as may be properly included in the notices provided for.—Fitzgerald v. Smith, 178 Cal. 679, 680, 174 Pac. 660.

32. Same—Membership in political party.—The provisions of subdivision 4, of section 5, of the primary election law of 1913, expressly authorizing a member of one political party, seeking its nomination for office, to become a candidate at the same election, for the same office, either by his own initiation or the action of five electors, for the nomination of another political party, are not violative of any constitutional restrictions.—Hart v. Jordan, 168 Cal. 321, 322, 143 Pac. 537.

33. The legislature is not bound, in the exercise of its power under section 2½, Article II of the constitution, to make membership in a party a condition of a right to seek its nomination.—Hart v. Jordan, 168 Cal. 321, 322, 143 Pac. 537; Williams v. Jordan, 168 Cal. 793.

34. Under the primary election law of 1913, a person who filed nomination papers as a candidate for a particular nomination for a specified office, and was defeated for such nomination at the primary election, but elected as the nominee for such office by another party, is not ineligible to run as the nominee of such other party, and is entitled to have his name inserted as such nominee on the ballot for the general election.—Narver v. Jordan, 173 Cal. 424, 425, 160 Pac. 245.

34a. The provision of section 23, as amended in 1917, "that no candidate for a nomination for other than a judicial, school, county, township or municipal office who fails to receive the highest number of votes for the nomination of the political party with which he was affiliated thirty-five days before the date of the primary election, as ascertained by the secretary of state from the affidavit of such candidate," etc., is constitutional, since it is a test which the legislature is authorized under section 2½, Article II of the constitution, to require.—Heney v. Jordan, 56 Cal. Dec. 295.

35. Same—Name of defeated candidate written in.—The provisions of subdivision 8 of section 5 of the primary election law with reference to nominations of candidates under section 1188 of the Political Code, simply means that a candidate for a party nomination who has been defeated at the primary for such nomination is ineligible for nomination as an independent candidate, after the primary, under that section, and has no reference to a candidate nominated at the primary by having his name written in, though defeated for the nomination as candidate for another party.—Narver v. Jordan, 173 Cal. 424, 426, 160 Pac. 245.

36. Section 23 of the direct primary act should be construed with reference to the placing of candidates for judicial, school, county and township offices on the official ballot, so as to read: "In case there is but one person to be elected at the November election to a judicial office, school office, county office or township office, any candidate who receives at the August primary election a majority of the total number of votes cast for all the candidates for such office shall be the only candidate for such office placed on the official ballot at the ensuing election," and should not be construed to prevent the electors from writing the name of their own candidate for such office.—Miller v. Childs, 28 Cal. App. 478, 489, 152 Pac. 972.

37. Same—The case of Socialist Party v. Uhl, 155 Cal. 776, 103 Pac. 181, is not authority for the denial of the right of an elector to vote at his party primary for any candidate he pleases, by writing in the name of such candidate on his party ballot; nor does that case declare that a candidate so selected is not entitled to have his name printed on the November ballot as the party candidate, although may be registered with another party and may actually be the candidate of another party for the same office.—Fickert v. Zemansky, 157 Cal. 398, 108 Pac. 269.

37a. Same—Ineligibility of successful candidate.—There is no good reason why the rule, that where the person receiving the highest number of votes for an office is ineligible, the person who receives the next highest is not elected, in the absence of statutory provisions to the contrary, does not apply to primary elections.—Heney v. Jordan, 56 Cal. Dec. 295.

38. Same—Act of 1909 construed and applied.—Subdivision 5d, section 5, of the primary election law of 1909, relative to the number of signers required by a party candidate for nomination, construed and applied.—Sullivan v. Gildea, 166 Cal. 198, 135 Pac. 952.

39. Same—Signers of nomination papers.—Only those electors whose names appear upon the register of 1910 can join in the nomination paper of a candidate to be voted for at the August primary.—Grieb v. Zemansky, 157 Cal. 316, 107 Pac. 605.

40. Same—Duty of clerk to purge nominating papers.—The county clerk is not required to purge a nominating petition of the names of signers who sign other petitions contrary to the act, but only to compare the signatures with the registration lists.—McDonald v. Curry, 158 Cal. 160, 110 Pac. 480.

41. Same—Placing name of candidate on ballot.—Prohibition will not issue to restrain either the secretary of state or the county clerk from placing the name of a person as a candidate on the primary ballot whose filed petitions are signed by the requisite per cent of voters under the act of 1909, even though a showing is made that a sufficient number of such signers had previously signed the petition of another candidate for the same office to reduce the percentage of signers below the requisite per cent.—McDonald v. Curry, 158 Cal. 160, 110 Pac. 480.

41a. Same—Filling vacancies by party committee.—Under section 25, as amended in 1917, the party committee is prohibited from filling a vacancy on the party ticket except in the single case of the death of the candidate occurring after the primary election.—Heney v. Jordan, 56 Cal. Dec. 295.

42. Same—Party affiliation—Reasonable tests.—Under the act of 1909 a person can have his name printed on the ballot as a candidate of the party with which he affiliated at the last general election, and an elector can vote only for candidates of the party with which he has registered, and it is held that both tests are reasonable and valid.—Socialist Party v. Uhl, 155 Cal. 776, 103 Pac. 181.

43. Same—Withdrawal of candidate.—Under the direct primary law of 1913 a candidate for office may withdraw his candidacy after nomination and qualification as such, and under section 27 of the act mandamus will lie to compel the election officials to omit his name from the ballots when prepared.—Bordwell v. Williams, 173 Cal. 283, 285, Ann. Cas. 1918E, 358, L. R. A. 1917A, 996, 159 Pac. 869.

44. Same—Affidavit of candidate after nomination.—The affidavit contemplated by section 5, subd. 4 of the direct primary law relates to the state of affairs after a nomination has been made, and has no application to the right of a candidate to withdraw prior to the primary election.—Bordwell v. Williams, 173 Cal. 283, 285, Ann. Cas. 1918E, 358, L. R. A. 1917A, 996, 159 Pac. 869.

45. Certificate of nomination—Mandate to compel issue.—A writ of mandate will not lie to compel the issuance of a certificate of nomination to a judicial office, by reason of votes received at a primary election to a person, who is not alleged to have received a majority of all the votes cast at such primary, and that there were not four such "majority candidates" nominated at such primary.—People ex rel. Jones v. Zemansky, 178 Cal. 803, 804, 175 Pac. 408.

46. A writ of mandate will not lie to compel the issuance of a certificate of nomination as a candidate for superior judge, by reason of votes cast at a primary election to a person whose name was not printed on the primary ballot, and who did not receive a sufficient number of votes by writing in to equal the number required by subdivision 9 of section 5.—People, ex rel. Jones v. Zemansky, 178 Cal. 803, 804, 175 Pac. 408.

47. Duty of supervisors.—The law contemplates prompt action by the supervisors in order that the names of the successful candidates may be placed on the ballot for the November election, and a careful compliance with the law as to the times when the several acts should be done is necessary, and if not complied with by reason of neglect or misconduct, any elector may institute appropriate proceedings to compel action.—Miller v. Superior Court, 25 Cal. App. 607, 611, 144 Pac. 978.

48. Contest — Original jurisdiction of supreme court.—The supreme court refused to entertain an original proceeding to determine a primary election contest, under section 27 of the act of 1909.—In re Snyder, 158 Cal. 218, 110 Pac. 820.

49. Same — Affidavit of candidate.—The affidavit of the candidate referred to in section 28 is the basis of the contest in which the ballots may be recounted before the superior court.—Miller v. Superior Court, 25 Cal. App. 607, 610, 144 Pac. 978.

50. Same — Time to file.—The five days time provided for filing contests does not begin to run until the supervisors have canvassed the returns and declared the vote.—Miller v. Superior Court, 25 Cal. App. 607, 610, 144 Pac. 978.

"PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY ACT."

ACT 1338—An act to provide for the indication by the registered qualified electors of their choice for nomination by their respective political parties for president of the United States through the election of the delegates of said political parties to their respective national conventions, and to repeal an act approved December 24, 1911, known as the presidential primary act, and also to repeal all other acts or parts inconsistent with or in conflict with the provisions of this act.

History: Approved April 28, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 279. Amended January 11, 1916. In effect immediately. Stats. 1916 (ex. sess.), p. 36. Prior act approved December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (ex. sess.), p. 85, was repealed by the present act. The primary law of 1911 provided for the election of delegates to the national conventions, but the act of 1911 superseded the provisions of that act.

Presidential primary election.

§ 1. On the first Tuesday in May of each year of the general November election at which electors of president and vice president of the United States are to be chosen, there shall be held a primary nominating election, to be known as the May presidential primary election, at which the registered qualified electors shall have opportunity, on separate party ballots provided for that purpose, to elect the delegates of their respective political parties to their respective national conventions for the nomination of their party candidates for president and vice president of the United States, thereby indicating the preference of said electors for their presidential nominee.

Secretary of state to be notified of number of delegates. Elected at large. Parties qualified to participate.

§ 2. The chairman of the state central committee, or, after the year 1916, the chairman of the congressional party committee, of each of the political parties qualified to participate in the election provided for in this act shall notify the secretary of state on or before the first day of March of each year of the general November election at which electors of president and vice president of the United States are to be chosen, as to the number of delegates to represent the state in the next national convention of his said party. If said chairmen, or any of them, fail to file such notice, it shall be the duty of the secretary of state to ascertain the said number of delegates from the call for said national convention issued by the national committee of each party whose chairman has failed to notify him as aforesaid. The delegates who shall represent each political party at its national convention shall all be elected by the voters of the state at large. The secretary of state shall, on or before the tenth day of March of the year of the May presidential primary election, certify to the county clerk or registrar of voters of each county, or city and county, the number of delegates to be so elected by each of the political parties qualified to participate in the said election. Any political party shall be qualified to participate in the May presidential primary election which is qualified to participate in the August primary election according to the provisions of the "direct primary law."

Delegates to national convention. Party test. Number of signers required. When delegates prefer same candidates.

§ 3. The names of persons to be voted upon as delegates to the respective national conventions of the several political parties shall be printed upon the ballots of their respective parties upon the filing of nomination papers substantially as provided in the direct primary law; provided, however, that the only party test that shall be required of each of the five qualified electors provided for in subdivision two (b) of section five of said direct primary law shall be a declaration on his part in the document by which verification deputies are appointed that it is his intention to affiliate at the ensuing primary election with that political party for nomination by which he is proposing a candidate or group of candidates for delegates; and provided, also, that the only party test that shall be required of each of the signers of the nomination paper of any candidate or group of candidates for delegate shall be a declaration by him made in such nomination paper that it is his intention to affiliate at the ensuing primary election with that political party for nomination by which he is signing such nomination paper, and that he has not signed the nomination paper of said candidate or group of candidates, or any other candidate or group of candidates, as candidate or group of candidates of any other party at said primary election; provided, that, in the case of each party, nomination papers for candidates for delegates must be signed by the same number of electors as is required on the nomination paper of a candidate for United States senator; and provided, also, that whenever a candidate for delegate files a statement with the secretary of state, as hereinafter provided in this section, wherein as a delegate he enrolls himself with other delegates in expressing his preference for the same person as candidate for presidential nominee, there may be nominated by the same nomination paper the names of all such candidates for delegates who are included in such statement as have individually filed similar statements with the secretary of state. The form of nomination paper as set forth in section five of said direct primary law shall be changed for this purpose by substituting, in the appropriate place, for the name of a single candidate, as follows: "hereby nominate the following:

(to 26 names, or such other number as may be required) as candidates for delegate to the national party convention, to be voted for at the primary election to be held on the day of May, 19..," and by making such other changes in said form as may be necessary. The verification deputies to obtain signatures on the nomination paper for such group of candidates for delegate may be appointed, either according to the provisions of subdivision two (a) of section five of said direct primary law, by said candidates for delegate joining together in the appointment of said deputies; or according to the provisions of subdivision two (b) of said section five, by the "five registered qualified electors" appointing said deputies to obtain signatures for the nomination of all of said candidates whose names are grouped together on the same nomination papers; provided, however, that the number of such candidates for delegate shall not be greater than the total number of delegates to be elected by said party; and provided, further, that the names of such candidates thus grouped together shall be so selected that the smallest number of such candidates who shall reside in any one congressional district shall be no less than the integer of the quotient obtained by dividing the number of the names of such candidates appearing upon the same nomination paper by the total number of congressional districts of the state, and that the largest number of such candidates who shall reside in any one congressional district shall be no greater than twice said integer; and if not so selected said names shall not be grouped together on the ballot, but shall appear as individuals.

Names grouped on ballot. Endorsement by candidate. Delegates statement of preference. Additional statement.

Candidates for delegate grouped together on the same nomination paper and selected as aforesaid shall be similarly grouped, in the same order of names, upon the ballots of their party; provided, that such group of candidates for delegate has the endorsement of that candidate for presidential nominee for whom the members of said group have filed a preference, or the endorsement of such a state political organization created in support of the candidacy of said presidential nominee as shall not be repudiated by him as lacking authority to make such endorsement; said endorsement, either of the candidate or of the organization supporting him, to be filed with the secretary of state. No candidates for delegate not thus endorsed shall have their names printed upon the ballot in a group, but such candidates must appear as individuals; and further provided, that the name of no candidate shall appear more than once on the ballot, and that any candidate whose nomination paper is filed in more than one group, or in the same group differently arranged, shall have his name printed on the ballot as a part of that group which has had first filed the endorsement as herein recited; provided, that one of the groups in which his name occurs has received such endorsement. Each candidate for election as delegate to his national party convention must file with the secretary of state not later than the time of filing of the nomination papers containing his name, an affidavit substantially as provided in section five of the "direct primary law," and may also include with his affidavit the following statement:

DELEGATE'S STATEMENT.

"I personally prefer as nominee of my political party for president of the United States, and hereby declare to the voters of my party in the state of California that if elected as delegate to their national party convention, I shall, to the best of my judgment and ability, support said as nominee of my party for president of the United States" (filling in the blanks by inserting his choice for such nominee). But the neglect or failure of any candidate to conclude any statement of preference for presidential nominee shall not be a valid ground on the part of the secretary of state for refusal to receive and file the nomination paper containing his name.

However, each candidate for delegate whose name is filed upon a nomination paper together with the names of other candidates, as hereinbefore in this section provided, in order to have his name printed upon the ballot in a group with such other names, must file such statement of preference, and shall add to it the following:

"And I hereby enroll myself in the expression of preference for said for presidential nominee, as one of the following named candidates for delegate:

.....
.....

Etc.

(the blanks immediately following the word 'delegate' being filled in by the printed or typewritten names of all the candidates for delegate, including the signer, whose names appear upon the same nomination paper in accordance with the provisions of this section).

(Signed)’’

[Amendment of January 11, 1916. In effect immediately. Stats. 1915, (extra session), p. 37.]

Names of candidates in parallel columns. Headings.

§ 4. The names of the candidates for delegate of any political party shall be arranged upon the ballot of such party in parallel columns, the various candidates for delegate appearing in these columns under their preference for president according to the provisions of section 3 of this act. That group of candidates which shall first file its nomination paper with the secretary of state shall be entitled to the first or left hand column; the group which next files its nomination paper shall be entitled to the second column; and similarly for all other groups. The left hand column shall be headed in heavy face, ten point, gothic type, the following:

“Candidates preferring’’

(The blank being filled in by the name of that candidate for presidential nominee for whom the members of the group in said left hand column have expressed a preference.) The second column shall be similarly headed except that the name of the candidate shall be that preferred by the members of the group in said second column; and so on for as many columns as may have groups who have expressed a preference for presidential nominee.

To the right of the last column headed by the name of a candidate for presidential nominee shall be a column headed by the words “No preference,” in heavy face, ten point, gothic type, in which column shall appear the names of all candidates for delegate who have expressed no preference for presidential nominee, or who have expressed a preference for a presidential nominee who has not endorsed said candidates, either personally, or through the state political organization created in support of his candidacy, as such endorsement is provided for in section 3 of this act. To the right of the last column shall be a column headed by the words “Blank column” in heavy face, ten point, gothic type, which column shall contain as many blank spaces as there are delegates to be elected by the political party concerned. In case that there are no names of candidates for delegate to be placed in a “No preference column,” such “No preference column” shall be omitted from the ballot, and the “Blank column” as herein provided for shall be placed to the right of and contiguous to the last column headed by the surname of a candidate for presidential nominee.

Style of printing names. Arrangement for voting.

The names of the various candidates for delegates shall be printed in eight point, roman capital type, under their respective preferences for presidential nominee or in the no preference column, as heretofore provided in this act. The names of each group on the ballot shall be numbered in heavy face, eight point type. The order of names for each column upon the ballot shall be the same as the order in which such names were filed with the secretary of state; provided, that above the individual names in each column, if any, shall appear the group of names, if any, which has received the endorsement referred to in section 3 of this act.

A blank column one-half inch wide shall be left upon the ballot opposite each group of names and to the right of the column of voting squares for the individual names and separated from it by a light dotted line, which blank column shall contain a square in which may be stamped a cross (X) which shall be counted as a vote for each and every name in the group opposite. Lengthwise along this blank column shall be printed “A cross (X) stamped in this square shall be counted for each name of the group to the left." The line separating any name from any other name not in a group or from any group of names shall be heavier than any line separating the individual names in such group and shall extend across the blank column provided for in this paragraph. Below the top line of this extension shall be printed in small heavy face type the words "top of group," and above the bottom line of the extension, the words "end of group."

Alternate delegates.

§ 5. The delegates to each national party convention elected at the May presidential primary election, shall, before leaving the state to attend the convention, meet together and select alternates to the convention. The number of alternates to be selected shall be no greater than one for each delegate, and each alternate must be selected from the congressional district of the delegate for whom he is an alternate; and the method of selection shall be as determined upon by the majority of the whole number of delegates who have been elected to the convention. The duties of an alternate shall be those usually appertaining to that position, and as prescribed by each party in the call for its national convention. The alternate of any such delegate as may be unable to attend the convention, shall attend the convention in his place, and shall otherwise discharge the duties of said delegate, but shall not vote in place of said delegate when said delegate is occupying his seat at the convention.

Registration used. Declaration of political affiliation.

§ 6. For purposes of the May presidential primary election only the new registration, beginning on January 1st of the year in which such May presidential primary election is held, shall be used. Any person registered in accordance with the provisions of this section and of section one thousand ninety-six of the Political Code and who, on asking for his party ballot at the polls, writes, or has written, and declares his political affiliation as in this section provided shall be qualified to vote at such election. On writing his name or having it written for him on the roster, as provided by law for general elections in this state, he shall likewise write or have written upon the roster the name of the political party with which he intends to affiliate in voting for candidates for office at the next ensuing November election. He shall then, in an audible tone of voice, declare to the election officer from whom he receives his ballot the name of such political party with which he intends to affiliate, and the clerk whose duty it is, according to law, to write the name of the elector on the poll list, shall also write opposite such name the name of said political party with which the elector declares it his intention to affiliate. Thereupon said elector shall be given the ticket of that political party only with which he thus declares himself affiliated, and he shall be permitted to vote only such ticket. Any person qualified by the provisions of this section to vote at any May presidential primary election shall also be qualified to sign the nomination papers of any person to be voted upon at such primary election. [Amendment of January 11, 1916. In effect immediately. Stats. 1915, (extra session), p. 39.]

Ballot. Instructions to voters.

§ 7. The ballot to be used at the May presidential primary election shall be prepared according to the provisions of sections 3 and 4 of this act, and also according to such provisions of the "direct primary law" as are applicable to this act and not in conflict with its provisions; provided, that the words at the top of the ballot shall be "Official presidential primary election ballot," and that the instructions to voters shall be as follows: "To vote for a person whose name appears on the ballot, stamp a cross (X) in the square at the right of the name of the person for whom you desire to vote; or if you wish to vote for all of a group of persons, stamp a cross (X) in the square opposite such group which cross shall be counted for each name of the group. A group consists of candidates for delegates nominated on the same nomination paper. To vote for a person whose name is not printed on the ballot, write his name in the blank space provided for that purpose; and it is optional, but not necessary, to stamp a cross after such name."

Printing.

There shall be printed in heavy face, twelve point, gothic type, across the page above the columns of candidates for delegates, the words, "For delegates to national convention vote for, either as individuals or by group, but do not vote for more than" (the blanks being filled in by the number of delegates to be elected by the political party concerned).

The ballot shall be printed substantially in the following form:

Form.

[Face of ballot on insert.]

County clerk to provide ballots. Sample ballots. Size, etc.

§ 8. The county clerk of each county, or registrar of voters in any city or county, shall distribute to each precinct, as near as may be, twice as many official ballots for each party as were cast in the precinct for the candidate of that party for United States senator at the last election in this state at which a United States senator was elected; and if the number of ballots so furnished proves insufficient, additional ballots must be furnished by the county clerk on demand by the board of election officials of the precinct. One sample ballot of each party shall be mailed to every elector entitled to vote at the May presidential primary election, not more than ten days nor less than five days before the election. This sample ballot for each party shall be one half the dimensions, as near as may be, of the official ballot for such party, and shall otherwise be of the same form, and contain the same names and heading, as the official ballot; and above the first line of said heading shall appear the words "Sample ballot (reduced to one-quarter size) of the."

Direct primary law to govern.

§ 9. The provisions of the direct primary law shall govern the May presidential primary election in so far as said provisions are applicable to said election and are not inconsistent with or in conflict with the provisions of this act. [Amendment of January 11, 1916. In effect immediately. Stats. 1916 (extra session), p. 40.]

Secretary of state and attorney general to prepare forms.

§ 10. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state and the attorney general to prepare, on or before the first day of January, 1916, all forms necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, which forms shall be substantially followed in all presidential primary elections held in pursuance hereof.

Title of act.

§ 11. This act shall be known as the presidential primary act.

Repealed.

§ 12. The act approved December 24, 1911, known as the presidential primary act, is hereby repealed, and all other acts and parts of acts inconsistent with or in conflict with the provisions of this act are also hereby repealed.

Election called.

§ 13. The first May presidential primary election to be held under the provisions of this act shall be held on the second day of May, 1916, and a presidential primary election to be held on the said second day of May, 1916, is hereby called and provided for. [New section added January 11, 1916. In effect immediately. Stats. 1916 (extra session), p. 40.]

The amending act of 1916 contained the following:

In effect immediately.

§ 5. This act, inasmuch as it calls an election and provides the procedure therefor, shall, under the provisions of article IV, section one of the constitution, take effect immediately.

CONSOLIDATION OF ELECTIONS.

ACT 1339—An act to permit the consolidation of elections and to provide a procedure therefor.

History: Approved June 11, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 698. Amended June 4, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1163.

Consolidation of elections on same day.

§ 1. Whenever two or more elections are called to be held on the same day, in the same territory, or in territory that is in part the same, such elections may be consolidated in the manner provided by this act.

Elections under charters or state laws.

§ 2. Any such two or more elections, whether held under a freeholders' charter or under any state law, or both, may be so consolidated and different elections called by the same governing body may be so consolidated.

Authority to consolidate.

§ 3. Such elections may be consolidated as to territory which is the same by order of the governing body or bodies calling the elections; and where one of the elections to be consolidated in a state election, the board of supervisors of the county wherein said consolidation may be had shall have authority to order such consolidation, as respects such state election.

Precincts, etc., the same for consolidated elections. Supervisors may canvass returns for cities.

§ 4. Within the territory affected by such order of consolidation, the election precincts, polling places and voting booths shall, in every case, be the same and there shall be only one set of election officers in each of such precincts. When the returns of elections consolidated under this act are required to be canvassed by different canvassing bodies, such elections shall be conducted separately in the same manner as if they had not been consolidated, except as in this section provided; and provided, further, that in case of the consolidation of an election called by the legislative body of a city with an election called by the board of supervisors of the county in which such city is situated, the governing body of such city, in the ordinance or notice calling such election, may authorize such board of supervisors to canvass the returns of such election, and such election shall be held in all respects as if there were only one election, and only one ticket or ballot shall be used thereat; and the returns of such election need not be canvassed by the legislative body of such city. When the returns of any two or more elections consolidated under this act are required to be canvassed by the same body, such elections shall be held in all respects as if there were only one election, and only one ticket or ballot shall be used thereat. [Amendment of June 4, 1915. In effect August 8, 1916. Stats. 1915, p. 1163.]

Appointment of officers, etc.

§ 5. When elections are consolidated under the provisions of this act, the governing body or bodies ordering such consolidation may, in the territory affected thereby, provide for the appointment of officers of election, for the formation of precincts for such elections and the expenses of said election.

Act of 1911 not repealed.

§ 6. Nothing in this act shall be so construed as to repeal an act of the legislature of the state of California, entitled, "An act to provide for the regulation of the traffic in alcoholic liquors by establishing local option; authorizing the filing of petitions praying for elections to vote upon the question whether the sale of alcoholic liquors shall be licensed within the territory described in such petitions; providing for the calling and holding of such elections; making it the duty of the proper governing body to declare such territory to be no-license territory unless a majority of votes is cast in favor of license; providing that no licenses, permits or other authority to sell or distribute alcoholic liquors in no-license territory shall be granted; forfeiting and declaring void all such licenses or permits theretofore issued and in force; making it a penal offense to sell, give away or distribute alcoholic liquors within such territory, with certain exceptions; and providing penalties for such offenses," approved April 4, 1911.

LEGALIZING REGISTRATIONS.ACT 1340—An act to legalize registration of electors.

History: Approved December 4, 1911, Stats. 1911 (ex. sess.), p. 1.

Registrations declared legal and valid. Registrations of married women.

§ 1. All registrations of electors of this state, heretofore made or attempted to be made, which are defective or illegal by reason of any defect, irregularity, or illegality in the appointment, qualification, or authority of the deputy clerks or other officials or persons before whom such registrations may have been made, or who took the affidavits of the persons so registering, and all registrations of married women, who have registered under the given names, or the initials of the given names of their respective husbands, are hereby declared to be valid and legal, and are hereby validated in every case where the elector, who has made such illegal or defective registration, was, at the time of such registration, in all respects eligible to register as an elector of this state, and possessed all of the qualifications required therefor by the constitution and laws of this state.

Declaration of urgency. Facts constituting necessity for legislative action.

§ 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure within the meaning of section 1, article IV of the constitution, and is deemed necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace and safety. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity: That elections are about to be held in certain municipalities in this state prior to the first day of January, 1912, and defects and irregularities have occurred in the registration of a large number of electors in such municipalities, which defects, owing to defects and irregularities in the appointment, qualification or authority of the deputy clerks or other officials or persons before whom such registration were made, and to the registration of married women under the given names, or initials of the given names of their respective husbands, and by reason whereof a question has arisen regarding the right of many persons, so registered, to vote at said elections, who were, at the time of such registration, in all respects eligible to register as electors of this state, and who possessed all of the qualifications required therefor by the constitution and laws of this state; that there is now existing a feeling of public unrest and apprehension regarding such registration and such elections; that, unless the right of such persons to vote at such elections is legally established prior to the holding thereof, public disorder and breaches of the public peace at such elections are liable to ensue, and the public safety and the orderly conduct of such elections are liable to be endangered.

“PIECE CLUBS.”

ACT 1341—An act to prohibit “piece clubs,” and to prevent extortion from candidates for office.

History: Approved March 14, 1878, Stats. 1877-78, p. 236.

Election expenses; how raised.

§ 1. All payments and contributions of money for election expenses, made by candidates for office in this state, shall hereafter be assessed and made by such candidates by voluntary assessment among themselves, and not otherwise, and at meetings to be called for such purpose, at which meetings none but candidates for office at the next ensuing election shall be present or participate.

Misdemeanor.

§ 2. Any person being a candidate for office in this state, who shall directly or indirectly pay, or knowingly cause to be paid, any money or other valuable thing to any person, as an assessment or contribution for the expenses of the election at which such person or candidate is to be voted for, except the contribution or assessment so agreed upon by such meeting of candidates, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, punished accordingly.

Certain acts declared unlawful.

§ 3. It shall not be lawful for any committee, convention, or other association, formed for the purpose of nominating a candidate or candidates for office in this state, to levy, assess, collect, demand, or receive, directly or indirectly, any money or other valuable thing from any candidate or candidates nominated for office by such committee, convention, or other association, either for the expenses of printing or distributing tickets, or for any of the expenses of the election of such candidate or candidates, or as or for the expenses of such nominating convention, committee, or other association, or under or upon any pretense whatsoever.

Misdemeanor.

§ 4. Any officer or member of any such committee, convention, or association, or other person, who shall vote for, aid, authorize, assist, or consent to any such levy, assessment, or collection from any candidate or candidates, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction, punished accordingly.

Same.

§ 5. Any person who shall demand, ask for, collect, or receive, either directly or indirectly, any money or other valuable thing from any candidate or candidates for office in this state, on the ground that such money or other valuable thing has been assessed to such candidate or candidates, or asked for, demanded, or required by any person, nominating convention, committee, or other political association, as or for the costs of printing or distributing tickets, or for the payment of election expenses of any kind or nature whatsoever, or as or for the expenses of such nominating committee, convention, or association, shall, for each offense, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction, shall be punished accordingly; but nothing herein contained shall prevent the candidates at any election from assembling together and voluntarily assessing themselves for any expenses authorized by law for the common good of the ticket, and to collect and disburse the same by agents appointed for such purpose.

Same.

§ 6. Any person who shall voluntarily and unsolicited offer to work for and assist, or in any manner whatsoever contribute to the nomination or election of any candidate or other person to any office in this state, for the purpose and with the intent to have such candidate or person pay for, or in any manner compensate such person so offering for such work or services, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction, punished accordingly.

Applies only to San Francisco.

§ 7. This act shall apply only to the city and county of San Francisco.

Act takes effect when.

§ 8. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Code commissioner's note: "Modified, if not repealed, by the purity of elections act, 1893: 12."

SPECIAL STATE ELECTION CALLED.

ACT 1342—An act calling and authorizing and directing the governor of the state to call a special election to be held on Tuesday October twenty-sixth, 1915, and providing for the submission thereat to the qualified electors of the state of all amendments to the constitution of the state of California proposed by the legislature of said state at its forty-first session, and of all laws passed by the said legislature at its forty-first session which may be delayed from going into effect by referendum petition.

History: Approved June 12, 1915. In effect August 11, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1500.

Special state election called October 26, 1915.

§ 1. A special election is hereby called and the governor of the state is hereby authorized and directed to call a special election to be held throughout the state of California on Tuesday, the twenty-sixth day of October, 1915, and at such special election there shall be submitted to the qualified electors of said state for adoption or rejection, in accordance with the provisions of section 1 of article XVIII of the constitution of said state, all amendments to said constitution proposed by the legislature of said state at its forty-first regular session commencing on the fourth day of January, 1915, and all laws passed by the said legislature at said session which may have been delayed from going into effect by referendum petition filed in accordance with the provisions of section 1 of article IV of the constitution of said state.

§ 2. Said special election shall be proclaimed, held, conducted and the ballots shall be prepared, marked, voted, counted, canvassed, and the results shall be ascertained and the returns thereof made in all respects in accordance with the provisions of the constitution applicable thereto and the law governing general elections in so far as the provisions thereof are applicable to the election provided for by this act.

ACT 1350. REGULATING ELECTRIC POLES, WIRES, ETC.

1351. REGULATING SUBWAYS, MANHOLES, ETC.

1352. JOINT MUNICIPAL PUBLIC UTILITIES.

REGULATING ELECTRIC POLES, ETC.

ACT 1350—An act regulating the placing, erection, use and maintenance of electric poles, wires, cables and appliances, and providing the punishment for the violation thereof.

History: Approved April 22, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1037. Amended June 5, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1058.

§ 1. No commission, officer, agent or employee of the state of California, or of any city and county or city or county or other political subdivision thereof, and no other person, firm, or corporation shall—

No wire within 13 inches of pole. Not applicable to telephone. Toll lines may be exempt. Not applicable to "lead" wires, etc.

(a) Run, place, erect or maintain any wire or cable used to carry or conduct electricity, on any pole, or any crossarm, bracket or other appliance attached to such pole, within a distance of thirteen inches from the center line of said pole; provided, that the foregoing provisions of this paragraph (a) shall be held not to apply to telephone, telegraph or other "signal" wires or cables which are attached to a pole to which is attached no wire or cable other than telephone, telegraph or other "signal" wire or cable, except within the corporate limits of any city or town which shall have been incorporated as a municipality, nor shall the foregoing provisions be held to apply to such wires or cables in cases where the same are placed vertically on poles, nor to "bridle" or "jumper" wires on any pole which are attached to telephone, telegraph or other "signal" wires on the same pole, nor to any "aerial" cable, as between such cable and any pole on which it originates or terminates; and further provided, that telephone toll lines may be exempt from the provisions of this paragraph (a) provided proper evidence introduced before the railroad commission of the state of California proves to the satisfaction of said railroad commission, that compliance with the provisions of this paragraph (a) would seriously interfere with long distance telephone transmission; and further provided, that the provisions of this paragraph (a) shall not be held to apply to wires run from "lead" wires to arc or incandescent lamps nor to transformers placed upon poles, nor to any wire or cable where the same is attached to the top of a pole, as between it and said pole, nor to any "aerial" cable containing telephone, telegraph or other "signal" wires where the same is attached to a pole on which no other wires or cables than wires continuing from said cable are maintained; provided, that electric light or power wires or cables are in no case maintained on the same side of the street or highway on which said "aerial" cable is placed.

No wire within 13 inches of pole though unattached thereto.

(b) Run, place, erect or maintain in the vicinity of any pole (and unattached thereto) within the distance of thirteen inches from the center line of said pole, any wire or cable used to conduct or carry electricity, or place, erect or maintain any pole (to which is attached any wire or cable used to conduct or carry electricity) within the distance of thirteen inches (measured from the center of such pole) from any wire or cable used to conduct or carry electricity; provided, that as between any wire or cable and any pole, as in the paragraph (b) named, only the wire, cable or pole last in point of time run, placed or erected, shall be held to be run, placed, erected or maintained in violation of the provisions of this paragraph; and provided, further, that the provisions of this paragraph (b) shall not be held to apply to telephone, telegraph or other "signal" wires or cables on poles to which are attached no other wires, as between such wires and poles to which are attached no other wires or cables than telephone, telegraph or other "signal wires; provided, such wires, cables and poles are not within the corporate limits of any town or city which shall have been incorporated as a municipality; and further provided, that telephone toll lines may be exempt from this paragraph (b) provided proper evidence introduced before the railroad commission of the state of California, proves to the satisfaction of the said railroad commission, that compliance with the provisions of this paragraph (b) would seriously interfere with long distance telephone transmission.

Wires carrying more than 600 volts. Last wire run violates. Railroad commission may permit deviations.

(c) Run, place, erect or maintain, above ground, within the distance of four feet from any wire or cable conducting or carrying less than six hundred volts of electricity, any wire or cable which shall conduct or carry at any one time more than six hundred volts of electricity, or run, place, erect or maintain within the distance of four feet from any wire or cable which shall conduct or carry at any one time more than six hundred volts of electricity any wire or cable conducting or carrying less than six hundred volts of electricity; provided, that the foregoing provisions of this paragraph (c) shall be held not to apply to any wires or cables attached to a transformer, arc or incandescent lamp within a distance of four feet (measured along the line of said wire or cable), from the point where such wire or cable is attached to such transformer, arc or incandescent lamp, nor to wires or cables within buildings or other structures, nor to wires or cables where the same are placed vertically on poles, or to any "lead" wires or cables between the points where the same are made to leave any pole for the purpose of entering any building or other structure and the point at which they are made to enter such building or structure; and provided, further, that as between any two wires or cables, or any wire or any cable, run, placed, erected or maintained in violation of the provisions of this paragraph (c), only the wire or cable last in point of time run, placed or erected shall be held to be run, placed, erected or maintained thus in violation of said provisions; and further provided, that where no more than one crossarm is maintained on a pole, all the wires or cables conducting or carrying at any one time more than six hundred volts of electricity shall be placed on the crossarm on one side of the pole, and all the wires or cables conducting or carrying less than six hundred volts of electricity shall be placed on the crossarm on the other side of the pole; and further provided, that the space between any wire or cable conducting or carrying at any one time more than six hundred volts of electricity and any wire or cable carrying less than said voltage shall be at least thirty-six inches clear measurement in a horizontal line. Where the foregoing provisions of this paragraph (c) can not be complied with, the railroad commission of the state of California may grant permission for the following form of construction; where two or more systems for the distribution of electric light or power occupy the same poles with wires or cables, all wires or cables conducting or carrying at any one time more than six hundred volts of electricity may be placed on the crossarms on one side of the pole, and all wires or cables conducting or carrying less than said voltage, shall in such case, be placed on the crossarms on the other side of the pole; and further provided, that the space between any wire or cable conducting or carrying at any one time more than six hundred volts of electricity and any wire or cable conducting or carrying less than said voltage shall be at least thirty-six inches in measurement in a horizontal line; and further provided, that in such construction all crossarms shall be at least thirty-six inches apart in a vertical line.

Crossarms to be painted yellow.

(d) Run, place, erect or maintain any wire or cable which shall conduct or carry at any one time more than six hundred volts of electricity, without causing each crossarm, or such other appliance as may be used in lieu thereof, to which such wire or cable is attached to be kept at all times painted a bright yellow color, or, on such crossarm, or other appliance used in lieu thereof, shall be placed signs, providing, in white letters on a green background, not less than three (3) inches in height the words "high voltage" on the face and back of each crossarm. The provisions of this paragraph (d) shall not be held to apply to crossarms to which are attached wires or cables carrying or conducting more than ten thousand volts of electricity, and which are situated outside the corporate limits of any town or city which shall have been incorporated as a municipality.

Guy wires to be insulated.

(e) Run, place, erect or maintain any "guy" wire or "guy" cable attached to any pole or appliance to which is attached any wire or cable used to conduct or carry electricity, without causing said "guy" wire or "guy" cable to be effectively insulated at all times at a distance of not less than four (4) feet nor more than eight (8) feet (measured along the line of said wire or cable) from the upper end thereof, and at a point not less than eight (8) feet vertically above the ground from the lower end thereof; and further provided, that wherever two or more "guy" wires or "guy" cables are attached to the same pole and same anchorage pole there shall be at least one foot, vertical space, between the points of attachment; and further provided, that no insulation shall be required at the lower end of a "guy" wire or "guy" cable where same is attached to a grounded anchor; and further provided, that where "guy" wires or "guy" cables are attached to a pole or structure of steel or other conducting material supporting wires or cables carrying in excess of fifteen thousand volts where pole or structure is thoroughly grounded no insulation shall be required at any point in said "guy" wire or "guy" cable; none of the provisions of this paragraph (e) shall be held to apply to "guy" wires or "guy" cables attached to poles carrying no wire or cable other than telephone, telegraph or other "signal" wire or cable, and which are situated outside the corporate limits of any town or city which shall have been incorporated as a municipality.

Wires to be insulated.

(f) Run, place, erect or maintain vertically on any pole any wire or cable used to conduct or carry electricity, without causing such wire or cable to be at all times wholly incased in a casing equal in durability and insulating efficiency to a wooden casing not less than one and one-half inches thick. The provisions of this paragraph (f) shall not be held to apply to vertical telephone, telegraph or other "signal" wires or cables on poles where no other such wires or cables are maintained, and which are outside the corporate limits of any town or city which shall have been incorporated as a municipality; nor to wires or cables run vertically on iron poles or structures where both pole or structure and conduit are securely grounded.

Transformers and arc lamps not to be carried on one pole.

(g) Place, erect or maintain on any pole, or any crossarm or other appliance on said pole, which carries or upon which is placed an electric arc lamp, any transformer for transforming electric currents; provided, however, that this section (g) shall not apply if any arc lamp that shall be suspended so that it can be trimmed from the ground or from a stand located on the pole not less than seven feet below the transformer; and further provided, that in so suspending an arc lamp (where transformer is located on same pole) no wire or cable in connection therewith shall be run vertically on the pole unless said wire or cable be protected as provided for in paragraph (f) of this section 1.

Crossing of high voltage wires.

(h) Run, place, erect or maintain any wire or cable carrying more than fifteen thousand volts of electricity across any wire or cable carrying less than said voltage or across any public highway, except on pole of such height and so placed at each crossing that under no circumstances can said wire or cable of said voltage higher than fifteen thousand volts in case of breakage thereof or otherwise, come in contact with any wire or cable of less than said voltage, or fall within a distance of ten (10) feet from the surface of any public highway; or in lieu thereof double strength construction may be installed, in which case the wires carrying a voltage higher than fifteen thousand volts shall, between the points of crossing, be of a cross-section area equal to at least twice that used in the line outside of such crossing, except where the conductor used is equal to number four (4) stranded Brown and Sharpe gauge or greater, in which case the wires or cables will be considered as complying with the law.

Attachment of suspension wires.

(i) Run, place, erect or maintain any suspension wire to which is attached any "aerial" cable of "75 pair number nineteen Brown and Sharpe gauge" or over, or of "100 pair number twenty-two Brown and Sharpe gauge" or over suspended from a crossarm (or from any other structure or appliance from which said suspension wire is hung), by a single bolt and clamp without at the same time attaching said suspension wire to said crossarms, structure or appliance by an additional "safety" bolt and clamp (or other "safety" appliance for thus attaching said suspension wire) of tensile strength equal to the first herein said bolt and clamp. [Amendment of June 5, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1058.]

Preceding not applicable to direct current wires, etc.

§ 2. None of the provisions of the preceding section shall be held to apply to "direct current" electric wires or cables having the same polarity, nor to "signal" wires when no more than two (2) of such "signal" wires are attached to any one pole, provided, that none of such "direct current" or "signal" wires shall in any case be run, placed, erected or maintained within the distance or [of] thirteen (13) inches from the center line of any pole (other than the pole or poles on which said wires or cables are carried) carrying electric wires or cables; and provided, further, that as between any two wires, or cables, or any wire or cable run, placed, erected or maintained in violation of the provisions of this section 2 only the wire or cable last in point of time run, placed, erected or maintained shall be held to be run, placed, erected or maintained thus in violation of said provisions.

Insulation of span wires.

§ 3. No commission, officer, agent or employee of the state of California, or of any city and county or city or county or other political subdivision thereof, and no other person, firm or corporation shall run, place, erect or maintain any "span" wire attached to any wire or cable used to conduct or carry electricity, without causing said "span" wire to be at all times effectively insulated between the outer point at which it is in any case fastened to the pole or other structure by which it is hung or supported, and at the point at which it is in any case thus attached; provided, that such insulation shall not in any case be placed less than two (2) feet or more than four (4) feet from said point at which said "span" wire is so attached, and that when in any case such "span" wire is attached along its length to any two (2) such wires or cables, conducting or carrying electricity and extending parallel to each other, not more than eighteen (18) feet apart, such insulation shall not be required therein at any point between such parallel wires or cables; none of the provisions of this section three (3) shall be held to apply where "feeder" wires are used in place of "span" wires. [Amendment of June 5, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1062.]

Penalty for violation.

§ 4. Any violation of any provision of this act shall be deemed to be a misdemeanor, and shall be punishable upon conviction by a fine of not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six (6) months or by both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 5. All acts or parts of acts which are in conflict with the, or with any of the provisions of this, act are hereby repealed.

§ 6. This act shall take effect six months from the date of its passage in so far as it relates to new work, and a period of five years shall be allowed in which to reconstruct all existing work and construction to comply with the provisions of this act.

Extension of time.

§ 7. Any commission, officer, agent or employee of the state of California or any city and county, or city or county, or other political subdivision thereof, or any other person, firm or corporation may upon proper application to the railroad commission of the state of California be granted by said railroad commission an extension of time beyond that provided for in section 6 of this act; provided, it is shown to the satisfaction of said commission that the provisions of this act can not be complied with by said applicant within said time, or that the applicant for good and sufficient reasons has not been able to comply with the provisions of this act, and that such applicant has heretofore used due diligence so to do within the time specified in said section 6. [New section added June 5, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1062.]

Power to grant additional time.

§ 8. The railroad commission of the state of California is hereby vested with authority and power, at its discretion to grant such additional time and is hereby instructed to inspect all work which is included in the provisions of this act, and to make such further additions or changes as said commission may deem necessary for the purpose of safety to employees and the general public, and the said railroad commission is hereby charged with the duty of seeing that all the provisions of this act are properly enforced. [New section added June 5, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1063.]

Jurisdiction of industrial accident commission over the safety of employees of electric interurban or street railroads, under Act 2101a does not repeal or modify this act. See § 4, Act 2101a.

1. Constitutionality.—The act is not unconstitutional as class legislation.—Bloxham v. Tehama, etc., Tel. Co., 29 Cal. App. 326, 155 Pac. 654.

2. Purpose of act.—It was not the intention of the legislature that the act should apply only to future construction, nor that reconstruction to comply with the act should be deferred until reconstruction should become necessary through depreciation, obsolescence, commercial needs or other reasons.—In re Los Angeles G. & E.

Corporation, et al., 11 California R. C. D. 291.

3. Act a safety measure.—The act should be enforced as a safety measure, and public utilities affected will be required to exercise all reasonable diligence in complying with the act.—In re Los Angeles G. & E. Corporation, et al., 11 California R. C. D. 291.

4. Extensions of time to comply with act.—Under sections 7 and 8, the railroad extended the time to comply with the provisions of the act in a large number of instances.—See 9 California R. C. D. 542, 628; 10 Id. 59; 11 Id. 266-363, 409-443, 553, 718, 735, 802; 12 Id. 68, 108, 347, 627; 13 Id. 341, 347, 369-371; 14 Id. 76, 374, 455.

REGULATING SUBWAYS, MANHOLES, ETC.

ACT 1351—An act to regulate the construction and maintenance of subways, manholes, and underground rooms, chambers, and excavations, used to contain, encase, cover, or conduct wires, cables, or appliances to conduct, carry, or handle electricity, and providing the punishment for the violation thereof.

History: Approved April 22, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1042. Amended May 22, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 801.

Dimensions of electric wire subways.

§ 1. No commission, officer, agent, or employee of the state of California or of any city and county or city or county or other political subdivision thereof, and no other person, firm or corporation, shall build or rebuild or cause to be built or rebuilt within the state of California:

(a) Any subway, manhole, chamber, or underground room used or to be used to contain, encase, cover or conduct any wire, cable, or appliance, to conduct, carry or handle electricity, unless such subway, manhole, chamber or underground room shall have an inside measurement of not less than four feet of the maximum points between the side walls thereof, and between the end walls thereof, and not less than five feet at all points between the floor thereof, and the top or ceiling thereof, or if circular in shape, at least four feet diameter inside measurement, and not less than five feet at all points between the floor and ceiling thereof; provided, however, that this paragraph shall not be held to apply to any such subway, manhole, chamber or underground room, within which it is not intended or required that any human being perform work or labor or be employed; further provided, that the provisions of this paragraph (a) shall not be held to apply where satisfactory proof shall be submitted to the railroad commission of the state of California, that it is impracticable or physically impossible to comply with this law within the space or location so designated by the proper municipal authorities.

Openings to outer air.

(b) In any subway, manhole, chamber or underground room, used or to be used to contain, encase, cover or conduct any wire, cable or appliance to conduct, carry or handle electricity, any opening to outer air which is less than twenty-six inches if circular in shape, or less than twenty-four inches by twenty-six inches clear measurement if rectangular in shape.

Openings to be not less than three feet from street car track.

(c) In any subway, manhole, chamber or underground room, used or to be used to contain, encase, cover or conduct any wire, cable or appliance to conduct, carry or handle electricity, any opening which is at the surface of the ground, within the distance of three feet at any point from the rail of any railway or street car track; provided, that the provisions of this paragraph (c) shall not be held to apply where satisfactory proof shall be submitted to the railroad commission of the state of California, that it is impracticable or physically impossible to comply with this law in the space or location so designated by the proper municipal authorities.

Floor of subway to be of concrete, etc.

(d) Any subway, manhole, chamber or underground room, used or to be used to contain, encase, cover or conduct any wire, cable, or appliance to conduct, carry, or handle electricity, unless the floor of such subway, manhole, chamber or underground room is made of stone, concrete, brick or other similar material not subject to decomposition; provided, that this paragraph (d) shall not be held to apply to any such subway, manhole, chamber or underground room within which it is not intended or required that any human being perform work or labor or be employed.

Subways to be kept free from seepage.

(e) Or maintain any subway, manhole, chamber or underground room used, or to be used, to contain, encase, cover or conduct any wire, cable or appliance to conduct, carry or handle electricity, unless such subway, manhole, chamber or underground room is kept at all times in a sanitary condition, and free from stagnant water, or seepage, or other drainage, or any offensive matter dangerous to health, either by sewer connection or otherwise; provided, that this paragraph (e) shall not be held to apply to any such subway, manhole, chamber or underground room, within which it is not intended or required that any human being perform work or labor, or be employed. [Amendment of May 22, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 801.]

Penalty for violation.

§ 2. Any violation of any provision of this act shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and shall be punishable upon conviction by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. [Amendment of May 22, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 802.]

§ 3. None of the provisions of subdivisions a, b, c, and d, of section 1 of this act shall be so construed as to be retroactive or apply to works already constructed, and all acts or parts of acts which are in conflict with this act, are hereby repealed.

§ 4. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after the date of passage.

Power of railroad commission.

§ 5. The railroad commission of the state of California is hereby vested with authority and power to inspect all work which is included in the provisions of this act, and to make such further additions or changes as said commission may deem necessary for the purpose of safety to employees and the general public, and the said railroad commission is hereby charged with the duty of seeing that all the provisions of this act are properly enforced. [New section added May 22, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 802.]

JOINT MUNICIPAL PUBLIC UTILITIES.

ACT 1352—An act authorizing municipal corporations to permit other municipal corporations and counties to construct and maintain sewers, water mains and other conduits, and pole lines for the transmission of electricity and electric energy in, through, over, along and across its streets and public places, and to construct and maintain sewers, water mains and other conduits and pole lines for the transmission of electricity and electric energy for their joint benefit and at their joint expense, through, over, along and across such streets and public places, and to make and enter into contracts for such purposes, prescribing a method for compelling such use of such streets and public places.

History: Approved June 5, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1195.

One city may permit another to construct sewers, etc.

§ 1. Any municipal corporation, under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the city council or other legislative body thereof is hereby authorized and empowered to permit any other municipal corporation or county to construct and maintain sewers, water mains or other conduits and pole lines for the transmission of electricity and electric energy in, through, over, along or across the streets and other public places of such municipal corporation, and to use the same for such purpose under the provisions of this act, and not otherwise.

Resolution submitted. Description of sewers, etc. Request for permission. Right to connect sewers.

§ 2. Whenever a city council, board of trustees or other legislative body of any municipal corporation or board of supervisors of any county shall find, and by resolution shall declare, that the location of such municipal corporation or county or any portion of the territory included therein is such that the same can not be adequately or conveniently provided with sewers, water mains or other conduits or with electricity or electric energy, without the construction and maintenance by such municipal corporation or county, of certain sewers, water mains or other conduits or with pole lines for the transmission of electricity and electric energy, connecting therewith, in, over, across or along said streets or other public places of any other municipal corporation or corporations, such city council, board of trustees, board of supervisors or other legislative body may cause a copy of such resolution, certified by the clerk thereof to be submitted to the city council, board of trustees or other legislative body of such other municipal corporation or corporations in which such streets or other public places are situated. Said resolutions shall contain a description of the sewers, water mains or other conduits or pole lines for the transmission of electricity or electric energy proposed to be constructed and maintained in such other municipal corporation or corporations, and shall designate the streets or other public places by name or other proper designation, in, through, over, along or across which such sewers, water mains or other conduits or pole lines for the transmission of electricity or electric energy are so proposed to be constructed and maintained. Said resolution shall contain a description of the sewers, water mains or other conduits, or pole lines for the transmission of electricity or electric energy proposed to be constructed, and maintained in such other municipal corporation or corporations and shall designate the streets or other public places by name or other proper designation, in, through, over, along or across which such sewers, water mains, conduits or pole lines are proposed to be constructed and maintained. Said resolution shall be accompanied by a request in writing, that the municipal corporation or sanitary district, on behalf of which the same was made, signed by the clerk thereof, be granted permission to construct and maintain the sewers, water mains or other conduits or pole lines for the transmission of electricity or electric energy, described in said resolution. The city council or board of trustees or other legislative body of any municipal corporation receiving such request and a certified copy of such resolution, may by ordinance, grant such permission and under such terms and conditions as it shall therein prescribe. If the permission granted under the provisions of this section shall be for the construction and maintenance of sewers, the city council, board of trustees or other legislative body of any municipal corporation granting the same, may, as a condition to the exercise of such permission, require that said municipal corporation shall have the right to connect its sewers and those of its inhabitants with the sewers to be constructed under such permission, and to use the same in connection with its sewer system upon the payment by it of such proportionate part of the cost of construction and maintenance of such sewers to the municipal corporation or county by which the same shall be constructed as may be determined by resolution of its city council, board of trustees or other governing body, or board of supervisors, or both such municipal corporations or such corporation and county as the case may be, such payments to be made at such times and in such amounts as may be determined.

Letting of contracts. Contractor's bonds. Cities may construct.

§ 3. All contracts for the construction or completion of any sewers, water mains or other conduits or for such pole lines for the transmission of electricity or electric energy or for furnishing labor or materials therefor, to be constructed by any municipal corporation or county, in, across or along the streets or other public places of any other municipal corporation or corporations as herein provided, shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder. The city council, board of trustees, or board of supervisors or other legislative body of the municipal corporation or county constructing such sewers, water mains or other conduits or such pole lines for the transmission of electricity or electric energy under permission granted as in this act provided, shall advertise for at least ten days in one or more newspapers published in such municipal corporation or county (or in one or more newspapers published in the county in which said municipal corporation is situated, if there be no newspaper published in such municipal corporation) inviting sealed proposals for furnishing the labor and materials for the proposed work, before any contract shall be made therefor. The said city council, board of trustees or board of supervisors or other legislative body of such city or county shall require such bonds as it may deem best from the successful bidder to insure the faithful performance of the contract work, and shall also have the right to reject any and all bids; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as prohibiting such municipal corporation or county from itself constructing or completing such works and employing the labor necessary therefor without such advertisement for proposals or letting of a contract; and provided, further, that in any municipal corporation operating under a freeholder's charter heretofore or hereafter framed under section 8 of article eleven of the constitution, and providing for a board of public works, all the matters and things required in this section to be done and performed by the city council, board of trustees or other legislative body of such municipal corporation, shall be done and performed by the board of public works thereof; and provided, further, that in case such charter or general law under which such municipal corporation is operating or existing, prescribing the manner of letting and entering into contracts for the furnishing of labor, materials and supplies for the construction or completion of such works or improvements, the contracts for such sewers, water mains or other conduits or such pole lines for the transmission of electricity or electric energy shall be let and entered into in conformity with such charter or general law.

Joint agreement to construct sewers, etc. One city to contract for all.

§ 4. Whenever the councils, boards of trustees or other legislative bodies or two or more municipal corporations or one or more municipal corporations, or the board of supervisors of any county and the city council, board of trustees or other legislative body of any such municipal corporation, shall find and, by resolution adopted by them, shall declare that it will be for the interests or advantage of such municipal corporations or counties so to do, such municipal corporations or counties by their respective city councils, boards of supervisors or other legislative bodies, may enter into a joint agreement, authorizing the construction and maintenance of sewers, water mains or other conduits or pole lines for the transmission of electricity or electric energy, in, through, over or along the streets or other public places of either or any of such municipal corporation or counties or in part outside of the limits thereof, at the joint cost and expense and for the joint use and benefit of such municipal corporations or counties upon such terms and conditions and under such regulations as may be approved by the city councils, boards of supervisors or other legislative bodies of all such municipal corporations or counties; and the city council, board of supervisors or other legislative body of each such municipal corporation or county may bind or obligate such municipal corporation or county to pay such proportionate part of the cost of the construction and maintenance of such sewers, water mains or other conduits or for such pole lines for the transmission of electricity or electric energy at such times and in such installments as may be so approved. All contracts for the construction of sewers, water mains or other conduits, or pole lines for the transmission of electricity or electric energy under the provisions of this section shall be made and entered into by the one of such municipal corporations or counties designated by the city council, boards of supervisors or other legislative bodies of all such municipal corporations or counties, and in the manner provided by section 3 of this act. Two or more municipal corporations, one or more municipal corporations and one or more counties may also, by their city councils, boards of supervisors, or other legislative bodies, enter into an agreement or agreements with each other, for the joint use by such municipal corporations or counties of any sewers, water mains, or other conduits, or pole lines for the transmission of electricity or electric energy theretofore, in whole, or in part, constructed in the streets or other public places of either or any such municipal corporations or counties, upon such terms and conditions as they may by mutual agreement make by their respective city councils, boards of supervisors or other legislative bodies declare to be proper.

Complaint to railroad commission upon refusal. Hearing of application.

§ 5. Whenever any municipal corporation shall refuse to grant to another municipal corporation or county, the right to construct and maintain such sewers, water mains, or other conduits, or pole lines for the transmission of electricity or electric energy, in, through, over, along or across its streets or other public places, after such request for such use has been made to the city council or other governing body thereof, and other proceedings had as prescribed by section 2 of this act, or in case the terms and conditions prescribed by such municipal corporation wherein such streets or other public places are situated shall, by resolution, be rejected by the city council or other legislative body of the municipal corporation or county which has caused such request to have been made, the city council, or board of supervisors or other governing body of such municipal corporation or county, may adopt a resolution stating that such terms and conditions are rejected by such municipal corporation or county and the municipal corporation or county which has made such application and request may thereupon and within one year thereafter, make a complaint to the railroad commission of the state of California, setting forth copies of the resolutions of the several city councils, boards of supervisors or other governing bodies of said several municipal corporations or counties, relative to such application and its refusal, a copy of the resolution adopted by its city council, board of supervisors or other legislative body, rejecting such terms and conditions, a copy of such request, the name of the municipal corporation or county which has made such application; the name of the municipal corporation where such streets or public places are situated, the names or other proper designation of the streets or public places which are proposed to be used for the purposes herein prescribed, the purpose for which, and the manner in which the same are proposed to be used, and the facts showing the necessity or expediency for such use. Thereupon said railroad commission shall hear such application and if it appear to such railroad commission that the public interest or convenience require that such streets and public places should be used for the purposes set forth in said application and complaint, the said railroad commission shall enter its judgment, granting to said municipal corporation or county which has made such request as in this act provided, the right to use such streets or other public places for the purposes herein set forth and may in such judgment, prescribe the terms and conditions upon which such municipal corporation or county making such application may use such streets and public places for the purposes herein set forth; and for the purposes of this act, all such sewers, water mains and other conduits and pole lines for the transmission of electricity or electric energy are declared to be public utilities. The failure or refusal of the city council, or other governing body of such municipal corporation, to which such request shall have been made, to refuse to grant such permission or to prescribe the terms and conditions upon which the same may be granted, for the period of three months from and after the date of the filing of such request, shall be deemed a refusal to grant such request within the meaning of this act. Except as otherwise provided in this act, such proceedings before such railroad commission shall be had and conducted in accordance with the provisions of act of the legislature of the state of California known and designated as the public utilities act approved December 23, 1911, and amendments or continuations thereof.

Sanitary districts.

§ 6. Sanitary districts organized under and by virtue of the laws of the state of California and sanitary districts to be hereafter organized shall be deemed municipal corporations for the purposes of this act; provided, that the sanitary board of any such sanitary district shall be, and the same are, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, hereby vested with the same powers in relation to said sanitary districts as are herein conferred upon city councils, boards of trustees and other governing bodies of such municipal corporations; provided, further, that wherever, by the provisions of this act, the adoption of an ordinance is prescribed by any municipal corporation, the adoption of a resolution by said sanitary board shall have the same force and effect as an ordinance adopted by any such city council, board of trustees, or other legislative body of a municipal corporation.

Determination of controversies.

§ 7. Should any controversy arise between any two or more municipal corporations, or between any county or counties and municipal corporation or corporations, after such permission shall have been granted by any such municipal corporation, or by the railroad commission of the state of California, respecting the construction, operation, maintenance or control of any such sewers, water mains or other conduits or pole lines for the transmission of electricity or electric energy, through, over, along or across any such street or public place, either such municipal corporation or said county may file a petition with the railroad commission of the state of California setting forth the nature of such grievance and such railroad commission shall hear and determine such complaint in the manner and form prescribed by said public utilities act and amendments or continuations thereof.

Judgment of railroad commission conclusive.

§ 8. All powers and duties conferred upon the railroad commission of the state of California by the provisions of this act are hereby declared to be exclusive, and the judgment of said railroad commission shall be binding and conclusive upon all parties to any such proceedings.

Act not repealed.

§ 9. This act shall not repeal an act entitled: "An act authorizing municipal corporations to permit other municipal corporations to construct and maintain sewers, water mains, and other conduits therein, also to construct and maintain sewers, water mains, and other conduits for their joint benefit, and at their joint expense, and to make and enter into contracts for said purposes," approved March 22, 1909, and acts amendatory thereto.

ELEVATORS.

CONTENTS OF CHAPTER.

- ACT 1356. ELEVATOR CONSTRUCTION, OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE.
1357. ELEVATOR INSPECTION ACT.

ELEVATOR CONSTRUCTION, MAINTENANCE AND OPERATION.

ACT 1356—An act to regulate the construction, operation, and maintenance of elevators in buildings during course of construction; providing for inspection of the same by the bureau of labor statistics; and providing for a penalty for violation thereof.

History: Approved June 7, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 507.

Definitions.

§ 1. The words and phrases used in this act shall for the purposes of this act, unless the same be contrary to or inconsistent with the context, be construed as follows:

1. "Elevator" shall mean any means used to hoist persons or material of any kind on a building under course of construction, when operated by any power other than muscular power.

2. "Building" shall include structures of all kinds, regardless of the purposes for which they may be intended to be used, and whether such construction be below or above the level of the ground.

Signals and persons to give them.

§ 2. Every hoist hereafter used in buildings during the course of construction shall have a system of signals for the purpose of signaling the person operating or controlling the machinery which may operate the hoist. And it shall be the duty of the person in charge of said building to appoint one or more persons to give such signals, such person to be selected from those most familiar with the work for which said hoist is being used. In the event that a building shall be over fifty feet in height, then two persons shall be appointed to give such signals, one at the bottom of said hoist and the other at the top of said hoist, and the person at the bottom of said hoist shall signal the person at the top, who shall then signal the engineer or the person in charge of the machinery operating said hoist. In the event that the engineer or person in charge of the machinery operating said hoist is so situated that he has a clear and unobstructed view of the base of the elevator, then, and in that event, regardless of the height of the building, no person shall be required to give signals at the bottom of said hoist.

Inspection of hoists.

§ 3. It shall be the duty of the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics to inspect all hoists coming within the definition in section one of this act. And if any part of the construction or system of signals used on a hoist is defective or may endanger the lives of men working in the immediate vicinity of said hoist, he shall direct the person in charge thereof to remedy such defect, and such hoist shall not be used again until the order of the commissioner shall have been complied with.

Penalty.

§ 4. Any person, firm, copartnership or corporation or any agent, superintendent or manager of a corporation who shall violate any of the provisions of this act, shall upon conviction thereof be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished by a fine not less than fifty dollars and not more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days and not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

~~Superseded.—This act was superseded, apparently, as to inspection by the act of 1917. —See Act 1357.~~

ELEVATOR INSPECTION ACT.

ACT 1357—An act to provide for the periodical inspection of elevators operated in places of employment in this state; to require a permit for such operation; to make it a misdemeanor to operate such elevator without such permit; and to provide for an injunction against such operation if dangerous to the life or safety of employees; to vest in the industrial accident commission the power to make such inspections and determine the competency of inspectors and require reports of inspections and to issue such permits and prescribe maximum fees therefor.

History: Approved April 6, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 84.

Permit to operate elevator. Injunction to restrain operation without permit.

§ 1. No power elevator or hand-power elevator, unless exempted in the following section, shall be operated in any place of employment in this state unless a permit, as hereinafter provided, for the operation thereof, shall have been issued by the industrial accident commission, and unless such permit shall remain in full force and effect. The operation of such elevator by any person owning or having the custody, management or operation of such elevator without such permit shall constitute a misdemeanor, and each day of operation of such elevator without such permit shall constitute a separate offense; provided, that no prosecution shall be maintained where the issuance or renewal of such permit shall have been requested and shall remain unacted upon. Whenever any elevator in any place of employment is being operated without the permit herein required, and is in such condition that its use is dangerous to the life or safety of any employee, the industrial accident commission, a commissioner or any safety inspector thereof, or any person affected thereby may apply to the superior court of the county in which such elevator is located for an injunction restraining the operation of such elevator until such condition shall be corrected. Proof by certification of the said commission that such permit has not been issued, together with the affidavit of any safety inspector of the commission that the operation of such elevator is dangerous to the life or safety of any employee, shall be sufficient ground for the immediate granting of a temporary restraining order.

Exemptions.

§ 2. Elevators under the jurisdiction of the United States government, and all elevators operated by employers not subject to the safety provisions of the workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act of 1917 and acts amendatory thereof, are exempted from the provisions of this act.

Inspection of elevators. Order for repairs. Temporary permit to operate.

§ 3. The industrial accident commission shall cause power elevators to be inspected, not less frequently than twice each year and hand-power elevators not less frequently than once each year. If such elevators shall be found upon such inspection to be in a safe condition for operation, a permit shall be issued by said commission for their operation for not longer than six months for a power elevator or longer than one year for a hand-power elevator, which shall be the permit referred to in section one. If such inspection shall show such elevator to be in an unsafe condition, the commission, or a commissioner, may issue a preliminary order requiring such repairs or alterations to be made to such elevator as may be necessary to render it safe, and may order the use of such elevator discontinued until such repairs or alterations are made or such unsafe conditions are removed. Unless such preliminary order be complied with, a hearing before the commission, a commissioner or referee of such commission shall be allowed, upon request, at which the owner, operator or other person in charge of such elevator shall have opportunity to appear and show cause why he should not comply with said order. If it shall thereafter appear to the commission that such elevator is unsafe and that the requirements contained in said preliminary order should be complied with, or that other things should be done to make such elevator safe, the commission may order or confirm the withholding of the permit to operate such elevator and may make such requirements as it deems proper for its repair or alteration or for the correction of such unsafe condition. Such order may thereafter be reheard by the commission or reviewed by the courts in the manner specified by the workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act of 1917 for safety orders, and not otherwise. If the operation of such elevator during the making of repairs or alterations is not immediately dangerous to the safety of employees, the commission may, in its discretion, issue a temporary permit for the operation of such elevator for not to exceed thirty days during the making of such repairs or alterations. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed as a limitation upon the authority of the commission to prescribe or enforce general or special safety orders.

Inspectors. Certificate of competency.

§ 4. The commission may, in its discretion, cause the inspection herein provided for to be made either by its safety inspectors or by any qualified elevator inspector employed by an insurance company, or may issue its permit, based upon a certificate of inspection issued by qualified elevator inspectors of any municipality, upon proof to its satisfaction that the safety requirements of such municipality are equal to the minimum safety requirements for elevators adopted by the commission provided, that such persons making inspections shall first secure from the commission a certificate of competency to make such inspections. The commission is hereby vested with full power and authority to determine the competency of any applicant for such certificate, either by examination or by other satisfactory proof of qualifications. The commission may rescind at any time, upon good cause being shown therefor, any certificate of competency issued by it to an elevator inspector, or may at any time, upon good cause being shown therefor, and after notice and an opportunity to be heard, revoke any permit to operate such elevator. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to limit the authority of the commission to prescribe or enforce general or special safety orders.

Fees for inspection.

§ 5. The commission may fix and collect such fees for the inspection of elevators as it may deem necessary, not to exceed two dollars for each inspection or four dollars per year for each elevator. Such fees must be paid before the issuance of any permit to operate such elevator. No fee shall be charged by the commission where an inspection has been made by an inspector of any insurance company or municipality, if such inspector holds a certificate of competency from said commission. All fees collected by the commission under this act shall be paid into the accident prevention fund.

Report for inspections.

§ 6. Every inspector so certified shall forward to the commission, on the forms provided by it, within twenty-one days after such inspection is made, a report of such inspection, in default of which his certificate of competency may be canceled.

ACT 1363. PRACTICE OF EMBALMING ACT.

PRACTICE OF EMBALMING ACT.

ACT 1363—An act to establish a state board of embalmers, defining the duties thereof, providing for the better protection of life and health, preventing the spread of contagious disease, regulating the practice of embalming in connection with the care and disposition of the dead and providing penalties for the violation thereof.

History: Approved April 16, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 80. Amended May 27, 1919. In effect July 27, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1334.

Board of embalmers created.

§ 1. There is hereby created and established a board to be known as the state board of embalmers of the State of California. The board shall consist of five members, to be appointed by the governor of the state, and all vacancies occurring on the board shall be filled by the governor. Three of the persons so appointed shall hold office for two years and two for four years unless sooner removed. All of the appointments made at the expiration of the above terms shall be for four years. Appointments to fill vacancies caused by death, resignation or removal before expiration of the term shall be made by the governor, in the same manner, for the residue of the term.

Qualifications. Compensation.

§ 2. The members of said board shall be residents of California, all of whom shall have had at least five years of experience in the practice of embalming, and the preparation and disposition of the dead. The governor shall have power to remove from office any appointive member of said board for incompetency or improper conduct. The members of said board shall receive no compensation for their services except actual mileage and expenses, with the additional salary of the secretary, which shall not exceed nine hundred dollars per year. All moneys provided in excess of the fees herein shall be paid into the general funds of the state.

Officers.

§ 3. The board at their annual meeting shall elect a president, secretary and treasurer from the members of said board, and the treasurer and secretary shall furnish such bond as shall be required of them by the board. All officers shall serve for one year or until their successors shall be elected and qualified.

Oath.

§ 4. The governor shall furnish to each person appointed to serve on the board a certificate of appointment. The appointee shall qualify by taking the usual oath of office before any person authorized to administer oaths of the county in which said person may reside, within ten days after said appointment has been made, and this fact shall be noted on the certificate of appointment, and shall be filed with the secretary of state.

Seal. Meetings. Publication of notice. Expenses.

§ 5. The board shall adopt a common seal. The president of said board is hereby authorized to administer oaths to witnesses testifying before said board. Said board shall hold at least three meetings annually for the purpose of examining applicants for licenses, one of which meetings shall be held in the city of San Francisco, one in the city of Los Angeles and the other in the city of Sacramento, with power to adjourn from time to time until its business is concluded; provided, however, that examination for applicants for licenses may in the discretion of the board be conducted in any part of the state designated by the board. Notice of each meeting shall be given twice a week for two weeks next preceding each meeting in one daily paper published in the city of San Francisco, one published in the city of Los Angeles, and one published in the city of Sacramento, which notice shall also specify the time and place of holding the examination of applicants. Three members of the board shall constitute a quorum. At no time shall the board contract expense in excess of the amount of funds in the hands of its treasurer.

Application for license. Fee.

§ 6. From and after the first day of August, 1915, to January 1, 1916, every person at the time engaged in the practice of embalming or preparing for transportation of human dead of contagious or infectious diseases or embalming human bodies dead from any cause whatever within the state of California, shall make a written application to the said board of embalmers for a license, such application to be signed by the applicant with the statement that he or she is possessed of skill and knowledge of said science of embalming and the care and disposition of the dead, and has reasonable knowledge of sanitation and the disinfection of bodies of deceased persons, and the apartments, clothing and bedding, in case of infectious or contagious diseases, and the statements therein contained to be duly certified before an officer authorized to take acknowledgments, and upon payment of five dollars, the board shall issue to said applicant a license to practice said science of embalming and the care and disposition of the dead, and shall register applicant as a duly licensed embalmer. Such license shall be signed by the president and secretary of the board and attested by its seal.

Register of licentiates.

§ 7. All persons receiving license under provisions of this act shall register the fact at the office of the board of health of the city or county in the jurisdiction of which it is proposed to carry on such practice, and shall display said license in a conspicuous place in the office of the licentiate.

License after January 1, 1916. Fee.

§ 8. From and after January 1, 1916, every person who has failed to make application for a license, and desires to engage in the practice of embalming dead human bodies in the state of California, and not licensed under this act, shall make application to the board for examination for qualification to engage in the practice of embalming dead human bodies. Such application shall be in writing, addressed to the secretary of the board, accompanied by a fee of ten dollars which shall be paid to the treasurer by the secretary. If for any reason the applicant does not qualify, the sum of five dollars shall be returned upon application.

Examination.

§ 9. Said state board of embalmers shall be authorized and empowered at the time and place specified in the notice heretofore provided for, to examine all applicants for license to practice embalming, to select all questions to be used for examination of applicants for a license, and to determine whether or not such applicants possess the necessary qualifications to properly embalm dead human bodies; and if upon such examination said board shall determine that such applicant is properly qualified to embalm human bodies, it shall grant a license to such person to embalm dead human bodies.

Licenses recorded.

§ 10. All licenses when issued, shall be recorded by the board, a copy of which record shall be furnished to all those holding a license, and to the various transportation companies in the state of California. Such record shall be open to public inspection, and such license shall be admitted in evidence in any of the courts of the state, and shall be presumptive of the facts contained therein.

§ 11. The state board of embalmers is directed to recognize licenses issued to embalmers by authorities of other states.

Regulations.

§ 12. The state board of embalmers shall from time to time adopt rules and regulations not inconsistent with the laws of this state, whereby the performance of the duties of the officers of said board and the practice of embalming dead human bodies and transportation of same shall be regulated.

Affidavits to corrections in death certificates. When embalmer's license lapses.

§ 13. Whenever it may be alleged that the facts are not correctly stated in any certificate of death theretofore registered, the local registrar shall require an affidavit under oath to be made by the person asserting the fact, to be supported by the affidavit of one other credible person having knowledge of the facts, setting forth the changes necessary to make the record correct. Having received such affidavits, the local registrar shall file them and shall then draw a line through the incorrect statement or statements in the certificate, without erasing them, and make the necessary corrections, noting on the margin of the certificate his authority for so doing, and transmit the affidavits, attached to the original certificate, when making his regularly monthly returns to the state registrar. If the correction relates to a certificate previously returned to the state registrar, the local registrar shall transmit the affidavit forthwith to the state registrar. If the correction is first made upon the original certificate on file in the state bureau of vital statistics, the state registrar shall transmit a certified copy of the original certificate, corrected as above, to the local registrar, who shall thereupon substitute such certified copy for the copy of the certificate in his records. All such corrections and marginal notes referring to them shall be legibly written in ink, typewritten or printed. When an embalmer has allowed his license to lapse, for any reason whatever, his license and number may be reinstated by the proper application of such embalmer, said application to be accompanied by a fee of two dollars and all back dues to date, whereupon the board may reinstate such applicant, provided such lapse shall not have been over two years. [Amendment of May 27, 1919. In effect July 27, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1334.]

License not assignable.

§ 14. No license granted under the provisions of this act shall be assignable, and every such license shall specify by name the person to whom it is issued, and not more than one person shall carry on the practice of embalming dead human bodies under one license.

Institutions not affected.

§ 15. Nothing in this act shall apply to, or in any way interfere with the duties of any officer of any local or public institution or of any duly accredited medical college, nor shall this act apply to any one engaged simply in the furnishing of burial receptacles for the dead but shall apply only to persons engaged in the practice of embalming in connection with the care and disposition of the dead.

Carriers.

§ 16. It shall be unlawful for any person, railroad, express company, or common carrier, to receive for transportation any dead human body, unless said body has been prepared by a regularly licensed embalmer, in accordance with the rules prescribed by the state board of embalmers.

Schools for embalming.

§ 17. The state board of embalmers and schools for teaching embalming shall have extended to them the same privileges as to the use of bodies for dissecting, demonstrating or teaching, as those granted in this state to medical colleges.

Revocation of licenses.

§ 18. The state board of embalmers shall have power to revoke any license granted under this act, upon conviction of violation of any of the provisions of this act, or any of the rules and regulations, or upon conviction of continued improper conduct, said conviction being subject to approval by the courts of the state.

Penalty for noncompliance.

§ 19. Any person who shall advertise, practice, or hold himself or herself as practicing the science of embalming without having complied with the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, before the court, shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars for each and every offense; or any person, railroad, express company, or common carrier who shall violate the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars for each and every offense. All fines assessed for the violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be paid into the funds of the state.

Yellow pasters.

§ 20. All licensed embalmers shall use yellow pasters to be furnished by the state board of embalmers; said pasters to be approved by the state board of health. No railroad, express company or other common carrier shall accept for transportation any dead human body unless said body is accompanied with said yellow shipping paster.

Permission of coroner.

§ 21. It shall be unlawful to embalm a dead human body when a fact within the knowledge, or brought to the knowledge of the embalmer is sufficient to arouse suspicion of crime in connection with the cause of death of the deceased, until permission of the coroner, or justice of the peace (if there be no coroner) has first been obtained. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than twenty-five dollars, nor more than one hundred dollars.

Special license for nonresidents.

§ 22. Nonresidents living along the border of the state of California, doing business within this state, may make application for a special license, provided they can comply with the rules and regulations governing applicants for license, and furnish a certificate from their state certifying that the applicant holds a valid license, and upon the payment of a fee of twenty dollars, with a yearly renewal fee of five dollars. [New section added May 27, 1919. In effect July 27, 1919, p. 1335.]

School of embalming.

§ 23. The state board of embalmers is authorized to enter into an agreement with the proper authorities for the purpose of establishing a school of embalming in connection with any state educational institution of university grade or school of secondary grade maintained by a city, city and county, or school district in this state for the purpose of instructing students in the art of embalming and the sanitary care of the dead. The board shall be empowered to employ instructors; secure paraphernalia; lay out a course of instruction and requirements for a graduation; to require fees for same; which said fees shall be deposited in the state treasury in a fund which is hereby created and which shall be known as the embalmers school fund; this school to be in no way an expense to the state. Upon graduation a diploma thereupon shall entitle the holder to be admitted to practice within the state. [New section added May 27, 1919. In effect July 27, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1335.]

Manufacture and distribution of embalming fluid.

§ 24. It is prohibited to manufacture, sell or distribute embalming fluids within the state containing mineral poison. All fluid containers to have printed on the label "no mineral poison." All manufacturers and distributors of embalming fluids are hereby required to state the per cent formaldehyde contained therein, upon the label. [New section added May 27, 1919. In effect July 27, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1335.]

CONTENTS OF CHAPTER.ACT 1365. TIDE AND SUBMERGED LAND GRANT.*TIDELAND GRANT.

ACT 1365—An act granting certain tidelands and submerged lands of the state of California to the city of Emeryville, and regulating the management, use and control thereof.

History: Approved May 23, 1919. In effect July 23, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1087.

Tidelands granted to Emeryville.

§ 1. There is hereby granted to the city of Emeryville, a municipal corporation of the state of California, and to its successors, all the right, title and interest of the state of California, held by said state by virtue of its sovereignty in and to all tidelands and submerged lands, whether filled or unfilled, which are included within the present boundaries of the city of Emeryville, to be forever held by said city and by its successors in trust for the use and purposes, and upon the express conditions following, to wit:

Use of lands.

(a) That said lands shall be used by said city and its successors, only for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, and other utilities, structures and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion and accommodation of commerce and navigation, and said city or its successors shall not, at any time, grant, convey, give or alien said lands or any part thereof to any individual, firm or corporation, for any purposes whatever; provided, that said city or its successors may grant franchises thereon, for limited periods, but in no event exceeding fifty years, for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands or any part thereof for limited periods, but in no event exceeding fifty years, for the purposes consistent with the trusts upon which said lands are held by the state of California, and with the requirements of commerce or navigation at said harbor.

Improvement of harbor.

(b) That said harbor shall be improved by said city without expense to the state, and shall always remain a public harbor for all purposes of commerce and navigation, and the state of California shall have at all times the right to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays and other improvements constructed on said lands, or any part thereof, for any vessel or other water craft, or railroad, owned or operated by the state of California.

Rates, tolls, etc.

(c) That in the management, conduct or operation of said harbor, or of any of the utilities, structures or appliances mentioned in paragraph (a), no discrimination in rates, tolls, or charges or in facilities for any use or service in connection therewith shall ever be made, authorized or permitted by said city or its successors.

Right to fish reserved to people.

(d) There is hereby reserved, however, in the people of the state of California the absolute right to fish in all the waters of said harbor, with the right of convenient access to said waters over said land for said purpose.

ACT 1373. REGULATING PRIVATE EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES.

1374. FREE EMPLOYMENT BUREAUS.

REGULATING PRIVATE EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES.

ACT 1373—An act regulating private employment agencies, providing for a license for the operation thereof and a fee therefor, providing forms of receipts and registers to be used and kept, prohibiting any charge for registering or filing application for help or employment, prohibiting the dividing of fees, providing for the refunding of fees and expenses in the event of failure to procure employment, and granting the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics the power to prescribe rules and regulations to carry out the purpose and intent of this act.

History: Approved June 3, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 515. Amended May 27, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 929.

Prior acts: Act defining duties and liabilities of employment agents, approved February 12, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 14. Amended March 18, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 143; March 3, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 137; March 6, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 149. Act to regulate and license employment agents, approved March 6, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 191. The first of these was declared unconstitutional in Ex Parte Dickey, 144 Cal. 234; but the objectionable feature of the act was repealed in 1905 (see annotations). Both acts were probably superseded by the present act.

Definitions.

§ 1. 1. When used in this act the following terms are defined as herein specified: The term "person" means and includes any individual, company, society, association, corporation, manager, contractor, subcontractor or their agents or employees.

2. The term "employment agency" means and includes the business of conducting, as owner, agent, manager, contractor, subcontractor, or in any other capacity an intelligence office, domestic and commercial employment agency, theatrical employment agency, teachers' employment agency, general employment bureau, shipping agency, nurses' registry, or any other agency or office for the purpose of procuring or attempting to procure help or employment or engagements for persons seeking employment or engagements, or for the registration of persons seeking such help, employment or engagement, or for giving information as to where and of whom such help, employment or engagement may be procured, where a fee or other valuable consideration is exacted, or attempted to be collected, directly or indirectly, for such services, whether such business is conducted in a building or on the street or elsewhere.

3. The term "theatrical employment agency" means and includes the business of conducting an agency, bureau, office or any other place for the purpose of procuring or offering, promising or attempting to provide engagements for circus, vaudeville, theatrical and other entertainments or exhibitions or performances, or of giving information as to where such engagements may be procured or provided, whether such business is conducted in a building, or on the street or elsewhere.

4. The term "theatrical engagement" means and includes any engagement or employment of a person as an actor, performer or entertainer in a circus, vaudeville, theatrical and other entertainment, exhibition or performance.

5. The term "emergency engagement" means and includes an engagement which has to be performed within twenty-four hours from the time when the contract for such engagement is made.

6. The term "fee" means and includes any money or other valuable consideration paid or promised to be paid for services rendered or to be rendered by any person conducting an employment agency of any kind under the provisions of this article. Such term includes any excess of money received by any such person over what has been paid out by him for the transportation, transfer of baggage, or board and lodging for any applicant for employment; such term also includes the difference between the amount of money received by any such person who furnishes employees, performers or entertainers for circus, vaudeville, theatrical and other entertainments, exhibitions or performances, and the amount paid by him to the said employees, performers or entertainers whom he hires or provides for such entertainments, exhibitions or performances.

7. The term "privilege" means and includes the furnishing of food, supplies, tools or shelter to contract laborers, commonly known as commissary privileges.

8. The term "commissioner of labor" means commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics.

License necessary. Penalty.

§ 2. A person shall not open, keep, maintain or carry on any employment agency, as defined in the preceding section, unless he shall have first procured a license therefor as provided in this article from the commissioner of labor. Such license shall be posted in a conspicuous place in said agency. Any person who shall open or conduct such an employment agency without first procuring said license shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished as hereinafter provided.

Application for license.

§ 3. An application for such license shall be made to the commissioner of labor. Such application shall be written and in the form prescribed by the commissioner of labor, and shall state the name and address of the applicant; the street and number of the building or place where the business is to be conducted; whether the applicant proposes to conduct a lodging-house for the unemployed separate from the agency which he proposes to conduct; the business or occupation engaged in by the applicant for at least two years immediately preceding the date of the application. Such application shall be accompanied by the affidavits of at least two reputable residents of the city to the effect that the applicant is a person of good moral character.

Application for license. Limitations on grants. Power to revoke licenses.

§ 4. Upon receipt of an application for a license the commissioner of labor may cause an investigation to be made as to the character and responsibility of the applicant and of the premises designated in such application as the place in which it is proposed to conduct such agency. The commissioner of labor may administer oaths, subpoena witnesses and take testimony in respect to matters contained in such application and in complaints of any character against the applicants for such license, and upon proper hearing may refuse to grant a license. Each application shall be granted or refused within thirty days from date of filing. No license shall be granted to a person to conduct the business of an employment agency in rooms used for living purposes, or where boarders or lodgers are kept, or where meals are served, or where persons sleep, or in connection with a building or premises where intoxicating liquors are sold to be consumed on the premises, excepting cafes and restaurants in office buildings. No license shall be granted to a person whose license has been revoked within three years from the date of application. Each license shall run to the thirty-first day of March next following the date thereof and no longer, unless sooner revoked by the commissioner of labor. The commissioner of labor shall have the power and authority to revoke any license after a hearing, when it is shown that the licensee or his agent has violated or failed to comply with any of the provisions of this act, or when such licensee has ceased to be of good moral character, or when the conditions under which the license was issued have changed or no longer exist. At any hearing the commissioner of labor shall not be bound by the technical rules of evidence, and his rulings shall be presumed to be prima facie reasonable, and his findings of fact shall, in the absence of fraud, be conclusive and shall be set aside by the superior court only on the following grounds:

Grounds for setting aside findings.

1. That the commissioner of labor acted without or in excess of his powers.
2. That the determination was procured by fraud.

[Amendment of May 27, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 929.]

License to contain name, etc.

§ 5. Every license shall contain the name of the person licensed, a designation of the city, street and number of the house in which the person licensed is authorized to carry on the said employment agency, and the number and date of such license. Such license shall not be valid to protect any other than the person to whom it is issued or any place other than that designated in the license and shall not be transferred or assigned to any other person unless consent is obtained from the commissioner of labor, as hereinafter provided. If such licensed person shall conduct a lodging-house for the unemployed separate and apart from such agency, it shall be so designated in the license.

Transfer of license.

§ 6. A license granted as provided in this article shall not be assigned or transferred without the written consent of the commissioner of labor. No license fee shall be required upon such assignment or transfer. The location of an employment agency shall not be changed without the written consent of the commissioner of labor.

License fee. Bond.

§ 7. Every person licensed under the provisions of this act to carry on the business of an employment agency shall pay to the commissioner of labor a license fee of one hundred dollars in cities of the first, first and one-half and second classes, and a license fee of fifty dollars in cities of the third and fourth classes and a license fee of ten dollars in all other cities and towns. Such persons shall also deposit before such license is issued, with the commissioner of labor, a surety bond in the penal sum of two thousand dollars in cities of the first, first and one-half and second classes, or a surety bond in the penal sum of one thousand dollars in cities of the third and fourth classes, or a surety bond in the penal sum of five hundred dollars in all other cities and towns. Such surety bonds to be approved by the commissioner of labor and such bonds shall be payable to the people of the state of California, and shall be conditioned that the person applying for the license will comply with the provisions of this act and will pay all damages occasioned to any person by reason of misstatement, misrepresentation, fraud or deceit or any unlawful acts or omissions of any licensed person, his agents or employees, while acting within the scope of their employment, made, committed or omitted in the business conducted under such license or caused by any other violation of this article in carrying on the business for which such license is granted. All moneys collected for licenses as provided herein and all fines collected for violations of the provisions hereof shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to the contingent fund of the bureau of labor statistics. [Amendment of May 27, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 930.]

Suits against licensed person.

§ 8. All claims or suits brought in any court against any licensed person may be brought in the name of the person damaged upon the bond deposited with the people of the state of California by such licensed person as provided in section seven, and may be transferred and assigned as other claims for damages in civil suits. The amount of damages claimed by plaintiff, and not the penalty named in the bond, shall determine the jurisdiction of the court in which the action is brought. Where such licensed person has departed from the state with intent to defraud his creditors or to avoid the service of a summons in an action brought under this section, service shall be made upon the surety as prescribed in the Code of Civil Procedure. A copy of such summons shall be mailed to the last known postoffice address of the residence of the licensed person and the place where he conducted such employment agency, as shown by the records of the commissioner of labor. Such service thereof shall be deemed to be made when not less than the number of days shall have intervened between the dates of service and the return of the same as provided by the Code of Civil Procedure for the particular court in which suit has been brought.

Register of applicants for employment.

§ 9. It shall be the duty of every licensed person to keep a register, approved by the commissioner of labor, in which shall be entered, in the English language, the date of the application for employment; the name and address of the applicant to whom employment is promised or offered, or to whom information or assistance is given in respect to such employment; the amount of fee received, and such other information as the commissioner of labor shall require. Such licensed person shall also enter in the same or in a separate register, approved by the commissioner of labor, in the English language, the name and address of every applicant accepted for help, the date of such application, kind of help requested, the names of the persons sent, with the designation of the one employed, the amount of the fee received and the rate of wages agreed upon, and such other information as the commissioner of labor may require. No such licensed person, his agent or employees, shall make any false entry in such registers.

Registers open to inspection.

§ 10. All registers, books, records and other papers kept pursuant to this act in any employment agency shall be open at all reasonable hours to the inspection of the commissioner of labor and to any of his duly authorized agents or inspectors and every licensed person shall furnish to the commissioner upon request a true copy of such registers, books, records and papers or any portion thereof, and shall make such reports as the commissioner may prescribe.

Receipt given applicant.

§ 11. It shall be the duty of every licensed person conducting an employment agency to give to every applicant for employment from whom a fee shall be received a receipt in which shall be stated the name and address of such employment agency, the name and address of the person to whom the applicant is sent for employment, the name of the applicant, the date, the amount of fee, the kind of work or service to be performed, the general conditions of employment—including among other things the rate of wages or compensation, whether or not board and lodging is to be furnished, the hours of employment, the cost of transportation and whether or not it is to be paid by the employer, the time of such service, if definite, and if indefinite to be so stated, and the name of the person authorizing the hiring of such applicant. There shall be printed on the face of the receipt in prominent type the following: "This agency is licensed by the commissioner of labor of the state of California." All receipts shall be made and numbered in original and duplicate. The original shall be given to the applicant paying the fee and the duplicate shall be kept on file at the employment agency. The receipts used by such licensed agencies shall be approved by the commissioner of labor.

Applicant's fee.

§ 12. No such licensed person shall accept a fee from any applicant for employment, or send out any applicant for employment without having obtained, either orally or in writing, a bona fide order therefor, and in no case shall such licensed person accept, directly or indirectly, a registration fee of any kind. In case the applicant paying a fee fails to obtain employment such licensed agency shall repay the amount of said fee to such applicant upon demand being made therefor; provided, that in cases where the applicant paying such fee is sent beyond the limits of the city in which the employment agency is located, such licensed agency shall repay in addition to the said fee any actual expenses incurred in going to and returning from any place where such applicant has been sent; provided, however, where the applicant is employed and the employment lasts less than seven days by reason of the discharge of the applicant, the employment agency shall return to said applicant the fee paid by such applicant to the employment agency, or such portion of said fee as in the judgment of the commissioner of labor may be adequate. [Amendment of May 27, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 930.]

False advertising prohibited.

§ 13. No licensed person conducting an employment agency shall publish or cause to be published any false or fraudulent or misleading information, representation, notice or advertisement; all advertisements of such employment agency by means of cards, circulars, or signs and in newspapers and other publications, and all letter-heads, receipts, and blanks shall be printed and contain the licensed name and address of such employment agent and the word agency, and no licensed person shall give any false information, or make any false promise or false representation concerning an engagement or employment to any applicant who shall register or apply for an engagement or employment or help.

Agencies shall not send applicants to certain places. Fees not to be divided with employers.

§ 14. No licensed person conducting an employment agency shall send or cause to be sent, any woman or minor under the age of twenty-one years, as an employee to any house of ill fame or to any house or place of amusement for immoral purposes, or to places resorted to for the purpose of prostitution, or gambling houses, the character of which such licensed person could have ascertained upon reasonable inquiry. No licensed person shall send any minor under the age of eighteen years to any saloon or place where intoxicating liquors are sold to be consumed on the premises. No licensed person shall knowingly permit any person of bad character, prostitutes, gamblers, intoxicated persons or procurers to frequent such agencies. No licensed person shall accept any application for employment made by or on behalf of any child, or shall place or assist in placing any such child in any employment whatever in violation of the child labor law. No licensed person shall send an applicant to any place where a strike, lockout or other labor trouble exists without notifying the applicant of such conditions and shall in addition thereto enter a statement of such facts upon the receipt given to such applicant. No licensed person shall divide fees with an employer, or an agent of an employer, or with any superintendent, manager, foreman, or other employee of any person, firm or corporation to which help is furnished. [Amendment of May 27, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 931.]

Theatrical employment agency.

§ 15. Every licensed person conducting a theatrical employment agency, before making a theatrical engagement, except an emergency engagement, for any person with any applicant for services in any such engagement shall prepare and file in such agency a written statement signed and verified by such licensed person setting forth how long the applicant has been engaged in the theatrical business. Such statement shall set forth whether or not such applicant has failed to pay salaries or left stranded any companies, in which such applicant and, if a corporation, any of its officers or directors, have been financially interested during the five years preceding the date of application and, further, shall set forth the names of at least two persons as references. If such applicant is a corporation, such statement shall set forth the names of the officers and directors thereof and the length of time such corporation or any of its officers have been engaged in the theatrical business and the amount of its paid-up capital stock. If any allegation in such written, verified statement is made upon information and belief, the person verifying the statement shall set forth the sources of his information and the grounds of his belief. Such statement so on file shall be kept for the benefit of any person whose services are sought by any such applicant as employer.

Theatrical contracts.

§ 16. Every licensed person who shall procure for or offer to an applicant a theatrical engagement shall have executed in duplicate a contract containing the name and address of the applicant; the name and address of the employer of the applicant and of the person acting for such employer in employing such applicant; the time and duration of such engagement; the amount to be paid to such applicant; the character of entertainment to be given or services to be rendered; the number of performances per day or per week that are to be given by said applicant; if a vaudeville engagement, the name of the person by whom the transportation is to be paid, and if by the applicant, either the cost of the transportation between the places where said entertainment or services are to be given or rendered, or the average cost of transportation between the places where such services are to be given or rendered; and if a dramatic engagement the cost of transportation to the place where the services begin if paid by the applicant; and the gross commission or fees to be paid by said applicant and to whom. Such contracts shall contain no other conditions and provisions except such as are equitable between the parties thereto and do not constitute an unreasonable restriction of business. The form of such contract shall be first approved by the commissioner of labor and his determination shall be reviewable by certiorari. One of such duplicate contracts shall be delivered to the person engaging the applicant and the other shall be retained by the applicant. The licensed person procuring such engagement for such applicant shall keep on file or enter in a book provided for that purpose a copy of such contract.

Act to be posted.

§ 17. Every licensed person shall post in a conspicuous place in each room of such agency a copy of this act. Such printed law to also contain the name and address of the officer charged with the enforcement of this act. The commissioner of labor shall furnish printed copies of this act to the employment agencies.

Penalty.

§ 18. Any person, firm, corporation or their agents or representatives violating or omitting to comply with any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars or more than two hundred and fifty dollars or by imprisonment for a period of not more than sixty days or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Power of labor commissioner.

§ 19. The commissioner of labor, his deputies and agents shall have the power and authority of sheriffs and other peace officers to make arrests for violations of the provisions of this act and to serve any process or notice throughout the state.

Repeal of acts.

§ 20. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

1. Constitutionality—Act of 1903.—The provision of section 4 fixing a maximum charge for employment agents is an unreasonable limitation upon the right to engage in a legitimate business and make lawful contracts therein, and is not a proper exercise of the police power, and violates the due process of law clauses of the federal and state constitution.—Ex parte Dickey, 144 Cal. 234, 103 Am. St. Rep. 82, 1 Ann. Cas. 428, 66 L. R. A. 928, 77 Pac. 924.

FREE EMPLOYMENT BUREAUS.

History: Approved May 17, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 486.

Free employment bureaus established.

§ 1. The commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics, hereinafter called "commissioner," shall establish free employment bureaus in the cities of San Francisco, Los Angeles, Oakland and Sacramento, and thereafter, whenever he deems it necessary, in other cities and towns.

Offices, etc.

§ 2. The commissioner shall procure, by lease or otherwise, suitable offices; incur the necessary expenses in the conduct thereof; appoint the necessary officers, assistants and clerks, and fix the compensation therefor; and promulgate rules and regulations for the conduct of free employment bureaus in order to carry out the purposes of this act.

Appropriation.

§ 3. There is hereby appropriated out of the moneys of the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of fifty thousand dollars, to be used by the commissioner in carrying out the provisions of this act, and the controller is hereby directed from time to time to draw his warrants on the general fund in favor of the commissioner, for the amounts expended under his direction, and the treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay the same.

PAYMENT OF JUDGMENTS UNDER § 1272, C. C. P.

ACT 1385—An act to provide for the payment of awards of court, or judgments, rendered in conformity with the provisions of section twelve hundred and seventy-two of the Code of Civil Procedure, and making an appropriation therefor.

History: Approved May 17, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 470.

Appropriation: from estates of deceased persons fund to pay claims to escheated estates.

§ 1. From the moneys in the state treasury to the credit of the estates of deceased persons fund there is hereby appropriated the sum of fifteen thousand dollars, to be used exclusively for the purpose of paying to the persons entitled thereto the amounts to them, respectively, awarded by any final order, award, or judgment, made, given or rendered by the court having jurisdiction of any proceeding, or action, instituted in conformity with the provisions of section twelve hundred seventy-two of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Controller's warrant.

§ 2. When any such order, award, or judgment has become final, a certified copy thereof shall be filed in the office of the state controller, who shall thereupon draw his warrant upon the said estates of deceased persons fund in favor of the person, or persons, entitled thereto, for the sum awarded to each, respectively, and the state treasurer shall pay the same; provided, however, that the aggregate sum of all warrants so drawn and paid shall not exceed the amount by this act appropriated.

Unexpended balance reverts to estates of deceased persons fund.

§ 3. Any balance of said appropriation remaining unexpended on the first day of September, A. D. 1917, shall, without further action, revert to and become a part of said estates of deceased persons fund.

INVESTMENT OF MONEYS IN ESTATES OF DECEASED PERSONS FUND.

ACT 1393—An act to provide for the investment of the moneys in the estates of deceased persons fund and also to provide for payment of interest received into the state school fund.

History: Approved February 22, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 37.

Investment of funds. Restriction.

§ 1. Whenever and as often as there is in the state treasury to the credit of the estates of deceased persons fund (in excess of the retention hereinafter provided for) the sum of ten thousand dollars or more, the state board of examiners must invest the same in the bonds of this state, or in the bonds of the United States, or in the bonds of the several counties, city and county, cities or towns, or school districts of this state; the investments to be made in such manner and on such terms as the board shall deem best for the fund; provided, that no investment shall be made which with the amounts previously invested shall reduce the uninvested portion of the fund below the amount of ten thousand dollars.

Bonds, interest on, how apportioned.

§ 2. Bonds purchased by the state board of examiners under the provisions of this act must be delivered to the state treasurer, who shall keep them as a portion of said estates of deceased persons fund, and the interest upon such bonds shall be paid into the state school fund and apportioned like other moneys employed for the support of common schools.

Fund, minimum amount in.

§ 3. It is the intent of this act that there shall at all times be retained in said estates of deceased persons fund, in the form of cash available for meeting the demands of persons holding legal claims against such fund, the sum of at least ten thousand dollars, and whenever by reason of payments made out of the fund the amount of cash therein shall be reduced below the specified amount of ten thousand dollars, it shall be the duty of the state board of examiners to sell such bonds belonging to said fund as they may deem proper, for the purpose of making good the cash retention of ten thousand dollars.

§ 4. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

Editor's Note.—In dealing with the large number of local and special statutes, relating to estrays, trespassing animals, and animals running at large, the code commissioners have adopted the broad and comprehensive view that all such statutes were repealed by the general repealing act of 1897 (Act 1401, history). While conceding that this is absolutely true as to stray laws, the editor feels some doubt as to laws which are clearly trespass laws, and laws designed to prohibit the use of the private unenclosed lands of another, or public lands, for grazing or pasture purposes, by the animals of a known or unknown owner, entitled acts to prevent certain classes of animals running at large in certain localities. If any of these acts are really stray laws, or have the effect of stray laws, or while providing for trespasses by animals, either upon enclosed or unenclosed lands, provided for taking them up and dealing with them as stray animals, they are perhaps repealed, or repealed so far as they deal with estrays, but it is at least doubtful that they are affected as trespass laws or laws prohibiting animals from running at large. This doubt is sufficient to warrant the adoption of the strictest policy of neutrality in dealing with them. Those acts, therefore, entitled as relating to estrays are treated as having been repealed by the general repealing act of 1897, and all laws entitled as relating to trespassing animals or animals running at large are treated as still in force, so far, at least, as that and other general laws on the subject are concerned. The question as to whether they are in force or not will have to be determined judicially, as is proper.

The code continued all these classes of acts in force. Kerr's Cyc. Political Code, § 19.

ESTRAY LAW OF 1901.

ACT 1401—An act relating to estrays, providing for taking them up and giving a lien on them for all damages, costs, and expenses incurred by reason of taking them up, and repealing all other acts and parts of acts now in force relating to estrays.

History: Approved March 23, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 603. Amended March 20, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 395; March 6, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 132; April 22, 1909, Stats. 1909, pp. 1060, 1079; May 20, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 636.

Prior acts: Act of April 19, 1856, Stats. 1856, p. 186. Amended March 28, 1859, Stats. 1859, p. 147; January 24, 1860, Stats. 1860, p. 9; April 4, 1864, Stats. 1863-64, p. 386. Repealed March 27, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 198, which was in turn repealed by the present act. The amending act of 1859 was also supplementary.

Estray animals.

§ 1. Any person finding at any time any estray domestic animal or animals upon his premises, or upon premises to which he has the right of possession, or upon highways adjacent thereto, may take up the same and have a lien thereon for all expenses incurred and costs in keeping and caring for said animal or animals, as hereinafter provided; and no person shall remove them from the possession of the taker-up, or from the possession of the officer to whom they may have been delivered, except as hereinafter provided; provided, however, in the counties of Trinity, Shasta, Del Norte, Siskiyou, Lassen and Modoc, any person finding at any time any estray domestic animal or animals upon his premises, or upon premises to which he has the right of possession, shall not have the right to take up said domestic animal or animals, nor shall he have a lien thereon for all or any of the expenses incurred and costs in keeping and caring for said animal or animals, unless said premises are entirely enclosed with a good and substantial fence. [Amendment of May 20, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 636.]

Notice filed with recorder. Publication of notice.

§ 2. Any person taking up an estray animal or animals shall confine the same in a secure place, and within five (5) days file with the county recorder or county pound-keeper of the county in which such estray is found, a notice containing a description of the animal or animals taken up, with the marks and brands, if they have any, together with the probable value of each animal, and a statement of the place where the taker-up found, and where he has confined the same. The county recorder or county pound-keeper shall receive for filing said notice the sum of fifty cents. If the value of said animal or animals together exceed ten dollars, said notice must also be published in a paper of general circulation within the county at least once a week for three successive weeks, stating the time on which the animal or animals will be delivered to the constable, as provided in section five of this act, or if the finder knows the owner of said animal or the person having charge thereof, then, within five days after said animal is taken up, he shall notify the owner of said animal, or the person having charge thereof, which notice shall contain the same information as the notice to be recorded, and hereinbefore provided, describing said animal so taken up, the date when it was taken up, the place where found, and the place where kept, and no charge shall be made for preparing and serving this notice. This notice shall be in lieu of recording a notice for which notice he shall be entitled to the sum of fifty cents. [Amendment of May 20, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 637.]

This section was also amended March 20, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 395; March 6, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 132; April 22, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 1079.

This section was made a part of the local option estray law of 1919 by reference. See Act 1402, § 3.

Person claiming animal to pay. Damages.

§ 3. At any time within thirty days from the date of the filing of the notice specified in section two of this act, any person claiming such estray animal or animals shall appear and demand from the taker-up the possession thereof, and shall, at the same time, pay the taker-up all damages, expenses and costs incurred by reason of taking up such animal or animals, and upon receiving such damages, expenses and costs, the taker-up shall immediately deliver to the party claiming such animal or animals the possession thereof. Such damages, expenses and costs shall be estimated as follows, to wit:

1. The total amount paid by the taker-up to the county recorder, or county pound-keeper. A reasonable cost for publishing said notice, and a reasonable attorney's fee for preparing the said notice not to exceed two dollars and fifty cents.

2. The sum of not to exceed fifty cents per day for the keeping and care of each horse, mule, jenny, ass, cow, bull, ox, steer, or calf;

3. The sum of not to exceed fifteen cents per day for the keeping and care of each sheep, goat, hog, or other animal not hereinbefore specified; provided, that the taker-up of said animal or animals must properly feed and water the same while under his care; and if he fail so to do, shall forfeit all right of lien thereon. [Amendment of May 20, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 637.]

This section was also amended April 22, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 1080.

This section was made a part of the local option estray law of 1919, by reference. See Act 1402, § 3.

Action over damages.

§ 4. If the party claiming such estray animal or animals is dissatisfied with the amount charged by the taker-up for costs and expenses, he shall tender to the taker-up the proper amount therefor, and if the said tender be refused, the party claiming such estray animal or animals shall within ten days thereafter commence, in the proper court, suit against the taker-up for the recovery of the possession of such estray animal or animals, in which said action the taker-up may set forth his expenses and costs, and said matter together with accruing expenses and costs to the time of the entry of the judgment, shall be determined by the court in accordance with the provisions of this act, and the amount of all such expenses and costs, and the costs of said action shall be included in any judgment awarded by said court, and such costs in said action shall be in favor of the plaintiff in said action and against said defendant, if the court shall find that the amount tendered by the plaintiff to the defendant was not less than the proper amount; otherwise said costs shall be in favor of the defendant and against the plaintiff. Without the consent of defendant in any such action, no return of such animal or animals shall be adjudged until the plaintiff shall pay to the defendant or deposit in court payable to him, the amount of all such expenses and costs in said action; and in case such payment or deposit be not made within ten days after the same shall have been determined by the court, or said action be not prosecuted with diligence, then the said action may be dismissed on motion of defendant without notice; in case of such dismissal, the defendant shall have judgment for his costs. In any such action for plaintiff to recover, it shall be incumbent on him to establish an existing right in himself to the possession of such animal or animals. [Amendment of May 20, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 638.]

This section was made a part of the local option estray law of 1919, by reference. See Act 1402, § 3.

Sale of animals not claimed.

§ 5. If no person appears and claims the animal or animals taken up within thirty days after the filing of the notice hereinbefore mentioned in section three of this act; or if a person does appear and claims the animal or animals taken up within thirty days after the filing of the notice above referred to, but shall fail to pay to the taker-up the expenses and costs as provided in section three of this act, and shall fail to commence and prosecute with diligence an action for the recovery of the possession of such estray animal or animals within the time required by section four of this act; or if said action shall be dismissed; then the taker-up shall, in writing, notify a constable or other officer of the township or county in which said animal or animals are held, which notice shall specify that he has complied with all the provisions of this act, and that a claimant of said animal or animals has failed to appear and claim the same as herein provided, or if he has appeared that he has failed to pay the expenses and costs and has failed to commence or prosecute with diligence an action for the recovery of the possession of such animal or animals within the time and in the manner provided for in this act, or that said action has been dismissed, and that such animal or animals are held by him subject to sale. Said constable, or officer, shall immediately proceed to sell such animal or animals at public sale, in conformity with the law concerning sales on execution, and shall be entitled to the same fees as are provided by law for sales under execution. [Amendment of May 20, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 638.]

This section was made a part of the local option estray law of 1919, by reference. Act 1402, § 3.

Disposition of money realized.

§ 6. Out of the money realized from the sale of estrays, the constable or other officer shall first retain his fees; he shall then pay to the taker-up his expenses and costs estimated as provided in section 3 of this act, or so much thereof as the funds in his hands will permit, and the surplus, if any, he shall pay to the county treasurer to be held by him for the owner of the estray or estrays for which it was received in payment. If any person or persons shall, within one year thereafter, prove to the satisfaction of the board of supervisors of the county in which the estray or estrays were sold, that he or they are entitled to the sum so held by the county treasurer, or any part thereof, the said board of supervisors shall order such sum to be paid over to the person or persons; and if not so proven within one year, then the same shall become a part of the common school fund of said county. [Amendment of May 20, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 639.]

This section was made a part of the local option estray law of 1919, by reference. See Act 1402, § 3.

Title to animals sold.

§ 7. All sales made by any constable, or other officer, under the provisions of this act, shall convey a good and valid title to the purchaser, and the owner of the estray or estrays so sold shall thereafter be barred from all right to recover the same, except as provided in section six. [Amendment of May 20, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 639.]

This section was made a part of the local option estray law of 1919, by reference. See Act 1402, § 3.

Liability of taker-up.

§ 8. The taker-up of an estray animal or animals shall use reasonable care to preserve the same from injury, but if an estray animal or animals die or escape from the possession of the taker-up at any time while he is holding the same under the provisions of this act, the taker-up shall not be held liable in any manner on account of such animal or animals. [Amendment of May 20, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 639.]

No change was made in this section although included in the amending act of 1915.

This section was made a part of the local option estray law of 1919, by reference. See Act 1402, § 3.

Cities not affected.

§ 9. Nothing in this act shall affect the laws or regulations in force or which may be in force regarding estrays, the poundkeeper, or other pound officer within the limits of any city or town where laws regarding estrays are in force. [Amendment of May 20, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 639.]

No change was made in this section, although included by the amending act of 1915.

This section was made a part of the local option estray law of 1919, by reference. See Act 1402, § 3.

Act not repealed.

§ 10. Nothing herein contained shall be held, deemed or construed to repeal an act, entitled "An act concerning lawful fences, and animals trespassing upon premises lawfully enclosed," passed March 30, 1850, nor to repeal an act, entitled "An act concerning lawful fences in the counties of San Bernardino, Colusa, Shasta, Tehama and Placer," approved April 18, 1859, in so far as the provisions of said acts, and each thereof, apply to or affect the counties of Trinity, Shasta, Del Norte, Siskiyou, Modoc and Lassen, but as to said counties, and each thereof, said acts are hereby expressly continued in force, it being hereby determined that the present conditions prevailing in said counties last named are such as to justify and demand the continued application of said statutes to said counties. [Amendment of May 20, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 639.]

See tit. "Fences," acts 1492, 1494.

The amending act of 1915 purports to amend the entire act, and omits entirely section 9a, and contains no reference to the subject-matter thereof. It is therefore omitted here.—See Stats. 1909, p. 1060.

1. Strict construction of estray statutes.—The act of 1863 (Stats. 1863, p. 697), and all other statutes prescribing modes by which a party may be divested of his property without his consent must be strictly construed.—Trumpler v. Bemerly, 39 Cal. 490.

2. Rule of common law not abrogated.—This act did not abrogate the rule of the common law as to trespassing animals adopted as to certain counties by the act of 1878 (Act 5246c).—Blevins v. Mullally, 22 Cal. App. 519, 135 Pac. 307.

3. Rule of common law in force.—It is now settled law in California that the common law rule applies in those counties which have been excepted from the operation of the so-called "Fence Law" of 1850 (131), the "Estray Act" of 1851 (299) and the successors of those statutes notwithstanding the new "Trespassing Act" of 1907 (999), which declares it unlawful for any person in possession of any animal to permit it to enter upon the lands of another "in all cases where such land is planted to growing crops," and is at the time entirely enclosed by a substantial fence or other enclosure.—Montezuma, etc., Co. v. Simmerly, 58 Cal. Dec. 563.

4. Repeal of prior estray laws.—The estray act of 1915 repeals all "fence laws" in all the counties of this state except the six counties specified.—Montezuma, etc., Co. v. Simmerly, 58 Cal. Dec. 563.

5. Complaint for damages for trespass of animals.—Allegations of the complaint in this case held to state a cause of action for damages for trespass on unenclosed lands.—Montezuma, etc., Co. v. Simmerly, 58 Cal. Dec. 563.

6. Lien of taker up.—Where stock is properly taken up, the taker up is entitled to a lien under the estray act for the amount of his costs and expenses, until tendered the amount of such costs and expenses by the owners in satisfaction of the lien.—Blanchard v. Vandamme, 30 Cal. App. Dec. 768.

7. Same—Tender of costs and expenses to taker up.—The owners of stock properly taken up under the "Estray Act" are not entitled to the possession of the same so as to entitle them to maintain an action for claim and delivery unless they have paid or tendered the costs and expenses of the taker up, or the latter has waived his lien.—Blanchard v. Vandamme, 30 Cal. App. Dec. 768.

8. Where the taker up of stock under the "Estray Act" claimed more than he was entitled to under the law, the owner must nevertheless tender an amount to which the taker up is entitled to claim, before he can maintain an action in claim and delivery.—Blanchard v. Vandamme, 30 Cal. App. Dec. 768.

Constitutionality of statutes relating to estrays.—See 8 Am. St. Rep. 271, note.

LOCAL OPTION ESTRAY LAW OF 1919.

ACT 1402—An act relating to estrays, providing for taking them up and giving a lien on them for damages, costs, and expenses incurred by reason of taking them up.

History: Approved May 25, 1919. In effect July 25, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1150.

Estray domestic animals may be taken up.

§ 1. Any person finding at any time any estray domestic animal or animals upon his premises, or upon premises to which he has the right of possession, may take up the same and have a lien thereon for all expenses incurred and costs in keeping and caring for said animal or animals, as hereinafter provided; and no person shall remove them from the possession of the taker-up, or from the possession of the officer to whom they may have been delivered, except as hereinafter provided.

"Premises." Substantial fence defined.

§ 2. Whenever the term "premises" is used in this act, it shall be construed to mean land entirely enclosed with a good and substantial fence, and none of the provisions of this act shall apply to any unfenced lands. No wire fence shall be deemed a good and substantial fence within the meaning of this act unless the same has three tightly stretched barbed wires securely fastened to posts of reasonable strength, firmly set in the ground not more than one rod apart, one of which wires shall be at least four feet above the surface of the ground; provided, however, that any kind of wire or other fence of height, strength and capacity, equal to or greater than the wire fence herein described shall also be deemed a good and substantial fence within the meaning of this act.

Enforcement of lien.

§ 3. Any such lien shall be enforced in the manner prescribed by the provisions of sections two to nine inclusive of the act entitled "An act relating to estrays, providing for taking them up and giving a lien on them for all damages, costs, and expenses incurred by reason of taking them up, and repealing all other acts and parts of acts now in force relating to estrays," approved March 23, 1901, as amended, which sections are incorporated herein and made a part hereof.

Election in supervisorial district to make act operative.

§ 4. The provisions of this act shall not become operative or effective in any supervisorial district until, at a general election or at a special election called for that purpose by the board of supervisors, the electors of the district shall have declared by a majority vote in favor thereof. The form of the ballot shall be substantially as follows:

Shall the provisions of this act become effective?	YES
	NO

To vote for making effective the provisions of this act, electors shall stamp a cross in the square opposite the word "Yes" on the ballot. To vote against making effective the provisions of this act, electors shall stamp a cross in the square opposite the word "No." Such an election shall be conducted and the ballots cast thereat, counted, canvassed and returned as in the case of the election of a member of the county board of supervisors.

Exceptions.

§ 5. Except in such districts as shall hereafter elect to accept the provisions of this act by the method set forth in section four hereof, none of the provisions of any act of this state relative to or affecting estrays shall be repealed, modified or effected hereby.

Counties excepted.

§ 6. None of the provisions of the act shall apply to the counties of Del Norte, Lassen, Modoc, Shasta, Siskiyou or Trinity.

Constitutionality.

§ 7. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Constitutionality of statutes relating to estrays.—See 8 Am. St. Rep. 271, note.
Re-enacted by reference.—Sections 2 to 9 inclusive of the act of 1901 (Act 1401) were re-enacted as a part of this act by reference.—See § 3.

FREEHOLDERS' CHARTER.

ACT 1425—Charter of the city of Eureka.

History: Voted for and ratified at a special election held January 26, 1895. Approved February 8, 1895. Amended February 25, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 1172; March 24, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 2036; March 31, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 1544; January 25, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1742. Eureka was originally incorporated April 18, 1856, Stats. 1856, p. 103. Amended February 14, 1857, Stats. 1857, p. 22. Repealed by the act of April 9, 1859, Stats. 1859, p. 192, reincorporating the town. This last act was amended March 13, 1862, Stats. 1862, p. 55; March 12, 1864, Stats. 1863-64, p. 165; March 1, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 186, and repealed by the act of reincorporation of February 10, 1874, Stats. 1873-74, p. 91. This last act was amended March 18, 1876, by a supplementary act of that date, Stats. 1875-76, pp. 333-334, and was superseded by the present charter. The act of March 8, 1878, Stats. 1877-78, p. 184, empowering the common council to set as a board of equalization, was superseded by the charter.

1. Harbor commissioners — Provisions of code not superseded.—The charter does not have the effect of superseding the sections of the Political Code relating to the harbor commissioners and the harbor master.—Quigg v. Evans, 121 Cal. 546, 53 Pac. 1093.

2. Dedication of A street.—The act of the legislature in incorporating the town of Eureka did not operate as a dedication of A street in said town, named therein as a part of the boundary of the town.—City of Eureka v. McKay & Co., 123 Cal. 666, 56 Pac. 439.

3. City council as board of equalization.—Where the charter makes the general law of taxation and revenue applicable to the city, the city council have the same power as the county supervisors as to equalization in cases of undervaluation, and may make a special contract for an abstract of the assessment roll, with comparisons with the county assessment roll and maps and other data relative to undervaluation to facilitate the performance of their work, and to order payment of compensation—therefore out of the city treasury.—Maurer v. Weatherby, 1 Cal. App. 243, 81 Pac. 1083.

4. Journal of city council — Record of Ayes and Noes.—The provision of the charter that a journal of the proceedings of the city council be kept by the city clerk, and that the ayes and noes be taken and entered therein in the final action upon the making of contracts is complied with, where the journal record as kept that a regular adjourned meeting of the council was held on the date specified, that certain members of the council were present comprising a quorum thereof, that the Mayor and a councilman were absent, and that all present voted in favor of the measure specified.—Goodyear, etc., Co. v. Eureka, 135 Cal. 613, 67 Pac. 1043.

5. Contracts—Provisions of charter as to making, to be read together.—The several sections of the charter relating to the making of a contract must be read together, and so read, the countersigning by the finance committee, and the numbering and registering of the contract is not one of the essentials to the validity of a contract.—Goodyear, etc., Co. v. Eureka, 135 Cal. 613, 67 Pac. 1043.

6. Contracts—To be in writing.—Where the charter contains a valid, stringent, and prohibitive provision requiring city contracts to be in writing, or under the authority of a special ordinance, a contract for city printing, not made as required, though made to the lowest bidder and under sealed proposals, is invalid, and not binding upon the city.—Times Publishing Co. v. Weatherby, 139 Cal. 618, 73 Pac. 465.

LEGALIZING THE MURRAY SURVEY.

ACT 1426—An act to legalize the survey of Clark's addition to.

History: Approved March 26, 1870, Stats. 1869-70, p. 395.

This act legalized the so-called Murray survey of Clark's addition to the town of Eureka.

CESSION OF WATER FRONT TO EUREKA.

ACT 1427—An act to cede certain property to the town of Eureka.

History: Approved March 13, 1857, Stats. 1857, p. 76.

This act ceded to Eureka the entire waterfront of the town.

1. The act of 1857 ceding the water front and adjacent marsh lands to Eureka left to the city the entire matter of dedication of streets over and across the lands so ceded.—City of Eureka v. McKay & Co., 123 Cal. 666, 56 Pac. 439.

CREATING A POLICE COURT.

ACT 1429—An act to establish a police court in and for the city of Eureka.

History: Approved March 26, 1895, Stats. 1895, p. 91.

Eureka police court.

§ 1. A police court is hereby established within and for the city of Eureka in said state of California, which shall be presided over by the police judge. The police court shall have and exercise the jurisdiction, powers, and duties as prescribed in the Code of Civil Procedure and the Political Code of the state of California, and the charter and ordinances of the said city of Eureka; and all proceedings therein shall be had in conformity with the provisions of the various codes of this state.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

1. Charter provision creating police court.—If the charter provision creating a police court had been made pursuant to the authorization of section 8½, article XI of the constitution, it would not only have been valid, but the legislature would have had no power to pass this act; or, if the act had already become a law upon the adoption of the charter provision, the latter would have superseded the act.—Fleming v. Hauce, 153 Cal. 162, 94 Pac. 620. See, also, Graham v. Mayor, etc., of Fresno, 151 Cal. 465, 91 Pac. 147.

2. Police court.—The charter of Eureka made provision for a police court; but section 8½, article XI, of the constitution had not then been adopted, and the charter provisions were inoperative, and the subsequent adoption of that section, authorizing the establishment of such courts by freeholder charters, did not revive or validate the charter provision which was void from its inception.—Fleming v. Hauce, 153 Cal. 162, 94 ac. 620. See, also, Ex parte Sparks, 120 Cal. 395, 52 Pac. 715.

TIDE AND SUBMERGED LAND GRANT.

ACT 1430—An act granting to the city of Eureka tide and submerged lands of the state of California, including the right to wharf out therefrom to the city of Eureka, and regulating the management, use and control thereof.

History: Approved May 15, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 724.

Tide lands granted Eureka.

§ 1. There is hereby granted to the city of Eureka, a municipal corporation of the state of California, and to its successors, all the right, title and interest of the state of California, held by said state by virtue of its sovereignty, in and to all tide and submerged lands, whether filled or unfilled, situate in the county of Humboldt, state of California, and described as follows, to wit:

Boundaries.

Beginning at the corner common to sections 14, 15, 22 and 23, T. 5 N., R. 1 W., H. M.; thence north between sections 14 and 15, T. 5 N., R. 1 W., H. M., 1,167.24 feet to the United States bulkhead line (established by the United States government for the harbor lines of Humboldt bay) said bulkhead line being the south line of Arcata channel; thence along said United States bulkhead line N. 68° 37' 20" E. 251.37 feet; N. 62° 49' 05" E. 563.05 feet; N. 54° 30' 36" E. 1,559.20 feet to the end of said bulkhead line as established at present; thence continuing along the low water line of Humboldt bay or the south margin of the Arcata channel N. 57° 54' 36" E. 2,146.31 feet; thence leaving said south margin of Arcata channel and run S. 27° 49' 46" E. 2,090.27 feet; thence S. 67° 16' W. 2,580.85 feet to the end of the present bulkhead line as established along the north margin of Eureka channel by the United States government; thence along said United States government bulkhead line above mentioned S. 65° 02' 57" W. 2,669.85 feet to the section line running between sections 22 and 23, T. 5 N., R. 1 W., II. M.; thence north along said section line 411.35 feet to the point of beginning, containing 189.10 acres; provided, that all that portion of land within the above described property conforming to the following description, to wit: All that portion of Woodley island lying east of the section line between sections 14 and 15 and 22 and 23, T. 5 N., R. 1 W., II. M., and claimed by Carson, Ohman and Elsemore, consisting of 14.8 acres, and all that portion of Daby island within the above-mentioned description claimed by Thomas Bair, consisting of 18.1 acres, shall be excluded from this conveyance, leaving thereby subject to this grant a net acreage of 156.2 acres.

Said lands shall be forever held by said city, and by its successors, in trust for the uses and purposes, and upon the express conditions following, to wit:

Purposes for which held. Maximum term of lease. Persons now in possession.

That said lands shall be used by said city and its successors, solely for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, and other utilities, structures and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion and accommodation of commerce and navigation, and said city, or its successors, shall not, at any time, grant, convey, give or alien said lands, or any part thereof, to any individual, firm or corporation for any purpose whatever; provided, that said city, or its successors, may grant franchises thereon, for limited periods, for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands, or any part thereof, for limited periods, for purposes consistent with the trusts upon which said lands are held by the state of California and with the requirements of commerce or navigation at said harbor, for a term not exceeding twenty-five years, and on such other terms and conditions as said city may determine, including a right to renew such lease or leases for a further term not exceeding twenty-five years or to terminate the same on such terms, reservations and conditions as may be stipulated in such lease or leases, and said lease or leases may be for any and all purposes which shall not interfere with navigation or commerce, with reversion to said city on the termination of such lease or leases of any and all improvements thereon, and on such other terms and conditions as the said city may determine, but for no purpose which will interfere with navigation or commerce; subject also to a reservation in all such leases or such wharfing out privileges of a street, or of such other reservation as the said city may determine for sewer outlets, and for gas and oil mains, and for hydrants, and for electric cables and wires, and for such other conduits for municipal purposes, and for such public and municipal purposes and uses as may be deemed necessary by the said city; provided, however, that each person, firm or corporation or their heirs, successors or assigns now in possession of land or lands abutting on said lands within the boundaries of the city of Eureka, shall have a right to obtain a lease for a term of twenty-five years from said city of said land and wharfing out privileges therefrom with a right of renewal for a further term of twenty-five years pursuant to the provisions of this act and on such terms and conditions as said city may determine and specify, subject to the right of said city to terminate said lease at the end of the first twenty-five years or refuse to renew the same, or to terminate the lease so renewed during the term of such renewed lease on such just and reasonable terms for compensation for improvements at the then value of said improvements as said city may determine and specify.

Quitclaim to city.

Upon obtaining such lease and wharfing out privileges such person, firm or corporation, their heirs or assigns, shall quitclaim to said city any right they or any of them may claim or have to the said lands hereby granted.

This grant shall carry the right to such city of the rents, issues and profits in any manner hereafter arising from the lands or wharfing out privileges hereby granted.

State's right to use docks.

The state of California shall have, at all times, the right to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays and other improvements constructed on said lands or any part thereof, for any vessel or other water craft, or railroad, owned or operated by the state of California.

No discrimination in rates.

No discrimination in rates, tolls or charges or in facilities for any use or service in connection therewith shall ever be made, authorized or permitted by said city or its successors in the management, conduct or operation of any of the utilities, structures or appliances mentioned in this section.

Right to fish.

There is hereby reserved in the people of the state of California the right to fish in the waters on which said lands may front with the right of convenient access to said waters over said lands for said purpose.

CONTENTS OF CHAPTER.

ACT 1434. PROTECTION OF LIFE AND PROPERTY AGAINST CARELESS AND MALICIOUS USE.

1435. TRANSPORTATION, STORAGE AND SALE OF EXPLOSIVES.

PROTECTION OF LIFE AND PROPERTY AGAINST USE OF EXPLOSIVES.

ACT 1434—An act to protect life and property against the careless and malicious use or handling of dynamite and other explosives.

History: Approved March 12, 1887, Stats. 1887, p. 110. §§ 1, 2, 3, 4 were codified by § 375a, Penal Code, § 8 by § 601, Penal Code.

Keep record of sales.

§ 1. It is the duty of each and every person, contractor, firm, association, joint stock company, and corporation, manufacturing, storing, selling, transferring, disposing of, or in any manner dealing in or with or using or giving out, nitro-glycerine, dynamite, vigorite, hereules powder, giant powder, or other high explosive, by whatever name known, to keep at all times an accurate journal, or book of record, in which must be entered, from time to time, as they are made, each and every sale, delivery, transfer, gift, or other disposition made by such person, firm, association, joint stock company, or corporation, in the course of business or otherwise, of any quantity of such explosive substance.

This section was codified by § 375a, Penal Code.

What record must show.

§ 2. Such journal or record book must show, in a legible handwriting to be entered therein at the time, a complete history of each transaction, stating the name and quantity of the explosive sold, delivered, given away, transferred, or otherwise disposed of; the name, place of residence, or business of the purchaser or transferee; the name of the individual to whom delivered, with his or her address, with a description of such individual sufficient to provide for identification.

This section was codified by § 375a, Penal Code.

Records subject to examination of peace officer.

§ 3. Such journal or record book must be kept, by the person, firm, association, joint stock company, or corporation so selling, delivering, or otherwise disposing of such explosive substance or substances, in his or their principal office or place of business, at all times subject to the inspection and examination of the peace officers or other police authorities of the state, county, city and county, or municipality where the same is situated, on proper demand made therefor, any failure or neglect to keep such book, or to make the proper entries therein at the time of the transaction, as herein provided, or to exhibit the same to the peace officers or other police authorities on demand, shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and punished accordingly.

This section was codified by § 375a, Penal Code.

Forfeiture in addition to punishment.

§ 4. In addition to such punishment, and as a cumulative penalty, such person, firm, association, joint stock company, or corporation so offending, shall forfeit, for each offense, the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction, by action at law. The party so instituting such actions shall not be entitled to dismiss the same without consent of the court before which the suit has been instituted. Nor shall any judgment recovered be settled, satisfied, or discharged, save by order of such court, after full payment into court, and all moneys so collected shall be paid to the party bringing the suit.

This section was codified by § 375a, Penal Code.

Prohibiting reckless possession of explosives.

§ 5. Any person who, in the public street or any highway of any county, city and county, city, or town or city, or at, in, or near to any theater, hall, public or private school, or college, church, hotel, or other public building, or at, in, or near to any private habitation or in, on board of, or near any railway passenger train, or car or train, or cable road, or car of the same, or steam or other vessel, engaged in carrying passengers, or ferryboat, or other public place where human beings ordinarily pass and repass, shall recklessly or maliciously have in his or her possession any dynamite, nitro-glycerine, vigorite, hercules powder, giant powder, or other high explosives; or who shall recklessly or maliciously by use of such means intimidate, terrify, or endanger any human being, is guilty of a felony, and on conviction shall be punished accordingly.

Defining reckless possession.

§ 6. Any person not regularly engaged in the manufacture, sale, transportation, or legitimate use in blasting operations, or in the arts, of such substances as are named in this act, shall be presumed (prima facie) to be guilty of a reckless and malicious possession thereof, within the meaning of the foregoing section, if any such substance is found upon him, or in his possession, in any of the places, or under any of the circumstances specified in the preceding section.

Punishment for unlawful possession.

§ 7. No person may knowingly keep or have in his or her possession any dynamite, vigorite, nitro-glycerine, giant powder, hercules powder, or other high explosives, except in the regular course of business carried on by such person, either as a manufacturer thereof or merchant dealing in the same, or for use in legitimate blasting operations, or in the arts, or while engaged in transporting the same for others, or as the agent or employee of others engaged in the course of such business or operations. Any other possession of any such explosive substances as are named in this act is unlawful; and the person so unlawfully possessing it shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding five years, or by fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Malicious deposit.

§ 8. Any person who maliciously deposits or explodes, or who attempts to explode, at, in, under, or near any building, vessel, or boat, railroad, tramroad, or cable road, or any train or car, or any depot, stable, car-house, theater, schoolhouse, church, dwelling-house, or other place where human beings usually inhabit, assemble, frequent, or pass and repass, any dynamite, nitro-glycerine, vigorite, giant or hercules powder, gunpowder, or other chemical compound, or other explosive, with the intent to injure or destroy such building, vessel, boat, or other structure, or with the intent to injure, intimidate, or terrify any human being or by means of which any human being is injured or endangered, is guilty of a felony, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison not less than one year.

This section was codified by § 601, Penal Code, as amended in 1913.

Transportation of high explosives.

§ 9. Any person, firm, or corporation, who shall take, carry or transport, or cause to be taken, carried, or transported, any dynamite, vigorite, nitro-glycerine, hercules or giant powder, or other high explosive, into the limits of, or through, or across any incorporated city or town of this state, or into, through, or across any harbor for shipping, in any manner, condition, or quantity, or otherwise, in violation of the laws or ordinances of such city or town, or of the laws or regulations governing such harbor, shall, in addition to the penalties provided or imposed by such laws, ordinances, or regulations, forfeit to the state of California all such explosive substances, as well as the cases inclosing the same. Such forfeiture may be sued for by any citizen of the state, for himself and the state; and the goods or property, when so forfeited and recovered by judgment of the court, shall be sold, and the proceeds divided, the citizen, so suing taking one-half to himself for his own benefit, and paying the other half into the state treasury. Such action may be maintained in any court of competent jurisdiction; provided, that the state shall never be liable to any cost or expense for any such suit or proceeding.

Police officer may sue for forfeitures.

§ 10. Any of the forfeitures provided for in this act may be taken advantage of, and sued for and recovered, by any peace officer or policeman, member of the police force of any city, city and county, or town where the same arises, for his own benefit, notwithstanding any law, ordinance, or rule to the contrary.

§ 11. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Code commissioners' notes.—The code commissioners say of § 375a, Penal Code: "This is a codification of §§ 1, 2, 3, and 4 of the statute of 1887, p. 10."

Of § 601, Penal Code they say: "The section is amended to conform it to § 8 of the statute of 1887, p. 110, to protect life and property against the careless and malicious use or handling of dynamite and other explosives."

While this is probably true now, since the amendment of 1913 to the section, it was probably not true before.—See In re Mitchell, 1 Cal. App. 396, 82 Pac. 347.

1. Rule of construction of penal statutes.—The rule of construction adopted in section 4 of the Penal Code, applies to all penal statutes whether in or out of the code, including this act.—In re Mitchell, 1 Cal. App. 396, 82 Pac. 347.

2. Construction—"Place where human beings usually pass or repass."—A working mine, constructed with shafts, tunnels, levels, stopes, excavated chambers, and stulls to hold up the rock and dirt overhead, is a structure, and a "place where human beings usually . . . pass or repass," within the meaning of section 8 of the act.—In re Mitchell, 1 Cal. App. 396, 82 Pac. 347.

3. Purpose of act.—The act seeks to remedy the malicious explosion of dynamite and other enumerated explosives, with intent to injure property and other human beings, and it is applicable to a working mine, although it does not mention the word, "mine."—In re Mitchell, 1 Cal. App. 396, 82 Pac. 347.

TRANSPORTATION, STORAGE AND SALE OF EXPLOSIVES.

ACT 1435—An act relating to explosives and prescribing regulations for the transportation, storage and selling of explosives, and providing penalties for the violation of this act.

History: Became a law under constitutional provision without governor's approval March 21, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 391. Amended May 18, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 695; May 2, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 148.

Definitions.

§ 1. The term "explosive" or "explosives" whenever used in this act shall include gunpowder, blasting powder, dynamite, guncotton, nitro-glycerine or any compound thereof, fulminate, and every explosive substance having an explosive power equal to or greater than black blasting powder, and any substance intended to be used by exploding or igniting the same to produce a force to propel missiles, or rend apart substances, but does not include said substances, or any of them, in the form of fixed ammunition for small arms. The term "person" whenever used herein shall be held to include corporations as well as natural persons; words used in the singular number to include the plural and the plural the singular. The words "explosive manufacturing plant" shall be understood to include all the land used in connection with the manufacture and storage of explosives thereat.

Inclosure and storage.

§ 2. Except only at an explosive manufacturing plant, no person shall have, keep or store, at any place within this state, any explosives, unless such explosives are completely inclosed and incased in tight metal, wooden or fiber containers, and, except while being transported, or within the custody of a common carrier pending delivery to consignee, shall be kept and stored in a magazine constructed and operated as hereinafter described, and no person having in his possession or control, any explosives, shall under any circumstances permit or allow any grains or particles thereof to be or remain on the outside or about the containers, in which such explosives are contained.

Magazine.

§ 3. Magazines in which explosives may lawfully be stored or kept shall be two classes, as follows:

First class.

(a) Magazines of the first class shall consist of those containing explosives exceeding one hundred pounds, and shall be constructed wholly of brick, wood covered with iron, or other fireproof material, and must be fireproof, and, except magazines where gunpowder or black blasting powder only is stored must be bullet proof, and shall have no openings except for ventilation and entrance. The doors of such magazines must be fireproof and bullet proof, and at all times kept closed and locked, except when necessarily opened for the purpose of storing or removing explosives therein or therefrom, by persons lawfully entitled to enter the same. Every such magazine shall have sufficient openings for ventilation thereof, which must be screened in such manner as to prevent the entrance of sparks or fire through the same. Upon each side of such magazine there shall at all times be kept conspicuously posted a sign, with the words, "magazine," "explosives," "dangerous," legibly printed thereon in letters not less than six inches high. No matches, fire or lighting device of any kind except electric light shall at any time be permitted in any such magazines. No package of explosives shall at any time be opened in any magazine. No blasting caps, or other detonating or fulminating caps, or detonators, or electric fuzes, shall be kept or stored in any magazine in which explosives are kept or stored, but such caps, detonators or fuzes may be kept or stored in a magazine constructed as above provided which must be located at least one hundred feet from any magazine in which explosives are kept or stored. Magazines in which explosives are kept or stored must be detached and must be located at least one hundred feet from any other structure.

Quantity depends on distance from buildings, etc.

(b) On and after January 1, 1919, the quantity of explosives that may be lawfully had, kept or stored in any magazine shall depend upon the distance that such magazine is situated from buildings, highways, or railroads, and upon the protection afforded by natural or efficient artificial barricades to such buildings, highways or railroads. Whenever any of the quantities given in column one of the quantity and distance table hereinafter set forth is had, kept or stored in any magazine in this state, the distance that any quantity given in column one of said table may be lawfully had, kept or stored from buildings is the distance set opposite said quantity in column two of said table, and the distance that any quantity in column one of said table, may be lawfully had, kept or stored from railroads is the distance set opposite said quantity in column three of said table, and the distance that any quantity given in column one of said table may be lawfully had, kept or stored from highways is the distance set opposite said quantity in column four of said table. The quantity and distance table governing the keeping or storing of explosives is as follows:

Quantity and distance table.

Distances reduced one-half when.

Whenever the building, railroad or highway to be protected is effectually screened from the magazine, where explosives are had, kept or stored, either by natural features of the ground or by an efficient artificial barricade of such height that any straight line drawn from the top of any side wall of the magazine to any part of the building to be protected, will pass through such intervening natural or efficient artificial barricade, and any straight line drawn from the top of any side wall of the magazine to any point twelve feet above the center of the railroad or highway to be protected will pass through such intervening natural or efficient artificial barricade, the applicable distances given in column two, three and four of the quantity and distance table may be reduced one-half.

Table not applicable, when.

Whenever the building, railroad or highway to be protected is effectually screened from the magazine, where explosives are had, kept or stored by a natural barrier which, at any one point thereon, is forty feet or more in height above a straight line drawn from the top of any side wall of the magazine to any part of the building to be protected or to any point twelve feet above the center of the railroad or highway to be protected, which natural barrier has a natural thickness of not less than two hundred feet where the same is intersected by the straight line drawn as aforesaid then, the quantity and distance table shall not be applicable to such magazine.

Quantity reduced, when.

If at any time the distances from a magazine to a building, highway or railroad be decreased through the construction of a new building, highway or railroad or by any other means, then the amounts of explosives which may be lawfully had, kept or stored in said magazine must be reduced to correspond with the quantity and distance table; provided, in the case of a new building, that the same is constructed in good faith for any of the purposes specified in the following paragraph, and not with intent to annoy, harass, oppress or hinder the owner of said magazine.

"Building."

The term "building" when used in the foregoing table shall be held to mean and include only any building regularly occupied in whole or in part as a habitation for human beings, and any store, church, schoolhouse, railway station or other public place of assembly.

"Highway."

The term "highway" when used in the foregoing table shall be held to mean public streets or public roads, and shall not include roads constructed and maintained by private persons.

"Railroad."

The term "railroad" when used in the foregoing table shall be held to mean and include any steam, electric or other railroad that carries passengers or articles of commerce for hire.

"Efficient artificial barricade."

The term "efficient artificial barricade" when used in the foregoing shall be held to mean an artificial mound or properly revetted wall of earth of a thickness of not less than three feet. The provisions of this subsection (b) shall not apply to mining or quarrying operations. Nothing contained in this subsection (b) shall be held to prohibit the keeping or storing of explosives at any explosive manufacturing plant which was actually used in manufacturing explosives prior to the fifteenth day of April, 1917.

Magazines of second class.

(c) Magazines of the second class shall consist of a stout box, and not more than one hundred pounds of explosives shall at any time be kept or stored therein, and, except when necessarily opened for use by authorized persons, shall at all times be kept securely locked. Upon each such magazine there shall at all times be kept conspicuously posted a sign with the words, "magazine," "explosives," "dangerous," legibly printed thereon.

Storage in tunnels.

Nothing in this section contained shall be held to prohibit the keeping or storing of explosives in any tunnel, where no person or persons are employed; provided, always, that any tunnel so used for the storage of explosives shall have fireproof doors, which must at all times be kept closed and locked, except when necessarily opened for the purpose of storing or removing explosives therein or therefrom, by persons lawfully entitled to enter the same. The door of such tunnel magazine shall at all times have legibly printed thereon the words, "magazine," "explosives," "dangerous." [Amendment of May 2, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 148.]

This section was also amended May 18, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 695.

Penalty for violating.

§ 4. Any person violating or failing to comply with any of the provisions of sections 2 and 3 of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars, and not more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Transporting.

§ 5. It shall be unlawful to transport, carry or convey, any explosives between any places within this state, on any vessel, car or other vehicle of any description, operated by common carrier, which vessel, car or vehicle is carrying passengers for hire; provided, that it shall be lawful to transport on any such vessel, car or vehicle, small arms ammunition in any quantity, and such fuses, torpedoes, rockets or other signal devices as may be essential to promote safety in operation, and properly packed and marked samples for laboratory examination, not exceeding a net weight of one-half pound each, and not exceeding twenty samples at one time, in a single vessel, car or vehicle, but such samples shall not be carried in that part of the vessel, car or vehicle, which is intended for the transportation of passengers for hire; provided, further, that nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the transportation of military or naval forces with their accompanying munitions of war on passenger equipment vessels, cars or vehicles; provided, further, that the transportation of explosives on any freight train in this state that carries passengers for hire in a car or caboose attached to the rear of such train, shall not be held or construed to violate the provisions of this act.

Regulations of railroad commission.

§ 6. The railroad commission of this state is hereby empowered to make, publish and promulgate such regulations as are not in conflict with this act and as in the judgment of said commission may tend to the safe packing, loading, storage and transportation of the explosives defined by section one of this act.

Nitro-glycerine.

§ 7. It shall be unlawful to transport, carry or convey liquid nitro-glycerine, fulminate in bulk, in dry condition, or other like explosive, between any places within this state, on any vessel, car or vehicle of any description, operated by common carrier in the transportation of passengers or articles of commerce by land or water.

Packages to be marked.

§ 8. Every package containing explosives or other dangerous articles when presented to a common carrier for shipment shall have plainly marked on the outside thereof, the contents thereon, and it shall be unlawful for any person to deliver for transportation to any common carrier engaged in commerce by land or water, or to cause to be delivered or to carry any explosive or other dangerous article, under any false or deceptive marking, description, invoice, shipping order or other declaration, or without informing the agent of such carrier of the true character thereof, at, or before the time of such delivery or carriage is made.

Penalty for violating.

§ 9. Any person who willfully violates or causes to be violated any of the foregoing provisions of sections 5, 6, 7 and 8 of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished for each offense by fine not exceeding two thousand dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding eighteen months, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

Record of sales. Statement from purchaser. Not applicable to carrier. Penalty.

§ 10. Every person selling, giving away, or delivering explosives within this state, shall keep at all times an accurate journal or book of record, in which must be entered from time to time, as it is made, each and every sale, delivery, gift, or other disposition made by such person in the course of business, or otherwise, of any quantity of such explosive substance. Such journal or record book must show in a legible handwriting, to be entered therein at the time, a complete history of each transaction, stating name and quantity of explosives sold, delivered, given away, or otherwise disposed of; name, place of residence, and business of the purchaser or transferee, name of individual to whom delivered, with his or her address. Such journal or record book must be kept by the person so selling, delivering or otherwise disposing of such explosives, in his or their principal office or place of business, at all times subject to the inspection and examination of the police authorities of the state, county or municipality where same is situated, on proper demand therefor. In addition to keeping the record above provided, it shall be unlawful for any person to sell, give away or deliver any explosives within this state, without taking from the person to whom such explosives are sold, given away or delivered within this state, a statement in writing, showing the name and the address of the person to whom such explosives are sold, given away or delivered, and the place where and the purpose for which such explosives are intended for use, which statement shall be signed by the person to whom such explosives are sold, given away or delivered, or his agent, and be witnessed by two witnesses, known to the person selling, giving away or delivering such explosives, to be residents of the county where such explosives, as shown by such statement, are intended for use, who shall certify that the person to whom such explosives are to be sold, given away or delivered is personally known to each of said witnesses, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief, the explosives are required by such person for the uses and purposes set forth in the statement, which said statement shall at all times be kept on file in the principal office or place of business of the person so selling, giving away or delivering such explosives, subject to the inspection of the police authorities of the state, county or municipality where the same is situated, on proper demand made therefor; provided, that nothing in this section shall be held to apply to the delivery of explosives to any person or carrier for the purpose of being transported from a place within this state to any other place within this state, and, provided further, that nothing in this section contained shall apply to interstate commerce.

Every person selling, giving away or delivering any explosives without complying with all the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars, and not more than two thousand dollars, or by imprisonment of not less than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

In addition to such imprisonment and as cumulative penalty such person so offending shall forfeit for each offense, the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction, and the party instituting the action for such forfeiture shall not be entitled to dismiss same, without the consent of the court before which the suit has been instituted; nor shall any judgment recovered be set aside, satisfied or discharged save by order of such court, after full payment into court, and all moneys so collected must be paid to the party bringing suit.

Explosives in mines.

§ 11. [Repealed May 18, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 698.]

Entering explosives factory.

§ 12. No person, except a peace officer or a person authorized so to do by the owner thereof, or his agent, shall enter any explosive manufacturing plant, magazine or car containing explosives in this state, and any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in an amount not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding three months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Discharging firearms near magazine.

§ 13. No person shall discharge any firearms within five hundred feet of any magazine or of any explosive manufacturing plant, and any person willfully violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Carrying explosives on person.

§ 14. No person shall willfully carry any explosive on his person within this state in any car, vessel or vehicle that carries passengers for hire, or place or carry any explosive while on board any such car, vessel or vehicle, in any hand baggage, roll or container, or place any explosive in any baggage thereafter checked with any common carrier, and any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary not exceeding two years.

Municipal ordinance.

§ 15. Nothing in this act contained shall prevent the operation of, or modify, alter, set aside or supersede the provisions of any municipal ordinance respecting the delivery, storing and handling of explosives.

Interstate shipment.

§ 16. Nothing in this act contained shall regulate or apply to any shipment of explosives from a point within this state, consigned to a point without this state, over a line or lines of one or more common carriers.

The amending act of 1919 contained the following:

"§ 2. All acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed."

PANAMA-CALIFORNIA INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION. USE OF BALBOA PARK.

ACT 1440—An act giving and granting to the board of park commissioners of the city of San Diego the right to use and the right to authorize the use of Balboa Park in said city for exposition purposes.

History: Approved March 24, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 478. Amended January 11, 1916, Stats. 1916 (ex. sess.), p. 43; January 19, 1917. In effect immediately. Stats. 1917, p. 1.

Use of San Diego park for exposition.

§ 1. The board of park commissioners of the city of San Diego, California, is hereby authorized and empowered to use, or authorize any exposition company to use, any part or portion of the lands set aside as a public park by resolution of the board of trustees of the city of San Diego and approved and ratified by an act of the legislature of the state of California, approved February 4, 1870, for the purpose of giving an exposition in the year 1917 to celebrate the completion of the Panama canal. [Amendment of January 19, 1917. In effect immediately. Stats. 1917, p. 1.]

This section was also amended January 11, 1916, Stats. 1916 (ex. sess.), p. 44.

Powers of park commissioners.

§ 2. The board of park commissioners of the city of San Diego is hereby authorized and empowered to inclose any part or portion of said park which may be set aside for the use herein set forth and charge an entrance or admission fee to said exposition, and may sell, give, or grant, to any person or persons, association or associations, corporation or corporations, such rights, privileges and concessions as are usually granted by expositions, or such rights, privileges, and concessions as may be expedient or necessary to the success of said exposition, and said city may charge and collect compensation therefor. The power and authority conferred by this act on the said board of park commissioners of the city of San Diego may be by said city delegated to any exposition company or corporation now or hereafter organized for the purpose of promoting, financing, or giving said exposition.

Applies only to Balboa Park.

§ 3. This act shall not apply to any park lands owned by the city of San Diego other than pueblo lots 1129, 1130, 1131, 1135, 1136, 1137, 1142, and a portion of pueblo lot 1144, according to the official survey of the city of San Diego by Charles H. Poole, made in 1856, which pueblo lots are now and shall hereafter be known and designated as Balboa Park.

The amending act of 1917 contained the following:

Emergency measure.

§ 2. This act is hereby declared to be an emergency measure within the meaning of section one, article IV, of the constitution of the state of California, and shall take effect immediately.

The facts constituting such emergency are as follows: The directors of the Panama-California International Exposition and the members of the board of park commissioners of the city of San Diego are desirous of continuing the Panama-California International Exposition, situated in the city park of San Diego, for a further period of time, not to exceed one year. A large amount of money has been expended in the permanent improvement of the exposition site in the park, and many of the buildings contain exhibits that can not be removed for some time. Therefore, it is necessary for legislative action immediately, in order to authorize the maintenance of such an exposition for the further period of time—the authorization of the state of California for the maintenance of said exposition having expired on the first day of January, 1917.

PANAMA-CALIFORNIA INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION. STATE EXHIBIT AND BUILDING.

ACT 1441—An act to provide for a state exhibit at the Panama-California Exposition, to be held in San Diego, California, in 1915, to celebrate the completion of the Panama canal and providing for the erection of necessary buildings therefor; creating a commission to have the charge and control of said exhibition and making an appropriation therefor.

History: Approved April 1, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 559.

Panama-California exposition commissioners. Bond.

§ 1. It is made the duty of the governor of the state of California, within thirty days after the passage of this act, to appoint three commissioners who shall be removable at the pleasure of the governor, and who shall constitute the Panama-California exposition commissioners. Said Panama-California exposition commissioners shall have the exclusive charge and control of the expenditure of all moneys appropriated by the state of California for the construction of buildings and maintaining an exhibit of the products of the state of California at said exhibition and for the purpose of properly representing the state of California at said exposition, to be held in the city of San Diego, state of California, in 1915. Each of said commissioners shall execute and file with the secretary of state, within thirty days after his appointment by the governor, good and sufficient bond in the sum of ten thousand dollars made to the people of the state of California, which bond shall be approved by the governor and shall be conditioned for the faithful performance of said commissioners of all their duties as such commissioners.

No compensation.

§ 2. Said commissioners shall receive no compensation for their services but they shall be allowed their actual expenses not exceeding one thousand dollars.

Appropriation.

§ 3. The sum of fifty thousand dollars or as much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to meet the expense of preparing the plans and specifications and constructing the foundation for an exposition building, to be erected at the Panama-California exposition, to be held in San Diego in the year 1915, which plans and specifications shall provide for a building to cost not less than two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The amount herein appropriated shall be available on and after July 1, 1912.

Controller to draw warrant.

§ 4. The state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant or warrants on the general fund from time to time for such portions of said sum of fifty thousand dollars and in favor of such persons as the majority of said commissioners shall direct and the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay the same.

State institutions to assist.

§ 5. It shall be the duty of the state institutions of the state of California to assist the commission in every possible way by loaning it such material in their possession as will add to the attractive features of the state exhibit at said Panama-California exposition.

Exemptions.

§ 6. This act is exempt from the provisions of section 672 of the Political Code of the state of California, and from the provisions of an act entitled "An act to regulate contracts on behalf of the state in relation to the erection, construction, alteration, repair or improvement of any state structure, building, road, or other state improvement of any kind and to repeal an act entitled 'An act to regulate contracts on behalf of the state in relation to erections and buildings, approved March 28, 1876'" (approved March 22, 1909).

PANAMA-CALIFORNIA INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION—APPROPRIATION TO COMPLETE EXPOSITION BUILDING.

ACT 1442—An act appropriating two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) to complete the construction of the exposition building of the state of California at the Panama-California exposition to be held in San Diego, California, during the year 1915.

History: Approved June 6, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 893.

Appropriation: state building, Panama-California exposition.

§ 1. The sum of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to be used in the construction of that certain exposition building authorized by an act entitled "An act to provide for a state exhibit at the Panama-California exposition, to be held in San Diego, California, in 1915, to celebrate the completion of the Panama canal, and providing for the erection of necessary buildings therefor; creating a commission to have charge and control of said exposition and making an appropriation therefor," approved April 1, 1911.

Controller authorized to draw warrant.

§ 2. The state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant or warrants on the general fund from time to time for such portion of said sum of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) and in favor of such persons as the majority of the Panama-California exposition commissioners shall direct, and the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay the same.

Audit of bills.

§ 3. All bills for material and labor in carrying out the provisions of section one of this act shall be audited and approved by the Panama-California exposition commissioners of the said exposition before being paid.

Exempt from Political Code, § 672.

§ 4. This act is exempt from the provisions of section 672 of the Political Code of the state of California and from the provisions of an act entitled "An act to regulate contracts on behalf of the state in relation to the erection, construction, alteration, repair or improvement of any state structure, building, road, or other state improvement of any kind and to repeal an act entitled 'An act to regulate contracts on behalf of the state in relation to erections and buildings,' approved March 28, 1876'" (approved March 22, 1909).

PANAMA-CALIFORNIA INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION—MAINTENANCE OF STATE BUILDING.

ACT 1443—An act appropriating fifty thousand dollars for the completion, maintenance and repair of the California state building at the Panama-California international Exposition.

History: Approved January 11, 1916, Stats. 1916 (ex. sess.), p. 44.

Appropriation for repair of California building at San Diego.

§ 1. The sum of fifty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of the Panama-California international exposition fund for the purpose of the completion, maintenance and repair of the California state building at the Panama-California international exposition, at San Diego. The expenditure of said sum of money so appropriated shall be under the exclusive charge and control of the Panama-California exposition commissioners.

Exempt from Political Code, § 672.

§ 2. This act is exempt from the provisions of section six hundred seventy-two of the Political Code of the state of California and from the provisions of an act entitled "An act to regulate contracts on behalf of the state in relation to the erection, construction, alteration, repair or improvement of any state structure, building, road or other improvement of any kind and to repeal an act entitled 'An act to regulate contracts on behalf of the state in relation to erections and bulidings,' approved March 28, 1876" (approved March 22, 1909).

PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION COMMISSION—POWERS AND DUTIES.

ACT 1444—An act relating to the Panama-Pacific international exposition commission of the state of California and defining its powers and duties.

History: Approved March 4, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 273.

Panama-Pacific international exposition commission. Seal.

§ 1. The Panama-Pacific international exposition commission, after the appointment by the governor of the members thereof, shall immediately organize and establish offices in the city and county of San Francisco. At the time of the appointment of said commission, the governor shall designate the president thereof, and the member so designated shall be the president of said commission. Should any vacancy thereafter occur in the presidency of said commission the governor shall designate and appoint a member of said commission to be the president thereof. Three members of said commission shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Said commission shall adopt a seal having thereon the words "Panama-Pacific international exposition commission of the state of California," and shall file with the state controller and state treasurer a certificate of the imprint of such seal, and all signatures of persons authorized by said commission to sign contracts, claims or other documents on behalf of said commission.

Powers and duties.

§ 2. For the purpose of performing the duties imposed by law upon said commission, it shall have power and authority to appoint and employ a secretary, executive officers, and such other assistants or persons as it may deem necessary, and fix their compensations. All the officers and employees so appointed shall hold office at the pleasure of the commission. All expense of said commission and all salaries of employees shall be payable out of the Panama-Pacific international exposition fund upon proper warrants drawn therefor as hereinafter specified. The said commissioners shall receive their actual traveling expenses. The commission shall have full and complete power and authority to carry out the provisions of this act and of section 22 of article IV of the constitution of the state of California, and the particular enumeration herein of powers and duties of said commission shall not be construed to be a limitation or restriction of the full and complete power and authority of the commission.

Powers and duties.

§ 3. Said commission shall have power to make and execute all contracts and agreements necessary to the business of said commission or to carry out the purposes of this act and section 22 of article IV of the constitution of the state of California. All contracts, made by said commission, shall be executed in triplicate signed by the president thereof and executed under the seal of said commission, and one copy thereof shall be immediately filed with the state controller. No contract or agreement shall be made by said commission unless the parties thereto shall waive therein all claims and recourse against the state of California for loss or damage of person and property arising from, growing out of or in any way connected with or incident to such contract or agreement, and all contracts or agreements made by said commission in violation of this provision for waiver shall be void.

Audit claims.

§ 4. The said commission, through the president or such other officer as it shall authorize, shall audit all claims and demands for moneys expended by it, or for expenditures of money which they have authorized in writing, and shall certify such claims and demands to the state controller who shall thereupon draw his warrants therefor upon the state treasurer payable out of said Panama-Pacific international exposition fund, and the state treasurer shall pay the same.

Agreements with Panama-Pacific international exposition company.

§ 5. Said commission shall have power to make and enter into, with the Panama-Pacific international exposition company, a corporation, organized under the laws of the state of California on the twenty-second day of March, 1910, any and all agreements which, in the opinion of said commission, they shall deem necessary or advisable to bring about the union or joint action of said commission and said corporation in furtherance of said Panama-Pacific international exposition, or that they shall deem necessary or advisable to carry into effect the provisions of this act and section 22 of article IV of the constitution of the state of California; provided, however, that all moneys received or realized by said commission for the benefit of the state of California under such agreement, shall be immediately deposited by the commission with the state treasurer to the credit of said Panama-Pacific international exposition fund; said moneys so deposited by said commission shall be subject to the charge and control of said commission in like manner as other moneys in said fund; provided, further, that any exhibitor shall be permitted to unpack, install, maintain and repack all exhibits in such manner as he may see fit, subject to uniform rules and regulations established by the exposition authorities and approved by the commission appointed under the terms of this act.

Expenditure of funds.

§ 6. The said commission shall determine whether any of said fund or any of the moneys under its control shall be expended for any specific purpose in connection with said Panama-Pacific international exposition, and whether any contract of any character shall be entered into at any time with said Panama-Pacific international exposition company, and the determination of the said commission as to the expenditure of any sum of money, or as to the making of any contract, or as to the advisability, necessity or advantage of any act in connection with said fund, shall be final and conclusive. In making expenditures in pursuance of this act and in pursuance of the provisions of section 22 of article IV of the constitution of the state of California or in performing any act in reference to said fund or in the making of any contract with said exposition company, the said commission shall make such investigations as it may deem advisable or proper and may in any manner that it deems appropriate, inform itself in reference to any matter or thing; and may ask and demand at any time and as often as it desires of the said Panama-Pacific international exposition company, a corporation, a full and complete detailed statement of the receipts of said corporation and of the expenditures for any purpose whatsoever, made or to be made, or incurred by said Panama-Pacific international exposition company, a corporation, and may at any time and as often as it desires, examine the books, records, contracts, accounts, vouchers, and all papers of every sort and character, in the possession of, kept or used by the Panama-Pacific international exposition company, a corporation, and the said books, records, contracts, accounts, vouchers and all papers of every sort and character of the said Panama-Pacific international exposition company, a corporation, shall be open to inspection of the said commission or its authorized agents, at all times; and if the said Panama-Pacific international exposition company, a corporation, shall fail or refuse, or neglect to permit an inspection, or examination, or investigation by said commission, or by any person or persons said commission may designate, of its said books, records, contracts, accounts, vouchers and papers, or any of them, then and in that event, the said commission may hold, determine and decide such failure, refusal or neglect on the part of said Panama-Pacific international exposition company, a corporation, to be ample and sufficient reason and justification for the refusal or the failure of said commission to make any expenditures, or to execute any contract, or to pay or disburse any sum of money.

Accounting system.

§ 7. The said commission shall ask and demand that in the expenditure of any fund in connection or conjunction with the fund herein described, proper books of account shall be kept and maintained and an appropriate accounting system shall be had, and that such records and books shall be maintained and kept within the city and county of San Francisco, as will enable a person of ordinary understanding from an inspection thereof to determine the source and amount of all income and moneys received and the exact purpose, in detail, for which expenditures are made or moneys paid.

Successors of Panama-Pacific international exposition company.

§ 8. All of the provisions of this act shall apply to the successors or assigns of the Panama-Pacific international exposition company, a corporation, and wherever in this act the said corporation is referred to, the said provisions shall in case any other corporation, or company, or individual, shall succeed to the rights of said corporation, or be substituted in its place, or shall undertake to hold the said exposition, be applicable to such other corporation, person or company.

State not liable.

§ 9. The state of California shall not in any manner, or under any circumstances, be liable for any of the acts, doings, or proceedings of any person, association or corporation with whom said commission shall act, co-operate, or join to carry out the purposes of this act, or of section 22 of article IV of the constitution of the state of California, nor for the services, salary, labor or wages of any officers, agents, servants, or employees of such person, association or corporation, nor for any debts, liabilities or expenses of any kind whatsoever of such person, association or corporation, provided, however, that the commission may, in its discretion, employ the same persons, servants, agents or officers that may be employed by such person, association or corporation with which said commission shall act, co-operate and join to carry out the purposes of this act, and contribute to or pay the whole or any part of their compensation.

No member of commission liable.

§ 10. No member of said commission, or employee thereunder, or any officers thereof, shall be personally liable for any debts or obligations, or liability that may be created or incurred by said commission or by the state of California acting by or through said commission. Neither said commission nor any member thereof shall be liable in damages for the negligence, default or wrongful act of any of the agents, servants or employees of said commission.

Commission may sue.

§ 11. Said commission may execute contracts, hold property or sue in its own name as the Panama-Pacific international exposition commission of the state of California. The provisions of an act entitled: "An act to authorize suits against the state, and regulating the procedure therein," approved February 28, 1893, shall not apply to any claim or contract made by said commission or for negligence of said commissioners.

Financial statement.

§ 12. Said commission shall, on the first day of December of each year, file with the state controller a financial statement under the seal of said commission, and verified by the members thereof, which statement shall show in detail the disposition of all moneys expended by it and to whom the same were paid; all expenditures contracted by it, all amounts paid thereon, and the balance due, if any, and shall file with such financial statement a report of all proceedings of said commission, the work accomplished by it, and plans proposed and the status of all matters under or in connection with the work of said commission and its funds. Upon completion of all work by said commission at the time fixed by law, said commission shall render a full, complete and final report, and file the same with the state controller.

Claims exempt from section 672.

§ 13. All claims and demands arising under or in consequence of any contract or agreement made by said commission, and all expenditures authorized by it, shall be exempt from the provisions of section 672 of the Political Code.

Indebtedness.

§ 14. Indebtedness incurred and warrants issued by said commission shall be payable only from the Panama-Pacific international exposition fund, and shall never be or become general indebtedness of the state of California.

Profits of exposition.

§ 15. The commission shall make such contracts as it may deem necessary or appropriate to insure to the state of California, its proportionate share in the returns, income, profits and holdings of said exposition and shall perform such acts as to it may seem requisite for the protection of the interests of the state of California in such returns, income, profits and holdings and shall do all things it may deem advisable to enable the state to receive its proportionate share of said returns, income, profits and holdings, and to this end, if said commission shall deem it advisable, it may provide for its participation in the management and control of the said exposition.

Tax levy.

§ 16. The state board of equalization shall, at the time mentioned in section 3696 of the Political Code, for the fiscal year beginning July first in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, and for each fiscal year thereafter, to and including the fiscal year beginning July first in the year one thousand nine hundred and fourteen, fix, establish and levy such an ad valorem rate of taxation, upon every kind and character of property in the state of California not exempt from taxation on the first day of July in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten, as when levied upon all the property in this section mentioned, after making due allowance for delinquency, shall raise for each of said fiscal years, the sum of one million two hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

Tax collected.

§ 17. The taxes assessed, levied and collected for state purposes under the provisions of sections 3820, 3821, 3822, 3823, of the Political Code shall be deemed to have been assessed, levied and collected for the purposes of raising to the extent of the amount collected, the moneys directed to be raised by section 22 of article IV of the constitution of this state as that section was amended on the eighth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten and as required by section 16 of this act.

Exposition fund.

§ 18. All money collected by taxation as in this act provided shall be paid over to the state treasurer at the time and in the manner provided in chapter 10, part III, title IX of the Political Code and by said state treasurer credited to a fund to be known as the Panama-Pacific international exposition fund and paid out as provided in section 4 hereof.

Disposition of surplus.

§ 19. Any money remaining in the Panama-Pacific international exposition fund after the filing of the complete and final report of said commission shall be transferred to the general fund of the state of California.

§ 20. This act shall take effect immediately.

Constitutional authorization of appropriation and bond issue.—See amendment to state constitution authorizing state to appropriate $5,000,000 for the exposition: Stats. 1910, p. 4. See, also, amendment to charter of San Francisco, authorizing that city to issue bonds for $5,000,000, for the same purpose: Stats. 1910, p. 2.

1. Construction of contract in favor of state.—All intendments are in favor of the state in construing a contract entered into by a public commission under the authority of an ambiguous proviso in the act creating such commission and defining its power to make contracts, where the contract in question is itself uncertain in its terms.—Panama-Pacific International Exposition Co. v. Panama-Pacific International Commission, 178 Cal. 746, 174 Pac. 890.

2. Qualifications of power of state commission to make contract construed as conditions limiting power.—Where a public commission is granted power over property of the state, and the language of the grant contains terms which qualify the power, the qualifications are to be construed as conditions beyond which the grantee of the power cannot go, in so far as such qualifications are favorable to the state.—Panama-Pacific International Exposition Co. v. Panama-Pacific International Exposition Commission, 178 Cal. 746, 174 Pac. 890.

3. Section 22, article IV, of the constitution is mandatory.—The proviso of section 22, article IV of the constitution, is mandatory, and the clause authorizing the commission to make "proper contracts" for the purpose of enabling the state to share proportionately with the contributors in the returns from the exposition requires the contracts to be of that character, and limits the power of the commission to that extent, and the commission did not have the power to make a contract which would not entitle the state to share in the returns to the extent stated, or would give the state less than its proportionate share.—Panama-Pacific International Exposition Co. v. Panama-Pacific International Exposition Commission, 178 Cal. 746, 174 Pac. 890.

4. State entitled to share on equal footing with stockholders.—The provisions of the constitution and of the act of 1911, contemplate that the state should be upon an equal footing with the stockholders of the company, in the event there should be a surplus to divide, and all contributions by stockholders are required to be counted in ascertaining the proportion the state is entitled to, and all other contributions to be excluded in the division of such surplus except those of the state and of the stockholders of the company.—Panama-Pacific International Exposition Co. v. Panama-Pacific International Exposition Commission, 178 Cal. 746, 174 Pac. 890.

5. The provision of the contract between the commission and the company that the state "shall receive in any distribution of property, dividends, or surplus and out of any remaining property or assets of said exposition an amount bearing the same proportion to the total amount of said assets, property, dividends, or surplus, as the total contributions of the state of California to the exposition shall bear to the sum total of all contributions from all sources to said exposition," is void, because contrary to the provisions of the constitution.—Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company v. Panama-Pacific International Exposition Commission, 178 Cal. 746, 174 Pac. 890.

PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION—DISPOSITION OF STATE'S SHARE OF RETURNS.

ACT 1445—An act to provide for the disposition of any money or other property accruing to or to be received by the state of California as its proportionate share of the returns from the holding of the Panama-Pacific international exposition.

History: Approved January 11, 1916, Stats. 1916 (ex. sess.), p. 43.

Returns accruing to state from Panama-Pacific international exposition.

§ 1. The Panama-Pacific international exposition commission of the state of California is hereby authorized to accept and receive from the Panama-Pacific international exposition company the returns accruing to the state of California from the holding of the Panama-Pacific international exposition.

Disposition of funds.

§ 2. On the receipt of said returns the said commission shall promptly make a full report thereof to the state controller and deposit said returns with the state treasurer, who shall place the first two hundred thousand dollars deposited to the credit of "the San Francisco state normal school-exposition preservation fund," and the next fifty thousand dollars thereof to the credit of a fund known as "the Panama-California international exposition fund," which fund is hereby created, and the remainder thereof to the credit of the general fund.

EXPOSITION BUILDING AT LOS ANGELES.

ACT 1446—An act to provide for an exposition building at Los Angeles in Agricultural park for the use of all of the counties of this state, for the purpose of maintaining permanent exhibits therein of the resources of the different counties, and to make an appropriation for the construction of said exposition building. [Approved April 22, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 1076.]

History: Approved April 22, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 1076.

EXPOSITION AT LOS ANGELES—FURNISHING AND EQUIPPING BUILDING.

ACT 1447—An act making an appropriation for furnishing, equipping and maintaining the exposition building at Los Angeles, California, and for establishing and maintaining a permanent exhibit therein of the products and resources of the different counties of the state of California.

History: Approved June 16, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 1156.

ACT 1448—An act to appropriate money to be used as a revolving fund by the sixth district agricultural association for the purpose of creating, installing and maintaining special expositions at Exposition park, Los Angeles.

History: Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1619.

Appropriation: expositions at Exposition park.

§ 1. The sum of fifty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to be used by the board of directors of the sixth district agricultural association for holding special expositions of the resources and industries of the state of California, in Agricultural park, otherwise known as Exposition park in the city of Los Angeles, California during the sixty-ninth and seventieth fiscal years.

Revolving fund.

§ 2. The sum of fifty thousand dollars, so appropriated, shall constitute and remain a revolving fund in the hands of the state treasurer to be advanced to said sixth dis-strict agricultural association for the express purpose and term set forth in section one of this act and said fund when so advanced shall be used by said association for the purpose of creating, installing and maintaining special expositions open to the resources and industries of every section of the state without discrimination.

Contingent fund sixth district agricultural association.

§ 3. All collections and receipts shall be reported monthly by the secretary to the controller of the state and paid into the state treasury. Such collections and receipts shall be credited to the contingent fund of the sixth district agricultural association, which is hereby created and which shall be for the use of the said sixth district agricultural association. Of the moneys in said contingent fund, when such action has been authorized by the board of control, the association may draw, without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements, a sum not to exceed one thousand dollars, said sum so drawn to be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary. At the close of each fiscal year, or at any other time, upon demand of the board of control, the moneys so drawn must be accounted for and substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements submitted to and audited by the board of control and by the controller.

Return of fund.

§ 4. The said sum of fifty thousand dollars, so appropriated, shall be returned to the state treasurer by said sixth district agricultural association on or before the thirtieth day of June, 1919.

Available for what expenditures.

§ 5. The said sum of fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be made available to meet expenditures incurred subsequent to the first day of July, 1917.

ITALIAN INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION—CALIFORNIA EXHIBIT.

ACT 1449—An act appropriating money to pay the expense of maintaining an exhibit of the products of the state of California at the Italian international exposition, to be held in the city of Turin, kingdom of Italy, in the year 1911.

History: Approved April 25, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1110.

This act appropriated $10,000 for the purpose indicated.

GHENT UNIVERSAL AND INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION—CALIFORNIA EXHIBIT.

ACT 1449a—An act appropriating money to pay the expense of maintaining an exhibit of the products of the state of California at the universal and international exposition, to be held in the city of Ghent, in the kingdom of Belgium, in the year nineteen hundred thirteen, and providing for a commissioner thereof.

History: Approved April 18, 1913. In effect immediately. Stats. 1913, p. 37.

This act appropriated $12,848.05 for the purpose indicated.

CALIFORNIA HOME FOR FEEBLE-MINDED CHILDREN—GOVERNMENT AND MANAGEMENT.

ACT 1462—An act to provide for the government and management of the California home for the care and training of feeble-minded children.

History: Approved March 9, 1887, Stats. 1887, p. 69. Amended March 14, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 155. Prior act of March 18, 1885, Stats. 1885, p. 198, repealed by present act.

Sonoma State Home.—The California Home for the Care and Training of Feeble Minded Children is now under the control of the state commission in lunacy.—See Kerr's Cyc. Political Code, § 2136, 2145, 2192 et seq. It is now known as the Sonoma State Home.—See Kerr's Cyc. Political Code, § 2145.

1. Charge against the county.—Neither the act of 1885 nor the present act contained any provision in reference to the expense of the education and support of the inmates of the institution being a charge against the county from which they were sent.—State v. County of Sonoma, 139 Cal. 264, 72 Pac. 1003.

Supplementary act.—See Act 1466.

PERMANENT HOME.

ACT 1463—An act providing a permanent site for the California home for the care and training of feeble-minded children.

History: Approved March 6, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 69.

1. Constitutionality.—The act is not obnoxious to section 34, article IV, inasmuch as it makes but a single appropriation for a single purpose.—People v. Dunn, 80 Cal. 211, 13 Am. St. Rep. 118, 22 Pac. 140. See, also, People v. Counts, 89 Cal. 15, 26 Pac. 612.

2. The mere selecting of a site to be purchased for a state home for feeble minded children is not a legislative act, and authorizing this to be done by certain persons is not a delegation of legislative power to such persons.—People v. Dunn, 80 Cal. 211, 13 Am. St. Rep. 118, 22 Pac. 140.

3. Same—Journals of the legislature.—In determining whether all constitutional requirements were complied with in the enactment of this statute, it will not be presumed that every constitutional requirement not shown by the journals of the legislature to have taken place did not take place.—People v. Dunn, 80 Cal. 211, 13 Am. St. Rep. 118, 22 Pac. 140. See, also, County of Yolo v. Colgan, 132 Cal. 265, 84 Am. St. Rep. 41, 64 Pac. 403.

SALE OF SANTA CLARA COUNTY PROPERTY.

ACT 1464—An act to authorize and direct the sale of the site and buildings of the California home for the care and training of feeble-minded children, in Santa Clara county.

History: Approved March 19, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 133.

GRANT OF RIGHT OF WAY FOR HIGHWAY.

ACT 1465—An act granting to the board of supervisors of Sonoma county, California, right of way through the lands of the California home for the care and training of feeble-minded children, to enable said board of supervisors to change the location of the public highway now traversing said lands.

History: Approved March 23, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 277.

SUPPLEMENTARY ACT—ADMISSION TO HOME, OF IDIOTS AND EPILEPTICS.

ACT 1466—An act to authorize, empower, and direct the California home for the care and training of feeble-minded children, to admit idiots, epileptics and mentally enfeebled paralytics into said institution; to provide for the support of all inmates therein, and to repeal all acts or parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act.

History: Approved March 31, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 251. Amended March 23, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 795.

1. Complaint.—A complaint in an action by the state against a county for the expense of the care and training of a feeble minded child, under this act, which fails to show that the officiating judge made an order for such payment as provided for by the act, or that the trustees ever made any arrangement without any county official for such payment, fails to state a cause of action.—State v. Sonoma County, 139 Cal. 264, 72 Pac. 1003.

TRANSFER AND QUITCLAIM SANTA CLARA PROPERTY.

ACT 1467—An act to authorize and empower the trustees of the California home for care and training of feeble-minded to transfer and quitclaim certain real property to the trustees of the town of Santa Clara.

History: Approved March 20, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 319.

IMPROVEMENT AND REPAIRS OF HOME.

ACT 1468—An act to provide for certain improvements and repairs to the California home for the care and training of feeble-minded children, making an appropriation therefor.

History: Approved June 14, 1906, Stats. 1906 (ex. sess.), p. 27.

This act appropriated the sum of $72,500 for the purpose indicated.

COMPLETION OF MAIN BUILDINGS.

ACT 1469—An act authorizing and directing the completion of the main buildings at the California home for the care and training of feeble-minded children, near Eldridge, California, and making an appropriation therefor.

History: Approved March 11, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 199. Amended March 25, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 794.

AUTHORIZING CONVEYANCE OF CERTAIN PROPERTY.

ACT 1470—An act to authorize and enable the board of managers of the California home for the care and training of feeble-minded children to convey certain real property.

History: Approved March 21, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 781.

AUTHORIZING CONSTRUCTION OF TWO PAVILIONS FOR EPILEPTICS.

ACT 1471—An act authorizing and directing the construction and furnishing of two pavilions for colonizing epileptic patients at the California home for the care and training of feeble-minded children, near Eldridge, California, and making an appropriation therefor.

History: Approved March 11, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 200.

AUTHORIZING CONSTRUCTION OF DAIRY BUILDINGS.

ACT 1472—An act authorizing and directing the construction of dairy buildings and for the purchase of dairy apparatus at the California home for the care and training of feeble-minded children, near Eldridge, California, and making an appropriation therefor.

History: Approved March 11, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 201.

ACT 1475. FEES AND SALARIES OF CERTAIN OFFICERS.

1477. FEES, ETC., IN CITIES AND COUNTIES OF OVER 100,000 INHABITANTS.

1479. FEES OF COUNTY, TOWNSHIP AND OTHER OFFICERS.

1480. PAYMENT OF FEES TO TRIAL JURORS.

1481. PAYMENT TO MUNICIPAL OFFICERS OUT OF FUNDS OF COUNTY.

ACT 1475—An act to regulate fees of office and salaries of certain officers, and to repeal certain other acts in relation thereto.

History: Approved March 5, 1870, Stats. 1869-70, p. 148. Amended April 4, 1870, Stats. 1869-70, pp. 677, 680; February 21, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 140; March 1, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, pp. 178, 188; March 2, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 219; March 1, 1878, Stats. 1877-78, p. 134; May 21, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 788. Supplemented April 1, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 910; February 17, 1874, Stats. 1873-74, p. 102. Repealed as to Sacramento county February 28, 1874, Stats. 1873-74, p. 204; as to Colusa county, March 30, 1874, Stats. 1873-74, p. 873. Superseded as to various counties in various particulars at various times, and all particulars relating to fees and salaries of the county officers therein, by the various county government acts from 1883 to 1897, and their amendments (see Kerr's Cyc. Political Code, §§ 4230, et seq.). The provisions as to fees and commissions paid by the state for assessment, equalization, auditing and collecting ad valorem taxes, were repealed by the act of February 23, 1893, p. 5 (County of Yolo v. Colgan, 132 Cal. 265, 64 Pac. 403). The act is probably not now in force in any except minor particulars (see notes, also see Act 1479, and notes). The act repealed all previous acts relating to the subject dealt with.

The amendment of 1917 is as follows:

Fees of grand and trial jurors.

§ 28. Grand and trial jurors shall receive the fees as established by law. No juror who shall be excused from attendance upon his own motion, on the first day of his appearance, in obedience to the venire, shall receive per diem, but mileage only. In civil actions tried by a jury the party or parties to the action who shall announce that a trial by jury is required shall pay the trial jury their per diem fees as jurors but shall recover the fees so paid, except in actions to recover the possession of personal property where the value of the property recovered amounts to less than three hundred dollars and in actions for the recovery of money or damages where the recovery is less than three hundred dollars, as costs from the party or parties against whom the verdict is rendered. For that purpose the party or parties to the action who shall announce that a trial by jury is required shall be required during the trial to deposit daily with the clerk of the court, at or before the time the case each day is called for trial, the amount of money necessary to pay in full the trial jury fees, for such day. Out of the total sum of money so deposited the clerk shall pay daily to each trial juror the fees to which he shall be entitled as provided by law. Clerks of courts of record shall keep an account of all money received for trials by each juror during the term, and if the sum so received by such juror shall not amount to the jury fees provided by law per day, he shall deliver to such juror a certificate of the time for which he is entitled to receive pay, which shall be paid out of the county treasury as other county dues. If in any trial in a civil case the jury be for any cause discharged without finding a verdict, the fees of the jury shall be paid by the party who shall have announced that a trial by jury is required, but may be recovered as costs if he afterwards obtain judgment; and until they are paid no further proceedings shall be allowed in the action. On the first day of each regular meeting of the board of supervisors the clerks of courts of record shall file with the clerk of the board of supervisors of their respective counties a detailed statement, containing a list of the jurors, and the amount of fees earned by each juror and paid out of the county treasury. No allowances shall be made to any clerk for any service performed by him, until the statement required by this section shall have been filed as aforesaid. [Amendment of May 21, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 788.]

The amending act of 1917 contains the following:

Repealed.

§ 2. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Act not in force—Exceptions.—This act is probably not in force in any respect except as to the provisions of section 28, as amended in 1917, and possibly section 33 as to fees of interpreters and translator, which does not appear to have been amended. These two sections are reprinted here.

Code commissioner's note: "Repealed, as to the salaries and fees therein named, by the various County Government Acts, commencing with 1883, p. 299, and ending with 1897, p. 452. Repealed by fee bill of 1895, p. 267, as to the officers therein named; also repealed as to sundry counties by special acts relating to them. (Swinerton v. Monterey Co., 76 Cal. 115 [18 Pac. 135]; Sacramento Co. v. Colgan, 114 Cal. 246, [46 Pac. 175]; County of Yolo v. Colgan, 132 Cal. 265, [84 Am. St. Rep. 41, 64 Pac. 43].)"

1. Act repealed.—The act of 1870 was repealed so far as Sacramento County was concerned by the act of February 28, 1874 (Stats. 1873-74, p. 204).—County of Sacramento v. Colgan, 114 Cal. 246, 46 Pac. 175.

2. Act not repealed.—That portion of the act of 1870 as amended in 1872 (Stats. 1871-72, p. 188) relating to fees of jurors in civil cases, was not repealed by the codes, nor by the act of 1895 (Stats. 1895, p. 267).—Carpenter v. Jones, 121 Cal. 362, 53 Pac. 842.

3. The act of 1895 (Stats. 1895, p. 267) did not repeal the act of 1870 except as to the amount of the fees allowed jurors, and not as to the mode of payment.—Hilton v. Curry, 124 Cal. 84, 56 Pac. 784.

4. Necessity for payment of cost of jury in civil cases.—Cases upholding the requirement that expenses of jury trials must be paid before further proceedings are allowed.—Lukes v. Logan, 66 Cal. 33; Fairchild v. King, 102 Cal. 320; Carpenter v. Jones, 121 Cal. 362.

5. Suits in forma pauperis.—The act of 1917 and the act of 1868 requiring payment of cost of jury trial have no application in a case where the plaintiff is permitted to sue in forma pauperis.—Majors v. Superior Court, 58 Cal. Dec. 273.

6. Fees of jurors in criminal cases in San Francisco.—Neither the act of 1870, nor the act of 1866 (Stats. 1865-66, p. 122), nor the consolidation act (Stats. 1856, p. 145), nor the act of 1895 (Stats. 1895, p. 267), authorizes the payment of jurors in criminal cases in San Francisco out of the municipal treasury.—Birch v. Phelan, 127 Cal. 49, 59 Pac. 209; Powell v. Phelan, 138 Cal. 271, 71 Pac. 335.

7. Fees of jurors in civil cases in San Francisco.—The act of 1870 expressly excepted and exempted San Francisco from its operations, and the provision as to the issue of a juror's certificate is not repugnant to the provisions of the act of 1895 (Stats. 1895, p. 267) relating to the fees of jurors.—Hilton v. Curry, 124 Cal. 84, 56 Pac. 784.

8. The right of a juror to compensation is purely statutory, and he can only claim such compensation in the manner and amount prescribed by statute.—Hilton v. Curry, 124 Cal. 84, 56 Pac. 784.

9. Fees of trial jurors.—Trial jurors are given compensation only for attendance, and not when excused from attendance.—Jacobs v. Elliott, 104 Cal. 318, 37 Pac. 942.

10. Order to issue juror's certificate.—The jurisdiction to make the order under section 28 as to issue of jurors' certificates in civil cases, in case the fees are not paid by the plaintiff, and payment out of the county treasury rests on special circumstances, and when those circumstances do not exist, the court has no power to make it.—Ex parte Makinney, 2 Cal. Unrep. 283, 3 Pac. 253.

11. Justices' fees.—The provision of the amendment of 1878 (Stats. 1877-78, p. 134) requiring "all fees of justices of the peace" to be paid before a justice is compelled to forward the papers on appeal, contemplates the payment of all fees incurred by both appellant and respondent; and that provision is not in conflict with section 977, Code of Civil Procedure.—Webster v. Hanna, 102 Cal. 177, 36 Pac. 421.

12. District attorney—Fees in prosecutions before justices' courts.—Where the district attorney did not institute the proceeding, and did not appear and prosecute the case, either in person or by deputy, he is not entitled to fees in prosecutions before a justice court under the act of 1870 and sections 4256-4258, Political Code.—Edwards v. County of Fresno, 74 Cal. 475, 16 Pac. 239.

13. Fines for breaches of city ordinances.—The state has no interest whatever in fines collected for breaches of city ordinances, nor in the prosecution thereof, and the fees of the district attorney for the prosecution of such cases cannot, under the act of 1870, become a charge against the county.—Pillsbury v. Brown, 47 Cal. 477.

14. Appealable order.—The refusal of the court to make an order allowing the sheriff keeper's fees, is not appealable.—Greehn v. Shumway, 73 Cal. 263, 14 Pac. 863.

15. Keeper's fees.—A permission given on the street, to the sheriff, by the judge, to pay keeper's fees, is not an order; and even the judge had promised to have the order entered, it would not have amounted to an order.—Shumway v. Leaky, 73 Cal. 260, 14 Pac. 841.

15a. Under this act the sheriff is not allowed payment for keeping possession of and preserving property under attachment or execution until an allowance is made by the court.—Geil v. Stevens, 48 Cal. 590; Bower v. Rankin, 61 Cal. 108; Shumway v. Leaky, 73 Cal. 260, 14 Pac. 841.

After an order allowing keeper's fees has been made the amount due is just debt and may be set out as a counter claim in an action against the sheriff for damages for failure to sell property under execution.—Alexander v. Wilson, 7 Cal. Unrep. 195, 79 Pac. 274.

16. Order for payment of keeper's fees must be made in the attachment suit, and not in another action.—Shumway v. Leaky, 73 Cal. 260, 14 Pac. 841.

FEES, ETC., IN CITIES AND COUNTIES OF OVER 100,000 INHABITANTS.

ACT 1477—An act to provide and regulate the manner of receiving and paying fees, commissions, percentages, and other compensation for official services in cities and cities and counties having a population of over one hundred thousand inhabitants, and prescribing the duties of officers with reference thereto.

History: Approved March 11, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 127. Amended March 20, 1895, Stats. 1895, p. 164.

1. Constitutionality—Arbitrary distinction.—The act is unconstitutional and invalid because based on an arbitrary distinction, since the law being for the protection of the municipality and not for the convenience of the public, there is no reason why the same protection should not be given cities of less population.—Rauer v. Williams, 118 Cal. 401, 50 Pac. 691.

2. Same—Special law.—The act is unconstitutional and invalid, because it is a special law passed in a case where a general law is applicable.—Rauer v. Williams, 118 Cal. 401, 50 Pac. 691.

3. Two-dollar judgment fee.—This act does not contemplate or permit the reception by a justice of the peace personally of a two-dollar fee for the entry of a judgment.—Reid v. Groezinger, 115 Cal. 551, 47 Pac. 374.

FEES OF COUNTY, TOWNSHIP AND OTHER OFFICERS.

ACT 1479—An act to establish the fees of county, township and other officers, and of jurors and witnesses in this state.

History: Approved March 28, 1895, Stats. 1895, p. 267.

Code commissioners' note: "Unconstitutional as to the requirement of a deposit on the appraised valuation of estates (Fatjo v. Pfister, 117 Cal. 83 [48 Pac. 1012]); also in so far as it provides that justices shall retain fees for their own use (Reid v. Groezinger, 115 Cal. 551 [47 Pac. 374]); also as to the amount of justices' fees generally (Dwyer

v. Parker, 115 Cal. 544 [47 Pac. 372]].—See Tooley v. Calaveras Co., 121 Cal. 482 [53 Pac. 1075]; also as to constables in counties of the thirty-fourth class (Kiernan v. Swan, 131 Cal. 410 [63 Pac. 768])."

Editor's note: Statutes fixing fees of county and township officers prior to the County Government Act of 1883 were repealed by the latter statute in the following provisions: Sec. 164—"The salaries and fees provided for in this act shall be in full compensation for all services of every kind and description rendered by the officers therein named," etc. Sec. 182—"The provisions of this act, so far as it relates to the fees and salaries of all officers named, except justices of the peace and constables, shall not affect the present incumbents," etc. Sec. 184—"All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed." So the statute here given purports to fix fees that may be charged and repeals "all acts or portions of acts inconsistent therewith."

Jury fees.—It may be further noted that, while the amount of jury fees is here fixed, yet it has been held that the provision in the statute of 1870, as amended by 1871-2, p. 188, ch. CLXVIII, that jury fees shall be paid by party calling for jury, where jury is discharged without having arrived at a verdict, has not been repealed by the codes nor by subsequent legislation.—Carpenter v. Jones, 121 Cal. 362, 364, 53 Pac. 842.

And as to fees in San Francisco. It was held that the statute of 1866 had not been repealed, as to the mode in which payment should be made.—Hilton v. Curry, 124 Cal. 84-89, 56 Pac. 784; Birch v. Phelan, 127 Cal. 49, 50, 51, 59 Pac. 209; but that statute is now repealed: 1905, 387, ch. CCCXXXI.

1. Constitutionality.—Whole act not invalidated.—The unconstitutionality of the provisions of the act relating to the compensation of justices of the peace and constables does not invalidate the whole act, and there remains a full and complete fee bill for all county and township officers named, which to that extent supersedes the county government act of 1893.—Dwyer v. Parker, 115 Cal. 544, 47 Pac. 372. See, also, Burce v. Jack, 135 Cal. 535.

2. Same.—Uniform operation.—The act is obnoxious to the provision of section 11, Article I of the constitution, requiring all laws of a general nature to have a uniform operation.—Dwyer v. Parker, 115 Cal. 544, 47 Pac. 372.

3. Same.—Fixing fees of justices of the peace without regard to classification of counties.—The act is obnoxious to section 5, Article XI of the constitution, because it attempts to fix the compensation of justices of the peace and constables without regard to the classification of counties required in order to fix such compensation in proportion to duties performed.—Dwyer v. Parker, 115 Cal. 544, 47 Pac. 372. See, also, Knight v. Martin, 128 Cal. 245, 60 Pac. 849; Kiernan v. Swan, 131 Cal. 410, 63 Pac. 768; Thom v. Los Angeles, 136 Cal. 375, 69 Pac. 18; Johnston v. Los Angeles, 5 Cal. Unrep. 568, 47 Pac. 374; Westerfield v. Riverside County, 5 Cal. Unrep. 855, 50 Pac. 929.

4. Same.—Imposition of tax for county purposes.—Section 1 of the act violates section 12, Article XII of the constitution, in that it attempts to impose a tax for county purposes.—Fatjo v. Pfister, 117 Cal. 83, 48 Pac. 1012. See, also, Wingerter v. San Francisco, 134 Cal. 547, 86 Am. St. Rep. 294, 66 Am. Rep. 730; Trower v. San Francisco, 152 Cal. 479, 15 L. R. A. (N. S.) 183, 92 Pac. 1025.

5. Same.—Subject not germane.—Not expressed in title.—Section 1 of the act violates section 24, Article IV of the constitution, in that its subject is not expressed in the title and is not germane thereto.—Fatjo v. Pfister, 117 Cal. 83, 48 Pac. 1012. See, also, Wingerter v. San Francisco, 134 Cal. 547, 86 Am. St. Rep. 294, 66 Pac. 730; Trower v. San Francisco, 152 Cal. 479, 15 L. R. A. (N. S.) 183, 92 Pac. 1025.

6. Same.—Illegal tax.—Section 1 of the act is obnoxious to section 1, Article XIII of the constitution, in that it is an attempt under the guise of fee to impose an ad valorem property tax upon the estates named, regardless of their solvency or insolvency.—Fatjo v. Pfister, 117 Cal. 83, 48 Pac. 1012. See, also, Wingerter v. San Francisco, 134 Cal. 547, 86 Am. St. Rep. 294, 66 Pac. 730; Trower v. San Francisco, 152 Cal. 479, 15 L. R. A. (N. S.) 183, 92 Pac. 1025.

7. The act is applicable to San Francisco. Is repugnant to the act of 1866 (Stats. 1865-66, p. 66), is a valid law, and operated as a repeal of that act.—Miller v. Curry, 113 Cal. 644, 45 Pac. 877. But, see, Doyle v. Eschen, 5 Cal. App. 55, 89 Pac. 836.

8. The act had no application to the City and County of San Francisco.—Powell v. Phelan, 138 Cal. 271; 71 Pac. 335.

9. Fees of justices of the peace.—The two-dollar fee for all services performed by the justice of the peace before trial includes issuance of attachment and approval of bond, including justification of sureties, notwithstanding separate provisions for process not otherwise provided for, and for taking and approving bond.—Kozminsky v. Williams, 126 Cal. 26, 58 Pac. 310.

10. Witness fees in criminal cases.—The act does not provide for the means or manner of paying fees of witnesses in criminal cases.—Murphy v. Madden, 130 Cal. 674, 63 Pac. 80.

11. Superseded.—This act was superseded. See Kerr's Cyc. Political Code, §§ 4300, 4300a, 4300k, 4301.

PAYMENT OF TRIAL JURORS' FEES.

ACT 1480—An act for the payment of the fees due to trial jurors, who have served as such in the superior court of any county or city and county of this state, under the act of 1895.

History: Approved March 23, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 684.

PAYMENT OF MUNICIPAL OFFICERS.

ACT 1481—An act forbidding the payment of municipal officers out of the funds of the county.

History: Approved March 8, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 88.

§ 1. In no case shall the fees of a city justice of the peace, town or city recorder or city or town marshal, for services in any criminal action, be a charge against the county.

1. Constitutionality.—The act is clearly a violation of section 31, Article IV of the constitution.—Powell v. Phelan, 138 Cal. 271, 71 Pac. 335. See, also, Jackson v. Baehr, 138 Cal. 266, 71 Pac. 167.

CONCERNING LAWFUL FENCES AND TRESPASSING ANIMALS.

ACT 1492—An act concerning lawful fences, and animals trespassing on premises lawfully enclosed.

History: Passed March 30, 1850, Stats. 1850, p. 131. (See Act 1493, and notes to this act.)

Code commissioners' note: "Repealed as to many counties by the statute of 1855, p. 154, from which, however, Amador, Butte, Calaveras, Colusa, Klamath, Nevada, Placer, San Bernardino, San Diego, Santa Barbara, Shasta, Siskiyou, Trinity, Tuolumne, and Yuba counties were omitted. The statute of 1855 was afterwards amended to include Butte, Calaveras, and Nevada. Special acts were passed relating to other counties, but the statute of 1850 has apparently not been repealed as to Amador, Klamath, San Diego, Santa Barbara, Siskiyou, and Trinity counties."

1. Common law rule.—This act is by necessary implication directly in conflict with and repugnant to the rule of the common law that every man is bound to keep his beasts in his own close under penalty of answering in damages for all injuries resulting from their being permitted to run at large.—Logan v. Gedney, 38 Cal. 579.

2. Repeal.—The effect of the act of March 7, 1878 (Stats. 1877-78, p. 176), concerning trespassing of animals in certain counties in California, was to repeal the act of 1850 concerning lawful fences, so far as the counties named were concerned.—Blevens v. Mullally, 22 Cal. App. 519, 135 Pac. 307.

3. Liability for injuries to passing animals—Question of lawful fence, vel non, immaterial.—The liability of one who maintains a fence along a public highway for injuries to passing animals, does not depend upon the question whether his fence came up to the standard adopted by the legislature in this act, which is merely descriptive of what the legislature considered a good fence, so far as trespassing animals were concerned.—Loveland v. Gardner, 79 Cal. 317, 21 Pac. 766.

CONCERNING LAWFUL FENCES.

ACT 1493—An act concerning lawful fences.

History: Approved April 27, 1855, Stats. 1855, p. 154. Amended April 9, 1859, Stats. 1858, p. 123; April 3, 1860, Stats. 1860, p. 141; May 18, 1861, Stats. 1861, pp. 510, 513; April 4, 1864, Stats. 1864, p. 465. Most of the amendatory acts were also supplementary.

Editor's note: This act excepted from its operation the counties of Butte, Amador, Tuolumne, Calaveras, San Diego, Nevada, San Bernardino, Colusa, Placer, Santa Barbara, Yuba, Trinity, Shasta, Klamath, and Siskiyou.

Marin county was included by the amendment of 1858, and was excepted in 1861. The amendment of 1861 (p. 513) also applied the act to all counties except Sonoma, Napa, El Dorado, Yuba and Marin.

This act and the supplementary act of 1860, p. 141, were continued in force by the Political Code, § 19, and consequently the counties to which they apply are not subject to the provisions of § 841 of the Civil Code.—Meade v. Watson, 67 Cal. 591, 8 Pac. 311. See, also, Gonzales v. Wasson, 51 Cal. 295.

1. Fence laws repealed.—The estray act of 1915 (636) repeals all fence laws in all the counties of the state except the six specified.—Montezuma, etc., Co. v. Simmerly, 58 Cal. Dec. 563.

2. The common law rule requiring the owner of cattle to keep his animals from his neighbor's lands, fenced or unfenced, is in operation in Mendocino county. Montezuma, etc., Co. v. Simmerly, 58 Cal. Dec. 563. (See Act 1401, notes.)

3. The complaint states a cause of action for damages for trespass on unenclosed lands.—Montezuma, etc., Co. v. Simmerly, 58 Cal. Dec. 563.

4. Section 5 of this act as amended in 1860 (Stats. 1860, p. 141), is in force in the counties named and section 841, Civil Code, is in force in all other counties.—Gonzales v. Wasson, 51 Cal. 295. (Note: The act of 1850 contained no section 5, and the opinion evidently refers to the act of 1855.)

5. Lawful fence—Recovery of damages.—A statutory fence or one equivalent thereto is essential to the right of recovery of damages for animals breaking into plaintiff's close.—Comerford v. Dupuy, 17 Cal. 308.

5a. A good, strong, substantial, and lawful stone fence, forming a perfect enclosure, and sufficient to prevent the ingress and egress of stock to and from the premises enclosed thereby, is an equivalent of the lawful fence prescribed by the statute.—Meade v. Watson, 67 Cal. 591, 8 Pac. 311.

6. Railroad fence.—The railroad act of 1861 (Stats. 1861, p. 607) requiring the company to make and maintain a good and lawful fence, must be considered as referring to and adopting the standard previously established by the act of 1855.—Enright v. San Francisco, etc., R. R. Co., 33 Cal. 230.

7. Continued in force by the codes.—The act was continued in force by section 19 of the Political Code, and is not subject to the provisions of section 841, of the Civil Code, so far as the counties to which it applies are concerned.—Meade v. Watson, 67 Cal. 591, 8 Pac. 311. See, also, Gonzales v. Wasson, 51 Cal. 295.

8. Division fence.—A line, or division fence must be a lawful fence.—Meade v. Watson, 67 Cal. 591, 8 Pac. 311.

9. The fact that defendant's land was, by an understanding with the owners of other tracts of land lying adjacent to his tract, enclosed in one field by a common enclosure, does not make such enclosure any the less an enclosure within the meaning of section 5 of the act providing for partition or division fences between adjacent land owners, and the recovery of one-half the value thereof by the original owner of such fence.—Gonzales v. Wasson, 51 Cal. 295.

10. It is not necessary, in order to make an enclosure within the meaning of section 5, that defendant should have constructed a fence at a place where there was a natural barrier which was sufficient to protect his land.—Gonzales v. Wasson, 51 Cal. 295.

11. Same—Lien for one-half value.—The lien was not intended as an exclusive remedy for the recovery of compensation for the one-half of the value of the division fence, but is given as a further remedy, in addition to the ordinary remedy by action, which a party may avail himself of at his election.—Gonzales v. Wasson, 51 Cal. 295.

12. Same—Liability attaches when defendant encloses his land, and is not impaired by the passage of the act of February 4, 1874 (Stats. 1873-74, p. 50), an act to protect agriculture and to prevent the trespassing of animals, etc.—Gonzales v. Wasson, 51 Cal. 295.

LAWFUL FENCES IN CERTAIN COUNTIES.

ACT 1494—An act concerning lawful fences in San Bernardino, Colusa, Shasta, Tehama, and Placer counties.

History: Approved April 18, 1859, Stats. 1859, p. 279. Extended to Yuba county April 20, 1863, Stats. 1863, p. 357. Extending act repealed by the act of March 30, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 700.

LAWFUL DIVISION FENCES.

ACT 1495—An act to provide for the constructing division fences.

History: Approved March 9, 1876, Stats. 1875-76, p. 175. Amended March 30, 1878, Stats. 1877-78, p. 765. Repealed April 1, 1878, as to San Mateo county, Stats. 1877-78, p. 1019.

This act applied to the counties of Sacramento, Solano, Sutter, Yuba, Butte, Contra Costa, San Joaquin (parts of), Amador, San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara, Ventura, Tulare, El Dorado, Tuolumne, San Mateo and Nevada.

HEIGHT OF DIVISION AND PARTITION FENCES.

ACT 1496—An act regulating the height of division and partition fences in cities.

History: Approved March 9, 1885, Stats. 1885, p. 45.

Partition fence not to exceed ten feet in height.

§ 1. It shall be unlawful for the owner of real property in any city or town in this state, or any person having possession thereof, to construct, erect, build, permit, or maintain upon such premises, any fence or partition wall which shall exceed ten feet in height, without first obtaining a permit to do so from the board of supervisors or city council of the city or town in which said fence or wall is to be erected and maintained.

Consent of adjoining owner.

§ 2. No permit to construct or maintain any fence or division partition wall having a greater height than ten feet, shall be granted by the board of supervisors or city council of any city or town in this state, unless the person applying therefor, and to whom such permit is granted, shall first obtain and present to such board of supervisors or city council the written consent of the person or persons having ownership and possession of the adjoining premises affected thereby; provided, that where such fence or wall is constructed around a public garden, or place of public resort where an admission fee is charged, no signature or consent of adjacent owners shall be required.

Misdemeanor. Penalty.

§ 3. Any violation of section one of this act shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and the person so offending shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than sixty days nor more than one year, or by both fine and imprisonment.

1. The act is a general law, and operates alike upon all who are within the reason of the act.—Western, etc., Co. v. Knickerbocker, 103 Cal. 111, 37 Pac. 192.

2. Power of legislature as to creation of easements, etc.—The legislature cannot create an easement in favor of certain proprietors over the lands of another, nor declare the usual and ordinary use of property a nuisance, when such use infringes upon the legal rights of no one.—Western, etc., Co. v. Knickerbocker, 103 Cal. 111, 37 Pac. 192; Ingwersen v. Barry, 118 Cal. 342, 50 Pac. 536.

3. Construction of act.—The act must be construed to give it validity if possible, and it will not be construed to prevent an owner from erecting a fence or any other structure on his own land, although such structure may cut off his neighbor's light and air, but only to prevent the erection of a fence over ten feet high on the dividing line between the adjoining properties.—Western, etc., Co. v. Knickerbocker, 103 Cal. 111, 37 Pac. 192; Ingwersen v. Barry, 118 Cal. 342, 50 Pac. 536.

SPITE FENCES.

ACT 1497—An act in relation to fences and other structures erected to annoy, and for the abatement of nuisances.

History: Approved May 28, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 342.

Fence ten feet high a nuisance.

§ 1. Any fence or other structure in the nature of a fence, unnecessarily exceeding ten feet in height maliciously erected or maintained for the purpose of annoying the owner or occupants of adjoining property, shall be deemed a private nuisance.

Injured person's recourse.

§ 2. Any such owner or occupant, injured either in his comfort or the enjoyment of his estate by such nuisance may enforce the remedies against the continuance of the same prescribed in title III, part III of the Civil Code of the state of California.

ENTERING, PASSING THROUGH, AND HUNTING IN INCLOSURES.

ACT 1499—An act to prevent persons passing through inclosures and leaving them open, by tearing down fences, or otherwise, and to prevent hunting upon inclosed lands in the state of California.

History: Approved March 23, 1876, Stats. 1875-76, p. 408. Amended January 25, 1878, Stats. 1877-78, p. 49; March 30, 1878, Stats. 1877-78, p. 776. Prior act approved March 16, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 384, probably superseded, as also probably was the present act. See note.

Misdemeanor.

§ 1. Every person who shall open any gate, bars, or fence of another, for the purpose of passing through, and shall willfully leave the same open, without the permission of the owner, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Same.

§ 2. Every person who willfully opens, tears down, or otherwise destroys any fence on the inclosed land of another, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Same.

§ 3. Every person who willfully enters upon the inclosed land of another for the purpose of hunting, or who discharges firearms, or lights camp-fires thereon, without first having obtained permission of the owner or occupant of said land, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Same.

§ 4. Every person who willfully, carelessly, or negligently, while hunting or camping upon the inclosed land of another, kills, maims, or wounds an animal, the property of another, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Same.

§ 5. Every person who, upon departing from camp, willfully leaves the fire or fires burning or unextinguished, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Penalty.

§ 6. Every person found guilty of any of the misdemeanors herein mentioned shall be fined not less than twenty nor more than fifty dollars, and shall be imprisoned in the county jail until such fine be satisfied, not exceeding one day for every two dollars thereof.

Conflicting acts repealed.

§ 7. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are repealed; provided, however, nothing herein contained shall be construed as repealing section five hundred and ninety-four of the Penal Code.

Counties excepted.

§ 8. Section three of this act shall not apply to the counties of Los Angeles, San Diego, Sutter, San Benito, Del Norte, El Dorado, Colusa, Yuba, Humboldt, Amador, Tuolumne, Shasta, Plumas, Lassen, Siskiyou, Modoc, Trinity, Sierra, Placer, and Santa Cruz. [Amendment approved March 30, 1878. Stats 1877-78, p. 776.]

Another amendment of section 8 at same session of the legislature. By an act approved January 25, 1878 (Stats. 1877-78, p. 49), § 8 was amended to read:

"Sec. 8. Section three of this act shall not apply to the counties of Los Angeles, San Diego, Sutter, Del Norte, El Dorado, Colusa, Yuba, Humboldt, Amador, Tuolumne, San Luis Obispo, Plumas, Lassen, Siskiyou, Modoc, Shasta, Trinity, Sierra, and Placer."

Act takes effect when.

§ 9. This act shall take effect immediately.

Code commissioner's note: Concerning § 602 of the Penal Code, the code commissioner says: "The eighth subdivision is a codification of the statute of 1871-72, p. 384, and the ninth is a codification of part of § 3 of the statute of 1875-76, p. 408, to prevent hunting upon inclosed lands."

Code commissioner's note: In his "List of Statutes in Force," the code commissioner says of this act: "§ 5 of the act superseded by Pen. Code, § 384b, as adopted in 1905; § 4 superseded by Pen. Code, § 384c, as adopted in 1905; §§ 1-3 probably superseded by Pen. Code, § 602, subds. 8 and 9, as amended in 1905."

CONTENTS OF CHAPTER.

ACT 1505. ACROSS NAVIGABLE RIVERS BETWEEN COUNTIES.

1506. ACROSS STREAMS WHOLLY WITHIN COUNTIES.

ACROSS NAVIGABLE RIVERS BETWEEN COUNTIES.

ACT 1505—An act relating to ferries across navigable rivers separating counties, and empowering the boards of supervisors of such counties to establish and maintain ferries across such rivers, and to pay the expense thereof.

History: Approved March 16, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 156.

Power to establish.

§ 1. When a navigable river forms a boundary between two counties of this state, the boards of supervisors of such counties are hereby given the power to establish and operate a ferry or ferries across such stream.

Expenses of operating.

§ 2. Each of such counties shall pay such proportion of the expenses of establishing and operating said ferry or ferries as may be agreed upon by the board of supervisors of such counties.

Refusal of one county to establish. Proceedings. Landing places.

§ 3. In case either of said counties shall refuse to enter into an agreement to establish and operate such ferry or ferries, the county situated upon the opposite bank of such river may establish and operate a ferry or ferries across such river, and such county is hereby empowered to acquire landing places for such ferry or ferries on the bank of such river opposite the boundary of such county, and may pay the expense of establishing and operating said ferry or ferries out of the general road fund of such county.

§ 4. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

1. Licensing.—The provision of the act of admission that "all navigable waters within said state shall be common highways and forever free as well to the inhabitants of the said states as to the citizens of the United States," does not prohibit the state from requiring a franchise or permit to operate a ferry upon such waters.—Vallejo, etc., Co. v.

Lang & McPherson, 161 Cal. 672, 120 Pac. 421.

2. The power of a municipality to grant a franchise for a ferry over navigable waters in its limits is not affected by the fact that one of the termini is upon land over which the United States exercises exclusive jurisdiction.—Vallejo, etc., Co. v. Solano, etc., Club, 165 Cal. 255, 131 Pac. 864.

ACROSS STREAMS WHOLLY WITHIN COUNTIES.

ACT 1506—An act relating to ferries across rivers and streams wholly within one county, and empowering the boards of supervisors of such county to purchase, establish and maintain ferries across such rivers or streams and to pay the expenses thereof.

History: Approved April 16, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 974.

Free ferries, operation of.

§ 1. Whenever the board of supervisors of any county within the state of California shall deem it advisable and for the best interests of the public that the county own and operate any ferry within such county, such board may purchase, establish and operate a ferry or ferries across any stream or river within said county and may operate the same as a free ferry or ferries.

Payment of expenses.

§ 2. Such board of supervisors is hereby empowered to acquire landing places for such ferry or ferries on the banks of such river or stream and may pay the expenses of establishing and operating said ferry or ferries out of the general road fund of said county; provided, however, that no supervisor or his bondsmen shall be responsible for the payment of damages incurred by any person while traveling on such ferry.

§ 3. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

SAN FRANCISCO FERRY DEPOT ACT.

ACT 1511—An act to provide for the issuance and sale of state bonds to create a fund for the construction and furnishing, by the board of state harbor commissioners, of a general ferry and passenger depot in the city and county of San Francisco; to create a sinking fund for the payment of said bonds, and providing for the submission of this act to a vote of the people.

History: Approved March 17, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 110.

1. The purpose of the act was to enable the harbor board to anticipate their revenues and to create an indebtedness for the building of the depot, a thing they could not have done otherwise because of the restrictions of sections 2526 and 2527 of the Political Code.—Bateman v. Colgan, 111 Cal. 580, 44 Pac. 238.

2. The phrase in the act "in the manner and method authorized by law" in reference to the construction of the ferry building, refers to the provisions of the Political Code, relating to the powers and duties of the board, and not to the general Public Building Act (Stats. 1875-76, p. 427).—Bateman v. Colgan, 111 Cal. 580, 44 Pac. 238.

CHAPTER 114.

FERTILIZERS.

References: See tit. "Adulteration."

CONTENTS OF CHAPTER.

ACT 1516. SALE OF COMMERCIAL FERTILIZERS.

SALE OF COMMERCIAL FERTILIZERS.

ACT 1516—An act to regulate the sale of commercial fertilizers or materials used for manurial purposes, and to provide penalties for the infraction thereof, and means for the enforcement of this act.

History: Approved March 20, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 259. Amended March 24, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 488; April 10, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 42.

Commercial fertilizers shall be labeled.

§ 1. Every lot, parcel, or package of commercial fertilizers or materials to be used for manurial purposes (excepting the dung of domestic animals), sold, offered, or exposed for sale, within this state, shall be accompanied by a plainly printed label, stating the name, brand, and trademark, if any there be, under which the fertilizer is sold, the name and address of the manufacturer, importer, or dealer, the place of manufacture, and a chemical analysis, stating the percentages claimed to be therein; of nitrogen, specifying the form or forms in which it is present; of phosphoric acid, available and insoluble; and of potash, soluble in distilled water, and the materials from which all of said constituents are derived. All analyses are to be made according to the methods agreed upon by the American association of official agricultural chemists. In the case of those fertilizers, the selling price of which is less than eight dollars ($8) per ton, said label need only give a correct general statement of the nature and composition of the fertilizer it accompanies.

Fertilizer to be plainly labeled.

§ 2. No person shall sell, offer or expose for sale in this state any pulverized leather, hair, ground hoofs, horns or wool waste, raw, steamed, roasted, or in any form, street sweepings, or the dung or urine of any domestic animal, mixed with, or in combination with, water artificially added thereto, or with any sand, soil or other material not commonly used for bedding domestic animals, as a fertilizer or as an ingredient for fertilizer or manure without an explicit statement of the fact in printing or writing conspicuously placed thereon and affixed to every package, container, car or vehicle in which the same shall be transported or delivered to any purchaser thereof, said statement to go with every lot, parcel or package of the same. [Amendment approved March 24, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 488.]

Certificate of registration required.

§ 3. The manufacturer, importer, agent of, or dealer in any commercial fertilizers, or materials used for manurial purposes, the selling price of which to the consumer is eight ($8) dollars or more per ton, shall, before the same is offered for sale, obtain a certificate of registration from the secretary of the board of regents of the University of California, countersigned by the director of the agricultural experiment station of the said university, authorizing the sale of fertilizers in this state, and shall securely fix to each lot, parcel, or package of fertilizer the word "Registered" with the number of registry. The manufacturer, importer, agent, or dealer obtaining such registry, shall pay to the said secretary the sum of fifty ($50) dollars, to be applied as provided in section 9 of this act; such registration shall expire on the thirtieth day of June of the fiscal year for which it was given; provided, the provisions of this section shall not apply to any agent whose principals shall have obtained a certificate of registration as herein provided. Every such manufacturer, importer, agent, or dealer, who makes or sells, or offers for sale, any such substances, under a name or brand, shall file, on or before the first day of July, in each year, a statement, under oath, with said director, stating such name or brand, and stating the component parts in accordance with the provisions of section 1 of this act, of the substances to be sold, or offered for sale, or manufactured under each such name or brand.

Analyses to be made. How users may obtain analyses.

§ 4. The said director shall annually, on or before the first day of September, take samples in accordance with the provisions of section 5 hereof of the substance made, sold, or offered for sale, under every such name or brand, and cause analyses to be made thereof in accordance with the provisions of section 1 hereof, and said analyses may include such other determinations as said director may at any time deem advisable. Dealers in, or manufacturers of fertilizers, must give free access to the director of the agricultural experiment station, or his duly authorized deputy, to all the materials which they may place on the market for sale in California. Whenever the analysis certified by the said director shall show a deficiency of not more than one-fourth of one per cent of nitrogen, or one per cent of soluble or available phosphoric acid, or one-half of one per cent of potash soluble in distilled water, the statement of the manufacturer or importer, as required in section 1 of this act, shall not be deemed to be false in the meaning of this act; provided, that this act shall not apply to sales of fertilizing materials made to a registered manufacturer of fertilizers, or to sales for export outside of this state; provided, further, that the said director of the agricultural experiment station of the University of California shall, upon the receipt of a sample of fertilizer, accompanied with a nominal fee of two ($2) dollars, furnish to the user of said commercial fertilizers, such examination or analysis of the sample as will substantially establish the conformity or non-conformity of the said fertilizer to the guarantee under which it was sold.

Sample to be kept by party whose stock is sampled and by university.

§ 5. The director of the agricultural experiment station of the University of California, in person or by deputy, is hereby authorized to take a sample not exceeding two pounds in weight for analysis by the said director, or his deputies, from any lot, parcel, or package of fertilizer, or material, or mixture of materials used for manurial purposes, which may be in the possession of any manufacturer, importer, agent, or dealer, but said sample shall be drawn in the presence of said party or parties in interest, or their representatives. In lots of five tons or less, samples shall be drawn from at least ten packages, or, if less than ten packages are present, all shall be sampled; in lots of over five tons, not less than twenty packages shall be sampled. The samples so drawn shall be thoroughly mixed, and from it two equal samples shall be drawn and placed in glass vessels, carefully sealed, and a label placed on each, stating the name or brand of the fertilizer or material sampled, the name of the party from whose stock the sample was drawn, and the time and place of drawing; and said label shall also be signed by the said director or his deputy making such inspection, and by the party or parties in interest, or their representatives present at the drawing and sealing of said samples. One of said duplicate samples shall be retained by the party whose stock was sampled, and the other by the director of the agricultural experiment station of the University of California.

Results of analyses to be published.

§ 6. The director of the agricultural experiment station of the University of California shall publish in bulletin form, from time to time, at least annually, the results of the analyses hereinbefore provided, with such additional information as circumstances may advise.

Appropriation for laboratory.

§ 7. There is hereby appropriated for the use of the agricultural experiment station of the University of California at Berkeley, Alameda County, as set forth in this act, out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of eighteen hundred ($1,800) dollars for the equipment of a laboratory, with the chemicals and apparatus and other incidentals necessary to the successful prosecution of the work.

License fee and statement.

§ 8. In order to further provide for the necessary expenses of this work, there shall be paid by the manufacturer, importer, agent, or dealer, twenty-five cents for every ton of fertilizer sold, the selling price of which to the consumer is eight ($8) dollars or more per ton. A statement sworn to by the manufacturer, importer, agent, or dealer, of such sales, shall be rendered quarterly to the secretary of the board of regents of the University of California, accompanied by the corresponding amount of special license fee as above specified; provided, that whenever the manufacturer or importer shall have paid the special license fee herein required, for any person acting as agent or seller for such manufacturer or importer, such agent or seller shall not be required to pay the special license fee named in this section. On receipt of said special license fee and statement, the said secretary shall issue to the manufacturer, importer, agent, or dealer, a certificate of compliance with this section.

Disposition of fees.

§ 9. All moneys, whether received from registry and analytical fees or special license fees, shall be paid to the secretary of the board of regents of the University of California, for the use of said board in carrying out the provisions of this act, including the erection of buildings. [Amendment of April 10, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 42.]

Violation of act a misdemeanor.

§ 10. Any party selling, offering, or exposing for sale, any commercial fertilizer without the statement required by section 1 of this act, or with a label stating that said fertilizer contains a larger percentage of any one or more of the constituents mentioned in said section than is actually contained therein, except as provided for in section 4, or respecting the sale of which all the provisions of this act have not been fully complied with, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof before any court of competent jurisdiction, shall be fined in a sum of not less than fifty ($50) dollars and costs of action for the first offense, and one hundred ($100) dollars and costs of the action for each subsequent offense. Said fines to be paid into the school fund of the county in which conviction is had.

Certificate is prima facie evidence of analysis.

§ 11. In any action, civil or criminal, in any court in this state, a certificate under the hand of said director, and the seal of said university, stating the results of any analysis, purporting to have been made under the provisions of this act, shall be prima facie evidence of the fact that the sample or samples mentioned in said analysis or certificate were properly analyzed as in this act provided; that such samples were taken as in this act provided; that the substances analyzed contained the component parts stated in such certificate and analysis; and that the samples were taken from the parcels or packages or lots mentioned or described in said certificate.

§ 12. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after July first, nineteen hundred and three.

The director of the department of agriculture is given power of administering and enforcing this act. See, ante, Act 96, § 9.

FIREMEN'S RELIEF, HEALTH, INSURANCE AND PENSION FUND.

ACT 1533—An act to create a firemen's relief, health, and life insurance and pension fund in the several counties, cities and counties, cities, and towns of the state.

History: Approved March 20, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 412. Amended June 11, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 690; April 14, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 119. Prior act of March 7, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 101, amended March 16, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 158, superseded by the present act.

Firemen's relief fund, trustees of. Board of fire commissioners to act as trustees.

§ 1. The chairman of the board of supervisors of the county, city and county, city or incorporated town in which there is no board of fire commissioners, the treasurer of the county, city and county, or incorporated town, and the chief of the fire department, and their successors in office, are hereby constituted a board of trustees of the firemen's relief or pension fund of the fire department, to provide for the disbursement of the same and to designate the beneficiaries thereof as hereinafter directed, which board shall be known as the "Board of Firemen's Pension Fund Commissioners"; provided, however, that where there is in any county, city and county, city, or town, a board of fire commissioners, then such body shall constitute said board of trustees of the firemen's relief and pension fund of the fire department.

Organization of board. Duties of.

§ 2. They shall organize as such board by choosing one of their number as chairman, and by appointing a secretary. The treasurer of the county, city and county, city, or town, shall be ex-officio treasurer of said fund. Such board of trustees shall have charge of and administer said fund, and to order payments therefrom in pursuance of the provisions of this act. They shall report annually, in the month of June, to the board of supervisors, or other governing authority of the county, city and county, city, or incorporated town, the condition of the firemen's relief and pension fund, and the receipts and disbursements on account of the same, with a full and complete list of the beneficiaries of said fund and the amounts paid them.

Retired firemen after twenty years of service. Pension of retired firemen.

§ 3. Whenever any person at the taking effect of this act, or thereafter shall have been duly appointed or selected and sworn, and have served for twenty years, or more, in the aggregate, as a member, in any capacity or any rank whatever, of the regularly constituted fire department of any such county, city and county, city, or town which may hereafter be subject to the provisions of this act, said board may, if it see fit, order and direct that such person after becoming sixty years of age be retired from further service in such fire department, and from the date of the making of such order the service of such person in such fire department shall cease, and such person so retired shall thereafter, during his lifetime, be paid from such a fund a yearly pension equal to one-half of the amount of salary attached to the rank which he may have held in said fire department for the period of one year next preceding the date of such retirement.

Retired when disabled. Pension.

§ 4. Whenever any person, while serving as fireman in any such county, city and county, city, or town, shall become physically disabled by reason of any bodily injury received in the immediate or direct performance or discharge of his duty as such fireman, said board may, upon his written request, or without such request, if it deem it to be for the good of said fire department force, retire such person from said department, and order and direct that he shall be paid from said fund, during his lifetime, a yearly pension equal to one-half of the amount of salary attached to the rank which he may have held on such fire department force at the date of such retirement, but on the death of such pensioner his heirs or assigns shall have no claim against or upon such firemen's relief or pension fund; provided, that whenever such disability shall cease such pension shall cease, and such person shall be restored to active service at the same salary he received at the time of his retirement.

Certificate as to disability.

§ 5. No person shall be retired, as provided in the next preceding section, or receive any benefit from said fund, unless there shall be filed with said board certificates of his disability, which certificates shall be subscribed and sworn to by said person, and by the county, city and county, city, or town physician (if there be one), and two regularly licensed practicing physicians of such county, city and county, city, or town, and such board may require other evidence of disability before ordering such retirement and payment as aforesaid.

Fireman losing life while on duty. Widow or children to receive yearly pension. Exception.

§ 6. Whenever any member of the fire department of such county, city and county, city, or town, shall lose his life while in the performance of his duty, leaving a widow, or child or children under the age of sixteen years, then upon satisfactory proof of such facts made to it, such board shall order and direct that a yearly pension, equal to one-third the amount of the salary attached to the rank which such member held in said fire department at the time of his death, shall be paid to such widow during her life, or if no widow, then to the child or children, until they shall be sixteen years of age; provided, if such widow, or child or children, shall marry, then such person so marrying shall thereafter receive no further pension from such fund.

Death after ten years of service. Widow to receive contribution.

§ 7. Whenever any member of the fire department of such county, city and county, city, or town, shall, after ten years of service, die from natural causes, then his widow or children, or if there be no widow or children, then his mother or unmarried sisters, shall be entitled to the sum of one thousand dollars from such fund.

Examination of retired disabled firemen. Retired firemen to report to chief.

§ 8. Any person retired for disability under this act may be summoned before the board herein provided for at any time thereafter, and shall submit himself thereto for examination as to his fitness for duty, and shall abide the decision and order of such board with reference thereto; and all members of the fire department force who may be retired under the provisions of this act shall report to the chief of the fire department of the county, city and county, city, or town where so retired, on the first Mondays of April, July, October, and January of each year; and in cases of great public emergency may be assigned to and shall perform such duty as said chief of the fire department may direct; and such persons shall have no claim against the county, city and county, city, or town, for payment for such duty so performed.

When pension ceases.

§ 9. When any person who shall have received any benefit from said fund shall be convicted of any felony, or shall become an habitual drunkard, or shall become a non-resident of this state, or shall fail to report himself for examination for duty as required herein, unless excused by the board, or shall disobey the requirements of said board under this act, in respect to said examination or duty, then such board shall order that such pension allowance as may have been granted to such person shall immediately cease, and such person shall receive no further pension, allowance, or benefit under this act.

Meetings of trustees. President and secretary. Report to treasurer and auditor. Duty of auditor.

§ 10. The board herein provided for shall hold quarterly meetings on the first Mondays of April, July, October, and January of each year, and upon the call of its president; it shall biennially select from its members a president and secretary; it shall issue warrants, signed by its president and secretary, to the persons entitled thereto of the amount of money ordered paid to such persons from such fund by said board, which warrant shall state for what purpose such payment is to be made; it shall keep a record of all its proceedings, which record shall be a public record; it shall, at each quarterly meeting, send to the treasurer of the county, city and county, city, or town, and to the auditor of such county, city and county, city, or town, a written or printed list of all persons entitled to payment from the fund herein provided for, stating the amount of such payments and for what granted, which list shall be certified to and signed by the president and secretary of such board, attested under oath. The auditor shall thereupon enter a copy of said list upon a book to be kept for that purpose, and which shall be known as "The firemen's relief and pension fund book." When such list has been entered by the auditor, he shall transmit the same to the board of supervisors, or other governing authority of such county, city and county, city, or town, which board of authority shall order the payment of the amounts named therein out of "The firemen's relief and pension fund." A majority of all the members of said board herein provided for shall constitute a quorum, and have power to transact business.

Powers of board.

§ 11. The board herein provided for shall, in addition to other powers herein granted, have power:

First—To compel witnesses to attend and testify before it, upon all matters connected with the operation of this act, in the same manner as is or may be provided by law for the taking of testimony before notaries public; and its president, or any member of said board, may administer oaths to such witnesses.

Second—To appoint a secretary, and to provide for the payment from said fund of all its necessary expenses including secretary hire and printing; provided, that no compensation or emolument shall be paid to any member of said board for any duty required or performed under this act.

Third—To make all needful rules and regulations for its guidance, in conformity with the provisions of this act.

Moneys to be paid into firemen's pension fund.

§ 12. The board of supervisors, or other governing authority, of any county, city and county, city or town, shall, for the purposes of said "firemen's relief and pension fund," hereinbefore mentioned, direct the payment annually, and when the tax levy is made, into said fund, of the following moneys:

First—All rewards given or paid to members of such firemen's force.

Second—All fines imposed upon members of such fire department in keeping with rules and regulations of the department.

Third—An amount equal to two per cent of the salaries paid to the firemen of such county, city and county, city, or town, during the preceeding year, payable from the funds of such municipal corporation.

Fourth—One-half of all fines imposed and collected for violation of laws pertaining to precaution against fire. [Amendment of April 14, 1917. In effect July, 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 119.]

Who are and who are not entitled to benefits.

§ 13. Any firemen's life and health insurance fund, or any fund provided by law, heretofore existing in any county, city and county, city, or town, for the relief or pensioning of firemen, or their life or health insurance, or for the payment of a sum of money on their death, shall be merged with, paid into, and constitute a part of the fund created under the provisions of this act; and no person who has resigned or been dismissed from said fire department shall be entitled to any relief from such fund; provided, that any person who, within one year prior to the passage of this act, has been dismissed from the fire department for incompetency or inefficiency, and which incompetency or inefficiency was caused solely by sickness or disability contracted or suffered while in service as a member thereof, and who has, prior to said dismissal, served for twelve or more years as such member, shall be entitled to all the benefits of this act.

Auditor to report to supervisors surplus to be transferred to general fund. Auditor's report on firemen's relief and pension fund.

§ 14. On the last day of June of each year, or as soon thereafter as practicable, the auditor of each county, city and county, city, or town, shall make a report to the board of supervisors or other governing authority of such county, city and county, city, or town, of all moneys paid on account of said fund during the previous year, and of the amount then to the credit of the "firemen's relief and pension fund," and all surplus of said fund then remaining in said fund, exceeding the average amount per year paid out on account of said fund during the three years next preceding, shall be transferred to, and become a part of, the general fund of every such county, city and county, city, or town, and no longer under the control of said board or subject to its order. Payments provided for by this act shall be made monthly upon proper vouchers. [Amendment approved June 11, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 690.]

FIRE DEPARTMENTS IN UNINCORPORATED TOWNS.

ACT 1534—An act to allow unincorporated towns and villages to equip and maintain a fire department, and to assess and collect taxes, from time to time, for such purpose, and to create a board of fire commissioners.

History: Approved March 4, 1881, Stats. 1881, p. 26. Amended in its entirety March 6, 1899, Stats. 1899, p. 69, and April 21, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 1028. Amended March 26, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 7. Entire act amended. The act of 1881, Stats. 1881, p. 26, was amended in its entirety by the act of 1899, Stats. 1899, p. 69, which, in turn, was subjected to an entire amendment in the present act of 1909.

The title of the amending act of 1899 was as follows:

"An act to amend an act to allow unincorporated towns and villages to equip and maintain a fire department, and to assess and collect taxes, from time to time, for such purpose, and to create a board of fire commissioners (approved March 4, 1881; Stats. 1881, 26), relating to assessing and collecting said taxes."

The title of the amending act of 1909 was as follows:

"An act to amend an act entitled an act to amend an act to allow unincorporated towns and villages to equip and maintain a fire department, and to assess and collect taxes from time to time for such purpose, and to create a board of fire commissioners, approved March 4, 1881; amended March 6, 1899."

Fire departments in unincorporated towns

§ 1. Any unincorporated town or village of this state may equip and maintain a fire department for the purpose of protecting property from destruction by fire.

Appointment of commissioners.

§ 2. Upon the application, by petition, of fifty or more taxpayers and residents of said town or village to the board of supervisors of the county in which said town or village is situated, the said board of supervisors shall appoint three commissioners, to be known as and called a board of fire commissioners, of the town or village for which they are appointed, who shall hold their office until the second Monday in April next thereafter, and until their successors are elected and qualified.

Powers and duties of commissioners.

§ 3. The board of fire commissioners so appointed by said board of supervisors, and their successors, shall be authorized and empowered, and it shall be their duty:

1. To fix and establish the fire limits of said town or village, and shall accurately describe the same, in writing by metes and bounds and file a copy thereof, subscribed by them, in the office of the county recorder of the county in which said town or village is situated;

2. To make all contracts with water companies for a supply of water, and attaching hydrants or fire-plugs to the pipes, or conduits, or cisterns of such water company; to make contracts for and to purchase the engines, hose, hose carts or carriages, and other appliances for the full equipment of a fire company or department;

3. To call an election and to submit to the electors residing within said fire limits fixed by them, the question whether a tax shall be levied and raised for the purpose of establishing and equipping a fire department for the said town or village, and for protecting the same from loss by fire;

4. In the event of the establishment and equipment of a fire department in any unincorporated town or village, as provided for in this act, the board of fire commissioners are hereby directed and empowered, and it shall be their duty, to estimate and determine the annual amount of money required for the maintenance of said fire department for the ensuing fiscal year, and shall report the same to the board of supervisors of the county in which said fire district is located not later than the first day of July of each year;

5. To appoint judges, not less than three, and other officers, to conduct such election, and to issue certificates of election;

6. To do and perform such other acts and things as may be proper and necessary to carry out the full intent and meaning of this act.

Purchase of land as site for firehouse. Special election. Sale of land purchased as site for firehouse.

§ 3½. The board of fire commissioners so appointed by said board of supervisors, and their successors, are further authorized and empowered, in their discretion, to purchase or otherwise acquire land and to erect thereon a firehouse for purposes of housing the fire equipment and fire apparatus, or to purchase or otherwise acquire land already improved with a building thereon suitable for housing said equipment and apparatus, and to pay for said land, improved or unimproved, as the case may be out of the annual tax provided for under section nine of this act, or by special tax to be voted by the voters within the fire limits in the manner provided for by section fifteen of this act. Said board of fire commissioners may furthermore in their discretion submit to the qualified electors within said fire limits at a special election for that purpose, or at the annual election provided for in section seventeen of this act, the proposition whether or not land shall be purchased or otherwise acquired and a firehouse built thereon, or the proposition of whether or not land with a firehouse already thereon shall be purchased or otherwise acquired, or both of said propositions, and in event of such submission the vote registered for or against the proposition or propositions so made to the voters shall be binding upon said board of fire commissioners. Said board of fire commissioners are further hereby empowered to sell or otherwise dispose of any such land, improved or unimproved, as the case may be, theretofore by them or by their predecessors acquired for firehouse purposes; provided, however, that if the same shall have been originally acquired pursuant to the vote of the electors within the fire limits, as herein permitted, then the same shall not be sold excepting by like vote of the electors within said limits. The proceeds derived from the sale of any such land or improvements thereon shall be exclusively devoted to the purchase of other land or other improvements. All real property acquired under the provisions of this section shall be conveyed to, and held in the name of, the "board of fire commissioners of the unincorporated town (or village) of....." (naming said town or village). [New section added March 26, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 8.]

Tax elections, how called.

§ 4. Said election must be called by posting notices in three of the most public places in said town or village, for not less than ten days, and also, if there is a newspaper printed and published in the town or village, by advertising such notice therein at least two regular issues of the paper.

What notice must specify.

§ 5. Such notice must specify the time and place for holding the election, and the amount required for the establishment and equipment of said fire department, and the amount of money to be raised for such purpose shall not exceed in any one year one per cent of the assessable property within the fire limits, as fixed by the board of supervisors; provided, that the amount to be raised for the maintenance of said fire department each year shall not exceed one-half of one per cent of the assessable property within the fire limits as fixed by the board of fire commissioners.

Conduct of election.

§ 6. The board of fire commissioners must appoint three judges and two clerks to conduct the election and it must be held in all respects as nearly as practicable in conformity with the general election law; provided, that no new register shall be required, nor legal ballot paper; and provided further, that the polls may be opened at eight o'clock a. m. and close at five o'clock p. m. on the day appointed for such election.

Ballots.

§ 7. At such election the ballots must contain the words "Tax—Yes" or "Tax—No."

Returns.

§ 8. The judges of the election shall, within twenty-four hours after holding said election, make returns and certify to the board of fire commissioners said votes, showing the number of votes cast, and the number of votes in favor of, and the number of votes against the matter voted upon.

Tax levy.

§ 9. The board of supervisors must, at the time of levying the county taxes, levy a tax upon all the taxable property within the fire limits of the unincorporated town or village authorizing such tax sufficient to raise the amount authorized. The rate of taxation shall be ascertained by deducting fifteen per cent for anticipated delinquencies from the aggregate assessed value of the property in the district, as it appears on the assessment roll of the county, and then dividing the sum authorized by the remainder of such aggregate assessed value. The taxes so levied shall be computed and entered on the assessment roll of the county auditor and collected at the same time and in the same manner as the state and county taxes, and when collected shall be paid into the county treasury for the use of the district in which the tax was authorized.

Moneys arising from tax.

§ 10. All moneys arising from the tax herein authorized to be levied and collected shall be kept by the treasurer of the county in which said town or village is situated subject only to the order of said board of fire commissioners of said town or village authorizing said tax.

Treasurer receives no compensation.

§ 11. The treasurer shall receive no compensation for the receipt and disbursement of moneys derived under the provisions of this act.

Purchase of fire hose, etc.

Record books.

§ 13. They shall procure all necessary books and blanks for the purpose of keeping a correct record of their proceedings; and they shall keep a record of all their acts, of all moneys received and disbursed by them, which said books shall be open to public inspection at all times.

Audit of bills.

§ 14. All accounts, bills, and demands against the fire department shall be audited, allowed, and paid by the board of fire commissioners by warrants drawn on the county treasurer, and the county treasurer shall pay the same in the order in which they are presented.

Compensation of officers.

§ 15. No officer or officers created by this act shall receive any compensation for his or their services.

Vacancies.

§ 16. In case of a vacancy of any or all of the members of the board of fire commissioners, after election had, by death, resignation or otherwise, such vacancy shall be filled by appointment by the board of supervisors of the county in which said vacancy may happen.

Annual election.

§ 17. An election shall be held on the first Monday of April subsequent to the appointment of the fire commissioners by the board of supervisors for the election of three fire commissioners who shall take office on the next succeeding Monday of the same month. Said commissioners shall at their first meeting so classify themselves by lot that one of their number shall go out of office on the second Monday of April of the year next succeeding said first election, one thereof on the second Monday of April of the second year succeeding, and one thereof on the second Monday of April of the third year succeeding. On the first Monday of April of the year next succeeding said first election and on the first Monday of April of every year thereafter, an election shall be held for the election of one fire commissioner, who shall take office on the next succeeding Monday in the same month and shall hold office for the term of three years, or until his successor is elected and qualified; provided, that as to fire districts heretofore created under this act, the commissioners of which were elected prior to the date this amendment becomes operative, said commissioners at their first meeting after said amendment becomes operative shall classify themselves by lot so that one of their number shall go out of office on the second Monday of April of the year next succeeding, one thereof on the second Monday of April of the second year succeeding, and one thereof on the second Monday of April of the third year succeeding. Notice of such elections shall be given by the board of fire commissioners by posting in three public places within the fire limits for at least two weeks before the day of election. They shall also appoint the judges of election. The elections shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of the general election laws of the state of California, excepting as in this act provided to the contrary. [Amendment of March 26, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. of 1919, p. 7.]

Returns.

§ 18. The judges of election shall, within twenty-four hours after holding said election, make returns and certify said votes, and the names of the person or persons voted for, to the said board of fire commissioners, and within five days after the returns have been received by the board of fire commissioners they shall count the votes, determine who has been elected, and forthwith issue certificates of election to the persons elected.

Succession.

§ 19. Each board of fire commissioners shall at the expiration of their term of office, turn over to their successors all the books and documents belonging to the office of said board of fire commissioners, taking their receipt therefor.

Act to be liberally construed.

§ 20. No assessment or act relating to assessment or collection of taxes, or elections held under the provisions of this act, shall be illegal, void, or voidable on account of any error, omission, or informality, or failure to comply strictly with the provisions of this act, nor on account of any misnomer; but the same shall be liberally construed, with a view to hold valid all acts done under this act.

Regulation of chimneys.

§ 21. The said board of fire commissioners may regulate the construction of, and order the suspension, discontinuance, removal, repair, or cleaning of, fireplaces, chimneys, stove and stovepipes, flues, ovens, boilers, kettles, forges, or any apparatus used in any building, manufactory, or business, which may be dangerous in causing or promoting fires, and prescribe limits within which no dangerous nor obnoxious and offensive business may be carried on, and they may order the clearing of land or the removal therefrom of dry grass, stubble, brush, rubbish, litter, or other inflammable material, if, in their judgment, said inflammable material endangers the public safety by creating a fire hazard. [Amendment of March 26, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 9.]

Fire ordinances.

§ 22. They may adopt such ordinance, within the purview of the preceding section, as they may deem proper to prevent fires and conflagrations, and for the protection of property at and during the pendency of any fire, and for that purpose may provide that at and during the pendency of any fire the officers of the fire company or companies present shall be vested with police powers. Such ordinances shall be signed by the said fire commissioners, and published in a newspaper printed in said town or village, or posted in three of the most public places thereof, for the period of two weeks, at the end of which time it shall be and become a law for the government of the inhabitants of said town or village.

Misdemeanor.

§ 23. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of said ordinance shall be guilty of misdemeanor.

Prosecutions.

§ 24. Any justice of the peace within the townships within which said town or village is situated shall have jurisdiction of all prosecutions under this act, and sections fourteen hundred and twenty-six to fourteen hundred and forty-nine, both inclusive, title nine, chapter one, of the Penal Code, are hereby made applicable to proceedings under this act.

Repeal of prior acts.

§ 25. All acts and parts of acts, so far as they do conflict with the provisions hereof, are hereby repealed.

Act takes effect when.

§ 26. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

EXEMPT FIREMEN'S RELIEF FUND.

ACT 1536—An act to create an exempt firemen's relief fund in the several counties, cities and counties, cities and towns of the state, and relating to the enrollment, formation into fire companies, and services as firemen of such exempt firemen.

History: Approved March 26, 1895, Stats. 1895, p. 108.

1. Constitutionality — Gift of public money.—The act is obnoxious to sections 31 and 32, Article IV of the constitution, and is void, in that it attempts a gift of public moneys.—Taylor v. Mott, 123 Cal. 497, 56 Pac. 256.

Superseded. The code commissioners say this act was superseded by the act of 1905 See Act 1533.

Act of 1889 for the relief of aged, infirm, and disabled firemen. Act 1538, for comparison.

FOREIGN INSURANCE COMPANIES—PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS FOR FIREMEN'S RELIEF FUNDS.

ACT 1537—An act to require the payment of certain insurance premiums by fire insurance companies not organized in California, to cities and counties.

History: Approved March 3, 1885, Stats. 1885, p. 13. Amended March 4, 1887, Stats. 1887, p. 15.

Purpose of act. The moneys collected under this act were for the benefit of the firemen's relief fund.

1. Constitutionality — Imposing county tax.—The act imposes a tax for county, city, town or other municipal purpose, and is obnoxious to section 12, Article XI of the constitution, and void.—San Francisco v. Liverpool, etc., Co., 74 Cal. 113, 5 Am. St. Rep. 425, 15 Pac. 380.

2. Same.—The federal courts are bound by the decision of the supreme court of California that a statute of that state is null and void on the ground that it is obnoxious to the constitution of that state, and the decision of that court upon the constitutionality of the act of 1885 is a decision of that character.—Liverpool, etc., Co. v. Clunie, 88 Fed. 160.

PENSIONS FOR AGED, INFIRM AND DISABLED FIREMEN.

ACT 1538—An act authorizing boards of supervisors to provide pensions for the relief of aged, infirm, and disabled firemen.

History: Approved March 11, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 108. Amended March 23, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 575.

Pensions for aged, infirm, or disabled firemen.

§ 1. The board of supervisors, or other governing authority of the several counties, cities and counties, cities and towns of the state in which fire departments exist, shall, upon the written petition of a majority of the lawfully registered electors of any such political division respectively, by appropriate ordinances, provide a fund by general tax upon the property of the county, city and county, city, or town, for the relief of aged, infirm, or disabled firemen; provided, that such disability shall be caused by exposure while in the discharge of such duty. [Amendment approved March 23, 1901. Stats. 1901, p. 575.]

Qualifications of beneficiaries under this act. Amount of pension. Exception.

§ 2. No person shall be entitled to any benefits from any fund created by authority of this act, unless he shall have served as an active member in the fire department of such county, city and county, city, or town, at least fifteen years, and any person having served in the fire department of such county, city and county, city, or town, at least fifteen years, may make application to be placed on the retired list of such fire department, and he shall receive the sum of not more than twenty-five (25) dollars and not less than fifteen (15) dollars per month, to be paid out of said fund, and those members of a fire department who have been paid a stipulated salary, having served fifteen years in such fire department, shall receive an amount equal to one half of the salary provided by law at the time of such retirement; provided, that any person injured in the actual discharge of fire duty shall be entitled to the benefits of this act regardless of his length of service in the fire department of any such county, city and county, city, or town. [Amendment March 23, 1901. Stats. 1901, p. 575.]

Act takes effect when.

§ 3. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

YEARLY VACATION FOR FIREMEN.

ACT 1539—An act authorizing and requiring boards of commissions having the management and control of paid fire departments, to grant the members thereof yearly vacations.

History: Approved March 26, 1895, Stats. 1895, p. 76. Amended March 4, 1899, Stats. 1899, p. 57; March 3, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 39.

Vacations for members.

§ 1. In every city or city and county of this state where there is a regularly organized paid fire department, the board of supervisors, common council, commissions or other body having the management and control of the same are authorized and required once in every year to provide for each regular or permanent member thereof, a leave of absence from active duty of not less than five, nor more than fifteen days, in each year and in addition thereto a leave of absence from active duty of four days in every month of such service. Leave of absence so granted, as aforesaid, must be arranged by said board of [or] commissions, so as not to interfere with or [in] any way impair the efficiency of the said department; no deduction must be made from the salary or pay of any member of such fire department granted such leave of absence in [under] the provisions of this act. [Amendment. Approved March 3, 1905. Stats. 1905, p. 39.]

This section was also amended March 4, 1899, Stats. 1899, p. 57.

Act takes effect when.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

1. Charter of San Francisco, upon its approval by the legislature in 1899, became by the express terms of the constitution (Art. XI, §§ 6 and 8), the organic law of the city and county, and superseded the existing charter, and all laws inconsistent therewith, including firemen's relief fund laws.—Burke v. Board of Trustees, 4 Cal. App. 235, 87 Pac. 421.

SALARIES OF OFFICERS IN CITIES OF FIRST CLASS.

ACT 1541—An act relating to fire departments of municipalities of the first class, and fixing the salaries of officers thereof.

History: Approved March 27, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 192. Prior act in same terms and having same effect was passed by the same legislature and approved March 3, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 54.

Salaries of officers of fire departments in cities of first class.

§ 1. In municipalities of the first class the following officers of its fire department shall receive the following salaries per annum:

Chief engineer, five thousand dollars.

Assistant chief engineer, three thousand six hundred dollars.

Secretary, or clerk, three thousand dollars.

Assistant engineers, two thousand one hundred dollars each.

Veterinary surgeons, one thousand eight hundred dollars.

Said salaries shall be paid in the same manner as is now provided by law.

Act takes effect when.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

1. Constitutionality — Interference with municipal affairs.—The act is unconstitutional and void as an interference with a "municipal affair" within the meaning of section 6, Article XI, of the constitution.—Fopper v. Broderick, 123 Cal. 456, 56 Pac. 53.

INCREASE OF EFFICIENCY OF FIRE DEPARTMENTS.

ACT 1542—An act to provide for increasing the efficiency of fire departments within municipalities of the first class in the state of California.

History: Approved March 4, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 61.

Providing for organization of fire department. Purchase of apparatus, etc.

§ 1. Whenever the public interest, safety, or convenience may require, or it be deemed expedient, the city council of any municipality of the first class may, by ordinance, make and enforce such rules and regulations within said municipality as may be necessary or proper for increasing the efficiency of its fire department, and to that end, among other things, may provide for and authorize the appointment and continued employment of such officers, engineers, members, firemen, employees, and other help in and for said fire department, in addition to those whose employment is now or may be hereafter authorized by law, as the needs of said department may require; and may fix their salaries and compensation, and may increase the salaries and compensation of the officers, engineers, members, firemen, employees, and other help now or hereafter authorized by law, whose salaries and compensation, as now or hereafter fixed, may be deemed inadequate. And said city council may in like manner provide for the purchase and repair, and authorize to be purchased and kept in repair, in addition to those for the purchase and repair of which provision is now or may be hereafter made by law, all additional engines, horses, hook-and-ladder wagons, and all such other engines, machinery, implements, extinguishers, and other apparatus that may be necessary, advantageous, or auxiliary, to extinguish or afford adequate protection against fire. And in order to provide the necessary funds with which to accomplish the foregoing ends, may make all necessary and supplementary appropriations, allowances, and payments in addition to those now or hereafter authorized by law.

Control of appointees.

§ 2. The officers, engineers, members, firemen, employees, and other help to be appointed as provided in section one of this act, shall be appointed, governed, and controlled in the same manner and by the same laws as their fellow-officers, engineers, members, firemen, employees, and other help whose appointment is now or may be hereafter authorized by law are appointed, governed, and controlled. The engines, wagons, machinery, implements, extinguishers, and other apparatus, the purchase and repair of which are authorized by section one of this act, shall be purchased and repaired in like manner and under the same regulations as like articles, the purchase and repair of which are now or may be hereafter authorized by law are purchased and repaired.

City council, defined.

§ 3. The term "city council" as used in this act is hereby declared to include any body or bodies, board or boards, which, under law, constitute the legislative department of any municipality of the first class.

Act takes effect when.

§ 4. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

1574. INSPECTION OF ANIMALS SLAUGHTERED FOR FOOD.

DESTRUCTION OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS.

ACT 1573—An act prohibiting the destruction of food stuffs, food products or food articles.

History: Approved June 5, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 387. Amended May 27, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 866.

Food stuffs not to be destroyed in restraint of trade.

§ 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to destroy, in restraint of trade, any fish, fowl, animal, vegetable, or other stuffs, products or articles which are customary food, or which are proper for food, for human beings, and are in fit sanitary condition to be used as such. [Amendment of May 27, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 866.]

Punishment for violation of act.

§ 2. Any person, firm or corporation who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not to exceed five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

The director of the department of agriculture is given power of administering and enforcing this act. See, ante, Act 96, § 9.

INSPECTION OF ANIMALS SLAUGHTERED FOR FOOD.

ACT 1574—An act providing for the inspection of animals slaughtered for human food, providing for the inspection of the meat and meat food products of such animals; providing for the collection of fees to defray the expenses incurred by maintaining such inspection, providing for the appointment and duties of officials to carry into effect the provisions of this act, providing for the marking of carcasses and parts thereof, and providing a penalty for violation thereof.

History: Approved May 11, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 423.

Inspection of slaughtering establishments by state veterinarian.

§ 1. Any person, firm or corporation in the state of California, engaged in the slaughtering of cattle, sheep, swine, or goats, desiring to have the healthfulness of the meat and meat food products of such animals certified to, may make application for the inauguration of an inspection service in such establishment. Said application shall be in writing addressed to the state veterinarian of California, and shall be made on blanks which will be furnished by said state veterinarian. In such application such applicant for inspection shall agree to comply with the provisions of this act and to maintain said establishment in a clean and sanitary manner. Upon receipt of said application the state veterinarian shall make an inspection of said establishment and if found clean and sanitary, and properly equipped to conduct its business in a clean and sanitary manner, he shall inaugurate an inspection service therein, and shall give to such establishment an official number, and this number shall be used to mark the meat and meat food products of the establishment as hereinafter provided. Such an establishment shall thereafter be known as "official establishment No."

Fees.

§ 2. The cost of such inspection service shall be borne by the establishment where it is maintained and shall be paid for in the following manner: When, in the opinion of the state veterinarian, the volume of business is sufficient to occupy the continuous services of one inspector, such establishment shall pay a fee of one hundred and fifty dollars per month. When in the opinion of the state veterinarian the services of more than one inspector are required to properly carry on the work, the fee in such cases shall be one hundred fifty dollars per month for the first inspector, and one hundred twenty-five dollars per month for each additional inspector. When, in the opinion of the state veterinarian, the inspection work in two or more neighboring establishments can be properly supervised by one inspector, said state veterinarian may, in such cases, prorate the fees among such establishments, but in no instance where only one inspector is employed to supervise the work in more than one establishment shall the aggregate fees be less than one hundred fifty dollars per month, and in no such instance shall the individual fees be less than fifty dollars per month. All such fees shall be paid during the first week of January, April, July and October of each year and they shall be paid in advance for the ensuing three months. Such fees shall be paid to the state veterinarian, who shall at least as often as once each month and oftener if required to do so, report to the state controller the total amount of fees collected, and at the same time he shall pay into the state treasury the entire amount of said receipts. All such receipts shall be credited to the meat hygiene fund, which fund is hereby created, out of which shall be paid the salaries of inspectors who are appointed in accordance with the provisions of this act, as well as other expenses that may be incurred incidental thereto. In no instance, however, shall any of the fees collected as provided herein be refunded. The state veterinarian is hereby authorized to appoint such inspectors as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

Hours for slaughtering.

§ 3. All slaughtering in each official establishment shall be conducted between the hours of seven o'clock a. m. and seven o'clock p. m. of any one week day, unless a special permit in writing or by telegram, authorizing slaughtering at any other time, is granted by the state veterinarian. The manager or other person in charge of such establishment shall inform the inspector when work has been concluded for the day, and of the day and hour when work will be resumed. Where one inspector is detailed to conduct the work at two or more establishments where few animals are slaughtered, the inspector may designate the hours for work.

Ante mortem examination.

§ 4. In each official establishment an ante mortem examination shall be made of all cattle, sheep, swine and goats about to be slaughtered, and satisfactory facilities shall be provided for conducting such examinations, and for separating and holding apart from passed animals those that are unfit for immediate slaughter.

Parts inspected. Mark.

§ 5. In each official establishment a careful inspection shall be made of all animals at the time of slaughter. The head and tongue, tail, thymus gland, and all viscera, and all parts and blood used in the preparation of meat food and medicinal products shall be retained in such a manner as to preserve their identity until after the post-mortem examination has been completed. Carcasses and parts thereof found to be sound, healthful, wholesome and fit for human food shall be passed and marked in the following manner: Upon all passed carcasses and parts thereof slaughtered in an official establishment the inspector shall place a mark bearing the words "Cal. Inspected and Passed." This mark shall also contain the official number of the establishment. The number of such marks that shall be affixed and their location on the carcasses and parts thereof shall be determined by the state veterinarian. Each carcass or part thereof, which is found on post-mortem inspection to be unsound, unhealthful, unwholesome or otherwise unfit for human food shall be marked conspicuously by the inspector at the time of inspection with the words "Cal. Inspected and Condemned," and such carcass or part thereof shall, under the supervision of the inspector, be rendered unfit for human consumption in some manner approved by the state veterinarian.

Rules and regulations.

§ 6. The state veterinarian shall, from time to time, make such rules and regulations as are necessary for the efficient execution of the provisions of this act, and all inspections and examinations made under this act shall be such and made in such manner as described in the rules and regulations prescribed by said state veterinarian not inconsistent with the provisions of this act; provided, however, that in making such rules and regulations said state veterinarian shall be guided by the regulations governing meat inspection of the United States department of agriculture.

Violation.

§ 7. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation except the inspector as herein provided, to have in possession, keep or use any mark, stamp or brand provided or used for marking, stamping or branding any article herein required to be marked, stamped or branded. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to have in possession, keep, make or use any mark, stamp or brand having thereon a device or words similar in character or import to the marks, stamps or brands provided or used for marking, stamping or branding such articles, and any violation hereof shall be deemed a misdemeanor.

ACT 1577—An act to abolish attorney's fees and other charges, in foreclosure suits.

History: Approved March 27, 1874, Stats. 1873-74, p. 707.

Court to fix attorney's fees.

§ 1. In all cases of foreclosure of mortgage the attorney's fee shall be fixed by the court in which the proceedings of foreclosure are had, any stipulation in said mortgage to the contrary notwithstanding.

Repeal of conflicting acts.

§ 2. All acts and parts of acts, so far as they conflict with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

1. Construction and application.—The act applies only to an action to foreclose a mortgage and not to an action to enforce a pledge.—Hildreth v. Williams, 4 Cal. Unrep. 141, 33 Pac. 1113. See, also, Mason v. Luce, 116 Cal. 232, 48 Pac. 72.

2. It was the province of the court under the act to fix the amount of the attorney's fee.—Stockton, etc., Soc. v. Donnelly, 60 Cal. 481.

3. Same—Amount fixed by jury.—Although it is the province of the court, under the act, to fix the attorney's fee in a foreclosure suit, but when the court adopted as correct the amount returned by the jury, the amount may be considered as having been fixed by the court.—Stockton, etc., Soc. v. Donnelly, 60 Cal. 481.

4. Same—No evidence as to value of services necessary.—The duty of fixing the amount of the attorney's fee is imposed upon the court, and no evidence as to value of services is necessary.—Woodward v. Brown, 119 Cal. 283, 63 Am. St. Rep. 108, 51 Pac 2; Hotaling v. Montieth, 128 Cal. 556, 61 Pac. 95.

5. Same—When fee is agreed upon, larger fee is excluded.—The act is not to be construed as allowing an attorney's fee, to be fixed by the court, whether the mortgage provides for one or not; but, if it be construed as authorizing the court to fix a fee where the mortgage is silent, it must be held that, when a fee is agreed upon between the parties a larger fee is excluded.—Monroe v. Fohl, 72 Cal. 568, 14 Pac. 514.

6. Same—Stipulation in mortgage not controlling.—The stipulation in the mortgage as to an attorney's fee is not controlling upon the court.—Grangers' Business Ass'n v. Clark, 84 Cal. 201, 23 Pac. 1081.

7. Same—Unreasonable allowance corrected on appeal.—If the attorney's fee fixed by the trial court exceeds a reasonable amount, it will be corrected on appeal.—Grangers' Business Ass'n v. Clark, 84 Cal. 201, 23 Pac. 1081.

8. Same—Where mortgage contained a stipulation for a fee.—It was proper to allow an attorney's fee in a foreclosure suit where the copy of the mortgage attached to the complaint contained a stipulation for such fee, although the complaint contained no allegation on the subject.—Kern Valley Bank v. Chester, 55 Cal. 49.

9. Same—Same—When payable.—Where a mortgage contained a stipulation for an attorney's fee, "to become payable on filing the complaint for foreclosure," on bringing the suit plaintiff was entitled to a lien on the mortgaged premises for the amount of such, and was entitled to proceed to foreclosure for such amount, notwithstanding defendant paid the principal and interest of suit brought and before judgment.—Stockton, etc., Soc. v. Donnelly, 60 Cal. 481.

10. Same—Presumptions on appeal.—In the absence of anything in the record to the contrary it must be presumed in the appellate court that the court below proceeded regularly in fixing the amount of the attorney's fee in a foreclosure suit, and that the judgment is, in all respect, correct.—Montgomery v. Merrill, 62 Cal. 335.

Stats. 1919, p. 1191. Prior act of May 3, 1885, Stats. 1885, p. 10. Amended and supplemented March 7, 1887, Stats. 1887, p. 46. Repealed March 23, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 229.

State board of forestry.

§ 1. The governor shall appoint four persons, one of whom shall be familiar with the timber industry, one with the live stock industry, one with the grain and hay industry, and one at large, who together with the state forester, shall constitute the state board of forestry, which shall supervise and direct all matters of state forest policy, management and protection. Said board shall make rules and regulations for its government, and shall meet at such times and places as it sees fit. The members, except the state forester, shall receive no compensation for their services, but shall be paid actual traveling expenses which may be incurred in the performance of their official duties, which shall be paid out of the fund appropriated for the support of the state board of forestry. [Amendment of May 25, 1919. In effect July 25, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1192.]

State forester and his duties.

§ 2. There shall be a state forester, who shall be a civil executive officer, and who shall be a technically trained forester, appointed by the governor to hold office at the pleasure of the appointing power; and whether any candidate for the position is a technically trained forester shall be determined by certificate from the secretary of the United States department of agriculture, or from the department of forestry of the state university after such department is established. He shall receive a salary of twenty-four hundred dollars per annum, and shall be authorized and empowered to appoint two assistant foresters, whose salaries shall not exceed twelve hundred dollars each per annum. He shall maintain headquarters at the state capitol in an office provided by the secretary of state, and shall be allowed necessary office and contingent expenses. He and his assistants shall be paid reasonable traveling and field expenses which may be incurred in the necessary performance of their official duties. He shall act as secretary of the state board of forestry. He shall, under the supervision of the state board of forestry, execute all matters pertaining to forestry within the jurisdiction of the state; have charge of all fire wardens in the state, and direct and aid them in their duties; direct the protection and improvement of state parks and forests; collect data relative to forest destruction and conditions; take such action as is authorized by law to prevent and extinguish forest, brush and grass fires; enforce all laws pertaining to forest and brush-covered land, and prosecute for any violation of such laws; co-operate with land owners, as described in section 4 of this act; and publish from time to time such information of forestry as he may deem wise. He shall prepare annually a report to the governor on the progress and condition of state forest work, and recommend therein plans for improving the state system of forest protection, management and replacement.

Supervision and care of state parks.

§ 3. The California Redwood Park and the Mt. Hamilton tract, together with all moneys heretofore or hereafter appropriated for the purchase of land for or care of said parks, tracts and stations, shall be in charge of the state board of forestry, said board to take place of and forthwith shall have all the powers and duties now possessed in accordance with law by persons or commissions with regard to the state parks, tracts of land, and forest stations mentioned in this act, and also any forest or brush land which may hereafter become state property, or be placed definitely in the care of the state; and it is hereby further enacted that, if the government of the United States or any individual or corporation shall, at any time, donate or entrust to the state of California, for state park or state forest reserve purposes, any tract or tracts of wholly or partially wooded land, such tract or tracts of land shall be administered at the expense of the state, as provided by law.

Co-operative work.

§ 4. The state forester shall, upon request and whenever he deems it essential to the best interests of the people and the state, co-operate with counties, towns, corporations and individuals in preparing plans for the protection, management and replacement of trees, woodlots and timber tracts, on consideration and under an agreement that the parties obtaining such assistance pay at least the field expenses of the men employed in preparing said plans.

Publication of laws and notices.

§ 5. The state forester shall prepare and print for public distribution, an abstract of all the forest laws of California, together with such rules and regulations in accord therewith as he may deem necessary, and shall annually print and distribute a list of all fire wardens with their addresses, all such matters to be published with the approval of the state board of forestry. He shall also furnish notices, printed in large letters on cloth, calling attention to the danger from forest fires and to forest fire and trespass laws and their penalties. Such notices shall be posted by the fire-wardens in conspicuous places along every highway in brush and forest covered country, at frequent intervals along streams and lakes frequented by tourists, hunters or fishermen, at established camping sites, and in every postoffice in the forested region.

Fire districts.

§ 6. The state forester shall divide the state into such number of fire districts as shall be deemed by him most necessary to the efficiency of his work; and, furthermore, any county, or combination of less than four counties, shall be made a separate fire district, upon request of the county board or board of supervisors, in which case such special fire district shall pay the cost of maintaining its district fire-warden.

Duties of assistant foresters.

§ 7. The duties of the assistant foresters shall be to devote their entire time to state forest interests according to rules and directions to be determined by the state forester, with the approval of the state board of forestry. They shall take prompt measures to prevent and extinguish forest fires; keep a record of the cause, extent and damage of all forest fires in their respective districts, and perform such other duties as the state forester may direct.

Voluntary fire-wardens and their duties.

§ 8. The state forester shall appoint, in such number and localities as he deems wise, public-spirited citizens to act as voluntary fire-wardens, who may receive payment for their services from the counties or from private sources. They shall promptly report all fires and take immediate and active steps toward their extinguishment, report any violation of the forest laws, assist in apprehending and convicting offenders, and perform such other duties as the state forester may direct. The supervisors and rangers on the federal forest reserve within the state, whenever they formally accept the duties and responsibilities of fire-wardens, may be appointed as voluntary fire-wardens, and shall have all the powers given to fire-wardens by this act.

Powers and requirements of fire-wardens.

§ 9. The state forester and all fire-wardens shall have the powers of peace officers to make arrests without warrant, for violations of any state or federal forest laws, and no fire-warden shall be liable to civil action for trespass committed in the discharge of his duties. Any fire-warden who has information which would show, with reasonable certainty that any person had violated any provision of such forest laws, shall immediately take action against the offender, either by using his own powers as a peace officer, or by making complaint before the proper magistrate, or by information to the proper district attorney, and shall obtain all possible evidence pertaining thereto. Failure on the part of any paid fire warden to comply with the duties prescribed by this act shall be a misdemeanor, and punishable by a fine of not less than twenty dollars, nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars, or imprisonment for not less than ten days nor more than three months, or both such fine and imprisonment and the state forester is hereby authorized to investigate and prosecute such violations.

Assistance of citizens in fighting fires.

§ 10. All fire-wardens shall have authority to call upon able-bodied citizens between the ages of sixteen and fifty years, for assistance in putting out fires, and any such person who refuses to obey such summons, unless prevented by good and sufficient reasons, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and must be fined in a sum not less than fifteen dollars, nor more than fifty dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail of the county in which such conviction shall be had, not less than ten days, nor more than thirty days, or both such fine and imprisonment; provided, that no citizen shall be called upon to fight fire a total of more than five days in any one year.

Fire patrol.

§ 11. In times and localities of particular fire danger the state forester may maintain a fire patrol through the fire-wardens, at such places in brush or forest land as the public interest may require, the expense of such patrol to be paid by the county in which such patrol is maintained; and, furthermore, he may, upon written request by counties, corporations or individuals, maintain a fire patrol on their forest lands, provided, that the expense of said patrol be paid by the party or parties requesting same.

District attorneys to prosecute vigorously.

§ 12. Whenever an arrest shall have been made for violation of any provision of this act, or whenever any information of such violation shall have been lodged with him, the district attorney of the county in which the criminal act was committed must prosecute the offender or offenders with all diligence and energy. If any district attorney shall fail to comply with the provisions of this section he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars in the discretion of the court. Action against the district attorney shall be brought by the attorney general in the name of the people of the state on the relation of the state forester. The penalties of this section shall apply to any magistrate with proper authority, who refuses or neglects to cause the arrest and prosecution of any person or persons when complaint, under oath, of violation of any terms of this act has been lodged with him.

Destruction of warning notices.

§ 13. Any person who shall destroy, deface, remove or disfigure any sign, poster or warning notice posted under the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable, upon conviction, by a fine of not less than fifteen dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than ten days nor more than three months, or both such fine and imprisonment.

Willfully, maliciously and negligently setting forest fires.

§ 14. Every person who willfully, maliciously or negligently sets on fire or causes or procures to be set on fire any woods, brush, prairies, grass, grain or stubble on any lands not his own, or allows the fire to escape from his own land, whereby any property of another is injured or destroyed, or accidentally sets any such fire or allows it to escape from his control without extinguishing it or using every effort to extinguish it, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction is punishable by a fine of not less than fifty dollars, nor more than one thousand dollars, or imprisonment for not less than thirty days, nor more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment. Setting such fires or allowing them to escape shall be prima facie proof of willfulness, malice or neglect under this section, provided, that nothing herein contained shall apply to a person who, in good faith, sets a back-fire to check a fire already burning.

Extinguishment of camp-fires.

§ 15. Every person who upon departing from a camp or camping place, leaves fire burning or unextinguished, or who after building such fire allows it to spread, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, with costs of suit and collection, one-half of such fine or such a portion thereof as shall not exceed fifty dollars, to be paid to the person securing the arrest and conviction of such offender, and if the defendant refuses or neglects to pay the fine and costs imposed, he shall be confined in the county jail of the county in which conviction shall be had, for a period not to exceed one day for every two dollars of the fine imposed, or may be subject to both such fine and imprisonment.

Restriction of use of fire in dry season.

§ 16. It shall be unlawful during what is locally known as the "dry season," this to be considered as the period between May fifteenth and the first soaking rains of autumn or winter, for any person or persons to burn brush, stumps, logs, fallen timber, fallows, grass or forest-covered land, or blast wood with dynamite, powder or other explosives, or set off fire-works of any kind in forest or brush-covered land, either their own or the property of another, without written permission of and under the direction or supervision of a fire-warden in that district; these restrictions not to apply to the ordinary use of fire or blasts in logging redwood, nor in cases where back-fires are set in good faith to stop an existing fire. Violation of these provisions shall be a misdemeanor, punishable, upon conviction, by a fine of not less than fifty dollars, nor more than one thousand dollars, or imprisonment not less than thirty days nor more than one year, or both such fines and imprisonment.

Engines in forest land.

§ 17. Logging, locomotives, donkey or threshing engines, and other engines and boilers operated in, through or near forests, brush or grass land, which do not burn oil as fuel, shall be provided with appliances to prevent the escape of fire and sparks from the smoke-stacks thereof, and with devices to prevent the escape of fire from ash-pans and fire-boxes. Failure to comply with these requirements shall be a misdemeanor, punishable, upon conviction, by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, and any person violating any provisions of this section shall be liable to a penalty of not less than fifty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, for every such violation, or imprisonment for not less than thirty days nor more than three months, or both such fine and imprisonment.

Civil liability for forest fires.

§ 18. In addition to the penalties provided in sections fourteen, fifteen, sixteen and seventeen of this act, the United States, state, county, or private owners, whose property is injured or destroyed by such fires may recover in a civil action, double the amount of damages suffered if the fires occurred through wilfulness, malice or negligence; but if such fires were caused or escaped accidentally or unavoidably, civil action shall lie only for the actual damage sustained as determined by the value of the property injured or destroyed, and the detriment to the land and vegetation thereof. The presumption of wilfulness, malice or neglect shall be overcome; provided, that the precautions set forth are observed; or, provided, fires are set during the "dry season" with written permission of and under the direction of the district fire-warden. Persons or corporations causing fires by violations of this act shall be liable to the United States, state, county, or private owners in action for debt to the full amount of all expenses incurred by the United States, state, county or private owners in fighting such fires. [Amendment of May 2, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 234.]

Inspection of forest area. Posting notice. Order that area be cleaned up. Declaring area a nuisance. Expense.

§ 19. It shall be the duty of the state board of forestry, whenever it shall be deemed necessary, to notify the owner of any forest area within the state by a written notice to be served upon the person or persons or corporation, or either of them, owning or having charge of such area, or upon the agents, attorney or representative of either, by any fire-warden, deputy fire-warden or special fire-warden or any employee of the state board of forestry, in the same manner as a summons in a civil action, or if such area belongs to any non-resident person or corporation and there is no person in control or possession thereof, and such non-resident person or corporation has no tenant, attorney, representative or agent upon whom such service can be had, or if the owner or owners of such area, or their tenants, attorneys, representatives, or agents can not after due diligence be found, then by posting the said notice in some conspicuous place upon such area and by mailing a copy thereof to the owner thereof at his last known place or residence if the same is known or can be ascertained, that the said state board of forestry intends to cause an inspection to be made of the said forest area for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not the same constitutes a nuisance as hereinafter provided. The said notice shall describe the forest area to be inspected by general description and shall designate the time of such inspection. At the time so designated in said notice the said state board of forestry shall cause an inspection to be made of the said forest area and the said owner or his agent shall be permitted to be present during such inspection and shall be given a full opportunity of showing that such forest area is not a nuisance as contemplated by this act. If the said state board of forestry after such inspection finds any forest area inadequately protected adjoining, lying near, or intermingled with other forest and covered wholly or in part with inflammable debris, which by reason of such location or condition or lack of protection endangers life or property, the state board of forestry shall in writing notify the owner or owners of such areas that the condition of said areas endangers life or property and shall require such persons or corporation to clean up such areas by the use of fire or otherwise at a time and in a manner to be therein specified. Said notice may be served upon the person or persons or corporation, or either of them, owning or having charge of such areas or upon the agents of either, by any fire-warden, deputy fire-warden, or special fire-warden or any employee of the state board of forestry, in the same manner as a summons in a civil action; provided, however, that if any such area belong to any non-resident person or corporation and there is no person in control or possession thereof and such non-resident person or corporation has no tenant, bailee, depository or agent upon whom such service can be had; or if the owner or owners of such areas can not after due diligence be found, then such notice may be served by posting the same in some conspicuous place upon such area, and by mailing a copy thereof to the owner thereof at his last known place of residence, if the same is known or can be ascertained. Any and all such inadequately protected forest areas adjoining, lying near, or intermingled with other forest and covered wholly or in part with inflammable debris, which by reason of such location or condition or lack of protection endangers life or property, are hereby declared to be a public nuisance; and whenever any such nuisance shall exist within the state, and the proper notice shall have been served, as herein provided, and the time specified in said notice shall have elapsed without the nuisance having been abated, it shall be the duty of the state board of forestry to cause said nuisance to be at once abated, by burning or otherwise disposing of the inflammable debris. The expense thereof shall be paid by the state in like manner as bills for fire fighting are paid. Any and all such sum or sums so paid shall be and become a lien on the property from which said nuisance has been removed or abated in pursuance of this section, and said lien shall continue as long as the said sum or sums above referred to shall remain unpaid. The claim for any lien shall be filed by the state forester, or, under his direction, by any of his assistants or fire-wardens, in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the property on which said nuisance existed is situated. Proceedings for the enforcement of such lien shall be instituted by the district attorney of the county where the nuisance existed, at the request of the state board of forestry and in the name of the state of California as claimant; and the costs shall be recovered in the usual manner. The state board of forestry is hereby vested with the power to cause any and all such nuisances to be abated in a summary manner. [Amendment approved April 7, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 709.]

Disposals of moneys received as penalties.

§ 20. All moneys received as penalties for violations of the provisions of this act, less the cost of collection, and not otherwise provided for, shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the forestry fund, which fund is hereby created, and the moneys therein are hereby appropriated for purposes of forest protection, management and replacement under direction of the state board of forestry.

Moneys for forest purposes.

§ 21. County boards of supervisors may appropriate money for purposes of forest protection, improvement and management.

Payment of expenses under this act.

§ 22. There is hereby appropriated for the fifty-seventh and fifty-eighth fiscal years, the sum of seventeen thousand six hundred dollars ($17,600) for carrying out the provision of this act, and for the payment of all salaries and expenses herein provided for.

§ 23. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Code commissioners' note: "Cf. §§ 14 and 15 with Penal Code, §§ 384, 384a, 384b (1905, pp. 757, 758). See, also, § 33½, added to county government act of 1897 (1905, p. 394), and Civil Code, § 3346a, as adopted in 1905 (1905, p. 621)."

1. Fire wardens—Appointment.—It is the duty of the state forester, under this act, to appoint local fire wardens, and the board of supervisors have no power to make such an appointment.—Welch v. Ware, 161 Cal. 641, 119 Pac. 1080.

2. An appointment by the board of supervisors of a fire warden, and an order fixing his compensation as such, can only be taken as evidencing an election by the board under the forestry act to pay him as the appointee of the state forester for his services in the discharge of the duties of his appointment.—Welch v. Ware, 161 Cal. 641, 119 Pac. 1080.

3. Same.—Compensation.—The only authority given the board of supervisors is to provide for the compensation of voluntary fire wardens; but there is no provision of the law which requires the board to make compensation in any given amount, or if compensation is allowed, that it should be continued for any given time or term.—Welch v. Ware, 161 Cal. 641, 119 Pac. 1080.

PREVENTION AND SUPPRESSION OF FOREST FIRES.

ACT 1578a—An act providing for the prevention and suppression of forest fires.

History: Approved May 2, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 262.

Prevention and suppression of forest fires.

§ 1. For the prevention and suppression of forest fires the state board of forestry shall—

(a) Make and enforce such rules and regulations as may be necessary and proper for the organization, maintenance, government and direction of the fire protective system provided for in this act;

Fire districts.

(b) Divide the state into such number of suitable and convenient fire districts as may be necessary;

Fire rangers.

(c) Appoint a district fire ranger for each of such fire districts to serve during the seasons when fires are liable to occur at a salary of not to exceed one hundred fifty dollars per month and necessary expenses. Said district fire rangers shall, under the direction of the state forester, have charge of the fire fighting system and men in such districts; and shall be charged with the duty of preventing and extinguishing forest fires and with the performance of such other duties as may be required by the forester;

Implements and apparatus.

(d) Provide all proper fire-prevention and fire-fighting implements and apparatus, organize fire companies and establish observation stations and employ men to attend them in all fire districts established as herein provided; construct and maintain telephone lines and provide such other means of communication as shall be necessary to prevent and extinguish forest fires.

Co-operation with other agencies.

§ 2. For the purpose of co-operating with federal, county, municipal and private agencies for fire protection, forest management, reforestation and afforestation the state forester may—

Agreements with federal government.

(a) Enter into agreements with the federal government, under such terms as he deems advisable or as may be provided by law, and renew, revise or terminate such agreements, for the purpose of maintaining a fire patrol system for the prevention and suppression of any forest fires in any timber, brush, grass or other inflammable vegetation or material; provided, that the expenses incurred by the terms of said agreements shall be paid from the appropriations or funds available for forest fire protection.

Agreements with counties or municipalities.

(b) Whenever any county or municipality shall make any appropriation for the prevention and suppression of forest fires on any lands within said county, or municipality, or for the protection and forest management of any lands over which such county or municipality has jurisdiction, or for reforestation or afforestation on lands within said county or municipality, the state forester may, with the approval of the state board of control, enter into agreements with such county or municipality for said purposes on such terms and under such considerations as he deems wise.

Agreements with persons, firms, etc.

(c) Enter into agreements, with the approval of the state board of control, with any person, firm, association or corporation owning or controlling any forest, brush, grass or grain lands, under such terms as he deems advisable or as may be provided by law, and renew, revise or terminate such agreements, for the prevention and suppression of forest fire; provided, that said agreements shall not provide that the state shall pay more than one-third of the expenses for said prevention and suppression of forest fires; provided, however, that the expenses incurred by the terms of said agreements shall be paid from the appropriations or funds available for forest fire protection.

Special fire rangers.

§ 3. Where owners of land, or any organization, shall maintain a fire patrol for the prevention and suppression of forest fires the state forester may designate such patrolman as special fire ranger and give to him, for the protection of lands patrolled by him or adjacent thereto, all the rights and powers of district fire rangers as herein provided; and such special fire rangers shall be paid wholly by such owners or organizations or as may be provided for by section two of this act.

Power to summon help for suppression of fires.

§ 4. The state forester, deputy state forester and assistant state foresters, shall have power to summon any able-bodied male to assist in suppressing any forest fire; and whosoever fails to obey such summons shall be guilty of a violation of this act; and the above-mentioned officers shall have power to authorize any district fire ranger, special fire ranger or any voluntary fire warden to summon any able-bodied man to assist in suppressing any forest fire within their respective jurisdictions, and whosoever fails to obey such summons from any such authorized district fire ranger, special fire ranger or voluntary fire warden shall be deemed guilty of a violation of this act; and every person who in obedience to such summons assists in extinguishing any forest fire shall be compensated at the rate of twenty-five cents per hour of service actually rendered; provided, that said compensation shall be paid from the appropriations or funds available for forest fire protection.

Power to make arrests.

§ 5. The state forester, deputy state forester, assistant state foresters, district fire rangers and special fire rangers, shall have the powers of peace officers to make arrests without warrant, for violation of any state, county or federal fire law, and none of them shall be liable to civil action for trespass committed in the discharge of their duties.

"Forest fire" defined.

§ 6. The term "forest fire" as used in this act, means any fire burning uncontrolled on any lands covered wholly or in part by timber, brush, grass, grain, or other inflammable vegetation.

Penalty.

§ 7. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punishable upon conviction by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, and if the defendant refuses, on conviction, to pay said fine he shall be confined in the county jail of the county in which conviction shall be had for a period not to exceed one day for every two dollars of the fine imposed, or may be subject to both such fine and imprisonment.

Repealed.

§ 8. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

SALARIES OF FORESTRY OFFICERS.

ACT 1579—An act to fix the salaries of the state forester, deputy forester and assistant forester.

History: Approved March 22, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 669. Amended May 14, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 439.

Salaries of state forester and assistants.

§ 1. The salary of the state forester shall be three thousand dollars per annum. The state forester shall have authority to appoint a deputy forester at a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum and an assistant forester at a salary of one thousand six hundred dollars per annum. The deputy forester shall exercise all the powers and duties of the state forester during the latter's absence. All the salaries mentioned herein are to be paid in the same manner as the salaries of other state officers are paid. [Amendment of May 14, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 439.]

Repeal of conflicting acts.

§ 2. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

STATE FORESTRY FUND.

ACT 1580—An act to appropriate one hundred thousand dollars from any moneys hereafter collected and received by the state of California from the United States in payment of the claims of the state arising out of the Indian and civil wars, to be expended in the acquisition, preservation, and protection of the forests of this state; creating the state board of examiners a commission to carry this act into effect and for the disbursement of said moneys, and creating the "state forestry fund."

History: Approved March 18, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 183.

State forestry fund. Preservation and protection of forests.

§ 1. From the moneys hereafter collected and received by the state of California from the United States in payment of the claims of this state arising out of the Indian and civil wars, there is hereby appropriated the sum of one hundred thousand dollars which shall be set aside and covered into the "state forestry fund," which fund is hereby created, and which moneys shall be devoted by the state of California for the acquisition, preservation and protection of the forests within the state, and to the interests of scientific forestry generally within the state.

Board of examiners to expend moneys.

§ 2. The state board of examiners shall constitute a commission for the carrying into effect the provisions of this act, and is hereby authorized to expend such moneys in such manner and for such purposes within the purview of this act as it shall deem advisable, and for that purpose shall audit all claims and demands arising hereunder, and the controller is hereby directed to draw his warrants for the amounts as the same may become due and payable and the treasurer of the state is directed to pay such warrants.

§ 3. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

STATE FORESTRY NURSERY.

ACT 1581—An act providing for the establishment and maintenance of a state nursery under the jurisdiction and management of the state forester for the growing of stock for reforestation and the planting of trees along highways and in public places, and making an appropriation therefor.

History: Approved May 15, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 563.

State nursery established.

§ 1. There is hereby established a state nursery under the jurisdiction and management of the state forester for the growing of stock for reforestation of public lands, the planting of trees along public streets and highways and for the beautifying of parks and school grounds. The state nursery shall be located by the state forester upon lands now owned by the state or donated to the state for that purpose.

Duty of state forester.

§ 2. The state forester shall construct and maintain such buildings, improvements and equipment, and shall employ and fix the compensation of such employees as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act. He may also purchase nursery stock and seed and distribute the same at cost for public planting or reforestation.

Governor to receive deeds, etc.

§ 3. The governor, on behalf of the state, is hereby authorized to receive all such deeds, conveyances, assurances or donations of real or personal property as may be necessary in law to vest in the people of the state of California the title to any site or sites for said nursery and any equipment and supplies therefor that may be donated to the state and accepted by the governor.

Appropriation.

§ 4. Out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated there is hereby appropriated the sum of fourteen thousand dollars for the purposes of this act.

UNITED STATES FOREST RESERVE FUND.

ACT 1583—An act to create a fund to be known as the United States forest reserve fund and to provide for the payment out of such fund to the treasuries of the several counties entitled thereto of certain moneys received from the government of the United States, and also to regulate the manner of expenditure by the counties of the moneys so paid.

History: Approved March 18, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 346. Amended March 20, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 550.

Creation of United States forest reserve fund.

§ 1. All moneys which have been received, and all moneys which may hereafter be received by the state of California from the government of the United States in pursuance of any and all acts of congress providing for the distribution and payment to states and territories of a fixed and definite percentage of the moneys received by the government of the United States from the forest reserves established therein, shall be credited to a fund to be known as the United States forest reserve fund, which fund is hereby specifically created, and such moneys shall be disposed of, in accordance with the terms of such act of congress, by the payment of the same to the counties in which such forest reserves are situated. The payment made to each county from the receipts of any given forest reserve shall be in the proportion which the area of such forest reserve situated in such county bears to the total area of such reserve. [Amendment of March 20, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 550.]

Controller to keep record of receipts.

§ 2. The controller of state shall keep a record of the receipts from the government of the United States on account of each forest reserve in this state. On or before the thirtieth day of June of each year the controller shall draw his warrant in favor of the treasurer of each and every county entitled to payment hereunder for whatever sum of money may be due to such county according to the terms of this act. The state treasurer shall pay the warrants so drawn.

Duty of supervisors and county surveyors.

§ 3. It shall be the duty of the board of supervisors of each county, upon application of the state controller, to instruct the county surveyor to furnish the controller, without expense to the state, a statistical statement showing the area of each United States forest reserve located within that county, and the data thus secured shall be made the basis of the computation of the amount of money due that county under the provisions of this act. [Amendment of March 20, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 550.]

County auditor to apportion money.

§ 4. It shall be the duty of the county auditor of any county receiving a payment of money under the provisions of this act, immediately to apportion such money by placing fifty per cent thereof to the credit of the unapportioned county school fund of such county and fifty per cent to the credit of the general road fund. The money thus added to the unapportioned county school fund shall be apportioned by the county superintendent of schools in the same manner as other county school fund moneys, and the money so added to the county general road fund shall be used for the same purposes as other general road fund moneys.

§ 5. This act shall take effect immediately.

REFORESTATION OF SAN BERNARDINO FOREST RESERVE.

ACT 1585—An act to provide for the reforestation, the cutting of fire lanes and fire trails on the San Bernardino forest reserve, and to make an appropriation therefor.

History: Approved April 14, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 868. Prior act of March 11, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 206, identical in all respects with present act, except that it authorized the department of engineering to enter into the necessary contract, etc., while the present gave that authority to the board of examiners.

REFORESTATION OF THE ANGELES NATIONAL FOREST.

ACT 1586—An act to provide for the reforestation, constructing and maintaining of fire lanes and fire trails on the Angeles national forest, and to make an appropriation therefor.

History: Approved May 22, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1240. Prior acts: Act of June 3, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 374; May 17, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 481; May 15, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 532; all of which were practically identical with the present act.

Appropriation: fire protection in San Bernardino mountains.

§ 1. The sum of five thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, which money shall be used and expended for the purpose of constructing and maintaining fire lanes and fire trails to protect the timber and brush and other growth on the water shed now standing or that may be planted upon the San Bernardino mountains, in the state of California.

Contracts with United States forest service.

§ 2. The state board of control is hereby empowered to enter into a contract or contracts with the forest service of the United States government for the purpose of constructing and maintaining fire lanes and fire trails for the protection of the forest and brush specified in section one of this act; provided, however, that these expenditures shall not be in excess of the amount or amounts to be expended by the forest service of the federal government in collaboration with the specific work named above; and provided, further, that in case the forest service above mentioned does not contribute the fund for said co-operation, that the state board of control shall not have power to enter into such contract or contracts with the said forest service for the expenditure of the said money.

PREVENTION OF DESTRUCTION OF GAME IN CLEVELAND NATIONAL FOREST.

ACT 1588—An act to prevent the destruction of wild game within certain territory lying within the boundaries of the Cleveland national forest, in the state of California, and providing a penalty therefor.

History: Approved June 16, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 952.

Penalty for hunting in Cleveland national forest.

§ 1. Every person who shall hunt, pursue, kill or destroy any wild game of any kind within that certain territory embraced in the Cleveland national forest, more particularly described as follows, to wit: "The east one-half of township five south, range seven west; all of township seven; all of township five south, range six west, except sections one, two, three, four, ten, eleven and twelve; all of township six south, range five west; all in San Bernardino base and meridian, in the state of California," is guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred, nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail of the county in which the conviction shall be had, not less than fifty days nor more than two hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Not applicable to lions, etc.

§ 2. The provisions of this act shall not apply to the hunting, pursuing, killing or destroying of California lions, wildcats or coyotes under a permit therefor issued by the fish and game commission of California.

DISINCORPORATION OF FIRE DISTRICTS.

ACT 1589—An act to provide for the disincorporation and discontinuance of fire districts where the same become wholly or partly within the corporate limits of a town or city, incorporated subsequently to the organization thereof, and providing for the disposal of the property of such districts.

History: Approved March 20, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 576.

Discontinuance of fire districts, proceedings for.

§ 1. Whenever the territory comprising a fire district organized under the laws of this state, governing the organization and establishment of fire districts and fire departments in unincorporated towns or villages in this state, shall be wholly within, or be identical with the corporate limits of a town or city, which shall have become incorporated as a municipality, after said fire district was organized and established, the board of supervisors of any county in which any such fire district shall have been or may be hereafter established at any time, upon the written verified petition of the inhabitants of any such fire district, whose names appear upon the last preceding assessment-roll of the county, town or city within which said fire district is located, owning or representing more than one-half in value of the assessed real property of such fire district, or owning or representing more than one-half in value of the assessed real property in such fire district owned by the residents thereof, may, by a resolution adopted and entered in their minutes, discontinue such fire district, and declare the same to be disincorporated; and upon such action being taken by said board of supervisors, the board of fire commissioners of such fire district, shall turn over to any fire department organized by the board of trustees of said town or city, or to the board of trustees of said town or city, all the property of such fire district or fire department; such town or city to pay all the debts of said fire district, and department, and thereupon said fire district shall be discontinued and disincorporated.

Change of districts.

§ 2. Whenever any portion of the territory of any fire district heretofore or hereafter established shall be incorporated into the corporate limits of any incorporated town or city, the board of supervisors of the county in which such fire district is located, upon the written verified petition of the inhabitants of such incorporated portion of such fire district, whose names appear upon the last preceding assessment-roll of the county, city or town within which said incorporated portion of said fire district is located, owning or representing more than one-half in value of the assessed real property in such incorporated portion of such fire district; or owning or representing more than one-half in value of the assessed real property within such incorporated portion of such fire district owned by the residents thereof, shall by a resolution duly adopted and entered in their minutes, change the boundaries of such fire district, in such manner as shall exclude such incorporated portion from such fire district, and thereafter such incorporated portion of such fire district, shall cease to be a portion of said fire district, and shall not be entitled to the protection of, nor liable to be assessed or taxed for the support and maintenance of the fire department of such fire district.

Order of discontinuance to be recorded.

§ 3. A certified copy of any resolution of said board of supervisors, discontinuing, and disincorporating such fire district or excluding a portion therefrom, or changing the boundaries thereof, after being adopted, and duly signed by the chairman of said board and the clerk thereof, and the seal of said board affixed thereto, and duly certified to by the clerk of said board, shall within ten days after the adoption thereof by said board, be filed by the clerk of said board in the office of the county recorder of the said county in which said fire district is located, and the said recorder shall record the same, but shall not make any charge or collect any fees for filing or recording the same.

§ 4. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

TAMALPAIS FOREST FIRE DISTRICT.

ACT 1590—An act to provide for the formation, government, operation and dissolution of Tamalpais forest fire district, to prevent and extinguish forest, brush and grass fires therein, and protect persons and property from injury, loss or damage resulting from any such fires; and to provide for the assessment, levy, collection and disbursement of taxes and revenues therein, and the contribution or payment of public funds therefor.

History: Approved May 21, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 774.

"Tamalpais forest fire district" organized.

§ 1. There is hereby organized, created, established and incorporated a forest fire district within the county of Marin, to be known as "Tamalpais forest fire district," the boundaries of which are hereby established, described and determined as follows, to wit: Commencing at the point where the electric pole line of the Pacific Gas and Electric company running from the Alto power house to Bolinas first joins the state highway between the town of Mill Valley and Alto; running thence along the line of said pole line, southerly, southwesterly, and westerly across the Rancho Saucelito and the Rancho Las Baulinas until the said pole line crosses the county road along the easterly side of Bolinas inner bay or lagoon; running thence northwesterly along said county road to its intersection with the lower county road leading from Bolinas to Olema; running thence northwesterly along said Bolinas and Olema county road to its intersection with the Tocaloma road at the village of Olema; running thence easterly along said county road leading to Tocaloma to its intersection with the county road running along the easterly bank of Paper Mill creek; running thence northerly and easterly along said county road running along the easterly bank of Paper Mill creek to the mouth of Nicasio creek; running thence up the county road running up Nicasio creek, in an easterly and southerly direction, through the village of Nicasio to the intersection of the Nicasio and San Geronimo county road with the Lucas valley county road; thence easterly along said Lucas valley county road to its intersection with the state highway at Las Gallinas; thence southerly along the state highway as at present laid out to the northerly corporate limits of the city of San Rafael; thence westerly along said northerly corporate limits of said city of San Rafael to the easterly corporate limits of the town of San Anselmo; thence southerly along the easterly corporate limits of the town of San Anselmo to the easterly corporate limits of the town of Ross; thence southerly along the easterly corporate limits of the town of Ross and westerly along the southerly corporate limits of the town of Ross to the intersection thereof with the state highway; thence southerly along the state highway to the northwesterly corporate limits of the town of Larkspur; thence northerly, easterly and southerly, along the corporate limits of the town of Larkspur to their intersection with the northerly corporate limits of the town of Corte Madera; thence easterly, southerly and westerly along the corporate limits of the town of Corte Madera to their intersection with the state highway; and thence southerly along the state highway to the point of beginning.

Appointment of board of trustees.

§ 2. Within thirty days after this act shall go into effect, a governing board of trustees for said district shall be appointed. Said board shall consist of one trustee to be appointed from said district at large by the board of supervisors of said county of Marin, and of one trustee to be appointed from each municipality lying wholly or partially within said district by the governing board of such municipality. The governing board of such district shall be called "the board of trustees of Tamalpais forest fire district." Each trustee appointed by a municipal board shall be an elector of the municipality from which he is appointed, and each appointee of the board of supervisors shall be an elector of the district.

Term.

All such trustees shall hold office for the term of two years from and after the second day of the calendar year succeeding their appointment; provided, however, that the first board of trustees appointed under the provisions of this act shall, at their first meeting, so classify themselves by lot that one-half of their number, if the total membership is an even number, and if uneven then that a majority of their number, shall go out of office at the expiration of one year and the remainder at the expiration of two years, from the second day of the calendar year succeeding their appointment.

Officers. Expenses. Meetings.

§ 3. The members of the board of trustees shall meet on the first Monday subsequent to thirty days after this act shall go into effect and shall organize by the election of one of their members as president and one thereof as secretary. The members of the board shall serve without compensation provided that the necessary expenses of each member for actual traveling expenses on meetings or business connected with said board shall be allowed and paid. In event of the resignation, death or disability of any member, his successor shall be appointed by the board of supervisors, if such board originally made such appointment, or by the governing board of the appropriate municipality, if such appointment were originally made by the board of a municipality. The board of trustees shall provide for the time and place of holding its regular meetings, and the manner of calling the same, and shall establish rules for its proceedings. Special meetings may be called by three trustees and notice of the holding thereof shall be given to each member at least three hours before the meeting. All sessions, whether regular or special, shall be open to the public and a majority of the members of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

Powers of board of trustees.

§ 4. The board of trustees of such district shall have power to take all necessary or proper steps for the prevention or extinguishing of forest, brush or grass fires within the district, and for the protection of persons or property from any injury, loss or damage resulting from any such fire or fires; to purchase such supplies and materials and to employ such labor or skilled services as may be necessary or proper in furtherance of the objects of this act, and if necessary or proper in the furtherance of the same to build, construct and thereafter to keep clear and maintain necessary fire roads or fire trails, hydrants or other fire fighting apparatus upon the lands within the district or adjacent thereto, and to acquire by purchase, condemnation, license or other lawful means, in the name of the district, all necessary lands, rights of way, easements or property or material requisite or necessary for any of such purposes; to make contracts, to indemnify or compensate any owner of land or other property for any injury or damage necessarily caused by the exercise of the powers by this act conferred, or arising out of the use, taking or damage of such property for any such purposes, and generally to do any and all things necessary or incident to the powers hereby granted and to carry out the objects specified herein.

Estimate of money needed.

§ 5. The board of trustees of said district shall at least fifteen days before the first day of the month in which the board of supervisors of Marin county is required by law to levy the amount of taxes required for county purposes, furnish to said board of supervisors and to the county auditor of said county, respectively, an estimate in writing of the amount of money necessary for all purposes required under the provisions of this act during the next ensuing fiscal year.

"Tamalpais forest fire district tax."

The board of supervisors of such county shall thereafter at the time and in the manner of levying other county taxes levy upon all of the taxable property within the district and cause to be collected a tax, to be known as the "Tamalpais forest fire district tax," the maximum rate of which must not be greater than sufficient to raise the amount estimated to be raised by the said board of trustees of the district, nor in any event shall such tax exceed ten cents on each one hundred dollars of taxable property in such district.

Levy and collection.

All taxes levied under the provisions of this section shall be computed and entered on the county assessment roll of said county by the county auditor, thereof, and collected at the same time and in the same manner as state and county taxes, and when collected shall be paid into the county treasury of said county for the use of said district.

The funds shall be withdrawn from said county treasury upon the warrant of the board of trustees of such district signed by the president or acting president of the board, and countersigned by its secretary.

Proposal of amount to be paid toward expenses by state, etc. Governing board authorized to make proposal.

§ 6. The board of trustees of such forest fire district, prior to its estimate of the amount of money necessary for all purposes of the district for the ensuing fiscal year, as hereinabove provided, may request from the governing board or body having jurisdiction and control over any forest, brush or grass lands within such district owned or held for any purpose whatsoever by the state of California, or any county, city, township, municipal corporation, public corporation, or other political corporation or subdivision of the state, a proposal or promise as to what amount, if any, the state of California, or any county, city, township, municipal corporation, public corporation or other political corporation or subdivision of the state owning or holding such lands, will agree to pay to such district towards its necessary expenses for the next ensuing fiscal year, or such proposal may be for the next two ensuing fiscal years in the event that such lands shall be under the control of the state of California, in consideration of said district taking over the supervision and concurrent control, as hereinafter set forth, of such lands so owned or held, only, however, in so far as is necessary or proper to prevent or extinguish forest, brush or grass fires thereon or within such district, or to protect persons or property from any injury, loss or damage resulting from any such fire, and said governing body having jurisdiction and control over such lands is hereby authorized and empowered, for the consideration aforesaid, to propose or promise, as aforesaid, and so obligate the state of California or any county, city, township, municipal corporation, public corporation or other political corporation or subdivision of the state owning or holding such lands respectively, to such district upon its board of trustees accepting such proposal for such purpose, whereupon such agreement shall be duly executed in the form of a contract, and such district shall thereupon take over the supervision and control of the prevention and extinguishing of forest, brush or grass fires upon such lands in the manner aforesaid for the next ensuing fiscal year, or for the life of such contract.

Annexation of territory. Petition. Proposition submitted to electors. If majority vote favors, territory deemed added. Exclusion of land. Petition. Hearing. Notice. When deemed excluded.

§ 7. Any territory, incorporated or unincorporated, lying adjacent and contiguous to said forest fire district, and within the same county therewith, may be added and annexed to such district, at any time, upon proceedings being had and taken as in this act provided; and any territory, incorporated or unincorporated, lying within said district, may be withdrawn and excluded therefrom upon proceedings being had and taken as in this act provided. The board of trustees of such district upon receiving a written petition containing a description of the new territory sought to be annexed to such district, signed by the owners comprising more than one-half of the assessed value of such territory as shown by the last county assessment roll, must thereupon submit to the electors of the district and also to the electors residing in the territory sought to be annexed, the proposition of whether such proposed territory shall be annexed and added to such district. The proposition to be submitted to the electors at such election, both within said district and within said territory so proposed to be annexed, shall be as follows: "for annexation," or "against annexation," or words equivalent thereto. Such election must be called and held, and notice thereof shall be published for at least four weeks prior to such election in a newspaper printed and published in such district, and also in a newspaper, if any, printed and published in such territory so proposed to be annexed. The board of trustees, shall canvass, separately, the votes cast within said district, and the votes cast within said territory so proposed to be annexed, and if it shall appear from such canvass that a majority of all the ballots cast in such district and a majority of all the ballots cast in such territory so proposed to be annexed are in favor of annexation, the board of trustees shall certify such fact to the secretary of state describing said property proposed to be annexed and upon receipt of such last mentioned certificate, the secretary of state shall thereupon issue his certificate reciting that the territory (describing the same) has been annexed and added to the Tamalpais forest fire district and a copy of such certificate of the secretary of state shall be transmitted to and filed with the county clerk of said county in which such forest fire district is situated. From and after the date of such certificate the territory named therein shall be deemed added and annexed to and form a part of said forest fire district, with all the rights, privileges and powers set forth in this act and necessarily incident thereto. If the property so proposed to be annexed is included within a municipality, consent to such annexation shall first be obtained from the governing board of such municipality, and an authenticated copy of the resolution or order of such board so consenting to such annexation, shall be attached to the petition, and be made a part thereof. At any time after the organization of said forest fire district, and the appointment of the board of trustees thereof, the owner or owners of the record title to any land or lands within said district may file a petition with the board of supervisors of the county praying that his or their lands be excluded from the district; provided, that no petition shall be presented or received for the exclusion of lands which, either by themselves, or together with other lands included in the same petition, do not lie adjacent to the exterior boundaries of said forest fire district. At its first regular meeting after the filing of such petition the board of supervisors shall, by its order, set said petition for hearing, which hearing shall not be more than forty days nor less than ten days from the date of its said order. Notice of such hearing shall be mailed to the petitioners, and to the members of the board of trustees of the forest fire district at least one week before the hearing. At such hearing, or at any continuation thereof, the board of supervisors shall hear and determine the facts urged for or against said petition, and shall make a finding determining whether or not the said lands petitioned to be withdrawn, or any part thereof, shall be withdrawn from the district. In case such finding shall be in favor of excluding such lands, or any portion thereof from the district, the board of supervisors shall make its order certifying such fact to the secretary of state, describing said property proposed to be excluded by said findings, and upon receipt of such last mentioned certificate, the secretary of state shall issue his certificate reciting that the territory (describing the same) has been excluded from the Tamalpais forest fire district, and a copy of such certificate of the secretary of state shall be transmitted to and filed with the county clerk of the county of Marin. From and after the date of such certificate, the territory described therein shall be deemed excluded from said forest fire district.

Dissolution of district.

§ 8. The district may at any time be dissolved upon the vote of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, upon an election called either by its board of trustees or by petition signed by twenty-five per cent of the registered voters within the district upon the question of dissolution, and the proposition which shall be submitted to the electors at such election shall be as follows: "Shall the district be dissolved?" Such election must be called and held; and notice thereof shall be published for at least four weeks prior to such election in a newspaper printed and published in such district. If two-thirds of the votes at such election shall be in favor of the dissolution of the district, the board of trustees shall certify such fact to the secretary of state, and upon receipt of such last mentioned certificate, the secretary of state shall thereupon issue his certificate reciting that said forest fire district has been dissolved, and a copy of such certificate of the secretary of state shall be transmitted to and filed with the county clerk of said county in which such forest fire district is situated. From and after the date of such certificate the district named therein shall be deemed dissolved, and the property of the district shall thereupon vest in the county wherein said district is situate, if the district at the time of its dissolution comprises unincorporated territory alone, and if it comprises incorporated territory alone, or partly incorporated and partly unincorporated territory, then in such event its property shall be ratably apportioned amongst the several municipalities and the county in proportion to the assessed value of the property included within said district as shown upon the last county assessment roll; provided, however, that any real property, easements or rights of way belonging to said district shall in such event remain the property of the municipality wherein the same is situate, if situated within incorporated territory, otherwise the same shall remain the property of the county.

Publication of notices. Words defined.

§ 9. Every notice herein required to be published may be published in a daily or weekly or semiweekly newspaper; and if there is no daily, or weekly or semiweekly newspaper published within the district or within a subdivision thereof or other territory wherein the same is required to be published, then such notice shall be posted for the length of time herein required for the publication of the same in three public places of such district or such subdivision thereof or such other territory as the case may be. The term "municipality," as used in this act, shall include a city or town, and shall be understood and so construed as to include, and is hereby declared to include, all corporations heretofore organized and now existing, and those hereafter organized, for municipal purposes. The word "district" shall apply, unless otherwise expressed or used, to said forest fire district formed under the provisions of this act, and the word "trustees," and the words "board of trustees," shall apply to the trustees and to the board of trustees of such district.

Provision optional and permissive.

§ 10. The provision herein contained for the entering into proposals and contracts with said forest fire district by the state of California, or any county, city, township, municipal corporation, public corporation or other political corporation or subdivision of this state, is hereby declared to be optional and permissive and no further authority of law shall be required for such proposals or contracts than that herein contained, and no further authority of law shall be required than that contained in this act for the levy of taxes by boards of supervisors for the purposes herein specified, and no further authority shall be required by law for the bringing of actions in eminent domain, for the acquiring by said forest fire district of rights of way for fire roads or trails, and easements to cut timber, brush or grass thereon, and to maintain the same, than the authority contained in this act.

Constitutionality.

§ 11. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portion of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

PREVENTION OF FOREST FIRES ON PUBLIC LANDS.

ACT 1600—An act providing for the cancellation of bonds given to secure the performance of the terms and conditions of franchises or privileges granted by the legislative or other governing body of counties or municipalities, the release of the sureties on such bonds, and the filing and acceptance of new bonds in lieu thereof.

History: Approved March 20, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 747.

Bonds to secure conditions of franchises. Petition of sureties for release. New bonds, conditions for. Corporation as surety.

§ 1. That in all cases where a bond or bonds have been given to secure the observance, fulfillment and performance of each and every term or condition, terms or conditions, or any thereof, of a franchise or privilege granted by a board of supervisors, board of trustees or common council, or other governing or legislative body of any county, city and county, city or town within this state, the governing or legislative body of such county, city and county, city or town may, upon the petition of the owner of said franchise or privilege, or upon the petition of the sureties on said bond or bonds, or upon the petition of any one or more of said sureties cancel and annul said bond or bonds, and release the sureties thereon from any future liability, and accept and take in lieu thereof a new bond or bonds to be approved by the governing or legislative body of such county, city and county, city or town, in the same penal sum and containing the same terms and conditions as the bond or bonds so canceled and annulled; which new bond or bonds must be executed by the owner of said franchise or privilege and by new sureties satisfactory to the governing or legislative body of such county, city and county, city or town; provided, that any person, firm or corporation who acted as surety on the old bond or bonds so canceled and annulled may act as surety on the new bond or bonds, if the same be satisfactory to the governing or legislative body of such county, city and county, city or town.

When old bond shall become annulled.

§ 2. Immediately upon the acceptance by the governing or legislative body of such county, city and county, city or town of any new bond or bonds, filed with the governing or legislative body of such county, city and county, city or town as herein provided for, the old bond or bonds shall become canceled and annulled, and the sureties thereon shall by such cancellation and annulment be released from any future liability on such old bond or bonds, but such cancellation and annulment shall not release said sureties from any past liability; and thereafter the new bond or bonds, herein provided for, shall take the place of such old bond or bonds.

§ 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

"BROUGHTON ACT."

ACT 1601—An act providing for the sale of street railroad and other franchises in counties and municipalities, and providing conditions for the granting of such franchises by legislative or other governing bodies, and repealing conflicting acts.

History: Approved March 22, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 777. Amended March 3, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 125; June 8, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1300. Prior acts: Act of March 23, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 288. Amended March 19, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 176. Act of March 13, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 135. Act of March 11, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 265. Amended March 6, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 90. Act of February 24, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 29. The act of 1893 was probably superseded by the act of 1897, although it was amended six days after the enactment of the latter. The act of 1897 was also probably superseded by the act of 1901. The latter act was probably superseded by the present, the "Broughton Act." The act of February 24, 1893, was an act limiting the time for granting franchises. The code commissioner says it was superseded by the act of 1901. In any event it can not be doubted that the entire mass of legislation has finally crystalized in the present act.

Street franchises granted on condition.

§ 1. Every franchise or privilege to erect or lay telegraph or telephone wires, to construct or operate street or interurban railroads upon any public street or highway, to lay gas pipes for the purpose of carrying gas for light, heat or power, to erect poles or wires for transmitting electricity for light, heat or power, along or upon any public street or highway, or to exercise any other privilege whatever hereafter proposed to be granted by boards of supervisors, boards of trustees or common councils, or other governing or legislative bodies of any county, city and county, city or town within this state, except steam railroads and except telegraph or telephone lines doing an interstate business, and renewals of franchises for piers, chutes or wharves, shall be granted upon the conditions in this act provided, and not otherwise. The grantor may, however, in such franchise impose such other and additional terms and conditions not in conflict herewith, whether governmental or contractual in character, as in the judgment of the legislative body thereof are to the public interest. [Amendment of June 8, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1300.]

Franchise, advertisement of application for.

§ 2. An applicant for any franchise or privilege above mentioned shall file with the governing or legislative body of the county or municipality an application, and thereupon said governing body shall, in its discretion, advertise the fact of said application, together with a statement that it is proposed to grant the same, in one or more newspapers of the county, city and county, city or town wherein the said franchise or privilege is to be exercised. Said advertisement must state that bids will be received for such franchise, and that it will be awarded to the highest bidder, and the same must be published in such newspaper once a day for ten successive days, or as often during said period as said paper is published, if it be a daily newspaper, and if there be no daily newspaper published in such county, city and county, city or town, then it shall be published in a weekly newspaper once a week for four successive weeks, and in either case the full publication must be completed not less than twenty nor more than thirty days before any further action can be taken thereon. [Amendment approved March 3, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 125.]

Publication must state character of and term for which it is granted. Percentage paid when. Forfeited when.

§ 3. The publication must state the character of the franchise or privilege proposed to be granted, the term for which it is granted, and, if it be a street railroad, the route to be traversed; that sealed bids therefor will be received up to a certain hour and day named therein, and that the successful bidder and his assigns must, during the life of said franchise, pay to the county or municipality two per cent (2%) of the gross annual receipts of the person, partnership or corporation to whom the franchise is awarded, arising from its use, operation or possession. No percentage shall be paid for the first [five] (5) years succeeding the date of the franchise, but thereafter such percentage shall be payable annually; and in the event said payment is not made, said franchise shall be forfeited; provided, further, that if the franchise be a renewal of a right already in existence, the payment of said percentage of gross receipts shall begin at once.

When an extension granted.

§ 4. In case the franchise granted shall be an extension of an existing system of street railroad, then the gross receipts shall be estimated to be one-half of the proportion of the total gross receipts of said system which the mileage of such extension bears to the total mileage of the whole system, and said estimate shall be conclusive as to the amount of the gross receipts of said extension.

Sold to highest bidder. Highest bid may be increased. Check and deposit. Deposit of balance. Readvertised, when.

§ 5. Said advertisement shall also contain a statement that the said franchise will be struck off, sold and awarded to the person, firm or corporation who shall make the highest cash bid therefor; provided, only, that at the time of the opening of said bids any responsible person, firm or corporation present or represented may bid for said franchise or privilege, a sum not less than ten per cent above the highest sealed bid therefor, and said bid so made may be raised not less than ten per cent by any other responsible bidder, and said bidding may so continue until finally said franchise shall be struck off, sold, and awarded by said governing body to the highest bidder therefor in gold coin of the United States. Each sealed bid shall be accompanied with cash or a certified check, payable to the treasurer of such county or municipality, for the full amount of said bid, and no sealed bid shall be considered unless said cash or check is enclosed therewith and the successful bidder shall deposit, at least ten per cent of the amount of his bid with the clerk of such county or municipality before the franchise shall be struck off to him. And if he shall fail to make such deposit immediately, then and in that case, his bid shall not be received, and shall be considered as void, and the said franchise shall then and there be again offered for sale to the bidder who shall make the highest cash bid therefor, subject to the same conditions as to deposit, as above mentioned. Said procedure shall be had until said franchise is struck off, sold, and awarded to a bidder who shall make the necessary deposit of at least ten per cent of the amount of his bid therefor, as herein provided. Said successful bidder shall deposit with the clerk of such county or municipality, within twenty-four hours of the acceptance of his bid, the remaining ninety per cent of the amount thereof, and in case he or it shall fail to do so, then the said deposit theretofore made, shall be forfeited, and the said award of said franchise shall be void, and the said franchise shall then and there, by said governing body, be again offered for sale to the highest bidder therefor, in the same manner, and under the same restriction as hereinbefore provided, and in case said bidder shall fail to deposit with the clerk of such county or municipality, the remaining ninety per cent of his bid, within twenty-four hours after its acceptance, the award to him of said franchise shall be set aside, and the deposit theretofore made by him shall be forfeited, and no further proceedings for a sale of said franchise shall be had unless the same shall be readvertised and again offered for sale, in the manner hereinbefore provided.

Commencement of work. Franchise forfeited.

§ 6. Work to erect or lay telegraph or telephone wires, to construct street or interurban railroads, to lay gas pipes for the purpose of carrying gas for light, heat or power, to erect poles or wires for transmitting electricity for light, heat or power along or upon any public street or highway, or to exercise any other privilege whatever, a franchise for which shall have been granted in accordance with the terms of this act, shall be commenced in good faith within not more than four months from the granting of any such franchise, and if not so commenced within said time said franchise so granted shall be declared forfeited, and work to construct street or interurban railroads under any such franchise shall be completed within not more than three years from the granting of such franchise, and if not so completed within said time such franchise so granted shall be forfeited; provided, that for good cause shown, the governing or legislative body may by resolution extend the time for completion thereof, not exceeding three months. Work under any franchise other than for a street or interurban railroad shall be prosecuted diligently and in good faith so as to meet and fill the reasonable needs of the inhabitants of the territory for the service of which the franchise is granted. [Amendment of June 8, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1301.]

Bond of successful bidder. When and where filed. Failure to file.

§ 7. The successful bidder for any franchise or privilege struck off, sold, and awarded under this act shall file a bond running to said county, city and county, or city or town, with, at least, two good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by such governing body, in a penal sum by it to be prescribed, and set forth in the advertisement for bids, conditioned that such bidder shall well and truly observe, fulfill and perform each and every term and condition of such franchise, and that in case of any breach of condition of such bond, the whole amount of the penal sum therein named shall be taken and deemed to be liquidated damages, and shall be recoverable from the principal and sureties upon said bond. Said bond shall be filed with such governing body within five days after such franchise is awarded, and upon the filing and approval of such bond, the said franchise shall, by said governing or legislative body, be granted by ordinance to the person, firm or corporation to whom it has been struck off, sold, or awarded, and in case that said bond shall not be so filed, the award of such franchise shall be set aside, and any money paid therefor shall be forfeited, and said franchise shall, in the discretion of said governing or legislative body, be readvertised, and again offered for sale in the same manner, and under the same restrictions, as hereinbefore provided.

Duty of attorney general.

§ 8. It shall be the duty of the attorney general, upon the complaint of any county or municipality, or, in his discretion, upon the complaint of any taxpayer, to sue for the forfeiture of any franchise granted under the terms of this act, for the noncompliance with any condition thereof.

Certain clauses and conditions to be omitted.

§ 9. No clause or condition of any kind shall be inserted in any franchise or grant offered or sold under the terms of this act, which shall directly or indirectly restrict free and open competition in bidding therefor, and no clause or provision shall be inserted in any franchise offered for sale, which shall in any wise favor one person, firm or corporation, as against another, in bidding for the purchase thereof.

Violation of act by members of governing body.

§ 10. Any member of any common council or other governing or legislative body of any county, city and county, city or town of this state, who, by his vote, violates or attempts to violate the provisions of this act, or any of them, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and may be punished therefor, as provided by law, and may be deprived of his office by the decree of a court of competent jurisdiction, after trial and conviction.

Conflicting acts repealed. Certain acts not repealed.

§ 11. All acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as repealing, or amending the following acts, to wit: "An act relating to the granting by the counties and municipalities of franchise for the construction of paths and roads for the use of bicycles and other horseless vehicles," approved March twenty-seventh, eighteen hundred and ninety-seven; "An act to authorize cities and towns to grant franchises for the construction and maintenance of railroads beyond the limits of such cities and towns leading to public parks owned thereby," being chapter forty of the laws of eighteen hundred and ninety-seven of the state of California.

This act shall take effect immediately.

The amending act of 1915 contained the following section:

§ 3. Nothing in this act contained shall affect any franchise or the conditions thereof heretofore granted under the terms of the act of which this is amendatory.

1. The code commissioners say of the act of 1901: "Repealed and superseded by 1905, pp. 777, 780.—See City of Los Angeles v. Davidson, 32 Cal. Dec." [150 Cal. 59, 88 Pac. 42].

2. Act of 1897 superseded.—The act of 1897 superseded the act of 1893.—Horton v. Los Angeles, 119 Cal. 602, 52 Pac. 956.

3. Act of 1893 not repealed by county government act.—The act of 1893 was not repealed by subdivision 40 of section 25 of the county government act, which went into effect the day after, as to granting of franchises by the boards of supervisors of counties.—Thompson v. Board of Supervisors, 111 Cal. 553, 44 Pac. 230.

4. Section 536, Civil Code, repealed by act of 1895.—The act of 1905 (franchise act) repeals by necessary implication section 536, Civil Code, so far as the franchises of telegraph and telephone companies are concerned.—Sunset, etc., Co. v. City of Pomona, 164 Cal. 161.

4a. Same.—The franchise act had the effect of repealing section 536, Civil Code, except as to telegraph and telephone lines doing an interstate business and where a telephone company had not taken advantage of the grant under that section prior to the passage of the act, it had no right, by virtue of said section, to maintain poles and wires in the streets of a city of the fifth class except upon the conditions and subject to the regulations prescribed by the municipality.—Pomona v. Sunset, etc., Co., 224 U. S. 330, 56 L. ed. 783, 32 Sup. Ct. 477.

5. Proceedings functus officio when act repealed.—Proceedings taken under the act of 1893 after that act was superseded by the act of 1897, would become functus officio when the last-named act went into effect, and could not be completed under the new act.—Horton v. Los Angeles, 119 Cal. 602, 52 Pac. 956.

G. Constitutionality—Title.—The title of the act of 1893 is sufficiently broad to include the subject matter of the issuance and sale of franchises by the boards of supervisors of counties, notwithstanding counties are not, strictly speaking, municipalities.—Thompson v. Board of Supervisors, 111 Cal. 553, 44 Pac. 230.

7. Same—Act of 1897—Clause as to exclusiveness of franchise.—The fact that the grant of a franchise under the act of 1897 to supply a municipality with water, contained a clause to the effect that it was not to be construed as an exclusive franchise, does not prevent such a grant from being invalid for the reason of the unconstitutionality of the act as an attempt to modify the provisions of section 19, article XI, of the constitution.—Town of St. Helena v. Ewer, 26 Cal. App. 191, 146 Pac. 191.

See Clark v. Los Angeles, 160 Cal. 31, 116 Pac. 722.

8. Same—Same—Franchises for light and water.—So far as the grant of franchises for light or water was concerned the act of 1897 was unconstitutional, as a modification of the provisions of section 19, article XI of the constitution.—Pereira v. Wallace, 129 Cal. 397, 62 Pac. 61; Town of St. Helena v. Ewer, 26 Cal. App. 191, 146 Pac. 191.

See, also, In re Johnston, 137 Cal. 115, 69 Pac. 973; In re Russell, 163 Cal. 668, Ann Cas. 1914A, 152, 126 Pac. 875.

9. Same—Same—Constitutional provision mandatory.—The provisions of section 19, article XI, of the constitution, are mandatory and prohibitory and exclude the right of the municipality to award the privileges referred to in the act of 1897, and said act is unconstitutional.—Pereira v. Wallace, 129 Cal. 397, 62 Pac. 61.

10. Same—Use of gas for illumination but not for heating, under constitutional restriction.—While the same gas may be used through the same mains and laterals, the use thereof for heating is a different and distinct use from its use for illumination, and section 19, article XI, of the constitution, protects only the latter use.—City of Hanford v. Hanford, etc., Co., 169 Cal. 749, 750, L. R. A. 1915E, 165, 147 Pac. 969.

11. Same—Electric poles and wires.—An ordinance of a municipality granting a franchise to erect and maintain poles and wires in the public streets of such city for the distribution of electric light and power throughout such city is, in view of section 19, article XI, of the constitution, inoperative as to the distribution of electricity for lighting purposes, but valid as to power.—Suisun City v. Pacific, etc., Co., 35 Cal. App. 380, 170 Pac. 1078.

11a. Same—Same.—An ordinance of Los Angeles, fixing the telephone rates to be charged by a telephone company, was held not unconstitutional.—Home, etc., Co. v. Los Angeles, 211 U. S. 265, 53 L. ed. 176, 29 Sup. Ct. Rep. 50.

12. Same—Federal court bound by state decision.—The rule that the federal courts are bound by the construction given a state statute by the highest court of the state, has no application where a federal question is involved, as where the statute impairs the obligations of contracts.—Sunset, etc., Co. v. City of Pomona, 164 Cal. 561.

13. Powers of local body—Street railroad franchise can not extend beyond city limits.—A franchise for a street railroad can only be obtained through the action of the council or governing body of the municipality, and can not extend beyond the city limits, and gives no authority for the operation of such a railroad in more than one county.—San Francisco, etc., Co. v. Scott, 142 Cal. 222, 75 Pac. 575.

See, also, Huntington v. Curry, 14 Cal. App. 468, 112 Pac. 583.

14. Same—Same—Carriage of freight, mail and express.—Under the Broughton act a municipality may grant a franchise for a street railway to carry passengers, freight, mail and express.—Albany v. United States, etc., Co., 38 Cal. App. 466, 176 Pac. 705.

15. Same—Same—Same—Citizen or resident only can object to grant.—Only a citizen or resident or property owner of the city of Albany can raise the question of the right of a street railway to carry freight, express and mail in conjunction with passenger service therein.—Albany v. United States, etc., Co., 38 Cal. App. 466, 176 Pac. 705.

15a. Same—Street railway franchise—Fixing rates.—The city of Los Angeles, by an ordinance, had the power to grant a franchise for a period of fifty years, under the authority of the Broughton act, and by granting such franchise it did not surrender its right to fix fares.—Home, etc., Co. v. Los Angeles, 155 Fed. 554, 211 U. S. 265, 53 L. ed. 176, 29 Sup. Ct. Rep. 50.

16. Same—Same—Special terms and regulations may be provided.—The city of Albany in granting a franchise for a street railway under the Broughton act, was empowered to provide special terms and regulations for its construction and operation.

—Albany v. United States, etc., Co., 38 Cal. App. 466, 176 Pac. 705.

17. Same—Same—Scope and effect of grant.—At the instant of the grant under the Broughton act of a franchise for a street railway by the city of Albany to E. A. Gowe, his heirs, successors and assigns, the franchise became an irrevocable contract, and the property of Gowe, of which he could not be divested, for the period of four months, during which time he was to commence work, and by his activity in commencing work within that period, he made a forfeiture at the end of four months an impossibility, and secured to himself, his heirs, successors and assigns, the absolute right to a time limit of three years from the date of the grant to complete work.—Albany v. United States, etc., Co., 38 Cal. App. 466, 176 Pac. 705.

18. Same—Same—Same.—The rights of Gowe vested in his heirs and his estate, upon his death, without completing the work, and the work could have been completed by them, or by his legal representatives or bondsmen, and when they did not do so, and elected not to do so, they are bound by that election, and the franchise was lost to them, but the liability on the bond remains for the benefit of the city of Albany as compensation for the damage it has suffered.—Albany v. United States, etc., Co., 38 Cal. App. 466, 176 Pac. 705.

18a. Same—Street railway franchise—Resale.—A street railway franchise can be sold under the provisions of the act of March 11, 1901, only in the event the highest bidder fails to file the bond required under the act, and an order of the council purporting to make such a sale is invalid, confers no contract rights, and such order does not impair the obligation of any contract within the meaning of the contract clause of the federal constitution.—Pacific Electric Ry. Co. v. Los Angeles, 194 U. S. 112, 48 L. ed. 896, 24 Sup. Ct. Rep. 586.

18b. Same—Same—Same.—The Broughton act contemplates that the competitive bidding should take place when the bids were opened and before the franchise was "struck off and sold," and the power of the Los Angeles city council was limited, in a case where the highest bidder failed to deposit the amount required by his bid, to granting or refusing the franchise to the next highest bidder, and the acceptance of an oral bid thereafter was ultra vires and created no valid contract.—Pacific Electric Co. v. Los Angeles, 118 Fed. 746, 194 U. S. 112, 48 L. ed. 896, 24 Sup. Ct. Rep. 586.

19. Same—Disposal of garbage.—The board of supervisors of the city and county of San Francisco are authorized to provide for the removal and disposition of garbage and other materials which are or may become nuisances, and they may do so by a contract giving a single person the sole and exclusive privilege for a term of years of collecting and cremating such garbage.—Sanitary, etc., Works v. California, etc., Co., 94 F. 693.

19a. Same—Same.—The act (1893-288) shows that the legislature intended that it should embrace privileges as well as franchises and under its authority the board of supervisors of San Francisco had power to enter into a contract giving to a single company the privilege for fifty years of collecting the garbage and refuse of the city, and disposing of it.—California, etc., Co. v. Sanitary, etc., Works, 199 U. S. 306, 50 L. ed. 204, 26 Sup. Ct. Rep. 100.

19b. Same—Gas works permit—Arbitrary restrictions—Void ordinance.—Where a permit was granted under an ordinance fixing the limits within which gas works might be maintained, a second ordinance passed two months after the passage of the first ordinance, and after gas works were in course of erection under the permit, was held to be an arbitrary and discriminatory exercise of the police power, amounting to the taking of property without due process of law, and an impairment of property rights protected by the fourteenth amendment to the federal constitution.—Dobbins v. Los Angeles, 195 U. S. 223, 49 L. ed. 169, 25 Sup. Ct. Rep. 18.

20. Purpose of act.—The only purpose of the act was to prevent the granting of the franchise in any other manner than that prescribed.—McGinnis v. Mayor, etc., 153 Cal. 711, 96 Pac. 367.

20a. Same.—Where an act provides that franchises granted by a municipality "shall be granted upon the conditions in this act provided, and not otherwise," it becomes imperative that the requirements of the act should be strictly complied with, both as to terms and the time and manner of procedure.—Pacific Electric Co. v. Los Angeles, 118 Fed. 746, 194 U. S. 112, 48 L. ed. 896, 24 Sup. Ct. Rep. 586.

21. Same.—The sole purpose of the act is to prescribe the method and conditions upon which the franchises included within its terms might be granted by the legislative body authorized to make the grant.—Sunset, etc., Co. v. Pasadena, 161 Cal. 265, 118 Pac. 796.

22. Effect of act.—The Broughton act merely places restrictions upon the granting of franchises where the power to grant franchises exists otherwise.—Oro Electric Corp. v. Railroad Commission, 169 Cal. 466, 482, 147 Pac. 118.

23. Grant rests in discretion of board.—The act vests the governing or other legislative body of the county, city and county, city, or town, with the sole power to determine, in the exercise of its discretion, whether the franchise should be granted at all, and it is not compelled to take any step in the direction of granting it, and may advertise or not "in its discretion."—McGinnis v. Mayor, etc., 153 Cal. 711, 96 Pac. 367.

24. Action of board legislative.—The action of the board in granting a franchise under the act of 1893 is purely legislative, not judicial, or quasi-judicial, and can not be reviewed on certiorari.—People ex rel. Dean v. Board of Supervisors, 122 Cal. 421, 55 Pac. 131.

25. Act applied—Privilege for disposal of garbage.—The provisions of the act are applicable to the sale of a franchise to cremate and reduce the garbage of the city of San Francisco.—Sanitary, etc., Works v. California, etc., Co., 94 Fed. 693.

26. Same—Ferry.—The act of 1893 does not apply to the grant of a franchise for a ferry over a river between two counties.—Pool v. Simmons, 134 Cal. 621, 66 Pac. 821.

27. Same—Wharf.—The act of 1893 authorizes the granting of a franchise to construct and maintain a wharf.—People ex rel. Dean v. Board of Supervisors, 122 Cal. 421, 55 Pac. 131.

28. Same—Competitive bidding, necessity for.—The act only applies to the sale of franchises where there can be competitive bidding, and not a franchise for a steam railroad for the extension of its track through the streets of a city, en route between its termini, where there can be no bona fide competition.—People ex rel. San Francisco, etc., Co. v. Craycroft, 111 Cal. 544, 44 Pac. 463.

See, also, Russ & Sons v. Crichton, 117 Cal. 695, 49 Pac. 1043.

28a. Same—Sale to highest bidder required.—The act of 1893 requires franchises sold thereunder to be sold to the highest bidder, and such a requirement means sold for cash, and the act can not be construed to allow the consideration to be accepted in any other commodity, at the discretion of the board.—Thompson v. Board of Supervisors, 111 Cal. 553, 44 Pac. 230.

28b. Same—Sale on agreement to pay percentage.—The act of 1893 does not authorize the franchise to be sold on an agreement to pay a percentage of the gross receipts, after completion and when in operation.—Thompson v. Board of Supervisors, 111 Cal. 553, 44 Pac. 230.

29. Same—Payment of two per cent of gross annual income.—A public service gas corporation exercising a franchise under section 19, article XI, of the constitution, prior to the 1911 amendment, and occupying the streets of the city with its mains and laterals, by virtue thereof, became obligated to pay the city two per cent of its gross annual receipts by accepting an additional franchise for heat, light and power from the city under the act of 1901 (265).—City of Hanford v. Hanford Gas & Power Co., 169 Cal. 749, 750, L. R. A. 1915E, 165, 147 Pac. 969.

30. Act and ordinances applied together.—The requirement of the 1903 amendment to the act of 1901 that franchises shall be granted by ordinance, is to be construed with the charter requiring ordinances to be approved by the mayor, or passed over his veto; and such an ordinance vetoed by the mayor, and not passed over his veto, does not become effective.—City of Los Angeles v. Davidson, 150 Cal. 59, 88 Pac. 42.

31. Public highways.—The act can not reasonably be construed as granting any right in public highways.—Sunset, etc., Co. v. Pasadena, 161 Cal. 265, 118 Pac. 719.

32. Same—Telegraph companies.—The act of congress granting telegraph companies rights of way over the public lands and post roads gives no right to such companies to occupy the streets of a city with its poles and wires without the consent of such city.—Sunset, etc., Co. v. City of Pomona, 184 Cal. 344.

33. Same.—Telegraph and telephone wires and poles.—The fact that the telephone wires of a company engaged in both telegraph and telephone business, may be used for the local delivery of telegraph messages does not make them an integral part of the telegraph lines so as to bring them within the purview of the act of congress granting telegraph companies rights of way over the public lands and post roads.—

Sunset, etc., Co. v. City of Pomona, 184 Fed. 261.

34. Same.—Telephone company.—A telephone company is not within the act of congress granting telegraph companies rights of way over public lands and post roads.—Sunset, etc., Co. v. City of Pomona, 184 Fed. 261.

34a. Same.—Same.—A telephone company doing an interstate business is not required under the Broughton act to obtain the consent of a city for the construction and maintenance of its lines in the streets, although used both for local and intrastate business, and for interstate business.—Sunset, etc., Co. v. Eureka, 172 Fed. 765.

RAILROADS TO PARKS BEYOND CITY LIMITS.

ACT 1607—An act to authorize cities and towns to grant franchises for the construction and maintenance of railroads beyond the limits of such cities or towns leading to public parks owned thereby.

History: Became a law under constitutional provision without governor's approval March 1, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 46.

City may grant railroad franchises outside city limits. Fare.

§ 1. It shall be lawful for the council, trustees, or other governing body of any city or town owning public parks situated outside of said city or town, to grant franchises for the building and operation of railroads from any point in, or at the exterior boundary of such city or town, to, in, or through such park, in the same manner and to the same extent as it now has power to grant the same for street railroads within the limits of such city or town; provided, that in addition to all other conditions, it shall be made a condition of such franchise that the fare of passengers on such road or roads shall never exceed five cents for a single trip.

Government of railroads, sale of franchises, etc.

§ 2. All railroads, except as otherwise provided in this act, authorized by this act to be so chartered shall be governed by the provisions of part four, title four, of the Civil Code of California, concerning street railroads and corporations, so far as the same shall be applicable thereto, and of all acts amendatory thereof. Also by the provisions of "An act providing for the sale of railroad and other franchises in municipalities and relative to the granting of franchises," approved March twenty-third, eighteen hundred and ninety-three.

RESETTLEMENT ACT.

ACT 1608—An act providing for the resettlement of franchise rights of and the granting of a resettlement franchise to any person, firm or corporation actually engaged in operating a street, suburban or interurban railroad in cities or cities and counties having at the effective date of this act a freeholders' charter adopted under the provisions of section eight of article XI of the constitution of the state of California, which charter provides for the resettlement of franchise rights of and the granting of resettlement franchises to any person, firm or corporation engaged in operating a public utility in such a municipality, and providing conditions for the granting of such franchises by legislative or other governing bodies of such city or city and county.

History: Approved May 22, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 829.

Power of board of supervisors, etc., to provide for resettlement of franchise rights.

§ 1. The board of supervisors, the board of trustees or common council, or other governing or legislative body of any city or city and county having at the effective date of this act a freeholders' charter adopted under the provisions of section eight of article XI of the constitution of the state of California, and which charter provides for the resettlement of and the granting of a resettlement franchise to any person, firm or corporation engaged in operating a public utility in such city or city and county, is hereby empowered to provide for a general resettlement of the franchise rights and to grant a resettlement franchise to any person, firm or corporation actually engaged in operating a street, suburban or interurban railroad in said city or city and county, upon written application therefor, and upon such terms and conditions as are in this act provided, and may, in such resettlement of any such franchise impose other and additional terms and conditions not in conflict herewith.

Franchise submitted to vote of electors.

§ 2. Every such resettlement franchise which is granted shall be granted after such publication and upon such notice as the governing or legislative body shall by resolution determine, or failing such determination after such publication and upon such notice as is or shall be prescribed by law for the enactment of ordinances by such governing or legislative body. After the final passage of such franchise, the same shall be referred and submitted to the vote of the electors of the city or city and county at the general or special election next ensuing not less than twenty days after the final passage of such ordinance, or if no general or special election is to be held in the city or city and county within a period of not less than twenty days and not more than ninety days after such final passage, the said governing or legislative body may call a special election for the purpose of submitting said ordinance to the electors as aforesaid, said special election to be held not less than thirty days and not more than sixty days after such final passage. No such resettlement franchise shall go into effect until it shall have been so submitted to the electors of the city or city and county and receive the approval of a majority of the electors voting thereon; and provided, further, that such resettlement franchise shall not be effective unless accepted in writing by the grantee of such resettlement franchise.

Rights conferred by franchise.

§ 3. Every such resettlement franchise, permit or privilege shall confer upon the grantee thereof the right to occupy the roads, streets, highways, avenues, boulevards, lanes, alleys, courts, places, and pathways of the city or city and county, particularly set out in the terms and conditions of such franchise, permit or privilege, for the purpose of conducting, operating and maintaining thereon a street, suburban or interurban railroad, subject always to the right of the city or city and county to acquire and possess the property of said grantee; provided, however, that said grantee shall pay to the city or city and county such a percentage of the net revenue annually collected from any and all sources under and by virtue of such franchise, permit or privilege, as shall be fixed in such franchise. What constitutes such annual net revenue shall be provided in such franchise.

New franchise may be part of resettlement franchise.

§ 4. The legislative or governing body may in such resettlement franchise provide that any new franchise granted to the holder of such resettlement franchise shall be considered as part of such resettlement franchise.

Extension of franchise to annexed territory.

§ 5. The legislative or governing body may in such resettlement franchise provide that in case of consolidation or annexation to the city or city and county of any territory not now included in said city or city and county at the date said resettlement franchise is granted, any franchise to operate such street, suburban or interurban railroad, or any part thereof, held or claimed by the holder of such resettlement franchise in or for any portion of such consolidated or annexed territory shall thereupon be surrendered to the city or city and county, and that the rights and obligations of such resettlement franchise shall thereupon automatically extend to such additional territory, and that a valuation for the purpose of public acquisition of the properties used and useful, or, in the discretion of the city or city and county, prospectively useful, in the operation of such street, suburban or interurban railroad in the area so consolidated or annexed, and not included in the capital valuation already fixed in such resettlement franchise shall be added to the capital account of such resettlement franchise grantee at a valuation for the purpose of public acquisition fixed by the railroad commission of the state of California, or its successors in interest, and otherwise determined as provided in this act.

Grantee to surrender franchises owned.

§ 6. Every resettlement franchise shall provide that the grantee thereof shall surrender the franchises or rights, owned or claimed by the grantee, to occupy such portion of the roads, streets, highways, avenues, boulevards, lanes, alleys, courts, places and pathways as it is proposed such street, suburban or interurban railroad shall thereafter occupy under the provisions of such resettlement franchise, and that the grantee shall accept in lieu thereof the rights and privileges granted by such resettlement franchise as a franchise for the continued operation of such street, suburban or interurban railroad within the limits of the city or city and county or such portion thereof as had theretofore been operated under the franchise or franchises surrendered.

Granted for indeterminate period. Purchase by city. Valuation by railroad commission.

§ 7. Every such resettlement franchise, permit or privilege shall be granted for an indeterminate period, subject always to the right of the city or city and county to acquire and possess the property of the grantee. Every resettlement franchise shall be granted upon the express condition that the city or city and county may, at a valuation for the purpose of public acquisition, fixed and determined as hereinafter provided, either assume ownership by purchase, take over and possess the property used and useful, or, in the discretion of the city or city and county prospectively useful, of the franchise grantee, his or its successors or assigns, upon giving said grantee written notice of its intention to purchase and take over said property, which written notice shall be given only when authorized by ordinance of the legislative or governing body of the city or city and county. The valuation for the purpose of public acquisition of such property used and useful, or, in the discretion of the city or city and county, prospectively useful, and owned by the grantee at the time application is made for such resettlement franchise, permit or privilege, shall be fixed by the railroad commission of the state of California, or its successors in interest. The valuation of such property, as fixed by the railroad commission of the state of California, may be set forth in said resettlement franchise, permit or privilege, in which case a readjustment from time to time of this valuation by the addition of the cost of extensions and betterments and by the deduction of the value of property sold or abandoned, and of the amount of depreciation sustained by the property used or useful, or prospectively useful, of the franchise grantee shall be made in such manner as may in said resettlement franchise be provided. All expenses of such valuation by the railroad commission of the state of California, or its successors in interest shall be paid by the city or city and county to the railroad commission of the state of California, or its successors in interest.

Value in excess of amount paid not to be claimed.

§ 8. Said resettlement franchise shall provide that the grantee thereof, its successors or assigns, shall never claim before any court or other public authority in any proceeding of any character any value for said resettlement franchise, permit or privilege in excess of the amount originally paid for the same by the grantee thereof to the public authority granting the same.

Amendment.

§ 9. Any resettlement franchise may be amended from time to time by ordinance passed by the governing or legislative body of the city or city and county and ratified by the electors of the city or city and county in the manner herein prescribed for the passage of such resettlement franchise in the first instance, and not otherwise; provided, that no such amendment shall be effective unless accepted in writing by the grantee of such resettlement franchise.

Exercise of police power.

§ 10. The legislature hereby declares that this act is passed subject to the continued power of the state of California in the exercise of its police power or otherwise through the instrumentality of the railroad commission of the state of California or other agency to provide at any and all times for the supervision and regulation of public utilities notwithstanding any franchise, permit or privilege or any provision thereof granted under this act, or any part thereof.

Right of city to acquire property by right of eminent domain.

Nothing herein contained, nor any provision of any franchise granted hereunder shall be deemed to prevent a city or city and county from acquiring at any time the property of any public utility through the exercise of the right of eminent domain under the then constitution and laws, and the legislature hereby declares it to be against the policy of the state for any city or county to contract away, either for a term or in perpetuity, the right to exercise the right of eminent domain in respect to any public utility.

Constitutionality.

§ 11. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of the act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

CONTENTS OF CHAPTER.

ACT 1629. FREEHOLDERS' CHARTER OF FRESNO.

FREEHOLDERS' CHARTER.

ACT 1629—Charter of city of Fresno.

History: Voted for and ratified at a special election held October 19, 1899; adopted January 28, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 832. Amendments voted for and ratified at a special election held February 13, 1905; adopted February 28, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 1026. Originally incorporated in 1885 under the general law of 1883, as a city of the fifth class.

1. Police court's a municipal affair.—The effect of subdivision 1 of section 8½ of article XI of the constitution was to make the matter of police courts a purely municipal affair as to any freeholder charter city which subsequently made provision in its charter for such court.—Graham v. Mayor, etc., of Fresno, 151 Cal. 465, 91 Pac. 147.

2. Charter provision as to verification of claims.—The provision of the Fresno charter requiring demands against the city to be verified by the claimant, or some one for him, having a knowledge of the facts, is substantially complied with, where several separate claims were presented together by an assignee, and were verified by his attorney, having a knowledge of each claim.—Madary v. City of Fresno, 20 Cal. App. 91, 128 Pac. 340.

3. Section 103, Code of Civil Procedure, superseded by charter provision.—Section 103, Code of Civil Procedure, is inconsistent with and was superseded as to Fresno, by the freeholder charter provisions of that city, establishing a police court, so far as that section requires the city to maintain a city justice's court at its own expense, paying the salary of the justice and providing a place to hold such court.—Graham v. Mayor, etc., of Fresno, 151 Cal. 465, 91 Pac. 147.

STANDARD FRUIT ACT OF 1915.

ACT 1652—An act to establish a standard for the packing in the state of California of the kinds of fresh fruits specified in this act, for sale or for transportation for sale, for interstate and foreign shipment, and to prevent deception in the packing; also to establish a system of inspection for the same.

History: Approved June 8, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1298. This act was partially superseded by the act of 1917. See Act 1654a for comparison.

Standard fruit pack.

§ 1. There is hereby created and established a standard for the packing of fresh fruits, for interstate and foreign shipment, of the kinds specified in this act.

§ 2. Any box, basket, package or container of fresh fruit of the kinds specified in this act, which shall be packed and offered for sail or for transportation for sale, shall be packed in accordance with the specifications herein made.

Free from insects.

§ 3. All deciduous fruits of the kinds specified in this act when packed shall be practically free from insects and fungous diseases.

In bulk.

§ 4. All fresh fruit of the kind specified in this act which shall be sold in bulk or loose in the box without packing, shall be exempt from the provisions of this act.

Cherries.

§ 5. All cherries packed in boxes or packages shall contain fruit of practically uniform quality and maturity and one variety only, excepting that such boxes or packages may contain more than one variety if such fact be plainly stamped on the outside of the box or package with the words "Mixed Varieties" with letters one-half inch high. Each box or package shall be stamped on the outside with the minimum weight of contents, and name of variety or varieties.

Peaches, etc.

§ 6. Peaches, apricots, pears, plums and prunes, shall be of practically uniform size, quality and maturity. When packed in crates, packages or containers made up of two or more sub-containers having sloping sides, for the purpose of ventilation of the fruit therein, the fruit shall not vary in size more than ten per cent and no layer below the top layer shall contain a greater numerical count than the top layer. Each box, crate, package, container or sub-container shall be stamped upon the outside with the minimum weight of its contents. Each box, crate, package or container, except sub-containers, shall bear in plain letters the name of the variety contained therein. When packed in a box, package or container having perpendicular sides and ends, each box shall contain approximately the same numerical count in each layer; provided, that when peaches are packed in boxes, packages or containers, having perpendicular sides the box, package or container shall also be marked upon the outside of the end thereof in plain figures with the approximate number of peaches in the box, which shall be within four peaches of the true count.

Grapes.

§ 7. Grapes packed for table use shall be of uniform quality and maturity and shall be well matured and show a sugar content of not less than seventeen per cent Balling's scale, except Emperor, which shall show not less than sixteen per cent Balling's scale. Each crate or other package and containers therein shall bear in plain figures the minimum weight of contents. Each crate or package except sub-containers shall be stamped in plain letters with the name of the variety.

Berries.

§ 8. Berries shall be packed in uniform packages of dry quart containing an interior capacity of 67.2 cubic inches, or dry pint containing an interior capacity of 33.6 cubic inches and shall be reasonably uniform in size, quality and maturity throughout the package or container.

Cantaloupes.

§ 9. Cantaloupes shall be placed in standard crates 12 x 12 x 23½ inches containing forty-five cantaloupes of uniform size and maturity. Pony crates 11 x 11 x 23½ inches containing forty-five cantaloupes of uniform size and maturity. Jumbo crates 4½ x 13½ x 23½ inches containing twelve cantaloupes of uniform size and maturity or containing fifteen cantaloupes of uniform size and maturity.

Name of orchard.

§ 10. All boxes, crates, packages or containers deciduous fruits of the kinds specified in this act, except sub-containers, when packed and offered for sale, or for transportation for sale, shall bear upon them in plain sight and plain letters on the outside the name of the orchard, if any, and the name and post office address of the person, firm, company, corporation or organization, who shall have first packed or authorized the packing of the same, also the name of the locality where the fruit is grown.

Duty of county horticultural commissioners.

§ 11. In counties having a county horticultural commissioner it shall be his duty (and the duty of his deputies) acting as inspectors, which office is hereby created, to enforce the provisions of this act. Additional inspectors shall be appointed by the county horticultural commissioner, upon petition of like nature and at the same pay as provided in section twelve of this act; provided, that any county having and enforcing a standard higher than the standard in this act shall be exempt from the provisions of this act upon declaration to such effect by the state horticultural commissioner.

Appointment of inspectors.

§ 12. In a city and county or in counties having no county horticultural commissioner, or deputy, it shall be the duty of the county board of supervisors, upon petition filed with them to appoint inspectors. Said petition shall be signed by at least twenty-five bona fide fruit growers residing in that county, or city and county. The inspectors shall receive for their services the sum of three and one-half dollars per day to be paid monthly upon warrants drawn upon the county treasurer. Upon the petition of twenty-five resident freeholders who are fruit growers or shippers of fruit, the county horticultural commissioner, or board of supervisors, where there is no county horticultural commission, shall immediately remove said inspector for neglect of duty, malfeasance in office, or general unfitness for office. In case of such removal the office shall immediately be filled.

Penalty.

§ 13. Any person, firm, company, corporation, or organization, who shall knowingly pack, or cause to be packed, fruit of the kinds specified herein, in boxes, crates, packages, containers, or sub-containers, to be offered for sale or for transportation for sale, in willful violation of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 14. All laws in conflict with this act or any part thereof are hereby repealed.

Constitutionality.

§ 15. If any section, sub-section, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, sub-section, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, sub-sections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

"THE STANDARD APPLE ACT OF 1917."

ACT 1654—An act to establish standards for the packing and marketing of apples, forbidding the sale of certain infected and diseased apples, providing for its enforcement, fixing penalties for its violation, and making an appropriation to carry into effect the provisions thereof, and repealing an act entitled "An act to establish a standard for the packing and marketing of apples, fixing penalties for the violation of its provisions, and providing for its enforcement and making an appropriation to carry into effect the provisions hereof," approved June 10, 1915.

History: Approved May 7, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 285. Amended April 30, 1919. In effect July 20, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 258. Prior act of June 10, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1386, repealed by present act.

Title.

§ 1. This act shall be known, and for any and all purposes may be designated and referred to, as "The standard apple act of 1917."

Standard grades established.

§ 2. The following standard grades and standard box are hereby established for apples, packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, in the state of California:

"California fancy."

(a) The "California fancy" grade shall consist of apples of well-grown, properly matured specimens of one variety, hand picked, with stems retained therein, either in whole or in part, well colored and normally shaped for the variety and locality where produced, uniform in size, well packed, and shall be free from pests, diseases, visible rot, visible dry rot, visible Baldwin spot, insect bites, bruises and other defects, except such bruises and defects as are necessarily caused in the operation of packing, and virtually free from dirt; provided, however, that a variation from the said standard, as to insect pests, diseases, dry rot, Baldwin spot, insect bites, bruises and other defects, shall be allowed, not to exceed ten per cent total of such defects in any one package, nor to exceed three per cent of any one such defect; and provided, further, that a variation in size of the apples shall be allowed, not to exceed three-eighths of one inch, when measured through widest portion of cross section thereof, and that no apples less than two and one-fourth inches when measured in like manner, shall be placed in "California fancy" grade except Lady and Winesap apples, when the smallest size shall be not less than two inches when measured in like manner.

"B grade."

(b) The "B grade" shall consist of apples of well-grown, properly matured specimens of one variety, hand picked, uniform in size, well packed, free from insect pests, diseases, visible rot, visible dry rot, visible Baldwin spot, insect bites, sun scald and frost bite more than skin deep, and bruises resulting in the breaking of the skin, and virtually free from dirt; provided, however, that insect bites which have healed in the process of maturity of the apple, and which do not cause serious deformity, and slightly misshapen apples, shall be permitted in this grade, that a variation in size of the apples shall be allowed, not to exceed three-eighths of one inch when measured through widest portion of cross section thereof, and that a variation from the said standard, as to insect pests, diseases, dry rot, Baldwin spots, bruises and other defects, shall be allowed, not to exceed ten per cent total of such defects in any one package, nor to exceed three per cent of any one such defect.

"C grade."

(c) The "C grade" shall consist of apples of properly matured specimens of one variety, free from insect pests, visible rot, visible dry rot, visible Baldwin spots and diseases; provided, however, that a variation from said standard as to insect pests, dry rot, Baldwin spots and diseases, shall be allowed, not to exceed ten per cent total of such defects in any one package, nor to exceed three per cent of any one such defect.

Standard container.

(d) The standard container shall be a box of the following dimensions, inside measurements, when measured without distention of parts: Depth of end ten and one-half inches; width of end eleven and one-half inches; length of box eighteen inches, and having a cubical content of as nearly as possible two thousand one hundred seventy-three and one-half cubic inches.

Use after July 1, 1920.

(e) On and after July 1, 1920, all packed apples, when shipped, offered for sale or sold, shall be placed in the standard box herein described; provided, however, that other size containers may be used if conspicuously marked in letters not less than one-half inch high "irregular container." [Amendment of April 30, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 258.]

Labeling of container.

§ 3. Every packed container of apples shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, in the state of California, shall bear upon the outside thereof, and on the end, the plain words or figures and in the English language, the following: The grade of the apples therein contained, as herein defined, the designation of grade, when the stamps hereinafter provided for are not used, being stated in letters not smaller than thirty-six point type, that is, not less than one-half inch in height; the number of apples contained in the package, or the minimum net weight of the apples contained therein; the variety of the apples contained in the package, unless the variety be unknown to the packer, in which case the variety shall be stated as unknown; the name and business address of the person, firm, company, organization or corporation, who first packed or caused the same to be packed, and, if repacked, the name and business address of the person, firm, company, organization or corporation who repacked the same or caused same to be repacked; the date when such apples were first packed, or if repacked, the date of repacking; provided, however, that a variation of five apples, more or less than the number stated, shall be allowed.

Definitions.

(a) The term "packed," whenever used in this act, shall mean the regular, compact arrangement of all or a part of the fruit in any container.

(b) The terms "three and one-half tier," "four tier," and "four and one-half tier," whenever used as the designation of the size of apples sold or offered for sale, shall have the following meanings, respectively, to wit: The term "three and one-half tier" shall mean an apple larger in size than three and one-eighth inches, when measured through the widest cross section thereof; the term "four tier" shall mean an apple larger in size than two and five-eighth inches but not larger than three and one-eighth inches, when so measured; and the term "four and one-half tier" shall mean an apple not smaller in size than two and one-fourth inches nor larger than two and five eighths inches, when so measured.

(c) The term "cross-section," whenever used in this act, shall mean the section of an apple taken at a right angle to a straight line drawn from the stem end to the blossom end thereof. [Amendment of April 30, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 259.]

Labeled apples must conform to standard.

§ 4. No person, firm, company, organization or corporation, shall sell or offer for sale, within the state of California, any apples labeled, designated, invoiced or represented to be, of "California Fancy" or "B" or "C" grade, whether contained in closed packages or otherwise, unless the same shall conform to the standard for such grade herein established; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the grading of Gravenstein apples as "California Fancy," though the stems be not retained therein.

Importation of infected apples forbidden.

§ 5. No person, firm, company, organization or corporation, shall import into this state, or sell, barter, offer for sale or have in his possession for sale, any apples infected with any insect pest or the pupae or larvae thereof or any disease; provided, however, that this section shall not be construed to prevent a grower of fruit so infected in the state of California from selling the same, as a part of his crop, in bulk, to a packer, or to prevent a grower or packer from manufacturing the same into an apple by-product, or from selling the same to the operator of a by-product factory for the purpose of such manufacture; and provided, further, that the provisions of this section shall be construed to be limited by the variations allowed by the terms of section two of this act.

False statements, etc.

§ 6. No statement, figure, design or device, appearing upon any container in which apples are sold, bartered, or offered for sale, or in which apples are packed for sale or shipment, or upon the brand or lining of any such container, or upon the wrapper of any apple therein contained, or upon any sign or placard used in connection therewith and having reference to the apples contained, shall be false or misleading, in any particular. The word "Fancy" shall not be used with reference to any apples the grade of which does not conform to the standard for "California Fancy" as in this act defined.

Powers of state commissioner of horticulture.

§ 7. The state commissioner of horticulture of California shall be charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, and for that purpose shall have power:

(a) To enter and to inspect every place within the state of California where apples are produced, packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, and to inspect such places and all apples and apple containers and equipment found in any such place.

(b) To design, and cause to be printed or lithographed, suitable uniform stamps to be used on packages containing apples of the various grades, standards for which are established by the terms of this act, to sell the same as hereinafter provided, and to prescribe the method of canceling the same.

(c) In accordance with the provisions of the civil service law of this state, to appoint, superintend, control and discharge such chief inspectors and subordinate inspectors as in his discretion may be deemed to be necessary, for the special purpose of enforcing the terms of this act, to prescribe their duties, and, in conjunction with the board of control, to fix their compensation, provided that no chief inspector shall be paid more than seven dollars per day and no subordinate inspector more than five dollars per day.

(d) Personally, or through any deputy or any such inspector, to seize and retain possession of, any apples or apple boxes packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, in violation of any of the provisions of this act.

(e) In the name of the people of the state of California to cause to be instituted and to prosecute, in the superior court of any county or city and county of the state of California, in which apples packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, in violation of any of the provisions of this act, may be found, an action or actions for the condemnation of apples as provided in section thirteen of this act.

Sale of stamps.

§ 8. The stamps designed and provided by the state commissioner of horticulture of California as provided by section seven of this act, by him shall be placed on sale and sold to any person who may apply therefor, at the price of one-half cent each. All moneys received by him from the sale of such stamps shall be paid over to the treasurer of the state of California, who shall deposit the same to the credit of a fund to be used exclusively for the payment of the expenses of enforcing the provisions of this act, and to be paid out only upon claims approved by the state commissioner of horticulture of California and by the board of control.

Qualifications of inspectors. Powers.

§ 9. The inspectors appointed by the state commissioner of horticulture of California, as in section seven hereof provided, shall be citizens of the United States, and of the state of California, not less than twenty-one years of age, shall be skilled in the inspection of apples, and have a thorough knowledge of insect pests and diseases commonly preying upon such fruit; they shall have power to enter and to inspect every place within the state of California where apples are produced, packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, and to inspect all such places and apples and apple containers, found in any such place; and shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by the state commissioner of horticulture of California, or by law.

Assignment of inspectors.

The said commissioner shall assign such inspectors to such territory, within the state, as he may see fit; provided, that when the stamps purchased for any year by packers in any town, city or district, shall yield a sum of money sufficient to pay the expense thereof, such commissioner shall assign one inspector or more for special duty in such town, city or district, during the packing season of that year, or for a longer period, if deemed to be necessary; and provided, further, that in the discretion of said horticultural commissioner, he may refuse to permit inspection of fruit at the place where same is being packed if packed by any person, firm, company, organization or corporation who shall not make use of the stamps hereinabove provided for upon the packages of "California Fancy," "B" and "C" grade apples packed by him or it.

Powers and duties of inspectors.

§ 9a. Every such inspector shall have power to enter and to inspect any place within this state where any apples are produced, packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, and to inspect such places and all such apples and the containers thereof and the equipment found in any such place. It shall be the duty of the inspectors to enforce the provisions of this act and to cause the prosecution of any person, company, firm, corporation or organization, whom he knows or has reason to believe to be guilty of the violation of any of its provisions. Every inspector, in the performance of his duties, shall have the same powers possessed by peace officers under the laws of the state of California. [New section added April 30, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 260.]

Repacking.

§ 10. No container to or on which is attached any such stamp or on which shall appear the designation of grade as "California Fancy," "B" grade or "C" grade, shall be used as the container of any apples, other than those originally packed therein, until such stamp or grade designation has been removed; provided, that when apples are repacked, without the addition of new stock, other than stock of the same grade and from the same lot of which the package or packages repacked is or are a part, the same containers may be used without removing the stamps or grade designations.

Refusal to permit inspectors to enter.

§ 11. No person, firm, company, organization or corporation, shall refuse to permit the state commissioner of horticulture of California, or any of his duly appointed deputies, or any inspector duly appointed by said commissioner under the provisions of this act, to enter or to inspect any place within the state of California where apples are produced, packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, or to inspect such places, or any apples or apple containers or any equipment found there.

Penalty.

§ 12. Any person, firm, company, organization or corporation, who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be punishable by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Apples packed, shipped, etc., in violation of law, nuisance.

§ 13. Any apples packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, in violation of any of the provisions of this act, and the containers in which they may be, shall be deemed to be a public nuisance, may be seized by said commissioner of horticulture, or his deputy, or by any inspector appointed under the provisions of this act, or by any county horticultural commissioner or his deputy, and by order of the superior court of the county or city and county within which the same may be found, shall be condemned and destroyed or released upon such conditions as the court in its discretion may impose to insure that they will not be packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold in violation of any of the provisions of this act.

Refusal to receive or ship.

§ 13a. It shall be lawful for any person, firm, corporation or organization and for any common carrier to refuse to accept for shipment or transportation and to refuse to ship or transport any apples which upon inspection are found to be or to be packed in violation of any of the provisions of this act, and any such person, firm, corporation, organization or common carrier may reserve the right in any receipt, bill of lading or other writing given to the consignor thereof, to reject for shipment and to return to such consignor or to hold at the expense and risk of the latter all apples which upon inspection are found to be or to be packed in violation of any of the provisions of this act. [New section added April 30, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 260.]

Guaranty.

§ 14. No person, firm, company, organization or corporation, shall be convicted of a violation of any provision of this act, if he shall establish a guaranty, signed by the person, firm, company, organization, or corporation, residing or lawfully engaged in business in the state of California, by or for whom the apples in question were originally packed, or repacked, to the effect that the apples, container, brand and label in question comply in all respects with the provisions of this act, and in addition, shall establish that the same are in substantially the same condition, in every respect, as they were when they were delivered out of the possession of such packer, and that the accused was not aware that such apples, container, brand or label, were or was in any respect in violation of any provision of this act. The signature to such guaranty may be printed, when done by the authority of the signer. To afford protection, such guaranty, in form and substance, must be substantially as follows:

Form of guaranty.

"The undersigned guarantees that (this box or other package of apples or the boxes or other packages of apples mentioned in this, or the attached invoice, or all boxes or other packages of apples packed or repacked by the undersigned), comply, in all respects with the standard apple act of 1917. (Signature of the packer, with statement as to whether packer is firm, company, organization or corporation and business address.)"

Where the guaranty is used on each separate box, it may consist of the legend, "guaranteed by the packer, under the standard apples act of 1917," printed, stamped or written on the labeled or branded end of the package.

Duty of district attorney.

§ 15. It shall be the duty of the district attorney of the county, or city and county, in which any violation of this act may occur, to prosecute the person, firm, company, organization or corporation accused of such violation, and also, at the request of the state commissioner of horticulture, or any one of his deputies, to institute and prosecute such actions for condemnation as may be authorized under the provisions of this act.

Effect on foods and liquors act.

§ 16. No act which is made unlawful by any provision of an act of the legislature of the state of California, entitled, "An act for preventing the manufacture, sale or transportation of adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded foods and liquors and regulating the traffic therein, providing penalties, establishing a state laboratory for foods, liquors and drugs and making an appropriation therefor," approved March 11, 1907, or any amendment thereto, shall be deemed lawful by reason of any provision of this act; nor shall this act be construed in any respect to limit the powers of the state board of health.

Appropriation.

§ 17. The sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000) is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated for the payment of the cost of printing, lithographing, stationery, stamps, clerical assistance, traveling expenses and salaries of inspectors and office rentals, incurred by the state commissioner of horticulture in the enforcement of this act during the fiscal years commencing July 1, 1917, and July 1, 1918, respectively. The state controller is hereby authorized to draw his warrants for the sum herein appropriated in favor of said commissioner and the state treasurer is hereby directed to pay the same.

Constitutionality.

§ 18. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Stats. 1915, p. 1386, repealed.

§ 19. An act entitled "An act to establish a standard for the packing and marketing of apples, fixing penalties for the violation of its provisions, and providing for its enforcement and making an appropriation to carry into effect the provisions hereof," approved June 10, 1915, is hereby repealed.

The amending act of 1919 contained the following:

Constitutionality.

§ 5. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

STANDARD FRESH FRUIT PACKING ACT OF 1917.

ACT 1654a—An act to promote the development of the California fresh fruit industry in state and interstate markets, and to protect the state's reputation in these markets by establishing a standard for the packing of certain fresh fruits specified therein, and to prevent deception in the packing, prescribing penalties for violation of the provisions hereof, and repealing all acts inconsistent herewith.

History: Approved May 24, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 909.

Standard for packing fresh fruits.

§ 1. To promote the development of the California fresh fruit industry and to prevent deception in packing for state or interstate shipment, there is hereby created and established a "standard" for the packing of fresh fruits of the kinds specified in this act.

Application.

§ 2. Unless specifically excepted in this act, all of its provisions shall be applicable to all fresh fruits specified herein when packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold in any container or subcontainer.

Free from diseases.

§ 3. All fresh fruits of the kinds specified in this act when packed shall be practically free from insects and fungous diseases.

Fruits exempt.

§ 4. All fresh fruits of the kind specified in this act, except citrus fruits, which shall be sold in bulk or loose in the box or in any other manner, excepting in standardized packs as provided in this act (excepting grapes, which must conform to the sugar standards provided in section eight a hereof), shall be exempt from the provisions of this act.

Words defined.

§ 5. When used in this act the words herein mentioned shall be defined as follows: "Pack, packing or packed," shall mean the regular compact arrangement of all or part of the fruit in any container or subcontainer used for the purpose of sale or transportation for sale. The words "in bulk or loose in the box without packing" shall mean the indiscriminate placing without any thought of regular arrangement of any of the kinds of fresh fruit mentioned in this act into a box, wagon or other receptacle used for the purpose of sale or transportation for sale.

The words "fresh fruit" shall mean the fresh product of any tree, vine or plant mentioned in this act.

The word "maturity" shall mean a degree of ripeness fit for shipment.

The word "county" includes a consolidated "city and county."

The word "container" shall mean any box, crate or other package used to hold or contain packed fresh fruit.

The word "subcontainer" shall mean any basket or other receptacle used within a container of packed fresh fruit.

Cherries.

§ 6. All cherries packed in containers or subcontainers shall contain cherries well colored, of practically uniform size, quality, and maturity and one variety only, excepting that such containers may contain more than one variety if such fact be plainly stamped on the outside thereof with the words "mixed varieties" with letters not less than one-half inch high. Each container or subcontainer shall be stamped on the outside with the minimum weight of contents and the container shall have the name of variety or varieties stamped thereon.

Peaches, apricots, pears, etc.

§ 7. Peaches, apricots, pears, quinces, tomatoes, plums and prunes when packed shall be of practically uniform size, quality and maturity. When packed in containers made up of two or more subcontainers having sloping sides, for the purpose of ventilation of the fresh fruit therein, the contents shall not vary in size more than ten per cent in each layer, and not more than twenty per cent in the whole subcontainer, and no layer below the top layer shall contain a greater numerical count than the top layer. Each container or subcontainer shall be stamped upon the outside with the minimum weight of its contents. Each container shall bear in plain letters the name of the variety contained therein. When packed in a container having perpendicular sides and ends, each shall contain approximately the same numerical count in each layer; provided, that when peaches are packed in containers having perpendicular sides the container shall also be marked upon the outside of the end thereof in plain figures with the approximate number of peaches in the box, which shall be within four peaches of the true count.

When the fresh fruits mentioned in this section are packed in containers known to the trade as "lug" boxes, the provisions of this section appertaining to variety, numerical count and marking shall not apply.

Table grapes.

§ 8a. Table grapes, when packed, shall be of practically uniform quality and shall be well matured and show a sugar content of not less than seventeen per cent Balling scale, except Emperor, Gros Coleman and Cornichon, which shall show not less than sixteen per cent Balling scale. Each crate or package except subcontainers shall be stamped in plain letters with the name of the variety of grapes therein. Each container, or subcontainer, shall be stamped in plain figures and letters upon one end with a minimum net weight, and no container or subcontainer shall contain less than the minimum stamped thereon. Irregular containers in addition thereto, shall be plainly marked "irregular" and have the actual gross weight stamped thereon.

Standard containers for table grapes.

§ 8b. The standard containers for table grapes when packed shall be:

1. Standard crate, which after packing when measured at the end, shall not exceed five inches between the top and bottom and when measured in the center shall not exceed five and three-fourths inches between the top and bottom and containing a minimum net weight of not less than twenty-four pounds.
2. Double crates containing a minimum net weight of not less than forty-eight pounds.
3. One-half crates containing a minimum net weight of not less than twelve pounds.
4. Thirty pound lugs containing a minimum net weight of not less than twenty pounds.
5. Forty pound lugs containing a minimum net weight of not less than thirty-two pounds.
6. Fifty pound lugs containing a minimum net weight of not less than forty-two pounds.

7. Williams lugs containing a minimum net weight of not less than twenty-four pounds.

8. Kegs or drums packed with sawdust or other preserving material, containing a minimum net weight of not less than twenty-nine pounds and a maximum net weight of not more than thirty-five pounds.

"Irregular" containers.

9. All other containers of table grapes shall be "irregular" containers.

Standard container for berries.

§ 9. The standard container for berries shall be: Dry quart containing an interior capacity of sixty-seven and two-tenths cubic inches, or dry pint containing an interior capacity of thirty-three and six-tenths cubic inches, or dry one-half pint containing an interior capacity of sixteen and eight-tenths cubic inches, or baskets four and one-half by four and one-half by two and one-fourth in depth, or baskets four and one-half by four and one-half by two in depth, or baskets four and one-half by four and one-half by one and three-eighths in depth; all measurements are in inches or fractions thereof. All other sizes shall be marked "irregular." When packed the berries in any container or subcontainer shall be practically uniform throughout the container, or subcontainer, in quality, color and maturity. Irregular container shall be marked "irregular."

Cantaloupes.

§ 10. Cantaloupes packed in containers as follows shall be known as standard packed:

Standard crates twelve by twelve by twenty-two and one-half inches containing forty-five or thirty-six cantaloupes;

Pony crates eleven by twenty-two and one-half inches containing forty-five or fifty-four cantaloupes;

Jumbo crates thirteen by thirteen by twenty-two and one-half inches containing thirty-six or forty-five cantaloupes;

Standard flats four by twelve by twenty-two and one-half inches containing twelve or fifteen cantaloupes;

Jumbo flats four and one-half by thirteen and one-half by twenty-two and one-half inches containing twelve or fifteen cantaloupes.

All measurements herein to be inside measurements without distention.

All other sizes of containers when packed shall be marked "irregular." All standard packs shall be marked "standard." All containers when packed shall have the number of cantaloupes contained therein stamped in plain figures on the label end of the crates with figures not less than one-half inch high. All cantaloupes when packed shall be fully netted of uniform size, firm and mature, free from bruises and practically free from aphid honey dew and other defects.

Sale of immature or frozen citrus fruits.

§ 11a. It shall be unlawful for any one to sell, offer for sale, ship or deliver for shipment any citrus fruits, which are immature or frozen to the extent of injuring the reputation of the citrus industry of the State of California if shipped, and for any one to receive any such citrus fruits under a contract of sale, or for the purpose of sale, or for shipment, or for delivery for shipment; provided, however, that nothing in this section contained shall be construed to prevent the sale or shipment for sale of frozen or otherwise defective fruit to a by-product factory, or the manufacture thereof into citrus by-products; nor shall this section apply to the sale, or contract or sale, of citrus fruits on the trees, nor shall it apply to common carriers or their agents who are not interested in such fruits and are merely receiving the same for transportation.

Matured oranges.

§ 11b. An orange shall be deemed properly matured for sale, or to be offered for sale, for shipment, or to be offered for shipment, under the provisions of this act, either when the juice contains soluble solids equal to, or in excess of, eight parts to every part of acid contained in the juice, the acidity of the juice to be calculated as citric acid without water of crystallization, or when the orange is substantially colored on the tree. The foregoing provisions shall not apply to shipments of oranges to foreign countries other than the Dominion of Canada, during any season, provided such shipments are made after the first day of November.

Name marked on containers.

§ 12. All containers of fruit of a kind specified in this act, except subcontainers, when packed and offered for sale, shall bear upon them in plain sight and in plain letters on the outside thereof, the name of the orchard where the same was produced, with the post-office address thereof, or the name and post-office address of the person, firm, company or corporation, or organization who shall have first packed or authorized the packing of the same, or the name under which such packer shall be engaged in business, together with the post-office address of such packer.

Office of "inspector of fresh fruits" created. "Inspectors in chief of fresh fruits."

§ 13. The office of "inspector of fresh fruits," is hereby created for each and every county in the state. The horticultural commissioner of each county, and all deputy horticultural commissioners shall be ex officio inspectors of fresh fruits thereof, and the district inspectors under each county horticultural commissioner are ex officio "deputy inspectors of fresh fruits" in their respective districts. The board of supervisors shall appoint as many deputy "inspectors of fresh fruits" as are necessary to carry out the provisions of this act. Their term of office shall be for such time as is deemed necessary by said board of supervisors. For the purpose of creating and securing unity in inspection, the offices of "inspectors in chief of fresh fruits" are hereby created, and the state commissioner of horticulture and his chief deputy, for the purposes of this act, are hereby made ex officio such inspectors in chief and shall, where there is a dispute or difference between the inspectors of fresh fruits of two or more counties, or where the interpretation of inspection standards between two or more counties differs materially, have the power and authority to settle the dispute between the inspectors of fresh fruit of such counties and to fix reasonable standards between such counties where they materially differ.

Appointment when no commissioner of horticulture.

§ 14. If in any county or city and county of this state, there is no commissioner of horticulture, it shall be the duty of the board of supervisors thereof to appoint an inspector of fresh fruits and such deputy inspectors of fresh fruits as the said board of supervisors shall deem necessary. Such inspectors and deputy inspectors of fresh fruits shall be appointed to serve for such time during each year as fresh fruits are being packed or shipped in said county or city and county. The salary of an inspector of fresh fruits shall be five dollars per day and necessary traveling expenses. The salary of a deputy inspector of fresh fruits shall be three dollars and fifty cents per day and necessary traveling expenses.

Deputy state commissioner of horticulture assigned, when.

§ 15. In case the board of supervisors of any county, or city and county, shall fail or neglect, for thirty days after receipt of a written request from the state commissioner of horticulture, to appoint an inspector of fresh fruits, or necessary deputy inspectors of fresh fruits for such county, or city and county, then the said state commissioner of horticulture shall forthwith assign to said county, or city and county, one or more deputy state commissioners of horticulture, as he shall deem necessary, and such deputy or deputies shall perform all of the duties, within the said county or city and county to which assigned, as is provided in this act to be performed by an inspector of fresh fruits. The actual cost of services rendered by an inspector or deputy inspector, as the case may be, of fresh fruits, assigned to any county in pursuance hereof, together with his necessary traveling expenses shall be a county charge and shall be paid in the same manner in which other claims against the county are paid.

Removal. Vacancy.

§ 16. The board of supervisors shall remove any inspector of fresh fruits and the inspector of fresh fruits shall remove any deputy upon proper showing of neglect of duty, malfeasance in office, or general unfitness for office. Whenever a vacancy in the office of inspector of fresh fruits or deputy inspector of fresh fruits occurs, the vacancy shall immediately be filled by the appointing power.

Power of inspector.

§ 17a. Every inspector of fresh fruits and every deputy inspector of fresh fruits shall have power to enter and to inspect every place within the county for which he has been appointed where any fruit mentioned in this act is produced, packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, and to inspect such places and all such fruits and the containers thereof and the equipment found in any such places.

Duty of inspector.

§ 17b. It shall be the duty of the inspectors or deputy inspectors of fresh fruits in their respective districts to enforce the provisions of this act and to cause the prosecution of any person, firm, corporation or organization, whom they know or have reason to believe is guilty of the violation of its provisions.

Inspectors have powers of peace officers.

§ 17c. An inspector or deputy inspector of fresh fruits in the performance of their duties shall have the same powers as are possessed by peace officers of the city, county or state and shall have the right while exercising such police powers to seize and hold as evidence such amount of any pack, load, consignment or shipment of fresh fruit packed in violation of this act, as may in his judgment be necessary to secure the conviction of the party he knows or believes has violated or is violating this act.

Duty of district attorney.

§ 17d. It shall be the duty of the district attorney of each and every county in the state to prosecute all persons charged with any violation of this act.

Lawful to refuse shipments in violation of act.

§ 18. It shall be lawful for any fresh fruit forwarding person, firm, corporation or organization and for any common carrier to decline to accept for shipment or transportation and to decline to ship or transport any fresh fruits which upon inspection are found to be packed in violation of the provisions of this act, and any such fruit forwarder or common carrier may reserve the right in any receipt, bill of lading or other written writing given to the consignor, thereof, to reject for shipment and to return to such consignor or hold at the expense and risk of the latter, all fresh fruits which upon inspection are found to be packed in violation of the provisions of this act.

Penalty for violation.

§ 19. No person, firm, corporation, company or organization shall pack or cause to be packed for sale or shipment, or shall ship or sell or offer for sale fruit which, or the container or subcontainer in which, the same shall be contained, shall in any respect fail to comply with the requirements of this act.

Any person, firm, corporation, company or organization who shall violate the provisions of this act shall be deemed to be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Conflicting laws.

§ 20. All laws in conflict with this act or any part thereof are hereby repealed only in so far as they may conflict with any of the provisions of this act.

Constitutionality.

§ 21. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

SULPHUR STANDARD FOR SULPHURING FRUITS AND FOODS.

ACT 1654b—An act to prevent the sale and use of sulphur containing material quantities of arsenic for the purpose of sulphuring fruits or other foods; to provide a standard for sulphur for sulphuring fruits or other foods, and to provide penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof.

History: Approved May 2, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 282.

Amount of arsenic permitted in sulphur.

§ 1. No person, firm, company or corporation shall sell, offer for sale, or keep for sale sulphur containing more than ten parts per million of arsenic oxide (As_2O_3) for the purpose of sulphuring fruits or other foods.

Definition.

§ 2. For the purposes of this act the term "sulphur for sulphuring fruits or other foods" shall be construed to mean sulphur which contains not more than ten parts per million of arsenic oxide (As_2O_3).

Sale.

§ 3. No person, dealer, jobber, firm, company or corporation shall sell, keep for sale, or offer for sale sulphur for sulphuring fruits or other foods which contains more than ten parts per million of arsenic oxide (As_2O_3). Every package, parcel, bag or container of sulphur for sulphuring fruits or other foods shall be labeled or tagged, and said label or tag shall contain the words in bold faced type, not less than one-fourth inch in height, "Sulphur for sulphuring fruits or other foods." Said label or tag shall also contain the name and address of the person, firm, company or corporation which manufactures, prepares or packs the sulphur.

Use.

§ 4. No person, firm, company or corporation shall use sulphur containing more than ten parts per million of arsenic oxide (As_2O_3) for the purpose of sulphuring fruits or other foods.

Penalty.

§ 5. Any person, firm, company or corporation which violates any provision of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than five dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars, or shall be imprisoned in the county jail for a term not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Enforcement by state board of health.

§ 6. The state board of health is hereby empowered to enforce the provisions of this act and to prescribe the form of tags, or labels to be used, and to prescribe and enforce such rules and regulations as it may deem necessary to carry into effect the full intent and meaning of this act.

STANDARD FRUIT AND VEGETABLE ACT OF 1919.

ACT 1654c—An act to promote the development of the California fruit and vegetable industry in state and interstate markets, and to protect the state's reputation in these markets by establishing standards and standard packages for certain fruits and vegetables specified therein, and to prevent deception in fruit packages, prescribing penalties for violation of the provisions hereof and making an appropriation for the enforcement of the provisions hereof, and repealing all acts inconsistent herewith.

History: Approved May 27, 1919. In effect July 27, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1221. This act superseded both the acts of 1915 and 1917 in certain features. See Acts 1652 and 1654a.

Standard packages for fruits, etc., established.

§ 1. To promote the development of the California fresh fruit, nut and vegetable industry and to prevent deception in fruit or vegetable packages for state or interstate shipment, there are hereby created and established certain standards and standard packages for apricots, almonds, walnuts, berries, cantaloupes, cherries, grapes, oranges, peaches, pears, plums, prunes, quinces, tomatoes, onions, sweet potatoes and potatoes.

§ 2. All fresh fruits, nuts and vegetables of the kind specified in section one of this act, except oranges which shall be governed by the provisions of section nine, and except such fruits and vegetables for which special grades shall be established under section three of this act, when being packed, or after packing, or when shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, in any container or subcontainer, shall be mature but not overripe, well colored for the variety and locality, virtually uniform in quality, virtually free from insect and fungous pests, rots, bruises, frost injury, sunburn and other serious defects, and, except in the case of unpacked fruit or vegetables, shall be virtually uniform in size. When packed in layers there shall be approximately the same numerical count in each layer throughout a container or subcontainer having straight sides. In the case of sloping side containers no layer below the top layer shall contain a greater numerical count than the top layer.

Enforcement by commissioner of horticulture.

§ 3. The state commissioner of horticulture is hereby empowered, through his deputies and the inspectors of fresh fruit and vegetables of each county in the state, to enforce all the provisions of this act, and to establish and enforce such grades and grading rules as may be deemed necessary after a thorough investigation has been made of the needs of the particular fruit or vegetable for which grades are contemplated. Such grades and grading rules must, before they become effective, be approved in one or more public meetings attended or represented by at least fifty per cent of the growers and shippers of that locality interested in the industry affected. Such meetings shall be widely advertised in a newspaper published in that locality for at least two weeks prior to the meetings; said meetings shall be presided over by the state commissioner of horticulture, or any of his deputies, and shall, in so far as possible and practicable, be conducted at places that can be conveniently reached by representatives of the affected industry. In like manner the state commissioner of horticulture may provide for standard packages other than those provided for in section six of this act. Grades and grading rules established in accordance with the provisions of this section shall not be modified, nor shall standard packages which have been established be changed during the current shipping season of the fruits or vegetables for which such grades or standard packages were established.

Exemptions.

§ 4. All fresh fruits or vegetables of the kind specified in this act for use in the manufacture of by-products, shall be exempt from the provisions of this act, and any inspector or deputy inspector of fresh fruits and vegetables may require from the owner or shipper of such fruits or vegetables such proof as he may deem necessary that they will be used in the manufacture of by-products, and shall hold same until satisfactory proof is given.

Definitions.

§ 5. When used in this act the words herein mentioned shall be defined as follows: "Packages" shall mean any box, basket, barrel, drum, or crate used as a container or subcontainer for fruits or vegetables. "Pack, packing or packed," shall mean the regular compact arrangement of all or part of the fruit or vegetables in any container or subcontainer used for the purpose of sale or transportation of sale. "Deceptive pack" shall mean any package of fruits or vegetables, which has in the outer layer or the exposed surface fruit or vegetables which are so superior in quality or condition to those in the interior of the package, or the unexposed portion, as to materially misrepresent the entire contents. "Fresh fruit (except oranges) or fresh vegetables" shall mean the fresh product of any tree, vine or plant mentioned in this act. "Mature" shall mean a degree of ripeness fit for shipment. "Virtually uniform in size" shall mean in the case of packed fruits a difference in size of the various fruits as follows: pears, peaches and quinces, a variation of not more than one-quarter of an inch when measured through widest portion of cross-section; apricots, plums, prunes, cherries and berries, a variation of not more than one-eighth of an inch when measured through widest portion of cross-section. "Virtually free" from insect and fungous pests, rots, bruises, frost injury, sunburn and other serious defects, shall mean that the total defects shall not exceed ten per cent in any one package of fruits or vegetables, and excepting grapes that there shall not be more than three per cent of any one defect. "By-product" shall mean any product manufactured from fresh fruits, fresh vegetables, or their juices. "County" shall include in its meaning a consolidated city and county. "Container" shall mean any box, crate or other package utilized in handling fresh fruit or vegetables. "Subcontainer" shall mean any basket or other receptacle used within a container. "Substantially colored" shall mean at least seventy per cent color.

Labels for fruit containers.

§ 7. All containers of fruit of a kind specified in this act, except subcontainers, when packed and offered for sale, shall bear upon them in plain sight and in plain letters on the outside thereof the following: Name of the orchard where the same was produced, with the post-office address thereof, or the name and post-office address of the person, firm, company or corporation, or organization who shall have first packed or authorized the packing of the same, or the name under which such packer shall be engaged in business, together with the post-office address of such packer; name of variety if known, and when not known the words "unknown variety"; minimum net weight or approximate number of fruits in the container or subcontainer, which number shall be within four of the true count, and no container or subcontainer shall have less than the minimum stamped thereon. When two or more varieties are packed or placed in a container, they shall be labeled "mixed varieties"; provided, that pears and peaches, when packed, shall have the correct number within four placed on the container.

Subcontainers exempt.

Standard or other containers when used as subcontainers are exempt from the provisions regarding marking, when the container in which they are placed is marked in compliance with the terms of this section. No containers or subcontainers of fresh fruits or vegetables shall bear grade or other designations that are in any way false or misleading.

Standard containers. "Irregular container."

§ 8. After January 1, 1920, all fresh fruits of the kinds specified in this act, except such as shall be used in the manufacture of by-products, when prepared or offered for sale or sold, shall be packed or placed in standard containers, which are hereby established, and shall conform to all provisions of this act; provided, that other sized containers may be used if conspicuously marked in letters not less than one-quarter inch high, "irregular container."

Standard for table grapes. Standard for oranges.

§ 9. In addition to the standards prescribed in section two of this act, table grapes shall show a sugar content of not less than seventeen per cent Balling scale, except Emperor, Gros Coleman and Cornichon, which shall show not less than sixteen per cent

Balling scale. Oranges shall be deemed properly matured for shipment or sale under the provisions of this act when the juice contains soluble solids equal to or in excess of eight parts to every part of acid contained in the juice, the acidity of the juice to be calculated as citric acid without water of crystallization; provided, that the oranges have attained at least twenty-five per cent yellow or orange color before picking, and oranges which are substantially or at least seventy per cent colored at the time of picking shall be deemed properly matured for shipment or sale, irrespective of analysis of the juice. When packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, oranges shall be virtually free from insect and fungous diseases and other serious defects. Oranges shall be considered unfit for shipment when frosted to the extent of endangering the reputation of the citrus industry, if shipped. The foregoing provisions shall not apply to shipments of oranges to foreign countries other than the dominion of Canada, during any season, provided such shipments are made after the first day of November.

Inspectors of fresh fruit and vegetables.

§ 10. The office of "inspector of fresh fruit and vegetables" is hereby created for each and every county in the state. The horticultural commissioner of each county, and all deputy horticultural commissioners shall be ex officio inspectors of fresh fruits and vegetables thereof, and the inspectors under each county horticultural commissioner are ex officio "deputy inspectors of fresh fruits and vegetables" in their respective counties. The county horticultural commissioner shall appoint as many deputy "inspectors of fresh fruits" as are necessary to carry out the provisions of this act. Their term of office shall be for such time as is deemed necessary by said board of supervisors. The offices of "inspectors in chief of fresh fruits and vegetables" are hereby created, and the state commissioner of horticulture and his chief deputy, for the purposes of this act, are hereby made ex officio such inspectors in chief. It shall be the duty of the "ex officio inspectors in chief of fresh fruits and vegetables" to secure strict and uniform enforcement of the provisions of this act throughout the state, and for that purpose, immediately after this act becomes a law, the state commissioner of horticulture shall appoint two state inspectors of fresh fruits and vegetables, each of whom shall receive a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum and necessary traveling expenses when engaged in the duties of enforcing this act.

Appointed by supervisors. Compensation.

§ 11. If in any county, or city and county, of this state there is no commissioner of horticulture, it shall be the duty of the board of supervisors thereof to appoint an inspector of fresh fruits and vegetables and such deputy inspectors of fresh fruits and vegetables as shall be deemed necessary. Such inspectors and deputy inspectors of fresh fruits and vegetables shall be appointed to serve for such time during each year as fresh fruits and vegetables are being packed or shipped in said county, or city and county. Inspectors of fresh fruits and vegetables thus appointed shall receive six dollars per day and necessary traveling expenses. The salary of a deputy inspector of fresh fruits and vegetables shall be five dollars per day and necessary traveling expenses. In case the board of supervisors of any county, or city and county, shall fail or neglect, for thirty days after receipt of a written request from the state commissioner of horticulture, to appoint an inspector of fresh fruits and vegetables, or necessary deputy inspectors of fresh fruits and vegetables for such county, or city and county, then the said state commissioner of horticulture shall forthwith assign to said county, or city and county, one or more deputy state commissioners of horticulture, as he shall deem necessary, and such deputy or deputies shall perform all of the duties within the said county, or city and county, to which assigned, as are provided in this act to be performed by an inspector of fresh fruits and vegetables. The actual cost of services rendered by an inspector or deputy inspector, as the case may be, of fresh fruits and vegetables, assigned to any county in pursuance hereof, together with his necessary traveling expenses, shall be a county charge and shall be paid in the same manner in which other claims against the county are paid.

Powers and duties of inspector.

§ 12. Every inspector of fresh fruits and vegetables and every deputy inspector of fresh fruits and vegetables shall have power to enter and to inspect every place within the county for which he has been appointed where any fruit or vegetables mentioned in this act are produced, stored, packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, and to inspect such places and all such fruits and vegetables and the containers thereof and the equipment found in any such places. It shall be the duty of the inspectors or deputy inspectors of fresh fruit or vegetables in their respective districts to enforce the provisions of this act and to cause the prosecution of any person, firm, corporation or organization, whom they know or have reason to believe to be guilty of the violation of any of its provisions. Any inspector or deputy inspector of fresh fruits and vegetables in the performance of his duties shall have the same powers possessed by peace officers of the city, county, or state, and shall have the right while exercising such police powers to seize and hold as evidence part or all of any pack, load, consignment or shipment of fresh fruits or vegetables packed, in violation of this act, as may in his judgment be necessary to secure the conviction of the party he knows or believes has violated or is violating any of the provisions of this act. He may start proceedings in any court of the county, or city and county, within his jurisdiction to secure the conviction of the party or parties who have violated any of the provisions of the act. It shall be the duty of the district attorney of said county, or city and county, in which any violation of this act may occur, to prosecute the person, firm, company, organization or corporation accused of such violation and also, at the request of the state commissioner of horticulture, or any one of his deputies, to institute and prosecute such action for condemnation as may be authorized under the provisions of this act.

Refusal to ship.

§ 13. It shall be lawful for any fresh fruit or vegetables forwarding person, firm, corporation or organization and for any common carrier to decline to ship or transport any fresh fruits or vegetables, which upon inspection are found to be packed in violation of the provisions of this act, and any such fruit or vegetables forwarder or common carrier may reserve the right in any receipt, bill of lading or other writing given to the consignor thereof, to reject for shipment and to return to such consignor or hold at the expense and risk of the latter all fresh fruits or vegetables which upon inspection are found to be packed in violation of the provisions of this act.

Penalty for violation.

§ 14. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, company, organization or corporation, to pack or cause to be packed for sale or shipment, import, sell, offer for sale, or deliver for shipment any of the fresh fruits or vegetables specified in this act that do not conform to the standards herein provided. It shall also be unlawful to prepare, sell or offer for sale, a deceptive pack of fresh fruits, fresh vegetables or dried fruits or dried vegetables or to mislabel any package of any such fruits or vegetables. Any person, firm, corporation, company or organization who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed to be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Repealed.

§ 15. All laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Constitutionality.

§ 16. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Appropriation.

§ 17. The sum of seven thousand five hundred dollars per annum is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to be used in the enforcement of the provisions of this act.

REQUIRING PAYMENT OF STATE MONEYS INTO THE TREASURY.

ACT 1666—An act requiring the payment into the state treasury of all moneys belonging to the state, received by the various state institutions, commissions, and officers, and directing the disposition of the same.

History: Approved March 17, 1899, Stats. 1899, p. 110. Amended March 20, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 382; June 14, 1906, Stats. 1906 (extra session), p. 43.

Moneys belonging to the state to be paid into the treasury. Credited to certain funds.

Exceptions.

§ 1. All moneys belonging to the state received from any source whatever by any officer, commission or commissioners, board of trustees, board of managers, or board of directors shall be accounted for at the close of each month to the state controller, in such form as the controller may prescribe, and at the same time, on the order of the controller, be paid into the state treasury, provided, in the case of any state hospital, asylum, prison, school or harbor, supported by or under control of the state said money shall be credited to a fund to be known as the contingent fund of the particular institution from which such money is received, and may be expended under the same laws and provisions that govern the expenditure of money appropriated for the support of such institutions, and provided, that in every case where the law directs the board of trustees, managers or directors or officer to refund any money upon the death or discharge of any inmate of said hospital, asylum, prison, school or other institution, or to provide a discharged inmate with any sum of money or with wearing apparel, such amount of money as necessary shall be paid by the board of trustees, managers or directors or officer, upon demand; and in the statement to the controller herein provided for, these amounts shall be itemized and the aggregate deducted from the amount to be paid into the state treasury; provided, further, that all money collected by boards of harbor commissioners shall be paid into the harbor improvement fund of the respective harbor where collected, except so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the expense of urgent repairs, not to exceed in the aggregate ten thousand dollars per month, which sum, if so much be required, may be used in repairing the wharves, piers, landings, thoroughfares, sheds, and other structures, and the streets bounding on the water front under the jurisdiction of such board of harbor commissioners, without advertising the proposals therefor. [Amendment of June 14, 1906. Stats. 1906 (extra session), p. 43.]

This section was also amended March 20, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 382.

§ 2. Immediately upon the passage of this act, any moneys belonging to the state now in the hands of the boards of trustees, managers, or directors of the institutions mentioned herein, or of any treasurer or secretary thereof, shall be accounted for to the controller and paid into the state treasury, to be credited and disposed for in the manner hereinbefore indicated.

§ 3. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

§ 4. This act shall take effect immediately.

PAYMENTS FROM THE SWAMP LAND FUND TO THE SEVERAL COUNTIES.

ACT 1667—An act providing for the payment of moneys in the state treasury to the credit of the swamp land fund, to the treasurers of the counties wherein the said swamp land districts are situated, and to provide for the control of the same by the auditor and treasurer of said counties, and prescribing the duties of the controller and treasurer in relation thereto.

History: Approved March 31, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 243.

1. Swampland fund—No adjustment between counties as to funds in treasury.—The act did not provide for the adjustment between counties of funds already in their treasuries, nor does it contain any words of grant or donation to the counties—but merely put into the county treasuries swampland money that had found its way into the state treasury.—County of Kings v. County of Tulare, 119 Cal. 509, 51 Pac. 866.

2. Swampland fund—Change of custody not provided for.—No provision of law exists for a change in the custody of the swampland fund entrusted to any county, upon the division of that county and the creation of a new county and the subject is one purely for the legislature and not for the courts.—County of Kings v. County of Tulare, 119 Cal. 509, 51 Pac. 866.

RETURN OF PAYMENTS UNDER § 570, C. C. P.

ACT 1667a—An act to provide for the return to the owners thereof of any funds paid into the state treasury by any receiver in conformity with the provisions of section five hundred seventy of the Code of Civil Procedure; prescribing the procedure relative thereto; and making an appropriation therefor.

History: Approved May 17, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 467.

Appropriation: from receiver's fund.

§ 1. From the moneys in the state treasury to the credit of the receiver's fund there is hereby appropriated the sum of four thousand nine hundred forty-nine dollars and twenty-four cents, to be used exclusively for the purpose of returning to the owner, or owners, thereof the amount of money belonging to any person, or persons, which has been heretofore, or shall hereafter, be paid into the state treasury by any receiver, or receivers, pursuant to the provisions of section five hundred seventy of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Verified claim for money from receiver's fund.

§ 2. The owner, or owners, of any such money, or moneys, shall present to the board of control a verified claim therefor, accompanied by all such data respecting the same as the board of control may require for its information. Such claim shall be audited by the board of control in the manner provided by law, and, if approved, shall be transmitted to the state controller, with such approval endorsed thereon. The controller shall thereupon draw his warrant upon the said receiver's fund in favor of such owner, or owners, for the amount so ascertained to belong to him, or them, and the state treasurer shall pay the same; provided, however, that the aggregate sum of all warrants so drawn and paid shall not exceed the amount by this act appropriated.

Unexpended balance reverts to receiver's fund.

§ 3. Any balance of such appropriation remaining unexpended on the first day of September, A. D. 1917, shall, without further action, revert to and become a part of the said receiver's fund.

INVESTMENT OF COUNTY AND MUNICIPAL SINKING FUNDS.

ACT 1669—An act authorizing the investment and reinvestment, and disposition, of any moneys in any sinking fund of any county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, and repealing an act entitled "An act authorizing the investment and reinvestment and disposition of any moneys in any sinking fund of any county, city and county, or incorporated city or town," approved March 3, 1909.

History: Approved April 3, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 582. Prior act of March 3, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 139, repealed by the present act.

Money in sinking funds may be invested in bonds.

§ 1. Any county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, which has now or hereafter shall have any moneys in any sinking fund established for the purpose of providing for the payment of the principal or interest of any bonded or other indebtedness, or for any other purpose, is hereby authorized to invest any such moneys temporarily in any bonds already issued or hereafter issued of such county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, respectively, or of the United States or the state of California, or of any other county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, or of any school district within the state, and such investment may be made by direct purchase of any issue of bonds, or part thereof, at the original sale of such bonds, or by the purchase of such bonds after they have been so issued. Any bonds thus purchased and held in any such sinking fund may, from time to time, be sold and the proceeds temporarily reinvested in bonds, as above provided. Sales of any bonds thus purchased and held in any sinking fund shall, from time to time, be made in season, so that the proceeds may be applied to the purposes for which the sinking fund was created.

§ 2. The functions and duties in this act authorized shall be performed by the legislative or governing body of the county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, or under its authority.

§ 3. An act entitled, "An act authorizing the investment and reinvestment and disposition of any moneys in any sinking fund of any county, city and county, or incorporated city or town," approved March 3, 1909, is hereby repealed.

INVESTMENT OF SURPLUS FUNDS OF COUNTIES AND MUNICIPALITIES.

ACT 1670—An act authorizing the investment and reinvestment and dispositions of any surplus moneys in the treasury of any county, city and county or incorporated city or town.

History: Approved April 23, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 76.

Investment of surplus county funds. Sale of bonds.

§ 1. Any county, city and county, or incorporated city or town which now has, or hereafter shall have, any surplus money in the treasury thereof, not required for the immediate necessities of the said county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, is hereby authorized to invest such portion of any such surplus as to the governing body of the said county, city and county, or incorporated city or town may be deemed wise or expedient in any bonds already issued or hereafter issued by such county, city and county, or incorporated city or town respectively, or in bonds already issued or hereafter issued by any school district situated in whole or in part within the limits of such county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, or in bonds already issued or hereafter issued by the state of California, or the United States, and such investment may be made by direct purchase of any issue of bonds, or part thereof, at the original sale of such bonds, or by the purchase of such bonds after they have been thus issued. Any bonds thus purchased and held may, from time to time, be sold and the proceeds reinvested in bonds as above provided. Sales of any bonds thus purchased and held shall, from time to time, be made in season so that the proceeds may be applied to the purposes for which the money, with which the bonds were originally purchased, was placed in the treasury of the county, city and county, or incorporated city or town.

Legislative body of city or county to perform duties under act.

§ 2. The functions and duties of this act authorized shall be performed by the legislative or governing body of the county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, or under its authority.

INVESTMENT OF SURPLUS MONEY OF STATE.

ACT 1671—An act providing for the designation of money in the state treasury as surplus money, authorizing the investment and reinvestment of such money in certain classes of bonds, directing the disposal of interest or premium received therefrom and permitting the subsequent sale or exchange of the bonds so purchased.

History: Approved June 10, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 563.

Investment of surplus money in state treasury.

§ 1. Any money in the state treasury which shall have been designated as surplus money under the provisions of this act may in the manner hereinafter provided be invested in bonds of any of the following classes:

(a) Bonds or interest-bearing notes or obligations of the United States, or those for which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged for the payment of principal and interest;

(b) Bonds of this state, or those for which the faith and credit of the state of California are pledged for the payment of principal and interest;

(c) Bonds of any county, city and county, city or school district of this state.

Designation of surplus money. Maximum.

§ 2. The state treasurer, and the members of the state board of control shall at such times as they deem necessary, or upon request in writing of the state treasurer, meet and determine whether any portion of the money then in the state treasury is not necessary for immediate use, and if so, the amount thereof, which amount shall thereupon be designated as "surplus money"; provided, however, that the amount so fixed and determined as surplus money shall not at any time be in excess of seventy-five per cent of the least amount of money shown by the records in the treasurer's office to have been in the state treasury at the end of any day's transactions during the twelve months' period next preceding compiled in accordance with the provisions of section six hundred seventy-five of the Political Code. Upon the unanimous approval of said state officials, there shall be spread upon the minutes of the state board of control at each such meeting a resolution designating the amount of money so determined by them to be surplus money within the meaning of this act, and thereupon the state board of control shall proceed to invest the same in the purchase of bonds of any of the classes described in section one of this act.

Sale or exchange of bonds purchased. Interest paid into "bond investment fund."

§ 3. Any bonds purchased or held under the provisions of this act may be sold or exchanged for other bonds of any of the classes described in section one of this act, and the money received from any such sale may be reinvested by the state board of control in the purchase of any such bonds; provided, that no such sale or exchange shall be made at a price which will result in a net loss to the state; and provided, further, that any interest or premium collected or received by the state from any bonds purchased or held under the provisions of this act shall be credited by the state treasurer to a fund to be known as the "bond investment fund" which fund is hereby established. The state treasurer shall semi-annually, on the last days of June and December, transfer one-half of the amount then in said fund to the general fund, and shall transfer one-half of the amount then in said fund to the state school land fund.

Certain funds not affected.

§ 4. This act shall not be construed as affecting the method of investing the state school land fund, the estates of deceased persons fund, the dissolved savings bank fund, or the sinking funds under the control of the state treasurer, and the laws relating thereto shall remain in full force and effect.

DEPOSIT OF STATE MONEY IN BANKS.

ACT 1673—An act to authorize the deposit of state moneys in banks in this state, and to repeal all acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act.

History: Approved February 28, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 67. Amended March 24, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 482; April 29, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 108. Prior act of March 20, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 67, repealed by the present act.

Money of state may be deposited in approved banks.

§ 1. All moneys under the control of the state treasurer, belonging to the state, may be deposited by the state treasurer to the credit of the state in such state or national bank, or banks, in the state as the treasurer, with the approval of the governor and state controller, shall select for the safekeeping of such deposits, and any sum so deposited shall be deemed to be in the state treasury; provided that the bank or banks in which such money is deposited shall furnish security as hereinafter provided; and provided further, that such depository bank or banks be selected from those agreeing to pay the highest rate of interest, not less than two per cent per annum, for such deposits, as may be determined by bids to be submitted at such times and in such manner as the treasurer, with the approval of the governor and the state controller shall direct; provided, that not more than one-tenth of the aggregate amount of state moneys available for deposit and on deposit shall be deposited in any one bank; and provided, further, that such deposit shall not exceed fifty per cent of the paid-up capital, exclusive of reserve and surplus, of any depository bank. Any and all bids may be rejected by the treasurer, with the approval of the governor and state controller, and new bids asked for. The expense of transportation of moneys to and from the state treasury to such depositories shall be borne by such depositories. Said deposits, with interest thereon, shall be subject to withdrawal at any time upon the demand of the state treasurer, unless the treasurer, with the consent of the governor and controller, shall deposit any part of such moneys upon different terms; provided that no agreement for the deposit of said moneys shall be for a longer period than one year. [Amendment approved March 24, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 482.]

Interest, when payable. School moneys.

§ 2. The interest to be paid by any such depository bank shall be on the average daily balances of the state moneys kept on deposit therewith, and shall be paid and credited to the state monthly on the first day of each and every month, and such interest shall accrue to the general fund of the state treasury; provided that if any moneys belonging to the state school fund or the state school land fund shall at any time be deposited under the provisions of this act, the interest received thereon shall be paid into the state school fund.

Security for state funds deposited in banks.

§ 3. For the security of the funds deposited by the state treasurer under the provisions of this act, there shall be deposited with the treasurer bonds of the United States, or of this state, or any county, municipality, school district or irrigation district within this state, which bonds shall be approved by the governor, controller and treasurer, to an amount in value at least ten per cent in excess of the amount of the deposit with such bank or banks; and if in any case, or at any time, such bonds are not deemed satisfactory security to the governor, controller and treasurer, they may require such additional security as may be satisfactory to them. Said bonds, or any part thereof, may be withdrawn on the written consent of the governor, controller and treasurer; provided, that a sufficient amount of said bonds to secure said deposits shall always be kept in the treasury; and in the event that said bank or banks of deposit shall fail to pay such deposits, or any part thereof, on the demand of the state treasurer, then it shall be the duty of the state treasurer to forthwith convert said bonds into money and to disburse the same according to law. [Amendment approved April 29, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 108. In effect August 10, 1913.]

This section was also amended March 24, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 483.

Provisions of contract. Treasurer's annual statement to banks.

§ 4. The treasurer shall take from such depository or depositories a written contract, in duplicate setting forth the conditions and terms upon which the funds of the state are deposited therewith, one of which shall be filed with the controller. One provision of said contract shall be that each depository shall at the end of each month render to the treasurer a statement in duplicate showing the daily balances or amount of money of the state held by it during the month and the amount of the accrued interest thereon separately, one of which shall be filed by the treasurer with the controller. The treasurer shall annually on the first day of July furnish each depository bank with a statement showing the amount and description of the bonds on deposit with him by such bank to secure state deposits.

Indemnity bonds.

§ 5. The treasurer, with the approval of the governor and controller, shall, if in his judgment it shall appear necessary for the security of the state, require said banks of deposit to give an indemnity bond, the sureties on which shall not be interested as stockholders in said bank or banks, to be approved by the governor, controller and treasurer, to secure the state against loss by any depreciation in value that may occur in such bonds held by him as security for the safekeeping and prompt payment of the state moneys in such depositories.

Treasurer not responsible for deposits.

§ 6. The state treasurer shall not be responsible for any moneys deposited in a bank or in banks under the provisions of this act while the same remain there deposited with the consent of the governor and controller; but the treasurer shall be chargeable with the safekeeping, management and disbursement of the bonds and certificates of deposit deposited with him as security for deposits of state moneys, and with the interest thereon, and the proceeds of any sale under the provisions of this act.

Receipt for money deposited.

§ 7. At the time of depositing state moneys in any bank, designated as a depository, the state treasurer shall take and preserve a receipt therefor, stating the amount deposited and referring to the contract made between the depository banks and the treasurer. The moneys so deposited may be drawn out by the check or order of the state treasurer. [Amendment approved March 24, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 482.]

Act of 1905 repealed.

§ 8. The act of March 20, 1905, entitled "An act to authorize the deposit of state moneys in banks in this state, and to repeal all acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act," and all other acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby expressly repealed.

DEPOSIT OF COUNTY AND MUNICIPAL MONEY IN BANKS.

ACT 1674—An act to provide for and regulate the deposit of county and municipal moneys in banks and banking corporations, limiting the amount of public moneys that may be deposited therein, and providing a penalty for the illegal deposit and use thereof.

History: Approved March 23, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 974. Amended April 29, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 107.

Deposit of county and city funds. Security. Interest.

§ 1. All moneys belonging to any county or municipality within the state may be deposited by any officer of such county or municipality having the legal custody of such county or municipal funds in any licensed national bank or banks within this state, or in any bank, banks or corporations authorized and licensed to do a banking business and organized under the laws of this state; provided, that such bank or banks in which such moneys are deposited shall furnish as security for such deposits bonds of the United States, or of this state, or of any county, municipality, school district, or irrigation district within this state, approved by the officer making the deposit and the district attorney for the county or city attorney for the municipality to which the deposit belongs. The market value of the bonds furnished shall be at least ten per cent in excess of the amount of the deposit secured thereby; but the amount of the deposit shall in no case exceed the face value of the bonds furnished as security therefor; and provided, that such bank or banks shall pay a reasonable rate of interest, not less than two per cent per annum, on the daily balances therein deposited. [Amendment approved April 29, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 107. In effect August 10, 1913.]

Rate of interest to be fixed. when.

§ 2. The rate of interest shall be fixed annually as herein provided in the month of January of each year on all deposits to be made for such year; provided, that the rate of interest for the year ending December 31, 1907, may be fixed as herein provided within ninety days after this act goes into effect. The rate of interest shall be fixed in the case of counties, by the treasurer, auditor, and chairman of the board of supervisors, and in the case of municipalities by the treasurer, auditor (or clerk in municipalities having no auditor), and chairman of the council or other governing body of such municipality. Said rate of interest shall be a reasonable rate and not less than two per cent per annum on the daily balances deposited; and the rate of interest so established for each year as herein provided, shall be the uniform rate of interest required from all banks receiving deposits from the county or municipality, for that year.

Interest on all moneys deposited as herein provided for shall belong to the county or municipality represented by the officer making such deposit and shall be paid quarterly into the general fund of such county or municipality except where the law otherwise directs.

Receipt for deposit.

§ 3. It shall be the duty of the officer making the deposit, to receive from the bank in which the deposit is made, a receipt or receipts in duplicate showing the date and amount of deposit and rate of interest to be paid thereon, one copy of which said officer shall keep on file in his office and he shall file one copy with the auditor of the county or auditor of the municipality (or clerk in municipalities having no auditor) as the case may be.

Record of deposits.

§ 4. Every treasurer shall keep a record in his office which shall be open to public inspection, showing at all times the amount of money on deposit and all banks in which the same is deposited, and dates of deposit. Also a record of all banks making application for the deposit of the public funds.

Amount that may be deposited.

§ 5. The total amount of public moneys on deposit in any bank, shall not at any one time exceed fifty per cent of the paid up capital stock of such depositary bank or banks. No officer shall have on deposit at any one time more than ten per cent of the public moneys under his control and available for deposit in any bank while there are other qualified banks requesting such deposits; provided, that no treasurer of a county or municipality, shall be required to deposit public moneys in any bank outside of the county owning the money or in which the municipality is situated.

Receipts to be counted as cash.

§ 6. The receipt issued by any bank for deposits made therein, together with the bonds held as security therefor, shall be held by the treasurer making the deposit and be recognized and counted as cash to the amount recited in the receipt by the officers required by law to count the same.

Deposits subject to call.

§ 7. Deposits, with interest thereon, shall be subject to withdrawal on demand of the treasurer making the same, or his successors in office, and any bank receiving the deposit of public moneys, may at any time return the same to the public officer making such deposit, together with interest to date of return, and it shall be the duty of the public officer upon receiving the return of such deposit, to immediately return to such bank all bonds held as security for the deposit returned. When any officer withdraws his deposit he shall return, on demand of the bank, such bonds as were held as security for the deposit or portion thereof withdrawn.

On failure of bank to repay security to be sold.

§ 8. Should any bank fail to pay any public moneys held on deposit as herein provided, the officer making such deposit may, after ten days' written notice to such bank, proceed to sell at public or private sale, such of the bonds held by him as security as he may see fit; provided, however, that he shall sell no bonds for less than their face value except at public sale after ten days' printed notice in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the sale is to take place. The proceeds of such sale, after paying all expenses, shall be credited to the account of the bank which deposited the bonds as collateral. Any bank failing to make payment, may, at any time before the sale of the bonds is completed, stop such sale by repaying all the moneys deposited with it, together with any expense that may have been incurred by the officer making such deposit, as the result of such failure. Should the proceeds of any such sale fail to fully repay any deposit, the balance remaining unpaid may be collected in an action of law in the name of the officer making the deposit.

Public officials not responsible for loss.

§ 9. Public officials shall not be responsible for any loss of public moneys resulting from the deposit thereof when made in accordance with the provisions of this act. It shall be the duty of the officer making the deposit to safely keep all evidence of indebtedness issued by banks for deposits made therein, and bonds deposited for security and such public officer shall be responsible for such evidence of indebtedness, and for bonds held as security therefor, together with the interest thereon and the proceeds of any sale of such bonds; and the city, county or municipality for which said officer acts, shall be responsible to such bank for the safe return of the securities furnished by it to such officer.

Transportation of moneys.

§ 10. The expenses of transportation of moneys to or from the state, county or municipal treasuries to such depositaries shall be borne by such depositaries.

Violation of act a felony.

§ 11. The making of profit out of county, city, town or other public moneys, or using the same for any purpose not authorized by law by any officer having possession or control thereof, shall be a felony. Any violation of the provisions of this act by a bank or a banking corporation, shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars for each offense and the officers of such bank or banking corporation and officer receiving such deposit shall be guilty of a felony.

Present laws not abrogated.

§ 12. Nothing in this act contained shall prevent any county or municipality within this state from buying bonds or otherwise investing its money in any manner now provided by law and nothing herein contained as to the disposition of interest on public moneys deposited shall apply to any money received or held by any county or municipality wherein any law provides for the payment of interest or profit thereon, into any particular fund.

§ 13. All acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

§ 14. This act shall take effect immediately.

1. Deposit of public money—Action to prevent.—A taxpayer may maintain an action to prevent a city treasurer from depositing money of the municipality in his custody with banks or banking corporations, where such deposit is forbidden by law.—Rothschild v. Bantel, 152 Cal. 5, 91 Pac. 803.

See, also, Yarnell v. Los Angeles, 87 Cal. 603, 25 Pac. 767.

2. San Francisco charter provision paramount.—The provisions of sections 2 and 3, chapter 3, article IV, of the San Francisco charter, prohibiting the deposit of municipal funds in banks is paramount to the provisions of this act, the subject of the deposit of such funds in banks being a municipal affair.—Rothschild v. Bantel, 152 Cal. 5, 91 Pac. 803.

HUNTING LICENSE ACT OF 1909.

ACT 1688—An act to regulate and license the hunting of wild birds and animals, and to provide revenue therefrom, for game and fish preservation and restoration.

History: Approved March 22, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 663. Amended May 18, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 650; April 21, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 119. Prior act of March 13, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 247, repealed by the present act.

Licenses to hunt game.

§ 1. Every person in the state of California, who hunts, pursues or kills any of the wild birds or animals, excepting predatory birds or animals, without first procuring a license therefor, as provided in this act, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

By whom issued.

§ 2. Licenses granting the privilege to hunt, pursue or kill wild birds or animals, shall be issued and delivered upon application, by the county clerk of any of the counties of this state, or by the state board of fish commissioners, who shall prepare suitable licenses of convenient form and size, and have printed or stamped thereon the words: "Hunting License No. —, State of California, expires June 30, 19—," with the registration number, and appropriate year printed or stamped thereon, which said license shall be prepared and furnished to the county clerk, and for their own disposition, by the state board of fish commissioners, which board shall take receipt therefor by number and quantity, from the several county clerks, and the county clerk shall be responsible therefor and shall account for the same to the controller of the state every three months, beginning with July 1st of each year. For each license sold, registered and accounted for by any person excepting by a fish commissioner, he shall be allowed as compensation out of the game preservation fund, ten per cent of the amount accounted for.

Fees for hunting licenses.

§ 3. The licenses herein provided for shall be issued as follows:

First—To any citizen of the United States who is a bona fide resident of the state of California, upon the payment of one dollar.

Second—To any citizen of the United States, not a bona fide resident of the state of California, upon the payment of ten dollars.

Third—To any person not a citizen of the United States who shall have declared his intention to become such citizen according to the law made and provided for such purpose, who is a bona fide resident of the state of California, upon the payment of ten dollars; provided, that after he has declared his intention to become a citizen, he must complete his naturalization at the earliest period allowed by law; provided, further, that said applicant shall make and subscribe an oath before the person issuing such license that he has not claimed his citizenship in a foreign country as a basis for avoiding service in the armed forces of the United States and the person issuing such license is hereby empowered to administer said oath.

Fourth—To any person not a citizen of the United States, upon the payment of twenty-five dollars, except as provided in the third subdivision of this section. [Amendment of April 21, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 119.]

This section was also amended May 18, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 650.

Application for license.

§ 4. Every person applying for and procuring a license as herein provided shall furnish to the county clerk or state board of fish commissioners, his name and resident address, which information shall be by the clerk or board entered in a book kept for that purpose, and provided by the state board of fish commissioners, together with a statement of the date of issuance and the number of the license issued to such person. Such applicant shall also furnish to the county clerk or fish commissioners a written description of himself, by age, height, nationality and color of the eyes and hair.

Term of license.

§ 5. All licenses issued as herein provided shall be valid, and shall authorize the person to whom issued, to hunt, pursue and kill wild birds and animals, excepting predatory birds and animals, on and from the first day of July of the year in which such license is issued until the date of expiration written or stamped thereon, but no license shall continue in force for a period longer than one year.

Disposition of moneys.

§ 6. All moneys collected from licenses as provided herein, and all fines collected for the violation of the provisions hereof shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to the game preservation fund.

License not transferable.

§ 7. Not more than one license shall be issued to any one person for the same fiscal year, except upon an affidavit by the applicant that the one issued has been lost or destroyed, and no license issued as herein provided shall be transferable or used by any other person than the one to whom it was issued.

Must be exhibited on demand.

§ 8. Every person having a license as provided herein, who while hunting refuses to exhibit such license upon demand of any officer authorized to enforce the game and fish laws of this state, or any peace officer of the state, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; and every person lawfully having such license, who transfers or disposes of the same to another person to be used as a hunting license, shall forfeit the same.

Violation of act.

§ 9. Every person violating any of the provisions of this act, shall, upon conviction thereof be punished by a fine of not less than ten, nor more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term of not less than ten, nor more than one hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Act of 1907 repealed.

§ 10. An act entitled "An act to regulate and license the hunting of game birds and animals and to provide revenue therefrom for game preservation and restoration and to make appropriation for the purpose of carrying out the objects of this act," approved March 13, 1907, is hereby repealed.

§ 11. This act shall take effect and be in force on and after July 1st, 1909.

This act should be read in connection with the "issuance for resale act of 1915."—See Act 1692a.

1. Issuance by county clerk—Entitled to retain fees.—Under section 2 of the act of 1909, relating to the issuance of hunting licenses by county clerks, a county clerk whose term of office commenced two years after the act went into effect, is entitled to retain his commission for licenses issued by him and accounted for and paid into the state treasury, notwithstanding section 9, article XI, of the constitution, and sections 4235 and 4290 of the Political Code, and the amendments thereto of 1911 (134, 251), construed under section 325, Political Code.—

VOCATIONAL FISHING LICENSE ACT OF 1909.

ACT 1690—An act to regulate the vocation of fishing, and to provide therefrom revenue for the propagation, restoration and preservation of fish in the waters of the state of California.

History: Approved March 13, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 302. Amended June 16, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 985; May 18, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 686. prior act of March 21, 1887, Stats. 1887, p. 233, superseded by the present act.

License required.

§ 1. Every person who uses or operates or assists in using or operating, any boat, net, trap, line or other appliance in the state for the purpose of catching or taking fish, mollusks or crustaceans for profit, and every person using or operating, or assisting in using or operating any boat, net, trap, line or other appliance for taking or catching fish, mollusks or crustaceans, or who brings or causes said fish, mollusks or crustaceans to be brought ashore at any point in the state for the purpose of selling the same as fresh fish, without first procuring a commercial fishing license, is guilty of a misdemeanor. [Amendment of May 18, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 686.]

Licenses prepared by controller. Duty of president of commission.

§ 2. The controller of state shall prepare suitable licenses, of the classes designated by the fish and game commissioners, which shall license the holder of such license to catch or take fish, mollusks or crustaceans or to assist in catching or taking fish, mollusks or crustaceans, as provided in section one of this act, for the term of one year from the first day of April of one year to the first day of April of the year following. The licenses shall be numbered consecutively, beginning with number one, and contain blanks for the insertion of the name of the holder, his resident address, and his description, by age, height, nationality and color of eyes and hair, which description shall be furnished by the applicant to the board of fish and game commissioners. The controller shall sign all licenses and deliver the same to the fish and game commissioners, on demand, who shall be charged for the same by the controller. Each license, before delivery to the applicant for a license, must be countersigned by the president of the board of fish and game commissioners, and the president of the board of fish and game commissioners shall execute a bond to the people of the state of California, in the sum of two thousand dollars, for the faithful performance of the duties imposed upon him by this act. [Amendment of May 18, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 687.]

Fee. Forfeiture of license.

§ 3. Licenses shall be issued and delivered upon application to the state board of fish and game commissioners, or their deputies. The license fee shall be ten dollars for each person. Not more than [than] one license shall be issued to any one person for the same year, except upon affidavit by the applicant that the one issued has been lost or destroyed, and no license issued as herein provided shall be transferable or used by any other person than the one to whom it was issued. Every person having a license as provided herein, who refuses to exhibit such license upon demand of any officer authorized to enforce the fish and game laws of this state, or any peace officer of this state, or who transfers or disposes of the same to another person to be used as a fisherman's license, or who fails to have his license with him where it may be readily examined by any officer authorized to enforce the fish and game laws, at the time he is using or operating or assisting in using or operating any net, trap, line or other appliance, or who uses or assists in using any net, trap, line or other appliance by modes or methods in violation of any law, for the preservation of fish and game shall forfeit this license. [Amendment of May 18, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 687.]

This section was also amended June 16, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 985.

Fees paid to whom.

§ 4. The said license fees must be paid to the fish and game commissioners, or to some one designated by them for that purpose. [Amendment of May 18, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 687.]

Credited to preservation fund.

§ 5. The money collected from such licenses shall be paid by the commissioners into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund. [Amendment of May 18, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 687.]

Penalty.

§ 6. The violation of any provisions of this act is hereby declared a misdemeanor, and every person violating any of its provisions, shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in a sum not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term of not less than ten nor more than one hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and all fines collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be paid into the state treasury, to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund. [Amended May 18, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 687.]

§ 7. All acts and parts of acts, so far as they conflict with this act, are hereby repealed.

§ 8. This act shall take effect immediately.

1. Constitutionality—Right of fishery.—The act is not violative of section 25, article I, of the constitution, guaranteeing the right of fishery upon and from the public lands of the state and the waters thereof, and is valid.—In re Parra, 24 Cal. App. 339, 141 Pac. 393.

2. Same.—Section 25½, article IV, of the constitution expressly empowers the legislature to protect fish and prevent their extermination, and this act is appropriate for that purpose.—In re Parra, 24 Cal. App. 339, 141 Pac. 393.

DEALERS' LICENSE ACT OF 1911.

History: Approved April 14, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 900.

License for fish dealers.

§ 1. Every person engaged in the vocation of dealing in, buying and selling fish or shellfish or wild game or animals by wholesale in this state, must first obtain a license before engaging in such vocation.

Controller to prepare license. Countersigned.

§ 2. The controller of state shall prepare suitable licenses, of the classes designated by the fish and game commissioners which shall purport to license the holder of such license to buy, sell and deal in fish and shellfish and wild game and animals in this state by wholesale for the term of one year from the first day of July of one year to the first day of July of the year following. All licenses shall be numbered consecutively beginning with number one and contain blanks for the insertion of the name of the holder, his residence, and place of business, which information shall be furnished by the applicant to the board of fish and game commissioners. The controller shall sign all licenses and deliver the same to the fish and game commissioners, on demand, who shall be charged for the same by the controller. Each license, before delivery to the applicant for a license, must be countersigned by the president of the board of fish and game commissioners and the president of the board of fish and game commissioners shall execute a bond to the people of the state of California in the sum of two thousand dollars for the faithful performance of the duties imposed upon him by this act.

To whom issued.

§ 3. Licenses shall be issued and delivered upon application to the state board of fish and game commissioners or their deputies. The licenses herein provided for shall be issued as follows: To any citizen of the United States and to any person who has duly made his declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States as provided by law, upon the payment of five dollars; to any person not a citizen of the United States upon the payment of twenty dollars. Not more than one license shall be issued to any one person for the same year, except upon an affidavit by the applicant that the one issued has been lost or destroyed, and no license issued as herein provided shall be transferable or used by any other person than the one to whom it was issued. Every person having a license as provided herein, who refuses to exhibit such license upon demand of any officer authorized to enforce the fish and game laws of this state, or any peace officer of this state, or who transfers or disposes of the same to another person to be used as a license, shall forfeit this license.

To whom fee is paid.

§ 4. The said license fees must be paid to the fish and game commissioners or to some one designated by them for that purpose.

Money collected from licenses, disposition of.

§ 5. The money collected from the sale of such licenses shall be paid by the board of fish and game commissioners into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

Penalty for violation.

§ 6. The violation of any provision of this act is hereby declared a misdemeanor, and every person violating any of its provisions, shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in a sum not less than twenty nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term of not less than ten nor more than one hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and all fines collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

§ 7. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act, are hereby repealed.

§ 8. This act shall take effect immediately.

CANNERS' LICENSE ACT OF 1917.

ACT 1691a—An act to license canners, curers, preservers and packers of fish and handlers of crustaceans and mollusks, and providing a revenue therefrom for the conservation, propagation and restoration of fish in the state of California, and providing for a record of fish caught or received, and providing penalties for the violations of the provisions thereof, and repealing all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

History: Approved May 28, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1275.

Unlawful to can, etc., fish without license.

§ 1. Any person in this state, who engages in the business of canning, curing, preserving or packing fish, which are taken in the waters of this state or are brought into this state in a fresh condition; or of manufacturing fish scrap, fish meal, fish oil, chicken feed or fertilizer from fish or fish offal; or of dealing in mollusks or crustaceans by wholesale, without first procuring a license for each plant or place of business, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Licenses prepared by controller.

§ 2. The controller of state shall prepare suitable licenses, of the classes designated by the fish and game commissioners, which shall license the holder of such license to can, cure, preserve or pack fish, to manufacture fish meal, fish oil and other products from fish, and to deal in mollusks and crustaceans by wholesale in this state, (subject to the restrictions provided by law) as provided in section one of this act, for the term of one year, from the first day of July of one year to the thirtieth day of June of the year following. All licenses shall be numbered consecutively, beginning with number one and contain blanks for the insertion of the name of the holder, his residence, and place of business, which information shall be furnished by the applicant to the board of fish and game commissioners. The controller shall sign all licenses and deliver the same to the fish and game commissioners, on demand, who shall be charged for the same by the controller. Each license, before delivery to the applicant for a license, must be countersigned by the president of the board of fish and game commissioners and the president of the board of fish and game commissioners shall execute a bond to the people of the state of California in the sum of two thousand dollars for the faithful performance of the duties imposed upon him by this act.

Issued to whom.

§ 3. Licenses shall be issued and delivered upon application to the state board of fish and game commissioners or their deputies. The licenses herein provided for shall be issued as follows: To any citizen of the United States and to any person who has duly made his declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States as provided by law, upon the payment of five dollars; to any person not a citizen of the United States, upon the payment of twenty dollars. In case a license is lost or destroyed, a duplicate may be issued to any licensee by the fish and game commission, upon the affidavit by him that the one issued has been lost or destroyed. Every person having a license as provided herein, who refuses to exhibit such license upon demand of any officer authorized to enforce the fish and game laws of this state, or any peace officer of this state, or who transfers or disposes of the same to another person to be used as a license, shall forfeit this license.

Payment of fees.

§ 4. The said license fees must be paid to the fish and game commissioners or to some one designated by them for that purpose.

Record of fish purchased. Monthly statement to fish and game commission.

§ 5. Every person operating under a license as provided in section one of this act, and every person dealing in fresh fish shall keep a book or books in which shall be entered a full and correct record, in the English language, of all fresh fish purchased or received by them from fishermen or taken by themselves, giving the names of the different species, and the number of pounds so received or caught of each different species, and the name and address of the person or persons from whom such fish were received. Said book or books are to be open at all times for the inspection of members of the fish and game commission or persons duly authorized by them. They shall also render to the fish and game commission, on or before the tenth day of each month on blanks to be furnished by the said fish and game commission, a true and correct statement showing the amount of each species of fresh fish, stated separately, so purchased, received or caught during the previous month, together with the name and address of the person or persons from whom such fish were received or purchased. Said monthly statements are to be accompanied by an affidavit to the effect that the said report is a true and correct statement of all the fish received from fishermen or caught by themselves during the time covered by the report.

Receipts to fishermen.

§ 6. Every person operating under a license as provided in section one of this act, and every person dealing in fish who receives fish from fishermen shall issue receipts to the fishermen from whom fish are received and shall give in such receipt the date of issuance, the name of the fisherman or fishermen to whom issued, the weight in pounds of each variety of fish received, the price per pound paid to the fishermen, and the signature of the dealer who issued the receipt. A duplicate manifold copy of this receipt shall be kept on file by the dealer issuing the same, for a period of six months and the said duplicate copy shall be available for inspection at any time within six months, upon demand of the fish and game commission, or any duly authorized assistant thereof.

Privilege tax. Quarterly report of fresh fish purchased. Affidavit. Forfeiture of license.

§ 7. Every person operating under a license, as provided in section one of this act, shall, in addition to the license fee, pay a privilege tax of two and one-half cents for each one hundred pounds, or fraction thereof, of fish purchased or received by them, or fish caught or taken by themselves, with their own equipment; provided, that any fish, excepting mollusks and crustaceans, so taken or received, which are utilized for human consumption in its fresh state, shall not be subject to such tax; and provided, further, that herring and buck shad shall also be exempt from the tax provided herein; and such person shall, in addition to making a monthly report as provided in section five of this act, make a quarterly report to the fish and game commission, showing the the total amount of fresh fish, in pounds, purchased, caught or received by them (for purposes other than human consumption in its fresh state), and of mollusks and crustaceans purchased or received by them from fishermen, or caught by themselves, whether they be used fresh or otherwise, during the three months next preceding March thirty-first, June thirtieth, September thirtieth, and December thirty-first of each year. Blanks for this report shall be furnished by the fish and game commission, and such report shall be rendered to the fish and game commission, not later than the fifteenth day of the month following the months of March, June, September and December of each year. Said reports shall be accompanied by an affidavit by the person or firm purchasing, taking, catching or receiving such fish, to the effect that said report is a true and correct record of all fish caught or received by them (for purposes other than human consumption in its fresh state); and of all mollusks and crustaceans purchased or received from fishermen, or caught by themselves, during the quarterly period covered by the report. Upon the failure of any person operating under a license, as provided in section one of this act, to pay the privilege tax provided herein, said person shall forfeit his license for a period of one year. Said privilege tax shall be paid to the fish and game commission, or some one authorized by them, within thirty days after the close of each quarterly period.

Moneys used for conservation work.

§ 8. All moneys collected from the sale of licenses and from the privilege tax on fish, as herein provided, shall be paid to the fish and game commissioners, or some one designated by them for that purpose and all moneys so collected shall be paid by the fish and game commission into the state treasury, to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund, and shall be expended on conservation work for the benefit of the commercial fishing industries within the districts from which the revenues are derived.

Penalty for violation.

§ 9. The violation of any of the provisions of this act is hereby declared a misdemeanor, and every person violating any of its provisions, shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in a sum not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term of not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred and fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and all fines collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be paid into the state treasury, to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

Repealed.

§ 10. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Modified by the "state market commission act," enacted at same session.—See Act 4875.

FISHING LICENSE ACT OF 1913.

ACT 1692—An act to regulate and license the taking and catching of game fishes and to define game fish and to provide revenue therefrom, for fish preservation and restoration.

History: Approved June 16, 1913. In effect January 1, 1914. Stats. 1913, p. 986. Amended April 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 37.

License to take game fish.

§ 1. Every person over the age of eighteen years who, in the state of California, takes, catches, or kills any game fish for any purpose other than for profit, without first procuring a license therefor, as provided in this act is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Licenses issued by county clerks.

§ 2. Licenses granting the privilege to take, catch or kill game fishes for purposes other than for profit, shall be issued and delivered, upon application, by the county clerk of any of the counties of this state, or by the state board of fish and game commissioners, which board shall prepare suitable licenses of convenient form and size and have printed or stamped thereon the words "Sporting Fishing License No. —, State of California, expires December 31, 19—," with the registration number and appropriate year printed or stamped thereon, which said license shall be prepared and furnished to the county clerks for their own disposition by the state board of fish and game commissioners, which board shall take receipt therefor by number and quantity, from the several county clerks and the county clerks shall be responsible therefor, and shall account for the same to the controller of the state every three months beginning with the first day of January of each year. For each license sold, registered and accounted for by any person, excepting by a fish and game commissioner, he shall be allowed as compensation, for his own use, out of the fish and game preservation fund, ten per cent of the amount accounted for.

Fees for game fish license.

§ 3. Licenses as herein provided for shall be issued as follows:

First—To any citizen of the United States, over the age of eighteen years, who is a bona fide resident of the state of California, upon the payment of one dollar; provided, that licenses shall be issued to veterans of the Civil War free of charge.

Second—To any citizen of the United States, over the age of eighteen years, not a bona fide resident of the state of California, upon the payment of three dollars.

Third—To any person, not a citizen of the United States and over the age of eighteen years, upon the payment of three dollars. [Amendment of April 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 37.]

Facts given by applicant.

§ 4. Every person applying for and securing a license as herein provided, shall furnish to the county clerk and the state board of fish and game commissioners his name and residence address, which information shall be by the clerk or board entered in a book kept for that purpose, and provided by the state board of fish and game commissioners, together with a statement of the date of issuance and the number of the license issued to such person. Such applicant shall also furnish to the county clerk or fish and game commissioners a written description of himself, by age, height, nationality, and color of eyes and hair.

Life of license.

§ 5. All licenses issued as herein provided shall be valid, and shall authorize the person to whom issued to take, catch and kill game fishes in accordance with law, on and from the first day of January of the year in which such license is issued, until the date of expiration written or stamped thereon, but no license shall continue in force for a period longer than one year, nor shall such license be issued to any person unless the holder thereof shall agree to exhibit any game fish in his possession to any regularly appointed deputy fish and game commissioner upon demand, said agreement to be contained in said license.

Only one license to a person.

§ 6. Not more than one license shall be issued to any one person for the same license year, except upon an affidavit by the applicant that the one previously issued has been lost or destroyed, and no license issued as herein provided shall be transferable or used by any other person than the one to whom it was issued.

Must exhibit license or fish.

§ 7. Every person having a license as provided herein must exhibit such license, or any game fish that may be in his possession, upon demand of any officer authorized to enforce the fish and game laws of this state, or any peace officer of the state.

Game fish.

§ 8. For the purposes of this act the following only shall be considered game fishes: Tuna, yellow-tail, jewfish or black sea bass, albicore, barracuda, bonita, rock bass, California whiting, also known as corbina and surf-fish, yellow-fin croaker, spot-fin croaker, salmon, steelhead and other trout, charr whitefish, striped bass and black bass.

Penalty for false statement.

§ 9. Every person who makes any false statement as to any of the facts required by this act, for the purpose of obtaining a license, and every person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five, nor more than one hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term of not less than ten days nor more than one hundred days or by both such fine and imprisonment and shall forfeit such license as may have been obtained, and no new license shall be issued to such person for the remainder of the license year.

Disposition of receipts.

§ 10. All moneys collected from the sale of licenses as provided in this act and all fines and forfeitures imposed and collected for the violation of any of the provisions thereof, shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

Not applicable to game commission.

§ 11. Nothing in this act shall apply to any deputy or employee of the California fish and game commission while employed in taking fish for scientific purposes or for the purposes of propagation under the direction of said commission.

In effect.

§ 12. This act shall take effect January 1, 1914.

This act should be read in connection with the "issuance for resale act" of 1915.—See Act 1692a.

ISSUANCE FOR RESALE ACT OF 1915.

ACT 1692a—An act to regulate the issuance of licenses for resale to hunters and anglers.

History: Approved May 20, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 685. Amended April 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 40; May 18, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 663.

Who may issue hunting and fishing licenses.

§ 1. Licenses granting the privilege to take, catch, hunt or kill fishes, wild mammals or wild birds shall be issued and delivered, upon application in writing, by the county clerk of any of the counties of the state, or by the state board of fish and game commissioners, or by the persons duly appointed and authorized by any such county clerk or the board of fish and game commissioners. [Amendment of May 18, 1917. In effect July 17, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 663.]

This section was also amended April 5, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 40.

Compensation for sale of licenses.

§ 2. For each license sold, registered and accounted for by any person, except by a fish and game commissioner or a deputy or assistant fish and game commissioner paid a salary in full for his services to the state, he shall be allowed as compensation, for his own use, out of the fish and game preservation fund, ten per cent of the amount or amounts accounted for by him. [Amendment of May 18, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 663.]

This section was also amended April 5, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 40.

Bond.

§ 3. Every person authorized to issue and sell licenses under the provisions of this act shall, when required by said board of fish and game commissioners, execute to the fish and game commission a good and sufficient bond in a sum equal to the value of such licenses so delivered to such person to be sold as herein provided, to secure the faithful accounting and payment to the fish and game commission of the funds collected from the sale of such licenses and the faithful performance of the duties imposed upon him by this act, and said board of fish and game commissioners is hereby authorized and empowered to pay the premium on such bond out of the fish and game preservation fund. [Amendment of May 18, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 663.]

This act was also amended April 5, 1917 (in effect July 27, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 40), to read as follows:

Who may issue hunting and fishing licenses.

§ 1. Licenses granting the privilege to take, catch, hunt or kill fishes, wild mammals or wild birds shall be issued and delivered, upon application in writing, by the county clerk of any of the counties of the state, or by the state board of fish and game commissioners, or by the persons duly appointed and authorized by the said county clerks or the board of fish and game commissioners.

Compensation for sale of licenses.

§ 2. For each hunting or angler's license sold, registered and accounted for by any person, except by a fish and game commissioner or a deputy or assistant fish and game commissioner paid a salary in full for his services to the state, he shall be allowed as compensation, for his own use, out of the fish and game preservation fund, ten per cent of the amount or amounts accounted for by him, and for each market fishermen's license hereunder fifty cents.

FISH PROPAGATORS' LICENSE ACT OF 1911.

ACT 1693—An act to authorize and regulate the possession, use, transportation and sale of trout or other fish, by persons engaged in the business of propagating and rearing such fish, and by persons who transport such fish, and by persons who purchase fish so reared.

History: Approved March 17, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 373. Amended May 26, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 940.

Fish culture.

§ 1. Any citizen of the state of California who owns or leases land held in private ownership may establish and maintain thereon ponds for the culture and propagation of trout or other fish subject to all of the provisions contained in this act.

Application for license.

§ 2. Every citizen desiring to propagate and raise domesticated trout or other domesticated fish in any artificial body of water or private hatchery shall file with the fish and game commission a written application for a license so to do. Said application shall state the name, residence and place of business of the applicant and shall set forth the exact description of the land upon which said artificial body of water or private hatchery is to be located and the applicant's title to said land and the kind and number of fish desired to be kept therein. Said application shall be accompanied by a fee of five dollars, which, if such application be granted, shall be paid into the state treasury by the state fish and game commission to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund. [Amendment of May 16, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 941.]

No outlet or inlet.

§ 3. All artificial bodies of water or private hatcheries in which domesticated trout or other domesticated fish may be propagated and raised under the provisions of this act shall be entirely within the exterior boundaries of the land owned or leased by the applicant for said license and there shall be no natural inlet or outlet for the waters contained therein. All artificial inlets and outlets of said artificial bodies of water or private hatcheries must be screened to prevent the ingress or egress of fish to or from any natural body of water. [Amendment of May 26, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 941.]

Granting of license.

§ 4. Upon the receipt of said application the state board of fish and game commissioners shall make an examination of the land and waters described in the said application. All the expenses of the said examination shall be borne by the applicant. If it shall appear that the aforesaid artificial body of water or private hatchery has been constructed and screened according to the provisions of this act and the application is in other respects proper and reasonable, the said fish and game commission shall grant to such applicant a license to propagate and raise domesticated trout or other domesticated fish mentioned in the application and to possess said domesticated trout or other domesticated fish during the entire calendar year. The license shall be posted or displayed in a conspicuous place on the land described in the application and shall expire on the last day of December in each year at midnight.

Permit to import domesticated fish.

Upon obtaining a permit from the fish and game commission domesticated trout or other domesticated fish raised in a regularly licensed hatchery under the laws of any other state may be imported into this state, transported, sold or offered for sale during the entire calendar year upon the payment of a fee of five dollars per year; provided, that such imported domesticated trout or other domesticated fish shall be duly tagged in accordance with the rules and regulations to be prescribed by the fish and game commission. The permit issued under the provisions of this act shall be posted in a conspicuous place in the principal place of business of the person importing such fish and shall expire on the last day of December in each year at midnight. [Amendment of May 26, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 941.]

Domesticated fish may be sold during year.

§ 5. Domesticated trout or other domesticated fish propagated and raised in this state under the license granted in accordance with the provisions of this act may be transported, sold or offered for sale during the entire calendar year when duly tagged according to the rules and regulations to be prescribed by the fish and game commission. [Amendment of May 26, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 942.]

Tags.

§ 6. The fish and game commission will furnish to each person to whom a license or a permit has been issued under the provisions of this act metallic tags inscribed with the letters "C. F. & G. C." Each applicant shall pay to the fish and game commission for such tags the actual cost of said tags. One of each of said tags shall be affixed to each domesticated trout or other domesticated fish raised under the provisions of this act and transported, sold or offered for sale and said tag shall remain so affixed until said domesticated trout or other domesticated fish has been prepared for consumption. The possession of any domesticated trout or other domesticated fish without such tag affixed thereto shall be a violation of this act. Only tags so furnished shall be used; no tag shall be used more than once. [Amendment of May 26, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 942.]

Live trout transported.

§ 7. Live trout, for propagation purposes only, may be transported when accompanied by a permit issued by the fish and game commission, and not otherwise. [Amendment of May 26, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 942.]

Marking of package.

§ 8. Before any domesticated trout, or other domesticated fish named in the aforesaid license or permit, are shipped or transported, the package in which the same are contained must have affixed thereto a tag on which shall be plainly marked the number of pounds and kind of fish contained therein, together with the name and address of the consignee and the consignor, the initial point of billing and the point of destination. [Amendment of May 26, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 942.]

Sale of domesticated fish.

§ 9. Any person may buy, sell or have in possession for sale for use as food at any season of the year any trout, or other domesticated fish, artificially propagated and kept; and provided, also, that the same is tagged as hereinbefore provided. The tag shall be removed only by the consumer, and when removed shall be destroyed. [Amendment of May 26, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 942.]

Report to fish and game commission.

§ 10. Every person receiving a license, as aforesaid, to propagate and raise trout, or other domesticated fish, shall make a written report to the fish and game commission on or before December thirty-first of each year, stating the number and variety of trout, or other fish named in the permit, sold or exchanged, or given away, for use as food, or for propagation or exhibition during the preceding year. [Amendment of May 26, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 943.]

Public nuisance.

§ 11. Any lake, pond, or any body of water maintained in violation of this act shall be deemed a continuing public nuisance, and may be abated as provided by law for the abatement of public nuisances, and each day the same is maintained in violation thereof shall be deemed a separate offense. [Amendment of May 26, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 943.]

Penalty for violation. License revoked.

§ 12. The violation of any of the provisions of this act is hereby declared a misdemeanor and every person violating any of its provisions shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in a sum not less than twenty-five dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term of not less than twenty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and all fines collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be paid into the state treasury, to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

If any person to whom such license or permit shall have been issued, under the provisions of this act, shall be convicted of a violation of any of the fish and game laws of this state, the state board of fish and game commissioners may revoke the license or permit of such person and thereafter no similar license or permit shall be issued to such person. [Amendment of May 26, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 943.]

§ 13. [This section is not referred to in the amending act, but appears as section 11, as amended.]

§ 14. [This section is not referred to in the amending act, but it appears as the first paragraph of section 12, as amended.]

§ 15. This act shall take effect immediately.

Editor's note: The amendatory act of 1917 omits any mention of sections thirteen and fourteen, although section thirteen is incorporated in section eleven, and section fourteen in section twelve, as amended. It seems obvious that it was the legislative purpose, by the amendatory act, to amend the original act entirely, except the title and section one and to make a new act with twelve instead of fourteen sections. Several sections and parts of sections of the original act were consolidated, and, with new matter, made to form practically new sections. For this reason, the original sections thirteen and fourteen are omitted, although nominally, they are still in force.

1. Employee of trout farm not in excluded class under "workmen's compensation act."—An employee of one engaged in the propagation of trout under this act, is not excluded, as a farm laborer, from the benefits of the workmen's compensation act of 1917.—Krobitzsch v. Industrial Accident Commission (Cal.), 185 Pac. 396.

PARASITIC FISH ACT.

ACT 1693a—An act to provide for the protection of fish and to prevent the introduction into this state of parasitized, infected or diseased fish, shellfish, mollusks, crustaceans, amphibians, aquatic plants or aquatic animal life, and declaring the same to be a public nuisance and authorizing the summary destruction of same; providing for a quarantine, for the enforcement of this act, and making a violation of the terms of this act a misdemeanor and providing for a penalty therefor.

History: Approved April 9, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 59.

Importation and transportation of diseased fish, etc. Notice to commission. Penalty.

§ 1. Any person, firm or corporation, who, for the purpose of propagation, receives, brings in, or causes to be brought into the state of California, any fish, shellfish, crustacean, amphibian, mollusk, or the ova of any fish, shellfish, crustacean, amphibian or mollusk, or any aquatic plant, or the seeds of any aquatic plant, from any state, district or foreign country, wherein any infected, diseased or parasitized fish, shellfish, crustaceans, amphibians, mollusks or aquatic plants are known to exist, or who carries or causes to be carried from one point in this state which has been posted according to the provisions of this act to any other point in this state any infected, diseased or parasitized fish, shellfish, crustacean, amphibian or mollusk, or the ova of any such infected, diseased or parasitized fish, shellfish, crustacean, amphibian or mollusk, aquatic plant or seeds of such aquatic plant; any person, firm or corporation who receives, brings or causes to be brought into the state of California for the purpose of propagation any fish, shellfish, crustacean, amphibian, mollusk, aquatic plant or the seeds of any aquatic plant or the ova of any fish, shellfish, crustacean, amphibian or mollusk before notifying the board of fish and game commissioners of the probable date of arrival of such fish, shellfish, crustacean, amphibian, mollusk, aquatic plant or the seeds of any aquatic plant, or who places or causes or suffers to be placed any fish, shellfish, crustacean, amphibian, mollusk, aquatic plant or the seeds of any aquatic plant or the ova of any fish, shellfish, crustacean, amphibian or mollusk, in or into any private or public waters of this state before inspection by the state fish and game commission, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail of the county in which the conviction shall be had, not less than fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

All fines and forfeitures imposed and collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be paid into the state treasury, to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

Inspection by commission.

§ 2. The board of fish and game commissioners, or any deputy fish and game commissioner, is hereby authorized to enter at any time any car, warehouse, depot or upon any ship, within the boundaries of the state of California, whether in the stream, or at the dock, wharf, depot, mole, or any other place, where such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians, crustaceans, aquatic plants, or the seeds of any such aquatic plants, or ova of such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians or crustaceans are held or stored, for the purpose of making an investigation or examination to ascertain whether such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians or crustaceans, aquatic plants or the seeds of any aquatic plants, or ova of such fish, shellfish, mollusks or amphibians are infected, diseased or parasitized.

Destruction of diseased fish, etc.

§ 3. If, after such examination or inspection of any of said fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians, crustaceans, aquatic plants or the seeds of any aquatic plant, or ova of such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians or crustaceans, the same are found to be infected, diseased or parasitized as aforesaid, then the same are hereby declared to be a public nuisance, and it shall be the duty of the state fish and game commissioners to summarily destroy said infected, diseased or parasitized fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians, crustaceans, aquatic plants or the seeds of any aquatic plants, or ova of such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians or crustaceans.

Reshipment of diseased fish, etc.

§ 4. If, after such examination or inspection of any of said fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians, crustaceans, aquatic plants or the seeds of any aquatic plant, or ova of such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians or crustaceans, such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians, crustaceans, aquatic plants, or the seeds of any aquatic plant, or ova of such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians or crustaceans, shall be deemed to be deleterious to any fish, aquatic plant or aquatic animal life of this state, it shall be the duty of the owner, person, firm or corporation having charge or possession thereof to reship said fish, shellfish, mollusk, amphibian, crustacean, aquatic plant or seeds of any aquatic plant, or ova of such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians or crustaceans, within the time ordered by the fish and game commission, or said fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians, crustaceans, aquatic plants or seeds of any aquatic plant, or ova of such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians or crustaceans, shall be destroyed by said fish and game commission.

Notice of diseased areas to be posted and published. Expense of inspection. Tag on package containing fish, etc.

§ 5. If upon examination by the fish and game commission, infected, diseased or parasitized fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians, crustaceans, or aquatic plants, are found growing within this state, the said fish and game commission shall post notices describing as nearly as possible, the boundaries of such areas within which said infected, diseased or parasitized fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians, crustaceans, or aquatic plants are found, and shall state the period during which the taking, carrying and transportation of said infected, diseased or parasitized fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians, crustaceans, or aquatic plants, from said area shall be unlawful. The fact of posting of said notices shall be published once a week for four successive weeks in some newspaper of general circulation in the county in which said infected area is situated, and, if there be no such newspaper in said county, then in a newspaper of general circulation published in an adjoining county.

The expense of any inspection or examination made necessary by the provisions of this act, shall be borne by the owner or owners of said fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians, crustaceans, aquatic plants or the seeds of any aquatic plant, or ova of such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians, and crustaceans, or the person or persons importing same into this state.

Each package containing such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians, crustaceans, aquatic plants or the seeds of any aquatic plants, or ova of such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians and crustaceans, must bear in a conspicuous place a tag containing the name and residence of the consignor and the name and residence of the consignee, and the exact contents of each package.

Repealed.

§ 6. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with any of the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Oysters exempt.

§ 7. None of the provisions of this act shall apply to oysters.

COMMERCIAL FISHERY STATISTICS.

ACT 1693b—An act empowering the state fish and game commission to collect statistical data of the commercial fisheries and to make investigations for the purpose of gaining knowledge for the conservation of the fisheries; providing a system for obtaining an accurate record of each variety of fish caught; providing for the registration of fishing boats and their fishing equipment, and providing penalties for violations of this act.

History: Approved May 25, 1919. In effect July 25, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1201.

Data of commercial fisheries to be gathered.

§ 1. It shall be the duty of the fish and game commission to gather data of the commercial fisheries and to prepare the data so as to show the real abundance of the most important commercial fishes; to make such investigations of the biology of the various species of the fish as will guide in the collection and preparation of the statistical information necessary to determine evidence of overfishing; to make such investigations as will bring to light as soon as possible those evidences of overfishing as are shown by changes in the age groups of any variety of fish; to determine what measures may be advisable to conserve any fishery, or to enlarge and assist any fishery where that may be done without danger to the supply.

Record of fish, etc., received from fishermen. When fish dealer, etc., catches own fish.

§ 2. Every person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of buying, canning, curing or preserving fish, or manufacturing fish meal, fish oil or fish fertilizer, or dealing in fish, mollusks or crustaceans, shall make a legible record in the form of a receipt, said record to be in triplicate carbon copies and on forms to be furnished by the fish and game commission, which shall show the name of the fisherman and boat or the dealer from which the fish, mollusks, or crustaceans were received, together with the date received, the weight of the fish, mollusks or crustaceans by species, the price received by the fishermen and the name of the person receiving same.

It shall be stated in the record for what use the fish are intended, whether to be sold fresh or whether they are to be canned, cured, made into fish meal or fertilizer, or any other disposition is to be made of them, or if a commercial distinction is made between different sizes or qualities of any species or variety, it must be so stated on said record or receipt, and the record shall also state if the fish were taken in foreign waters, or in the high seas off another state or foreign country. The names used in the record for designating the variety or species of fish handled must be the name which is in common usage, and the fish and game commission shall have the power to decide what is the common usage name of any variety.

The original copy of this record shall be delivered to the fisherman at the time of the purchase or receipt of the fish, the duplicate copy shall be kept by the dealer or person receiving the fish and the triplicate copy shall be delivered to the fish and game commission or any duly authorized assistant thereof.

Where a fish dealer, canner or preserver catches his own fish he shall fill out the above record as required when he purchases the fish from fisherman or dealer or if it so desires the fish and game commission may furnish a separate form for such cases. It shall be the duty of the fish and game commission to preserve all such records of the fisheries as are obtained by it in places adequately safeguarded from fire or other destructive agencies and such records are to be kept in such manner as to render them accessible for reference or research, the intention being to guard against the destruction or such neglect of the records as will detract from their future value.

Record of fish caught.

§ 3. Any master of any otter or beam trawl, paranzella net or similar gear taking fish in the public waters of this state, or taking fish by such nets without the state and bringing the same within the state, shall keep a record in a book, to be furnished by said fish and game commission, stating the time and place of each haul made on each trip, the duration of the haul and approximate catch according to species or variety made in each haul, the time of the voyage and the total catch by species as weighed out when landed; provided, further, that where the owner of the vessel or boat is the dealer selling such fish, the information must be kept by the dealer in a form approved by the fish and game commission.

Annual statement of fish canneries.

§ 4. Every person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of canning, curing or preserving fish or manufacturing fishery products from fish or fish offal, shall render on or before the fifteenth day after the last day of each calendar year for the preceding year, a statement on forms to be furnished by the board of fish and game commissioners, showing name of person, firm or corporation, location of plant, kind of business, capital invested, number of persons employed, number of months operating, the amount and kind of fishery products canned, preserved or manufactured.

Annual statement of fishing boat owners.

§ 5. Every person, firm or corporation owning or operating any boat engaged in the business of fishing for profit in the public waters of this state or who catch fish without the state and bring them into the state, shall on or before April first of each calendar year, file with the board of fish and game commissioners on a form to be provided by the fish and game commission, a statement giving the dimensions of the fishing boat or boats operated by said person, firm or corporation, together with the motive power, number in crew, equipment and description of fishing gear.

Right to enter premises. Penalty.

§ 6. The board of fish and game commissioners or their duly appointed agent shall have the right to board any fishing boat, or enter any place of business where fish are sold fresh, or canned, or cured, or any reduction works, or place of business where fish meal is made, and to examine any and all books and records containing any account of fish caught, bought or sold.

Every person violating any of the provisions of this act, or who fails to permit an inspection as provided in section six of this act, or refuses to produce any books or records containing any record of fish bought or sold shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished by a fine not less than one hundred dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail in the county in which the conviction shall be had, not less than fifty days, nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. All fines and forfeitures imposed and collected under this act shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

FISH SUPPLY CONSERVATION.

ACT 1693c—An act to conserve the fish supply in California by empowering the fish and game commission to regulate and control the handling of fish or other fishery products for the purpose of preventing deterioration or waste; to establish grades to which the fish or other fishery products offered for delivery to canners or preservers or to the fresh fish market must conform; to make regulations to insure the proper handling and delivery of fish or fishery products to canners, preservers or fresh fish dealers; to regulate and control the use of fish or other fishery products for reduction purposes, and to provide penalties for any violation of any of the provisions of this act.

History: Approved May 25, 1919. In effect July 25, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1203.

Jurisdiction over fish industry.

§ 1. The fish and game commission is hereby vested with jurisdiction to regulate and control fishing boats, barges, lighters or tenders, commercial fishermen, fish canners, packers or preservers, fish reduction plants, dealers in fish, mollusks or crustaceans or other fishery products, in so far as it may be necessary to insure the taking, catching and delivery of the fish or other fishery products in a wholesome and sanitary condition to canning, packing and preserving plants or to any fresh fish dealer, and to prevent deterioration and waste of fish or other fishery products. Any fish and game commissioner or duly appointed assistant or employee of the fish and game commission shall have the authority to enter any canning, packing, preserving or reduction plant, or place of business where fish or other fishery products are packed or preserved, bought or sold, or to board any fishing boat, barge, lighter or tender for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act.

Establishment of grades.

§ 2. The fish and game commission may establish grades for different varieties of fish or other fishery products, which said grades must be reached and conformed to by the commercial fishermen who deliver fish or other fishery products to canners, packers or preservers of fish or to fresh fish dealers, or to reduction plants, and every canner, packer or preserver of fish or fish dealer or owner of reduction plant must conform to such grade.

Enforcement.

§ 3. The fish and game commission is hereby vested with full power, authority and jurisdiction to make and enforce such regulations as may be necessary or convenient for carrying out any power, authority or jurisdiction conferred under this act.

Disposal of waste.

§ 4. No person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of catching, buying, selling, canning, packing or preserving fish, shall suffer or permit, or cause any preventable deterioration, or wilfully do any act that might cause deterioration or waste of any fish caught or taken within or without the waters of this state and brought into this state, and no person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of catching, buying, selling, canning, packing or preserving fish or other fishery products shall sell or offer for sale or delivery, or deliver any fish or other fishery products, to any reduction plant or divert fish or other fishery products for reduction purposes without first having written permission from the fish and game commission, and no reduction plant shall accept or receive any fish, other than fish offal, from any person, firm or corporation without such written permission.

Canneries, etc., may not take more fish than can be handled.

§ 5. No person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of taking or catching fish or other fishery products shall take, catch or kill more fish or other fishery products than the boat or boats operated by said person, firm or corporation can handle without preventable deterioration, waste or spoilage, and no person preserving fish or other fishery products shall accept or receive or agree to accept or receive more fish or other fishery products than the canning, packing or preserving plant or plants of such person, firm or corporation can handle without preventable deterioration, waste or spoilage, and no person dealing in fish shall take, catch or kill, accept or receive, or agree to accept or receive, more fish or other fishery products than such person, firm or corporation is able to handle without preventable deterioration, waste or spoilage.

Complaint of violation of act. Hearing.

§ 6. Complaint may be made by any officer charged with the enforcement of the fish and game laws, or any person having knowledge of a violation, against any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act or violating any of the rules or regulations made by the fish and game commission under the provisions of this act. Said complaints shall be in writing, setting forth the particular offense charged to have been committed, a copy of which shall be filed with the board of fish and game commissioners and a copy served on said offender, together with a notice setting forth the time and place of hearing, which hearing must be held in the county in which said violation is alleged to have been committed. The person, firm or corporation charged must appear and answer either in person or by attorney, and either orally or in writing, within five days after notice having been served. If the person charged fails to appear or appears and denies the charge, the board of fish and game commissioners or any deputy or employee appointed by said board of fish and game commissioners to take testimony, shall proceed to hear the testimony offered and if the person, firm or corporation so charged is found guilty of the offense charged, the board of fish and game commissioners may suspend for a period not to exceed ninety days, any license issued by any state board or officer to such person, firm or corporation, to take, catch, kill, buy, sell, can or preserve fish or fishery products, and no license shall be issued during such period of suspension.

Each member of the board of fish and game commissioners or any of the deputies or employees designated to take testimony at the hearing provided herein shall have power to administer oaths, take affidavits and issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses at such hearing.

Superior court may compel attendance of witnesses.

The superior court in and for the county, or city and county in which any proceeding may be held under the authority of this section, shall have power to compel the attendance of witnesses, the giving of testimony, and the production of papers, as required by any subpoena issued under authority of this section. The fish and game commission, or representative of the commission before whom the testimony is to be given or produced may in the case of refusal of any witness to attend or testify or produce any papers required by such subpoena, report to the superior court in which the proceeding is pending by petition setting forth that due notice has been given of the time and place of the attendance of said witness or the production of said papers and that the witness has been summoned in the manner prescribed in this act and that the witness has failed and refused to attend or produce the papers required by the subpoena before the commission or its representatives, in the case or proceeding named in the notice of time and place of hearing and subpoena, or has refused to answer questions propounded to him in the course of said proceeding, and ask an order of said court to compel the witness to attend and testify or produce said papers before the commission or its representatives.

Order directing witness to appear.

The court upon the petition of the commission or its representatives, shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court at any time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, the time to be not more than ten days from the date of the order, and then and there show cause why he has not attended and testified or produced said papers before the commission or its representatives. A copy of said order shall be served upon said witness. If it shall appear to the court that said subpoena was regularly issued by the commission or its representatives the court shall thereupon enter an order that said witness shall appear before the commission or its representatives at the time and place entered in said order, and testify or produce the required papers, and upon failure to obey said witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court.

Taking of depositions of witnesses.

The commission or its representatives, or any party designated by the fish and game commission, may in any investigation or hearing before the commission, or its representatives, cause the deposition of witnesses, residing within or without the state, to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for like depositions in civil actions in the superior courts of this state, and to that end may compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents and papers.

"FISH AND GAME PRESERVATION FUND."

ACT 1694—An act to create a fish [and] game preservation fund and to unite the "fish commission fund," and the "game preservation fund" into a common fund to be known as "fish and game preservation fund."

History: Approved March 15, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 392. Amended April 8, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 807.

Creation of fund. Where kept. To what applicable.

§ 1. There is hereby created a fund to be known as and called "fish and game preservation fund" which said fund shall be kept in the state treasury, and shall be applicable to the payment of the expense of propagating, protecting, restoring and introducing fish in the public waters of this state, and to the propagation, protection, restoration and transferring of game birds and animals in the state, and to the introduction of game birds and animals into the state, and to the payment of the expenses incurred in the prosecution of offenders against the fish and game, and fish and game license laws of the state, and for the cost of acquisition, construction and maintenance of fish hatcheries in the state, and to all other necessary expenses, approved by the fish and game commissioners. [Amendment approved April 8, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 807.]

Definition of terms.

§ 2. Wherever the term "fish commission fund," and "game preservation fund" appears in any of the codes or statutes of this state, it shall be deemed and construed to be "fish and game preservation fund" herein created, and all moneys now in said funds shall be transferred to the fish and game preservation fund.

Repeal of conflicting acts.

§ 3. All acts and parts of act[s] so far as they conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

DISPOSITION OF FINES AND FORFEITURES.

ACT 1694a—An act providing for the disposition of fines and forfeitures collected in all prosecutions for violations of the laws of the state referring to wild birds, wild mammals and fishes.

History: Approved May 20, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 685.

Disposition of fines collected for violation of fish and game laws.

§ 1. All fines and forfeitures imposed or collected in any of the courts of this state for violations of any of the laws or acts providing for the protection or preservation of any of the wild birds, wild mammals or fishes, shall be paid by the court imposing or collecting the same into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

§ 2. All acts or parts of acts in so far as they conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

FISH AND GAME DISTRICT ACT OF 1917.

ACT 1696—An act to divide the state of California into fish and game districts and to repeal an act entitled "An act to divide the state of California into fish and game districts and to repeal an act entitled 'An act to divide the state of California into six fish and game districts,' approved March 21, 1911, and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved May 15, 1915.

History: Approved May 28, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1047. Amended May 13, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 427. Prior act of March 21, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 425, amended entirely June 16, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 988. Repealed by the act of May 19, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 589, which was in turn repealed by the present act.

State divided into fish and game districts.

Repealed.

§ 55. An act entitled "An act to divide the state of California into fish and game districts and to repeal an act entitled 'An act to divide the state of California into six fish and game districts,' approved March 21, 1911, and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved May 15, 1915, and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

1. Constitutionality—Subject not covered by title.—The amending act of 1913, purporting to add a new section to the act of 1911, is unconstitutional because, while amending and changing every section in the original act, and dividing the state into fish and game districts, the title contained nothing to indicate the true character of the amendment.—In re Mascolo, 25 Cal. App. 92, 142 Pac. 903.

2. Adoption of section 25½, article IV, constitution—Withdrawal of power from local authorities.—The adoption of section 25½ of article IV of the constitution, providing for fish protection and fish districts, operated to withdraw whatever power may have been granted to local authorities by section 11, article XI, of the constitution, and vested it in the legislature, and that body now has exclusive power over the entire subject, by virtue of the first-named section.—In re Cencinino, 31 Cal. App. 238, 160 Pac. 167.

"MOUNT TAMALPAIS GAME REFUGE."

ACT 1696a—An act to further divide the state into fish and game districts by establishing a district specially suited for propagation of game, and to provide for the management and protection thereof.

History: Approved May 26, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1166. Amended May 13, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 521.

"Mount Tamalpais game refuge" created. Boundaries.

§ 1. For the protection, conservation and propagation of game animals, except fish, there is hereby set apart and established a district to be known as "Mount Tamalpais game refuge," the boundaries of which are hereby determined to be as follows, to wit: All that certain territory within the county of Marin, bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at the intersection of the easterly shore of inner Bolinas bay with the northwesterly boundary line, extended, of the Stinson ranch conveyed to A. H. Stinson et al., by decree of distribution dated the twenty-eighth day of July, 1911, and recorded in the office of the county recorder of Marin county in book one hundred thirty-seven of deeds at page one hundred two; thence northeasterly along the said northwesterly boundary line to the southwesterly boundary line of the lands of the Marin municipal water district on the top of Bolinas ridge, thence along the exterior boundary of the lands of said district in such a way as to include the same, to a point in the abandoned portion of the Fairfax and Bolinas county road; thence northerly along the said road and along the Fairfax and Bolinas county road, to a point in the southwesterly line of the right of way of the Northwestern Pacific railroad company near Fairfax station; thence along the said last mentioned line in a southerly direction past the railroad stations at San Anselmo, Kentfield and Corte Madera, to its intersection with Humboldt street on the westerly boundary of the lands of the Sausalito land and ferry company, as said street is laid down and delineated on the official map of said lands filed in the office of the county recorder of Marin county in rack number one, pull number nine; thence southerly along the westerly line of said Humboldt street and the westerly line of Tennessee avenue of the same tract, to the corner common to ranches, E, F, and A as said ranches are delineated on the Tamalpais land and water company's map number three, filed in said recorder's office in map book number one, page one hundred four; thence southwesterly along the southeasterly boundary lines of ranches E, L, and K, as shown on said last mentioned map, to the shore of the Pacific ocean; thence northwesterly along the shore of the Pacific ocean and across the easterly end of the Bolinas sandspit, and along the easterly shore of inner Bolinas bay, to the point of beginning, excepting from the area of said Mount Tamalpais game refuge all lands lying within the exterior boundaries of any incorporated town.

No open season.

§ 2. The provisions of law for the protection of fish in the second fish and game district of this state shall be enforced within said Mount Tamalpais game refuge and there shall be no open season therein for any game animals except fish.

Unlawful to kill game birds or animals. Firearms, etc.

§ 3. It shall be unlawful within said territory at any time:

(a) To hunt, pursue, take, kill or destroy any game birds or animals, except to capture the same to be set at liberty elsewhere, as hereinafter specially provided;

(b) To hunt, pursue, take, kill, or destroy any other wild birds or animals except as hereinafter provided;

Game animals defined.

(c) For any person to have in his possession any firearm, trap or other contrivance designed to be used to kill, destroy or capture game animals except fish, without first having obtained a permit so to do from the fish and game commission of this state; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall prohibit the lawful occupant of any privately owned lands within said district, or his employees at the direction of said occupant, from killing ground-squirrels, gophers, owls, hawks, blue jays, skunks and other destructive animals which are not game animals as hereinafter defined that may be on the land of said occupant; and provided further, that nothing in this subdivision "c" contained shall apply to persons traveling upon any public highways within said territory, nor to members of the organized militia while on the state rifle range, nor to members of any high school militia while on the grounds of the high school at which time they may be enrolled. The term game animals used herein is intended to include all birds and animals which are protected or fostered by any of the laws of this state.

Power of fish and game commission.

§ 4. The fish and game commission of the state of California shall have power;

(a) To exercise control over all game animals on all lands within the boundaries of said game refuge.

(b) To accept, on behalf of the state, donations of ownership or leasehold interest of any lands within the boundaries of said game refuge, to be used for the furtherance of the objects of protecting, feeding, or propagating game.

(c) To accept, on behalf of the state, donations of game birds and animals, and of money given or appropriated for protection, feeding, or propagation of game in said district, and to use the same for the said purposes, and as nearly as may be, for any particular purpose indicated by the donor.

(d) To make additional rules and regulations, not in conflict with this act or other statutes of the state, for the protection and propagation of game in said district.

(e) To issue in their discretion, and under such restrictions as they may deem best, permits for carrying, using, or having in possession within said district, firearms, traps, or other instruments or means for killing or taking birds or animals; but no such permits shall allow any person to hunt, kill, destroy or take any game birds or animals; and no hunting, killing or destruction of wild birds or animals, other than game birds or animals, within said Mount Tamalpais game refuge shall be allowed, by game wardens or by persons holding special permits for the purpose; and persons holding such special permits shall be allowed so to hunt, kill, or destroy only when accompanied by a member of the fish and game commission, or by an authorized deputy thereof, or by the sheriff or a deputy sheriff of Marin county, except the lawful occupants of said lands and their employees shall not be required to obtain permits for the purpose of killing ground squirrels, gophers, owls, hawks, blue jays, skunks or other destructive animals which are not game animals as in this act defined.

Penalty.

§ 5. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding one hundred fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. [Amendment of May 13, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 521.]

Duty of officers.

§ 6. It shall be the duty of the fish and game commission of the state of California and of its deputies, and also of the district attorney, and of the sheriff, and of all other peace officers of Marin county to enforce all the provisions of this act, and to institute and assist in prosecutions for violations thereof.

County appropriation.

§ 7. Any county may, in the discretion of its board of supervisors, appropriate and pay to the fish and game commission of the state of California, funds to be used by them, as provided in subdivision "c" of section four hereof.

REGULATING SALMON FISHERIES ON EEL RIVER.

ACT 1723—An act to regulate salmon fisheries on Eel river in Humboldt county.

History: Approved April 18, 1859, Stats. 1859, p. 298. Continued in force: See Kerr's Cyc. Political Code, § 19, and Kerr's Cyc. Penal Code, § 23.

1. Right of fishery—Riparian owner.—As to the rights of owners of land along the banks of Eel river to the fishing privileges under the act, where, subsequent to the acquisition of title the channel of the river was changed as the result of a freshet, and the owner of one bank has a bar or grade suitable for landing nets or seines or nets, and the owner of the opposite bank has a bold, abrupt shore.—See Heckman v. Swett, 99 Cal. 303, 33 Pac. 1099; Same v. Same, 107 Cal. 276, 40 Pac. 420.

See, also, Heckman v. Swett, 4 Cal. Unrep. 312, 33 Pac. 1099.

2. Same—Same.—The right of fishery under sections 2, 3 and 4, of the act is a right appurtenant to the land, and the ownership of the land is inseparable from the fishing privilege.—Heckman v. Swett, 99 Cal. 303, 33 Pac. 1099; Same v. Same, 107 Cal. 276, 40 Pac. 420.

See, also, Heckman v. Swett, 4 Cal. Unrep. 312, 33 Pac. 1099.

3. Same—Same.—The right of fishery under the act can not be acquired by prescription apart from the ownership of the land to which it is appurtenant, and a finding that defendants have occupied and used the shore for fishing exclusively for more than five years next before the commencement of the suit, under a claim of title, will not support a judgment in their favor of title by prescription.—Heckman v. Swett, 99 Cal. 303, 33 Pac. 1099; Same v. Same, 107 Cal. 276, 40 Pac. 420.

See, also, Heckman v. Swett, 4 Cal. Unrep. 312, 33 Pac. 1099.

4. Same—Trespasser.—Under section 5 of the act it is made a misdemeanor to exercise the right of fishery in Eel river, he having no such right, and title by prescription can not be acquired by a trespasser.—Heckman v. Swett, 99 Cal. 303, 33 Pac. 1099.

See, also, Heckman v. Swett, 4 Cal. Unrep. 312, 33 Pac. 1099.

5. Act not repealed by code provisions.—The act was not repealed by sections 634 to 636, Penal Code.—Heckman v. Swett, 107 Cal. 276, 40 Pac. 420.

6. Applies to salmon fishing only.—The act deals only with the salmon fishing, and a judgment enjoining one without the right of fishery under the act from casting any nets in the waters fronting plaintiff's lands is too broad and should be limited to enjoining the casting of nets for salmon.—Heckman v. Swett, 107 Cal. 276, 40 Pac. 420.

PRESERVATION OF FISH IN LAKE BIGLER.

ACT 1724—An act for the preservation of fish in the waters of Lake Bigler.

History: Approved March 30, 1878, Stats. 1877-78, p. 746.

Catching fish, except by hook and line, in Lake Bigler.

§ 1. It shall not be lawful for any person or persons to catch or kill any fish in the waters of Lake Bigler, or in any stream leading into or from said Lake Bigler, with any seine, gill-net, spear, wire fence, basket, trap-set net, or dam, or any poisonous, deleterious or stupefying drug or explosive compound, or any other implement or appliance, except by means of a hook and line.

Penalty.

§ 2. ACT 1741—An act to create a preserve for crabs within Eel river and the entrance thereto and Humboldt and Trinidad bays and the waters of the Pacific ocean adjacent thereto, and to regulate the taking of crabs from such preserve for commercial purposes.

History: Approved March 13, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 298.

§ 1. A preserve for crabs is hereby created which shall consist of Eel river and the entrance thereto and Humboldt bay and Trinidad bay and the waters of the Pacific ocean adjacent to said bays within the limit of two miles from the inside shore line of each of said bays.

§ 2. It shall be unlawful to fish for, catch, take, or remove any crabs for commercial purposes from the preserve hereby created; provided, however, that during the open season for crabs as now or which may be hereafter defined by law, crabs may be taken and removed from the preserve hereby created during the day of Thursday of each and every week, and at no other time.

§ 3. Any person violating the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding five hundred dollars or imprisonment in the county jail for a term not exceeding ninety days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 4. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

SHELLFISH PRESERVE IN MONTEREY BAY.

ACT 1742—An act to create a preserve for shellfish and invertebrate animals within a portion of the bay of Monterey and to prohibit taking the same from such preserve for commercial purposes.

History: Approved March 21, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 758. Entire act except the title amended June 16, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 980.

This entire act except title, was amended in 1913 (Stats. 1913, p. 980) as follows:

Shellfish preserve in Monterey bay created.

§ 1. A preserve for all kinds of shellfish and invertebrate animals, except squid and devilfish, is hereby created, which shall consist of that portion of the bay of Monterey bounded and described as follows: Commencing at the extreme point of Point Pinos at the southern entrance to Monterey bay and running thence in a straight line easterly to the eastern shore of said bay to a point north of the town of Seaside, said point being marked by a permanent monument placed by the United States government surveyors and designated as "Monterey N. O. T. C. & G. S. Sta."; thence following the shore line on and around the southerly side of said bay to the place of beginning.

Fishing prohibited.

§ 2. No person shall fish for, catch, take or remove any shellfish or invertebrate animals of any kind, other than squid and devilfish, for commercial purposes from the preserve hereby created.

Penalty.

§ 3. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail of the county in which conviction shall be had of not less than ten days nor more than one hundred and fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Disposition of fines.

§ 4. All fines and forfeitures imposed and collected for any violation of the provisions of this act shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

ACT 1743—An act to provide for the transfer to the state of California by owners of patented lands therein of the right to preserve and protect wild game on such patented lands; to define the duties of the state board of fish commissioners in relation to the control of such rights, and to declare the hunting of wild game within the exterior boundaries of the land to which such right attaches, a misdemeanor.

History: Approved March 21, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 788. Amended March 20, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 518; June 16, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 992.

Transfer of land for game preserve authorized. Unlawful to take game. Notices.

§ 1. Any person, firm or corporation, owning and in possession of patented lands in the state of California, embracing an area of not less than one hundred and sixty acres, may transfer, by an instrument in writing duly acknowledged before an officer authorized under the laws of this state to take acknowledgments, to the state of California, the right to preserve and protect all wild game on the land described therein for a period of not less than ten years. Such instrument shall be filed with the state board of fish commissioners; whereupon such board may in its discretion declare the lands described in such instrument a state game preserve, and thereafter for the period named therein, shall, for all the purposes relating to the preservation and protection of wild game, be under the control of said board. Such preserve shall be numbered in the order of the filing of the instrument of transfer thereof. A copy of the declaration establishing the same shall, under the seal of said board, be issued to such person, firm or corporation, transferring the right therefor. During the period named in such instrument it shall be unlawful for any person to hunt, pursue, shoot, take, kill or destroy any wild game within the exterior boundaries thereof. The state board of fish commissioners shall cause to be prepared suitable notices to be posted under its direction on each state game preserve and such notice shall describe the lands constituting the same, and shall contain a warning to all persons to refrain for the period named therein from violations of the provisions of this act; provided, however, that no provision in this act contained shall be construed as prohibiting or preventing any person or persons from hunting or taking fish and wild game from or on navigable water; and provided, further, that the word "lands," as used in this section, shall not be construed to include any land which is covered and uncovered by the ordinary daily tide of the Pacific ocean. [Amendment of June 16, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 992.]

This section was also amended March 10, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 518.

Control of state game preserves.

§ 2. All state game preserves established under the provisions of this act shall for all purposes of preservation and protection of wild game thereon, be under the control and management of the state board of fish commissioners, and the said board, its officers and employees, and all game wardens, may at all times enter in and upon such preserves, in the performance of their duties. The said board may establish such regulations as may, in its judgment, be necessary for the preservation and protection of the wild game on such preserves, and for that purpose may direct and authorize game wardens or other officers to execute such regulations. All expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of this act and the regulations that may be established thereunder, shall be a charge against and paid out of the "game preservation fund" established under an act entitled "An act to regulate and license the hunting of game birds and animals and to provide revenue therefrom, for game preservation and restoration and to make appropriations for the purpose of carrying out the objects of this act."

Penalty for hunting or destroying game within.

§ 3. The hunting, pursuing, shooting, taking, killing or destroying of any wild game within the exterior boundaries of any state game preserve established under the provisions of this act, is hereby declared a misdemeanor, and all fines collected in any prosecution therefor shall be paid into said "game preservation fund."

§ 4. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

PROTECTION OF FUR-BEARING ANIMALS.

ACT 1744—An act to provide for the protection of fur-bearing mammals, defining fur-bearing mammals, providing for a license for hunting or trapping such fur-bearing mammals and requiring reports to be filed with the fish and game commission.

History: Approved May 18, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 653. Amended May 13, 1919. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1919, p. 388.

Killing fur-bearing mammal.

§ 1. Every person who, between the last day of February and the fifteenth day of October of any year, traps, hunts, takes or kills any fur-bearing mammal is guilty of a misdemeanor. [Amendment of May 13, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 389.]

Killing otherwise than by trap or gun.

§ 2. Every person who at any time takes, hunts or kills any fur-bearing mammal in any manner other than by trap or gun, or who shall at any time take or kill any skunk by digging or driving them from dens or by use of chemicals is guilty of a misdemeanor.

The title of the amending act of May 13, 1919 (Stats. 1919, p. 388), recites that this section is amended, but no such amendment appears in the body of the act.

Unlawful to use poison.

§ 3. It shall be unlawful for any person to use poison of any kind in the taking or killing of any fur-bearing mammal; provided, however, that the fish and game commission may in its discretion issue to any person a permit to use poison in the taking or killing of any such mammal upon an application therefor, which application shall contain detailed information concerning the kind of poison desired to be used and when and where it is desired to use the same; provided, further, that such fur-bearing mammals injuring any property may be taken or killed at any time in any manner.

Trapping without license.

§ 4. Every person in the state of California over the age of eighteen who traps for profit any fur-bearing mammals without first procuring a license therefor as provided by this act is guilty of a misdemeanor. [Amendment of May 13, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 389.]

Licenses to trap for profit.

§ 5. Licenses granting the privilege to trap for profit any fur-bearing mammals shall be issued by the state board of fish and game commissioners, who shall prepare suitable licenses of convenient size and form and have printed thereon the words "Trapping License No., State of California. Expires June 30, 191....," with registration number and appropriate year printed or stamped thereon, which said license shall be prepared by the state board of fish and game commissioners, which board shall account for same to the controller of the state.

Fees.

§ 6. Licenses herein provided for shall be issued as follows: (1) To any citizen of the United States upon payment of one dollar; (2) to any person not a citizen of the United States upon payment of two dollars; provided, however, that any veteran of the civil war by applying to the state board of fish and game commissioners may obtain a license without the payment of any fee. [Amendment of May 13, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 389.]

Name, address, etc., furnished.

§ 7. Every person applying for and procuring a license as herein provided shall furnish to the state board of fish and game commissioners his name and resident address. Such applicant shall also furnish to the board of fish and game commissioners a written description of himself by age, height, nationality, color of eyes and hair and shall also give information relative to the sections of the state in which he intends to trap.

Term.

§ 8. All licenses issued as herein provided shall be valid and shall authorize the person to whom issued to trap fur-bearing mammals for profit on and from the first day of July of the year in which said license is issued until the date of expiration written or stamped thereon, but no license shall continue in force for a longer period than one year.

Statement of mammals taken.

§ 9. Every person to whom a license is issued, under the provisions of this act, must, before the first day of July following the date issued, send to the fish and game commission a sworn statement showing the number of each kind of fur-bearing mammals taken together with the name and address of the firm or person to whom they were shipped or sold. A new license can not be granted unless this provision is complied with; provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to persons eighteen years of age or under.

What are fur-bearing mammals.

§ 10. For the purpose of this act, the following shall be considered fur-bearing mammals: Black and brown bear, ring-tailed cat, coon, pine martin, fisher, wolverine, mink, skunk, river otter, grey, cross, silver and red fox.

Moneys credited to game preservation fund.

§ 11. All moneys collected from licenses as provided herein and all fines collected for violations of the provisions hereof shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to the game preservation fund.

No more than one license.

§ 12. Not more than one license shall be issued to any one person for the same fiscal year except upon an affidavit by the applicant that the one issued has been lost or destroyed and no license issued as herein provided shall be transferable or used by any other person than the one to whom it was issued.

Disturbing traps.

§ 13. Every person who shall disturb or remove the traps of any licensed trapper while trapping on the public domain or on lands where he has permission to trap is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Refusal to exhibit license.

§ 14. Every person having a license as provided herein who refuses to exhibit such license or any furs that may be in his possession or control upon the demand of any officer authorized to enforce the game and fish laws of this state or any peace officer of the state shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and every person lawfully having such license who transfers or disposes of same to another person to be used as a trapping license or who violates any of the laws for the protection of game shall forfeit the same.

Penalty.

§ 15. Every person violating any of the provisions of this act shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars or more than one hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term of not less than ten or more than one hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Propagation in confinement.

§ 16. Nothing in this act shall prohibit the propagation of fur-bearing mammals in confinement in accordance with any rules and regulations that may be specified by the fish and game commission. [New section added May 13, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 389.]

CONTAMINATED SOURCES OF SHELLFISH.

ACT 1745—An act empowering the state board of health to examine sources from which shellfish are taken; making it unlawful to take shellfish from contaminated sources if determined by said board to be a menace to health; making violations of this act misdemeanors and providing for the punishment of same.

History: Approved April 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 42.

Taking of oysters, etc., unlawful, when.

§ 1. It shall be unlawful to take oysters, clams, quahaugs, mussels or other shellfish used or intended to be used for human consumption from any tidal waters, flats, areas or sources from which the taking of such shellfish shall be determined to be a menace to health as hereinafter provided.

Examination of tidal waters by state board of health. Posting of notices.

§ 2. The state board of health may and is hereby empowered to examine any tide waters, flats, areas or sources from which oysters, clams, quahaugs, mussels or other shellfish may be taken, and to determine whether such waters, flats, areas or sources are subject to sewage contamination, and to determine whether the taking of such shellfish from such waters, flats, areas or sources does or may constitute a menace to the lives and health of human beings. Upon the determination by said state board of health that such waters, flats, areas or sources are or may be subject to sewage contamination and that the taking of shellfish therefrom does or may constitute a menace to the lives and health of human beings, said board shall ascertain as accurately as may be the bounds of such contamination, and shall cause the posting of notices prohibiting the taking of shellfish from such sources and describing the bounds of the tidal flats, waters, areas or sources from which the taking of shellfish shall be unlawful. The fact of the posting of such notices shall be published once a week for four successive weeks in some newspaper of general circulation, published in the county in which such waters, flats, areas or sources are situated, if there be one, and if there be none, then in a newspaper published in an adjoining county.

Enforcement.

§ 3. It shall be the duty of the state board of health to enforce the provisions of this act and its inspectors and employees are hereby empowered to enter upon public or private property upon which shellfish may be located at all times for the purposes of this act.

Penalty.

§ 4. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment for a term of not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, but such penalties shall not be incurred until the fact of such prohibition shall have been published for four successive weeks, as above provided. Each day's violation shall constitute a separate and distinct offense.

FREE CAMPING GROUND IN PLACER COUNTY.

ACT 1746—An act to authorize the state board of fish and game commissioners to prepare and maintain free camping grounds on land in Placer county belonging to the state of California and to adopt and enforce regulations pertaining thereto.

History: Approved May 13, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 522.

Free camping grounds in Placer county. Rules and regulations. Removal of hatchery.

§ 1. The state board of fish and game commissioners is hereby authorized and directed to prepare as a free camping ground for the people of the state of California that certain property situated in the county of Placer, state of California, and bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Lot seven of Bittencourt tract, as per plat of said tract recorded in book "A" of field notes or town plats, pages eighty-four and eighty-five, Placer county records.

The said commission is directed to prepare such portion of said land for camping purposes for the summer season of the year nineteen hundred nineteen, as shall be suitable for such purposes, and as shall not interfere with the state fish hatchery now on said land or the pollution of waters used to supply said hatchery.

The commission is hereby authorized to establish rules and regulations for the government of such camping ground, to the end that the greatest number of people can avail themselves of the privileges of the ground, and may regulate the time when and for which any person may have the use of any portion of such ground for camping purposes. All expense in maintaining said camping ground shall be paid from the state fish and game preservation fund, and for the purposes of enforcing the rules and regulations by said commission, pursuant to this act, the state fish and game commissioners, their deputies and employees, are hereby vested with the power and authority of peace officers.

As soon as practicable, the fish and game commission shall remove the hatchery now on the above described land to another site, and thereafter such additional portion of such land as is available and suitable for camping purposes, shall be placed in condition for camping purposes.

GRANT OF FRANCHISES BY MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS.ACT 1759—An act concerning gas companies.

History: Approved April 4, 1870, Stats. 1869-70, p. 815. Continued in force, see Kerr's Cyc. Political Code, § 19, and Kerr's Cyc. Penal Code, § 23. Superseded as to contracts with municipal corporations by the act of 1895, Stats. 1895, p. 191, and as to the granting of franchises, as well as the power of contract, it was probably superseded by section 19, article XI, constitution. See notes.

This act was apparently treated as in force in Dobbins v. Los Angeles, 139 Cal. 179, 96 Am. St. Rep. 95, 72 Pac. 970.

REGULATING USE OF ILLUMINATING GAS.ACT 1760—An act to regulate the use of illuminating gas.*History: Approved March 20, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 289.Gas not to be turned off at meter.

§ 1. Every hotel-keeper, lodging-house keeper, and in-keeper, or keeper of any place where rooms are let to lodgers in which, or any of which such places illuminating-gas is used, who shall turn off, or cause to be turned off at the meter the flow of such illuminating-gas, during the time of the use of any such room or rooms, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, however, that this act shall not apply to any of the persons herein enumerated, when such person or persons shall have connected every exit orifice upon the gas-fixtures used in such place or places with a practical and safe automatic gas-igniter.

Act takes effect when.

§ 2. This act shall take effect and be in force immediately from and after its passage.

STANDARD OF ILLUMINATING POWER ACT.ACT 1761—An act to regulate the quality and standard illuminating power and the price of gas in all cities within the state of California having a population of one hundred thousand or more.*History: Approved March 4, 1878, Stats. 1877-78, p. 167.Quality and price of gas to be fixed by whom.

§ 1. That in all cities in the state of California having a population of one hundred thousand or more, the local legislative body thereof, whether known and designated as the board of supervisors, or board of aldermen, or common council, or board of trustees, or otherwise, are hereby authorized and required to fix the standard quality and illuminating power of gas to be furnished, and the rate and price for each one thousand cubic feet to be charged therefor by any person, company, or corporation whose pipes or mains are or shall be laid down in the streets or highways of such city, for the purpose of supplying gas for the use of such city, or for the inhabitants thereof, or for such city and its inhabitants; provided, however, that said board or local authority shall not fix or establish the standard quality and illuminating power of gas in such city at less than sixteen candle-power, or such that five cubic feet of gas per hour so furnished shall give light at least equal to that afforded by the combustion of sixteen standard sperm candles consuming one hundred and twenty grains of sperm each per hour, the burner to be used in making such test to be that best adapted to the economical consumption of gas; and provided, further, that such board of supervisors, or local legislative authority, by whatever name it may be known, shall not fix or establish the rate or price of gas so furnished to such city or its inhabitants at any greater price or rate than three dollars per thousand cubic feet.

Mayor to appoint an inspector.

§ 2. It shall be the duty of the mayor of each city having the population mentioned in section 1 of this act, and such mayor is hereby required, within thirty days after the passage and approval of this act, to appoint, subject to the approval of the board of supervisors, or other local legislative body aforesaid, a person of competent experience and knowledge of and concerning the proper qualities and illuminating power of gas, and who shall not be directly or indirectly interested in or connected with any person, company, or corporation engaged in the manufacture or furnishing of illuminating gas in such city, or elsewhere, either to such city or its inhabitants, or any of them, either as a stockholder or otherwise, who shall be known and designated as gas inspector of such city, who shall hold his said office for the term of two years, or until his successor shall be appointed and qualified; subject, however, to removal from his said office by the mayor, with the concurrence of a majority of the board of supervisors, or other local legislative board aforesaid, for any one of the following causes, to wit, by reason of any interest in the manufacture or furnishing of gas in such city, whether such interest existed at the date of his appointment or was afterward acquired, or for want of competent knowledge, skill, or experience to enable him properly to discharge the duties of said office, or for any neglect, misconduct, or inefficiency in the discharge of the duties of said office, to the prejudice of such city, or its inhabitants, or any of them. The person so appointed shall, before he enters upon the duties of said office, and within ten days after his appointment and confirmation, take and subscribe an oath or affirmation before the county judge of the county in which such city is situated, that he will faithfully and impartially perform and discharge all the duties required by this act and the ordinances or resolutions of said board passed or adopted under and pursuant to the provisions thereof, as such gas inspector of such city, and shall also, within the same time, give bond to the city in and for which he is appointed, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, with sureties to be approved by said board, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of said office, which said oath and bond shall be filed with the clerk of said board. Such gas inspector shall be entitled to a salary to be fixed and allowed by said board, which shall be paid monthly out of the general fund of such city.

Duty of inspector.

§ 3. It shall be the duty of such inspector, immediately upon his appointment and qualification as such officer, as aforesaid, to make a careful examination and inquiry by inspection, letter, or otherwise, as to the quality and illuminating power of the gas furnished and used in the principal cities of the United States, and the prices charged therefor, and also the comparative cost of the manufacture and supply of gas in other cities of the United States, with the cost of the manufacture and supply of the same in the city for which he is such inspector, and report fully the result of such examination and information to said board within six months after his appointment and qualification; and upon receiving such reports, said board shall proceed to fix and establish the quality and standard illuminating power of gas to be used in such city, and the maximum price to be charged therefor; and such standard and price may be changed by said board from time to time, not oftener than once every year, as increased consumption or other circumstances may in their judgment require.

Same.

§ 4. After said board shall have fixed and established the quality and illuminating power, and the price of gas, as hereinbefore, it shall be the duty of such inspector to examine and inspect, from time to time, at least once every week, without notice to the person, company, or corporation furnishing the same, the quality and illuminating power of the gas furnished to such city and the inhabitants thereof, and in case the same shall fall below the standard fixed by said board, the said inspector shall forthwith report the same to said board; and at such other times as he may be requested thereto by the mayor or any committee of said board, he shall report to said board upon any and all matters connected with the manufacture, supply, and consumption of gas coming within the scope of his official duties, and specially upon any subject or subjects, matters or things, connected therewith and specified in such request.

Certain acts declared unlawful.

corporation to furnish to such city, or any inhabitant thereof, or other person therein, for illuminating purposes, gas of a lower standard or quality, or to charge or receive therefor a higher price than is provided by said board, under the authority and subject to the limitations of this act; and for every violation of the provisions of this act, or the provisions of any order, resolution, or ordinance of said board made in pursuance thereof, every such person, company, or corporation shall incur a penalty of not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, to be recovered in a civil action in the name and for the use of such city, in any court of competent jurisdiction; and each day upon which such person, company, or corporation shall, without reasonable cause of excuse therefor, furnish gas of a lower quality or standard illuminating power than that fixed by said board, shall constitute and be considered and held one violation thereof, and each month or shorter period for which said person, company, or corporation shall take an account of gas consumed, and for which they shall charge or receive a price greater than that fixed by said board, shall be held and regarded as one offense, and any number of such offenses of either class, or both, may be joined in the same action, and the several penalties for the several violations proved or confessed in said action may be united and recovered in the same judgment; and such person, company, or corporation shall also be liable to such city and to any and each person or corporation who shall be injured by any such violation, in double the amount of damages actually sustained.

Actions tried, by whom.

§ 6. All actions for penalties under the provisions of this act shall be tried by the court, unless a jury be demanded by either party; and when such action shall be tried by a jury, the jury shall find, as to each violation charged in the complaint, that "the defendant is guilty," or "the defendant is not guilty"; and upon each charge in respect to which the jury has found the defendant guilty, the court shall fix the penalty, and render judgment for the aggregate amount of such penalties, together with costs of suit.

§ 7. All penalties recovered under this act shall be paid into the general fund of such city.

§ 8. This act shall apply to the city and county of San Francisco, as well as to cities whose municipal government is distinct from the county in which they are located.

§ 9. This act shall take effect immediately.

1. Power of supervisors—Price of gas.—Under this act the board of supervisors had no power to allow more than three dollars per thousand cubic feet for gas furnished the city and county of San Francisco.—San Francisco Gas Light Co. v. Dunn, 62 Cal. 580.

2. Demand for payment of gas furnished.—The act furnishes no authority for a demand upon the city and county treasury.—

San Francisco Gas Light Co. v. Dunn, 62 Cal. 580.

3. Salary of gas inspector to be paid monthly.—The salary of gas inspector is to be paid monthly, as the act provides, and unless it is paid or a demand presented within the time provided by the consolidation act, it is barred.—Ames v. San Francisco, 76 Cal. 325, 18 Pac. 397.

PROHIBITING WASTING OF NATURAL GAS.

ACT 1762—An act prohibiting the unnecessary wasting of natural gas into the atmosphere; providing for the capping or otherwise closing of wells from which natural gas flows; and providing penalties for violating the provisions of this act.

History: Approved March 25, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 499.

Waste of gas prohibited.

§ 1. All persons, firms, corporations and associations are hereby prohibited from willfully permitting any natural gas wastefully to escape into the atmosphere.

Wells to be capped.

§ 2. All persons, firms, corporations or associations digging, drilling, excavating, constructing or owning or controlling any well from which natural gas flows shall upon the abandonment of such well, cap or otherwise close the mouth of or entrance to the same in such a manner as to prevent the unnecessary or wasteful escape into the atmosphere of such natural gas. And no person, firm, corporation or association owning or controlling land in which such well or wells are situated shall willfully permit natural gas flowing from such well or wells, wastefully or unnecessarily to escape into the atmosphere.

Penalty.

§ 3. Any person, firm, corporation or association who shall willfully violate any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Each day a violation.

§ 4. For the purposes of this act each day during which natural gas shall be willfully allowed wastefully or unnecessarily to escape into the atmosphere shall be deemed a separate and distinct violation of this act.

§ 5. All acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

§ 6. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 130.GETTYSBURG.*CONTENTS OF CHAPTER.*ACT 1774. CELEBRATION OF FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THE BATTLE*CELEBRATION OF FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY.

ACT 1774—An act to provide for the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg; appointing a commission in connection therewith; and making an appropriation therefor.

History: Approved May 31, 1913. In effect immediately. Stats. 1913, p. 278.

Gettysburg anniversary commission.

§ 1. The governor of the state of California is hereby empowered to appoint a commission consisting of three citizens of this state, which commission shall co-operate with the department commander of the department of California and Nevada, Grand Army of the Republic, for the purpose of aiding in the planning and conducting of a public celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg in the state of Pennsylvania on and during the first four days of July, 1913.

Transportation of veterans.

§ 2. Said commission shall represent this state at the said anniversary and is hereby authorized to obtain, so far as possible, the names and addresses of all the veterans now residing in the state of California who took part in the battle of Gettysburg, and to make preliminary arrangements for the transportation of such veterans to the battlefield of Gettysburg so that said veterans may attend the memorial exercises and anniversary to be held at said battlefield of Gettysburg, during the first four days of July, 1913.

Veterans eligible.

§ 3. Only such veterans of the civil war who actually took part in the battle of Gettysburg, and who are recommended by the said commission, whether such veterans fought with the Confederate or the Union or northern armies, shall be eligible under this act to receive free transportation to and from the battlefield of Gettysburg.

Appropriation. Report.

§ 4. The sum of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated to be used by said commission appointed pursuant to this act, to carry out the provisions of this act. Said sum of money is to be disbursed under the direction and with the approval of said commission. Said commission shall keep an accurate record of all its proceedings and transactions, and shall file with the governor of this state a full, true and complete report thereof. Said commission shall have full power to provide any system or systems for the carrying into effect of this act.

Issuance of warrants.

§ 5. The controller of the state is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant or warrants in favor of the commission created pursuant to this act upon itemized requisition of said commission up to the amount of money appropriated by this act and the state treasurer is hereby ordered and directed to pay such warrant or warrants out of said appropriation.

Current expenses.

§ 6. This bill, inasmuch as it provides for the usual current expenses of the state, shall, under the provisions of section 1 of article IV of the constitution of the state of California, take effect immediately.

1. Act inoperative.—This act was rendered inoperative by a decision of the district court of appeals declaring that the appropriation was not a current expense, and therefore could not become effective until the expiration of ninety days after its passage, which would be too late for the participation of the beneficiaries of the act in the celebration.—McClure v. Nye, 22 Cal. App. 248, 133 Pac. 1045; Commission, etc., v. Nye, 22 Cal. 248, 133 Pac. 1045.

CONTENTS OF CHAPTER.ACT 1781. GIFTS TO COUNTIES FOR PIONEER MONUMENTS.*GIFTS TO COUNTIES FOR PIONEER MONUMENTS.

ACT 1781—An act authorizing board of supervisors of any county, or city and county, or the trustees or other governing body of any municipality in the state of California to receive devises, bequests, donations and gifts, also to levy taxes, for the purpose of erecting monuments in memory of California pioneers.

History: Approved June 3, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 377.

Gifts for pioneer monuments.

§ 1. The board of supervisors of any county, or city and county, or the trustees or other governing body of any municipality, in the state, may receive devises, bequests, donations and gifts, for the purpose of erecting within such county, or city and county, or city, a monument in memory of California pioneers.

Erection of monuments.

§ 2. When, in the opinion of such board of supervisors or of such trustees or other governing body of a municipality, the devises, bequests, donations and gifts received are sufficient therefor, they may erect such monument.

Question of tax levy for monuments.

§ 3. Such board of supervisors, or trustees, or other governing body of a municipality, may submit to the qualified electors of the county, or city and county, or of the city, as the case may be, whether taxes for the erection of a monument to the California pioneers shall be levied on the taxable property of the county, or city and county, or city, as the case may be. The question of levying such tax for such purpose shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the county, or city and county, or municipality, as the case may be, at a general or other election that may be held in such county, or city and county, or municipality. Twenty days' notice thereof shall be previously given by posting in at least three public places in such county, city and county, or municipality. Such notices shall state specifically the amount to be raised and the purpose. If a majority of all the votes cast at such election are in favor of the proposal, the tax herein provided for shall be considered authorized.

Ballots.

§ 4. The electors voting at such election shall have placed on their ballots the words "Tax for pioneer monument—Yes" or "Tax for pioneer monument—No."

Levy of tax in county.

§ 5. When such tax has been voted in a county, or city and county, the board of supervisors in the next annual levy of taxes, shall levy a tax on the property in such county, or city and county, sufficient to produce the amount voted for for the purpose, and the same shall be assessed and collected in the same manner as other taxes are levied and collected.

Levy of tax in city.

§ 6. When such tax has been voted in a city, the trustee[s] or other governing body thereof in the next annual levy of taxes, shall levy a tax on the property in such city, sufficient to produce the amount voted for for the purpose, and the same shall be assessed and collected in the same manner as other taxes are levied and collected.

Duty of supervisors and trustees.

§ 7. The board of supervisors in case of monuments for a county and the trustees or other governing body of a city, in case of monuments for a city, shall when the taxes so raised and collected are available, proceed to carry out the purpose for which the money was voted by the county, or city and county, or city.

GLENN COUNTY.ORGANIZATION ACT.*ACT 1786—An act to create the county of Glenn, establish the boundaries thereof, and provide for its organization.

History: Approved March 11, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 98. Boundary amended by a supplementary act approved March 11, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 158.

1. Constitutionality—Special legislation.

—An act creating a new county is not special legislation, and the legislature is not limited as to the means which it may adopt in its preliminary organization.—People v. County of Glenn, 100 Cal. 419, 38 Am. St. Rep. 305, 35 Pac. 302.

2. Same—Manner of holding election.

Under the provisions of subdivision 11, section 25, article IV of the constitution, there may be a special law for holding and conducting an election "on the organization of new counties," and there was no objection to the manner in which the election, at which the voters of the proposed new county of Glenn expressed their will, was held.—People v. County of Glenn, 100 Cal. 419, 38 Am. St. Rep. 305, 35 Pac. 302.

3. Same—Creation of supervisorial districts.—It is not fatal to the Glenn county bill that it does not itself provide for the division of the proposed county into supervisorial districts, but allows five supervisors to be elected at large, who have the power under the general law to divide the county into districts.—People v. County of Glenn, 100 Cal. 419, 38 Am. St. Rep. 305, 35 Pac. 302.

4. Legislative intent as to class of new county.—The legislature did not intend, when it declared in the organization act that Glenn county should be a county of the thirty-seventh class, that it should remain a county of that class, regardless of future changes in the law whereby counties having populations greatly larger or greatly smaller than when Glenn county was placed therein, and the effect of the act was to fix the population of the county, which, in the absence of subsequent legislation, would, by operation of law, become a county of the thirty-seventh class.—Sanders v. Sehorn, 98 Cal. 227, 33 Pac. 58.

5. Division of unpaid taxes.—Taxes on railroad property within the county of Colusa were due and unpaid to that county at the time of its division and the creation of the county of Glenn, and a portion thereof paid to the latter county after such division, are held to have been assets of Colusa county, and no provision having been made at the time of such division for a division of the assets of the old county, the new county had no right to retain the portion of such taxes so paid to it, and is liable therefor as for money had and received upon an implied promise to pay the same to Colusa county.—Colusa County v. Glenn County, 117 Cal. 434, 49 Pac. 457.

6. Obiter dicta—Term of superior judge.

—The provision of the act which fixed the term of superior judge, elected at the organization election, at six years, and provided for the election of a successor whose term should begin January 1, 1897, transgressed both the letter and spirit of the constitution, which require an election for superior judge at the first general election following the creation of the county, for the remainder of the constitutional term ending January 1, 1897.—People v. Markham, 104 Cal. 232, 37 Pac. 918.

ACT 1805. RESIDENCE OF GOVERNOR.

1808. EMPLOYMENT OF COUNSEL TO PROSECUTE CLAIMS AGAINST THE UNITED STATES.

RESIDENCE OF GOVERNOR.

ACT 1805—An act providing for the maintenance of a residence for the governor of the state of California, and providing the salaries of the necessary employees and servants selected and employed by the governor therein, and for the appropriation of necessary moneys for such purpose, and directing the state controller to issue warrants upon the general fund, and directing the state treasurer to pay said warrants.

History: Approved March 11, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 214. Prior acts:
See editor's note.

Editor's note: Out of the state capitol special fund, created by the act of April 4, 1870 (Stats. 1869-70, p. 724), the board of state capitol commissioners were authorized to expend fifty thousand dollars for the purchase of suitable grounds and the erection of a mansion or residence for the governor, and for the necessary inclosures, streets, sidewalks and outbuildings on and around the same. The legislature, by the act of March 30, 1874, Stats. 1873-74, p. 903, turned the governor's mansion into a state printing office and state armory; but this act was repealed by the act of 1876 (Stats. and Amendments 1875-76, p. 22). By the act of March 7, 1899 (Stats. 1899, p. 73), the sum of $50,000 was appropriated "for the erection and furnishing of said residence." This act was amended March 23, 1903 (Stats.

1903, p. 415), authorizing the expenditure of the balance of the $50,000 unexpended, in either buying a site and building a residence, or buying one already built, and repairing and remodeling it. Ten thousand dollars was expressly fixed as the amount to be expended for furnishing said building.

By the act of March 20, 1899 (Stats. 1899, p. 150), the amount for maintenance and servants was fixed at $2500 per annum. By the present act this sum was increased to $3500 per annum.

EMPLOYMENT OF COUNSEL.

ACT 1808—An act to authorize, empower, and direct the governor of the state of California to employ counsel, agents, and attorneys for the purpose of prosecuting, collecting and recovering the claims of the state of California against the United States of America, to prescribe the terms and conditions of the employment, the rate of compensation therefor, and the manner of payment thereof.

History: Approved March 23, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 938.

This act authorized the governor to employ the firm of Kistston & Siddons of Washington, D. C., for the purpose indicated and fixed the compensation of the firm.

JURISDICTION OF COMMISSION—ACT OF 1878.

ACT 1855—An act concerning the waterfront of the city and county of San Francisco.

History: Approved March 15, 1878, Stats. 1877-78, p. 263. Amended March 17, 1880, Stats. 1880, p. 10; March 19, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 379; March 31, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 233; March 26, 1895, Stats. 1895, p. 194; March 23, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 627; March 18, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 109; March 19, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 434; May 17, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 583; April 30, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 252.

The following is probably the only part of the act now in force:

Commissioners to have control of certain blocks.

§ 6. The said commissioners shall have the possession, jurisdiction and control over the blocks and parts of blocks formed by the change of the waterfront and the extensions of the streets to the thoroughfare aforesaid, and remove any obstructions placed thereon in the same manner as provided for the removal of obstructions from the piers, wharves and thoroughfares. The commissioners are authorized to keep and maintain said blocks and parts of blocks as open spaces for the use of the public, or they may, in their discretion, inclose them. The commissioners are also authorized to assign the use of such portion thereof as they may deem expedient for such purposes solely as will be most advantageous to the commerce of the port, and upon such terms and conditions as they may determine. All such assignments shall terminate at the pleasure of the commissioners.

Lease of seawall lots. Term of lease. Lease is canceled if free zone is established.

The commissioners are also authorized to lease such portions or portion of seawall lots, numbered one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, eighteen, nineteen, twenty, twenty-one, twenty-two, twenty-three, twenty-four, twenty-five, "a," "b," and "c," and such portions of that certain land described as follows, to wit: Commencing at a point formed by the intersection of the southerly line of Islais street and the easterly line of Third (formerly Kentucky) street, and running thence easterly and along said southerly line of Islais street eighteen hundred eighty feet; thence at a right angle southerly to the northeasterly line of Arthur avenue; thence northwesterly along the northeasterly line of Arthur avenue to a point on the easterly line of Third (formerly Kentucky) street two hundred nineteen feet and five inches southerly from the southerly line of Islais street; thence northerly along said line of Third street two hundred nineteen feet and five inches to the southerly line of Islais street and the point of beginning; as they may deem expedient for such purposes solely as will be most advantageous to the commerce of the port, save and excepting, however, such portions of the last-described piece of property as may be within two hundred feet of the southerly line of Islais street, and save and excepting such portions thereof as may be within two hundred feet of any portion of any pier, wharf or slip which may now exist fronting on Islais street or hereafter be constructed on any portion of said land; provided, that before the execution of any lease notice of the letting or leasing of any of the lots or property hereinabove mentioned, or parts thereof, shall be given by publication in three of the daily papers published in the city of San Francisco for at least ten days; such notice shall state the property or lot or portion thereof to be leased and that bids will be received by the commissioners at a place and time designated in such notice; and that said lots and property shall be let to the highest and best bidder; provided, further, that all bids for lease of property or lots or portions thereof, herein mentioned, shall set forth the purposes for which said property or lots or portions thereof shall be used, and that the statement of such bid shall be embodied in the lease given by the board of state harbor commissioners with the condition that the property or lot shall be used for such purposes only; provided, further, that said board shall have the power to reject any and all bids; and provided, further, that in no event shall any such lease or leases be made for a term exceeding twenty-five years; provided, however, that all leases made and executed within two years preceding February 15, 1901, and on file in the office of the secretary of state, of land belonging to the state less than fifty acres in area, and which lease has been made to any corporation incorporated in this state, or to any person or persons, for terminal facilities, is hereby recognized, approved and ratified, and the conditions, covenants and agreements of the parties thereto are made binding on the said parties and on their successors and assigns and on the state of California; provided, further, that all such leases shall contain a provision providing that in the event of the establishment by the United States of a free zone in the port of San Francisco, and in the event that said leased land is necessary to said free zone that then the state board of harbor commissioners for that purpose, shall have the right to declare such leases cancelled and terminated upon payment to the lessees of the actual physical value of all improvements erected by said lessees on said leased land. [Amendment of April 30, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 252.]

Scope of act.—This act dealt principally with the jurisdiction of the territory along the water front, and provided for the opening of new streets, the extending of old streets to the water front, and the lay off of lots and blocks and the leasing of the same. Other features of the act have probably been superseded or repealed.

ACT 1856—An act concerning the water front of the city and county of San Francisco.

History: Approved April 30, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 254.

Operation of warehouses, grain elevators, etc., by harbor commissioners.

§ 1. The board of state harbor commissioners is hereby authorized and empowered to construct, maintain and operate warehouses, grain elevators, oil tanks and such other facilities as it may from time to time deem expedient and to the advantage of the commerce of the port of San Francisco, and to fix such charges and make such rules and regulations as it may deem expedient for the operation thereof, and said board is further authorized and empowered to construct, maintain and operate conveyors on, above and under the ground from and to and between the docks and wharves and other property of the state of California and to and from the docks and wharves and other property of the state of California and under the jurisdiction of the board and to and from property owned by the state and fronting on the Embarcadero from any property of the state of California under the jurisdiction of said board, as it may from time to time deem expedient and to the advantage of the commerce of the port of San Francisco, and to fix all charges and make such rules and regulations as it may deem expedient in the operation thereof.

STATE RAILROAD ACT OF 1913.

ACT 1857—An act to enlarge the powers of the board of state harbor commissioners, and to authorize said board to locate, construct, maintain, and operate the state railroad and railroad tracks and appurtenances through, over, under and upon state lands, and lands within its jurisdiction or the water front, and city streets, avenues, alleys, lanes, places or property, or lands or property of the United States, or private property, in the city and county of San Francisco, and to obtain licenses, grants, permits or easements or rights of way therefor, and to construct tunnels, bridges, drawbridges and other appurtenances as incident thereto, and to impose tolls or compensation for and upon the use of the same and to regulate the use therefor.

History: Approved June 4, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 383. Prior act of March 19, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 388, was probably superseded by the code. See Kerr's Cyc. Political Code, § 2524.

Power to build railroads in San Francisco.

§ 1. The board of state harbor commissioners is hereby authorized and empowered (in addition to the powers now granted, or which may hereafter be granted to it by law) to locate, construct, maintain, operate and extend the state railroad, and railroad tracks, through, over, under and upon any state lands, or lands within its jurisdiction, or the water front as defined in section 2524 of the Political Code, or through, over, under and upon any streets, avenues, alleys, lanes, places or property of the city and county of San Francisco, or lands or property of the United States of America, or private property in said city and county of San Francisco, in which and where it may then have a license, permission, easement or right of way therefor, together with all necessary trackage, switches, spurs, turnouts, fills, cuts, tunnels, trestles, bridges, drawbridges, signals and other appliances, appurtenances and incidents necessary to make the same complete and convenient for use.

Rights from Panama-Pacific company.

§ 2. The powers conferred by this act shall include:

1. Power and authority to obtain from Panama-Pacific international exposition company, a corporation, an assignment of its rights under an act of congress approved June 28, 1912, entitled, "An act granting a right of way to the Panama-Pacific international exposition company, or such successors or assigns as may be approved by the secretary of war, across the Fort Mason military reservation in California."

Approval of secretary of war.

2. Power and authority to obtain the approval of the secretary of war to such assignment, and to locate a railroad and tunnel upon and across said reservation and to ordain regulations therefor and for the use thereof and to obtain the approval of the secretary of war thereto.

Tolls and charges.

3. Power and authority to construct such railroad and tunnel upon and across said reservation as a part of and incident to said state railroad and railroad tracks; provided, that said board shall impose such tolls, charges and compensation for passage through said tunnel upon all freight and upon all passenger cars passing there through (which tolls shall be exclusive of and in addition to the ordinary compensation for the use of said railroad and railroad tracks) as shall provide within a limited time for the repayment of the cost of the construction of such tunnel. Such tolls and charges shall be in conformity with the requirements and subject to the approval of the secretary of war in that behalf and shall be so charged, imposed and collected until the cost of the construction of such tunnel shall have been repaid.

Grants from San Francisco.

4. Power and authority to obtain from the city and county of San Francisco proper and necessary grants, license or permission to extend, construct, maintain and operate the said state railroad and railroad tracks along, over and upon such public streets, avenues, alleys or property of said city and county of San Francisco as may be necessary for the extension of said state railroad or railroad tracks.

Acquisition of rights of way.

5. Power and authority to acquire rights of way and lands necessary for such extension from the owners of private property, either by grant or by condemnation proceedings; and in that behalf the provisions of law relating to the exercise of the right of eminent domain shall apply and insure [inure] to the benefit of said board, and to such proceedings.

Use of road and tunnel.

6. Power and authority to permit the passage over and through, and the use of said railroad and tunnel to any corporation or association, person or persons for passenger street cars for such time and under such rules and regulations and at such compensation as said board may determine.

Through Presidio reservation.

7. Power and authority to obtain license and permission from the United States government to extend, locate, construct, operate and maintain the said railroad and railroad tracks in and through the Presidio reservation in said city and county in such location and subject to such regulations as may be prescribed by the United States government.

Enumeration of powers not exclusive.

§ 3. The enumeration of powers contained in section 2 of this act shall not be deemed exclusive or to limit the general powers conferred by section 1 hereof.

STATE DRYDOCK ACT OF 1913.

ACT 1858—An act to enlarge the powers of the board of state harbor commissioners, and to authorize said board to locate, construct, maintain, operate and extend public drydocks and appurtenances thereto, in and about such portion of the bay of San Francisco under its jurisdiction, and to fix, regulate, impose and collect tolls or compensation for and upon the use of the same and to regulate the use therefor.

History: Approved June 3, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 372.

Drydocks in San Francisco bay.

§ 1. The board of state harbor commissioners is hereby authorized and empowered (in addition to the powers now granted, or which may hereafter be granted to it by law) to locate, construct, maintain, operate and extend public drydocks in and about such portion of the bay of San Francisco under the jurisdiction as defined in section two thousand five hundred and twenty-four of the Political Code.

Tolls.

§ 2. The said board shall fix, regulate, impose and collect tolls or compensation for and upon the use of such public drydocks and regulate the use thereof.

Disposition of money collected.

§ 3. All money collected for tolls as compensation for use of such public drydocks and all expenditure made in the maintenance and construction thereof shall be subject to the same provision as other moneys collected and expended by the said board.

ALIGNMENT OF EAST STREET.

ACT 1860—An act authorizing the board of harbor commissioners to rectify the alignment of East street, and employing the board to sell, condemn, and acquire adjacent property.

History: Approved March 31, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 270.

Alignment of East street to be straightened.

§ 1. The board of state harbor commissioners is hereby authorized and directed to rectify the alignment of East street, between Pacific street and Market street, in the city and county of San Francisco, said rectification to be done so as to straighten the property lines and give as wide and commodious a thoroughfare as the traffic may demand.

Westerly line of East street.

§ 2. In no case shall the alignment of the westerly side of said thoroughfare extend east of the inner line of the thoroughfare as now established and defined by law.

Jurisdiction of board.

§ 3. The jurisdiction of said board shall be westerly to the line as established under this act.

Power of board.

§ 4. The board, in carrying out this law, shall have the power to purchase and sell, and to exchange, upon a legal and equitable basis, any portion or portions of the property adjacent to the westerly line of the thoroughfare herein provided for; and a full record of their proceedings shall be entered upon their minutes, and a sworn statement of all transfers, sales, and purchases, and other transactions, shall be filed with the secretary of state. Said statements shall show in full all payments and receipts, itemized so as to definitely exhibit the price or prices of each parcel of land transferred.

Condemnation proceedings.

§ 5. In case of failure on the part of the interested parties to come to a satisfactory agreement, the board shall have the power to condemn, as in other cases, for public purposes.

Act takes effect when.

§ 6. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

CONDEMNATION OF CERTAIN PROPERTY.

ACT 1861—An act to authorize and empower the board of state harbor commissioners to institute condemnation proceedings against certain property on the corner of Market, Sacramento and East streets, in the city and county of San Francisco, and extending their jurisdiction over the same.

History: Approved March 26, 1895, Stats. 1895, p. 80.

Harbor commissioners may condemn certain lot.

§ 1. For the purpose of acquiring terminal facilities for the landing of passengers to and from the passenger and ferry depot at the foot of Market street, in the city and county of San Francisco, the board of state harbor commissioners is hereby authorized and empowered to institute condemnation proceedings in the superior court of the city and county of San Francisco, against all parties in interest claiming any title in and to that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land in the city and county of San Francisco, bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Commencing at a point on the westerly line of East street, distant thereon sixty (60) feet and four (4) inches northerly from the northwesterly corner of the intersection of the northerly line of Market street with said westerly line of East street; thence southerly along said westerly line of East street sixty (60) feet and four (4) inches to the intersection of said line of East street with the northerly line of Market street; thence westerly along the northerly line of Market street eighteen (18) feet and six (6) inches to the intersection of the northerly line of Market street with the north line of Sacramento street; thence west along the north line of Sacramento street seventy-nine (79) feet and eleven (11) inches to a point on said north line of Sacramento street; thence northeasterly to the point of beginning.

Jurisdiction.

§ 2. The inshore limit of the jurisdiction of said board shall be, and is hereby, extended so as to include the lot of land described in section one of this act.

May institute action.

§ 3. The board of state harbor commissioners may institute any action or actions, and prosecute the same to final judgment, for the condemnation of any portion of the premises described in section one of this act; and the purposes herein mentioned are hereby declared to be a public use, in which the right of eminent domain may be exercised by the board of state harbor commissioners in the name of the people of the state, for the estates and rights, and in the manner provided in part three, title seven, of the Code of Civil Procedure of this state.

Payment of judgment.

§ 4. The board of state harbor commissioners is hereby authorized to pay any judgment rendered against them in such condemnation proceedings, by a draft drawn upon the controller of the state, who shall draw his warrant therefor on the state treasury, payable out of any money in said treasury credited to the San Francisco harbor improvement fund.

Act takes effect when.

§ 5. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

INDIA BASIN ACT.

ACT 1862—An act to authorize and direct the board of state harbor commissioners to institute condemnation proceedings against certain property north of India basin, and extending to Islais creek in the city and county of San Francisco and extending the jurisdiction of said board over the same, and providing for the payment of judgments from the proceeds of bonds issued and sold under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to provide for the issuance and sale of state bonds to create a fund for the acquisition by the board of state harbor commissioners, of a necessary area for a tidal basin, for wharves, docks, piers, harbors and appurtenances, in the city and county of San Francisco; to create a sinking fund for the payment of said bonds; and defining the duties of state officers in relation thereto; making an appropriation of one thousand dollars for the expense of printing said bonds; and providing for the submission of this act to a vote of the people."

History: Approved March 24, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 711.

1. Act in force.—Section 4 of the act provided that it should take effect upon the ratification of the India Basin act (Act 1870). That act was ratified at the general election of 1910.

COMPROMISE OF LITIGATION.

ACT 1863—An act to authorize the compromise of certain litigation concerning a portion of the water front of the city and county of San Francisco.

History: Approved April 3, 1876, Stats. 1875-76, p. 905.

Scope of act.—This act authorizes the governor, mayor of San Francisco, and board of state harbor commissioners to compromise and settle with claimants for the premises lying between Jackson and Pacific streets, and outside of the water front line as established by the beach and water lot act of March 26, 1851. The compromise contemplated was to accept deeds of the entire property to the state, and pay therefor such amount as might be determined on out of the San Francisco harbor improvement fund.

FREE PUBLIC MARKET ON WATERFRONT.

ACT 1864—An act to authorize the state board of harbor commissioners to establish and maintain a free public market upon the waterfront of San Francisco, and providing for the expenses and regulations thereof.

History: Approved March 29, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 238. Entire act amended March 2, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 76.

The amended act is as follows:

Free public market to be established.

§ 1. The board of state harbor commissioners shall, within one year from the passage of this act, set apart upon some convenient portion of the waterfront of San Francisco a sufficient number of blocks and parts of blocks belonging to the state contiguous to the docks and piers for a free market for the greater portion of all the perishable products of the state of California arriving in San Francisco by land, boat, or other conveyance, including fruit, vegetables, eggs, poultry, grain, dairy products, and fish, and shall permit the sale of such products upon said blocks and portions of blocks of land by or for the account of the producers thereof only, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the said board of harbor commissioners and as the public convenience may require.

Land set apart shall be convenient.

§ 2. The land so set apart for the free public market shall be as convenient as possible to that portion of the city and county of San Francisco in which the principal wholesale trade in perishable products is now carried on, and must be adjacent and contiguous to such piers and docks as are accessible to all water craft ordinarily employed in carrying such products upon the waters of San Francisco bay and the navigable waters contributing thereto, and vessels so loaded shall have the preference at all times at docking at such wharves and piers contiguous to said lands over other vessels not so loaded.

Assignment of docking-room.

§ 3. Docking-room at said piers shall be assigned without partiality to all vessels engaged in the transportation of said products, and the space assigned shall be sufficient to permit such vessels regularly running upon a route to receive and discharge their entire cargoes of such products at the piers aforesaid, if they so desire, subject to the control and direction of the board of state harbor commissioners. And the said board of state harbor commissioners shall construct car-tracks to connect the said docks and piers with the land so set apart for the free public market and with the belt railroad. For the use of these tracks the state harbor commissioners shall prescribe such regulations as public convenience may require, and fix the compensation to be paid by the companies making use of them for this purpose.

Tramways.

§ 4. The harbor commissioners shall suitably inclose said free market and construct suitable tramways and tracks or other devices for the rapid conveyance of perishable products from car or boat or other conveyance to the stalls in the free market, and operate the same.

No rental for space. Penalty for violation of act.

§ 5. The harbor commissioners shall assign space within the free market to all producers of perishable products, under such regulations as the harbor commissioners may prescribe. No rental shall be charged for space in the free market. Any violation of this act, or of the regulations made pursuant thereof, shall exclude the person or firm guilty of such violation from the privilege of selling in the free market, during the pleasure of the harbor commissioners, not exceeding one year, in addition to any other penalty which may be incurred thereby.

Expenses, how provided for.

§ 6. For the payment of the expenses of said free market the said board of state harbor commissioners may, in their judgment, so adjust tolls upon the said perishable products as shall be delivered into said free market as to provide the necessary revenue; provided, however, that no one shall be compelled to enter into said free public market, and no tolls for the purpose of paying the expenses of said free market shall be levied, assessed, or inflicted upon any products not entering into said free public market; and provided, further, that the total of such tolls so levied shall not exceed the total expense of maintaining such free market.

Officers of free market.

§ 7. The officers of said free market shall be a superintendent and assistant superintendent, who shall also be secretary, and such other employees as the state board of harbor commissioners may appoint. The salary of all employees of said free market shall be fixed by the state board of harbor commissioners, and be paid out of the general fund of said harbor commission the same as other employees.

Bonds of officers.

§ 8. All officers and employees of any public market on state property are officers and employees of the state, and shall qualify in the same manner as other employees, and give such bonds as the harbor commissioners may prescribe.

Moneys to carry into effect.

§ 9. There is hereby appropriated out of the San Francisco harbor improvement fund the necessary moneys to enable the harbor commissioners to carry this act into effect, and this appropriation shall have precedence of all other claims on such fund for improvements.

INSURANCE OF STATE PROPERTY.

SAN FRANCISCO HARBOR IMPROVEMENT ACT OF 1913.

ACT 1871—An act to provide for the issuance and sale of state bonds to create a fund for the improvement of San Francisco harbor by the construction by the board of state harbor commissioners of wharves, piers, state railroad, spurs, betterments, and appurtenances, and necessary dredging and filling in connection therewith in the city and county of San Francisco; to create a sinking fund for the payment of said bonds; to define the duties of state officers in relation thereto; to make an appropriation of five thousand dollars for the expense of printing said bonds; and to provide for the submission of this act to a vote of the people.

History: Approved June 16, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 1122. Submitted to the people at the general election of 1914 and ratified. In force December 31, 1914.

Bonds for San Francisco harbor improvement. Interest. Life of bonds. Paid from third sinking fund. Redemption by lot.

§ 1. For the purpose of providing a fund for the payment of the indebtedness hereby authorized to be incurred by the board of state harbor commissioners for the erection of wharves, piers, seawall, state railroad, spurs, betterments and appurtenances and necessary dredging and filling in connection therewith in the city and county of San Francisco, at a cost not to exceed ten million dollars (which said wharves, piers, seawall, state railroad, spurs, betterments and appurtenances and necessary dredging and filling in connection therewith the board of state harbor commissioners are hereby empowered to construct and do in the manner authorized by law, and at a cost not to exceed ten million dollars), the state treasurer shall, immediately after the issuance of the proclamation of the governor, provided for in section ten hereof, prepare ten thousand suitable bonds of the state of California, in the denomination of one thousand dollars each. The whole issue of said bonds shall not exceed the sum of ten million dollars, and said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of four per centum per annum, from the date of issuance thereof, and both principal and interest shall be payable in gold coin of the present standard value, and they shall be payable at such place in the United States as may be designated in the bonds (full authority to designate such place being hereby conferred on the governor who shall sign said bonds), at the expiration of seventy-four years from their date, subject, however, to redemption by lot as in this act hereinafter provided. Said bonds shall bear date the second day of July, A. D. nineteen hundred and fifteen, and shall be made payable on the second day of July, nineteen hundred and eighty-nine. The interest accruing on such of said bonds as are sold, shall be due and payable at the place designated in said bonds as aforesaid, on the second day of January, and on the second day of July, of each year after the sale of the same; provided, that the first payment of interest shall be made on the second day of July, nineteen hundred and sixteen, on so many of said bonds as may have been theretofore sold. At the expiration of seventy-four years from the date of said bonds, all bonds sold shall cease to bear interest and likewise all bonds redeemed by lot shall cease to bear interest as in this act provided, and the said state treasurer shall call in, forthwith pay and cancel the same, out of the moneys in the third San Francisco seawall sinking fund provided for in this act, and, he shall on the first Monday of July, nineteen hundred and eighty-nine, also cancel and destroy all bonds not theretofore sold. All bonds issued shall be signed by the governor, and countersigned by the controller, and shall be indorsed by the state treasurer and the said bonds shall be so signed, countersigned and indorsed by the officers who are in office on the second day of July, 1915, and each of said bonds shall have the seal of the state stamped thereon. The said bonds signed, countersigned and indorsed and sealed as herein provided when sold shall be and constitute a valid and binding obligation upon the state of California, though the sale thereof be made at a date or dates after the person signing, countersigning and indorsing, or any or either of them, shall have ceased to be the incumbent of such office or offices. Each bond shall contain a clause that it is subject to redemption by lot after the year nineteen hundred and fifty-four.

Interest coupons.

§ 2. Interest coupons shall be attached to each of said bonds so that such coupons may be removed without injury to, or mutilation of the bond. Said coupons shall be consecutively numbered, and shall bear the lithographed signature of the state treasurer who shall be in office on the second day of July, 1915. But no interest on any of said bonds shall be paid for any time which may intervene between the date of any of said bonds and the issue and sale thereof to a purchaser, unless such accrued interest shall have been, by the purchaser of said bond, paid to the state at the time of such sale.

Appropriation.

§ 3. The sum of five thousand dollars is hereby appropriated to pay the expense that may be incurred by the state treasurer in having said bonds prepared. Said amount shall be paid out of the San Francisco harbor improvement fund on controller's warrants, duly drawn for that purpose.

Sale of bonds. Approval. Matured coupons detached. Disposition of proceeds.

§ 4. When the bonds authorized to be issued under this act shall be duly executed, they shall be by the state treasurer sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, in such parcels and numbers as said treasurer shall be directed by the governor of the state, under seal thereof, after a resolution requesting such sale shall have been adopted by the board of state harbor commissioners, and approved by either the governor of the state or mayor of the city and county of San Francisco, who shall only approve the same when in their judgment the actual harbor receipts, and those reasonably anticipated, will justify such sale of bonds and the consequent increased burden on harbor receipts; but said treasurer must reject any and all bids for said bonds, or for any of them, which shall be below the par value of said bonds so offered plus the interest which has accrued thereon between the date of sale and the last preceding interest maturity date; and he may, by public announcement at the place and time fixed for the sale, continue such sale, as to the whole of the bonds offered, or any part thereof, offered, to such time and place as he may select. Before offering any of said bonds for sale the said treasurer shall detach therefrom all coupons which have matured or will mature before the date fixed for such sale. Due notice of the time and place of sale of all bonds must be given by said treasurer by publication in two newspapers published in the city and county of San Francisco, and also by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Oakland, and by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles, and by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Sacramento, once a week during four weeks prior to such sale. In addition to the notice last above provided for, the state treasurer may give such further notice as he may deem advisable, but the expenses and cost of such additional notice shall not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars for each sale so advertised. The cost of such publication shall be paid out of the San Francisco harbor improvement fund, on controller's warrants duly drawn for the purpose. The proceeds of the sale of such bonds except such amount as may have been paid as accrued interest thereon shall be forthwith paid over by said treasurer into the treasury, and must be by him kept in a separate fund to be known and designated as the "third San Francisco seawall fund" and must be used exclusively for the construction of wharves, piers, seawall, state railroad, spurs, betterments and appurtenances and necessary dredging and filling in connection therewith on the waterfront of the city and county of San Francisco. Drafts and warrants upon said fund shall be drawn upon and shall be paid out of said fund in the same manner as drafts and warrants are drawn upon and paid out of the San Francisco harbor improvement fund. The amount that shall have been paid at the sale of said bonds as accrued interest on the bonds sold shall be, by the state treasurer, immediately after such sale, paid into the treasury of the state and placed in the "third San Francisco seawall sinking fund."

Third San Francisco seawall sinking fund created. Investment of funds. Collections. Payment by lot after 1955. Bonds purchased by state. Sale of bonds in sinking fund.

§ 5. For the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds a sinking fund, to be known and designated as the "third San Francisco seawall sinking fund," shall be, and the same is hereby created, as follows, to wit: The state treasurer, after the second day of July, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, shall on the first day of each and every month thereafter, after the sale of such bonds, take from the San Francisco harbor improvement fund such sum as, multiplied by the time in months, the bonds then sold and outstanding have to run, will equal the principal of the bonds sold and outstanding at the time said treasurer shall so take said sum from said San Francisco harbor improvement fund, less the amount theretofore taken therefrom for said purpose; and he shall place the sum in the third San Francisco seawall sinking fund created by this act. Said state treasurer shall, on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose, employ the moneys in said sinking fund in the purchase of the bonds of the United States, or of the state of California, including any bonds authorized, issued and theretofore sold under authority of this act or of the several counties or municipalities of the state of California, which said bonds shall be kept in a proper receptacle, appropriately labeled; but he must keep always on hand a sufficient amount of money in said sinking fund with which to pay the interest on such of the state bonds herein provided to be issued as may have theretofore been sold. The state treasurer may only purchase such bonds authorized and issued under authority of this act with moneys in said sinking fund as have been theretofore sold. And to provide means for the payment of interest on the bonds that may be sold and outstanding, said treasurer shall monthly take from the San Francisco harbor improvement fund, and pay into said seawall sinking fund, an amount equal to the monthly interest then due on all bonds then sold, delivered and outstanding. The board of state harbor commissioners are hereby authorized and directed by the collection of dockage, tolls, rents, wharfage and crange to collect a sum of money sufficient for the purposes of this act, over and above the amount limited by section two thousand five hundred and twenty-six of the Political Code of the state of California. Between the first and tenth day of May, in the year nineteen hundred and fifty-five and between the first and tenth day of May of each year thereafter until the maturity of said bonds, the said treasurer shall, in the presence of the governor, proceed to draw by lot such an amount of bonds as shall be requisite to exhaust as nearly as may be the amount in said sinking fund at that time, and shall thereupon and before the tenth day of June following, give notice by public advertisement to be inserted twice a week for two weeks in two newspapers published in the city and county of San Francisco, and also in one newspaper published in the city of Oakland, and also in one newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles, and also in one newspaper published in the city of Sacramento, stating the number of bonds so drawn and that the principal of said bonds will be paid on presentation to the treasurer on or before the second day of July, following, and that from and after such last named date, all interest upon bonds thus drawn shall cease, and it shall be the duty of the treasurer as soon as said bonds so drawn by lot are surrendered to him and paid to cancel the same, and the interest coupons thereon, and each year beginning with the year nineteen hundred and fifty-five, the said treasurer shall in the manner aforesaid, proceed to draw by lot such an amount of bonds as shall be requisite to exhaust as nearly as may be the amount in said sinking fund, and proceed in the manner hereinabove stated. In the event that the state treasurer employs moneys in said sinking fund in the purchase of any bonds authorized, issued and theretofore sold under authority of this act, than at the time in this section provided for the drawing of bonds by lot, and immediately preceding such drawing the state treasurer shall retire and cancel any bonds in said sinking fund authorized, issued and sold under authority of this act, and the amount in said sinking fund remaining at the time shall constitute the amount for the purposes of such drawing. After the payment of all said bonds, the surplus or balance remaining in said sinking fund, if any there be, shall forthwith be paid into the San Francisco harbor improvement fund. At the time of the respective drawings by lot, as aforesaid, and also at the maturity of said state bonds, said treasurer shall sell the United States or other bonds then in said sinking fund, except bonds authorized, issued and sold under authority of this act, at governing market rates, after advertising the sale thereof in the manner hereinbefore provided for the sale of bonds hereby authorized to be issued, and shall use the proceeds for the payment of such bonds as may be drawn by lot, and at the maturity of said bonds outstanding shall pay and redeem said matured outstanding bonds out of said moneys in said fund in extinguishment of said bonds on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose.

Record of proceedings.

§ 6. The state controller and the state treasurer shall keep full and particular account and record of all their proceedings under this act, and they shall transmit to the governor an abstract of all such proceedings thereunder, with an annual report, to be by the governor laid before the legislature biennially; and all books and papers pertaining to the matter provided for in this act shall at all times be open to the inspection of any party interested, or the governor, or the attorney general, or a committee of either branch of the legislature, or a joint committee of both, or any citizen of the state.

Duty of treasurer to pay interest.

§ 7. It shall be the duty of the state treasurer to pay the interest of said bonds, when the same falls due, out of the sinking fund provided for in this act, on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose.

In effect December 31, 1914.

§ 8. This act, if adopted by the people, shall take effect on the thirty-first day of December, nineteen hundred and fourteen, as to all its provisions except those relating to and necessary for its submission to the people, and for returning, canvassing, and proclaiming the votes, and as to said excepted provisions this act shall take effect ninety days after the final adjournment of the session of the legislature passing this act.

Submitted to people.

§ 9. This act shall be submitted to the people of the state of California for their ratification at the next general election, to be holden in the month of November, nineteen hundred and fourteen, and all ballots at said election shall have printed thereon and at the end thereof, the words, "For the San Francisco harbor improvement act of 1913," and in the same square under said words the following, in brevier type: "This act provides for the improvement of San Francisco harbor and for the payment of all costs thereof out of San Francisco harbor improvement fund." In the square immediately below the square containing said words, there shall be printed on said ballot the words: "Against the San Francisco harbor improvement act of 1913," and immediately below said words "Against the San Francisco harbor improvement act of 1913" in brevier type shall be printed "This act provides for the improvement of San Francisco harbor and for the payment of all costs thereof out of the San Francisco harbor improvement fund." Opposite the words, "For the San Francisco harbor improvement act of 1913" and "Against the San Francisco harbor improvement act of 1913" there shall be left spaces in which the voters may make or stamp a cross to indicate whether they vote for or against said act, and those voting for said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words "For the San Francisco harbor improvement act of 1913," and all those voting against the said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words "Against the San Francisco harbor improvement act of 1913." The governor of this state shall include the submission of this act to the people, as aforesaid, in his proclamation calling for said general election.

Canvass of votes.

§ 10. The votes cast for or against this act shall be counted, returned and canvassed and declared in the same manner and subject to the same rules as votes cast for state officers; and if it appear that said act shall have received a majority of all the votes cast for and against it at said election as aforesaid, then the same shall have effect as hereinbefore provided, and shall be irrepealable until the principal and interest of the liabilities herein created shall be paid and discharged, and the governor shall make proclamation thereof; but if a majority of the votes cast as aforesaid are against this act then the same shall be and become void.

Act published in each county.

§ 11. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to have this act published in at least one newspaper in each county, or city and county, if one be published therein, throughout this state, for three months next preceding the general election to be holden in the month of November, nineteen hundred and fourteen, the costs of publication shall be paid out of the San Francisco harbor improvement fund, on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose.

Title of act.

§ 12. This act may be known and cited as the "San Francisco harbor improvement act of 1913."

§ 13. All acts and part of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

SAN FRANCISCO SEAWALL ACT.

ACT 1871a—An act to provide for the issuance and sale of state bonds to create a fund for the construction by the board of state harbor commissioners of a seawall and appurtenances in the city and county of San Francisco; to create a sinking fund for the payment of said bonds; and providing for the submission of this act to a vote of the people. History: Approved March 20, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 247. Submitted to the people at the general election of 1904 and ratified.

This act provided for an issue of bonds to the amount of $2,000,000 for the purpose indicated.

The "San Francisco Harbor Improvement Act of 1909," provided for an issue of $9,000,000 bonds for the "second San Francisco seawall fund." See Act 1869; and the act of 1913, provided for a third San Francisco seawall fund." See Act 1871.

1. Constitutionality—Publication. — The failure of the act to provide for publication did not render it invalid under article XVI of the constitution, in view of the fact that that article required publication, since under section 7, article V, it was the duty of the governor to see that it was published.—Spear v. Reeves, 148 Cal. 501, 83 Pac. 432.

2. Right of prospective bidder.—A mere prospective bidder on the San Francisco seawall bonds has not the present status to entitle him to maintain a writ of mandate to compel the signing of the bonds.—Graham v. Gillett, 156 Cal. 113, 103 Pac. 195.

3. Rights of successful bidder.—A successful bidder for San Francisco seawall bonds is entitled to have valid securities, and if the bonds are not properly executed he may compel the issuance of valid bonds.—Graham v. Gillett, 156 Cal. 113, 103 Pac. 195.

BOARD OF HARBOR COMMISSIONERS OF PORT OF SAN JOSE.

ACT 1874—An act to create a board of harbor commissioners for the port of San Jose on the southerly arm of San Francisco bay, and to prescribe their powers and duties and to fix their compensation and the compensation of their employees and to appropriate money to carry this act into effect.

History: Approved June 14, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 1128.

San Jose harbor commission created. No compensation. Organization of board.

§ 1. The board of harbor commissioners for the port of San Jose on the southerly arm of the bay of San Francisco, to consist of three persons, is hereby constituted with such powers and duties as are prescribed by law and the provisions of this act. Within thirty days after this act takes effect the governor shall appoint one of said commissioners to hold office for two years, one of said commissioners to hold office for three years, and one of said commissioners to hold office for four years from the dates of their respective commissions and until their successors are appointed and qualified; and thereafter the said three officers shall be thereafter appointed by the governor for a term of four years from the dates of their respective commission and until their successors are appointed and qualified. All persons appointed commissioners by virtue of this act, must be qualified electors or freeholders of the city of San Jose and shall serve without compensation. If a vacancy occurs from any cause in the office of a commissioner appointed under the provisions of this act before the expiration of his term, his successor shall be appointed and hold office only for the unexpired portion of said term. Within thirty days after the appointment of said commissioners, the said board shall meet and organize by electing one of its members president and executive officer of said board. It shall be the duty of the president to preside at the meetings of the board, and to supervise the official conduct of all of its employees and officers, especially in the collection, custody and disbursement of the revenues, and to require that all the books, papers and accounts be accurately kept and in proper form, and all the provisions of law and the regulations of the board be enforced and observed. He may administer official oaths to the officers and employees of the board, except the other commissioners, and to all persons in relation to the business of the board.

Officers. Secretary, etc. Salaries.

§ 2. The said board, upon entering upon the duties of their office, may, as soon as they deem it necessary for the performance of the duties required by this act, and have funds at their disposal to pay the salaries or compensation for services rendered, appoint the following officers, to wit: A secretary, an attorney, a chief wharfinger, and such assistant wharfingers and collectors as they may deem necessary. Such persons shall hold office at the pleasure of said board, and shall receive such salaries as said board may fix therefor, not to exceed, however, the following sums: Said secretary, the sum of twelve hundred dollars per annum; said attorney, one thousand dollars per annum; said chief wharfinger, the sum of one thousand dollars per annum; and said assistant wharfingers and collectors, nine hundred dollars per annum each. Said board shall require of said officers, official bonds in such sums as they may deem necessary and proper, and may, at any time, increase the amounts thereof.

Secretary's duties.

§ 3. The secretary must keep the office of the board open every day, legal holidays excepted, and shall safely keep all books and papers of the board; attend their meetings; keep a perfect record of their proceedings, and proper books of account of all moneys received and paid, and send to the state controller on the 15th day of each month, a statement of such receipts and expenditures under oath for the preceding month, showing in detail the sources from which such moneys were received and the purposes for which they were expended, and the disposition of all moneys received by said board. He shall keep a record of all contracts and agreements made by the board and also all bonds executed by the officers of the board, and a record of all personal property purchased, and its cost, and the disposition of the same.

Attorney's duties. Wharfinger's duties.

§ 4. The attorney for the board shall attend the prosecution and defense of all suits and render all legal services which may be required of him by the board. The chief wharfinger must station, berth and regulate position of vessels in docks and harbors, and cause them to remove from time to time and from place to place as general business, safety and good order may require; he shall supervise the wharfingers and collectors, and require all vessels to conform to the regulations of the board, and have general charge and supervision over all wharves, docks, slips, piers and other premises under the jurisdiction of the board, and make due report to the board of all of his acts, and of all vessels coming into the harbors, or using the docks under the supervision of said board; and perform such other duties as may be required by the board from time to time.

Collector's duties.

§ 5. The collectors must collect the revenues in such manner as the board may direct, and shall daily account for and pay in to the secretary of said board all moneys so collected by them.

Jurisdiction of commissioners. Rules of navigation. Wharves. Condemnation proceedings. Seawall.

§ 6. The board of harbor commissioners for the port of San Jose, shall have possession and control of, and jurisdiction over, all those portions of Alviso slough, sometimes called Steamboat slough, Guadalupe slough or river, Coyote river and Devil's slough, as are now or may hereafter be declared to be navigable waters and public ways, and all of that portion of the bay of San Francisco lying within three miles of the mouths of said sloughs, and the shores along the same, together with all of the improvements, rights, privileges, easements and appurtenances connected therewith, or in any wise appertaining thereto, for the purposes in this act provided, excepting that nothing herein shall interfere with any private rights already secured in any of the said premises, other than by due process of law, or in the exercise of the right of eminent domain. Said board are authorized and empowered to make rules and regulations, and take such action as may be necessary and proper for the said protection and encouragement of navigation within their jurisdiction, and may regulate the erection and extension of wharves and piers, and regulate the tolls, wharfage or dockage to be charged thereon. They may prescribe and regulate the manner in which rafts, boats, or vessels may enter or depart from, or lie at anchor in, any harbor within their jurisdiction, or be moved to any wharf or pier, and may prevent and remove obstructions to the regular ebb and flow of the tides, and the deposit and escape into the waters of the bay, or said sloughs, of substances likely to injure, interfere with, or impede navigation, or to create shoals or shallows in, or lessen the depth of the water thereof, and may regulate the speed of vessels moving in said waters. They shall construct such number of wharves, piers and docks as the wants of commerce shall require and locate them at such points upon said lands as the board may deem most suitable and for the best interest of commerce, and shall repair and maintain all wharves, piers, landings and thoroughfares as the wants of commerce may require, and generally erect all such improvements as may be necessary for the safe landing, loading and unloading, and protection of all classes of merchandise, and for the safety and convenience of passengers. The commissioners may institute and prosecute to final judgment, actions in the name of the people of the state of California for the possession of any portion of the shores or lands lying, contiguous thereto, in the exercise of eminent domain, and for the uses and purposes in this act specified; and may so sue for the collection of any money due, or which may become due, by virtue of this act, and may also institute and prosecute to final judgment, actions for the removal of all obstructions in or upon said premises. They may construct such harbor embankment or sea wall as may be necessary to protect the commerce in the waters within their jurisdiction, and may dredge such number of slips and docks as such commerce may require.

Tolls lien on goods.

§ 7. The charge for the wharfage and tolls which may be fixed by said board shall be a lien upon all goods, wares and merchandise landed upon any of said wharves or docks and said lien may be enforced in the same manner as other liens.

Embankments, etc., for public use.

§ 8. The embankments, sea walls, thoroughfares, streets, wharves and other public places provided for in this act, are hereby declared to be for public use, and the laying out and construction of which the right of eminent domain may be exercised by the said board of harbor commissioners in the name of the people of the state, and in the manner provided in part 3, title VIII of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California. The said board are authorized to pay out of any moneys coming into their hands, any compensations, and damages assessed in such proceedings.

Limit of rent, etc.

§ 9. No greater amount of money in rent shall be collected for dockage, wharfage, tolls and rents by the said board than shall be necessary to construct and keep in repair such number of wharves, piers, landings, thoroughfares, and to dredge such number of slips and docks, and to construct and keep in repair such sea walls and harbor embankments as are necessary for the convenience of commerce, and to pay the salaries and incidental expenses authorized by this act.

Appropriation.

§ 10. The sum of two thousand five hundred dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, to be used in putting into effect the provisions of this act; and the money hereby appropriated shall become available on the first day of October, 1913, and shall be set aside in a separate fund to the credit of said board of harbor commissioners for the port of San Jose and paid out upon warrants drawn therefor by the controller as directed by the said board; and the said controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrants in favor of such persons and in such amounts as may be designated by said board, and the said treasurer is hereby directed to pay such warrants.

FALSE RETURNS TO BOARDS.

ACT 1875—An act to provide penalties for failure to pay tolls, by false returns or otherwise, to any board of state harbor commissioners.

History: Approved March 10, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 27.

False returns to harbor commissioners. Penalty.

§ 1. Any person, corporation, firm, or association who shall, by false returns, or in any manner, avoid the payment of all or any portion of any tolls that may be due to any board of state harbor commissioners of the state of California, from any source or cause, as provided for by law and the rules and regulations of said board, shall be liable for and shall pay to said board twice the amount of such tolls, and in addition thereto the sum of ten dollars over and above such amount.

Act takes effect when.

§ 2. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

Collecting tolls without authority of board.—See Kerr's Cyc. Penal Code, § 642.

1. Proceedings—Construction of act.—The construction of a highway under this act is not, strictly speaking a proceeding in invitum, and the rule of strict construction is not applicable to contracts made thereunder.—City, etc., Co. v. Kroh, 158 Cal. 308, 110 Pac. 933.

2. Same — Preliminary investigation, purpose of.—The preliminary investigation, statement of improvements to be made and estimate of the cost, are intended to be general in terms, the purpose being merely to give information to the supervisors and the voters as to the general character of the work for which bonds were supposed to be necessary.—City, etc., Co. v. Kroh, 158 Cal. 308, 110 Pac. 933.

2a. Same—Same.—The act never intended that the report referred to in sections 4 and 6 should go into detail, or that a slight or reasonable departure therefrom in the final specifications for doing the work, not destructive of the general plan proposed, should render the contract void.—City, etc., Co. v. Kroh, 158 Cal. 308, 110 Pac. 933.

3. Contract—Interest of public official.—A contract for the acquisition of land for a highway under this act approved by the highway commissioners and by the supervisors can not be avoided by the county on the ground that the assistant district attorney was interested as a stockholder in the corporation owning the land, and that the price agreed to be paid was excessive.—County of San Diego v. Utt, 173 Cal. 554, 160 Pac. 657.

4. Same—Changes.—Where a contract for work under this act authorizes the supervisors to make such changes as would materially diminish the contractor's work without authorizing at the same time a corresponding diminution of the contract price, it is not for that reason invalid, since, even in the absence of such a provision for a diminution of the contract price, in the event of such a change the contractor would not be entitled to the full contract price.—City, etc., Co. v. Kroh, 158 Cal. 308, 110 Pac. 933.

5. Same—Same.—Where a contract for work done under this act provided that certain parts of the work should be done according to elevations shown upon the plans "or to elevations which may be given by the engineer," and also that power is reserved to the supervisors to change plans in certain particulars, the engineer is not given the authority to change the elevations of his own motion, but the contractor is required to take the engineer's elevations so far as they apply to the changes made by the supervisors under the reservation.—City, etc., Co. v. Kroh, 158 Cal. 308, 110 Pac. 933.

6. Same—Plans and specifications—Necessity, purpose and sufficiency.—It is a general principle of law applying to the letting of contracts for public work to the lowest bidder, upon plans and specifications previously adopted, that they must be sufficiently certain and definite upon all the details of the work which materially affect its cost, to apprise the bidders of all the essential and substantial parts of the work and enable them to know with reasonable accuracy the outlay they will have to make in performing the work.—City, etc., Co. v. Kroh, 158 Cal. 308, 110 Pac. 933.

7. Same—Same—Same.—The reason of the rule as to the sufficiency and certainty of the plans and specifications of public work, is, partly, because the uncertainty would deprive property owners of the knowledge necessary to enable them to undertake the work, and partly because it deprives the bidders of a like knowledge, and thereby tends to prevent fair competition, and one reason is as persuasive as the other, whether the cost is already raised or to be raised, by the sale of bonds, or by assessment.—City, etc., Co. v. Kroh, 158 Cal. 308, 110 Pac. 933.

8. Same—Same—Same.—Where details of construction do not appear nor could be ascertained with reasonable diligence in advance, or any other contingency which reasonable care and consideration would not foresee, the matter must be left to be adjusted in accordance with the general provisions of the contract, or by the discretion of the person or board supervising its performance.—City, etc., Co. v. Kroh, 158 Cal. 308, 110 Pac. 933.

9. Same—Same—Same.—It would require a radical departure from the general plan described in the report to invalidate a contract made in good faith.—City, etc., Co. v. Kroh, 158 Cal. 308, 110 Pac. 933.

10. Plans, profiles and specifications—Effect of failure to adopt—Purchase of cement.—Where, in the purchase of cement for road building the board of supervisors failed to adopt plans, profiles and specifications for the work as required by the Savage act, under which they proceeded, the seller can not recover the price of the cement furnished.—Henry Cowell, etc., Co. v. Williams, 34 Cal. App. 92, 166 Pacific. 1018, (Cal.) 189 Pac. 838.

11. Width of pavement and width of highway.—The width of the pavement is limited to sixteen feet for the sole purpose of a way for public travel, and the requirement that public roads must be at least forty feet wide is substantially complied with if the portion of the highway not covered by the pavement was fit for use as a passage way.—City, etc., Co. v. Kroh, 158 Cal. 308, 110 Pac. 933.

12. Employment of unnaturalized alien.—A provision in a contract for work done under this act that no unnaturalized alien shall be employed in the work, except with the consent of the highway commission is invalid and unenforceable, and its violation by the contractor would not defeat his right of recovery.—City, etc., Co. v. Kroh, 158 Cal. 308, 110 Pac. 933.

13. Maintenance and repair of highways built under this act.—See Kerr's Cyc. Political Code, § 2646.

COUNTY HARBOR COMMISSION ACT.

ACT 1877—An act providing for the improvement, development or protection of any harbor, bay, inlet, or other arm of the sea, existing within any county of this state, providing for the appointment of a harbor commission by the board of supervisors of any such county to have charge and control of the improvement, development, or protection thereof, and the voting, issuance and sale of the bonds of such county to pay the cost thereof.

History: Approved June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1459.

Appointment of county harbor commission.

§ 1. In any county of this state where there exists any harbor, bay, inlet, or other arm of the sea, the board of supervisors of any such county, upon receiving a petition signed by persons who are both freeholders and electors in such county, equal in number to at least fifteen per cent of the vote cast for the office of governor of this state at the last preceding election held in any such county for governor, asking that the matter of issuing bonds of the county for the purpose of improving, developing, or protecting such harbor, (naming it by the name by which it is commonly called,) be submitted to the electors of the county, may appoint a harbor commission for such county, who shall perform the duties and exercise the powers hereinafter specified.

Membership. Expense of improvement too great.

§ 2. The harbor commission shall consist of five members, each of whom shall, at the time of his or her appointment, be and have been for two years a bona fide resident, elector and freeholder of such county. The harbor commission shall be appointed to serve for the term of four (4) years, and until their successors are appointed and qualified, and any vacancy in the harbor commission shall be filled by appointment by the board of supervisors; provided, however, that if, after a careful survey, investigation and examination, the harbor commission shall report to the board of supervisors that the improvement, development or protection of any such harbor is not practicable, or would involve too great an expense, and such report shall be approved by the board of supervisors, the said harbor commission shall thenceforth cease to exist; or if the proposition for the issuance of the bonds of the county for the improvement, development or protection of such harbor shall, when submitted to the electors, fail to carry by the requisite number of votes, or when any proposed improvement, development or protection of such harbor shall have been completed, and that fact established by a finding of the board of supervisors, the said harbor commission shall cease to exist, Thereafter, however, another commission may be appointed with like duties and powers, as provided for in section one hereof.

Oath of office.

§ 3. Each commissioner shall, within twenty days after he shall receive notice of his appointment, qualify by taking and subscribing the constitutional oath of office and by executing and filing with the clerk of the county wherein he is appointed, a bond in a sum to be fixed by the board of supervisors, with two sureties, which bond, when approved by the judge or judges of the superior court of such county, shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder, as other official bonds are recorded at any time subsequent to twenty days after the appointment of the commission. The said commissioners, or a majority of them having qualified, shall meet at some convenient place in the county and organize by electing one of their number chairman of the harbor commission.

Surveys, etc. Clerks.

§ 4. The commission shall with all diligence proceed to cause proper surveys to be made of any harbor designed to be improved, developed or protected, and shall collect, compile and preserve all proper data and information concerning the said harbor, and as to the necessity, advantage and benefit to be derived by its improvement, development or protection, and shall carefully investigate and examine the condition of such harbor and shall ascertain the best, most feasible and practical plan and system of improvement, development or protection to be used and employed, and of the cost thereof; and shall have power, with the consent and approval of the board of supervisors, to appoint and fix the compensation of a clerk, and his or her necessary office assistants; also employ and appoint an engineer or engineers and other experts, and, if in their judgment it is necessary, employ an attorney. All employees and appointees shall hold office only during the pleasure of the harbor commission.

If expense too great. Plans for improving.

§ 5. If the harbor commission shall, after a careful survey, investigation and examination, find and report to the board of supervisors, that the improvement, development or protection of the harbor is not practicable, or would involve too great an expense, their report shall be filed, and if approved by the board of supervisors, the harbor commission shall cease, as provided for in section two hereof; but if the harbor commission shall find that the harbor can be improved, developed or protected, and that the public will be benefited by such improvement, development or protection, and that the cost thereof will not be disproportionate to the benefits to be derived, the harbor commission shall provide, detailed plans and specifications for the best and most feasible plan of improvement, development or protection of such harbor, and shall estimate the cost thereof and the amount necessary to be raised by the issuance and sale of bonds to do the work, and shall make a complete, full and comprehensive report of their investigation and examination and file the same with the board of supervisors.

Hearing. Resolution of adoption. Election.

The board of supervisors shall then fix a date for hearing said report not more than thirty nor less than twenty days after the filing thereof, and shall cause notice of the fact that said report has been filed, and the date fixed for the hearing thereof to be published in one or more newspapers published in the county, by at least two publications thereof. On the day fixed the board of supervisors shall proceed to hear the said report, and may adjourn such hearing from time to time not exceeding four weeks in all, and shall finally pass upon the same, and may in their discretion refer the same back to the harbor commission for further examination and investigation, or for correction or amendment. When the plans and specifications and report shall finally be accepted and approved by the board of supervisors, they shall pass and adopt a resolution to that effect setting forth the harbor to be improved, developed or protected, designating it by the name by which it is commonly called, the plan or system of improvement, development or protection to be employed and used therein, the estimated cost thereof, and the amount to be raised by the sale of bonds to carry out the plan or system of improvement, development or protection thereof; and shall without delay call an election to determine whether or not the bonds of such county shall be issued and sold in the amount estimated by the harbor commission in their report and set forth in the resolution of the board of supervisors adopting the report. The said election shall be called, held, conducted and carried on, and the said bonds issued and sold and paid for under and in accordance with all the provisions of law now or hereafter existing, concerning and regarding the issuance, sale and payment of county bonds, and all proceedings had in regard to such bonds shall be in accordance with such provisions of law; provided, that every election held for the purpose of submitting the question of the issuance and sale of bonds under this act shall be a special election and no other question except the proposition of the issuance and sale of bonds shall be submitted; provided, that the proposition of the issuance and sale of bonds for more than one purpose may be submitted to the electors at any such election; and provided, further, that for the holding of such special election the board may form bond election precincts by adopting the precincts established for general election purposes, or by consolidating such precincts inside of incorporated cities and towns, to a number not exceeding six in each bond election precinct, and shall appoint only one inspector, two judges and one clerk for each bond election precinct; and provided, further, that it shall be sufficient to set forth the purpose for which such bonds are to be issued and sold, to state that the same are for the improvement, development or protection of.....harbor, (naming the said harbor by the name by which it is commonly called) and any defect or irregularity in the proceedings prior to the calling of such election shall not affect the validity of the bonds.

Special fund.

§ 6. All bonds sold for any purpose contemplated by this act shall be sold for not less than the par value and accrued interest of such bonds, and the proceeds thereof shall be deposited in the treasury of the county and placed to the credit of a special fund designated.....harbor fund, created by order of the harbor commission for that purpose, and the said proceeds of the sale of such bonds shall be used solely and exclusively, and for no other purpose, than that for which the bonds were issued.

May receive donations.

The harbor commission may receive and place to the credit of said fund any and all donations which shall be used for the purpose for which it was donated. No moneys shall be paid out of said fund except upon warrant of the county auditor issued upon the written order of the harbor commission, duly allowed and approved by the board of supervisors.

Management of work.

§ 7. All improvement, development or protection of any harbor, and all work, labor or service employed therein, shall be built, constructed and done under the power, control, management and authority of the harbor commission; provided, however, that the provisions of this act shall not apply to any harbor, bay, inlet, or other arm of the sea, or any portion thereof, now maintained or operated by the state of California or any municipality thereof or to any harbor, bay, inlet, or other arm of the sea, in which the state of California has, since the present state constitution was adopted, ceded or granted to any municipality of the state the whole or any portion of the salt marsh or tide lands.

Whenever the funds necessary for the doing of any improvement, development or protection for which bonds have been voted, or raised by donation, shall be in the county treasury, the harbor commission shall proceed to carry into effect the said improvement, development or protection of such harbor; provided, that the board of supervisors may sell only such portion of any bonds voted as shall provide funds as the same shall be needed to carry on the work.

One or more contracts.

The harbor commission shall have power to do all of the work of improvement, development, or protection under one contract, or may segregate the same into separate parts or divisions, and let contracts for any one or more separate parts or divisions. Every contract for doing any part of said work shall be let after advertisement for bids by publishing notice thereof for at least ten days in one or more daily newspapers published in the county; provided, that, if there be no daily paper published in the county, then by three publications in a weekly paper published therein. Every contract shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder, who shall give such security as the harbor commission shall require for the full and faithful performance of said contract, and the amount and kind of security required shall be stated in the advertisement for bids; provided, however, that the board of supervisors may authorize the harbor commission to make contracts without advertising for bids for any part of the work the cost of which does not exceed five hundred ($500) dollars; and provided, further, that the harbor commission may reject any and all bids, and re-advertise for bids for doing the whole or any part of said work, or the harbor commission, in its discretion, may, with the approval of the board of supervisors, purchase material, hire or purchase machinery, apparatus or appliances and employ labor and do the work or any part thereof without re-advertising for bids.

Character of improvements.

§ 8. All improvement, development, or protection of any harbor done under this act shall be of a substantial and permanent character.

Statement of proceedings.

§ 9. The harbor commission shall, once in each six months, make out and verify under their oath, and file with the board of supervisors, a detailed statement of their proceedings, showing the amount of money in the harbor fund at the time of their last report and the amount of all donation since received, and the purpose for which said donations were made, the amount since expended, with the purpose for which it was expended, and the balance remaining on hand in the said fund; provided, that the board of supervisors may at any time require a report of the progress of any work being done and of the condition of the harbor being improved, developed or protected, and such other information as the board of supervisors may deem necessary.

Compensation of commission.

§ 10. Each member of the harbor commission shall receive a per diem of five dollars for each day actually and necessarily spent in the discharge of his or her duties under this act, together with his or her necessary traveling expenses to be allowed by the board of supervisors upon verified demands presented by each commissioner and paid monthly. Prior to the voting of bonds, in any and all work under this act, the board of supervisors shall have power to incur, permit to accrue, audit, approve and pay any demand, debt or obligation against the county in a sum not to exceed five thousand dollars in the aggregate; provided, that the board of supervisors may, by a four-fifths vote of said board of supervisors, permit the expenditure of an additional five thousand dollars, but said additional five thousand dollars shall be upon a showing of necessity by the harbor commission and not exceeding one thousand dollars shall be appropriated at any one time.

Money out of general fund.

All of said money shall be paid out of the general fund of the county until there shall be money in the harbor fund sufficient to reimburse the general fund of the county, when the same shall be reimbursed, and thereafter all sums shall be paid out of the said harbor fund.

Use of money in conjunction with U. S. or state.

§ 11. Anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding, there is hereby vested in the board of supervisors the power on recommendation of the harbor commission to use any and all moneys in said harbor fund in conjunction with the government of the United States or the state of California in any harbor improvement, development or protection undertaken by said government or state, or to place all or any moneys in such fund at the disposal of the government of the United States or of the state of California for use in the improvement, development or protection of any such harbor.

Final report of commission.

§ 12. Whenever the harbor commission under the terms of this act shall cease to exist, it shall make a final report to the board of supervisors and file all books, records and papers appurtenant to the commission and of all work done under it with the board of supervisors, and, if the same shall be approved by the board of supervisors, the harbor commission shall be discharged from their duty and their bonds from that date exonerated.

PAYMENT OF CLAIM OF FIDELITY AND DEPOSIT COMPANY OF MARYLAND.

History: Approved May 31, 1917. In effect July 30, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1514.

Claim of Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland.

§ 1. The board of state harbor commissioners of San Francisco harbor is hereby authorized to pay the claim of the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland in the sum of one thousand two hundred eighteen dollars and ninety-one cents.

ACQUISITION OF MISSION ROCK.

ACT 1879—An act to authorize the board of state harbor commissioners to acquire by purchase, condemnation, gift, grant or cession, certain property in the city and county of San Francisco, including Mission rock, and extending the jurisdiction of said board over the same, and providing for the payment for the same.

History: Approved May 17, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 625.

Board of state harbor commissioners authorized to acquire certain property.

§ 1. For the purpose of acquiring additional area for the construction of docks, wharves, slips and piers and increasing the harbor facilities on the water front of the city and county of San Francisco, the board of state harbor commissioners is hereby authorized and empowered to acquire, when in its discretion it is deemed for the best interests of the harbor, by purchase, condemnation, gift, grant or cession, for and on behalf of the state of California, all that certain tract or parcel of land situated in the city and county of San Francisco, state of California, and particularly described as follows, to wit: Commencing at a point in the bay of San Francisco, distant three thousand five hundred seventy feet southeasterly from the southerly corner of Brannan and Second streets, as the same are laid down on the official map of said city, said distance being measured along the extension southeasterly of the southwesterly line of Second street; thence in a southwesterly direction, at right angles with said line of Second street extended, five hundred feet; thence at right angles southeasterly eight hundred feet; thence at right angles northeasterly eight hundred feet; thence at right angles northwesterly eight hundred feet; and thence at right angles southwesterly three hundred feet, to the point of commencement; said tract of land being a square, including the rock known as Mission rock, together with the wharves and other improvements thereupon and the appurtenances thereunto belonging.

Jurisdiction extended.

§ 2. The jurisdiction of said board shall be and it is hereby extended so as to include all of the land described in section one of this act.

How acquired.

§ 3. The portion of said tract that is held in private ownership may be separately acquired by said board, and the portions that are owned by the United States of America may be separately acquired by said board, and said board is hereby authorized to accept from the United States a cession or gift or grant of said last named portions, if the same can be obtained, or to acquire the same by purchase or condemnation, in its discretion.

Action for condemnation.

§ 4. The board of state harbor commissioners may institute any action or actions that may be necessary, and prosecute the same to final judgment, for the condemnation of any portion, or portions, of the said tract of land, and the purposes herein mentioned are hereby declared to be a public use, in behalf of which the right of eminent domain may be exercised by the board of state harbor commissioners for and in the name of the people of the state of California, for the estates and rights specified in, and in the manner provided in part three, title seven of the Code of Civil Procedure of the state of California.

Price payable from what funds.

§ 5. The board of state harbor commissioners is hereby authorized to pay the purchase price thereof, or any judgment rendered in pursuance hereof in such condemnation proceedings, by drafts drawn upon the controller of the state, who shall draw his warrant or warrants therefor on the state treasurer, payable out of any money in the state treasury to the credit of the "San Francisco harbor improvement fund" or of the "Third San Francisco seawall fund," or partly from one and partly from the other of said funds, in the discretion of said board of state harbor commissioners.

STANDARD HAY BALING ACT.

ACT 1882—An act relating to baling of hay; defining hay-baler; providing regulations governing the baling of hay; providing for the sale of hay by net weight; providing penalties for any violation of the provisions of this act.

History: Approved May 18, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 750.

"Baler" and "presser" defined.

§ 1. The term "baler" or "presser" as referred to in this act shall mean the person, firm, association, or corporation owning or having possession of or operating a hay press.

Scales to be tested and sealed.

§ 2. Any person baling hay for compensation shall employ scales that have been tested and sealed by the sealer of weights and measures and any record of weight forming the basis in settlement for baling hay shall be the true net weight of the baled hay; and any record of weight forming the basis of settlement in the sale or purchase of baled hay shall be the true net weight of such baled hay.

Falsely increasing weight.

§ 3. No baler or presser of hay shall put or conceal in any such bale of hay anything whatever for the purpose of increasing the weight of such bale with intent to defraud.

Standard weight.

§ 4. Hay when sold, offered, or exposed for sale shall be sold by avoirdupois weight and a ton shall consist of two thousand pounds net weight; providing, however, that hay may be sold by the bale in which case the net weight of the bale shall be indicated on a tag securely fastened to the bale.

Broken bales.

§ 5. When any hay is shipped by a common carrier in bales and where such bales become broken, the approximate weight of such broken bales shall be included in the total weight of the hay shipped.

Penalty.

§ 6. Any person, firm or corporation, violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars, or more than one hundred dollars.

ACT 1894. TIDE LAND GRANT.

TIDE LAND GRANT.

ACT 1894—An act granting to the city of Hermosa beach the tidelands and submerged lands of the state of California within the boundaries of the said city.

History: Approved May 25, 1919. In effect July 25, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 941.

Tidelands granted to Hermosa beach.

§ 1. There is hereby granted to the city of Hermosa beach, a municipal corporation of the state of California, and to its successors, all the right, title and interest of the state of California, held by said state by virtue of its sovereignty, in and to all the tidelands and submerged lands, whether within the present boundaries of said city, and situated below the line of mean high tide of the Pacific ocean, to be forever held by said city, and by its successors, in trust for the uses and purposes, and upon the express conditions following, to wit:

Use of lands.

(a) Said lands shall be used by said city and by its successors, solely for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor and for the establishment and construction of bulkheads or breakwaters for the protection of lands within its boundaries, or for the protection of its harbor, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, and other utilities, structures and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion or accommodation of commerce and navigation, and the protection of the lands within said city, and said city, or its successors, shall not, at any time, grant, convey, give or alien said lands, or any part thereof, to any individual, firm or corporation for any purpose whatsoever; provided, that said city, or its successors, may grant franchises thereon, for a period not exceeding forty years, for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands, or any part thereof for a period not exceeding forty years, for purposes consistent with the trusts upon which said lands are held by the state of California and with the requirements of commerce or navigation at said harbor;

Improvement of harbor.

(b) Said harbor shall be improved by said city without expense to the state, and shall always remain a public harbor for all purposes of commerce and navigation, and the state of California, shall have, at all times, the right to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, and other improvements constructed on said lands, or any part thereof, for any vessel or other water craft, or railroad, owned or operated by the state of California;

Rates, tolls, etc.

(c) In the management, conduct or operation of said harbor, or of any of the utilities or appliances mentioned in paragraph (a), no discrimination in rates, tolls, or charges, or in facilities, for any use or service in connection therewith shall ever be made, authorized or permitted by said city or by its successors. The absolute right to fish in the waters of said harbor, with the right of convenient access to said waters over said lands for said purpose, is hereby reserved to the people of the state of California.

ACT 1900—An act providing for the laying out, constructing, straightening, improvement and repair of main public highways in any county, providing for the voting, issuing, and selling of county bonds and the acceptance of donations to pay for such work and improvements, providing for a highway commission to have charge of such work and improvements, and authorizing cities and towns to improve the portions of such highways within their corporate limits and to issue and sell bonds therefor.

History: Approved March 19, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 666. Amended March 6, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 154; March 28, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 505; April 3, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 589; December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (ex. sess.), p. 65; May 26, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 327; April 20, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 154.

Bonds for county highways, appointment of commission.

§ 1. The board of supervisors of any county in the state, upon receiving a petition signed by freeholders electors of the county equal in number to at least ten per cent of the vote cast for governor in said county at the last election, praying that the matter of issuing bonds of the county for highway purposes be submitted to the electors of the county, may appoint a highway commission for such county, who shall perform the duties hereinafter specified.

County highway commission, how constituted, and terms of members.

§ 2. Said highway commission shall consist of three members, who shall be, and have been for two years, bona fide residents and freeholders of such county, and shall be especially qualified to have charge of the improvement of highways. Said commissioners shall be appointed to serve for the term of two years and until their successors are appointed and qualified, and any vacancy in the commission shall be filled by appointment for the unexpired term; provided, however, that when the proposition for the issuance of bonds fails to carry at the election held under section seven of this act, or when all the highway improvements for which bonds are voted under said section seven are completed, or, if there is a surplus in the highway improvement fund after completion thereof, when said surplus has been expended on other highways, the existence of said highway commission shall cease. Thereafter another commission may be appointed under section one hereof. Each commissioner shall give a bond for the faithful performance of his duties, to be approved by the board of supervisors, in such amount as said board may require. No member of the board of supervisors can act or be appointed as a commissioner under this act. [Amendment approved Dec. 24, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 65 (extra session).]

This section was also amended March 27, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 505.

Main highway defined.

§ 3. For the purpose of this act a main public highway is defined to be a highway connecting different cities and towns in the same or different counties, or connecting any city or town in one county with the public highway system of another county. Provision may be made under this act for the improvement of any number of such highways jointly, to be paid for with the proceeds of one bond issue.

Duty of commissioners. New highways.

§ 4. Immediately upon their appointment said commission shall proceed with all diligence to investigate carefully the main public highways of the county and the condition thereof, and to have made a map showing said main public highways, their connections, and such other information in regard thereto as the commission may deem necessary for carrying out the purposes of this act, and to ascertain which of said main public highways should be improved by the issuance of bonds, and the kind of improvements to be made thereon, and to estimate the cost of such improvements. And also to investigate carefully the question of laying out and constructing any new public highways which said commission may deem necessary to be laid out and constructed in the county, and to have made a map showing said proposed new public highways, their connections, and such other information in regard thereto as the commission may deem necessary for carrying out the purposes of this act, and to ascertain whether any of said new public highways should be laid out and constructed by the issuance of bonds, and the kind of improvements to be made thereon, and to estimate the cost of such improvements. [Amendment approved March 6, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 154. In effect immediately.]

Employment of engineer.

§ 5. With the consent of the board of supervisors they may employ a competent engineer or engineers and other experts, at the cost of the county, to make any necessary surveys and prepare said map, and to assist the commission in determining the best material to be used and the best manner of making such improvements and the cost thereof. All surveys made for the purpose of determining the location of highways shall be approved by the county surveyor before the same as [are] adopted by the commission.

Report of board of supervisors.

§ 6. After having ascertained what improvements should be made, and the estimated cost thereof proposed to be covered by a bond issue, the commission shall make and file with the board of supervisors a report setting forth the main public highway or highways proposed to be improved, by their termini, describing generally the kind of improvements to be made thereon, and stating the estimated cost of the work to be done, and the amount to be raised by bonds therefor, and praying the said board of supervisors to call an election for the issuance of bonds of the county therefor, for the estimated amount.

Election to determine whether bonds shall be issued.

§ 7. If said report is not approved by the board of supervisors they may refer it back to said commission for further consideration. If the board approve the report they shall adopt the same, and shall without delay call an election to determine whether bonds of the county shall be issued in the amount recommended by the commission, for the purposes stated in their report. Said election shall be called and held and said bonds issued, sold and paid under and in accordance with all the provisions of law now or hereafter existing in regard to the issuance, sale and payment of county bonds, and all proceedings had in regard to such bonds shall be in accordance with such provisions of law; provided however, that the board may form bond election precincts by consolidating the precincts established for general election purposes to a number not exceeding six for each bond election precinct, and shall appoint only one inspector, two judges and one clerk for each bond election precinct, and provided further, that it shall be sufficient to set forth the purpose of the bond issue in said proceedings by describing the highways to be improved as the same are described in said report of the highway commission. Any defect or irregularity in the proceedings prior to the calling of such election shall not affect the validity of the bonds.

Sale of bonds. Surplus of funds. Donations.

§ 8. Said bonds shall not be sold for less than par, and the proceeds thereof shall be paid into the treasury of the county and placed in a special fund to be denominated the "highway improvement fund"; and shall be used solely for the purposes set forth in said report of the highway commission, or such other purposes as are authorized by this act; provided that if there shall be any surplus of funds voted for the improvement of any road or roads after the completion thereof, such surplus may be used for the improvement of other main public highways, under the control and direction of the highway commission. The highway commission may receive and accept donations from any person for any work which they are authorized to have done, and the same shall also be paid into the said fund. No moneys shall be paid out of said fund except upon the warrant of the auditor of said county issued upon the order of the highway commission, duly allowed by the board of supervisors thereof.

Supervision of work. Plans and profiles. Contracts for.

§ 9. The doing of the work for which said bonds are issued shall be under the supervision and direction of the highway commission; provided, that the final acceptance thereof shall be by the board of supervisors. As soon as the funds raised by the sale of said bonds are in the treasury the commission shall proceed to prepare detailed specifications, plans and profiles for the work to be done, or for such parts of it as they deem it advisable to have done separately, if they have not already done so, and for this purpose they may hire assistants, with the consent of the board of supervisors; and they shall then present said specifications, plans and profiles, with their recommendations in regard to the doing of the work and letting of contracts to the board of supervisors, who shall either adopt or reject the same as presented. If the board adopt the same they shall thereupon advertise for bids for doing the said work, or any part thereof which the highway commission recommend should be done separately, in accordance with said plans, profiles, and specifications, by publishing a notice for ten days in a daily newspaper or two weeks in a weekly newspaper published at the county seat. Every contract for doing any part of said work shall be let, after advertisement as above provided, to the lowest responsible bidder who will give security for the faithful performance of his contract, with sureties satisfactory to the board of supervisors, in such amount as they may fix, which shall be stated in said advertisement; provided, however, that the board may authorize the highway commission to make contracts, without advertisement, for any part of said work the cost of which does not exceed one thousand dollars; and provided, further that the board may reject all bids and may thereupon readvertise for bids for doing any part or the whole of said work, or in their discretion authorize the highway commission to purchase the necessary material, purchase or hire tools and appliances, and hire laborers, and to do the work or any part thereof without letting any contract therefor. In such case all contracts for materials, tools or appliances, amounting to more than one thousand dollars in value shall be let by the commission to the lowest responsible bidder, after advertisement as above provided. Said commission may, with the consent of the board of supervisors, hire all necessary engineers, inspectors and superintendents to supervise the performance of said contract, or to have charge of the doing of said work without contract.

Improvements must be durable. Highway shall not be used by railroad. Use of highway by railroad in incorporated city.

§ 10. All improvements constructed under this act shall be of a durable and lasting character; provided, that said commission shall have the power to determine how said highways shall be improved and constructed, and the character of the materials to be used in the improvement and construction thereof. If said commission shall determine that said highways, or any of them, shall be macadamized or paved, then the macadamized or paved portion of the roadbed constructed or any highway portion thereof improved under this act, shall not exceed eighteen feet in width, unless donations are made to the highway commission for that purpose, in which case such donations may be used to defray the increased cost of constructing such macadamized or paved roadbed more than eighteen feet wide on any part of such highway specified by the donors; but no part of the proceeds of any bond issue shall be expended for such purpose. No railroad, electric road, or street railroad shall be constructed along or upon any highway, or any portion thereof, improved under the provision of this act, except for crossings duly authorized by the board of supervisors, nor shall any board of supervisors have power to grant any franchise for the construction of any railroad, electric road, or street railroad along or upon any such highway or portion thereof, except for crossings; provided, that when any such highway or portion thereof shall, after the improvement of the same under the provisions of this act, be included within the boundaries of any incorporated city, city and county or town the foregoing provisions of this section shall not prohibit the granting of any such franchise by the proper municipal authorities along, upon or across any such highway, or portion thereof so included within the boundaries of any such incorporated city, city and county, or town. Any such franchise shall be granted only upon the express condition that the grantee thereof will pay to the county for the benefit of the general fund thereof an amount equal to the cost of the improvement or construction of such portion of the roadbed or highway constructed or improved under the provisions of this act as shall be occupied by the track or tracks of such railroad, electric road or street railroad. [Amendment of April 20, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 154.]

This section was also amended in 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 155; in 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 589; May 26, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 327.

Eminent domain.

§ 11. Whenever the said highway commission shall deem it necessary, the board of supervisors may, on its recommendation, cause any highway it proposes to improve to be widened, straightened, or altered, and cause new highways to be laid out and constructed, and for that purpose they may acquire land in the name of the county by donation or purchase; and may order the condemnation of such land and direct the district attorney to bring an action in the name of the county for that purpose under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure in relation to eminent domain. In such action the order of the board of supervisors shall be conclusive evidence of the regularity of all prior proceedings. The cost of purchasing or condemning such land shall be paid out of the highway improvement fund. [Amendment approved March 6, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 155. In effect immediately.]

Incorporated city may improve portion of highway.

§ 12. No part of any highway lying within the corporate limits of any incorporated city or town shall be improved under the provisions of this act; but, when any highway which is being so improved shall pass through any incorporated city or town, said city or town is hereby authorized to improve the portion of such highway lying within its corporate limits, and for the purpose of raising the necessary funds therefor, to issue bonds in such manner as may be provided by law for the issuing of bonds by such city or town for public improvements.

Repairs.

§ 13. All necessary repairs to any highway improved under this act shall be made by the same officers who may be charged with the duty of repairing other highways of the county, and the cost of such repairs shall be paid out of the general fund of the county.

Highway commission to file statement, when.

§ 14. Said highway commission shall, at least once in every six months, make and file with the board of supervisors a detailed statement of their proceedings, showing the amount of money in the highway improvement fund at the time of their last statement, the amount of all donations since received, and the purposes for which said donations were made, the amount since expended, with the purposes for which it was expended and the balance remaining, the contracts entered into or other obligations incurred by them and still outstanding, the highways in course of improvement or completed since their last statement, and the condition of the work on each, together with any other information that they may consider of interest to the public.

Per diem of commissioners. From what fund paid.

§ 15. Each member of said highway commission shall receive a per diem of five dollars for each day actually and necessarily spent in the discharge of his duties, together with his actual necessary traveling expenses, to be allowed by the board of supervisors and paid monthly. Said per diem and expenses and all other demands against the county which said highway commission are authorized to incur shall be paid out of the general fund of the county until there shall be money in the highway improvement fund derived from the sale of bonds, whereupon the general fund shall be reimbursed from the highway improvement fund for the amounts so expended, and thereafter said per diem and expenses and other demands shall be paid out of said highway improvement fund; provided however, that after the preparation and filing of their report and recommendation for the issuance of bonds the members of said highway commission shall not receive any per diem or expenses unless there is money in said highway improvement fund to pay the same.

§ 16. This act shall take effect immediately.

JOINT HIGHWAY DISTRICTS.

ACT 1900a—An act providing for the creation, organization and government of joint highway districts composed of two or more counties of the state of California.

History: Approved April 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 46. Act of April 6, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 88, providing for permits for the construction and maintenance of highways and boulevards connecting with its highways and boulevards by one county in adjoining counties, was repealed May 5, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 323.

Joint highway district may be created.

§ 1. A joint highway district, to be composed of two or more counties may be created, organized and governed for the purpose of constructing public highways therein as in this act provided. The word "county" as used in this act shall include any "city and county," but such city and county is herein regarded solely as a political subdivision of the state, and not as a municipality.

Resolution initiating proceedings.

§ 2. The board of supervisors of any county may initiate proceedings for the creation of a joint highway district to be composed of two or more counties of the state by the adoption of a resolution reciting:

(a) That the public interest requires the construction of a public highway, stating generally the location and course thereof, and naming the counties in or through which such highway will pass.

(b) The names of the counties interested in and which will be benefited by such highway construction.

(c) That it is proposed to create a joint highway district composed of the counties so named.

When adopted, certified copies of the same shall be transmitted to the advisory board of the state engineering department of the state of California, and to the clerks of the boards of supervisors of the counties named in the resolution.

§ 3. Immediately upon receipt of a copy of the resolution adopted as aforesaid, the said advisory board, either at a regular or special meeting, shall fix a time and place in the county adopting the resolution at which the matter of the creation of a joint highway district will be heard and determined. Notice of such hearing shall be published five days in one daily newspaper published in each of the counties named in said resolution, or two times in a newspaper published less than six days a week or if no newspaper be published in any county then such notice shall be posted in three public places in such county for a period of ten days. The time fixed for such hearing shall be not less than thirty nor more than forty days from the date of meeting at which the said advisory board caused such notice to be given.

Proof of publication.

§ 4. Proof of the publication shall be made by the affidavit of the publisher, manager or principal clerk of the newspaper making such publication, or person posting the notice, and such notice, the publication, or posting thereof and proof thereof shall be sufficient to vest said advisory board of the state engineering department with jurisdiction and power to hear, determine and order the creation of the proposed joint highway district. A copy of such notice shall be mailed to the clerk of the board of supervisors of each of the counties named in the initiatory resolution.

Board of directors named.

§ 5. Upon the receipt of such notice it shall be the duty of each of the boards of supervisors to name and appoint either one of its members or some other suitable person and each of the persons so appointed shall constitute a member of the board of directors of the joint highway district when created. It shall be the duty of each of the persons so appointed to attend the hearing fixed by the said advisory board. The said directors so appointed, may meet from time to time in advance of the time fixed for said hearing and may make and enter into an agreement limiting the amount to be assessed upon each of the counties to comprise the district when formed, and such limitation so agreed upon shall not thereafter be changed except by the unanimous vote of all the directors.

Objections to creating district.

§ 6. At the time and place fixed for said hearing any person may appear and offer objections to the creation of the joint highway district, and the said advisory board shall hear such objections and may continue such hearing from time to time and all parties shall be deemed to have notice of any such continuance.

Order creating district.

§ 7. At the conclusion of such hearing the said advisory board shall determine all matters relating to the creation of such joint highway district and may sustain or overrule any objection offered. The objections offered need not be specifically set forth, but may be sustained or overruled in general terms. An objection made by any person appointed a member of the proposed board of directors shall prevent the creation of the district. If no objections are made or if all objections shall be overruled, then the said advisory board shall make and enter in its minutes an order creating such joint highway district. The order shall contain the names of the several counties composing the district and the names of the persons constituting its board of directors. Districts shall be numbered in the order of their creation. A certified copy of such order shall be filed with the secretary of state and transmitted to the clerks of the several boards of supervisors of the counties composing the district. Upon the filing of the said order with the secretary of state said joint highway district shall be deemed created and organized, and shall exercise all of the powers granted by this act, and shall be a public corporation under the designation of "joint highway district No. of the state of California."

Purpose of districts.

§ 8. The purpose for which the joint districts may be created is to provide the necessary authority and means to construct and maintain the highway described in the initiatory resolution in and through the several counties constituting the district; such highway to be continuous and afford adequate intercommunication for vehicular traffic. This act shall be so construed as to facilitate the accomplishment of this purpose.

Board of directors to manage district.

§ 9. Said joint highway districts shall be managed, and the powers herein conferred thereon, shall be exercised by a board of directors. Said directors shall be chosen and appointed as follows: One by the board of supervisors of each of the counties composing said district either from its members or other suitable person. Said directors shall serve during the pleasure of the appointing power. They shall receive no compensation for their services, but may be allowed actual expenses incurred by them in connection with the discharge of their duties under this act.

Place of business. Secretary. President. Vice president.

§ 10. Said board shall fix a place within the district for the transaction of its business, but may hold its meetings from time to time in any place in said district that will best serve the convenience of the public. A majority of the members shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. It may make all rules necessary to the orderly transaction of such business. It shall appoint a secretary; may employ such additional clerical, or legal or engineering service as may be required from time to time and fix the compensation to be paid therefor. Said board shall organize within thirty days from the date of the creation of the district and the time and place of meeting for purposes of organization shall be fixed by the director chosen by the supervisors of the county adopting the initiatory resolution. It shall choose one of its members as president of the board, who shall preside at its meetings. A vice president shall be appointed who shall act in the absence or disability of the president. The president shall perform such duties as the board may designate.

Powers. Construct highways. Accept gifts, etc. Acquire lands. Eminent domain. Personal property. Labor. Keep funds. Sue. Seal.

§ 11. Said joint highway district through its board of directors shall have power—

To lay out, construct and maintain a highway as specified in section three of this act.

To accept in the name of the district all gifts, donations or contributions from any source whatsoever made to further the purpose of this act, and the counties composing the district may convey such public highways as may be utilized as a part of the highway herein authorized to be constructed.

To acquire necessary lands, or rights of way for purposes of such highway.

To exercise the right of eminent domain necessary to acquire lands or rights of way for highway purposes.

To acquire and use such personal property as may be necessary in the exercise of the powers herein granted.

To employ such labor and service as may be necessary.

To arrange for the safe keeping of all funds belonging to the district and to this end may appoint a treasurer or depository, and exact from him such bonds or other security as may be proper.

To sue and be sued.

To adopt a seal.

Contingent fund.

§ 12. For the purpose of providing a contingent fund for the district and to meet the incidental expenses thereof, the boards of supervisors of the several counties comprising the district are hereby authorized and directed to appropriate from any money received by such counties under the provisions of the "vehicle act," in effect January 1, 1916, or any act in continuance thereof or supplemental thereto, such percentage thereof as may be determined by the board of directors of the joint district by a resolution adopted by a vote of all of its members. Such sums so appropriated shall be paid by a warrant drawn in the name of the joint highway district, and shall be deposited with the treasurer or depository of the district.

Survey of highway. Report by engineer.

§ 13. As soon as practicable after the organization of the board of directors of the district, said board shall cause to be surveyed and located the highway authorized by this act to be constructed or such portion thereof as may be deemed expedient, and for that purpose may employ an engineer and necessary assistants. Upon the completion of such survey the engineer shall file a report thereof with the board of directors together with all necessary maps, drawings and plans of construction, other than detailed drawings and specifications, also an estimate covering the cost of the completion of said highway, including rights of way therefor and interest to be paid during construction.

Hearing on report.

§ 14. Upon filing said report the board of directors shall fix a time and place for considering the same. The hearing thereon may be continued from time to time or from place to place in the different counties, if so desired.

Assessment covering estimated cost.

Upon such hearing being had said board of directors shall make an assessment covering such estimated cost, upon the state of California, and the several counties comprising the district according to the benefits that may result from the construction of such highway to said state and counties and the people residing therein, or may assess not to exceed one-fourth of such estimated cost upon such land in private ownership as may be benefited thereby in the manner provided by this act.

Order determining benefits.

§ 15. Upon the conclusion of such hearing such board of directors shall make an order determining the amount of the benefits to accrue to the state and to each county comprising the district and to the people residing therein and shall make an assessment against the state and said counties in proportion to the benefits so to accrue, in a sum equal to said estimated cost, or as much thereof as may be necessary, but said estimated cost if deemed excessive may be reduced to such an amount as the board of directors shall seem proper. The amount of such assessment shall be certified to and transmitted to the state board of control and to the boards of supervisors of the counties constituting the district.

Appeal to advisory board.

§ 16. In case the state board of control or the board of supervisors deem that the assessment imposed upon the state or such county be excessive or that it has been inequitably treated, the state board of control or such board of supervisors, within forty days from the receipt of the certificate referred to in the preceding section, may appeal from the order of the board of directors of the district to the advisory board of the state engineering department. Such appeal shall be in writing and set forth the nature of the objection and a copy thereof shall be filed with the board of directors of the district, with the advisory board of the state engineering department and with the boards of supervisors of the counties constituting the district.

Hearing. Judgment.

§ 17. Upon filing such appeal, the said advisory board shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine the same. It may take testimony and hear all parties interested. It may change or modify any of the plans of the engineer, and may reduce the estimate of cost or change or modify any assessment or make a new assessment. Its judgment shall be final and conclusive, and a copy thereof shall be filed with the state board of control and with the boards of supervisors of the counties composing the district.

Assessment charge on state and counties. Installments. Time for payment of first installment.

§ 18. The amount of the assessment imposed by the board of directors of the district, or by the said advisory board, shall be a charge, respectively, upon the state and the counties composing the district to the amount determined as herein provided, and shall be payable in five annual installments; provided, that should any installment exceed a sum equal to that which could be raised by a tax of five cents upon each one hundred dollars of assessed valuation as the same appears upon the assessment roll of a county, then in the case of such county the number of annual installments may be increased to such a number that the amount of each installment will be less than that which would result from the levy of such tax. The first installment shall be payable on or before the first day of January following the filing of the assessment with the state board of control and boards of supervisors; provided, said assessment shall have been so filed prior to the first day of September preceding; otherwise it shall be payable on the first day of the second January succeeding such filing. The remaining installment shall be payable on the same day in each succeeding year.

Payment of installments.

§ 19. On or before the time fixed by law for levying taxes for county purposes, the boards of supervisors of each county composing the district shall make provision for the payment of the amount of the installment of the assessment, either by the payment of the same from the moneys received from the state as herein stated or from a tax levied for that purpose, which tax shall be in addition to all taxes levied for county purposes. The amount assessed against the state in the discretion of the state board of control may be paid in one installment and from any fund now available, or which may hereafter be made available for the purpose, or out of special appropriations for the purpose made by the legislature. Moneys shall be paid by the state treasurer upon warrants duly drawn by the controller of the state, upon demands made by the state engineering department and audited by the state board of control.

"Construction fund."

§ 20. All moneys received by the joint highway district, unless otherwise provided herein, shall be kept in a fund to be named "construction fund" and shall be paid out upon the order of the board of directors only for the construction of the highway herein provided.

"Revenue bonds." Maturity.

§ 21. At any time after the assessment, either against the state, the several counties or the land within an assessment district has been made, the board of directors of the district may anticipate the payment thereof and may issue "revenue bonds" against the fund into which shall be paid all sums paid on account of the assessments imposed. The maturity of any bonds issued shall be subsequent to the date upon which any installment of assessment is due and the amount to become due shall not exceed the amount of such installment of assessment available to pay the same. The intent of the foregoing provision is that there shall be available for the payment of the principal and interest of all bonds issued a sum sufficient to pay the same at the time such interest and principal become due, and it shall be the duty of the board of directors to make provision for the payment of all bonds issued and interest thereon prior to their sale and delivery.

Board of directors determine form, etc. Interest rate.

The bonds shall be issued at such times and in such amounts as may be required to meet the payment of the demands of the district, as may be determined by the board of directors. The form, denomination, rate of interest, time, place and manner of payment and all matters relating to such issuance shall be determined by the board of directors of the district; provided, that the rate of interest shall not exceed five per centum per annum.

Purchase by state board of control.

The bonds so issued shall be sold in such amounts as the board of directors may determine. The state board of control is hereby authorized to purchase such bonds and pay for them out of any surplus money in the state treasury which, in its judgment, shall not be required for governmental purposes prior to the maturity of such bonds. The boards of supervisors of the several counties shall likewise have authority to purchase such bonds with any surplus funds under their control.

Highway assessment district.

§ 22. Whenever it shall appear to the satisfaction of the board of directors that any land under private ownership will be benefited by the construction of the highway herein provided for, said board of directors, after the receipt of the report and estimates of costs herein required to be made and filed, may adopt a resolution of intention substantially in the following form:

Resolution of intention.

RESOLUTION OF INTENTION.

Whereas, It appears to the satisfaction of the board of directors of joint highway district number.....of the state of California, that land under private ownership will be benefited by the construction of a highway provided for in an act entitled: "An act providing for the creation, organization and government of joint highway districts composed of two or more counties of the state of California," therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the intention of the board of directors of said joint highway district to create a highway assessment district to comprise all the land under private ownership within the following boundaries to wit: (Here set forth the boundaries of the proposed district).

Further resolved, That it is the intention to assess the sum of $....., being a..... part of the estimated cost of said highway construction as appears upon the report of the district engineer filed in the office of the board of directors of said district, upon the land within the boundaries of said proposed district as herein described in the manner provided in said act.

Further resolved, That.....the....day of.....19....at the hour of..... at (meeting place of the board of directors) is hereby fixed as the time and place for hearing all objections that may be made to the creation of said district or the amount of benefits to be assessed as aforesaid; also to hear and determine all claims for damages that may result from the construction of the highway aforesaid.

Reference to the aforesaid report of the district engineer for further particulars is here made.

Adopted by the board of directors of joint highway district number....of the state of California, this.....day of.....19....

Attest.....
Secretary.

Directors.

Time for hearing.

The time of hearing shall be not less than thirty nor more than forty days from the date of the adoption of the above resolution.

Notice of resolution. Proof of publication.

§ 23. The board of directors shall cause a notice of the passage of such resolution including a copy of the same to be published five times in a daily newspaper of general circulation published in each of the counties composing the district or two times in a newspaper published less than six days a week, or if no newspaper be published in any county then such notice shall be posted in three public places in such county for a period of ten days. The first publication in each of said counties shall be within five days after the adoption of said resolution of intention. Such notice shall be headed by the words "notice of intention to create highway assessment district." Proof of the publication of such notice shall be made by affidavit filed in the office of the secretary of the board of directors and such publication and proof shall be held sufficient to vest jurisdiction in the board of directors to hear and determine all matters authorized by this act to be so heard at the time and place of hearing fixed by the said resolution of intention.

Posting of notices.

The board of directors shall also cause to be conspicuously posted within fifty feet of all points where the highway proposed to be constructed shall intersect existing public highways two copies of the notice herein required to be published. Said notice shall be headed as herein specified and the words of said heading shall be in type at least two inches in height and the body of said notice shall be set in what is known as twelve-point or pica type. Said notices shall be posted within ten days from the date of the adoption of the resolution of intention.

District engineer to prepare map.

§ 24. The district engineer shall be directed to prepare a map showing the exterior boundaries of the proposed district, the line of the proposed highway, intersecting highways, boundary lines of the counties, the separate parcels of land within the district and names of the owners thereof as nearly as the same may be ascertained from the records of the assessor's office in the several counties. Said map shall be completed before the date set for the hearing.

Objections.

§ 25. Any person who may be affected by the creation of the proposed assessment district may make objection thereto. Objections shall be in writing by the objector or his agent and filed prior to the day fixed for the hearing. Objections may be made to the boundaries of the district or to the amount of the assessment proposed to be imposed. Claims for damages to result from the construction of the highway or the grade thereof as delineated upon the map or profile drawings of the district made by district engineer shall also be presented prior to the day of hearing and a failure to present such claims shall be deemed to be an express waiver thereof.

Hearing of objections.

§ 26. At the time fixed in the resolution of intention for hearing objections, or at such time as such hearing may be continued, and all parties shall be deemed to have notice of such continuance, the board of directors shall hear and determine all objections that may be made and it shall be competent for said board to hear and determine any or all objections of every kind or nature even though such objections shall not be expressly authorized by this act, and also may pass upon, compromise or determine any claim for damages presented as herein provided.

Changing boundaries, etc. Claims for damages. Order by board of directors.

§ 27. At the conclusion of the hearing the board of directors may change the boundaries of the proposed district, but may not include any territory outside thereof, may reduce the total amount of the assessment proposed to be imposed, change or modify any grades of a proposed highway and may sustain or overrule any other objections or generally overrule all objections that may have been made. It may also reject or approve in whole or in part any claim for damages. The total amount of all claims for damages that may be allowed shall be added to the estimate of the cost of the proposed highway and one-fourth of such amount of claims may be added to the amount of assessment proposed to be imposed unless such estimate shall already have provided for such damages.

All matters pertaining to the hearing having been heard and determined, the board of directors shall cause an order to be entered in its minutes ordering the construction of the proposed highway, creating a highway assessment district for the purposes of this act and describing the boundaries of the highway assessment district in accordance with this determination, declare the amount of the assessment to be imposed and assessing the same upon the land within the district, which shall be deemed to be the benefits thereto accruing from such proposed highway construction, and the same to be distributed to and imposed upon the several parcels of land within the district and to be paid as in this act provided, and fix the number of annual installments in which such assessment may be paid. All objections not specifically set forth in said order shall be deemed to have been disallowed and overruled. The order shall also approve the map of the district made as herein provided.

Order sent to assessors and recorders.

§ 28. Copies of said order and the map so approved shall be forthwith transmitted to the assessor and recorder of the several counties comprising the joint highway district. The recorder shall record said order and map as provided by law without charge therefor. The assessor shall preserve said map and in making any assessment roll shall cause all parcels of land within the assessment districts to be separately valued so that the value of all the land therein shall be definitely ascertained.

Statement of total assessed value.

§ 29. On or before the fifteenth day of August in each year the auditor of each of the counties composing the district shall certify and transmit to the secretary of the joint highway district a statement showing the total assessed value of the land within his county included in the assessment district created as herein provided.

Secretary to determine amount of installment.

§ 30. Immediately upon receipt of the statements required by the preceding section, the secretary of said joint highway district shall ascertain the amount of the installment of the assessment due and to be paid within the year thereafter. The sum so ascertained shall be the amount to be raised by taxation upon all the property within the assessment district. He shall apportion the said amount to the several counties composing the district according to the assessed value of the land therein as certified and shall transmit to the clerk of the board of supervisors of each of said counties a statement showing the total assessed value of the land within these counties included in the assessment district and the amount of money required to be raised by a tax imposed thereon.

Levy of special tax in district.

§ 31. At the time and in the manner provided by law for the levying of taxes by board of supervisors, the board of supervisors in each of the counties composing the joint highway district shall levy a special tax upon all the land within the highway assessment district and within the county, sufficient to raise the sum of money required by this act and as certified by the secretary of the joint highway district.

Collected at time of county tax.

§ 32. The tax so levied shall be computed and collected in the time and manner required by law for the computation and collection of taxes for county purposes and the land subject to such tax shall be subject to the same penalties for delinquencies, and the same provisions of law relating to the sale and redemption of land for non-payment of county taxes, shall apply to the tax herein authorized.

Moneys paid to treasurer.

§ 33. All money collected as the proceeds of a tax levied as herein provided shall be paid by the tax collector to the treasurer of the joint highway district and placed to the credit of the funds of the district as herein provided.

Additional reports.

§ 34. It is hereby expressly provided that the entire highway originally described need not be provided for in the report of the engineer made as provided in section thirteen of this act. Additional reports may be made from time to time as the same shall be deemed expedient and provide for the construction of other sections of such highway. The cost of such additional portions shall be provided for in the same manner as herein provided for in the case of the first report and additional assessments may be made in like manner. Additional assessments may be imposed in case the cost of construction exceeds the estimate made or in case any assessment shall be held invalid for any reason.

Contract let to lowest bidder. Construction by board of directors. Eight-hour day.

§ 35. The work of construction shall be done by contract let to the lowest responsible bidder after advertisement for bids therefor shall have been made by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published within the district for a period of ten days prior to the receipt of such bids. Bonds for the faithful performance of the contract and for the payment of claims for labor and material shall be required of the successful bidder. However, if it should appear to the satisfaction of the board of directors that the bids were excessive or that collusion existed among bidders so as to prevent proper competition then the board of directors are authorized to purchase the necessary material, machinery and equipment and employ labor to perform the work of construction. The board of directors may acquire rock quarries or deposits of road material or if it is to the advantage of the district may purchase material and furnish the same to contractors. A maximum of eight hours shall constitute a day's labor and three dollars shall be the minimum charge paid for such day's labor performed upon the work of construction.

Advisory board to control expenditure of state funds.

§ 36. In case it shall be determined that any sum of money authorized to be expended from the state treasury shall be expended as required by section twenty-two of article IV of the constitution, then the advisory board of the state engineering department shall have the exclusive management and control of such expenditure, but such advisory board may, in its discretion, delegate its powers to the board of directors of the joint highway district and said joint highway district is hereby declared to be a state institution within the meaning of said constitution. The board of directors of the district may vest in the state engineering department authority to supervise the work of construction.

Necessary repairs.

§ 37. Until the completion of said highway, all necessary repairs thereto shall be held to be a necessary part of the construction thereof and may be made either by contract or by the board of directors and the cost thereof paid from the construction fund.

Negotiations with United States.

§ 38. In case the governmental authorities of the United States should desire to include such highway in any scheme of national defense and use or assume the use of the same for military or other purposes, the board of directors of the joint highway district either directly or through the state engineering department may enter into negotiations respecting the same and enter into such agreements as may be mutually satisfactory.

Regulations by board of directors.

§ 39. The board of directors may make such regulations respecting the use of such highway as shall not conflict with general laws and may exclude from such highway such class of the vehicular traffic as may be dangerous to public safety or which may result in a permanent injury to the roadway. All laws regulating state highways and inflicting penalties for a violation thereof shall apply to the highways constructed under the provisions of this act.

Certificates of completion. Interest and rights of way conveyed.

§ 40. Upon the completion of the highway or any section thereof, the fact of such completion shall be certified to the advisory board of the state engineering department and such advisory board shall cause inspection to be made of such highway. If such advisory board shall find that the same has been properly constructed and is in good repair throughout, it shall issue a certificate of completion. Thereupon said advisory board shall, after due hearing, apportion said highway to the several counties constituting the district, or may accept the whole or any portion thereof as a state highway. The decree of distribution shall be transmitted to the board of directors of the joint highway district. Thereupon the said board of directors shall convey to the several counties composing the district, or to the state as the case may be, all interest and rights of way that the district may have in and to the highway so constructed and accepted in accordance with the terms of said decree of distribution. The highway or portions conveyed shall become a part of the system of county roads, or state highway as the case may be, and shall be maintained by said counties from the general or district road funds or by the state as provided by law.

Employees discharged.

§ 41. Upon the receipt of the decree of distribution of the entire highway all employees of the board of directors shall be forthwith discharged excepting the secretary who shall continue to perform the duties required of him by this act.

District dissolved when.

§ 42. When all the bonds that may have been issued in pursuance with the provisions of this act shall have been paid, all property of the district shall be converted into money and all such moneys shall be distributed to the counties composing the district in proportion to the amount contributed by them under the provisions of this act. Thereupon, all books, documents, maps and other records shall be deposited with the state engineering department and thereupon said joint highway district shall be dissolved.

COUNTY JOINT HIGHWAYS, STATE CO-OPERATION, NATURAL MILITARY HIGHWAYS.

ACT 1900b—An act making an appropriation to pay any assessment that may be imposed against the state of California under the provisions of an act entitled "An act providing for the creation, organization and government of joint highway districts composed of two or more counties of the state of California," approved April 5, 1917; to pay the share of the state of California under any agreement or agreements with the United States government for co-operative work in the construction, improvement or maintenance of highways useful for military purposes and authorizing the state department of engineering to enter into any such agreements; and to pay the cost of making surveys and preparing plans and estimates for the following highways: An extension of the Trinity-Humboldt state road, from its westerly end, in a westerly direction, and to the town of Bridgeville, in Humboldt county; a highway beginning at or near Oxnard in Ventura county, California, and extending to a point near San Juan in Orange county, California; a highway from Jackson's Ranch near Pescadero in San Mateo county, California, to Governor's Camp in the California Redwood Park, Santa Cruz county, California; a highway beginning at Carmel in Monterey county, California, and running thence in a southerly direction to San Simeon in San Luis Obispo county, California, and a lateral highway from a point most feasible thereon to a point at or near Jolon in said Monterey county; a bridge to span San Francisco bay at or near Dumbarton Point; and a highway from the western boundary line of Kern county, California, to the state highway near the city of Santa Maria, Santa Barbara county, California.

History: Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1519.

Appropriation.

§ 1. The sum of two hundred fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated for the following uses and purposes:

Joint highway district assessment.

a. To pay any assessment that may be imposed against the state of California under the provisions of an act entitled "An act providing for the creation, organization and government of joint highway districts composed of two or more counties of the state of California," approved April 5, 1917.

Co-operative highway work with U. S. government.

b. To pay the share of the state of California under any agreement or agreements made with the United States government for co-operative work in the construction, improvement or maintenance of highways useful for military purposes, and the state department of engineering is hereby authorized to enter into any such co-operative agreements on such terms as it may deem for the best interests of the state.

Highway surveys and estimates.

c. To pay the cost of making surveys and preparing plans and estimates for highways as follows: An extension of the Trinity-Humboldt state road, from its westerly end, in a westerly direction, to the town of Bridgeville, in Humboldt county; a highway beginning at or near Oxnard in Ventura county, California, and extending to a point near San Juan in Orange county, California; a highway from Jackson's Ranch near Pescadero in San Mateo county, California, to Governor's Camp in the California Redwood Park, Santa Cruz county, California; a highway beginning at Carmel in Monterey county, California, and running thence in a southerly direction to San Simeon in San Luis Obispo county, California, and a lateral highway from a point most feasible thereon to a point at or near Jolon in said Monterey county; a bridge to span San Francisco bay at or near Dumbarton Point; and a highway from the western boundary line of Kern county, California, to the state highway near the city of Santa Maria, Santa Barbara county, California.

Control by state department of engineering.

§ 2. All the work contemplated by this act is hereby placed under the complete management and control of the state department of engineering, and the state controller is hereby directed to draw his warrants in such sums and at such times as the state department of engineering may present claims therefor, and the state treasurer is directed to pay the same to carry out the purposes of this act.

NATIONAL RURAL POST ROADS, STATE CO-OPERATION.

ACT 1900c—An act expressing assent of the state of California to the provisions of the act of congress approved July 11, 1916, entitled "An act to provide that the United States shall aid the states in the construction of rural post roads, and for other purposes."

History: Approved March 21, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 20.

Assent to act of congress approved July 11, 1916.

§ 1. The state of California hereby assents to the provisions of the act of congress approved July 11, 1916, entitled "An act to provide that the United States shall aid the states in the construction of rural post roads, and for other purposes."

BOULEVARD DISTRICT ACT OF 1911.

ACT 1902—An act to provide for the formation and establishment of boulevard districts; the construction, acquisition, maintenance, control and use of boulevards; defining the term boulevard; providing for the voting, issuing and selling of bonds, and the levying of taxes to pay for the acquisition, construction, maintenance and repair of such boulevard; providing for a boulevard commission to have charge of the affairs of boulevard districts, and the construction, maintenance and repair of boulevards, within such districts; providing for the election of such commission, their terms of office, and of elections to be held in such districts; and repealing an act entitled "An act to provide for the formation of boulevard districts, and the construction, maintenance, and use of boulevards, and defining the term boulevard," approved March 22, 1905, and the act amendatory thereof, approved April 15, 1909.

History: Approved May 1, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1425. Amended (1) January 12, 1912, Stats. 1912 (ex sess.), p. 223; (2) June 5, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 394. (3) May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1299. (4) May 7, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 351. Prior acts of March 22, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 754. Amended April 15, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 923, repealed by the present act.

Boulevard district formed.

§ 1. Any portion of a county not contained in a boulevard district under the provisions of this act, may be formed into a boulevard district, and when so formed shall be known and designated by the name and style of.....boulevard district (using the name of the district) of.....county (using the name of the county in which said district is located), and shall have the rights herein enumerated, and such as may hereafter be conferred by law. [Amendment of May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1300.]

Petition to board of supervisors. Bond filed.

§ 2. A petition for the formation of such boulevard district (naming it) may be presented to the board of supervisors of the county wherein the district is proposed to be formed, which said petition shall be signed by not less than ten freeholders, owning land within the proposed district and shall contain:

(1) The boundaries of the proposed district and an estimate of the number of inhabitants residing therein:

(2) An estimate of the number of acres contained therein and the assessed value thereof and of the improvements thereon;

(3) A request that an election be called within said district for the purpose of determining the question of the formation of said boulevard district, for the construction and maintenance of a boulevard or boulevards therein under the provisions of this act.

There shall be filed with said board of supervisors at the time of the filing of the petition for the organization of said boulevard district with said board, a bond in the sum of not more than three hundred dollars, with two sufficient sureties, to be approved by said board, who shall each qualify in double the amount of said bond, conditioned that they will pay the expense and cost of said election in an amount not exceeding the amount mentioned in said bond, in case the proposition to organize said district shall be defeated at said election. [Amendment of May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1300.]

Hearing on petition.

§ 3. Such petition must be presented at a regular meeting of said board of supervisors and they shall thereupon fix a time for hearing said petition, not less than twenty, nor more than sixty days after the date of presentation thereof, and shall publish a notice of the fact that such petition has been filed (referring to the same on file with the clerk of the board of supervisors for further particulars) and giving the time and place at which said petition will be heard, and directing all parties interested to appear at said time and place, and show cause, if any they have, why said petition should not be granted, which said notice shall be published at least once a week for two consecutive weeks in some newspaper published and circulated in said proposed district; provided, that if no newspaper be so published in said district, then said notice shall be so published in some newspaper published and circulated at the county seat of the county in which said proposed district is located. [Amendment of May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1301.]

Lands excluded. Lands included.

§ 4. Upon the day named for the hearing of said petition, the board of supervisors shall hear the same and any objections thereto and may adjourn such hearing from time to time, not more than sixty days in all. If the board find that lands have been improperly included, it may in fixing the final boundaries exclude from such district any lands which may have been so included, or the board may, as it deems for the best interests of such district, include any adjacent lands outside the boundaries described in said petition, either on petition of the owners of such lands, or upon notice of its intention to include such adjacent lands by publication once a week for two successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published either in said district or at the county seat, which notice shall refer to the petition for the formation of the district on file with the board of supervisors, shall describe the adjacent territory intended to be included within the proposed district and shall direct all persons interested therein to appear at a specified time and place and show cause if any there be why said adjacent lands should not be so included. Upon the petition and evidence produced at such hearings the board shall determine and fix the boundaries of such district and must thereupon, by order, define and establish such boundaries. [Amendment of May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1301.]

Election. Notice.

§ 5. The board of supervisors thereupon, and not later than thirty days after the establishment of said boundaries, as hereinbefore provided, shall by order, call an election to be held in such proposed boulevard district for the purpose of determining whether such district shall be formed. The order must fix the day of such election, which must be within sixty days from the date of the order, and must show the boundaries of the proposed district, and must state that at such election one member of the boulevard commission will be voted for. This order shall be entered in the minutes of the board, and shall be conclusive evidence of the due presentation of a proper petition, and of the fact that each of the petitioners was, at the time of the signing and presentation of such petition, a freeholder owning land within the proposed district and that all other steps and actions requisite to and pertaining to the making of said order, including the hearing of said petition and establishment of the boundaries of said district, have been properly taken; notice of such election shall be given by posting a copy of such order for three successive weeks prior to the election, in three public places within the proposed district, and by publication of a copy of such order at least once a week for three successive weeks prior to the election in some newspaper published in the proposed district, if there be one, and if not, in some newspaper published at the county seat. [Amendment of May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1302.]

Polling places. Election officers. Ballots. Election of member of boulevard commission. Canvass of returns.

§ 6. The board of supervisors, at least fifteen days prior to the election, shall select one, and may select two, or more polling places within the proposed district, and make all suitable arrangements for the holding of such election. They must select and appoint, from among the qualified electors of the proposed boulevard district, one inspector and two judges of election in each polling place, who shall constitute the officers of said election and the election board; if none are so appointed or if any officer appointed does not attend at the opening of the polls on the morning of election, the electors present may appoint substitutes to fill the election board. The ballot shall contain the words "boulevard district—yes," and "boulevard district—no," and shall also make provision for voting for one member of the boulevard commission of said district. At such election there shall be elected one member of the boulevard commission, whose term of office shall be for four years and until the election, or appointment, and qualification of his successor. Such election, and all subsequent, or other, elections in said district shall, except as herein otherwise expressly provided, be conducted as nearly as practicable in accordance with the general election laws of the state, except that the provisions of said laws as to the form of ballots and the making of nominations and the selection or appointment of officers of election, shall not apply, and that no irregularity or informality in conducting any election under this act, not substantially affecting adversely the legal rights of any elector, as herein defined, shall invalidate or affect such election. At each election pursuant to this act, every qualified elector, resident within the district as proposed or established, and who would be entitled on the date of the respective election to vote in said district at a general election, shall be entitled to vote at such election. The said officers of election must make return of the election to the board of supervisors of said county, which shall canvass said returns as by law provided, and if a majority of the votes cast at such election shall be in favor of a boulevard district the board of supervisors shall make and cause to be entered in the minutes of said board an order that the boulevard district of the name, and with the boundaries theretofore established by said board (setting forth such boundaries), has been duly established, and shall declare the person receiving the highest number of votes for member of the boulevard commission, duly elected as such commissioner; and said order shall be conclusive evidence of the fact and regularity of all prior proceedings of every kind and nature provided for by this act or by law, and of the existence and validity of the boulevard district. If a majority of the votes cast shall be against a boulevard district the board shall by order entered in its minutes so declare, and no other proceedings shall be taken in relation thereto until the expiration of one year from the date of the presentation of the petition to said board. [Amendment of May 7, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 352.]

This section was also amended May 29, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1302.

Officers. Vacancy. Appointment of member by state highway commission. Term. Bond. No compensation.

§ 7. The officers of the district shall be three members of the boulevard commission, who shall be designated as commissioners, and shall be, except as hereinafter provided, the chairman of the board of supervisors and the county surveyor, or the county engineer, as the case may be, of the county in which the district is situated, who shall be ex officio commissioners, and a third commissioner elected as herein provided who must have been a bona fide resident and freeholder within the boundaries of the district for at least one year prior to his election. Any vacancy in the office of commissioner shall, except as hereinafter provided, be filled by appointment for the unexpired term by the board of supervisors from among the bona fide resident freeholders within said district who shall have been such resident freeholders for at least one year prior to such appointment, but no member of the said board of supervisors, except the chairman thereof, shall be eligible to hold office on said commission or to hold any position in connection therewith. At any time, upon petition in writing signed by at least twenty-five per cent in number of the number of qualified electors, residing within the district and named upon the great register of the county in which the district is situated, and presented to the state highway commission, the said state highway commission shall, and it is hereby empowered to, declare the office of boulevard commissioner theretofore held by the said county surveyor, or county engineer, as the case may be, vacant, and nominate and appoint as commissioner to fill such vacancy a person who shall be a civil engineer, qualified in the opinion of the state highway commission to act as such commissioner. The commissioner so appointed shall hold office for the term of four years from and after his appointment, and until the appointment and qualification of his successor, and all appointments to fill any vacancy in the office of such commissioner either during or at the expiration of his term of office shall be made by the state highway commission upon the receipt of written notice from the boulevard commission of such vacancy or expiration, but no petition shall be necessary therefor. Each commissioner shall give a bond to the boulevard district for the faithful performance of his duties in the sum of five thousand dollars, to be approved by a judge of the superior court of the county in which the district is located. The commissioners shall receive no compensation whatever either for general or special services. [New section added May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1304.]

Election every fourth year. Notice of election. Polling places and election officers. Canvass of returns.

§ 8. An election shall be held in each boulevard district on the first Monday after the first Tuesday in March in the fourth year after the formation of the district, and in every fourth year thereafter, at which shall be elected a commissioner in place of the elected commissioner whose term shall expire during such year. Not less than twenty days before the day of each such election the boulevard commission must give notice of said election by posting notice thereof in three public places in the boulevard district, which notice must specify the time and place of election, the hours during which the polls will be kept open, and the officer to be elected. They shall select one, and may select two or more, polling places within the district; shall appoint one inspector and two judges of election in each polling place, and make all necessary and proper arrangements for holding the election. Said election officers shall constitute the election board. If no election officers are so appointed, or if any of those appointed are not present at the time of the opening of the polls, the electors present may appoint all, or any, of them so absent or not appointed and they shall conduct the election as if so appointed by said commission and present. The officers of the election must publicly canvass the votes immediately after the closing of the polls, and must make return of the election within twenty-four hours after the closing of the polls to the board of supervisors. Said board of supervisors at its first meeting after receiving said returns shall canvas the same and shall make, sign and deliver a certificate of election to the person elected. [Amendment of May 7, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 353.]

President and secretary.

§ 9. The boulevard commission shall be the governing body of the district, and shall exercise all the powers thereof. At its first meeting or as soon thereafter as may be practicable, the commission shall choose one of its members as president, and another of its members as secretary. All contracts, deeds, warrants, releases, receipts and documents of every kind shall be signed in the name of the district by its president, and shall be countersigned by its secretary. The commission may hold such meetings, either in the day or in the evening, as may be convenient, all such meetings of the commission must be held in the district at an appointed place. In case of the absence or inability to act of the president or secretary, the commission shall, by order entered upon its minutes, choose from its members a president pro tempore, or secretary pro tempore, as the case may be. A majority of the members of the commission is a sufficient number to form a commission for the transaction of business, and every decision of a majority of the members forming such commission made when duly assembled, is valid as an act of said commission. Powers of district.

§ 10. Every boulevard district formed under the provisions of this act shall have power to have and use a common seal, alterable at the pleasure of the boulevard commission; to sue and be sued by its name; to lay out, establish, construct, acquire and maintain one or more boulevards within the district, and for this purpose to acquire by purchase, gift, devise, condemnation proceedings or otherwise real and personal property and rights of way within the district, and to pay for and hold the same; provided, however, that if any boulevard or boulevards are constructed with moneys raised by taxation and not from the sale of bonds as herein provided, such boulevard or boulevards shall be constructed only after an election to be had in the manner herein provided for elections in said district, for the purpose of determining whether such boulevard or boulevards shall be constructed and at which election a majority of the votes cast are in favor of the construction of such boulevard or boulevards; to make and accept any and all contracts, deeds, releases and documents of any kind which shall be necessary or proper to the exercise of any of the powers of the district, and to direct the payment of all lawful claims and demands against it; to issue bonds as hereinafter provided, and to provide for the payment of the same and the interest thereon; and to cause to be levied taxes sufficient when directed by a vote of the people of the district for the construction, maintenance or repair of said boulevard, or boulevards, and all indebtedness of such district, and the running expenses of the district; to employ all necessary engineers, surveyors, agents and workmen to do the work on or in connection with the boulevard or boulevards in said district; and generally to do and perform any and all acts necessary or proper to the complete exercise and effect of any of its powers or the purposes for which it was formed. [New section added May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1305.]

"Boulevard."

§ 11. By the term "boulevard" as used herein is meant a highway not less than thirty and not more than one hundred feet in width, and upon, along, and over the portion or portions of which where the same is less than sixty feet in width no railroad, electric road, or street railroad shall, except upon a permit granted therefor by the board or body in control of such boulevard evidenced by an order entered in its minutes, be constructed or operated; and any easements granted or condemned for the building of said boulevard shall be so granted or condemned; provided, that nothing herein shall be deemed to apply to or as preventing or limiting the use of vehicles across said boulevard. Any boulevard constructed under this act may be constructed, in whole or in part, over, along, or upon any county road or public highway, or any part thereof, and the moneys belonging to such boulevard district may be expended in the improvement of such road or highway to conform to the width and general character of the balance of the boulevard, and for the purposes of this act the boulevard district is hereby expressly authorized and empowered to take over, control, operate and use in whole or in part any such county road or public highway. Survey, etc., of proposed boulevards.

§ 12. The boulevard commission shall, before the construction of any boulevard and before the calling of any election for the issuance of bonds, employ an engineer or engineers who shall make all necessary surveys, prepare a map or maps showing the location of the said proposed boulevard or boulevards, also showing a cross-section and profile of said proposed boulevard or boulevards, together with specifications for the construction thereof and estimates of the cost of acquiring rights of way therefor, and of the cost of the construction thereof, which said surveys, maps, specifications and estimates, shall, upon the approval of the same by said commission, by order entered upon its minutes, be formally adopted by said commission and filed with its secretary and constitute the plan of said district for such proposed boulevard or boulevards; provided, that the said boulevard commission may, at its option, and it is hereby empowered to, direct the county surveyor, or county engineer, as the case may be, to do any or all of said work herein provided to be done by an engineer or engineers.

The expense of making such preliminary survey or surveys may be allowed by the board of supervisors out of the general fund or the general county road fund upon claims regularly presented and allowed in the manner provided by law. [Amendment of May 7, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 353.]

This section was also amended June 5, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 394.

Bids for construction of boulevards.

§ 12a. The boulevard commission shall, pursuant to an order entered in its minutes, advertise for bids for the construction of such boulevard or boulevards, either as a whole or in such sections as it may see fit, in accordance with the plan theretofore adopted and filed, as hereinabove provided, by said commission, by publishing a notice calling for such bids, at least once a week for two successive weeks in a weekly newspaper published within the boulevard district if such newspaper is published therein, otherwise in a newspaper published at the county seat of the county in which such district is located. Such notice shall refer to said order and said plan for further particulars. If the commission shall elect to receive separate bids for the construction of sections of said boulevard or boulevards, the said order shall describe the separate sections for which such separate bids are desired. The commission may also, in its discretion, advertise at the same time and in the same notice both for bids for the construction of such boulevard or boulevards as a whole and for bids for the construction of separate sections thereof. Every contract for doing any part of said work shall be let, after advertisement as herein provided, to the lowest responsible bidder, who shall, before the making of said contract, give a bond to the boulevard district for the faithful performance of his contract, with sureties satisfactory to said commission in an amount equal to at least fifty per cent of the amount of the contract price.

Conditions of contract.

Said contract shall be executed on behalf of the boulevard district by the boulevard commission, subject to approval or rejection by the electors of the district, expressed at an election called for the purpose of issuing bonds for the payment of such contract. If the electors at such election fail to approve such bond issue, the contract shall be void and the boulevard commission shall immediately return to the contractor his bond given for the faithful performance of the contract; provided, however, that the commission may make contracts, without advertisement, for any construction work on said boulevard the cost of which does not exceed one thousand dollars; and provided, further, that the commission may reject any or all bids and may thereupon readvertise for bids for doing any part or the whole of said work; or may do said work without letting any contract therefor when the amount of the work is less than one thousand dollars. Said commission may hire all necessary engineers, inspectors and superintendents to supervise the performance of contracts entered into by said commission, or to have charge of the doing of all work done without contract. [New section added May 7, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 354.]

Bond election. Notice of election.

§ 13. At any time, and from time to time, after the adoption of a plan for a boulevard or boulevards, or the letting of a contract for the construction of the whole or any portion of any boulevard, the boulevard commission may, by order entered in its minutes, call an election for the purpose of determining whether bonds shall be issued for the acquisition of rights of way for, and the construction of such boulevard or boulevards, or for the payment of such contract. Such order shall fix the day of the election and shall specify the amount of such bond issue, and shall state in general terms the purposes for which the money to be raised from the sale of such bonds shall be used, which purposes shall be confined to the acquisition of rights of way for, and the construction of, a boulevard or boulevards in said district; provided, that if such election is called for a payment of a contract already entered into by the boulevard commission, such order shall state the terms of such contract in such manner as will advise the electors of the contents thereof; provided, however, that any moneys so raised which shall remain on hand after such acquisition of rights of way and construction have been completed, may and shall be expended in the betterment and maintenance of such boulevard or boulevards. Notice of such election shall be given by posting a copy of such order for three successive weeks prior to the election in at least three public places within the district, and by publication of a copy thereof for at least once a week for three successive weeks prior to the election in some newspaper published within the district, if there be one, and if not, in some newspaper published at the county seat of the county in which such district is located. [Amendment of May 7, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 355.]

Original section repealed and a new section of the same number added, May 29, 1917, Stats. 1917, pp. 1303, 1307.

Polling places and election officers. Ballots. Canvass of returns.

§ 14. At any time prior to the day fixed for the election the commission shall select one, and may select two or more, polling places within the district, and select and appoint from among the qualified electors within the district, one inspector, and two judges for each polling place to conduct the same, and shall make all necessary and proper arrangements for holding the election. The ballots shall contain the words "bonds, yes" and "bonds, no." After the vote shall have been counted and the result announced by the election officers the ballots shall be sealed up and delivered to the secretary of the boulevard commission, with the election returns, and said commission shall, at its first meeting thereafter, canvass said returns and shall enter the result upon its minutes. Such entry shall be conclusive evidence of the fact and regularity of all prior proceedings of every kind and nature provided by this act or by law, and of the facts stated in such entry. If, at such election, not less than two-thirds of the votes cast be in favor of the issuance of bonds, the said commission shall have full power and authority to issue and sell said bonds as proposed in the order calling the election and as hereinafter provided. If the result of the election be against the issuance of bonds no other election upon the question shall be called or held for one year after such election. [Amendment of May 7, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 355.]

Original section repealed and a new section of the same number added, May 29, 1917. Stats. 1917, pp. 1303, 1307.

Denomination. Payment. Sale.

§ 15. All bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be of such denomination as the boulevard commission may determine, except that no bonds shall be of less denomination than one hundred dollars nor of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars. Said bonds shall be payable in gold coin of the United States at the office of the county treasurer of the county wherein said district is situated, and shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding six per centum per annum; which interest shall be payable semiannually in like gold coin. Not less than one-thirtieth part of the total issue of bonds shall be payable each year, commencing not more than five years after the date of said bonds. Each bond shall be signed by the president and countersigned by the secretary of the boulevard commission, and said bonds shall be numbered consecutively, in the order of their maturity, and shall have coupons for interest attached, attested by the facsimile signature of the secretary of said commission. The bonds may be sold by the boulevard commission in such manner and in such quantities as it may determine, but no bond may be sold for less than its face value. The proceeds of such sale shall be deposited with the county treasurer and shall be by him placed in the fund to be called the boulevard fund of boulevard district (naming it). the money in such fund shall be used for the purposes indicated in the order calling the election upon the question of the issuance of bonds. Original section repealed and a new section with the same number added, May 29, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1303.

Estimate of amount needed.

§ 16. The commission must at or before the first meeting of the board of supervisors in September of each year, furnish the supervisors and the auditor of the county wherein the district is situated, an estimate in writing of the amount of money needed for the purposes of the district for the ensuing fiscal year. The amount must be sufficient to pay all interest and principal of outstanding bonds of the district maturing during the ensuing fiscal year, and to pay the estimated cost of repairs and maintenance of the boulevard, or boulevards, and the running expenses of the district. [New section added May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1308.]

Original section repealed and a new section with the same number added, May 29, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1303.

Levy of tax. Collection. Moneys from general fund. Constitutionality.

§ 17. The board of supervisors of any county wherein is situated a boulevard district, must annually at the time of levying county taxes levy a tax to be known as the "..... (name of district) boulevard district tax," sufficient to raise the amount reported to them as herein, in section sixteen hereof, provided by the boulevard commission. The supervisors must determine the rate of such tax by deducting fifteen per cent for anticipated delinquencies from the total assessed value of the real property of the district within the county, as it appears on the assessment roll of the county, and dividing the sum reported by the boulevard commission as required to be raised by the remainder of such total assessed value. The tax so levied shall be computed and entered on the assessment roll by the county auditor, and if the supervisors fail to levy the tax as provided in the preceding section, then the auditor must do so. Such tax shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as county taxes, and when collected shall be paid into the county treasury for the use of said district, and the purposes herein specified. The provisions of the Political Code of this state prescribing the manner of levying and collecting taxes and the duties of the several county officers with respect thereto are, so far as they are applicable and not in conflict with the specific provisions of this act, hereby adopted and made a part hereof. Such officers shall be liable upon their several official bonds for the faithful discharge of the duties imposed upon them by this act. All moneys raised by taxation as herein provided shall belong to said district. Anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding the board of supervisors shall set apart and turn over to the boulevard commission out of the general fund of the county twenty-five per cent of the cost of acquisition of rights of way for, and of construction of, said boulevard or boulevards and also twenty-five per cent of the cost of maintenance and repair of said boulevard or boulevards, all such moneys to be used by the boulevard commission for such purposes respectively, and the board of supervisors shall set apart and use for road work in the boulevard district all moneys raised in such district by the county for road purposes; provided, however, that if for any reason the provisions, or any thereof, of this sentence are unconstitutional or affect the constitutionality of this act or any of the provisions thereof, then this sentence, or such provisions thereof, only, shall be void and the remainder of this act shall stand as if this sentence, or such provisions thereof, as the case may be, had not been included in this act, the same being hereby declared to be separable. [New section added May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1309.]

Original section repealed and a new section with the same number added, May 29, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1303.

Funds kept by county treasurer.

§ 18. The treasury of the county wherein the district is situated shall be the repository of all the funds of the district. The treasurer of the county shall receive and receipt for the same, and shall place the same to the credit of the boulevard district. He shall be responsible upon his official bond for their safekeeping and disbursement in the manner herein provided. [New section added May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1310.]

Original section repealed and a new section with the same number added, May 29, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1303.

Funds established.

§ 19. The following funds are hereby established to which the money belonging to the district, and raised by taxation as herein provided, shall be apportioned by the treasurer, to wit: bond fund, construction and maintenance fund, and district expense fund. The treasurer shall pay out the same only upon warrants of the boulevard commission, signed by the president and attested by the secretary, except that all bonds and coupons shall be paid on presentation by the county treasurer out of the bond fund without such warrant. The treasurer shall report in writing to the commissioners whenever requested by them or the secretary the amount of money in the various funds, the amounts of receipts since his last report and the amounts paid out. [New section added May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1310.]

Original section repealed and a new section with the same number added, May 29, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1303.

Maintenance and repair.

§ 20. The commission may do any or all work of maintenance or repair upon such boulevard, or boulevards, either with or without contract therefor, and with or without advertising for bids for contracts for such work of maintenance and repair, at its discretion; provided, however, that if the cost of any such work of maintenance or repair shall exceed the sum of one thousand dollars, then such work shall be done under contract pursuant to bids for such work after advertising in the same manner herein provided for advertising for bids and letting contracts for construction work. [Amendment of May 7, 1909. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 356.]

Original section repealed and new section of the same number added, May 29, 1917, Stats. 1917, pp. 1303, 1310.

Application to state department of engineering for exercise of powers.

§ 21. Anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding, the boulevard commission shall have and is hereby given power and authority, at its option, to make application to the department of engineering of the state of California, or to the proper subdivision of said department, for the exercise by said department, or proper subdivision thereof, as the case may be, of any or all powers, duties or authority which said department or proper subdivision thereof, as the case may be, may now, or at any time hereafter, exercise or enjoy with respect to the ownership, construction, maintenance or improvement of any boulevard or boulevards or proposed boulevard or boulevards, constructed or to be constructed pursuant to the provisions of this act, including the preparation of plans, specifications and estimates for, and the handling and expenditure of boulevard district moneys for, such construction, maintenance or improvement: any such application to said department of engineering, or subdivision thereof, shall be made in accordance with the provisions of the law as it now is or may hereafter exist defining the powers, duties or privileges of such department of engineering or subdivision thereof in relation to such matters, and upon the granting of any such application by said department of engineering or subdivision thereof, the boulevard commission shall have full power to carry out the terms of such application on its part. [New section added May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1311.]

Original section repealed and a new section with the same number added, May 29, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1303.

Transfer boulevard to county.

§ 22. Anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding, the boulevard commission shall have, and it is hereby given, full power and authority at its option to transfer and convey all the right, title and interest of the boulevard district in and to any boulevard or boulevards in such district after complete construction thereof, to the county within which such district is situated, provided that the board of supervisors of such county consent to and accept such transfer and conveyance and agree thereafter to maintain such boulevard or boulevards as boulevards and as part of the county highway system of such county, any and all such boulevards so transferred and conveyed to be thereafter held and owned by such county as county boulevards without any further liability or responsibility therefor on the part of such district. But no such transfer or conveyance shall affect any bond or bonds theretofore issued by such district or the liability of such district thereunder. [New section added May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1312.]

Original section repealed and a new section with the same number added, May 29, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1303.

Dissolution of district.

§ 23. The district may at any time be dissolved upon the vote of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof at an election called by the boulevard commission upon the question of dissolution. Whenever it shall deem it advisable, the boulevard commission shall, by resolution, order that an election be held in the said district upon the question of dissolution of the district. Such election shall be called and conducted in the same manner as other elections of the district. Upon such dissolution, any property which may have been acquired by such boulevard district shall vest in the county, except that any such property lying within the boundaries of an incorporated city shall vest in such city; provided, however, that if at the time of the election to dissolve such district there be any outstanding bonded indebtedness of such district, then, in such event, the vote to dissolve such district shall dissolve the same for all purposes excepting only the levy and collection of taxes for the payment of such outstanding indebtedness of such district; and from the time such district is thus dissolved until such bonded indebtedness with the interest thereon is fully paid, satisfied and discharged, the board of supervisors of the county shall constitute ex officio the boulevard commission of such district. And it is hereby made obligatory upon such board to levy such taxes and perform such other acts as may be necessary in order to raise money for the payment of such indebtedness, and the interest thereon, as herein provided. [New section added May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1312.]

Original section repealed and a new section with the same number added, May 29, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1303.

Repealed.

§ 24. That certain act entitled "An act to provide for the formation of boulevard districts, and the construction, maintenance, and use of boulevards, and defining the term boulevard," approved March 22, 1905, and the act amendatory thereof, approved April 15, 1909, are hereby repealed.

Established districts validated.

§ 25. Any and all boulevard districts heretofore established by order entered by any county board of supervisors under this act, and all amendments thereof or of any section or sections thereof, are hereby declared to be legally organized and existing and all the proceedings on the organization and formation of any and all such boulevard districts are hereby approved and in all respects declared valid, and all boulevard districts are subject to the provisions of this act so far as applicable. [New section added May 29, 1917. In effect July 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1313.]

Proceeding to determine legality of district.

§ 26. Any district formed hereunder, in order to determine the legality of its existence, may institute a proceeding therefor in the superior court of the county in which it was organized by filing with the clerk of said county a complaint setting forth the name of the district, its exterior boundaries, the date of its organization and a prayer that it be adjudged a legal boulevard district formed under the provisions of this act. The summons in such proceeding shall be addressed generally to all persons interested in said district or in any of the lands therein contained, and shall be served by publishing a copy thereof once a week for four weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the said county. Within thirty days after the last publication thereof any person interested may appear and answer said complaint, in which case said answer shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of the district. If no answer shall be filed within said time the court must render judgment as prayed for in the complaint. If an answer be filed the court shall proceed as in other civil cases. Said proceeding is hereby declared to be a proceeding in rem and the judgment rendered therein shall be conclusive against all persons whomsoever and against the state of California. HIGHWAY CARE, MANAGEMENT AND PROTECTION ACT OF 1915.

ACT 1903—An act to provide for the care, management and protection of state highways and providing penalties for violations of the provisions of the act.

History: Approved May 20, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 642. Prior act of March 24, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 400, repealed by present act.

Removal of fences encroaching on highways.

§ 1. If any state road or highway is encroached upon by fences, structures or otherwise the state department of engineering, its appropriate officers or employees may require the removal of the encroachment. Notice must be given to the occupant or the owner of the land or the person causing or owning the encroachment, if such owner, occupant or person, or, in the case of a non-resident, his agent, be known, by personal delivery to him, by leaving at his place of residence or by registered mail; if such owner, occupant, person or agent be unknown such notice must be posted upon the encroachment. Such notice must describe the encroachment to be removed.

Penalty for not removing encroachment.

§ 2. If the encroachment is not removed, or commenced to be removed and diligently prosecuted prior to the expiration of five days from the service, mailing or posting of the notice, the one who caused, owns or controls the encroachment shall forfeit ten dollars for each day the same continues unremoved. If the encroachment is such as to effectually obstruct and prevent the use of the road for ordinary travel, or consists of refuse, or is an advertising sign of any description (except as in section 6 of this act provided) the department of engineering, its officers, or employees may forthwith remove, or cause to be removed, such encroachment.

Action to abate.

§ 3. If the encroachment is disputed and denied and the owner, occupant or person controlling the matter or thing charged as being an encroachment refuses to remove or permit the removal thereof, the department of engineering, in the name of the people of the state of California, must commence in the proper court an action to abate the same as a nuisance. If such department recovers judgment it may, in addition to having the nuisance abated, recover ten dollars for every day such nuisance remains after such notice and also its costs in its said action.

Department may remove.

§ 4. If the encroachment is not denied but is not removed for five days after the notice given, as provided in section one of this act, the department of engineering, its officers or employees may remove the same at the expense of the owner, occupant or person controlling the same, and such department, in the name of the people of the state of California, may recover its costs and expenses therefor, and also ten dollars for each day the same remains after said five days' notice in an action for that purpose.

Penalty for injury to highway. Bridges over irrigation ditches. Dead animals on highway.

§ 5. Whoever obstructs or injures any state road or highway or diverts any water course thereon, or drains water from his land on any such highway, to the injury thereof, by means of ditches or dams, is liable to a penalty of ten dollars for each day such obstruction or injury remains and must be punished as provided in section five hundred eighty-eight of the Penal Code. Any person, persons or corporations, who shall, by storing or distributing water for any purpose, permit the water to overflow, or saturate of seepage, any state road or highway, to the injury thereof, shall, upon notification of the department of engineering, its officers or employees, discontinue and repair the damage occasioned by such overflow or seepage; and should such repair not forthwith be made by such person, persons or corporations, said department of engineering, its officers or employees shall make such repairs and, if necessary, divert the flow or seepage, and such department, in the name of the people of the state of California, may recover the expense thereof from such person, persons or corporations in an action by law. All persons excavating irrigation, mining or draining ditches across any state road or highway shall be required to bridge such ditches under the direction of the department of engineering, its officers or employees, and upon neglect to do so, such department shall construct the same and recover, in the name of the people of the state of California, the cost of constructing said bridge or bridges of such person by action; and whoever willfully injures any bridge on a state road or highway is hereby declared to be guilty of a misdemeanor and is also liable for actual damages for such injury, to be recovered by such department of engineering in the name of the people of the state of California in a civil action; provided, further, that every person who knowingly allows the carcass of any dead animal, which animal belongs to him at the time of its death, to be put or to remain within one hundred feet of any state road or highway, and every person who puts the carcass of any dead animal on or within one hundred feet of any state road or highway shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Advertisements on highways.

§ 6. No sign, picture, transparency, advertisement or mechanical advertising device shall be placed upon or over any state road or highway without a permit from the department of engineering or its appropriate officers, and, if so placed, shall be a public nuisance and may be forthwith removed from any such road or highway by the department of engineering, its officers or employees, and any person who shall so place the same shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, further, that nothing herein shall be so construed as to prevent the posting of any notice provided by law or order of any court to be posted.

Penalty for cutting down trees.

§ 7. Any person who digs up, cuts down, injures or destroys any trees on any state road or highway, unless the same is deemed an obstruction by the department of engineering, its officers or employees and removed under their direction, unless such person has received a permit therefor from such department or its appropriate officers, or is otherwise lawfully entitled to dig up, cut down, injure or destroy such trees, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Disposition of fines.

§ 8. All penalties or forfeitures and other recoveries provided by this act and not otherwise provided for may be recovered by the department of engineering by suit in the name of the people of the state of California and paid into the state treasury.

Repealed.

§ 9. An act entitled "An act to provide for the care, management, and protection of state highways," approved March 24, 1903, is hereby repealed.

§ 10. All acts, or parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed.

In effect July 27, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1336.

Powers of boards of supervisors to do road work.

§ 1. Power is hereby vested in the board of supervisors of every county in this state, by and under the procedure prescribed in this act, to grade or regrade to the official grade, plank or replank, pave or repave, macadamize or remacadamize, gravel or regravell, pile or repile, cap or recap, oil or recoil the whole or any portion of roads, streets, avenues, boulevards lanes or alleys so far as not within the territory of any incorporated city or town, and so far as by dedication or otherwise, public and open to public use, and to do so for any length or width of the same, one of the same or any number of the same in combination, and to construct therein or thereon sidewalks, sewers, manholes, culverts, bridges, cesspools, gutters, tunnels curbing and crosswalks, and to do the aforesaid things singly or in any combination of the same, and the various items of the said work and constructions need not be conterminous; and to issue bonds representing the costs and expenses of any said work or constructions as in this act hereafter provided; and to constitute a fund for the payment of such bonds as in this act hereafter provided; and to constitute a special fund for the payment of such bonds as in this act hereafter provided; and to levy special assessment taxes upon a district as in this act hereafter provided; and to establish said district and determine its boundaries as in this act hereafter provided; and, as incidental to the exercise of the powers aforesaid, to establish official grades within said district and such districts; and to transfer from county road funds to such special funds as in this act hereafter provided; and to purchase material and furnish the same to be used in the doing of any of the works above named.

Prohibited work.

But said board of supervisors are hereby prohibited from doing, under the provisions of this act, any work, except sewer or drain work, within the roadway of any railroad or within any area which by law is required to be kept in order or repair by any person or company having railroad tracks thereon, and this prohibition shall have the effect of excepting the prohibited work from that described in any resolution of intention in any proceeding under this act, and of charging all persons with notice of such exception or exclusion, and such exception of said prohibited work need not be made in any such resolution of intention. [Amendment of May 31, 1917. In effect July 30, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1370.]

Specifications for work.

§ 2. Before any resolution of intention is passed under this act, specifications for work substantially the same as that described in the resolution of intention and for a district to be benefited by said work substantially the same as that described in the resolution of intention, shall be furnished by some competent person who shall have been designated by the board of supervisors for that purpose, by a resolution to be entered by the clerk upon the minutes of said board. Except where there is already an official grade established in as a part of such specifications grades shall be specified for all roads, streets, avenues, boulevards, lanes and alleys or portions thereof, proposed in said resolution of intention to be improved, so far as the same are so proposed to be improved. If any official grade has already been adopted or established for any of said roads, streets, avenues, boulevards, lanes or alleys proposed to be improved, it shall be lawful in said specifications to provide for new or different grades therefor from those already established or adopted.

Description of work and district.

Neither the work nor the district need be described in the resolution appointing such person except so far as may be sufficient to identify the work and district for which the specifications are prepared, and for such purpose it shall suffice to designate the same as "In the matter of road district improvement No. and resolution of intention No." (inserting the same number of both blanks).

Estimate of cost.
